Price Osborne, 24, Is Slain by His Brother, Beecher, 21 at Chelsea Early Monday Morning

Price Osborne, R. F. D., Gregory, was killed by a knife wielded by his brother, Beecher, in a fight at 2:45 a. m. Monday morning in the Dona Joseph home in Chelsea. Joseph is a brother-in-law of the Osbornes. According to a story given out by the Osbornes to Washtenaw county officers, the trouble started Sunday when the two Osborne brothers, and Beecher's wife took another brother, Robert and a soldier named Owens back to Camp Custer where they are in the defense forces. Price is said to have annoyed Beecher's wife on the trip and became involved in a quarrel with his brother as a result. The party got back to the Joseph home about 2:45 a. m. and Beecher went into the bath room. While he was there Price struck his wife. Beecher attacked him with a three inch knife, inflicting two wounds, one in the shoulder and one above the heart. Deputy Sheriff Charles Miserva of Chelsea was called and he found Price dead when he arrived. Coroner Canzhorn said the second wound severed an artery near the heart. Price is 6 feet 1 and a former Golden Gloves boxer. Beecher is 5 feet 9. The slain man has been here about ten years, coming from Kentucky. Beecher and his wife who have a three year old girl came here from Royalton, Kentucky, a year ago. Another brother, Wilgus, lives with them and a sister, Nellie, keeps house for Price on the VanRiper farm.

Prosecutor Meader of Washtenaw county said Beecher will be charged with second degree murder.

According to information we have received these Osbornes are no related to Lee Osborne of Gregory who was injured in a fight at a free picture show at Gregory a couple of years ago by an onion worker with a knife.

Masonic Guest Nite Draws Crowd

Good Attendance Is Present at Annual Guest Night Given by Local Masonic Lodge

134 people attended the annual guest night held here Saturday evening by Livingston Lodge No. 76 F. and A. M. At this function each Mason was given the privilege of inviting one non-Mason. Roast venison secured through the courtesy of the University of Michigan Wild Life Reserve formed the chief article on the bill of fare.

Music was furnished by a Pinckney-Gregory orchestra composed of Edsil Meyer, Wm. Lamb of Pinckney and the Misses Patty Bollinger, Shirley Rockwell and Jacqueline Brenner of Gregory.

Following the invocation by Rev. McLucas, the banquet was served by the lodge members under the direction of Lynn Hendee with Azel Carpenter as head chef. After the conclusion of the banquet, Ross Read W. M. called on Bill Hodge of Howell to lead the community singing. This he did with usual ability, assisted by two artists, "Johnny and Frankie" on the concertina and guitar. The first number was "God Bless America" with the audience rising to sing.

Ye editor then took over as toastmaster and called on John Craft to announce the winner of the bean guessing contest. Ellis (Cy) Green of Dexter was the winner, his guess being the closest to the number of beans in a quart jar. Wesley Reader local school teacher was second. Green was declared the grand sweepstakes winner and given the beans and two pounds of salt pork.

Each Mason then rose and introduced himself and his guest. Among those present were the officials of the Brown-McClaren factory at Hamburg.

The quiz contest was then conducted by John Craft with Henry Steinbach of Dexter and Gus Rissman of Howell heading two 10 men teams picked from the audience. The Steinbach team finally won by a point and a half and received the prizes, a necktie and a box of cigars. John Martin was given the tie, his tie being the only casualty of the evening.

The past masters and officers of Livingston Lodge were then introduced as well as the visiting past masters and masters. Some merely took a bow and others spoke briefly. The visitors took the occasion to announce coming functions in their lodges at Howell, Fowlerville, Dexter, Brighton and Chelsea.

Frankie and Johnny rendered several more selections and Bill Hodge led in singing. A quartette composed of P. H. Swarthout, John Martin, Roy Teeple and J. H. Hooker also did some barber shop harmonizing.

A memorial was passed around and signed by all present wishing Gene MacLachlan of Golden Rule Lodge, Ann Arbor speedy recovery from his illness. He has been a regular visitor at local Masonic function and is now ill in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor.

Ross Read made the final curtain speech, thanking the different committees who had carried out their duties so successfully and also all present for their attendance and so ended an enjoyable evening.

Bi-Partisan Government Expected To Work Out All Right Dickinson Appointments To Be Used for Bargaining Material

Instead of a bi-partisan form of state government being a liability, it may prove to be an asset in disguise. Take it from Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner whose sense of humor has seldom failed him and whose broad smile has already earned for him the title of "Happy Pat."

Speaking at the Michigan state Society dinner in Washington, the Michigan executive put the situation this way: "When I propose anything to the Legislature we have in Lansing today, it has to be good. Otherwise you can imagine what chance it has of getting any consideration at all."

The first truly bi-partisan act of the VanWagoner administration was a ruling by the newly appointed civil service commission, created by constitutional authority, that all classified state employees—whether Republicans or Democrats—are to be considered henceforth as duly protected under civil service from patronage raids.

Ruling by Attorney General Rushton clearly vested in commission in complete jurisdiction over the state payroll covering 18,000 employees, and Rushton said in effect that the commission members constitute "a rule unto themselves."

Law Making Powers

The air-tight amendment setting up civil service in Michigan also empowered the commission with authority to make its own laws and to construe the amendment in every particular. The legislature is stripped of its rights completely; partisan byplay is relegated to ancient history.

Competitive examinations have been ordered to fill the jobs of 2,745 state employees who have had no previous civil service status. And furthermore, the commission has indicated that politics is to have no consideration in its merit ratings; Republicans or Democrats will retain equal privileges of opportunity.

Civil service advocates believe that the merit plan will increase governmental efficiency and lower payroll costs. Former Governor Alex J. Creech went on record favoring a "living wage" to state workers in the lower pay bracket, indicating that stabilization of pay may make beginning jobs of government more attractive financially for career employees.

Civil service, once the butt of legislative jokes, has regained much of its lost dignity and respect at Lansing. This has been due, in no small degree, to the public-acclaimed caliber of the commission personnel headed by George J. Burke, Ann Arbor.

MORE ROBBERIES REPORTED

Two more robberies have been reported that happened in this section in the last month or so. A Mr. Hannifan who lives on the Stickle farm was picked up by two boys who offered to take him home. After leaving the village the car went into the ditch and Hannifan was struck over the head and robbed of a small sum of money by two others from a car which had followed them.

On the night of January 6 last the aged uncle of Abner Watkins who has been staying at the Watkins home east of town while the family is in Detroit started to walk home. Near the James Roche farm he was picked up by two boys in a car. They refused to let him out at the Darwins Corners but took him past the Red Hen Tavern where he was severely beaten up and robbed.

Edward Bennett and Dan Barber the Pinckney boys held on suspicion are still held in the Howell jail. Friday they were taken to the state police barracks at Lansing and submitted to a lie detector test. So far they have not yet raised the $1000 bail bonds asked. Mr. Hamil, who owns the Darwin farm where Barber is sometimes employed, has employed a Detroit lawyer for them.

Ed. Bennett was released on bail Tuesday with Mrs. Harriet Lear and Charles Bennett of Hamlet as sureties.

His hearing and that of Dan Barber will be held at Howell on next Saturday we understand.

CURRENT COMMENT

Col. Lindbergh testified before a congressional committee holding a hearing on the lend and lease bill and gave some startling testimony. The sum and substance of it was that it was practically impossible for Great Britain to defeat Germany and that the United States should conclude a treaty with Hitler's Germany as soon as possible and not be left holding the bag when Great Britain goes down to defeat. Lindbergh, either has information that no one else on earth possesses or else is entitled to the title of the leading fifth columnist of the country.

War hysteria seems to have gripped the country. We read that in Pontiac, Illinois, a draft evader died of wounds received from federal officers and in San Francisco two sailors climbed up and tore down a Nazi flag from the German Embassy. Also in New York state a man was shot and wounded by his Pro-German Swiss house boy. Now the propaganda stories are increasing in intensity. The British Broadcasting quotes the Geneva correspondent of the National Catholic Welfare Society as stating that the Nazi have slain 100,000 insane Germans to save the cost of feeding them. The veracity of this report needs confirmation. It is like the one circulated in the last world war to the effect that the bodies of the slain soldiers were being used to make explosives for use in warfare.

Mulcolm Bingay in the Detroit Free Press last week asks what President Roosevelt has that no one else possesses. In 1936 he says his greatest critics and detractors were Frank Knox and Henry Stimson but 1940 saw them both members of the president's cabinet and his greatest boosters. Now Wendell Willkie, his latest presidential opponent, has gone over to him bag and baggage and A. J. Smith, his opponent of many years, has endorsed his lease and lend program 100 per cent. These defections have left the opposition without any outstanding leader in their battle against the lease and lend bill. Senator Wheeler has assumed the role but his value is lessened by the fact that he has been consistently against any and all bills since his entry into the senate.

The press on commenting on the successful breaking of the third term tradition by President Roosevelt say that foreign critics had prophesied that sooner or later this would happen. For the last thirty years or more this country has been putting aside one constitutional restraint after another dictated by the desire for present expedient over principle and this is the ultimate fulfillment of that desire. The reason the third term precedent was broken was that the majority of the people did not give a hang about it.

Henry Ford II is said to be eligible for the draft and could be subject to call but probably will not be as he is 23 years old, married, and holds a responsible position in the Ford Motor Co. which has large war orders. We all remember the stir over the exemption of Edsil Ford in the last world war. However that was mostly political as at that time Henry Ford was the Democratic candidate for United States senator and his Republican opponents sought to smear him by holding his son up as the No. 1 slacker. Conditions are much different this year and no such tactics will probably be followed.

The opponents to the lease and lend bill are handicapped by the fact that they have been unable to unite on a substitute bill to offer against it. Rep. Ham Fish of New York has a bill providing for leasing $2,000,000 to Great Britain instead of giving arms and munitions. Senator Taft announces that he is drawing up a bill to aid Great Britain also. The likelihood of such arch-isolationists as Senators Johnson and Nye accepting these bills is very remote indeed.

Ex-governor Dickinson still has a keen nose for sin. He is in Florida and recently visited an art gallery where he was shocked and amazed that paintings of so many nude women were on display. He thought such things should be prohibited.

NEW YORK.—In Goldfield, Nev., when the camp was going strong we staged a "battle royal," with 10 men slugging each other, the victory going to the last man to stay on his feet.

One wonders at the self-control of George V. Denny Jr., under similar provocation. With no holds barred and no punches pulled, America's Town Meeting of the Air is getting more like the battle royal and less like its antecedent chautauqua meeting.

He began his New York career as an actor in Paul Green's "Pulitzer prize-winning" play, "In Abraham's bosom." In the University of North Carolina, he became a member of the "Carolina Playmakers."

Mr. Denny was worried about the rising power of pressure groups, industrial strife, intolerance and other such matters, and these concerns directed him to an association with the League for Political Education, of which he later became director.

America May Face Loss Of Farm Export Market

Wickard Finds Less Production No Solution; Army Undertakes to Build 'Morale' Among New Recruits.

By BAUKHAGE

National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Few people realized how much dynamite there was in that speech on agricultural preparedness which Secretary of Agriculture Wickard delivered at his old alma mater, Purdue university, the other day.

While he didn't come right out and say so in so many words, the secretary sounded the knell of hope for a foreign market for farm surpluses. That speech marked the beginning of a new farm policy in the United States based on what is believed by officials here to be a permanent and not a temporary loss of export trade.

"The facts are," said the secretary, "that the trend of American farm exports has been downward since the turn of the century. Now I don't mean to say that the decline has been constant. You know better than that. It has been by fits and starts. Exports shot up for 15 years. Exports fell off like a stone dropped from a tower after the Smoot-Hawley Tariff act of 1930."

Other 'PAINFUL' POINTS More reading between the lines reveals a number of interesting, if somewhat painful, points:

One: Not only must the amount of farm products be cut down, but the number of people on farms has to be cut down (i. e. other means of income found for them).

Two: Not only must the unsuccessful farmer adjust himself to this situation by raising stuff that he can eat himself or by getting some other work, but the successful farmer will have to make some adjustments.

For instance, he will have to expect a certain amount of inter-regional competition. Concretely that means that the cotton farmer will be raising more of his own meat, poultry, and corn. Some of this will spill over and compete with the corn-belt and dairy farmer.

It also means that in self-defense the successful farmer will have to co-operate in supporting economic and political effort toward raising the income of the unsuccessful farmer and the whole low-income group.

This will mean that the big farm organizations which hitherto have used most of their influence in Washington to get better prices for farm products will have to use some of their influence to raise these low incomes so there will be a bigger home market for the farmers' products. At least, that's the way Washington officials look at the farm situation today.

Army Is Busy Building 'Morale'

Napoleon said an army moves on its stomach. He was right and it cannot be an empty stomach either. That's why in Uncle Sam's new army a cook is a cook and not just somebody who says he is because he thinks it's easier to be a dough-boy than a doughboy.

SOIL EROSION

Soil erosion is costing the United States more than $3,800,000,000 a year, according to H. H. Bennett, chief of the U. S. soil conservation service. Half our land has been damaged. But farmers are working on soil conservation on 250,000,000 acres today and Bennett says that in the next 10 years, it will be possible for conservation forces to balance land-waste forces in the country.

But a full stomach is not all it takes to make a fighting man. It takes morale, and this time the government has done two things to build that highly necessary factor. It has begun early, before there is a war. It has taken over the whole job to itself instead of farming it out, as it did in the last war, to civilian organizations like the Y.M.C.A.

And it's a big job, under the office of the adjutant general. The division in the long west wing of the Munitions building in Washington has 50 clerks and 15 officers just to take care of the Washington end. In the various camps and posts are the many morale services all under this division—the Army Motion Picture Service, the Camp Publications, Post Exchanges, Service Clubs, Guest Houses, and even entertainment for soldiers in towns near the training areas.

In the last war it was learned what a valuable factor dramatics played in camp life and they will be encouraged. The Moving Picture Service will offer regular commercial films, but it will also show educational films, and much military instruction will be given by means of the moving picture. Top flight moving picture executives are serving on a committee assisting in the production of these pictures.

Athletics, of course, are a part of morale and are considered important also both from the standpoint of physical training and the building of an aggressive spirit which the modern soldier must possess.

As Major General Bell said in the last war, "A singing army is a fighting army," and singing will be a part of the show. The army has its own song book and mass singing will be encouraged.

The Post Exchange, which is sort of an army general store, is a business in itself. To get an idea of how much of a business a Post Exchange can be, the one at Chantrel field, Rantoul, Ill., took in nearly $100,000 in one month last fall.

Already a number of camp publications have started. I looked over several of them at Morale Headquarters and some are exceedingly businesslike looking sheets. I noticed in the office was a file of the "Stars & Stripes," the famous newspaper of the American Expeditionary Force in France. Harold Ross, who edited it in Paris, is now the highly successful head of the New Yorker magazine; Alexander Woollcott, who was on the staff, is one of America's best-known writers and story tellers. It was my privilege to serve on that paper after the Armistice and I covered the Peace conference under the able direction of John Winterich, then a rear-rank private but news editor of the paper. He is now Major Winterich, attached to the office of the assistant secretary of war. Probably many famous journalists of coming generations will get their training on some of these newspapers run under the auspices of the New Morale Division.

Another highly publicized group of this new division are the hostesses. But their job has been largely misunderstood. Let me quote from Lieut. Col. Harry Terry, writing in the Commerce magazine: "The term 'hostess' for these business women is a misnomer—they might more properly be called 'secretaries,' which in fact they are. They are the assistants of the Division Commander and carry out his wishes in conducting their various duties.

"Providing social entertainment, running dances and other entertainment for thousands of men is no night club job. It will require a high degree of organization ability and no mean attainment in social arts and graces. Operating a cafeteria to meet the requirements of both visitors and troops in such a manner as to build the morale of troops and convince the mothers, sisters and sweethearts that their men are being adequately cared for requires a high degree of technical knowledge and immense tact. Finally, to supervise all these activities as well as the buying of food and supplies will need a person of more than good looks and a pleasant smile."

PROBLEM IN COTTON

One of the first steps taken in carrying out Secretary Wickard's policy is the supplemental cotton program under which farmers who reduce their acreage below the 1941 national acreage allotment will be compensated with stamps which are good for manufactured cotton goods.

This attacks the problem of the cotton surplus from both ends—cuts down production and uses up the stock by increasing the demand for the finished product.

COMMUNICATION

To the Township Board of Putnam It is necessary for the Livingston County Mutual Fire Insurance Company to discontinue paying for Any Fire Runs, as the majority of the Townships in Livingston County have made arrangements with the Fire Departments to give their property owners fire protection in their Township.

It was voted at the annual meeting the date for discontinuing paying of Fire Runs to be set by the Board of Directors of the Livingston County Mutual Fire Insurance Company. The Board of Directors have voted the date shall be Feb. 1st, 1941, after which date the company will not pay any part of these Fire Runs.

We earnestly urge the townships which have not made arrangements with the various Fire Departments for their protection to do so at once so that your property owners will have suitable protection in case they might need the services of the Fire Department.

We feel that it would be unfair as long as the majority of the Townships are paying for their own Fire Runs to take their money and pay for the Fire Runs in the Townships which have not made the same arrangements.

Respectfully yours,
O. H. Holmes, Secretary

A BAD SITUATION

A deplorable situation exists in the Mooreville School District, which demands immediate attention. Through failure on the part of the Trustees of the District to arrange that reasonable tuition charges be paid to the Milan High School; the arrangements having reached the sum of $500, according to report, the pupils from Mooreville may be denied the facilities of the school. Not the slightest criticism can attach to the Milan High School; for the citizens of Milan cannot be expected to pay taxes to support an educational plant for those outside its own district.

Whether fault lies with the Trustees of the Mooreville School District with the parents of the children or with certain individuals, we are not in a position to determine, though it can be said with certainty that it is a problem which the trustees should settle without delay. The main point is that the question cannot be left unanswered; arrangements should be made for the payment of the sums in which the district is arrears; and the children should be reinstated. Until this is done, onus is cast upon the entire County's educational system.

INDEPENDENTS LOSE

A weeks layoff seems to have dulled the shooting eyes of the Pinckney Independents and they pulled down the short end of a 63 to 29 score in their game here last Thursday night with the Odd Fellows team of Ann Arbor. Both teams let defense go to the winds and concentrated on basket shooting. The visitors made theirs and Pinckney was lucky to hit the backboard. Ann Arbor led 32 to 7 at half. Pinckney began to get the range in the second half and made an occasional basket but the visitors were too far ahead. Clinton got 13 points for Pinckney and Meyer 10. Gersleski scored 20 for Ann Arbor and Gochis 16. Apostolo, former Ann Arbor high school star played a nice defensive game but made only 4 points.

COMMUNICATION

Fort Brady, Mich.
Dear Paul:

Well we're in the army now. Everything is under control—and how.

We arrived here by train Saturday morning. The weather is snappy at night but in the daytime it is nice and sunshiny.

I might as well start from the beginning and try to remember some of the important parts, if there are any. Last Monday night we stayed at the Fort Shelby Hotel. It was pretty noisy as some of the boys from other sections were saying that night for their farewell party. One fellow missed the top step of a long stairway and did he ever take a tumble. His face is just healing.

We took our Physical Test, which wasn't so hard and waited around till Tuesday and headed for Fort Custer by train via Lansing and Wednesday morn we were issued our uniforms. I think about a 1900 style. Lecture in the afternoon and also classification of some of the men. Ted and I didn't happen to be in the group or we would be in California by now. All those classified were shipped there. John Dillon along with a Davis and an Ulrich boy went on that trip. Being classified the next morning Harold Wall, a fellow from Brighton by the name of Cain, Ted and myself were headed for here. By luck, Ted and I have been together so far. The camp is a small one and the barracks are sure swell, a fireproof. The building reminds me of the new part of the Pinckney high school. Built of the same material.

We are all here for Military Police duty. Guarding the locks here at Sault Ste. Marie. This is without question the best anyone could ask for. It may be a little cold but we don't notice the cold. It was around 10 below this A. M.

The meals (chow, as it is called here) are O. K. We are about a 5 minute walk to downtown and also have a nice theater here. We are in quarantine for about two weeks that is, we cannot leave the post nor go anywhere on the Post where there are gatherings. There are all kinds of recreation such as pool tables, card tables, (and sharks) skating rink, skiing etc. inside the barracks.

Bob Smith, who was drafted, we law at Fort Custer.

The shots affect some men more than others. Some of the boys couldn't raise their arm up level and others it didn't affect. The worst one is yet to come but it isn't bad at all.
Tell Ed S. that unless one of his arm, eyes, or legs go real bad they will take him right along. Glad to get him. Well, I guess I will close now. Tell everybody hello.
S'long

A Thought for Today.
At an Anti-War rally in Rego Park, N. Y., the Rev. Jerome Hollan recently said, "Let us by all means possible be prepared to defend our own shores from attack from any quarter. Let us be prepared to defend our country and our free way of life, but in the name of Jesus Christ, the prince of peace, let us say to our legislators as did Pope Pius XII to the nations of Europe: 'In peace nothing is lost, in war all is lost.' Let us think peace, talk peace, work for peace, pray for peace."

The United States 371 cities are named after saints. 11 states have Bethlehem, 3 a Jerusalem, 5 a Nazareth. Every state in the union has one or more cities named after a saint or Biblical town.

St. Raphael is the patron saint of lawyers. The reason taken is because of his interest in romance of Tobias and Sara whose marriage was made possible by the Archangel Raphael as is narrated in the book of Tobia.

If You Don't Know your Vitamins=Know the Maker!

Take Vitamins all the year around for normal growth and resistance

WHAT THE VITAMINS DO

The continued absence of one or more of the vitamins from the diet leads to the development of a condition which physicians designate as "deficiency disease." Deficiency of each vitamin produces its own specific disease. Thus deficiency of vitamin C (present in citrus fruit) causes scurvy, a disease which may afflict adults or children. However scurvy manifests itself more quickly in children due to the factor of growth. Similarly, deficiency of vitamin A causes a specific eye disease, xerophthalmia, and disturbances of the skin and mucous membranes (the lining membranes of the nose, mouth, stomach, intestines, etc.) Let us consider briefly the roles played by the various vitamins in maintaining proper health, nutrition and normal growth.

VITAMIN B COMPLEX

Vitamin B Complex is divided into several factors of which vitamin B1 (thiamine hydrochloride) and vitamin B2 (riboflavin), also known as vitamin G are most important to human nutrition. Deficiency of the former is associated with poor appetite, disturbed digestion and constipation; prevents normal growth of infants and children; and may be the cause of a certain type of heart trouble. Medical research has also shown that deficiency of vitamin B1 (thiamine hydrochloride) may be responsible for certain nervous and mental disorders. The vitamin B complex also comprises several other vitamins, among which is nicotinic acid. This vitamin has proved especially effective in treatment or prevention of pellagra, a deficiency disease afflicting thousands of persons annually.

VITAMIN A

Vitamin A is often called the "anti-infective vitamin". Not because it protects the body against infection in the same way typhoid vaccine or diphtheria antitoxin do, but because it aids in maintaining the covering or protective structures of the body—the skin and mucous membranes—in a normal healthy condition. When the intake of vitamin A is below requirement, infections of the eyes, nose, lungs and kidneys are more likely to occur. Also, deficiency of vitamin A causes a definite type of impaired vision, known as night blindness. Persons afflicted with this eye condition have trouble driving at night. Their vision is less than normal in dim light; the glare of oncoming automobile headlights is particularly disturbing to them. Vitamin A will correct this condition.

VITAMIN C

Vitamin C is the antiscorvy factor. It is given to infants in the form of orange juice, and is necessary for the utilization of calcium, the formation of blood, and normal function of the nervous system. Mild deficiency of this vitamin is probably quite common in growing children and adults. If absent from the diet, a severe disturbance known as scurvy results. The pure, crystalline form of this vitamin is called ascorbic acid and by some, cevitamic acid.

VITAMIN D

Vitamin D, the antirachitic factor, is popularly known as the "sunshine vitamin" because it is formed in the skin when exposed to the sun. Vitamin D is necessary to growing children for the production of normal bones and teeth, and in lesser amounts to adults as well, because of its effect on the proper utilization by the body of the essential minerals, calcium and phosphorus.

BASKETBALL GAME

All three high school teams journey to Hartland this Friday night while next Friday night the two boys teams journey to Brighton. The girls game with Brighton has been postponed to Feb. 18 in order to comply with a state ruling that forbids two girls games in a seven day period.

Through the courtesy of the Cedar Kraft Manufacturing Co. the Pinckney school is proudly using a new electric scoreboard. The Cedar Kraft Co. sent the school the board free of charge and the school may use it the remainder of the season.

On next Saturday night something new in basketball will be presented at the local gym when an exhibition game of phantom basketball is played. The game will be played in complete darkness with the players wearing luminous uniforms and playing a luminous basketball. Pinckney is very fortunate to secure this attraction as there have been few games of this type played in the state. It is hoped a crowd of between 300 and 400 will be in attendance. This exhibition will be followed by a regulation game between two strong independent teams. Admission will be 15 cents and 25 cents.

The girls basketball game which was to be played Feb. 4 has been postponed until Feb. 18 which is on a Thursday.

Feb. 1, on a Saturday night, there will be a phantom basketball game. It will be played in the dark. The lines, the players, the basketball and the baskets will be painted with an aluminous paint that glows in the dark.

The school receives sixty per cent of the admissions.

FOWLERVILLE TAKES TWO

Pinckney Passes Up An Opportunity to Add Two Victories to Their Credit. Both Games Are Very Close

Fowlerville High School basketball team which is having a big season having won all games, including one from Howell, came over here Friday night and either had an off night or else Pinckney is improving rapidly as the games were a close-up. The Fowlerville girls won the first game 16 to 13 and the Fowlerville boys won 30 to 24. Pinckney boys really lost the game on their inability to convert their free throws into points only making good four out of 14 attempts. Fowlerville on the other hand made good on 11 of 16 attempts.

The girls game was hard fought and the Pinckney girls got away to a lead at the start of the contest. Then Fowlerville went ahead and so on through the game. In the final few minutes, Hughes, Fowlerville forward, got 3 baskets, giving them sufficient margin to win. Roberta Shirley got 7 points for Pinckney and Rosemary Read got the other 6. Hughes got 10 for Fowlerville.

Philathea Notes

The Ladies Aid group which is in charge of the Fathers and Sons Panquet have already made general plans for an enjoyable occasion. The date has been set for Thursday evening, February 13, and will be especially in honor of all our patriotic boys who have left or are soon to leave for training camp. Watch the columns of the Dispatch for further and more detailed notices concerning the program and price of tickets, but begin right now to advertise this yearly big event in our church parlors.

The topic of the Pastor's sermon on Sunday was, "Faith is the Answer." The text taken from parts of the twenty-second and twenty-ninth verses of Matthew: 9.

The time was much too short in our classroom to cover the helpful points in our lesson on "Christ's Concern For the Lost." That concern has been also felt in great measure by men like Moody and John Wesley like our radio preachers and those evangelistic men in our own pulpits, as well as faithful consecrated laymen of all times. Our Philathea motto is, "Win the One Next to You."

B. V. Hendrick, president of the World-Wide Baraca and Philathea Union says this is his New Year message: "There is so much to be done. May we grasp each minute of the New Year with a will to make it count for Him, and may we find in our hearts courage that enables us to stand for the right. May we keep our hearts free from prejudices and selfishness, that we may enjoy a richer, fuller life."

Sympathy is felt at this time for the family of Mrs. William Clark, whose funeral rites were held on Sunday last. She was a member of our church.

Next Lord's Day is Missionary Sunday in our Church School. The Benevolence Treasurer has only a few cents on hand and will be very grateful for a generous offering, so that payments may be made early in the year.

CONGRESSIONAL LETTER

On January 20, at high noon, occurred the Inauguration of the 33rd President of the United States. This statement, of course, includes Grover Cleveland as the 22nd President, and then after one term interval he became the 24th President.

The weather in Washington was exceedingly fine, cold but clear. The President occupied a stand in front of the Capitol. To his right was the House of Representatives and to the left was the Senate of the United States.

The Supreme Court, the President's Cabinet and the Ambassadors and Representatives of the Foreign Countries were grouped around the President on the platform. John Garner, the retiring Vice President, administered the oath of office as Vice President to the incoming new Vice President, Henry A. Wallace.

Then Chief Justice Hughes, beyond a doubt one of the greatest Chief Justices of the Supreme Court in the history of America, administered the oath of office to Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the United States in the following constitutional language, "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office as President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

Following the administration of the oath of office the President delivered his Inaugural Address in the presence of approximately one hundred thousand people, which practically filled the space between the Capitol and the Supreme Court, and the Congressional Library.

A fine Inaugural parade then followed, military in nature, which lasted approximately two hours. It was estimated by various Washington newspapers that the influx of citizens from the various states of the Nation to Washington to attend five hundred thousand people.

I wish to state that the annual Michigan Dinner-Dance was held at Hotel 2400 on January 21. More than 400 people were seated at the banquet tables the largest attendance in the history of the Michigan Society. Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner was the speaker of the evening and made an exceptionally fine non-partisan speech.

Many distinguished citizens and former citizens of Michigan attended the banquet, among whom were Justice Thomas McAllister of the State Supreme Court, Harold Smith, the Budget Director, Frank Murphy, the Lieutenant Governor and scores of others.

It was an unusually fine banquet and naturally, as the President of the Michigan State Society, I was greatly delighted.

A good deal of attention is being given by observers in Washington to the analysis of the so-called Lease Lend Bill made by United States District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey. He points out that there has been no refusal by the Congress to support these countries which have been the victims of the aggressor dictators and insists the President has no right to assume that Congress lacks patriotism, or that it will fail to do its duty swiftly and effectively. Insisting that the passage of the Lease-Lend Bill would mean an end to free government in the United States and would for all practical purposes accomplish the abolition of Congress, the analysis points out that the bill would give the President the following powers:

1. To seize any alien ship in this country and give it to any other country.
2. To use the navy to convoy beligerent ships any place in the world.
3. To give away the United States navy in whole or in part.
4. To give away the army's guns.
5. To give away every American airplane.
6. To acquire instruments of war in any country in the world and give them to that or some other country.
7. To cancel the Neutrality Act and the Johnson Act.
8. To give away unlimited amounts of any commodities to any nation in the world.
9. To provide harbors, repairs and refueling within territorial American waters to any warships of any nation engaged in war.
10. To take part in the Japanese-Chinese war and in any other conflict between any nations anywhere else in the world.
11. To commit acts of war without the approval of Congress in any conflict present of future, anywhere in the world.

Very sincerely yours,
Wm. W. Blackney, M. C.

J. WALTER RUBEN, Metro producer, took all of two weeks off recently; with three pictures ready to be released he'd earned it! The three are "Bad Man," with Wallace Beery, "Maisie Was a Lady," and "Flight Command," a navy picture, with Robert Taylor and the talented and beautiful Ruth Hussey.

It was a busman's holiday, in a way, as Mr. Ruben had to see all the new plays. Mrs. Ruben (Virginia Bruce) was with him, but wasn't on exhibition as so many Hollywood stars are when they visit New York.

He was enthusiastic about the co-operation given him by the navy during the making of "Flight Command," and also about Robert Taylor and the tremendous handicap he had to overcome because he was launched as a handsome and romantic lad who bowled women over on sight. When somebody mentioned the possible effect on Hollywood of this country's entering the war he predicted that men would join up in droves. Ruben himself formerly held a reserve commission in the army, and has been offered one in the navy.

Just as Cary Grant seems to bob up in practically every picture lately, so James Hilton seems to be the author of the moment.

Columbia will film his "And Now Good Bye," co-starring Joan Fontaine and Brian Aherne for the first time; it is her first screen appearance since "Rebecca." And Metro is doing his "Rage in Heaven," with Ingrid Bergman and Robert Montgomery. This is said to be one of the most exciting "perfect crime" stories to be brought to the screen. So Miss Bergman is in for a lot of horror; she has "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" as her next assignment, with Spencer Tracy.

George Raft, poker-faced as usual, almost lost his aloofness when he saw "Pal Joey" recently. "Pal Joey" is a musical show with a real plot, and is currently one of the hits of the New York theatrical season. The hero is a master of ceremonies who dances superbly, and the role is right up Raft's alley.

It's said that the next day he implored Warner Brothers to buy the screen rights for him. Certainly it seems a natural. The only difficulty is that, to get by the Hays office, the plot and the hit songs would have to be discarded; in fact, there wouldn't be much left but the title.

Remember Billy Lee, the appealing boy actor who scored such a hit in "The Biscuit Eater"?

You'll see him in "Power Dive," an aviation picture. Jean Parker and Richard Arlen star in it, supported by Roger Pryor and Don Castle, a young Paramount contract player who's on his way up fast. Paramount gives its younger players featured roles as stepping stones to stardom, so Castle was given the second lead, playing Arlen's younger brother, in "Power Dive."

Vivian Leigh and Laurence Olivier finally set off for England, and possibly for more movies; Paramount would like to have them as stars of J. M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton," screened many years ago with Gloria Swanson and Thomas Meighan.

John MacCormick is the quiet-voiced, dignified young man who announces the numbers each Sunday afternoon on Columbia network's "Design for Happiness"—hearing him, or even seeing him, you'd never suspect that he once was a speed demon. At 17 he designed and built a racing car that would hit better than 100 miles an hour, and was a regular participant in the dirt-track classics at Robey's Speedway near Chicago. At the same time he began studying aviation, and now holds a full transport pilot's license. Now, at 26, he's overcome his desire for speed, and is quite content to earn his living just by talking.

ODDS AND ENDS
Warner Brothers will give "Flight From Destiny," a typical Hollywood opening in Buenos Aires, with Mona Maris presiding.
Parents' Magazine chose Virginia Weidler as 1940's outstanding screen juvenile—Mickey Rooney was the winner for 1939.
Clothed for laughs at a "snack" preview, Preston Sturges' latest for Paramount, "The Lady Eve," recorded an average of two laughs a minute . . . it co-stars Barbara Stanwick and Henry Fonda.

Fashion-Wise Women Take Up Crocheting With Real Zest

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHEN you pick up your newspaper these days, or flip through the pages of your favorite magazine, more often than not you'll see pictures of stage, radio and motion picture stars, college girls, club women and debutantes, all busy at a new hobby—crocheting!

A crocheting fad is sweeping the country. Crochet hooks are being wielded by busy fingers from Maine to California, from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. The vogue has taken such hold that nowadays when a deb reaches into her handbag, it's probably for a crochet hook rather than a lipstick.

Mind you, it's not just the home girls interested in housewifely arts who are crocheting. This time it's the college girls whose campus-bound trunks, returning from mid-winter homecomings, fairly bulged with unfinished sweaters and blouses and accessory items into which, no doubt, they will be putting the final stitches in the lecture room, pacing busy hands to busy minds. In the city thoroughfares it's the debutantes who are crocheting in taxicabs speeding to and fro in their round of social engagements. Stage and radio stars are at it too, while they wait their cues, all of which means that crocheting has definitely reached the glamour stage.

That crochet has come "in" as a style of high importance is big news from the fashion angle. The famous designer Schiaparelli may be back of it all, for when she arrived some months ago on the Atlantic clipper she wore a crocheted collar, crocheted gloves and listen to this—crocheted stockings! The latter were very smart looking and created a sensation because of their unusualness.

Lapel Gadgets

Jewel gadgets continue to flourish on midseason jacket lapels. With the discarding of burdensome winter fur coats comes evidence of the importance attached to suits for midseason and early spring wear. With suits in the limelight, then it is that the gadgets so popularly worn on jacket lapels will come into their own with renewed emphasis. While women are willing and eager to discard their fur topcoats during the interval that spans winter and spring, they still cling to the touches of flattering fur that so dramatized their smart turbans. In the picture an enormous gold-and-topaz pin is worn on the lapel of a mossy green wool long-coat. There will be considerable topaz and amber jewelry in evidence during the midseason months and early spring in line with the trend toward yellows and beiges and sunburnt tones that are sponsored for spring.

Crocheted jewelry is another unique item, especially the lei flower necklace with bracelet to match. The idea of stiffly-starched small crochet wings worn in the hair has spread like wildfire. Young girls are especially like these wings because it takes only a jiffy to make them and they are different and much more interesting than the traditional ribbon bows they have been wearing. A miniature crochet shawl to complete a sweater and plaid-skirt outfit is another favorite accessory.

At exciting style previews for spring the emphasis on crochet fashions is unmistakable. Ideas are such that clever women at home will be quick to add crocheted items to their own wardrobes. For example, insets of crochet in triangles, squares or circles, also yoke tops, add style touches to the new pastel wool frocks. Pockets and belts of crochet and jackets with crocheted sleeves bespeak the high-style significance of this new vogue for handwork.

Milliners are on the alert, too. They are making snug crochet turbans with dramatic twists and drapes of crochet to give front height. The white crochet hat at the top of the left in the illustration has gone patriotic in that an American eagle spreads its wings in a gay crochet motif. To the right (above) a casual wide-brimmed hat has its crown embellished with an applique of floral crochet done in green cotton thread. The smart crocheted pillbox hat shown below has a close-fitting snood for anchorage and "style."

Emblems Important Trimming Feature

The new costumes and sweaters are emblazoned with emblems. Some are embroidered, others formed of jewels, beads and sequins. The casual sports blouse flourishes a nautical emblem on its sleeve or perhaps on the pocket. Sailor blouses with insignia on the sleeve are "last word" fashion news for spring.

Your best dress should have an imposing emblem embroidered in jewels and metal beads.

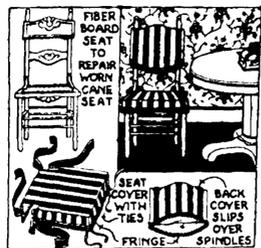

Your hat looks patriotic with a jeweled or embroidered eagle spreading its wings on crown or brim. Your scarf should carry a cunningly contrived emblem, and your "hankies" too. The story goes on and on throughout the spring style program in endless and fascinating ways.

Designers Match Hats With Tailored Tweeds

Designers think so highly of matching the tailored suit with a tailored hat of identical material that they are stressing the idea in advance spring fashions. When you buy your suit ask for a two-piece that includes the matching hat. If you are having your suit turned out by your favorite tailor, buy an extra piece of the tweed or novelty suiting to furnish your milliner who will fashion smartest kind of headgear from soft brimmed hats to jaunty sailors and pillbox types. Perhaps a urban might interest you most. Tell your milliner and she will turn out a most intricately knotted affair or draped and will go even to the point of creating a hand bag to match.

Division of Spoils
In other respects, however, signs were in evidence that bi-partisan control would "by-party"—whether Republican or Democrat. Pick your own interpretation.

1. The House committee on agriculture released a bill whereby the commissioners of agriculture would be appointed by the state board of agriculture. It was expected to shelve a bill proposed by Rep. Edward Walsh, Detroit, Democratic floor leader for appointment of a five-member agriculture commission on a staggered term basis.

2. Reporting out of Senate committee of a bill by Sen. D. Hale Brake, Stanton, providing for nomination and election of the state highway commissioner on a partisan basis. This was to clarify the 1939 amendments making judicial elections non-partisan, and is aimed at the anticipated candidacy of G. Donald Kennedy for state highway commissioner.

3. Ruling by Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton that the Senate may confirm legally the Republican appointments of former Gov. Dickinson instead of the appointees of Gov. Van Wagoner. Eleven days before he left office Mr. Dickinson sent the names of 58 Republican appointments to Fred I. Chase, secretary of the Senate. On Jan. 1, inaugural day, Gov. Van Wagoner furnished a rival list of 44 names.

The Rushton ruling is expected to provide the Republican leadership with something tangible for trading purposes. It may result in a division of offices between the two parties, according to bargaining agreement.

Survey of Small Industry

Following the appeal by William Kaudson, arms production chief, for an immediate survey of all industrial resources, Gov. Van Wagoner ordered the state planning commission to conduct such a survey in Michigan.

Greater flexibility is the need of the hour for decentralizing arms production, the governor pointed out in an interview at Washington. This would enable small industries to accept sub-contracts for arms production, and would follow the success of British industry in parcelling out smaller jobs to small companies.

St. Lawrence Waterway

Another project which has been given the governor's blessing is the Roosevelt endorsement program to open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping.

At a time when sea-board shipyards are years behind in construction of war ships and commercial vessels, the Great Lakes ports may provide needed facilities.

John C. Beukema of Muskegon, chairman of the executive committee, National Seaway Council, points out: "No sound program for national and continental defense can be devised that does not include the St. Lawrence navigation and power project. The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence system is a potential northern Baltic. Remove the obstructions along 66 miles of river and you open the 2,500 miles of waterway, stretching as far as Duluth and Chicago to ocean traffic."

"Within this landlocked security the merchant marine we and Britain so badly need can be built."

John L. Carey, mayor of Dearborn, also echoed the above belief that "this seaway would provide a means of building all of the necessary marine shipping needs through the ability of the Great Lakes shipyards to build and deliver ships to salt water."

Providing the Middle-West with a seacoast equal to that of Florida, the waterway would open ocean shipping to more than 85 inland communities with back yards extending into 17 states.

As would be expected, the railroads do not favor the waterway. Robert V. Fletcher general counsel ally. Eastern and southern interests of the Association of American Railroads has branded it as "unsound economically and dangerous politically." Eastern and southern interests are also cool to the idea.

LOCAL TELEPHONE IN SERVICE

At the first of January, 1941, there were 182 company-owned telephones in service in the Pinckney exchange, representing a gain of 6, during December, according to J.E. Johnson, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The company as a whole operated 820,062 company-owned telephones as of January 1 or a gain of 9,577 during December, compared with
