

Third Draft Is Postponed to Feb. 28

February 28 is now set for the induction of the Livingston County Boys in the Third Draft Call

The draft quota for the third draft call from Livingston county has been postponed from Feb. 15 to Feb. 28, and the quota cut from 25 to 8 men. As there are already 15 volunteers listed it is not definitely known who will be called. The usual custom has been to send the men in the order in which they volunteered. These men have all passed the doctor's examination in the county. The following is the order in which they volunteered: Clare McKeever, Howell, Howard Nichols, Howell; Vernon Osborne, Howell; Bennie VanBlaricum, Pinckney, Doni Spears, Pinckney; Frank Nevlock, Cohoctah; Robert Griffin, Howell; Horace Hanson, Howell; Ralph Ed. Reid, Howell; Wm. Niblock, Howell, Paul Singer, Pinckney, Royal Baker, Pinckney; Steve Aschenbrenner, Pinckney; Clifford Feuch, Fowlerville; Westley Seeley, Fowlerville. 2 of the boys are under age, Robert Griffin is 18 and Wm. Nevlock is 19 but they volunteered with their parents consent.

On the second draft Basil Riley and James Crandall of Dexter township were rejected by the medical examiners in Detroit. It is reported that Steve Aschenbrenner was also rejected on account of bad teeth but the draft board has no report on his medical examination as yet.

Of the second draft quota very few were kept at Camp Custer. Except the four sent to Camp Bradys, most of the others went to California.

JAMES S. OTIS

James S. Otis, 86, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. M. Reid, in Seattle, Washington, on Feb. 4 last. He was a retired Ann Arbor steam engineer and building contractor but had spent his summers at White Lodge Country Club at Cordley Lake east of Pinckney, for a number of years. He was there last summer and attracted considerable attention as he rode about the country on a four wheel scooter, which he made himself, operated by a gasoline motor.

BASKET BALL, BOYS

Friday night at the American Legion hall in Milford, Pinckney will clash with New Hudson in a game that will decide the championship of the "Owl" league. New Hudson is at present in first place with a record of 5 victories and 0 defeats while Pinckney is firmly entrenched in second place with 4 victories and 1 defeat. Pinckney's defeat was suffered at the hands of New Hudson here on Tuesday, Jan. 28 by a five point margin.

Last Friday night the boys played good basketball to defeat Dexter in two games for the second time this year. The reserves won 15 to 10 and first team 21 to 15. Victory was doubly welcome to Pinckney because they have never been able to defeat Dexter in any league competition until this year. The games with Dexter also resulted in the largest gate in the past 5 years. A total of $29.40 was taken in, making an average of slightly over $20.00 at home games. Again we thank the fans for their fine support.

A week from Friday, Feb. 21, Frighton plays at Pinckney in the last home game of the basketball season. There will be 2 boys games and a girl's game, with the second team playing first at 7:15.

One of the feature attractions of the year is scheduled for Wednesday Feb. 26 when a Donkey basketball game will be played in the local gym. It is hoped that a team of businessmen can be rounded up to play against a team of farmers from the surrounding locality. Already such stalwarts as Stanley Dinkel, Lee Lavey and Lefty Reason have signed contracts to uphold the honor of the merchants and it is hoped to complete the teams within the next few days.

More information will appear next week. Be sure and keep the date in mind.

Bob Berger, 807 S. 7th St., Ann Arbor caught a 9 lb. pike, 28 inches long in Portage Lake Sunday on a tip-up.

Pinckney Wins Two Games from Dexter

Wins Both Contests from Dexter Here Last Friday Night But the Visitors Put Up a Hard Fight and the Games Are Close

Last Friday night before the record crowd of the season Pinckney won both ends of a double header from Dexter, the reserves winning 15 to 10 and the first team 21 to 15. Pinckney was extended to the utmost to win both games.

In the reserve team game neither team showed much scoring ability but Pinckney finally nosed out the visitors.

In the last contest Dexter led 3 to 0 in first quarter but Pinckney went ahead and stayed there although Dexter drew uncomfortably close several times. Bill Kuhn had a good night for Pinckney getting 14 points. This was a good thing for the local team as the other members were erratic in their shooting. Outside of Palmer Pinckney made no substitutions until the last minute of play when an entire new team was sent in.

Michigan Mirror State News

Legislature Has Accomplished Little of Importance So Far But Important Issues Must Soon Be Decided.

Stewart partisans who take their politics seriously and who, likewise, believe devoutly in party responsibility, find Michigan's 1941 state government to be downright disturbing.

"The 'good old days,' verily, are slipping fast into memories. Whether good or bad, better or worse, we are headed in a new direction, come what may. As every action brings a reaction, as the one side to another, so Michigan is undergoing a significant change.

And it is all the result of a steady trend in public opinion—how we look at things.

Independence

When voters went to the polls last November, they did not act deliberately with cool, calm foresight to create today's bi-partisan rule at Lansing.

They merely voted for their favorites. Privileges of a democracy made it possible for them to choose simultaneously three Republicans (secretary of state, attorney general, and auditor general), and two Democrats (governor and state treasurer), while maintaining a Republican majority in each branch of the state legislature. And that's scrambling for a bit!

And yet the old-fashioned idea of putting one cross in one circle at the top of the ballot has been fading in Michigan for the past decade or so. A decisive bloc of independent voters crossed party lines exactly five times between 1930 and 1940 to elect a new governor at each election. Every two years, as a result of this flexible public opinion, old "rascals" would be turned out at Lansing and new "rascals" put in.

F. D. R.'s New Deal

At Washington in 1933 a truly great political phenomenon occurred. Franklin Delano Roosevelt began his famous "New Deal" with the aid of Republican Harold Ickes as secretary of the interior and Republican Henry Wallace as secretary of agriculture.

In New York City a dynamic coalition candidate by the name of Fiorella H. La Guardia upset an entrenched Tammany.

Arthur Vandenberg, a man who has never been a politician in the true sense of the word and who has not been actively identified with party organization, became one of our outstanding independent leaders in the United States senate. The primary system originally conceived as a remedy for the boss-plaquet. Continued on Last Page

O. E. S. HISTORIAN VISITS PINCKNEY

At the last meeting of the Grand Chapter O.E.S. of Michigan, W. C. Ireland of the University of Michigan was commissioned to write a history of the Grand Chapter. Especially the first 14 O.E.S. chapters organized in Michigan. Pinckney chapter was one of these 14 original chapters and was represented at the first Grand Chapter meeting held at Adrian, Michigan, in 1867. Those present from Pinckney were Mr. and Mrs. West Pinckney, Mrs. C. W. Hazé, Supt. William Sprout, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin and Mrs. Eliza Crofoot.

Mr. Holland visited Pinckney last Tuesday and talked with the local O.E.S. officers, also Mrs. Hattie Decker and Mrs. Nettie Vaughn in order to get data on the early Pinckney chapter. Mrs. Vaughn stated that her mother was a charter member of the first chapter here and that she thinks she has the records and seal of the first chapter in her attic. Mr. Holland is finding much difficulty in getting the history of these 14 early chapters together. At Adrian he could find no early records at all but visited the library and got a complete history from the files of early Adrian papers. He states that the first 14 chapters in Michigan were organized by a woman from Hudson, Mich., under a New York State dispensation and were all located in southern Mich. The late Mary L. Sprout was secretary of the first Pinckney chapter for many years.

CURRENT COMMENT

Many prominent businessmen and industrialists seem to be in favor of a negotiated peace even if the terms of it should give Hitler and Mussolini the advantage. This is not because they favor these two dictators and their methods but because they hate Communism more. This harks back to several years ago when Europe was in confusion and turmoil. Hitler and Mussolini then seized control and brought some semblance of order to European affairs. For several years they were considered by many industrialists as the main bulwark against the spread of Communism. They fear that a long protracted war will leave Europe in such a weak state that Communism will sweep over it like a prairie fire. These men are not voicing their opinions openly as the recent election showed such opinions unpopular. Also they knew that neither Churchill, Roosevelt or Hitler would be inclined to listen to any peace terms at the present time as each considers victory certain.

According to a Lansing dispatch printed in the papers last Saturday Livingston county may be placed in a new congressional district. The 17th district composed of Oakland county is hardly large enough to be classed as a congressional district but if Livingston county is joined with it it would be. This is the old classification as the 6th district was formerly composed of Oakland and Livingston counties with Ingham included. However, this new classification on would probably meet strong Republican opposition, as it would mean the loss of a congressman for them. Genesee is regularly Democratic and several times the Republican vote in Livingston has been the margin by which the congressman was elected. Another plan advanced is to join Oakland with Ingham county but this too would meet with opposition.

A bus caravan descended on Lansing last week and demanded tax reductions of $17,500,000 and submitted a plan to achieve same. This march on the state capitol was sponsored by the Michigan Public Expenditure Survey. The plan they submitted was rather vague as to details. They claim $1,000,000 can be saved through improvement of state purchasing methods, another million through better personal collecting agencies under one head and into one department. This is true. It would bring all the state tax now being studied by the legislature but may meet fierce opposition if it means the abolishing of the township board and the county board of supervisors. The Michigan Educational Association smells a rat and believes the main object of this march was to cut down educational appropriations to the bone. The Michigan Public Expenditure Survey wants a legislative inquiry into the school system. Many of the schools of Michigan are in bad shape now and any further effort to injure them will encounter stiff opposition. There have been other such marches in the past, the most famous of which was the trek of Gen. Jacob Cooxey to Washington in the nineties. Later came the bonus march during the Hoover administration. Neither of these seems to have accomplished its objective.

The Lansing State Journal has been agitating the removal of the state fair from Detroit to the Michigan State College where it says it belongs. This is a beautiful pipe dream. The fair has long departed from its original objective of being just agricultural and costs a barrel of money to run it. Detroit is the only place where this money can be secured by means of the pari-mutual betting on horse races, and other revenue producing projects which only Detroit will support sufficiently.

CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE

He was the driver of the car which went over the concrete abutment on U.S.-23 north of Whitmore at 11:25 p. m. Monday night. Public Places 'Censorship' Upon Undesirable News

Opposing Viewpoints Dismissed as False; Government Aims to Increase Trade With Latin America.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.
WASHINGTON.—As emotions rise here over the debate of American foreign policy and America's role in connection with the European war a strange sort of censorship is settling down upon the nation. I can feel it in the mail which I receive from listeners to my broadcasts.

It is not a government censorship. It has nothing to do with company rules and regulations, it isn't even voluntary deletion on the part of writers or commentators. It is a censorship which the public itself invokes and it is quite as effective as the kind imposed by Herr Goebbels. I have encountered it before.

It is simply a flat refusal on the part of the individual to believe anything he doesn't want to. He puts it into operation with a twist of the dial when he hears something he doesn't agree with on the radio or by tossing the newspaper into the corner when his eye catches a sentiment of which he doesn't approve.

But let me give you some striking examples of this "audience" censorship—of how the public will believe only what it wants to.
The Athenia was sunk while I was in Berlin. Shortly thereafter, comment of a high American official was cabled to German papers. This official in Washington had referred to the "torpedoing" of the ship with the implication that the Nazis did it. The Germans with whom I spoke (people who couldn't have known any more about what really happened than I did) were astounded.

"Even if we wanted to torpedo a ship full of Americans," one of them said, "we wouldn't be quite dumb enough to do that when the last thing we want is to get the United States into war. If it was torpedoed at all the British did it to get you in on their side."

When I got back to the United States I found that it was accepted without argument that the Germans had done it.
To the best of my knowledge it has never yet been determined just what happened to the Athenia.

British Fliers Interviewed.
I'll give you another example. While I was in Germany I had a chance to interview the first three British airmen shot down in raids over German territory. To be perfectly frank I found them, even the two who were laid up with injuries, extremely satisfied with their treatment. Naturally they had a good deal of attention being "firsts." And in those days the feeling wasn't so bitter.

I did report the factual things they told me—I interviewed them with no Germans present and we all spoke freely.
But did the British public believe it?

I should say not. An International News Service dispatch from London to American papers the next day quoted "diplomatic circles as being concerned" and stating that "one spokesman labeled the broadcast an obvious fake."

But no Englishman at that point wanted to believe what those boys said about their treatment or their personal feelings toward their captors.

Broadcast Cut Off.
The third experience was the most amusing.
I was broadcasting from Berlin and I wanted to get over the idea to my American listeners that while I was well treated I was under censorship and that if I departed from my censored text I would probably be cut off. So I said this:

"It is very much as if I were in the office of a man whose whole future is suddenly at stake, still he is kind and courteous to me. He offers me his hospitality. He lets me use his typewriter and now he pushes his busy telephone across the desk to me to let me talk to you, right before him."

And right there I was cut off the air. The American listeners knew what I was driving at and immediately surmised that the Germans had cut me off because I was criticizing the censorship. But a few days after the event I was summoned to the German foreign office and questioned at length by a highly suspicious underling.
"Why," he asked haughtily, "did the National Broadcasting Company

WHEAT PRICES HIGHER
Domestic wheat prices for January are slightly higher than those of a month ago, and close to the season's peak to date. It is not expected that the market will be oversupplied when loans mature, beginning in February, because if prices are not above loan values plus costs, growers will not sell their grain and pay their loans and the government will take delivery.

cut you off when you were praising the Germans?"
Meanwhile I had been notified of what had happened and I explained, truthfully that I had been cut off because I had reached the end of a period and that had I continued, it would have interfered with a regular commercial program. But did my Nazi accuser believe? Did my American friends believe when I returned? Definitely not!

That is the censorship which is growing as the nation is stirred over the debate on the lend-lease bill. And not only do pros and antis defend their cause with patriotic fire but each is ready to declare that the other who disagrees must be silenced for the good of the Republic. That is the kind of individual censorship against which no protest, however powerful, can prevail.

Seek to Improve Latin American Market

"Good fences make good neighbors."
I once quoted that line from a New England poet to a Dakota farm son and he flew into a rage. He said it was typical of the unneighborliness of the Yankees. Well, being prairie-born myself with a long line of New England ancestors I am inclined to sit on that fence and look both ways. Perhaps we ought to say that there is nothing unneighborly in a good fence so long as it has a gate.

And Uncle Sam feels the same way about the "Good Neighbor" business as it applies to South America. The farmers on both sides of the international fence, the Latin-American farmers and the North American farmers, while they are all for unity, economically, politically and culturally, are a little wary about competition.

That is why the department of agriculture talks so much about "complementary" or non-competitive products in its program for developing trade with Latin America. We want to sell goods to South America. We have lots of things they want. But in order to buy our goods they have to have American dollars. They can get the dollars if they can sell their goods to us. Many of the things they would like to sell us we already have—especially agricultural products.

Therefore certain questions addressed to the department of agriculture are pertinent. Here they are along with the official answers:

Principal Imports.

What are the principal agricultural products we now import from Latin America?
"Our agricultural imports from Latin America are of two general types," says the office of foreign agricultural relations.

(1) "Complementary or non-competitive agricultural products, consisting for the most part of coffee, cocoa, bananas, sisal, henequen, special types of wool, spices, essential (volatile) oils, and tagua nuts. Such products are normally imported to meet the whole of our requirements since they are not produced at home."

(2) "Supplementary or competitive agricultural products. These include cane sugar, vegetable oil-seeds, cattle hides, unmanufactured tobacco, meat products, vegetables and vegetable preparations, dutiable wool, goat and kid skins, and linseed, to mention the more important."

How does the department of agriculture propose to increase trade between the United States and Latin America?
"By developing in Latin America for United States consumption the tropical and semi-tropical products which are not competitive with our agriculture."

Does Latin American co-operation mean increased imports into the United States of supplementary or competitive agricultural products?
"No, that is not the aim of the department's program."

What are the complementary or non-competitive products of Latin America, the imports of which can be increased?
They consist of crude rubber, cinchona bark from which quinine is made, abaca or manilla fiber, valuable for the making of ropes for the navy, rotenone-bearing plants extremely valuable for insecticidal purposes.

Other products are kapok, necessary for insulation and other purposes; cocoa, camphor and tea.

Imports of these eight amounted to approximately $236,000,000 in 1939, of which only $16,000,000, or just about 7 per cent, represented imports from the Latin American republics. There are, of course, a number of other tropical and semi-tropical products that may be added to this list. When our total needs for these can be supplied by Latin America our total imports from there should exceed $750,000,000 per year," he explained.

NOTES OF 50 YEARS AGO

Dispatch of February 12, 1891...
Dr. H. F. Sigler sailed from San Francisco, California, Saturday for Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, on the Monowia. The boat will arrive at the islands in time for the funeral services of King Kalakaua. On board the same vessel are a Mr. Aldrich and a Mr. Bishop with a portable phonograph with which they will record the lamentations and wailings of the mourners. The record will be boxed and not opened again for 50 years.

Walter Reason left for New York City Monday. From there he will go to Springfield, Massachusetts, to make arrangements for the manufacture of the typewriter he recently perfected and patented.

There will be a donation at the M. E. Parsonage next Wednesday night for the benefit of Rev. Hopkins.

The Dimondale murder now fills the front pages of the papers. A farm hand named Russell Canfield got a twelve year old girl, Nellie Griffin from the Coldwater home. The next seen of her was when her nude body was found in the Grand River near Dimondale. Canfield was arrested, confessed and was given a life sentence.

Lillie McIntyre and Myrtle Reason spent the week end at Pettysville and Hamburg Junction.

About 50 men employed by Schuler on the ice at Hamburg Junction quit work there Monday after a small seige riot. Then they went over to the other ice house and hired out for more money.

Lucius Wilson is slowly recovering from an attack of paralysis as a result of the lagrippe.

George Meabon of Plainfield is the proud possessor of a young son. Morris Topping has gone to Buffalo with a load of young cattle that he fed himself this winter.

NEIGHBORING NOTES

110 couples attended the President's Ball at Brighton, 125 at Howell, and 100 at Fowlerville. This with a contribution from the crippled children's Commission raises the amount raised to $1000 which will be used to send Harold Peckens of Fowlerville, an infantile paralysis victim, to Warm Springs, Georgia.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is erecting a new station at Chelsea to house their new dial system exchange.

Mrs. W. R. Daniels, Chairman of the committee to honor the President's birthday and aid infantile paralysis sufferers at Chelsea reports $128.75 raised for this purpose.

Rev. Fr. Cook, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's church at Howell, has been appointed to be pastor of the Holy Family parish at Decatur, Mich.

A move is underway to modernize the Howell City Airport. Funds amounting to $17,500 are available from the state providing the city meets certain appointments. A committee has been appointed to work out a plan.

Mrs. Gerald Musson (Evelyn Graves) has resigned her position in the office of the register of deeds and Miss Florence White has replaced her.—Livingston County Press

Petitions are being circulated for Don Knapp and William Dilloway for justices of the peace at the Howell city primary election.

A NATION PAYS TRIBUTE

Just 43 years ago February 15th, 1898. The nation was shocked by the sinking of the U. S. Battleship Maine in Havana Harbor with a loss of 248 officers and men. Twenty-seven of these American sailors were buried in Havana where today a fine monument is erected in honor of these men who gave their all for their country. At first it was reported her boilers had exploded, but a board of investigation found this not to have been true. She had been sunk by a bomb placed there by some unknown person. This and other incidents led to the declaration of war on April 25. History again repeats itself by the splendid showing of the Army and Navy on this occasion.

YOUR SIGNATURE

Your signature is the bank's authority to pay money from your account or to execute other orders given by you. When you open an account at the bank you are required to leave a specimen signature on file as a guide in guiding the genuineness of signatures on checks presented for payment. Because signatures are sometimes forged the bank watches them very carefully. If one differs materially from the one on file it will be brought to the attention of the signer. For this reason it is important that you sign your name exactly the same way each time. If you should change your signature, first leave a specimen of the new signature at the bank.

Safeguard your banking signature. Do not leave paper lying around on which it appears. Thus you will prevent crooks from gaining access to the signature.

For your scrap book. Some mutterings to remember.

Don't go to work on a short ladder.

Success comes in cans, failure in cents.

It is well to know, it is better to try.

Don't brood, your'e a man, not a hen.

It requires knowledge to be a competent advisor.

Go as far as you can see, then see as far as you can go.

With some people you spend an evening, with others you invest it.

Out of every 100 men called failures, 97 have been lukewarm in their work.

ten able to prove it.

When a man comes to himself and begins to make the most of his job, things usually begin to come his way.

You cannot run away from a weakness; you must sometime fight it out or perish. And if that be so, why not now, and where you stand.

The job's more important- (oh yes) -than the man.

Minute Jumping
From atop the Empire State building you can look across at the giant clock in the Metropolitan Tower.

The minute hand on this clock is 17 feet and weighs one ton. Each minute it jumps a foot. Watching it you can see it jump. Each hour it jumps 60 feet, each day 1440 feet.

That minute hand is a reminder that life is a matter of minute jumping. How high we jump in a year, or a lifetime, simply is the grand total of our minute jumping.

Each minute gives you an opportunity to jump toward your goal. Jump upward by using that minute to push your work, start an important letter, begin a friendship, learn something new, or renew your faith.

Let each moment find you a jump ahead on the path to your heart's desire, your soul salvation.

Where you are today depends upon the minute jumping you did during your yesterdays. Where you will be tomorrow depends upon the minute jumping you do from now on. Use each minute to jump toward the bigger, broader, finer life that can be yours.

EDITORIAL

As the students of the high school know, Mr. Burg is in the hospital with appendicitis. Taking his place is Mrs. Paul Bennett of Howell.

Teaching and doing a good job is a hard task in itself, even after having the few weeks at the beginning of the year to become acquainted with the pupils and the way of the school. Starting in at the middle of the month is just twice as hard. Mrs. Bennett has kindly consented to help us out in Mr. Burg's absence. With our help we would be in quite a quandry. It is our place to help Mrs. Bennett as much as possible. We all have a duty but especially the 8th graders, whom she is teaching. You should behave in all classes just as though she had started with you at the beginning of the year. Don't take advantage of the fact that she does not know all the rules. It is hard for her to step in and start right on where Mr. Burg left off, so try to have all your lessons every day. I'm sure she will appreciate it and you realize afterwards that it isn't a bad idea at all. I have faith in believing that the 8th graders will do their best to help Mrs. Bennett.

Now for some rules for the rest of the high school. Mrs. Bennett has charge of the study hall second, fourth, sixth and eighth periods. All students who are in the study hall should also remember the rules not to take advantage of her. Just in case you have forgotten, here are the rules of the Study Hall. It is your place, especially now, to obey them strictly. First if you wish to speak, get up and stand by the side of the desk of the person you are speaking to. And remember, only one person speaks at a time. Second remember the reading table and the reading room are for references and studying, not conversational parties. Third don't leave the room to go anywhere without permission of the study hall teacher. I'm sure the 8th graders are going to do their part and if they can, surely the high school students ought to be able to theirs. We want to behave so well

Mrs. John Schumacker raised 220 healthy chickens from 220 chicks

Less Care Needed

Before she got her electric brooder, Mrs. John Schumacker, Huron County, used to run back and forth to the brooder house many times a day to check the temperature and tend the brooder. Brooding was a big job and a great worry.

Now she looks at her chicks just four times a day, never worries about their safety, and has more time for other duties. Electric brooding saves time—money—chicks.

Healthier Chicks

Authorities agree that electric brooding produces healthier chicks. Temperature is evenly controlled. Chicks are free to exercise in the cold room when they want to. They develop faster and feather out better. Mortality is reduced to a minimum.

Out of 300 day-old chicks started in an electric brooder Feb. 6, 1940, on the Robert Dickie farm, Macomb County, only eight were lost.

Lower Brooding Cost

Farmers are surprised to find that electric brooding costs so much less than other methods. On the Albert Rocker farm, in Macomb County, electricity for brooding 396 chicks cost $3.35 or less than 1¢ per chick.

Opinion of the Attorney General is that Acts 66 and 63 "must be construed to repeal the inconsistent provision of Sec. 2774 permitting absentee registration. At the time of making application for an absent voter's ballot.

Thus the Absent Voter's application and affidavit for registration are useful only in cases where voter may mail these in, then make application for ballot's later, after registry has been completed.

CONGRESSIONAL LETTER

Wm. W. Blackrey, M. C.

By the time this letter has been read, discussion of H R 1776, the Lend-Lease-Give Bill, will have been completed in the House. You all know my position on this bill. In my judgement, it is the most dictatorial bill that has ever been submitted to Congress and it has been my intent all along to vote against it, unless amendments could be adopted that would take away the dangerous elements of the bill.

In the Congressional Record of Monday, February 3rd on page 544, I presented my arguments against this bill in a speech made in the House. Let me call your attention to Section 3 (a) of this bill, which delegates to the President powers under the Lease-Loan Bill, "notwithstanding the provisions of other law." In other words, if this bill is passed the Neutrality Act and the Johnson Act are virtually wiped off the statute books.

I want you to notice the language in Section 3, where it states that the President may from time to time authorize the Secretary of War or Secretary of the Navy or the head of any other Department or Agency of the government:

"1. To manufacture in arsenals, factories and shipyards under their jurisdiction or otherwise procure, any defense article for the government of any country, whose defense the United States deems vital to the defense of the United States.

"2. To sell, transfer, exchange, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of to any such government any defense article."

In other words, under this bill the President could sell, transfer, exchange, lease, lend, or give any portion of our Army, Navy and Air Corps, but I want the taxpayer's money, which has been spent for this purpose, to be used for the protection and in the defense of our own country.

Our Navy is for the United States and not for Europe. The Lend-Lease Bill, which will undoubtedly pass the House, will then go to the Senate where a longer period of time will be devoted to debate and where the citizens of this country will be given a greater opportunity to write letters of protest, should they desire, to their Senators.

Another bill which has provoked considerable discussion in the House was presented by Congressman Doughton, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. This bill provides that the limit of the national debt be raised from $49,000,000,000 to $65,000,000,000, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau states that that will only take care of us financially until June 30, 1942.

With a steadily increasing national debt, we can ill afford to give to foreign nations our Navy which is so necessary for our defense.

Just to give you an idea of the growing expenses of government, let me call your attention to the fact that the last report showed more than 1,100,000 men and women on the civil payrolls of the United States. This, of course, is exclusive of the Army and Navy. The traveling expenses alone of those on the public payrolls of the United States for the fiscal year of 1940, reached the tremendous sum of $99,286,000. And for the four months alone of the fiscal year of 1941, the mileage is already $47,286,000. We certainly are a traveling government, traveling everywhere.

Another matter that aroused great controversy was the removal by the Administration of the moral embargo on shipments, from the United States, of strategic war materials to Soviet Russia. This really means, in spite of Soviet Russia's undeclared war on Finland, occupied half of Poland with her army and annexed by force Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, that Soviet Russia now has become a favorite with the Administration.

In the eyes of the world this recent action will be taken to mean that the United States gives approval to the Territorial gains of Soviet Russia and to the methods which it employed in their acquisition. Today Soviet Russia is the arsenal of Germany. President Roosevelt has proclaimed that the United States is the arsenal of Great Britain. So, we have the peculiar political set-up of the arsenal of Great Britain joining hands with the arsenal of Germany. This is worth considerable thought.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Everybody who offered an elixir vitae before Eugen Steinach got much renown and few disputed them. Professor Steinach, boiling with energy and full of plans for a long future on his eightieth birthday anniversary, met a harsh challenge from both the lay and professional world, when, 21 years ago, he turned from animal to human experimentation. He was so embroiled in public controversy, in spite of his scientific aloofness, that the Nobel prize, otherwise his, was withheld from him. But this is all forgotten now as the professor is appraised for his sound contribution to endocrine research.

The Swiss Paracelus, born the year after Columbus discovered America, was perhaps the first physician to explain life as a process of rejuvenation. His elaborate formula included caustic lime and alcohol, carefully distilled, with a dash of melissa leaves. While he got only 48 years out of this mixture, a stretch which Professor Steinach may easily double, his discovery brought him much more acclaim. The Nazis drove Dr. Steinach out of Vienna in 1938, confiscating his possessions, including his house, library and art collection. He is happily established again in Zurich, "until better times come back." He was born and reared in Vienna, was graduated from medicine at the University of Wien in 1886 and, had acquired a world reputation as a physiologist before his sensational experiments of 1920. Many eminent persons in various parts of the world have testified to the effectiveness of his "re-activation" treatment, among the Adolf Lorenz, the great Austrian orthopedic surgeon.

WHEN the speech of the children of Shem was confounded and they couldn't finish their tower of Babel, they didn't try singing. Such artifice was left to a later day, to meet a somewhat similar situation.

Waving the 'Good Neighbor' Baton Over Americas
North American folk songs, love songs, and jazz are now heavy exports to Latin-America. Redressing the rhythm balance are the Latin opposite numbers of romance, adventure and syncopation, gaining favor in the U. S. A.

Dr. Andre Kostelanetz, famous orchestra conductor, who was a pioneer of this musical entente, informs this reporter that this cultural exchange is working out beautifully. He says American batoneers, radio program directors and song writers are swinging in handsomely.

"This is giving South America a better understanding of North America and they are beginning to like us a lot more," said Dr. Kostelanetz. "Our songs are filtering in everywhere in the Argentine, Chile, Brazil and 17 other Latin-American republics. We are similarly responding, with Latin melodies being listed among our current musical favorites. Incidentally, we are learning a lot of hemisphere geography from the songs, and that knowledge is helping us to understand our southern neighbors."

About two years ago Dr. Kostelanetz began marshaling a parade of noted orchestra conductors on tours of the Western hemisphere. He believes that when nations Heralds Music Soothing Tongue get snarled In Upset World up, and can't talk to each other, the international language of music is a great help. His own career tends to bear out that theory.

Somewhat of an infant prodigy, he made his debut as a concert pianist at the age of eight. He was 19 when he applied for a job as assistant conductor of the Petrograd Grand Opera. He played a dozen operas and got the job in spite of his youth. Russia fell into turmoil which not even music could soothe and Dr. Kostelanetz came to the United States. He was almost immediately on tour as an accompanist with Metropolitan and Chicago Opera stars.

Courting Lily Pons for a long spell made him an airplane addict, a cross-country flight to bestow an orchid being just like a stroll down the street for an ordinary groundling. After marrying Miss Pons he kept up with both his flying and his music, and twice has won the award presented by the nation's airlines to America's most traveled plane passenger. He thinks music, airplanes, radio and all agencies of travel and communications are unifying forces and that they stimulate understanding, against a trend of confusion and disruption.

Matching Hat, Handbag Give Chic Accent to Spring Costume

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IF YOU want to be fashion-wise this spring, it is absolutely necessary that you become thoroughly and wholeheartedly accessory-minded. From the very start in assembling your new wardrobe, keep firmly implanted in your mind that accessories, above all else, are cast to play the dramatic role in fashion this season. Do this and you will find yourself safely charted in the right course through both spring and summer.

It is a matter of tradition that a new and becoming hat ever has and ever will prove the most effective first aid in sounding the first joyous note of spring. This season fashion goes the idea "one better" with the insistence that a matching handbag complete the picture by way of adding drama to the occasion. Try the hat-and-matching-handbag-way and you will find that it works like magic in broadcasting the glad tidings of spring.

Note the quartette of fetching hat-and-bag ensembles shown in the illustration. Twosomes of this sort are typically "first fashion" news for spring. At the upper right of the group a navy blue stucco braid beret is shown which claims distinction because of the bright patriotic-colored strips which detail the beret and are repeated in the "nautical knots" which enliven the navy felt handbag. By the way, navy will be tremendously smart again this season.

To the upper left the problem of matching hats and handbags has been eliminated by two well-known American designers. Clear synthic strips laced through the Howard Hodge hat and the Nat Lewis handbag subtly emphasize harmony of colors and materials. In the popular South American manner the hat of artichoke straw has a high pleated crown of the same flame red felt used for the handbag. Below to the right black felt and spaghetti braiding is manipulated into a new version of the fashionable off-the-face pillbox with its low-tied bow of the braid, repeated in the laced handbag.

For the handsome hat and bag set pictured on the figure seated, bright green silk petal-shirred grosgrain ribbon is used by Lilly Dache. A matching petal-shirred envelope bag completes this distinctive accessory ensemble.

The supremacy of accessories in the spring mode carries courage and inspiration in the thought that the movement is being aided and abetted by the very highest style-creative talent in all industries that pertain to fashion in women's apparel. The whole trend is to correlate and to co-ordinate costume detail. To this end designers, manufacturers and merchants are enthusiastically working together to co-ordinate color, material and style motif. By way of suggestion when you go accessory seeking, look up the new tiger yellows and browns, the many smart greens, the beiges, Peruvian pink, the new pastel jewel colors, and reds are bolder and brighter than ever. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

New 'Half Hat'

Of all the exciting fashion news for spring, 1941, what is more exciting than the novel "half hat" recently turned out by Lilly Dache! There will no doubt be a rush for these flattering flowery hats when the season gets into full swing, for they are not only charming but practical.

Unusual Fabrics Enhance Dresses

Unusual fabrics frequently add to the attractiveness of evening gowns. A little use of the imagination will often produce satisfactory results. If you are a smart young person you might consider going to the upholstery department next time you need material for a new evening dress. You will be doubly smart if you choose material with a gray background. Heavy gray rayon taffeta has great possibilities, as does gray satin with tiny motifs in gold or striped and damask designs. This material is so wide that it takes only a few yards to make a beautiful dress.

Jewelry Innovation Adds Chic to Frocks

A new development in the jewelry realm is clips that come in series from two to three, four or five. They vary in size and are worn along a neckline or are clipped or pinned to sweep down one side of the bodice like a flock of little birds. Another version of the jewel series is interpreted in several clips that may be worn singly, in a series or fastened together to form one important individual-looking piece. Such is the new lotus flower clip. One clip may be the flower, another the bud still another the foliage. Wear them separately and they serve many purposes, fasten them together (they are made to do just that) and you have one imposing piece of jewelry to wear with your evening gown. The idea is carried on in some instances to include matching finger ring and earrings.

Main Street Gone From Fashion World

"There is no more Main Street in Fashion," declared Mrs. Wilhela Cushman, fashion editor of Ladies Home Journal, before a convention of retailers and manufacturers who recently held their spring national shoe fair in Chicago. Mrs. Cushman says she has found in her travels of 20,000 miles in the past that Main street and Fifth avenue meet and now launch simultaneously the same advance fashions. Declaring that this season "a costume will be made by its accessories," Mrs. Cushman said that bags will be bigger, softer and more colorful. In footwear, the news is of softer shoes. There is a new softness about the leather used. The seamless glove will also be featured this season, she added.

Here's a Design for Rag Rug Enthusiasts

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

MAKE one rag rug and you will find yourself a member of an enthusiastic clan that gloats over any soft piece of old woolen goods and who count the days until they fall heir to a dress of a particular color that they want. These enthusiasts bleach materials to tone them down; they brighten others with dye; they antique some with tea and they have a wonderful time.

The sketch gives all the directions you will need to copy this fascinating braided rag rug with a flower medallion in the center. Or you may make two of the medallions, sew them together and add a braided handle for a knitting bag. Braid the fabric strips tightly and keep the work flat while you sew the circles for the roses and the loops for leaves; then sew them together. Use carpet thread double for this and for sewing the braided rows around the edge of the rug.

NOTE: There are two other fascinating braided rug designs in Mrs. Spears' Book 3 and the new Book 6 contains directions for a hooked, a braided and a crocheted rag rug. "The Rug That Grew Up With the Family" is in Book 3. Each book has 32 pages of pictures and directions. Send order to:

Arctic Eiderdown

A new industry which has sprung up in Arctic Canada should bring prosperity to the 1,500 Eskimos living in that region. The department of mines and research at Ottawa has given permission to the Hudson Bay company to collect eiderdown on the bird sanctuaries along the coast of Baffin island. The collecting will be done by Eskimos in the slack period between hunting and trapping seasons, and they are being taught to pick the down without scaring the ducks and causing them to abandon their homes.

conventions, paved the way. In 1939 the voters of Michigan upheld in referendum a non-partisan judiciary, a reaction against a so-called political judiciary.

In 1940 the same voters stripped the legislature of its patronage powers and instituted a drastic and somewhat revolutionary program of civil service, jobs by merit. Gymnastics

Concurrently, the independent voters in 1940 performed other mental gymnastics just as remarkable.

They cast a majority for Wendell L. Willkie, who was a lifelong Democrat until recently. They cast a majority also for Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Never in its history has the Republican party broke precedent nationally by crossing party lines in its selection of a presidential candidate. The man, not the emblem, proved to be the irresistible magnet.

But his change in political thinking has not been the exclusive virtue (or sin, depending on how you look at it) of any one party. Witness these acts: The late Governor Frank Fitzgerald appointed a study commission for civil service, and his successor, Frank Murphy, signed the legislative act. Governor Murphy then appointed a study commission to recommend reforms in parole and prison management, and when a Democratic legislature provided for a bi-partisan commission, Republicans did not move to revise it.

Bi-Partisan Trend

Today's current dispute over bi-partisan appointment of the state commissioner of agriculture is just another case of kind.

An administration measure would take the commissioner out of politics through appointment by a long term bi-partisan commission. Counter to this Van Wagoner farm reform is a McPherson-sponsored bill for the commissioner's appointment by the state board of agriculture, Michigan State College's elective governing body.

Also being kicked around at Lansing is the idea of letting bi-partisan boards appoint the state highway commissioner and the state superintendent of public instruction.

A 1941 legislative bill would have regents of the University of Michigan elected by non-partisan ballots. And so the signs multiply.

Michigan's bi-partisan administration appears to be, in part, the culmination of a trend in popular thinking that has disregarded party labels in an insistent quest for more efficient and responsive government. What will be the voter's reaction to this? That answer is yet to be written.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

Several special features marked the February meeting of the King's Daughters which occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sadie Read, with some twenty-five ladies in attendance. Mrs. Mae Daller, retiring president, acted as chairman of the meeting, and Mrs. Myrtle Craft was in charge of the devotions. Installation services, previously postponed, were conducted by Mrs. Burr King, County President, who was a guest for the occasion. The officers installed were president, Viola Read, vice president, Theresa Coyle; secretary, Lucille Beck; and treasurer, Dora Swarhout. Initiation services for one new member were also conducted by Mrs. King. A most impressive memorial service was held for the late Miss Katherine Hoff, loyal member of the circle. Candles were lighted in her memory, and appropriate eulogies were given by Mesdames Sadie Read, Mae Daller and Lulu Darrow.

A memory contest conducted by Mrs. Viola Read afforded much pleasure. A gift was presented to the retiring secretary, Mrs. Clare Palmer in recognition of her years of service as an officer in the circle. Assistant hostesses were Mesdames Dora Swarhout and Louise Glenn.
