

Letters from the Soldier Boys

Two interesting letters from two local boys written from Army Camps are published in this issue.

Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri
Dear Mother:

I am on guard again so I will write you again. The last three times I have had guard duty has been on Sunday and I am getting tired of it. But it's not so bad. I always get caught up on my sleep and letter writing. I only have to be on duty three more hours out of the next 12.

We got eight more draftees in yesterday. They are all from Michigan and seem like a pretty good bunch of fellows. We get the most of them from Fort Custer or Fort Sill.

What you read in the papers about the guard (National Guard) leaving in September is true but those that leave then will have their year up. They came last September. We won't get out until April. The officer of the day and the officer of the guard came around last night about 12:00 p. m. I challenged them and wouldn't let them by until I found out who they were. They said I was a good soldier and took my name and will probably give it to the colonel.

I had to get up Saturday morning at 3:00 a. m. and take the captain to inspect the M. P. I drove him around part of the day and then had to drive some of the sergeants into Wainville in the evening and then went on guard duty Sunday.

I didn't have much time off for the week end. I am getting to like it better every day and the fellows seem to like me better. I was in hopes they would send the trucks after the men at Fort Custer because I would have been a driver but they are coming by train. You can't address my letter, Private Thos. Young, First Class, as I am now a first class soldier.

Tell Bob that Pat Stahl is now a sergeant. He's one of my best friends. He and I and two other fellows have formed a quartette and sing for the rest. We are really getting good.

Well I had better close. I have to write to Peg as I have received two letters from her that I have not answered yet. I just don't have time. Tell the others hello and I will write them soon.

Thomas E. Young

Camp Livingston, La.,
June 15, 1941

Dear Folks:

Well here it is Sunday again down here in Louisiana. We are back from maneuvers and I am feeling fine. It is raining very hard. Seems like it always does on Sunday. Went to church Sunday and learned it was Dad's day. We lose track of time and everything down here. Greetings to Dad anyway. Our schedule for the next two months is supposed to be nearly all maneuvers but I doubt if we get them all. We were out last week and 20 per cent of our company is in the hospital and there isn't any room for any more.

We are supposed to start out again tomorrow but I am sure we will not go. Most all the boys that are in the hospital are in for jigger bug bites in which they get infection. These bugs are the same as our sand fleas but a lot more numerous.

We started out in a last maneuver Sunday, June 8, in trucks. We went about 60 miles and pitched our Laid around until Monday night. Then they got us up and we marched until morning. Then we took shelter in a woods and as soon as it was daylight we contacted the enemy. Both sides had blank cartridges and it sounded like the Fourth of July. I think the Red army won that battle. Never heard for sure. We came back on Tuesday night and got about 10 per cent of our company in the hospital. Went back on Thursday and contacted the enemy again. We cleaned them up this time and took a lot of prisoners but had to go through a lot of marshes and rivers to do it. We came to a river just as the cavalry got there and they were supposed to have blown up the bridge ahead of us. The cavalry had swept horses and uniforms but their captain made them jump their horses into the river, hang onto the saddle horns and swim across. There were

Second Accident Victim Dies

Miss Jennie McGuiness, 70, of Dexter Township Died Saturday From Auto Accident Injuries

Miss Jennie McGuiness, 70, who was badly hurt in an auto accident on June 15, at the intersection of the Dexter-Pinckney and Fleming roads at which time her brother, Edward was killed, died in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor Saturday from her injuries. Miss McGuiness and her brother were on their way home attending mass at St. Joseph's church in Dexter when they were struck by a car driven by Miss Suscine DeMarco of Ann Arbor as they were turning off onto Fleming road. Edward was instantly killed and Miss McGuiness had a fractured ankle and knee and other injuries.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Joseph and Elizabeth Wheeler McGuiness of Dexter township and spent her lifetime there. She is survived by a brother, Christopher, at home and a sister, Mrs. Alice Herbert of Detroit.

The funeral was held from St. Joseph's church in Dexter Tuesday morning, Rev. Charles Walsh officiating. Burial in St. Joseph's cemetery, Dexter.

AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT

The school authorities around Rochester have had much to contend with from a colony of Jehovah's Witnesses who settled there. Last year they refused to salute the flag and were denied educational facilities for a time until the state board of education stepped in and persuaded the school authorities to forgo the salute and accept an oath of allegiance. Now, one family claims to have discovered a passage in the Bible against this oath and forbid their children to take it. The school took the matter into probate court and a probate judge ruled the children delinquent and placed them in a juvenile detention home. The parents have started legal action and the end is not yet in sight.

ANOTHER FRESH AIR CAMP

The Walsh farm and several hundred acres of land south side of Big Silver Lake has been leased by some 60 families who live in the Brightmore subdivision near Redford and a fresh air camp will be established there similar to the ones in that section. The difference will be that adults will be provided for as well as children. Wells are being put down and other improvements made and we understand that a number of buildings will be erected.

IS REAPPOINTED

Rev. J. M. McLucas, pastor of the Community Cong'l church for the past three years, has received a special appointment to this church for another year at the Methodist Annual Conference of the Detroit Area which convened in the Boulevard Temple Methodist church last week. Rev. and Mrs. McLucas and Norma Jean returned home from the conference Monday afternoon.

ANOTHER LARSON SUSPECT

State police brought another Larson suspect down from Lansing last Thursday and had him viewed by some of the neighbors of the Davises in Tyrone, but none were able to identify him and all but one were positive that he was not Ray Larson the murderer sought since 1937. The man gave his name as Armet McCoy. He was born in Kentucky and committed to an asylum at Ashland there from where he escaped. He was arrested in Lansing when he tried to throw himself under a truck. At the Mason jail he again attempted suicide by slashing his wrist with a piece of glass. Later he claimed to be Larson and confessed to the triple Tyrone slaying. After the failure of the Davis neighbors to identify him, he was returned to Mason by the state police where he will serve a term for vagrancy or else be committed to an asylum.

Kentucky authorities doubt that he was ever in Michigan before and say he suffers from delusions. When taken to the Tyrone farm he identified the grain bin where some of the victims were found but was unable to pick out the room where Davis was killed.

Revised List of July Draftees

A Revised List of Those to be Called For Army Service on July 7 Are Given. New Registration for 21 Year Olds at Howell July 1

Due to two deferrment and one enlistment, there has been some change in the list of those who are to be inducted into the army from this county on July 7 next. Walter Hybka and Ralph Perkins were granted deferrment and Karl Kreuger enlisted in the marines. Consequently, the list is several men short but these will be added this week when the report of the men examined the past two weeks is received. The revised list is as follows:

William Garwood, Brighton; Richard Howlett, Gregory; Clarence Barber, Gregory; Grant Ward, Marion; Gerald Sherwood, Fowlerville; William Osborne, Howell; Visel Watkins, Howell; Marvin Kolar, Howell; Alvin D'Angelo, Howell; Wilton Schrepfer, Howell; Marvin Beals, Pinckney; Don Hazelton, Howell; Hazen Palmatier, Fowlerville; Clarence McGowan, Howell; Arthur Kramm, Lakeland; William Dillon, Howell; William Lamb, Pinckney.

The quota for July is 19, and, as usual, several extra men will be sent as replacements.

DRAFTEES MUST REGISTER AT HOWELL JULY 1

All men or boys in Livingston county who have reached the age of 21 years since last October are required to register for the selective service draft at the Livingston county draft headquarters at 110 N. Michigan Avenue in Howell between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m.

Despite a Large Crop Prospect This Year, Higher Food Prices Seem To Be in Store for the Future

Unless present signs are wrong, Michigan consumers will pay higher food prices next fall and winter. Here are the reasons:

1. Our undeclared war, inducting thousands of young men into military service, has created a temporary labor shortage on Michigan farms.

2. Lacking even unskilled help to plant and to harvest crops, many Michigan growers are reducing their acreages.

3. Inflationary tendencies have already appeared, bringing a spurt in consumer purchases. Government purchases of canned tomatoes, for example, have depleted holdover stocks. One wholesaler grocer reports that he has been trying in vain for 45 days to get a tomato juice shipment from a well-known Indiana packer.

"A large grocer recently came to my office and laid down a roll of 30 bills, each $100 in denomination," he related before the Michigan Food Council last week. "I couldn't promise delivery on his order. I couldn't even guarantee prices. It's the screwiest market I've ever seen."

The above reasons are not limited to Michigan. They appear to be fairly general.

Beet Sugar
Leo V. Card, state commissioner of agriculture, gave an inkling of how the farm labor shortage is going to affect certain commodities when he said:

"I'm looking for a beet sugar acreage reduction in Michigan of perhaps one-third under last year's, due solely to the inability of many growers to get labor. Production restrictions for beet sugar were revised recently in order to insure a larger harvest. But you can't grow more food until you get the labor. Michigan just doesn't have it."

Another clue to the threat of rising food prices is a consumer appreciation that the government will institute priorities even in food.

When the housewife goes to market, she buys six cans of food instead of three; a dozen instead of a half dozen; a case instead of a dozen.

After the British declared war on Germany in September of 1939, Michigan housewives started a "run" on sugar, despite the fact that warehouses were bulging with it. Prices started climbing unnecessarily in response to the voracious buying spree.

Fear of higher prices, rather than an actual scarcity of goods, has tended to stimulate existing inflationary tendencies of today's market. According to Business Week, this unusual buying upsurge may provoke a dip in business in the fall. Hoarding of inventories can't go on indefinitely.

THE DETROIT METHODIST CONFERENCE

The Detroit conference held to select pastors for the Methodist churches of Eastern and Northern Michigan last week, usually a very staid affair developed considerable fireworks over the war. After two hours of heated debates Saturday the conference adopted a resolution asking President Roosevelt "to refrain from further provocative measures and to do his utmost to keep his publicized promise to keep us out of war." It also denied the government the use of church buildings for any wartime activities such as the sale of defense bonds and stamps etc. They also expressed their sympathy for the two members of the conference who are serving prison terms for failure to register for the October draft. There was no clear out vote taken on the resolution. The only vote taken was on the proposal to delete the reference to provocative measures which Rev. S. A. Carey of the Alpena church termed a slander to the president. This proposal lost 120 to 94.

CURRENT COMMENT

For a considerable time we have harped on the subject that all this ranting and condemning of Communism does little good and that the thing to do eliminate the conditions on which Communism thrives. In his column in the Detroit Free Press, last week Malcolm Bingay came out for the same principle in commenting of a luncheon given by Mrs. Vanderbilt in New York for the benefit of the U.S.O. at which $10 a piece was paid for tickets. The guests there wore $300,000,000 worth of jewelry, one piece of which would have paid the entire U.S.O. cost said Bingay. He further added:

"Lenin and Stalin did not bring in the Russian revolution. The czars did that. The French revolution was not brought on by the rabble of Paris. The Bourbons did that. Revolutions do not come from the bottom they come from the top when by luxury, stupidity, selfishness and decay the established order collapses and the 'undercrust' moves up."

The Grand Army of the Republic held its annual reunion at Lansing last week but only 9 of Michigan's living veterans were able to attend. This is not much like the old days when thousands of boys in blue attended these reunions and marched. May 30, Memorial Day was their day and they predominated from daylight to dark. Since other organizations have taken over this day it has lost much of the significance with which it was once endowed.

There is one thing that the modern army camps of the country can point to with pride and that is their health record. So far there has been no epidemic in a camp, which speaks most highly of the health officials in charge of the camps. In the civil war, scurvy, typhoid and other diseases killed as many men as the bullets and in the Spanish war yellow fever took a heavy toll of the boys; in some places they died like flies. Sanitation rules and proper diet seems to have changed all this. In regard to the rejection of men in the defense program, the great majority have been for bad teeth and faulty vision, both of which are preventable. This would seem to show as a whole that the people are not fully alert to preventive treatment.

247 persons lost their lives by drowning in Michigan last year and already a number a fatalities have been announced for this year. Most of these deaths are due to carelessness and ignorance of the hazards of swimming by persons who cannot swim. In many instances children going to summer resorts are not properly supervised by their parents or those who escorted them there. Some years ago there was considerable agitation in this county to buy a pulmotor for use in drowning cases. The agitation died out when it was authoritatively stated that only an expert can operate one. Still when ever there is a drowning here one is usually borrowed from Washtenaw county, which has two; one belonging to the fire department and the other to the university. The county powers evidently believe it is better to borrow than to own one.

State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy spoke before the Lion's Club at Howell last Wednesday and made a pleasing impression. He talked on U.S.-16 improvement and new ways of road building and also touched on the Huron-Clinton Parkway project. The greater part of his talk, however, dwelt on military defense roads and highways. After the world war, he stated, Gen. John J. Pershing threw up a system of military roads which, in the main, are being followed. The defense industry in Michigan in mainly centralized in Wayne, Macomb and in Washtenaw county where Henry Ford is building a large factory near Wayne. Here an elaborate system of highways is being laid out which is well worth anyone's time to see. Most of these factories were laid out in undeveloped country and new highways were imperative in order to speed the defense program. Mr. Kennedy was secured by Frank Shields, who had charge of the program for the meeting. The editor had an interesting talk with Mr. Kennedy following the program and he asked to be remembered to Mrs. C. H. Kennedy and Steve O'Brien of this place, who are relatives of his.

Household Hints

Apricots stuffed with mint and currant jelly make dainty garnishes for baked ham, roast lamb, meat loaf, chicken or mushroom souffles and veal cutlets.

To keep your house cool in sizzling summer heat, use a white or light-colored paint on the side walls.

Colored gum drops—either round or flat—may be cut into petal shapes and used as cake and dessert trimmings. They are especially effective on birthday cakes.

If cream has been overwhipped pour a little cold sweet milk into it and stir slightly. The cream will then be of the right consistency.

A coat of clear varnish applied to the oilcloth in your kitchen will make it last longer and you will find it will clean more easily.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Nation's Nutrition Problem Is Subject of Wide Study

Experts Seek Methods of Restoring 'Pep' to America's Diet; Chaplain Has Vital Role in United States Army.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Starring in the midst of plenty! That is what is wrong with a much larger segment of the American people than we ever guessed. And a lot of the hungry have plenty of money in the bank and a lot of others have plenty of potential food in their garden plots. Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it?

But it is true. And in a week or two you will probably see one of the 2,000,000 pamphlets which were printed by the government printing office in Washington and distributed by the office of the co-ordinator of health, welfare and related defense activities.

This pamphlet asks and answers 20 questions about "enriched bread." Because modern bread is not what it used to be when it was the strong "staff of life" that helped our healthier ancestors, a hundred years ago, battle their way over life's highroad.

Of course it's the vitamins we lack. What are we going to do for the thousands of Americans who are only "half alive," as the famous nutrition specialist, Dr. Russell M. Wilder of the Mayo clinic, puts it? We are going to try to make them "all alive"—and alive longer, too.

This month, organizations have been meeting all over the nation to talk about this problem that has come upon America since we began refining the "pep" out of our foods, our bread and our fats and our sugar. The American Medical association is taking a hand. So is the National Society of Home Economists with 17,000 teachers in it—just to mention two of the many groups which have joined Uncle Sam in this job of building better bodies, brighter minds and a more stalwart nation.

I sat today in the office of M. L. Wilson, head of the extension service of the department of agriculture. I hated to leave, so fascinating were his stories, true stories from the laboratory and the home and the canning factory, the garden and the field, the hospital and the kitchen. How the missing vitamins and minerals through the co-operation of food-processors will be restored chemically to products. How a great educational campaign will teach people how to choose from the foods they have; how to provide food elements for those without means; how the house-wife, the doctor, the dietician and the restaurant keeper will be shown ways to help nourish the nation's sinews.

"Only about one-fourth of the families of the United States with diets that could be rated good" were found in a recent survey by the department of agriculture.

And so a national nutrition conference was called which mapped the job conquering hunger, "the oldest enemy of man."

Why America Doesn't Want War

In the hours when Washington was awaiting the details of the sinking of the American ship Robin Moor, reportedly by an "unidentified submarine" there was, for these days, an indescribable calm in the capital. After the White House press conference I walked down the winding path under the elms which seemed to cast a shadow of peaceful security across the whole nation. I reviewed in my mind conversations of the week with certain earnest men in high places in the government. They had given me reasons to hope that the United States would not be drawn into Europe's frightful struggle.

When I reached my office I jot these reasons down. Here they are:

1. The people do not want war.
2. The United States is not prepared—the navy, yes; but not the army or the air corps.
3. If we went in there would be a demand for supplies at home which Britain needs.
4. If we took an aggressive step against the Axis powers, Japan would be bound to join Germany and Italy against us.
5. If Germany struck first, Japan would not have to go in, therefore, Germany would avoid "incidents."

These were the reasons, I believe, why Washington awaited the "details" of the sinking of the Robin Moor with such calm.

Chaplain Is Important In Army Life

"In all my years of service I have never known a boy who was led astray by anything in the army." There was a bouquet of red roses on the desk of the sandy-haired colonel who made that remark to me. It was his birthday but the 28 roses were for his 28 years as chaplain in the army. He was William Arnold, chief of chaplains of the United States army, whose job right now is being head-shepherd for flock of a million new lambs, the boys in the regular army, the navy, the marines and the new selectees.

Chaplain, I said, "if you could write a letter to the families of these boys who read the weekly newspapers, what would you say to them?"

The genial features above the clerical collar lit up with interest. "The one thing I'd like to tell them," he said, "is this: as far as religion goes—a boy is just as safe in the army as at home."

"From 5 a. m.," as Colonel Arnold put it, "until the stars come out."

And then a twinkle came into his eyes that I wish every mother's son might have seen.

"You know, they say the devil finds things for idle hands to do," he smiled. "Well the devil is out of luck in an army camp, hands and feet and head are pretty busy from reveille to taps."

"Even old soldiers," he went on, "when the day is over are ready to read a little and maybe sing a little, and then go to bed."

And at this point, if I may interject a personal word, I can come out for confirmation of that statement. I know. I was there.

But as far as the soldier's spiritual life goes things are different from when I was in the army and when Chaplain Arnold began his service.

Today there is religious service every day in an army camp. But let's get down to brass tacks, as the chief of chaplains and I did in our talk. I call it a talk. It was not an interview, just an ex-soldier talking to another in a room with the scent of red roses and a calendar open showing Jesus before the tomb with the stone rolled away.

Is the boy in trouble, is he heavy-laden, is he sick?

It's the chaplain to whom he goes or the chaplain who comes to him. Suppose the boy is just laid up with a cold. The chaplain is there, every day in the camp hospital or the sick-bay, to say, "Howzit, buddy?"

Suppose he is too sick to write home. Down sits the padre and takes the letter. Suppose he is real sick. The chaplain talks to the doctor, and then writes to the folks. Suppose it is critical. Then the chaplain, if he doesn't happen to be of the same faith as the boy, gets the lad's own pastor or rabbi if he has to send to the nearest town for him.

But suppose the boy is heavy laden with some of the troubles he does not like to write home about. Nine chances out of ten the chaplain has guessed it. If he has not he will listen and give advice out of his wide experience, out of the devotion and charity that are in his soul (or he would not have the job).

We talked of these things and others in the quiet office and then Chaplain Arnold leaned across the desk and said:

"Here's one thing I wish you'd tell these people you write for, tell them to write a letter about their boy and address it, 'Chaplain' and the same address they write to the boy. And if they know anybody—any relatives in the town nearby the camp, write to them and suggest that they invite the boy to come to see them over the week-end, and write to the priest, or minister or rabbi of their own denomination. He'll be glad to co-operate."

At that point he leaned back and smiled. "You know," he said, "Our chaplains in the army represent 27 denominations of the 261 in this country and they give a fine example of co-operation that the churches outside the army might well copy."

Cyclonic Windstorm Batters City; State Property, Shipping Ravaged

"Learn the facts about Michigan windstorms. Write, today, for your free copy of 'Gamblers Beware!' Address me personally, Home Office, Lapeer, Michigan."

Harry J. Anderson
SECRETARY

Want to know how destructive Michigan windstorms are? In a single day, on November 11, 1940, State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company policyholders sustained windstorm losses exceeding $600,000. State Mutual sells windstorm protection so reasonably that you can't afford to be without it: $1,000 worth of it, for 1 year, costs but $1.50. Act today. See your local State Mutual agent or write us direct for full information.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

This anecdote arrives from Trondheim district, Norway: A Nazi "missionary" arrived at a local public hall to deliver his routine address on the joys of living under Hitler and Quisling. As he entered the hall, two old fellows—Norwegian farmers—were standing just outside the doorway, debating whether to go in or not. In a moment the Nazi speaker reappeared, red-faced and furious. The hall was particularly empty.

"Donnerwettes! . . . It must be that Norwegian broadcast from London that everyone is listening to!" At this one, one of the old men pulled out an ancient silver watch, verified the time and exclaimed: "By Gad! He's right. Come on, Niles, we have just time to get home and hear the news!"

Alice E. Parker, by C. Bryan Kinney, Guardian for said Incompetent, Plaintiff, vs.

Warra Parker, Warren Parker, Sarah Parker, Sarah C. Parker, Mary W. Parker, Asa Bly Jr., The Unknown wife of Gilbert C. Redell and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, Defendants.

No. 3442

Order of Publication

At a session of said court held at the court house in the city of Howell in said County on the 29th day of April, A. D. 1941.

Present: Honorable Joseph H. Collins, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in said cause and the affidavit of C. Bryan Kinney attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and;

it further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside if living, and, if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry;

On motion of C. Bryan Kinney attorney for plaintiff, it is ordered that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns.

It is further ORDERED that within twenty days plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be published in the Pinckney Dispatch, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, such publication to be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.

Joseph H. Collins, Circuit Judge

Countersigned:

John A. Hagman, Clerk of Circuit Court.

HOW YOUNGSTER SAVED HIS FAMILY FROM BONDAGE

Louise Armstrong, sociologist, writing in The American Weekly with the June 29 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, will describe the incredible captivity of a widow and her four children on a share-croppers desolate island, and show the need of better laws, education and protection for the Southland's "forgotten people". Be sure to get the Detroit Sunday Times this week and every week.

The Misses Fannie Monks and Nellie Gardner attended the funeral of Miss Jennie McGuiness at Dexter Tuesday.

Fortune smiles at last on the world's unluckiest man. He's a citizen of Portugal and, after 300 accidents, is to be starred in a play based on his almost unbelievable series of mishaps. Read this unusual personality story in the American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Dr. Clare and Dr. Claude Markey of Pasadena, California, visited at the home of their cousin, Mrs. Bert Hicks on Sunday.

Mrs. Frances Hornshaw returned home Monday following a 4-day trip through northern Michigan with Mr. and Mrs. John Hornshaw of Detroit.

SOLDIER BOY LETTERS
 about 50 of them and were they a mess but we got a laugh from it. We go back here Saturday morning and another 10 per cent went to the hospital. The army never heard that the night was made to sleep in.

I belong to the first squad of the first platoon of our company. There are 10 of us and we have two tents to live in, 5 in each tent. One is on K. I., one is in the hospital, and one is A.W.O.L. He is back in Michigan by this time I suppose. So there is just Sargent and me in the first tent. In the other tent here is another A.W.O.L. and another in the hospital so our squad is mighty small just now. I am afraid our sergeant is going to get in trouble. He is a fine fellow too. Chuck Purdy of Howell is still suffering with his neck which was hurt in an auto accident some years ago and he is liable to be sent home. They have sent us a lot of boys who should have gone to hospitals.

I got the cookies you sent and also a letter from Russell Livermore and Joan. Think you are wrong about Cannonball Baker getting hurt last April in a truck smashup. Saw him and he never mentioned it to me. You have to watch your stuff in this army. Lost a towel, two pair of socks, and a handkerchief off the line last night. If you find out where Ralph Croupe is, let me know. Say hello to everybody for me including Joe. (his dog).

CONSERVATION NOTES
 The fishing season opened today and some thousands of Michiganders are expected to take to the lakes and streams. Bluegills and black bass are the most popular of the game fish. The size limit on bluegills, sunfish, perch, etc. is 6 inches and the limit is 25.

22 fires in the tenth week brought the seasons total to 523 but the acreage burned over has been held to 2,380.

Woodchucks, long held to be predators, may be a means to increase the rabbit supply as many woodchuck dens are used by rabbits. Of 100 woodchuck dens examined, over half were used by rabbits. The dens all have two entrances, giving rabbits a chance to escape from predators.

Assessed 50c for each undersized and for each trout in his possession over the limit an Otsego county angler paid $33 in justice court. He had 47 trout and 34 were under the legal size.

The department used dynamite to blast a boat slip 20 feet wide and 4 feet deep through 600 feet of bog and marsh at Crooked Lake near Brighton last week. The area blasted will be used as a fishing site.

98 coyotes, 29 bobcats and one wolf cost the state $1,630 in bounty money last May.

Anglers catching the most and the biggest small mouthed bass on a 10 mile boat trip down Paint river will be declared champions of the annual Crystal Falls Bass Festival, July 5-6.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS
 June 19, 1941

PHILATHEA NOTES
 The guest preacher on Sunday was Rev. Ryan, who has several times been welcomed by our people, and we enjoyed his message to us. He, with Rev. McLucas, has been attending the Methodist Conference in Detroit.

Owing to the special business meeting of the Congregational Church and other causes, the attendance at Sunday School was smaller than usual, and we are unable to report the Philathea session at this

1941 WHEAT LOAN PROGRAM

A 1941 wheat loan program based on the recently enacted 85 percent of parity loan law has been announced by the United States Department of Agriculture, according to Earl Grubb, chairman of the Livingston County Triple-A Committee.

He pointed out that wheat producers in the national referendum on marketing quotas held May 31 voted in favor of the quotas by a majority of 80.8 percent and under the law the 85 percent of parity loan is mandatory when quotas are approved. Loans for 1941 rye and barley also have been announced.

The wheat loan rate is based on the July 1 parity price for wheat, and the Department of Agriculture estimates that 85 percent of parity on that date will represent an average national loan rate to farmers of approximately 98 cents a bushel.

With farm land values averaging about 98 cents a bushel for the Nation, and 1941 wheat parity and conservation payments under the Triple-A Program amounting to 18 cents, the program cooperator will receive a total return approximately equal to the parity price.

In other words wheat farmers this year are going to reach their goal of parity for the first time since the farm depression hit American agriculture in the early 20's.

All growers who comply with their acreage allotments will be eligible for wheat loans. In addition, farmers who over-plant will be eligible for loans at 60 per cent of the regular rate on wheat produced on their excess acreage. The loans, which are callable on demand, will be made up to December 31 and will fall due April 30, 1942. Interest will be at 2 per cent.

Loan rates to farmers are based on terminal rates, taking into account the location, handling charges and quality of the wheat.

Loan values are as follows for these terminal markets:

No 2 Hard Winter
Kansas City	$1.10
Omaha	1.09 1/4
Gulf Ports	1.17
Chicago	1.15

No 2 Red Winter
Chicago	$1.15
St. Louis	1.15

No. 1 Soft White
Portland	$1.05

No. 1 Dark Northern Spring
Minneapolis	$1.15

Simultaneous with the wheat loan announcement the Department of Agriculture announced a loan for rye and barley produced in 1941. The rates on rye are 85 cents per bushel less than the rates applicable for No. 2 Hard Winter Wheat or 50 cents per bushel on No. 1, 44 cents for No. 2, 42 cents for No. 3 and 39 cents for No. 4 with a discount of 2 cents for mixed barley. No rye loans will be made except for farm storage and no storage allowance is permitted. Barley loans may be made under farm or elevator storage but loans on barley stored in approved elevators will be 7 cents per bushel less than the farm storage.

Four Howell students received degrees at the University of Michigan Saturday. They were Mariam Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram who received a B. A. in French; Mary Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baldwin, B. U. S. O. CAMPAIGN

Livingston county workers for the United Service Organization campaign in reports Monday night gave assurance that the drive for funds in excess of $3,200 will be raised by the time the project closed on July 4th. However, many persons are unsolicited and their support is still the determining factor in whether the county does all that has been asked of it in providing for the welfare of those serving in the first lines of the nation's defense program.

The U.S.O. program combines the activities of six well known agencies that are thoroughly familiar with the operation of service clubs in army camps. They are the Y.M.C.A., the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Y.W.C.A. and the National Travelers Aid Association.

The United States Government is paying the entire cost of erecting the necessary buildings and these will be operated wholly by the U.S.O. through such public and private subscriptions. The campaign to raise $10,765,000 nationally is for the first year's operation.

Chairman Joe Brady of the Livingston county committee has said, "We feel certain that every citizen will be only too happy to contribute generously to this work which has as its prime objective the maintenance of high morale among the defense forces of our country."

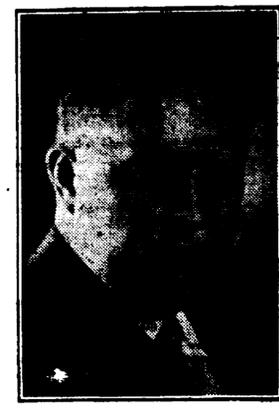

Movies, night clubs, and professional sporting events come high on the $21.00 a month Uncle Sam pays his army privates. But the funds raised will provide wholesome entertainment and recreation facilities such as you would want your boy to have if he were serving in the army. Your generous response to the U.S.O. solicitor is your opportunity to serve a cause too worthy to be denied.

to positions of increasing responsibility. As general manager from 1916 to 1934 and since then as its president, he has justified the confidence placed in his judgement. He has demonstrated his capacity to direct the manifold affairs of a rapidly growing industry in accordance with the highest ideals of modern business and its relation to the public good. Among the marvels of scientific discovery, organized and developed by farseeing executives, none remains more indispensable to the needs of civilization than the mechanism which sends voices and even images swiftly and clearly through the wide spaces of the world.

Exemplifying the Bell System personal slogan "Up from the Ranks" Welch started his telephone career as a stenographer for what is now the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company at Minneapolis in 1904. Four years later he came to the Michigan State Telephone Company, now the Michigan Bell, as contact agent in Detroit.

Through successive promotions, Welch rose to general manager of the company in 1916 at the age of 35, the youngest official with that title in the Bell System. He was given the added title, vice-president in 1929, and was made president in 1934.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE

In the soft ball league last week Ledwidge beat Miller 5 to 2 and the Married Men beat Singer 10 to 3. With many of the boys going away to work, it has been necessary to use many younger boys in the line-ups.

 Monday: Married Men vs Miller
 Wednesday: Ledwidge vs Singer

Pinckney, with a team made up mostly of 7th and 8th graders, lost an N.Y.A. game to Fowlerville here Tuesday 11 to 3. Inability of the local team to hit effectively caused their defeat. Alex Chanyi and Grant Cass were the battery, with Palmer, Griffith, Lamb and Fred Singer forming the infield and Merlin Darrow, Gus Ledwidge, Douglas Plummer and Hollis Amburgey in the outfield.

Messrs Will Roche, Ben White and Fred Evers were in Mason Sunday for the races which were rained out. Mrs. George Mallick, Mrs. Robert Nugent of Pontiac and Mrs. Ben Kolmes of Detroit were Tuesday dinner guests of Mrs. Patrick Kennedy.

Naval vessels vary greatly in their ratio of size to horsepower because some require far more speed than others, says Collier's. For example, the engines of a battleship of the U. S. S. ## WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Frequently cited is the vast difference between the World war bi-plane and the flying fortress of today, and frequently asked is whether administrative personnel of the air service has kept up with this technical advance. Is a good administrator also an up-to-date flier?

Col. Robert Olds, newly in charge of the air corps "ferry command," to start bombers on the way to Britain, is picked by informed onlookers as a shining example of the forward moving officer. He learned to fly during the World war, but he knows the big bomber of today the way Fritz Kreisler knows his fiddle.

It was only two years ago that the colonel brought a flying fortress across the country in 10 hours and 45 minutes, then a record flight for a military plane. In between wars, he has been busy every minute and has come all the way through with changing flying techniques and skills. He frequently has been mentioned as of the type of men who should command a separate air service.

A friend of Colonel Olds described him to me today as a Hollywood ideal of a flying officer, minus the exaggerated showmanship and swank of the screen air-devils—trim, natty, alert, clear-headed, courteous and personable. He seems to have stirred up more enthusiasm among his friends than anybody this department has back-trailed for a long time.

One of Colonel Olds' most distinguished air exploits was when he led six flying fortresses on a round trip to Argentina, in February, 1937, for which he received the Distinguished Service cross. His is the highly specialized skill of mastery over the newest and biggest bomber, no matter how many cannons or how many extra push-buttons on the dash-board. He is a native of Norfolk, Va., but joined the air reserve from Woodside, Md., in 1917.

WE ONCE saw two sports writers looking through the paper. Another sports writer had characterized a famous athlete as "a A Sports Writer big squirrel-headed Never Forgets stumblebum who ought to be arrested for getting money under false pretenses." One of the sports writers read this passage and remarked reverently, "That guy is certainly a powerful writer!"

Not having to mind libel laws, or pull their punch on the typewriter, sports writers frequently become the most released and uninhibited of catch-as-catch-can literateurs. In other words they never forget how to get tough. It is one of them who, as their craft would have it, has put the slug on the Bund in New Jersey. He is Atty.-Gen. David T. Wilentz, prosecutor of Bruno Hauptmann, who broke from the post as a sports writer for newspapers in Plainfield and his native Perth Amboy, N. J.

Wilentz drafted a bill to put the Bund out of business in his state and it has been passed unanimously by the state legislature. This first overt state move against the Bund is attracting national attention, as the high concentration of defense industries there might make the region an Achilles heel for subversion or sabotage.

The attorney-general doesn't look tough. He is slight in stature, ultrafastidious in dress, has slick black hair and ingratiating manners. He is a master politico, with a tar-bucket memory for such small matters as a constituent's lumbago of 10 years back, and he is also the Flo Ziegfeld of courtroom showmen.

His histrionics in the Hauptmann trial caused some comment, but the news men gave him an "out." They said he hadn't circled up the proceedings any more than was necessary to win his case. He knocked off newspapering to work his way through the New York Law school.

THE rising prestige of Carlos Saavedra Lamas in the Argentine is good news for this country. Recent dispatches reveal Sr. Lamas definitely on record as favoring closer political and commercial co-operation of Argentina with the United States.

In 1937, as foreign minister, he made a forthright stand for Argentine support of the Monroe doctrine. He is the author of the Pan-American anti-war pact and the builder of the ABC entente between Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

boards are 1 by 12-inch boards. These rest on the lower cupboards and are placed far enough apart to accommodate the glass doors. The 1 by 12-inch board across the room makes the top of the glass cupboards and the bottom of the upper cupboards. The ruffle trimmed shelf between the glass cupboards is 6 inches wide and the plate rail below it is made of two moulding strips.

NOTE: If you are fixing up your kitchen you will find complete directions for fascinating new curtains on page 16 of your copy of Book 3, containing reprints of this series by Mrs. Spears. It also contains directions for a space-saving pantry door pocket. In Book 4 there is a cook book shelf to be made for a kitchen table; also a twine bag that you will find useful. These booklets may be secured by writing direct to:

SOLID doors for the cupboards at the sides of this sink would have placed the accent on vertical lines and made the room seem narrower. But most important of all, this combination of glass doors and plywood doors gives an opportunity to display dishes and other things that lend color, and at the same time makes a place to hide away less decorative utensils.

The lower cupboards and sink enclosure were built first. The vertical supports for the glass cup-

MICHIGAN STATE MESSOR NEWS

Michigan Potatoes
If the 1941 summer is wet again, such as was the 1940 season, Michigan potatoes will need more than just grading to attract quality buyers.

In fact, Michigan spuds suffered last winter in competition with quality products from Maine and Idaho chiefly because the rains came at the wrong time. Many potatoes grew with large holes in the center; they wouldn't "hold up" in storage. Thousands of bushel were lost by rotting.

Like the art of horticulture, culture of potatoes requires spraying at the right times. But the weather is important.

For that reason the state's efforts to standardize Michigan food products by grading and packaging, prior to state advertising in outstate markets, have been only partly successful. Marketing leaders are becoming more and more convinced that Michigan growers must be sold first on the merit of scientific culture, inspected grading and uniform packaging before food advertising can really get results for them.

100 Years Ago

The opening of the Erie Canal in 1825 brought many immigrants from the East in quest of Michigan farm land.

Southern counties were first homesteaded.

In 1841, just 100 years ago, wheat was the leading crop in Michigan, and it was selling for 70 cents a bushel for a total value of more than $2,000,000.

Other field crops of importance were Indian corn, oats, barley, seed-clover, hay vegetables and potatoes. Maple sap was favored for conversion into sugar.

Large quantities of fruit -- apples, peaches, berries -- were shipped from the fringe of the farming country along Lake Michigan from near the mouth of the St. Joseph river to Grand Traverse Bay.

Livestock Gain

One effect of the depression was a shift in Michigan agriculture from grain to livestock farming.

The 1937 returns, for example, show an income from farm products of $246,000,000. Governmental benefits comprised less than 3 per cent. However, livestock and livestock products represented nearly 58 percent.

The 1941 census listed 187,589 farms in Michigan, an increase of 10.8 per cent over the number listed in 1930. The total acreage used for farming, however, is only slightly more than it was in 1930. Tractors are gradually taking the place of horses, and the 1941 shortage of farm labor may speed up this trend towards robotized farms.

It is in the increase of livestock that the picture has changed most. Here are 1941 census facts:
Horses, Colts ... 344,475 381,357
Mules, mule colts .. 7,212 6,490
Cattle ..... 1,540,768 1,287,525 cows and heifers two years old and over .. 968,764 737,796
Cows, heifers milked .. 868,853 746,104

Sheep, lambs ..... 857,232 1,020,967
Hogs, pigs ..... 585,993 374,180
Chickens ..... 10,023,267 10,879,714
Leading Crops

While two persons live in Michigan cities and towns for every person on a Michigan farm, the state occupies a unique place in the nation's agriculture. In the number of acreages under cultivation, Michigan 26th among the states. Yet only two of its crops fall below tenth place.

We are first in cherry, peppermint and spearmint crops.

We are second for strawberries, celery, onions, cantaloupes, and field beans.

In a state where resources are varied as they are in Michigan -- copper, iron, coal, salt, gypsum, wood for manufacturing and paper pulp, and 5,000 lakes for a tourist's paradise -- access to food is of great importance to consumers. Again, Michigan is richly blessed.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

Michigan's part in the rearming of America -- a role regarded by many as more vital than that played by any other single state--will be vividly exhibited as part of the ninety-second Michigan State Fair, Bernard J. Youngblood, General Manager of the Fair, announced today.

The exposition will take place at the State Fair Grounds here from August 27 to September 7, inclusive.

Youngblood, who has just returned from Washington, where he conferred with Congressional and military officials relative to the military feature of the Fair, said he expects the feature to be the most impressive national defense exhibit ever placed on display in this country.

"As one of the outstanding features of our State Fair," Youngblood said, "the national defense exhibit, primarily, will symbolize the absolute inter-dependence of the soldier and the farmer, the tractor and the tank, the plow and the rifle. It will accentuate the extreme importance of food and the production of food to the efficient operation of our armed forces.

"Secondarily, the military exhibit will give many thousands of persons their first chance to see and inspect at close range the new implements of warfare -- many of which are Michigan made -- with which the United States possess to defend itself."

Located on the huge Mall directly across from the orchestra shell and along both sides of the beautiful Civic Center near the main entrance to the Fair Grounds the military exhibit will include airplanes, tanks, blitz buggies, trucks, and other army transportation units, field artillery and anti-aircraft guns, hospital units and field kitchens. A detachment of soldiers, probably from Michigan's own Fort Custer at Battle Creek, will be detailed to and bivouaced on the grounds throughout the Fair.

Attuned to this national defense motif, Youngblood said, Michigan farmers and farm implement manufacturers are preparing one of the most interesting and outstanding agricultural exhibits seen at the Fair in many years. A total of $70,000 in premiums -- more than has ever been offered before -- will be awarded in the agricultural and woman's divisions.

Two premium books, one covering the general agriculture department and one covering the woman's division, are being issued free of charge and Youngblood urges all persons intending to enter exhibits to apply for their premium books at once. A post card, with the name and address of the sender typed, or written plainly in ink, will suffice.

Captain Max Gori has sold his summer home near Hi-Land Lake and he and Mrs. Gori expect to return to Detroit to reside about August 1.

BUILDING A WALL

Many centuries ago the Chinese built a wall as a defense against the Mongolian Tribes. Such a wall proved disastrous for the Chinese, for once it was constructed they ceased to concern themselves with defense. The French built the Maginot Line behind it lapsed into a false security.

As individuals it is well to remember that the wall of security is a wall of wisp. It is only by building a wall of dollars that we have a defense against the rigors of life, but that wall must be continually repaired and increased.

Out of Savings grow such a wall. Each one of us no matter what our income, should try to start building his wall of future security. It can be done by buying Postal Saving Stamps which as they accumulate may be converted into defense bonds.
