

Basket Ball Tournament To Be Held Here

16 Teams Will Compete in the Big Basketball Tournament to Open at the Pinckney High School Gym March 31 and Extend to April 3

Pinckney will stage an independent basketball tournament at the high school gym next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Some 16 teams will be entered. To date the following teams have signed contracts to play: Stockbridge, 2 teams, Pinckney, 2 teams, Waterloo, Munith, Dexter, Howell, Chelsea, Brighton, Fowlerville, Ann Arbor, 4 teams. Other teams are also being secured.

There will be four games each night. The admission is 15c and 10c. The profits of the tournament will go to pay for the electric scoreboard. This is the first independent tournament that Pinckney has ever staged in the village. Such things are common however. When ye editor was managing the team a number of years ago and had such stars as Don Swarthout, Lefty Reason, Paul Hickey, the Meabon boys, Har Hall, and Rollie Shehan under his wing, he entered four tournaments one year at Stockbridge, Chelsea, Howell and Fowlerville. Pinckney won several games but did not finish in the money.

3 OUT OF 31 REJECTED

Of the bunch of 31 boys sent from this county to the induction center at Detroit last Friday but 3 were rejected. One of these is Juckett of Gregory. He is from Kentucky and was accidentally shot some years ago. A shot lodged near his lung and for this reason he was rejected. His brother was taken. We understand that more draftees will be inducted faster from now on as the army training camps are being rapidly completed. There will be two inductions in April. About 25 are slated to go from this county in the first one. Among them will be Ambrose Kennedy, youngest son of Sheriff Kennedy, who volunteered Saturday. We understand that the four Pinckney boys inducted last week, Royal Baker, Leonard Devins, Arthur Krych and Francis Krupa were all accepted. The Junketts were serving a 15 day jail sentence for reckless driving. They were requisitioned from there by the army but the one rejected was sent back to serve his sentence.

ARSON CASE TO BE RETRIED

According to Prosecutor Joe Gates Dayle Kettler and Marshall Campbell tried for arson at the March May term of court. At the first trial the jury disagreed, being 10 to 2 for conviction it is said. The two accused are out on bail.

RURAL SCHOOL DISPLAY

A number of rural schools have an interesting display in the window of the C. H. Kennedy store. The schools represented are the Chubb's Corners school, Mrs. Roy Smollett, teacher; Reeves school, Mrs. Jennie Kellenberger, teacher; Sprout school Miss Dede Hinchey, teacher; the Younglove and Bullock schools, Helen Bland and Rae Westmoreland teachers. The display is of articles made by the children and include scrap books, log cabins, musical instruments carved from soap, shell work, bead baskets, cutout Indian scenes and many other articles. They all show hard work and much painstaking labor and skill.

DON'T GET MIXED UP

The names of Donald Kennedy and Leroy Smith, candidates for state highway commissioner, will appear twice on the April ballot. One for the unexpired term of Murray Van Wagoner, which ends July 1, 1941, and one for the full four year term which begins July 1, 1941. Remember it is necessary to vote both ballots.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to those friends and neighbors for their kindness during our bereavement.

Past Matrons and Patrons Night

Local O. E. S., Chapter Honors Its Former Officers Friday Night

The O.E.S. held their Past Matrons and Past Patrons Night, Friday evening. The program was opened by Lulu Lamb with a few well chosen words presenting the Past Matron's Jewel to Hazel Chambers Virginia Baughn singing "Follow Me". Past Matrons and Patrons assisted by 16 girls with Ruth McLucas at the piano presented the Past Matrons and Patron to the altar where they were welcomed by Lulu Lamb, W. M. A quartette composed of Rev. McLucas, Jack Hannett, Bill Baughn and Edsill Meyer favored the group with a song. Rev. McLucas gave some remarks. The memorial for the departed Past Matrons and Patrons was presented by Alta Meyer, Jennie Hooker, Virginia and Betty Baughn Rosemary Read, Alberta Dinkel, Dorothy Parker, Helen Reason, Willa and Megan Meyer, with Florence Laughn and Percy Swarthout singing "The Old Rugged Cross". Florence Baughn at the piano. Blanche Martin, President of the Past Matrons club presented the Charter with 4 white Bibles. Following, a petluck lunch was served by the officers in the dining room.

A BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Present indications point to a very large attendance at the Annual Past Masters Night Banquet to be held at the local Masonic hall on the night of Friday, March 28. About all of the grand lodge officers will be present, including Charles T. Sherman of Lansing, grand master, and Dewey Hesse of Saginaw, deputy grand master. Other guests include Hugh McPherson of Pontiac, Paul Strawhecker of Grand Rapids, Roscoe Burch of Benton Harbor, Dr. Kenneth Lyons of Jackson and the one and only Dr. Francis B. Lambie of Midland. The Texas Ranch Boys of the Ford Motor Co. will play and sing and Miss Joanne Saulders of Detroit will sing.

Dr. Francis B. Lambie and tap dance. One of the most colorful of the past and present grand lodge officers is Dr. Francis B. Lambie of Midland, past grand master, past high priest, past mayor of Midland, past professor of the Toronto veterinary college, and past live stock judge of the Michigan State Fair. This estimable gentleman is still very active and this year is a candidate for grand lecturer. Although he is a citizen and resident of this state for many years he still has just as broad a Scotch accent as when he came over from Glasgow nearly 50 years ago to buy horses for the Glasgow Street Railroad.

Several Deaths of Local People

Some Esteemed Citizens Pass To the Great Beyond

GEORGE CLARK

The death of George William Clark occurred Monday, March 24 at his home. Mr. Clark was born in the same home on October 6, 1865. He was the son of the late Charles and Prudget Plunkett Clark. He is survived by his wife, eight boys, and two daughters. The sons are Floris and Leo of Detroit, Walter, Charles and Leo of Pinckney Edward of Ann Arbor, Emmett of Howell, and Glen Leo Clark of Spokane, Wash. The two daughters are Mrs. Leo Gleason of Howell and Mrs. Lulus Doyle of Pinckney. There are 26 grandchildren who survive. The funeral services will be held from the home Thursday at 8:30 a. m. and at nine o'clock from St. Mary's church. The Rev. J. Francis Murphy will officiate and celebrate the Requiem High Mass and attend the Committal Services at St. Mary's Cemetery in Pinckney.

The late Mr. Clark was well known in his respective community where he spent his entire life and was a devoted husband, parent, neighbor and citizen. His illness has extended over a period of several weeks and recently became acute, since developing a severe cold. Heart complications then developed. We extend to the bereaved family our sincere condolence and prayers for his soul's eternal rest with his Divine Maker. The pallbearers are Frank Bowers, Albert Shirley, Leo Farley, Lee Tiplady, Hubert Ledvick and Bert Van Blaricum Sr.

NEHEMIAH PACEY

Nehemiah Pacey, 79, died at the Pinckney Sanitarium of pneumonia Saturday morning. He has been a lifelong resident of this section and has held several township offices. Surviving are his wife, Anna Docking Pacey, a son, Floyd, at home and a daughter, Mrs. Walter Glover of Fowlerville and several grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the home in West Putnam Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. M. McLucas officiating. Burial was in the Gilkes cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Swarthout were guests of their daughters in Flint Sunday.

Michigan Mirror State News

Pension Groups Win by Losing. The Rate is Liab to Be Greatly Increased in the Near Future

Winning by losing! That's the result-getting story of the Townsend movement in Michigan. Townsend clubs are maintained by devotedly, zealous crusaders who believe that America's economic salvation lies in an enforced spending of generous old-age pensions and the replacement of jobs which these oldsters now regain, by younger men and women.

For any minority cause, legislative appeasement is often granted in proportion to the degree of political pressure that can be applied at the right time on the right persons.

Today, old age assistance is a $40,000,000 annual activity of federal, state and local governments. Beneficiaries number nearly two million persons.

The issue for legislators was ticklish.

Rep. Ate Dykstra (R) of Grand Rapids, eight-term veteran who recently announced his intention not to run for re-election, proposed:

In August, 1939, the federal act was amended by Congress to permit federal matching on a 50 per cent basis up to $40 per month per eligible recipient.

In June, 1940, only two states—California and Colorado—had an average monthly payment per person in excess of $30.

The effect of the federal revision was to place responsibility for the higher monthly payment squarely upon the availability of state and local funds, together with the willingness of the legislators to give preference to old age assistance over other deserving causes espoused by other voting constituents.

Dykstra's proposal for $40 monthly pensions lacked only nine votes of adoption. The final vote was 42 to 34, needed majority was 51.

DETROIT TERMINAL STRIKE

The teamsters union strike at the Detroit terminal warehouse threatens to deprive the Pinckney people of fruits and vegetables if it continues long. This town is served by Michael Mercurio, an independent dealer, and Monday he was unable to get to the warehouse as 100 of the trucks driven by union drivers surrounded the warehouse and would let no one through. Fortunately, he had a stock of oranges etc. on hand and was able to supply the trade with these.

There are several explanations for the strike. The teamsters are making certain demands and the wholesalers are said to be determined to freeze the independent dealers out and make them buy all their fruit and vegetables from the wholesalers. This would tend to raise prices for the consumer. At the terminal warehouse the fruit and vegetables are sold, usually by auction, as they are unloaded from the cars.

COMMENT

Measles seem to be sweeping the state as 4,416 cases are reported at one count in about every community in this section. Ann Arbor alone has 97 cases. This measles epidemic crops up every so often and seems to run in waves. Early last fall it was said to have been carried to California from the Hawaiian Islands and slowly spread from there across the nation. The first symptoms are said to be a cold in the head followed by a fever. Usually it is several days after the first symptoms are detected that breaking out follows. If taken care of efficiently, no bad after effects should result. A darkened room and plenty of warmth is asked for. The eyes are extremely sensitive during the period of this disease and many have had impaired eyesight as a result of improper care.

Just why the legislature refuses to take the licensing of tourist camps seriously so that they can be forced to observe sanitary and moral laws is not clear. These places have run wild for years and have long needed regulation. All cities near which they have been located have complained on the lack of sanitary methods and their deficiency in moral safeguards. They keep no number of their guests and many bandits and criminals have found a safe haven in these camps. Nevertheless the Stockman bill on license camps make them live up to moral and sanitary living standards was kicked around like a football by the legislators and finally passed without the licensing provision, making the bill of little meaning and all but useless.

Only two Republicans in this state voted for the 7 billion dollar appropriation to carry the Lease-Lend bill into effect last week. One was Congressman Michener of the second district and the other Congressman Blackney of this district. All others put party first and merely used it as another opportunity to show their dislike of President Roosevelt and his works. In explaining his vote, Mr. Blackney states that the Lease-Lend bill is now the law of the land, a big majority of both houses voted for it and it is the duty of the congressmen to support it as long as it remains a law.

We don't like the recent ruling of the state liquor commission whereby they intend to abolish the state liquor stores and let the S. D. D. or drug store have the complete sale of it, giving them permission to remain open until 2:00 a. m. The state liquor stores were efficiently operated by competent men and were limited in number. The consequence of this new ruling will be to increase the number of dealers and also competition between them for business. It is liable to bring back the old saloon day conditions of too many places fighting for business with the same unpleasant results. This change has been in the offing for years and the S. D. D.'s had sufficient pressure to bring it about.

For some time the story has been passed out that vice was rampant around the army camps and training bases. The Detroit News recently sent a writer to Camp Custer to investigate conditions but he was unable to find proof to back up the statements. Although the sheriff and chief of police both agreed that vice was increasing rapidly, they could show no increase in arrests to back up their statements. Of course, the fact that some 15,000 boys are now at Camp Custer was bound to result in an influx of vice characters. In the civil war days vice followed the army and had its red light district adjacent to every army camp. The same thing existed in the Spanish War days and also during the last world war days. It is doubtful if it can be altogether eliminated but vigorous action by authorities can check it.

Hark Greenberg continues to get unwelcome publicity over his classification in the draft. This, in the first place was undoubtedly press agent stuff, but has now gotten away beyond control. The question is now: Should Greenberg get exempted because he has been given a salary of $50,000 a year. His flat footedness is a joke. It does not prevent him from being the star athlete of his lay or pulling down the largest salary in organized baseball.

TIPS to Gardeners

GARDENING AS HOBBY
GARDENING as a hobby can be made to pay excellent dividends. As an example, a Missouri woman reports she made a net profit of $300 from her two-thirds-acre garden in a single season. Figured at market prices, food used fresh was $230; food canned, $80; and food stored, $71. Seed and sets cost her only $20.

There are two major requisites to obtaining garden profits of this kind. They are, willingness to work and the use of quality seed. It is important also to devote considerable space to multiple purpose crops like beets, onions, and tomatoes—crops that can be used in a variety of ways.

Here, briefly, are the uses of principal multi-purpose crops: Onions—green, as relish; mature bulbs fried, stewed, or as seasoning; bulbs for pickle, and relish making; tops for seasoning; bulbs for storage. Tomatoes—fresh fruits for slicing or stewing, for immediate table use; for canning, or for making tomato juice, or tomato catsup; green tomatoes for frying, or for use in pickle relishes, or in pie filler (like mince meat); yellow fruits for preserves, juice, or immediate table use.

Cabbage—fresh in slaw, or salad; cooked for table use; canned as kraut, or stored. Beets—tops for greens; roots cooked fresh, canned, pickled, or stored.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, chief of staff of the Greek army, is a professional soldier, singularly free from any political context whatever, domestic or foreign. With the passing of the late Premier John Metaxas, he becomes possibly the most important single individual in the kingdom, so far as immediate issues are concerned. From all that can be gleaned from Athens dispatches, he has made up his mind and, by all accounts, his is a mind that stays put. Greece will keep on fighting. There will be no separate peace.

The scholarly, gray-haired, trim-rigged soldier, smartly tailored in mufti or in uniform, has been occupied quite steadily with military strategy, both in study and practice, since 1912.

After his graduation from military academies and cavalry schools in Athens, Belgium and Italy, he fought in the Balkan war of 1912 and 1913, rising from a lieutenant to a captaincy. In the World War, he fought against Bulgaria and Germany and, in the campaign of 1920, had a staff assignment in Asia Minor. He was made minister of war in 1935 and chief of staff and chairman of the supreme war council in 1936.

If he uses ammunition as carefully as he uses words, he should be a supremely effective fighter against all comers. Most characteristic is his reserve, his calm precision in action and his capacity for swift decision. Also characteristic is his long aloofness from intrigue and politics, during changing regimes. He has opposed and bested the brass hats of the army in modernizing Greek fighting forces. His calm, expert judgment no doubt weighs heavily in the royal councils today.

AS DIVING airplanes reach a speed of 600 miles an hour, they're processing pilots through depression chambers like the sand-hogs. Milo Burcham, record-holder for upside down flying, is rare laboratory material for the army air corps, whamming a 1,100 horsepower Lockheed plane through power dives which might finish him if he hadn't had a half hour in a decompression chamber. It prevents paralysis.

Mr. Burcham, test pilot for the Lockheed corporation, conditioned himself for his hazardous career by nailing a chair upside down on the beam of his kitchen, and spending a lot of his time sitting head downward as he coached arteries, nerves and vision for a topsy-turvy life. That was in 1933 when he decided to make a try for the upside-down flying record.

His record flight of 4 hours, 5 minutes and 22 seconds was just like an afternoon of pleasant lounging in the old kitchen chair. He had been a sand-lot flier on Long Island before going to California, to get a new orientation on an also topsy-turvy world. He is thirty-seven.

NELSON D. ROCKEFELLER'S friendly overtures to South America hit a hot maxixe rhythm and a mezzo-voce moaning. Hollywood wood relays back to Brazil in brilliant technical color. Carmen Miranda, the Latin lallapalooza who has been hopping up the good neighbor spirit in these parts for nearly two years. The new film, "That Night in Rio," opening here, with Senorita Miranda singing "Chica, Chica, Boom, Chic," looks like a better attention-getter than anything the Export-Import bank might work up in the way of hemisphere cartelization. All this was premeditated, as Hollywood is definitely in on Mr. Rockefeller's new up and down flux of trade and culture. The beautiful Brazilian chanteuse was born in Portugal and was taken to Brazil by her parents at the age of two.

Her real name is Maria do Carmo da Cunha, her stage name having been taken from her mother's maiden name. Still in her early twenties, she has made nine concert tours of Brazil and other South American countries, and her more than 300 recordings top all sales in the Western hemisphere. When she made her debut here in "Streets of Paris," in June, 1939, North and South America began to realize they had much in common. Her "Samba" rhythm seems to be indigenous to both continents and ought to help to keep good neighbors in step.

Protection From Sabotage Described as Inadequate

Civil Service Asks for More Investigators; Defense Heads Act to Avert Shortage Of Farm Labor This Summer.

By BAUKHAGE

National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—As the United States, under the lease-lend law, literally becomes the arsenal of democracy, officials lament their lack of facilities for protecting that arsenal from the enemy within our gates.

If you are a fist-rate saboteur or enemy agent you have only one chance out of three of being spotted by the Civil Service investigators before you are hired in a government plant or arsenal or navy yard.

That in substance is what Civil Service Commissioner Arthur Flemming told a senate committee the other day when he asked for a supplemental $320,000 appropriation to increase the number of investigators who check the record of applicants for government defense jobs.

Even with the close co-operation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the army and navy intelligence the records of only one-third of applicants put on the government payroll for these jobs can be properly examined, Commissioner Flemming revealed. Efforts are now being made to get congress to increase the funds for carrying on this important work.

There is always a certain routine checking on every worker who applies for a government defense job. The police department records in the applicant's home community are examined; the Federal Bureau of Investigation (the G-men, so-called) checks the fingerprints to see if they are identified with those of an offender. And finally the army and navy intelligence files are available to the Civil Service commission investigators in Washington.

This procedure identifies the enemy agent or criminal or other person with an unsavory record who has already run into trouble and been found out. But the previously unidentified and potential offenders have to be spotted by the understaffed 13 district offices or the headquarters of the Civil Service commission in Washington itself.

Commissioner Flemming told the senators that since starting to recruit civilian defense forces Civil Service investigators had disqualified 16 per cent of the applicants examined "on the ground of disloyalty or weak character."

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts questioned the commissioner on the type of person disqualified. Mr. Flemming gave an example: "One applicant for the position of gas welder in one of the navy yards, our investigation developed, was seen at communist meetings, attended a communist school in Wisconsin, was an active worker for the party, passed out communist literature and books."

Others have been found to have had bad records as far back as in the previous war. The Civil Service commission says it needs more money to stop the saboteur before he begins his sabotage.

Prepare to Avert Farm Labor Shortage

How are the farmers going to get those 3,000,000 extra farm hands they need in the summer months to get in the crops?

While the national defense program is snapping up a lot of farmhands and getting them jobs in factories it is also trying to provide a practical method by which the farmer will get what he wants in the way of extra labor when he wants it.

Of course what William Knudsen and Sydney Hillman need right now is men to make the wheels go round that turn out armament. But the defense heads point out that the method they have devised for getting the workers they want will also help the farmer in the long run. That method is registration of all surplus labor with the 1,500 full-time and 3,000 part-time state-operated employment offices.

The managers of these offices want all prospective farm hands to register at these offices, too, and are urging the farmers who are going to need help next summer to patronize these state employment agencies, too.

Defense demands may result in a shortage of farm labor later, but one of the big helps for the farmer will be the employment agency. If you inquire at one agency for a farm hand and that agency hasn't any registered it will consult, free of charge, any or all the other agencies.

Spy From Korea 'Advertiser' His Work

I have just had lunch with the only spy I ever met who advertised his profession.

"It is most dark right under the lamp," he said to me as he scooped up a sheaf of highly intriguing documents which he had spread on the table before me, slipped them into a worn portfolio and whisked the zipper.

We were sitting at a corner table in one of Washington's sublimated chop suey restaurants.

My spy was one of those plotters he'd haunted his plots before me quite openly. Some secrets may be hidden behind the smiling slits of eyes of Kilsoo Kenneth Haan, for that is his name, but he has convinced at least one senator that that information which he has turned in gratis to various secret agencies of the government is very welcome.

Hates Japanese.

Haan is 41, short, engaging, an oriental cherub in glasses, with a cast of countenance that would make you think he was a Japanese (which he says, some Japanese do). But his calling card says that he is head of the Sino-Korean Peoples' league. And Koreans love the Japanese as the Pole loves the German.

Briefly Haan's history, as he tells it, is this:

He was 10 years old when the Japanese took over Korea and his first memory of that tragic event is the view he got from his hiding place under a chicken coop when the soldiers marched into his village.

Haan soon left for Hawaii. Then one day, five years ago, because he had been active among his fellow Koreans, he was approached by a member of the Japanese consulate in Honolulu who offered him a job helping to organize all Orientals in a sort of pan-Asiatic movement under the Japanese. The next year, when a delegation of American congressmen visited the islands to study the possibility of Hawaiian statehood, Haan told them all he knew in a public hearing.

A part of the documents he showed me was a letter from a senator thanking him for his services at that time in exposing the grandiose Japanese scheme. That was Haan's first advertising of his chosen profession. He was soon to get more. The Japanese press attacked him. He was spat upon in the streets. His life was threatened.

Comes to America.

The next year he came to America with one chief objective, he says, and it was in describing his purpose that he quoted the proverb about the lamp.

It is well known that Koreans, some of whom can pass for Japanese and many of whom live in Japan and in the occupied portions of China, maintain a voluntary spy system and grapevine telegraph. They still hope to win back their independence.

Haan claims that he wants to secure the financial and moral support of the United States government to create a real co-operative Korean spy system against the Japanese.

His method of advertising the ability of a Korean to get information from the Japanese is to get it himself. He told me of his latest adventure over the chicken chop suey and tea: From his Korean friends in Japan Haan said that he had learned that two Japanese reserve officers were on their way to the United States to prepare Japanese in this country for a war. They were bearing a notorious text book of propaganda and procedure, the translated title of which is "Three Power Alliance and Japan-America War."

Haan set out to locate the officers and get the book, first notifying certain authorities in Washington of his intention. The task seemed so impossible that one man, who needn't be named, but $25 that the indefatigable Korean couldn't succeed.

The book, according to Haan, is now in the hands of the proper authorities here and he has $25 in his pocket. How he got it is another story.

Shrunken Blankets.

QUESTION: A pair of all-wool blankets has become very hard and stiff after washing. How can I restore their softness? I wish to do the job myself.

ANSWER: Fill your bathtub with tepid water, dissolve half a package of soap flakes completely, and soak the blankets. Do not rinse; leave the soap in the wool. Wring lightly, hang over a line, and with someone to help you, pull and stretch the blankets as they are drying. Do not subject the blankets to any great change of temperature, either of air or water.

Painting a Floor.

QUESTION: Printed linoleum in my kitchen is so worn that I want to remove it, but must wait for about two years before laying new linoleum. In the meantime, what will be the most practical finish for the wood floor?

ANSWER: If your printed linoleum is not worn through, it can be painted with floor enamel, after thorough washing and then wiping with turpentine to remove all traces of grease and wax. If you must paint the wood floor, it should first be smoothed with a sandpapering machine to take off all splintering particles and roughness, and to give a smooth surface. You can then use any good quality floor paint or floor enamel. Waxing will not be necessary.

Musty Odor.

QUESTION: Of late there has been a moldy, musty smell from my floors. At first, I thought it was the rug, but investigation proved it to be coming from the floor. The odor is always present, but in damp weather it is twice as bad. How can I get rid of it?

ANSWER: A musty odor indicates rotting wood. It may be that the supports of the floor are in contact with the earth, or water may be getting into your wall from leaks in the wall or roof, or from a plumbing pipe. Whatever the cause, rotting is going on, and there will be eventual trouble if you do not correct the condition.

House Appraisal.

QUESTION: I am considering the purchase of a small, 10-year-old house, which to my inexperienced eye looks in good condition. But I should like the benefit of expert advice. Could I rely on the loan company's valuation, which will be made by the bank, as a fair estimate of the condition of the house? Otherwise, how could I go about getting reliable inspection and opinion of the property?

ANSWER: A bank's appraisal of the condition of a building is usually quite accurate. However, if you wish to check on the bank's findings, you could have a competent architect or builder make an inspection and give an opinion.

Painting Stained Shingles.

QUESTION: We have a Dutch colonial house; the upper part is dark brown shingles, the lower part being painted a cream color. We would like to paint the house a cream color all over. Is it possible to paint over dark stained shingles? Would one coat of aluminum paint over the brown be satisfactory, before putting on a light color?

ANSWER: If the stain on the shingles is comparatively new; that is, less than a year old, it is advisable to wipe with turpentine. Otherwise, one coat of good aluminum paint, applied uniformly, will seal the stain and will make a good priming coat for the paint to follow.

Painting a Metal Animal.

QUESTION: I have a plated metal animal 14 by 8 inches; silver plated on copper. I wish to paint it. How should I prepare the surface for a flat paint?

ANSWER: Roughen the surface of the metal by rubbing with sandpaper. Follow by wiping with benzine, being very careful of fire when doing so. Put on house paint in thin coats, and allow plenty of time for drying between coats.

Stair Creaks.

Creaking in stairs is from the springing up of the treads over the risers; it occurs when a weight presses the tread back into place. The tread can be secured with long finishing nails, driven through it and into the edge of the riser underneath. Nails should be driven in pairs and at opposite angles. Sink the head below the surface with a nailset and fill the holes with wood putty.

Water Supply Tank.

QUESTION: In putting in an electric pump water outfit, would you prefer a small supply tank, or a large one?

ANSWER: I should use a large tank, to have an ample supply in case of fire or other emergency.

BRIEFS . . . By Baukhage

For we might as well face the fact that whenever production exceeds national demand the farmer takes 50 cents instead of the dollar he has earned. We have solved production. We must now solve the infinitely more difficult problem of distribution and that can be done only through national legislation.—Representative Cannon of Missouri.

In the field of industrialized agriculture too many young children are employed in factory-like repetitive processes for long hours and at low wages, under conditions far different from those which adults today usually associate with the healthy, happy life of farm boys and girls of their own youth.—Katherine Lenroot, Children's Bureau.

NOTES of 50 YEARS AGO

Dispatch of March 26, 1891 Judge Rollin Person of Howell is the Democrat nominee for circuit court judge in this district.

Robert C. Auld has been offered a congenial position in a Chicago publishing house. He left for Chicago by train Wednesday.

Pinckney must be a very healthy place as many here have passed the eightieth landmark. Some of them are: Mrs. Hall 96, Joseph Ferguson 87, Mrs. Haines 86, Rose Ann Farley 85, Samuel Hinchey 85, Mrs. Alva Mann 82, J. Sellman 82, Wm. VanOrden 81, Mrs. Rose 81, and Hugh Clark Sr. 80.

The churches have been closed for Sunday worship and also the schools and all social activity suspended on account of diphtheria.

Rev. Hopkins is in South Lyon assisting in revival meetings. Fay Bennett of Pettysville has sold his farm there to Ed Wheeler.

William Benham of Hamburg pulled a new one. On account of the mild winter not much ice was put up. A cold spell came in March and Mr. Benham hired a big gang of men to cut the ice on his lake. This they stacked out doors and built a cover the ice afterwards. We understand he has it all sold to city companies who could not fill their houses.

Frank Farrel has returned home from the Pontiac asylum. Iorn to Rev. England and wife of Plainfield one day last week a daughter.

M. VanKeuran has purchased a house and lot of M. Topping and Son at Plainfield.

Mrs. John Jacobs of Brighton was struck and killed by the 9 o'clock train there Wednesday morning.

The stained glass windows were put in place in St. Mary's church this week.

The Pinckney village council tabled the petition of G. A. Sigler and others asking the passing of an ordinance prohibiting shooting of guns in the village limits.

Mrs. Mary Pohey of Hamburg, aged 83, died of the grippe Monday. Last Saturday night about 22 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright helped them celebrate their 20th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Wright received many beautiful gifts.

NOTE OF 25 YEARS AGO

Dispatch of March 22, 1916

Lee Bennett's team ran away Monday night as he was coming from the 7:27 train. He stopped to remove some surplus kids from the back of the bus when the team started. When they reached the business section they wrecked several hitching posts and a telephone pole, tore down an electric light pole letting the wires across the road. The horses were not injured much.

Supt. J. P. Doyle has made application to have the Pinckney school placed on the accredited list of the University of Michigan.

J. M. Blanchard and wife of Dexter both died on the same day, Friday last week of nephritis and cancer. He was proprietor of the Dexter flouring mill.

H. D. Brown, Pettysville merchant, has purchased a Ford car. Supt. Hugh McDougall, after 3 years as head of the Brighton school, has resigned.

Earl Tupper is home from Big Rapids where he has been attending school.

Victor Johnson and Walter Clinton have enrolled in school at Big Rapids.

Charles Stickle, 77, a civil war veteran, died at Clarkston, N. Y. on March 17. He recently sold his farm here, going to New York.

Percy Mortenson is in Ohio and Indiana on business for the Knox-Harris Pickling Co.

John Teeple has been drawn to serve on the circuit court jury. George Roche is moving into Mrs. Egan's rooms vacated by W. A. Havens.

Forn to Mr. and Mrs. Will Tip-lady of Webster on March 19, a son. John Moore, 76, of Gregory died at his home there Monday night.

Mr. Hubbard has moved into Will Chambers tenant house. Saturday guests at teh home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Chambers were N. Pacey and family, Mrs. I. J. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Brogan, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Blair.

Sunday afternoon guests at the Fish home were Mrs. Evelyn Stray the Misses Ella and Jennie Campbell and Wm. Campbell, all of Ann Aror, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Slambrook and Janet, of East Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Aho and Junior of Detroit and Mrs. B. G. Isham of Pinckney.

NEW RULING BY HEALTH DEPARTMENT BACKS TEACHERS

Teachers who send home boys or girls appearing with watery eyes, inflamed throats, fever or rash now have the authority of the Michigan Department of Health for their action in protecting the health of their pupils.

Symptoms such as these may mean anything from measles to smallpox, and are sufficient reason for exclusion by the teacher under a new ruling of the State Council of Health.

"Good teachers have always been alert to the early symptoms of communicable disease and have promptly excluded pupils showing such symptoms," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "Now for the first time teachers are given the backing of an official regulation of the Michigan Department of Health. Home and school cooperation in excluding boys and girls with suspicious symptoms of communicable diseases may be the means of preventing epidemics.

"The new ruling of the State Council on Health puts our Health Department regulations in line with the best school health practice of today. The Department of Public Instruction is in hearty agreement with this policy of teacher responsibility. There are times when boys and girls ought not to be in school, both for their own good and for the protection of their classmates. We have outgrown the idea that a perfect attendance record should be achieved even at a risk to health."

Fantastic follies of the 400-pound Maharajah, India's really colossal prince, who gobbled three meals at a sitting, five when really hungry, then wrestled with his subjects to aid digestion, but finally "dug his grave with his teeth". ### BASKET BALL

The Senior class team, high school champions were challenged by the Sanitary Engineers and the game was played last Thursday night. Chief Engineer Bill Jeffreys was rather short on engineers so he used some of the faculty members. Somehow they couldn't get going and the Senior won 39 to 14. The engineers were great on location but couldn't get the ball in the basket. Bill retired at the end of the first half, being replaced by his chief assistant, Bery Lewis who at once proceeded to get hot and score a basket. The rest of the engineers team was made up of Bob Singer and Messrs Hulce Burg and Reader of the faculty. Also Gus Ledwidge.

A NEW DAY DAWNS for the farmer

Life on the farm isn't what it used to be. It's a pleasanter, happier life for young and old, thanks to electric power.

The farmer is coming into his own: He has put electricity to work and is using it just as the manufacturer uses power in factory and shop—to increase his productiveness and his profits.

But what about your farm? Are you using electricity to the best advantage? Or are you still doing some tasks the hard way, the profitless way? If you do any job by hand that can be done with electric power, you are working for wages of about one cent an hour.

There may be many ways in which electricity can help you increase the earning power of your farm. Talk over your electrical problems with the Edison Farm Service Advisor. He will give you practical advice and information. He has nothing to sell. His job is to help you.

St. Mary's Church

Please read your Catholic calendar and notice that each Wednesday and Friday are fast and abstinence days during Lent, and each day of Lent is a fast day. Lent is a Solemn Season, most devoted to the time of sacrifice. What may I do in the nature of sacrifice? Do penance or you shall all likewise perish. These words should be in quotation marks since they are the words of Jesus Christ, Our Lord and Savior. Our best friend is the one who tells us our mistakes and defects. We do not need a valet for our humility, but only for our pride. Penance is a means to discover just what we really are, and not imagine we are some one we are not. Jesus emptied Himself that you may have the means of being replete with His Divine Goodness, Sanctifying Grace. You admit that a thing worth having is a thing worth asking for, working for, obtaining. Merit calls for sacrifice. We all need the time of Lent, and its special devotions to concern ourselves about our Eternal Soul Salvation. If I call God my Judge, why live so as to fear Him? Why not live so as to love Him and merit eternal happiness. As I go into the church on Passion Sunday I notice that the church is draped in Purple, the symbol of Penance. The face of each image is veiled in the color of purple, to remind me of the hidden life of Christ and the solemn part of these two remaining weeks of Lent. Our life is moved by symbols. The American flag is a symbol. It represents our devotions or patriotism. Our reverence or dis-reverence credits or discredits our patriotism. Our loyalty or dis-loyalty to God credits or discredits our faith.

The Rev. Father Mark Hoskins, well known missionary of the Congregation of Our Lord's Sacred Passion, with headquarters in Detroit and Chicago will open a mission here on Palm Sunday, April 6. Kindly arrange so as to attend the entire mission each a. m. and p. m. from April 6 to 15. Mtn travel far to contact meetings and lectures on machinery corporal and material things God has made me to His own image and likeness. Why not try to study the pattern after which we are made? All those who make the effort to attend the mission will be well repaid for their devotion and attention.

Where there is a church with open door,
An angel stands, unseen by men, before
And beckons with his hand and says
O Come
Go in and pray: this is our Christ-Child's home.
O listen, little child, and follow straight
And do not let thy God neglected wait:
Go in and pray, then blessings as of old
Will light on thee, the shephard, and thy fold.

The death of the Rev. David Cunningham, late pastor of St. Edward church, Mendon, Mich., occurred on Monday. The funeral will take place from St. Augustine church, Kalamazoo, Wednesday March 26 at 10:00 a. m.

The Rev. father was about 60 years of age and his death was sudden. Only recently he enlisted in service. Burial will take place in Kalamazoo. There are no immediate relatives surviving. May his soul rest in eternal peace.

Altar boys sodality meeting each Saturday at 9 a. m. Children's choir class meeting and practice each Saturday at 10:00 a. m.

All parishioners are urged not to forget their Easter duties. Confessions Friday, Saturday p. m., Sunday and each week day before Holy Mass schedule. Friday, April 4, is the First Friday devotions.

Do not forget the Perpetual Nones devotions each Friday 12:15 (Noon), and 7:20 p. m. Make out write out your petitions, if you have not done so to date. Pray for the success of the mission to open Sunday, April 6, or Palm Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to the Eastern Star Chapter for the beautiful plant sent me during my illness; to the Past Matrons Club for the lovely basket of fruit, cards, and letters which I enjoyed very much; and to the King's Daughters and all friends who remembered me with cards.

CONSERVATION NOTES

Selective service and improved industrial conditions are making the personnel of this department short-handed. The men who have left will all have to be replaced before the forest fire forces take the field on April 1. The replacements will be chosen from the civil service registers chosen by competitive examination.

Construction of a $1,000 drive and parking area is now underway on the Lake Chemung public fishing site near Howell. This site was purchased with fishing license money. The job includes the sinking of a well, sanitary facilities and posting the place with signs.

The northern pike in the Soney water fowl refuge will be live-trapped and transported to other waters. The fish were devouring young ducklings.

Of the 239 game law convictions in February, 173 were for illegal fishing: $1776 in fines, $1550 in costs and 220 days in jail were the total sentences given out.

Only 6 counties in the state allow black bears to be killed any time of the year. Some of these counties have very few bears.

With sugar bushes active after the cold spell Michigan farmers may yet equal their 1940 production of 110,000 gallons of maple syrup and 35,000 pounds of maple sugar.

Nine miles of trout streams, two lakes and 5,600 acres are added to the lands now available for anglers and hunters in Michigan this year.

Conservation department officers have killed eight dogs in Oceola county recently found running deer.

A cedar tree, 11 feet in circumference and 70 feet high has been found in the Bull Run swamp, in the Higgins Lake State Forest. It is one of the largest trees ever found in Michigan.

Philathea Notes

The March hostesses for our class business and social meeting on last Wednesday afternoon were Mrs. Villa Richards and Miss Blanche Martin. With Mrs. Lora Swarthout presiding, the meeting was opened by singing, followed by the devotionals in charge of Clella Fish, in the absence of our chaplain. Roll call, secretary's report and communications were followed by discussion of old and new business, including plans for quilt making and Red Cross work. The president reappointed the members of the plate committee, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Elliott. The calling committee for next month are Mrs. Coyle and Mrs. Vail, and for program, Clella Fish.

This being the birthday of our Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Swarthout led us in the birthday greeting. Mrs. Mae Daller then presented to Mrs. R. K. Elliott, a gift from the class as a token of their recognition of her service during the years as president and teacher. Mrs. Elliott responded. We plan to accept her invitation to meet in the Elliott home in April.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

As the Lenten season is rapidly passing, we are calling attention to the fact that this is a grand and glorious opportunity for each member of our parish to pray more and worship the Lord in the beauty of Holiness. We are living in a world of war, suffering and destruction, and we ask the question why all this in our high state of civilization and culture. The answer is very simple and one which all history substantiates, nations and people have forgotten God. Don't blame anyone but yourself for this terrible world calamity of the present hour, if you are not praying and serving God and the church and doing your part morally, spiritually and financially to bring the Kingdom of God.

Lenten Devotions Wednesday evening at 7:30. Religious instruction in the catechism of Christian Faith and Doctrine for the Juniors at 3:00 p. m. Saturday afternoon, and 7 p. m. Sunday for the Seniors. The Pastor is in charge of all services. You are invited to attend and worship with us in this Holy Lenten Season. Take time to pray for it is too late, "For the night cometh when no man can work."

We are asking for a special self-denial offering for Easter Sunday morning. Let us deny ourselves during Lent some things that we may bring into the house of the Lord that which belongs to His Holy church.

NEIGHBORING NOTES

The Brighton Rotary Club will give cash awards this year to the two outstanding members of the senior high school class. The first award is $25 and the second $15.

The Brighton State Bank made their final payment of segregated assets Tuesday, which brings the total payments up to 96.69 cents on a dollar.

The Brighton Band Booster Association has purchased new instruments for the high school band. The band has again been invited to play at the Holland Tulip festival this year.

St. Joseph's parish of Howell has purchased the Seth Rubert property on East Grand River in Howell for a Sister's home.

The Howell U. of M. Alumni club has nominated Marilyn Miller and Martha Lowe of Howell high school senior class for scholarships at the University of Michigan.

Roy Bruckner has purchased the Hennes Tavern at Dexter. Vernard VanLewen has resigned his position as coach of the Dexter high school athletic teams after several years and moved to Walled Lake where he has a store.

SPRING MUSIC PROGRAM

The public is cordially invited to attend the rural School Music Spring Programs which will be presented in the following order:

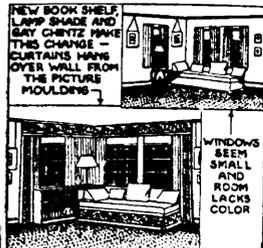

Howell Area—Howell High School Auditorium—3:00 April 2
Fowlerville Area—Fowlerville High School Auditorium—2:00 April 3
Pinckney Area—Pinckney High School Auditorium—3:00 April 4

Singing and games will be featured, and there will be an exhibit of projects in each of the three centers. Miss Elsie Thrasher, cooperating with Miss Gladys McCallum, Commissioner of Schools, directs the program. Mrs. Inez Musson is the pianist.

A group of performers from the Michigan State College Music Department will appear upon the program. This will be an instrumental ensemble. Mr. Roy Uedwood, head of the Music Department, will be in charge of this group.

NEW IDEAS
For Home-makers
By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

HOUSES of glass are realities today and, if you want to give any house a modern air, try to make the windows seem important. One way is to frame them in a group by covering the wall and leaving the glass exposed. A comparison of these two sketches shows that this may be done even though the windows are unevenly spaced. The cream colored walls, glass curtains and window shades are the same in both and the same two-toned green rug and the same lamp and pictures are used. The couch and cushions are also the same but the covers are new.

An inexpensive chintz with gray-green ground and a flower pattern is used for draperies and to trim the couch cover of heavier gray-green cotton material which is also used for the cushions. The glass curtains are hung on rods suspended from the picture moulding with picture wire and hooks. The side drapes are unlined but the valance is made over buckram. Both are tacked to pine strips and are hung with picture hooks.

NOTE: All types of curtains and draperies are clearly explained with cutting and making directions in Mrs. Spears' SEWING Book 1—draw curtains, lined draperies, pinch pleated curtains, cornice boards, valance boards, as well as standard and period type curtains. Directions for modernizing a couch, various types of chairs, and a fascinating assortment of other useful homemaking projects are contained in Book 3. Copies are 10 cents each. Send order to:

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.
● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, fitted with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. This advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

This Year's Easter Fashions To Be Dainty, Very Feminine

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALL signs point to a lovely and colorful array of sweetly feminine fashions for Easter. This is definitely a year when emphasis is on "pretty lady" trends. There is big news, in color, especially in the pastels for suits, coats and ensembles. The whole fashion world is expressing enthusiasm for the new monotone wools in light beiges, misted greens, the very new violet and mauve tones, muted pinks and pale grayish blues. Seen in fashion-first Easter costumes, they are ideal, especially for the long-coat costumes as shown in the illustration.

Fresh flowers add chic to these attractive Easter outfits. Beaux please take notice! The lady of your heart will be queen of the Easter parade if you send a corsage of fresh white freesias to match the bouquet on her hat (note the model in the center of the picture). If she is sophisticated, any beau may win her heart with a modernistic corsage of fresh gardenias. If you're away she will appreciate your wiring her local florist to include an extra gardenia or two to tie on her wrist bracelet fashion as illustrated to the right. The newest idea of American designers is that fragrant flowers should match the motif of gay print dresses with which they are worn. This Easter, romantic arrangements of roses, violets and lilies-of-the-valley will vie with orchids, gardenias, flaming hibiscus and camellias. Silvered and gilded leaves are a new and distinctive Easter fashion with appeal to those seeking the out-of-the-ordinary. Speaking of flowers, milliners everywhere declare that myriads of flattering little flower hats are selling in unprecedented numbers. The significant message about these adorable little flowery confections is that you may wear them as correctly with your prim little tailor suit as you can with your dressiest dress-up costumes. (Quite a departure from the old idea which expected a tailored hat with a tailored suit!)

The thought that is prevalent throughout this season's style program is that one should wear alluringly feminine and flattering accessories. This applies not only to flowery hats and colorful whimsical veils but also to "hankies," which are of the pretty-pretty type. It is just such flower-bedecked hats as the one shown above (to the left in the illustration) that are lending "endearing young charms" to the Easter fashion picture this spring. Note the dainty handkerchief, designed by Burmel, which so artfully plays up a dainty white-point garland encircling an embroidered full blown rose. You can get these "hankies" with violets or daisies or whatever flower you may choose. The other flower chapeau is typically an Easter bonnet. It is a shiny straw in bon bon pink, trimmed with cherry blossoms, full-blown roses and wide green ribbons. The veil matches the straw. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Fruit Buttons

Look to fashions for a new yield of vitamins. Fruit has become an outstanding inspiration for design in the apparel field. Many of the smartest new prints are patterned with colorful fruit motifs: hats are trimmed with realistic looking fruit; lapel gadgets are replicas of fruit, and buttons that fasten our dresses and blouses, coats and jackets, are copies of fruits. The beige wool sport jacket here pictured is "vitaminized" with fruit buttons, new this spring! A miniature dish of polished wood gives the button form. There's good news for tired clothes at your nearest button counter! These novelty buttons are durable, as well as attractive. Vieing for honors with the fruits are vegetable—carrots, onions, lettuce, etc.

Fads and Fancies

Young moderns are all enthusiastic over fringed play shoes that take their cue from Western cowboy fashions. The inverted pompadour is a "last word" hair-do that is exciting much interest. The hair is brought down over the forehead, the ends turned under, which, when deftly done, gives every appearance of bangs. Not only is this ever so flattering, but it is very practical, for it stays neatly "put," with minimum care. Something new for the bridal gown—white Nylon velvet, said to be very charming to the eye, and highly satisfactory in that it drapes beautifully and yields pleasingly to fabric manipulation. Very new for spring are navy coats or capes that have small shapely collars of white caracul, broadtail or similar fabriclike fur. Other models in navy have simply a cluster of white ermine tails at the throat. White hat and accessories worn with these coats and capes key to the white of the fur. To wear with your spring and summer print dresses, look up bead or flower necklaces, bracelets and clips that pick up one or more colors of the print.

1941 Jeweled Gadgets Romantic, Whimsical
You must wear a jeweled "gadget" of some sort on your lapel. It may be as romantic and sentimental as your mood dictates, or it may be humorous and delightfully whimsical. In every event, however, it will be a masterpiece of good workmanship, for even the novelty types are exquisitely wrought. One of the amusing sort that is extremely provocative is a huge question mark all set in brilliant, with a dazzling solitaire rhinestone suspended from the base. You might wear a glittering gold fish, a spray of colorful flowers worked out in elaborately set stones, or a bright patriotic emblem.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

ONE little, two little, three little fashions—all in one easy pattern (No. 1313-B) that even inexperienced-at-sewing mothers can make with more fun than effort. This design includes a sleeveless pinafore, a brief trifle of bolero and a sunbonnet, all as cute as a baby in a bathtub! In the flaring pinafore alone, your tot can be as carefree and hoydenish as she could wish, playing on the sands or the greensward or her own backyard. When she adds the bolero, she's as demurely dressed for a visit to grandma as you could wish. The eye-protecting bonnet, of course, goes beautifully with either or both. Thus, by repeating this one pattern time and again, you can outfit your small daughter for spring and summer fun.

This little outfit looks adorable in red-checked gingham, flowered percale, plain or striped seersucker and buttercup yellow chambray, outlined with bright ricrac braid to match or contrast.

Pattern No. 1313-B is designed for sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material without nap and 8 yards of ricrac. Send order to:

Had Hen but Been Long on Legs and Short on Neck!

The landlady glanced round the table at her twelve hungry boarders before starting to carve the rather sad-looking chicken. In rapid succession she asked each which part of the fowl he preferred. Ten of them decided on legs. The carver dropped her knife with a clatter on the dish. "What do you imagine this is?" she said, sarcastically, pointing to the chicken. "A centipede, or what?" "Oh, no," replied the boarder who had been served. "Judging by the piece of neck I've got, I should imagine it was a giraffe."

low-cost fuels successfully and efficiently. Having fewer and more rugged parts, the Model "D" gives you longer life, simpler adjustments, lower maintenance, lower operating costs—the money you save on low-cost fuel alone during its long life will usually cover the first cost. You'll be money ahead with a Model "D" to handle your tough jobs—it's the most simple and economical tractor of its power size you can own. Easy steering, convenient controls, roomy platform, clear vision, three forward speeds, hand-operated clutch that enables one man to hook up a plow or other drawn implement; a deep, comfortable, spring-mounted seat—these are some of the features you get in a Model "D", features that make it the greatest dollar for dollar tractor value. Step in and let us show you why the Model "D" is THE economical, big-capacity tractor—why it can burn low cost fuels successfully—why it has such amazing power in the field, on the belt, at so little cost.

MICHIGAN STATE MIRROR NEWS

Van Wagoner
One of Governor Van Wagoner's first acts in January was to recommend to the state welfare commission that 10,000 persons be added to the old age assistance rolls by July 1, 1941.

A decision was made whereby 2,000 persons could be added monthly.

The March 18 case load in Michigan was 81,340.

Although the maximum payment is $30, most of the recipients get for less than that. The average is about $18—not $30, not even $40.

Although more than 81,000 persons are receiving pensions, the welfare board in January had 30,000 applications which it could not fill.

The total expenditure of state funds is about eight and a half million dollars per year. The United States matches this money on a 50-50 basis.

Complications
And so when the House the Representative considered the $40 monthly pension plan, complications were numerous.

First, the increase would virtually double the state's annual expenditure. Instead of $8,500,000, the state's cost would "run close to $17,000,000.

Second, this increase would mean a denial by the legislature of state aid sought by other groups. For example, the school lobby seeks a $5,000,000 increase in state aid to schools. A survey made by Dr. George E. Carrothers of the University of Michigan recently revealed that Michigan's high schools are badly overcrowded; teachers are poorly paid.

Third, there is that annoying 27,000,000 deficit on the state books whereby the state has borrowed from certain funds to pay current needs.

But, politically speaking, old age pensions are old age pensions, and they all spell one word: Votes. Consequently, many a legislator nervously saw his shadow when he voted against Dykstra's $40 pension plan. Although the vote was non-partisan, here was a Republican-sponsored cause that would outdo Governor Van Wagoner's 10,000 increase-by-July 1 program for pensions. Even this lure failed to attract a majority.

Economic Security
When the Social Security Act was created, an insurance system was established so that wage-earners during their years of financial productivity could build up protection for the future.

But this insurance plan could not afford immediate protection for old people. Some other plan had to be provided.

Thus old age assistance was authorized, and today approximately one-fourth of the population 65 years of age or over are receiving some kind of monthly pension. Of this group a substantial portion comprise persons not previously recognized as public dependents.

Thousands of aged persons, who previously had to rely on irregular and inadequate support, either through their own efforts or by sharing the income of children, relatives or friends, have been able to maintain their own homes and otherwise to live their own lives.

Social workers believe generally that old age assistance should provide for persons in need and do so without forcing their relatives to deprive their children, for example, of opportunity for education, or otherwise have to maintain a sub-standard level of life. This is especially true in families of small income.

Appropriations
Fedele F. Fauri, state social security director, this month said: "If the legislature grants our request for a $9,500,000 appropriation for old age assistance during the next fiscal year and $10,500,000 for the following fiscal year, we will be able to take on eligibles as soon they apply."

At the present the waiting list is nearly one year behind authorization of payments. April's new recipients will be those who applied in March, April and May of 1940— one year ago.

Considering that the average payment is $18 per month and that the House of Representatives came within nine votes of authorizing up to $40 monthly payments, one might logically forecast that such an appropriation may be made by the present legislature.

It is by concessions of this kind that special groups win by losing.

Over Sixty-Eight Years of Safe Banking

1941 FRONTIERS

Many recent films have carried us back to the robust days of the nineteenth century. The days following the Civil War when soldiers were paid in land grants in the West. The days when new found resources in land, minerals, and oil were in their infancy.

Pictures like Union Pacific, Arizona, Western Union, Dodge City and many others recapture the hazardous existence of the time and project us into the middle of it.

The Wild West Frontier is gone, but each of us faces a frontier of our own. Our ability to beat the other fellow on the draw, to establish our right to the respect of our fellow citizens, to create an estate by a perseverance no less indomitable than the heroes of yesteryear, can still be tested.

Our Bank is ready to prove that today's frontiers can be met. A Savings Account regularly added to will help to make its owner (in Western parlance) "top dog of the outfit". A bank Account enables a man to feel that independence that is his rightful American heritage.
