

First Draftees Are Called This Week

Other Quotas Are Expected to Follow Monthly Until the List of Registrants Is Exhausted

Only two drafted men from Livingston County will be included in the first draft. They are: Clarence W. Harrison, R.F.D. Fenton and Harold L. Whitaker of Howell. They have passed the physical examination and will leave for Camp Sheridan, Illinois, this week on Nov. 27.

Of the list of 2,350 men who registered in Livingston county, exemptions and physical disabilities are expected to cut the list about 50 per cent. These men will be sent questionnaires to fill out as fast as possible, those with the lowest numbers getting theirs first.

The men called from Michigan in the first draft number 627. They will be called for induction into the service at the Wayne county infantry army Thursday. If any fail to pass the military examination there, the county from which they came must replace them. 101 men from Michigan have already been sent to Camp Sheridan and the balance of the first quota will go this week. Other induction centers besides Detroit are Cadillac, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, and Escanaba.

Ingham's quota in this first draft was 15, Washtenaw 10, Oakland 33 Lenawee 6 and Monroe 6.

Appeal boards have been named for those draftees who are not satisfied with their classification and claim exemption. Livingston county has been placed in a district with Washtenaw, Monroe, Lenawee, and Hillsdale. The appeal board named is Redmond Burr, C. W. Langford, Charles McCalla, Roscoe Bonisteel, Dr. Howard Cummings, all of Ann Arbor.

The Olds proved to be a car reported stolen from Lansing. There was $35 worth of cucumber seed in the Shehan car which are also missing. The missing car is insured in the Citizen's Mutual Auto Insurance Co. of Howell.

FARM HOME BURNS SATURDAY

The farm home on the White farm near Anderson caught fire from an overheated stove and burned to the ground Saturday morning with practically all of its contents. Wayne Bennett and family were living in the house but both were away at the time. The Pinckney fire engine went out but could do nothing.

The late John Dunn bought the farm of the White heirs and sold it to a Mr. Wallace in Detroit. He neglected to pay the taxes and it was sold at the scavenger sale in September being purchased by W. H. Gardner. He carried no insurance on the house and Mr. Bennett had none on the contents. At the present time the Bennetts are living on the VanBlaricum farm with relatives. Sylvester Harris is taking up a collection for the Bennett family.

NEW SCHOOL BOARD NAMED

For some time past things have not been going smoothly with the school board at Hudson Corners on the Dexter road in Dexter township. The lake resorts at Portage and Base lakes are in this district and more and more of these lake resort are becoming year around residents at the lakes. Now they control the school district. Two years ago the state dept. of public instruction condemned the school as a fire trap. The pupils were sent to the Gallagher school one year but as most of the lake resorters are city people they wanted more modern school facilities and at the school meeting voted to send the 15 pupils to Pinckney providing they could get suitable transportation. This was settled by Earl Baughn getting a large heated school bus which he leased to the Pinckney school board. Earl was given a contract as operator and driver for a year by the schools. Since last Sept. He has been bringing in some 30 pupils from the Hudson Corners and Harris districts, the latter having been closed for years. There has been considerable controversy as the people in the east part of the district wanted the children taken to Dexter and Ann Arbor. Last week the entire school board resigned on account of the controversy. They were Mrs. Roy Howard Huegel and Mr. Moke. It was up to the Dexter township board to fill the vacancies and they appointed Mrs. David Aberdeen, Joe Feiner and Thomas Howe, all Portage lake resorters who are sending children to the Pinckney school to the school board.

Escape From Everyday

Thousands of deer hunters who invade Michigan's northland in late November care less about their possible success in securing venison than about the opportunities their hunting expeditions offer to get away from familiar scenes and to find new strength in the healing quiet of the forests. Nevertheless, the 160,000 hunters who will enjoy the sport in Michigan before season's end, November 30, are expected to bag 40,000 bucks, perhaps more. Above scene is in Seneca county in upper peninsula.

MORE DEER RETURN

According to all accounts the deer hunting was not as good this year as last. On account of the wet summer the vegetation and underbrush growth was abundant, making it difficult to get around without alarming the deer. The weather in lower Michigan was also too warm for successful deer hunting.
Dr. Ray Duffy returned Saturday with a deer. The deer shot by the Stanley Dinkel hunters fell a victim to the rifle of Orville Smith. He had to wait only 30 minutes on a run-way before the deer came along.
Norman Reason got a shot at a black bear in Roscommon county and wounded it but it got away and was killed by another hunter.
Ret. Harris and Clare Swarthout returned from Lovells with a deer. Ed. Parker and Marshall Meabon and George Meabon Jr. and son, Leon, went north again this week.

Michigan Mirror State News

The Political and Industrial Outlook for Michigan for the Coming Year Is Discussed

"Didn't I say last week that Michigan is headed for at least two years of record-breaking prosperity? And all because Mr. Hitler's military monkey-business across the ocean has forced both Great Britain and the United States to spend recklessly for huge armaments.

"Yes, I did write that, and I believe it is true. But it does sound like prosperity Pollyanna, this pulling ourselves up by our own bootstraps into a false Utopia. There must be another side of the story. Why don't you tell it.

"You can't feed a kid on candy and then take it away from him without stirring up a fuss, How will all this war economy affect Michigan people? Will they tend to favor our participation in the Battle of Britain in order to keep our factories going?

"Come on, Mister, don't keep your head in the sands!

"Here is something vital in the lives of your readers. Tell them about it."

How will the national defense program affect Michigan?

Editor and Publisher, national magazine for newspaper and advertising people, places Michigan second of the 48 states in volume of contracts let from July 13 to Oct. 26 and reported by the department of labor at Washington.

Michigan contracts totaled $125,820,000.
October awards aggregated $41,423,000.

And these sums are only a modest beginning. National expenditures during the third quarter (July, August, September) totaled $500,000,000. The fourth quarter will double this amount, while the first quarter of 1941 is expected to bring another 50 per cent increase.

Thus federal expenditures are spiraling upward, and by July, 1941 they are due to reach $600,000,000 to $700,000,000 monthly until the bill-on-a-month peak is hit. Compare this billion goal with our current month's estimated spending of about $200,000,000, and you get some idea of what this astronomical spending will mean to our U. S. A.

It was inevitable that a state where mass production methods had been widely applied in industry would be relied upon to achieve quick output of munitions and arms. Since the day that Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Lansing, Pontiac and other Michigan had become automobile centers, Michigan had been world-famous for its assembly line and the efficiency of its workers.

That has not been without its penalty, however. When automobiles are in demand, times are good in Michigan. When the reverse takes place, times are hard.

The assembly line, the crux of mass production science, and the adoption of annual models assures either steady employment or layoffs. A sit-down strike in one supply factory can cause the entire line to come to a stop. Flint automobile workers who went deer hunting the other day accomplished the same thing: The line couldn't function.

These industrial centers consequently have experienced reoccurring periods of boom and depression. Unemployment dips to an extreme, or rises to a near vanishing point. This does not happen also without the fringe of suburban communities being directly affected. Scores of

Although the Michigan election is about a month old the results on the state ticket are still in doubt and several recounts are looming. These are for attorney general and state treasurer. The Republicans won attorney general by 2800 and Democrats treasurer by 4500. However there seems to have been much incompetence among officials who conducted the election and errors were numerous. The Jackson county votes are contested, as is alleged the voting machines were fixed so it was impossible to vote a Democrat straight ticket. In Oakland county an estimated 1000 ballots are still unaccounted for and it goes in many places. We understand that a recount will be asked in 2000 state precincts.

CURRENT COMMENT

The ban on "feather and bice parties" seems to be off this year and these parties seem to be numerous and many just now. In Ottawa county Prosecutor Eber Larson has a rule at Zealand on one conducted by the American Legion and gathered in many prominent people, including two justices of the peace. He announces that he will ask warrants for all including the Legion officials.

Parsons was defeated for re-election, largely he claims on account of his activities in enforcing the laws relating to such affairs. The laws against gambling undoubtedly take in these parties but it is an impossibility to enforce them for the reason that the proceeds usually go to support some charity or worthy institution and the amount spent by the individual person is small. For his reason the majority of the people see no harm in them and enforcement of the laws against them is usually unpopular.

The Michigan Educational Assoc. is circulating petition to lift state appropriation for public school aid to $16,000,000 a year. 160,000 signatures must be secured to these petitions. This would be an increase of $5,000,000 over last year's school aid and would average about $33 a year for each child of school age. The petitions will be presented to the next session of the legislature and if they fail to act on them will be voted upon at the next general election.

Governor Dickinson rather put General Tom Read on the spot when he appointed Mrs. Matilda Dodge Wilson, widow of the late John Dodge auto manufacturer to a position. It is up to Read to defend the appointment. Read scoffs at the action and says it is silly and void. Nevertheless Gov. Dickinson is to go to Washington this week to attend the Anti-Saloon League convention and Mrs. Wilson will act as governor in his absence. We think Governor Dickinson is right in his action and it is the duty of the attorney general to clear up this point and get a supreme court decision as to whether the governor has the right to name a governor to fill vacancy. Read's opinion that Dickinson is both a governor and a governor at the same time is not convincing.

Now that the election is over and winter has put a crimp on war activities some of the papers have started to run the great heart interest love story of "The lovers of the ages" The Duke and Duchess of Windsor. This is our idea of nothing to write about. Just how a thrice married woman and a middle aged bachelor typify the world's greatest romance beyond our ken. To our mind they are types of the modern David and Bathsheba. An article in the Saturday Evening Post says that he lost throne on account of his pro-Hitler sympathies and that his governorship of the sandy Bahamas is a sort of St. Helena sentence to take him out of circulation. The story was also widely circulated some time ago that if Hitler conquers England he will set up the Duke of Windsor there as a puppet king. The people who fall for this great heart throbs stuff need their heads examined.

The Republican senators and congressmen and Wendell Willkie, late candidate for the presidency are trying to pass the buck as to who was responsible for their party's defeat on Nov. 5. The congressman recently issued a statement that Willkie's blanket endorsement of all the Roosevelt measures which they had opposed in Congress cut the ground out from under them and gave them no battle ground to fight on leading to the defeat. The Willkie camp at once came back at them with the statement that reactionary and unrealistic policies of the Republican Congressmen caused the Roosevelt landslide. These policies were: First, opposition to conscription, Second, laxness in aiding Great Britain, Third, obstructions to national defense appropriations, this being actively stressed by President Roosevelt in his campaign. Fourth, an anti-liberal viewpoint of all domestic questions. In other words the Willkie camp claims that many Republicans turned against the party on account of lack of confidence (cast) by the sniping tactics of Republican congressional leaders. This is demonstrated by the great falling off of the vote in Republican territory New England and the Atlantic states.

Powhatan's Identity Is Disputed

Ethnologist Casts Doubt on Identity of Papa of Pocahontas.

WASHINGTON. — Powhatan, the father of Pocahontas, and the man encountered by the English "lost colony" on Roanoke island, may have been different men.

This is revealed by David I. Bushnell Jr., Smithsonian institution ethnologist, who, delving into the scrambled history of the earliest efforts to plant white colonies in Virginia that culminated in the successful settlement of Jamestown.

The Powhatan of the Jamestown settlers, says Mr. Bushnell, was the leader of a confederation of Algonquin tribes whose real name was Wahunsonacock. Jamestown happened to be part of the territory which, he asserted, owed him allegiance.

'Falls in a Current.' The name "Powhatan," says Mr. Bushnell, meant, in the dialect of the Virginia Indians, "falls in a current" and was a place name applied to a native village at the falls of the James river within the present city of Richmond.

Second English Expedition. The second English expedition to Virginia, says Mr. Bushnell, arrived off the coast late in June, 1585, and remained in America a full year.

OLD MAN COYOTE LAUGHS AT BOWSER

AND yet Old Man Coyote isn't to be wholly blamed for laughing when Bowser the Hound ran straight into trouble. Of course, it wasn't a bit nice of him to laugh, but what could you expect when he knew that that trouble into which Bowser had blindly run had been prepared for himself.

When Farmer Brown's Boy had started out that morning to look at the traps he had set for Old Man Coyote there had been a great cackling and squawking of fright among the ducks and chickens, and Bowser had started right away to find out what it meant.

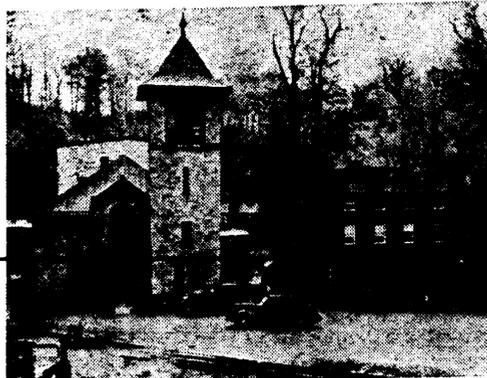

Straight away across the Green Meadows went Old Man Coyote toward the far corner, where his home was. Old Granny Fox and Reddy Fox heard Bowser's voice and they knew what it meant. They had heard it so often behind them that now they looked at each other and grinned to think that it meant trouble for some one else and particularly because it meant that Old Man Coyote was having to run for his life.

PREPAREDNESS for the unexpected

The National Defense Program is one of numerous situations that can cause a tremendous increase in the number of telephone calls. Some occasions can be foreseen—a national convention, a holiday, a World's Series, an election. Others come without warning—the death of a prominent person, changes in the market, a storm or flood. The Telephone Company must adjust its forces and equipment quickly to unexpected "peak" loads. That requires closest cooperation between highly trained workers. The ability of telephone men and women to rise to emergency is an important reason for this Company's preparedness to do its part in the Nation's defense activity.

JUNIOR CLASS

"High Pressure Homer" is to be presented here Dec. 6 by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York City. This is a comedy of family life. The cast has been rehearsing diligently under the direction of Mrs. Wilson.

This play is a study of American life attacked from a new point. The play is complete with funny situations and sayings that will be quoted all over town the following day. You will be greatly amused at the character of Homer Hampton Haywood, a young show-off who in spite of his high opinion of himself only succeeds in making a hopeless mess of everything he tackles and he tackles plenty of things during the 3 acts of this play. He seldom holds a job longer than a day or two and it is just full of ideas for achieving great success with his high pressure salesmanship. This part is in the hands of William Kuhn and he will have you convulsed from the time he makes his first entrance until the last curtain of the play. The entire Woodruff family in whose house the action of the play takes place are given to make punks that are so amusing to an audience.

It is a play for the entire family so get your tickets now and have a bright and merry evening. Seats may be purchased from any member of the Junior class.

BASKET BALL, BOYS

Pinckney's high school basketball team open the season with their traditional rivals, Stockbridge, this Friday night. There will be 3 games with the boy's second team starting at 7:15, followed by the girls and the boys first team. Stockbridge expects to have a championship team this year and while Pinckney lost heavily by graduation and injury will come up with a team to provide the western boys with a little opposition. The girls have hopes of a successful season and much can be learned concerning their chances. So let's come out and support the local teams.

There will be sufficient hoom for every one as bleachers have been built the past week, providing seating capacity for approximately 250. Stockbridge as usual will bring a large group so let's hope the Pinckney rooters are not outnumbered.

BASKET BALL, GIRLS

This year's girl's basket ball squad has increased in number over that of last year and we have quite a lot of promising material.

There are 17 candidates this year and the first and second teams will be announced before the game with Stockbridge, Friday night.

The following are candidates for this year's varsity squad: Roberta Shirley, Rose Mary Read, Anna VanBlaricum, Helen Reason, Marian Shirley. These played last year. Also Leona Clark, Betty Baughn, Megan Meyer, Peggy Burns, Eileen Kuhn, Lois Lavey, June Caldwell, Jeanette Haines, Irene Blades and Violet McCartney.

The veterans on the team are made up of 3 seniors and 2 juniors.

MAKES RESTITUTION FOR BEAN THEFT

John Burch implicated in the theft of 24 bushel of beans from Lucien McCluskey, Pinckney farmer, was arrested in Detroit last week and brought to the Howell jail. He was implicated in the theft by Leon Neugebauer, Dan Barber and E. Bennett, the local boys now serving 90 sentences for the theft of sheep from Ross Hinchey of Pinckney. Burch admitted his guilt and made restitution of $52, the value of the beans and was released.

The sentence given the boys was $5 fine and costs for the Hinchey theft alone. However they have admitted several other thefts, including taking radiators from a Mr. May at Gregory and sheep from Frank Bucklew of Hamburg and they have so far elected to serve their sentences. Neugebauer and Bennett were released Monday when they paid $28.50 each.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Clinton, Roy Charles Clinton spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Greiner at Brighton. Other guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Clinton and daughter, Loretta Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gardner and family and Harold Clinton and wife of New York.

St. Mary's Church

There is a sweetness, a consolation and a pleasure attached to prayers the Rosary before the altar not so easily apparent in prayers said elsewhere. Each mystery of the Rosary can be dramatized mentally in a Eucharistic reading whilst we think of the joyful, sorrowful and glorious events in the lives of Jesus and Mary. Souls are our fellow-members in the mystical Body of Christ. Our duty is clear; we should try to gain as many Indulgences as we can for our suffering brethren.

Among the great favors recently granted through the devotions to Our Lady of Sorrows we read in our Novena Notes which are given out each Friday. The unusual favors recorded by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rene of Los Angeles, California. He became interested in the life of swallows about the church at San Juan Capistrano a few miles from San Diego. In his devotions he wrote the song, now played over the radio on the Tucky Strike Hit Parade entitled "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano". The author made the Novena and attributes his success as a song writer, the regaining of his health, his success to finance trips to New York from California where he placed more songs with the publishers.

Several times his wife has had favors granted for friends who were given up for death, all of whom recovered.

Goldblatt's store, one of the largest in the loop of Chicago, has in answer to thousands of Novenities placed a beautiful Christmas Crib display in its window as its featured Christmas decoration. This is indeed a triumph of Christ the King to receive a reception in such modern, commercial Bethlehem.

Let us try and develop our own Christmas cribs as characteristic of Novena Homes.

Sunday, the day of preparation and prayer for peace with exposition all morning was well attended. Our soloist for the devotions travelled 550 miles each way for the occasion.

Paris Angelicus, made famous by James McCormick, a most beautiful hymn to the Blessed Sacrament was among the score rendered. Sheubert's tribute to the Blessed Virgin "Ave Maria," was rendered at the offertory and Beyze's devotional Agnus Dei, as a post communion. The community singing of benediction services were very devotional. The altar was a glow of brilliance with huge bouquets of autumn colored "mums", carnations and Maiden Ferns, gifts of the altar society were grouped in tall tapered virgin wax candles as the Sacred Host was encased in our new Ostensorium.

Prayers were offered at the Novena services Friday p. m. and at the masses Sunday for the late Louis Monks whose burial took place Monday in St. Mary's cemetery here.

Among the visitors over the holiday, Thanksgiving and Sunday were a group of clergy from Detroit and Lansing diocese, relatives of the pastor from St. Louis, Mo., Chicago, Ill. and Grand Rapids, Mich. and from the Eastmas school, Rochester university, friends from Greenview, Mich., Flat Rock, Carleton, Monroe and Detroit. It was 45 years since some from among the group had met. Pictures, religious articles given out were evidence of the positive date when all last met and spent the holidays together.

The wedding of Charles Dillin and Jeanne Mary Ramey, a nurse at Providence hospital, took place last Saturday at Davison, Mich. The former pastor of St. Mary's church, Rev. Lewis Dion officiating. Stephen Zima and Marie Bergin were witnesses. The newly-weds will live in Detroit. We condole with Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Wayne Bennett and family in the loss which they have sustained by fire. It is our Christian duty to do all we can for each other as one big family when visitations, losses of such nature are sent one of our community. It is in trial and sorrow that we find the corporal works of mercy.

Congratulations are extended from all to Hubert Ledwidge and his wife on the event of their marriage last Thanksgiving day in Detroit. Mrs. Eileen Ledwidge, mother of the groom and her family attended the wedding and other relatives from the parish.

ELECTRIC RANGE!

"When I first started looking at stoves, I had an idea that an electric range would be too costly for my budget. But I've shopped around and found exactly the range I want. Its price fits my budget. It has all the things I'm looking for... porcelain finish, table-top design, full-size oven, fast cooking units with three heat speeds. And easy to clean? Just whisk a damp cloth over it; the job's done.

"I know I'll like the range. And I think my husband will be pleasantly surprised when he finds out how reasonable the bills for electric cooking really are."

Electric cooking does not cost less than you think. For a family of three persons it averages $1.55 a month—about a nickel a day. Automatic electric water heating is another bargain! You can enjoy this service for less than 10c a day (for an average family of three)... The Detroit Edison Company.

LIFE INSURANCE LOANS

There are frequently times when a person needs little extra money to meet an emergency or to take advantage of an opportunity. Perhaps you have overlooked the fact that the cash surrender value of a life insurance policy offers a very acceptable kind of collateral for a bank loan.

One of the services rendered by this bank is to make loans on life insurance policies as collateral.

All that is necessary is to bring your policy to the bank and fill out a note and a life insurance assignment form which we supply.

It is a convenient way to borrow money because a loan of this type may be readily obtained, and it is not necessary to get additional signatures from co-signers on your note.

Philathea Notes

The Philathea and What So Evers enjoyed an instructive lesson period on Sunday under the leadership of Mrs. Elliott. The topic was "Attitudes Towards the Gospel Message," from the passage concerning the "Sower." Comment was made concerning the powerful sermon during the church hour. The pastor had selected as his text the final clause of Psalms 87:7, "All my Springs Are in Thee." He spoke for more reverence in the House of God and the need of putting first things first, the greatest need of the world today.

The Philathea president spoke of the Christmas party at the parsonage. Mrs. McLucas is extending the invitation to the What So Evers Class also, who have joined with during the absence of their teacher. Next Sunday, December 1, is Missionary Sunday. The S. S. topic is "An Fractious Discipleship." Luke 9:49-2. Remember the date of the L. A. S. Bazaar on Nov. 28.

MICHIGAN STATE MIRROR NEWS
Small town industries are kept alive by the big motor business. Thousands of workers reside in nearby towns, commuting daily by automobile between work bench and home.

National defense orders and British arms orders are today, to all practical extent, one and the same.

Henry Ford balked at the manufacture of Rolls-Royce motors for planes, but promptly accepted a similar contract from the United States government for airplane engines.

Other automobile companies have not been so choosy. Packard is to make British engines; General Motors has substantial British arms contracts.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt announced that Britain would get 50 per cent of our arms output, and there is little doubt that the proportion will be increased if a new crisis threatens.

Under our capitalistic system whereby private ownership is entitled to private profit, it is inevitable that a war economy of this type will produce war profits. Such was the history of World War I. Let us take a look at 1940.

The Wall Street Journal on Oct. 21 stated that 42 per cent of America's exports are munitions and related arms materials. Exports during the first year of World War II exceeded four billions, a gain of 37 per cent over the preceding 12 months. Our export balance was the largest since 1921. Of these exports 62 per cent go to Britain.

The three quarter earnings of leading industrial corporations also show sharp gains. United States Steel had more than 500 per cent increase, Jones and Laughlin 2,500 per cent, Glenn L. Martin 300 per cent, according to figures printed in Business Week.

General Motors earnings for the same three-quarter period of 1940 were $129,172,000, a gain of $27,000,000 over the same period in 1939. The third quarter earnings record was $15,597,000, compared with $8,627,000 in 1939, or almost double even after new tax levies were deducted.

Motor Wheel, at Lansing, has gone from 1,091,000 to 1,440,000 earnings for the same three-quarter period. Oil firms show substantial gains.

And yet it would be grossly unfair to infer that directors of these corporations are interested in war for war profits. Better than the average worker, the modern industrial leaders realize that a war economy is a false economy; tomorrow's headache will plague capital and labor for years to come.

One reasonable conclusion from the rising tide of war profits might be this: Michigan, as one state, is getting an economic stake in the war.

Ray Stannard Baker in his Wilson biography stated:

"Thus by the end of the year 1914 the traffic in war materials with the Allies had become deeply entrenched in America's economic organization and the possibility of keeping out of the war by the diplomacy of neutrality no matter how skillfully conducted, had reached the vanishing point."

Jerome Frank, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, recently wrote: "Every student of our conduct prior to our entry into the last war agrees that non-participation was made all but impossible because of our precious huge shipments to the belligerents. The same forces are now at work that were operative in 1914-17."

President Roosevelt in his Chattanooga speech referred to war profits as "fool's gold" and warned of "the inevitable penalties, the inevitable day of reckoning."

Ambassador Page in 1917 advised Woodrow Wilson: "Perhaps our going to war is the only way in which our present pre-eminence trade position can be maintained and a panic averted."

Secretary McAdoo in 1915 favored credit for the Allies as a protection to "great prosperity" for farmer and factory worker. Even Secretary Lansing said that neutrality should stand in the way of "our national interests which seem to be seriously threatened."

The principal of cause and effect still functions. Will Michigan's coming prosperity help to create a public attitude, as history says it did previous to the last war, in support of our direct participation in the present war as a fighting ally to Great Britain?

Or, in other words, will history repeat?

You can surmise what the future holds. We strive to interpret the news.
