Huron-Clinton Project Declared Illegal

Prosecutor Dowling of Wayne County Rules Recreation and Park Project Adopted Last Year Unconstitutional

According to the daily papers the Huron-Clinton parkway project adopted last fall by the voters of Livingston, Washtenaw, Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties has been ruled unconstitutional by the prosecutor of Wayne county in an opinion and faced a fight in the supreme court in order to decide its legality. The ruling is on a technicality and to the average layman, uninformed in the intricacies of the law, seems rather far fetched. His ruling was that this project enables these five counties to do something which other counties in the state cannot do. We cannot see anything to stop the other counties from doing a similar thing for the common good if they receive the approval of the voters as was done in the case of the Huron-Clinton Parkway project. The Ann Arbor News, published in the city where the project was started, has the following to say about it:

"Disturbing news to residents of Macomb, Washtenaw, Wayne, Livingston, and Oakland counties is word that Wayne's Prosecutor Wm. E. Dowling has ruled the Detroit-Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority is unconstitutional, with the result that the authority's operations are to be held up until the question has been determined in the courts.

Legality of the authority, is of course, an issue which cannot be decided in the press. The authority was not established by the legislature, however, but by the people of the five counties concerned. The legislature did pass an enabling act, which permitted the five counties to vote on the parkway project. In its broad sense, the issue is not whether the legislature acted unconstitutionally in passing the enabling act, but whether the people of the five counties are to be allowed to act together for their joint welfare in a matter which is strictly their own business.

Friends of the parkway, which was heartily endorsed by the five-county electorate, are preparing the legal answer to Prosecutor Dowling's charge. It is hoped that the legality of the metropolitan authority will be sustained by the courts, since the enabling act naturally was written with an eye to the state constitution.

In the meantime it may be said that obstruction to the park and parkway project will be only temporary. The people's will in the end will prevail, even if it is forced to express itself through other channels than the existing metropolitan authority. Barriers raised to the parkway will not thwart the popular demand, it will only delay the fulfilling of it. Thus, it is difficult to understand what virtue there is in maintaining opposition based on dubious technicalities.

NEJT DRAFT CALL IS AUGUST 4

The next draft call for Livingston county is on August 4th, at which time 18 men will be called. The county list is not yet completed as to who will go as the draft board is waiting for the results of the medical examinations of several of the Class 1A men who have taken recent examinations.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS TO SELL STAMPS

Thirty-two thousand rural mail carriers are now acting as agents in the sale of Defense Savings Stamps, postal officials have informed the Treasury Department. Demand for the stamps in sparsely settled districts caused the Post Office department to authorize the carriers to act as salesmen.

The stamps range in value from ten cents to five dollars. Purchasers are given albums in which they can be mounted. When filled, the albums may be exchanged for Defense Savings Bonds.

Post Office officials recalled that rural mail carriers acted in similar capacities in 1917 and 1918 selling War Savings Stamps.

Old Age Pensions a Large Increase

447 Persons Are Now Receiving Old Age Pensions in This District. About 50 Claims a Month for Pensions Are Now Being Filed

In the first fifteen months of operation of the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act 447 persons in the area served by the Lansing field office were found to be entitled to monthly payments under this plan.

This announcement was made public today by Mr. Clifford H. Little, manager of the Lansing office which serves 4 counties in central Michigan. At the end of March of this year, these 447 awards amounted to a total of $7,783 monthly, Mr. Little said.

Six different groups are entitled to monthly payments under old-age and survivors insurance. They are, workers who reach age 65 and retire after having obtained status under this program, wives of such workers if the wife also is over 65, children of insured workers who are under 18 or who are under 16 and who leave school, widows over 65 whose husbands were insured workers at the time of death; the mothers of the dependent children of insured workers; and in cases where there is no widow and no child, parents who were entirely dependent on an insured worker at the time of his death.

The report for the Lansing area, showing the number of claimants and the monthly payment in each of these groups, as of March 31, was as follows:

Type of Claimant	Number of Claims	Monthly Payment
Workers over 65	210	$4,409
Wives over 65	67	765
Mothers of children	45	864
Children	107	1,581
Widows over 65	15	318
Dependent parents	3	43
Totals	447	7,783

The number has been increased materially since the report totals were obtained, Mr. Little said. The Lansing office is now filing about 50 claims a month, he added.

IS WRITING HISTORY OF THE KIRTLANDS

Ray C. Tower of the Crowell Publishing Co. of New York City, was a caller at the Dispatch office Tuesday. He is a former teacher at Indiana University and has been commissioned to write a history of Prof. William Kirtland and family, who were the founders of Pinckney. It is now the consensus of opinion that the books written by Mrs. Carolyn Kirtland, during her residence at Pinckney gave the only true story of life in Michigan at that time. He expects to visit Michigan again.

ROBERTS - BELZ

The marriage of Mrs. Mildred Roberts and Richard Belz took place Saturday at Napoleon, Ohio. Mrs. Roberts moved here recently from Royal Oak and is living in the former residence of the late Dr. H. F. Sierler. Mr. Belz formerly operated the George VanHorn farm with his brother, William, but has been working in Detroit for a number of years. The couple will live in Pinckney. Congratulations.

MRS. ILLO SHIELDS

Mrs. Illo Shields died at the home of a sister in Detroit Monday. She was a cousin of Mrs. Don Swarthout of Lakeland and resided in Pinckney a number of years ago, living in the Teeple double house. Her husband died several years ago. Surviving are six step-children. The funeral and burial were in Detroit.

WEEK END ACCIDENTS

There seems to have been a regular flood of auto accidents over the week end. The worst one occurred Sunday night on U. S. 12 near Mercywood hospital, Ann Arbor, where 11 men were taken to the hospital. A carload of negro soldiers from Detroit collided with a carload of CCC men going to a camp near Pontiac and all were injured.

On Portage Lake road near the Birkett farm Saturday night, Charles Hickman of Detroit was injured in a wreck and on Northwest Territorial and Town Hall roads, Thomas Hemery and William Joseph of Detroit were both injured when their car crashed. Numerous other accidents are reported around the state.

Local Man Passes Away Monday

Rue Lamb, 52, Dies at His Home Home Here Monday Night

Rue Lamb, 52, died at his home here Monday night of a heart ailment after an illness of several months. He was the son of the late William and Maryette Shaw Lamb and was born near Williamston on July 16, 1889. He lived in Perry for many years, and was married to Miss Belle Smith of that place. A daughter was born to this marriage who died in infancy. Later he moved to Mason and his wife died here in February, 1927. From here he went to Lansing to work and there he was married to Mrs. Mary Rook. He lived in New York state for some time and several years ago came to Pinckney where he had charge of the factory here operated by his brother, Ford Lamb. He was employed by the Watkins Company until about a year ago when his health failed and he was forced to retire from active work.

He was prominent in fraternal and social activities, being a life member of the Odd Fellow lodge at Mason and also of Livingston Lodge No. 76 F. and A. M. of Pinckney. Of a public spirited nature, he was always willing to donate of his time and energy to anything for the public good. At the time the Ford Motor Co. wanted land here he made a house to house canvass to help raise funds for the bonus given them.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, a brother, Ford Lamb, of Pinckney and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Sampeur of Perry.

The funeral will be held at the Pinckney Congregational church on Thursday afternoon at 2:00 p. m., Rev. J. M. McLucas officiating. Livingston Lodge F. and A. M. will attend in a body and have charge of services. Burial will be at Perry.

Michigan Resort Season Now on in Full Swing

J. Lee Barrett, Detroit's convention go-getter and Southeastern representative, tells this story:

Michigan Tourist Association executive a month or so ago he was appointed by Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner to be vice-chairman of a historical festival to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Mackinac Island with Indians living in tepees along the beaches.

Now, "J.L.B." takes his responsibilities seriously. And when a club-woman visited his office last week and inquired solicitously for the "low down" as to what the festival "was all about", the tall and stately Mr. Barrett closed the office door and replied in a confidential low voice:

"This fact hasn't been announced yet, but the truth of the matter is that Governor Van Wagoner is getting weary of things in general and has decided to give the state back to the Indians."

All of which merely illustrates, if any moral is needed, that we Americans haven't lost our sense of humor. "Yoo hoo" may save the nation!

An Asset to Defense

In the course of our occasional travels about Michigan we have been deeply impressed, time and again, with two things: (1) Michigan's varied resources such as copper, iron, salt, oil, gas, coal and timber, all vital to our present national defense; (2) Michigan's tremendous recreational resources.

All of us recognize, as a matter of course, the urgent need of copper, iron and other products to our present re-armament effort.

But a good case might be made that many of us do not appreciate sufficiently the importance of recreation and relaxation to defense.

Hunting and Fishing

At the recent convention of the American Medical Association, Dr. Edgar V. Allen, chief of the medicine section of the Mayo Clinic, warned industrial managers and workers of inefficiency due to nervous and physical strain. A paraphrased condensation of Dr. Allen's suggestions follows:

"Eat temperately, fast occasionally and eliminate fats from the diet. Avoid excessive smoking. Develop a hobby - digging a dahlia bed, or any other that affords relaxation.

"Try hunting and fishing as a diversion. Play golf, but for recreation and not for low score. Stay in bed an occasional morning. Organize work insofar as possible on a five-day week and an eight-hour day. Seek spiritual stimulation."

CAR STOLEN HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

The car of Enrico Ferri of Ann Arbor was stolen from the Pinckney square Saturday night where it was parked during the free picture show. The sheriff's office was called and Deputy Let Huff came over. The car was found several hours later abandoned near the M. J. Reason home on Putnam St. It had evidently been driven some distance as weeds were found caught on the bumpers and running boards. The car was a 1941 four door Buick.

A week ago Saturday night the car of James Singer was taken from in front of the H. C. Vedder home. This was also found abandoned on a Pinckney street some hours later.

WHEAT CROP INSURANCE

Lessons from hail or any other source need not worry the wheat farmer who takes advantage of the wheat crop insurance, according to Earl Grubb, Chairman of the Livingston Triple-A Committee. Wheat growers may protect their income by using government crop insurance and wheat loans.

Crop insurance guarantees wheat growers a fair yield every year and wheat loans, with the marketing protection offered by marketing quotas, assures a fair price. Higher loan rates for wheat, and the higher market prices it creates, mean that wheat growers will want crop insurance protection this year more than ever before.

The low-cost all-risk crop insurance has been proven satisfactory by three years of service to wheat farmers. County farmers will be offered this protection this year by their local Triple-A committeemen.

CURRENT COMMENT

"By Ye Editor"

A farmer living near Jackson has gotten his picture in most of the papers on account of the fact that he burned 17 acres of shocked wheat rather than pay the 49 cent per acre penalty for having two acres too many. The total penalty would have come to about $15. The New Deal, like most previous administrations, tried to do something for the farmer and did not succeed in pleasing all. Any persons who know of the vast stores of wheat and corn piled up in the west will admit there is justification for some kind of government program to protect prices and markets. The trouble is in adopting a blanket one that will work in all sections of the country. For some reason, farming, unlike other industries, has never been able to unite on a set program or a fixed price for produce. The auto or tractor manufacturer makes his product and says I want so much for it. The worker also says I must have so much an hour, but the farmer who raised a ton or two of wheat says "How much will you give me for it?" He is the only individual who lets another fellow set the price he will receive. As long as farmers retain this attitude we doubt that any plan ever evolved will be of great benefit to them.

Hantramck got the headlines last week by the action of its school board in dismissing 41 married women school teachers. They also adopted a rule that all women school teachers marrying in the future will be fired. Miss Frances Comfort, spokesman for the teachers who belonged to the AFL, charged that the firing was a plot of the board in order to put their friends in teaching jobs. This married teacher issue is an old one and many a school board has gone down to defeat over it. However, in recent years teaching restrictions have been so tightened that it has ceased to be a problem, especially in the smaller districts.

The plan to extend the length of service for the selective service draft beyond one year is getting considerable discussion in the press. Gen. Marshall, head of the army, states that if all the men are released at the end of a year of service the result will be chaos, and it will be impossible to build an army of any great strength. The Detroit News admits the soundness of the argument and that our defense calls for a good army, the best that can be had. Also that we have the money and equipment to build such an army. If the only way to do so is by extending the service period, it must be done, but everyone would have felt better if this had been done at first instead of holding it back until this time.

We see in the Detroit News that Prosecuting Attorney Dowling of Wayne county has held that the Huron-Clinton parkway project adopted by the voters last fall is unconstitutional. No grounds for his opinion are given. This project got a majority from the voters and it was also approved by the legislators. Of course this is not the end and a supreme court decision will finally decide the constitutionality of the project.

The press expresses surprise that while Hitler has more than his hands full with Russia that the British do not launch an attack on the continent and take France, Belgium and other countries away from him. Now they state, would be the opportune time, when many German planes and tanks have been withdrawn from these places to aid in the Russian conquest. The real reason for the failure of the British to take advantage of this opportunity is probably that they have an insufficient number of the planes and the tanks, without which any success would be impossible. They have had three disastrous reverses, one in France, one in Greece and one in Crete where inferiority in numbers of planes and tanks resulted in disastrous defeats for them. The lesson will not be repeated.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Dr. Minnie L. Maffett, who, as president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is the leader of about 75,000 career women in America, insists on equal pay for women doing men's jobs, and she also assesses women with heavy responsibility for what lies ahead.

"Women must take leadership in insisting on a new economic world order," says Dr. Maffett. That might seem like a lot of bother for the women, what with getting the children off to camp and this and that, but Dr. Maffett tells them sternly they must face it, "if we want women to have authority in the world of tomorrow." Her observations were addressed to the biennial meeting of the above federation at Los Angeles.

The silver-haired, blue-eyed, pink-cheeked Dr. Maffett, is, like many contenders for equality and authority for women, emphatically feminine. Pre-medicated or not, it's a good technique which the early-day suffragists knew and practiced diligently. She lives in Dallas, Texas, where she has long been a distinguished physician and surgeon, a member of the college of medicine of Baylor university, on the staff of the three biggest hospitals in Dallas, and a director of the department of health education of Southern Methodist university.

Descendant of a family which went to Texas in 1834, Dr. Maffett took her academic and medical degrees at the University of Texas. She was elected president of the federation in 1939. She rallies women to intelligent social effort under the slogan "business women in a democracy."

She is a dynamo of energy, flying everywhere—she's an aviation fan—organizing and agitating for women and their work and their readiness for a new economic and cultural show-down after the war. Women certainly do like to get things ship-shape. Perhaps they rate a trial workout, considering the general state of masculine untidiness and confusion now prevailing.

DR. ARTHUR UPHAM POPE, art connoisseur and leading world authority on Iranian art, heads the "Committee for National Morale" which now, after months of research, makes known it has discovered and identified Hitler's "secret" weapon.

As Dr. Pope explains it, the device is the precise scientific mastery of impelling scientific forces by which you can make men think and act as you want them to.

One of the last books of the late Jacques Futrelle, who went down on the Titanic, was "The Thinking Machine." It was about an old professor who discovered what Dr. Pope's committee thinks it has learned. He finally dominated the world. The theme of the book was that any man who masters certain definite psychological formulas, and employs them diligently, will own and operate mankind.

That is exactly what the Germans have been doing, according to the committee, just now issuing a 155-page brochure describing its research and its findings.

The committee, which began work last July, includes many of the leading social scientists and psychologists of the United States. It delivers not only a detailed description of the German psychological mass-pressure techniques, but it concludes that we have abundant knowledge and skills with which to meet it. But it will be no hit-or-miss job of agitating. It will be a campaign of psychological warfare as carefully contrived as an air battle.

Mr. Pope, a native of Phoenix, R. I., was graduated from Brown university. He has long been a distinguished figure in the world of both art and philosophy—but always on John Ruskin's terms: "Fine art is that in which the head, the heart and the hand go together."

We saw Dr. Pope occasionally when he was professor of philosophy at the University of California, and again at the Foyot restaurant in Paris in 1923, fired up with Persian art and headed toward Teheran, to sink many years and much brilliant scholarship in that area. After a round-trip to about 3000 B. C., he landed in London in 1930 with the noblest exhibition of Persian art ever assembled.

U. S. Is Now a Reservoir For European Livestock

Fine Breeds of Cattle and Horses Are Shipped Here to Protect Them From Results of War.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The tall hostess with the spiked head-dress who gets the first look at America's new arrivals (I mean Miss Liberty, of Bedloe's island, New York harbor) has seen some strange sights lately. Some of the anxious shiploads that pause at her doorstep hurrying westward have brought a tear, some a worried frown, some a hopeful smile.

There was one group of refugees, proud yet humble servants of man, huddled below decks. Miss Liberty could not see them. Had she been able to, she would have dipped her torch in welcome.

For the war has brought to America some of the finest bloodstrains of homes and cattle from the bomb-riddled fields and pastures of Europe.

Today, this nation holds no greater treasure, in the deep vaults where the gold bullion is stored, than is sheltered in barn and stable. Some of the great breeds of livestock, which have been all but wiped out in Europe, are preserved here.

Best Reservoir.
"The United States now has the best reservoir of blooded livestock in the world," said a department of agriculture official to me the other day.

The two tiny segments of English soil which the Nazis have taken from the British—and the only two, so far—held some of the finest dairy stock in the world: the islands of Jersey and Guernsey, in the English channel. When the British withdrew they gave the islanders a chance to get out—to go to England. Some of the herdsmen preferred to stay with their herds. What has happened to those herds now we cannot learn. We do know that many have been slaughtered for food or because they could not be fed.

But just before that happened 100 head of the best Jersey breeding stock were sent over to the United States.

And before the bombs began to rain too thickly on England the British did what they had never done before—they exported to this country a number of thoroughbred horses, some of their finest racing stock which has never before been permitted to leave the islands, at any price. This stock, stallions and mares both, has been sold and delivered to wealthy American owners.

Great Draft Horses.
What happened to the great draft horses of France and Belgium, whose strains are already well established in America, is not known. Many, it is reported, were slaughtered because of lack of fodder to support them. Many were used for food, for even in the piping days of peace the continental has no prejudice against "steak equine."

Now, America can boast all the pure-blood strains—horses, sheep, cattle, hogs, and poultry. From now on, instead of being chiefly an importer, as we have been from the days when the first Spaniard brought in that strange animal that terrified the Aztecs, the horse, the Western hemisphere will be an exporter of blooded stock.

When the American farmer stands among his herds or flocks, or his wife admires her chicken yard, they often forget that the only livestock which lives and breathes on this continent whose ancestors were not immigrants is the turkey. No wonder Benjamin Franklin thought it ought to be our national bird, instead of the eagle, borrowed from the imperial Caesars.

Today, there are more Holstein cows in the United States than flocks with black and white fields of the province from which that prize milk-giver gets its name. As a matter of fact, we have the world's record Holstein producer of milk and butter.

Other Bovine Breeds.
And we have all the other bovine breeds here, too. Ayrshires have long been familiar figures on American farms—even the red Danish cattle and the brown Swiss are as much at home here as some of their better known sisters.

It is not that America lacked noble blood among its herds or flocks before the war—it simply means that the animal aristocracy has escaped the firing squad of the totalitarians. We have now become the greatest treasurehouse of the world's blooded stock.

As a matter of fact, the 700,000 cows and bulls which have long made up America's card-catalogued nobility need bow before no foreign bovine. These 700,000 whose record is kept, with the co-operation of their owners, by the department of agriculture, now produces 325 pounds of butter fat per cow per year, against a figure of 169 pounds, which is the average for the rest of cowdom.

Action on Iceland Starred Washington

Washington was startled when on 20 minutes' notice the President announced that marines had landed in Iceland. It should not have been. Secretary of the Navy Knox had said it was time for more aid to Britain. The President would not comment on that statement. He just acted. So I won't be surprised to hear that familiar phrase "the marines have landed" anywhere from Cape Town to Singapore.

The next step will not be war either, in administration eyes. There may be shooting. But shooting won't mean a declared war for some time. Not while Germany is tied up in Russia, anyhow.

General Marshall's request for permission to send troops outside the Western hemisphere does not mean he is grooming an expeditionary force for Europe. There are several reasons.

There is no place to land troops in Europe. An expeditionary force without armored divisions is N. G. An armored division is N. G. without repair, replacement and supply bases. To make an expeditionary force against Hitler it would be necessary to move Pittsburgh to France.

U. S. Surplus Agency Gathers Food Supplies

Reports to the department of agriculture indicate that if all of the food available in the British Isles were divided up, the British people would be on about one-third of their normal ration.

In the last three months the Surplus Marketing administration of the department of agriculture has bought more than $300,000,000 worth of foodstuffs. A part of this is destined for Britain. How much has actually reached there even officials of the department do not know but they do know that more ships are being made available for this purpose than when the lend-lease bill became law.

What is not sent to Britain, Milo Perkins, Surplus Marketing administrator, explains, is being used by needy families and hungry children, here. Thanks to scientific advances it is now possible to produce enough food "to go round."

"Up until the last few years, man has always lived in civilizations in which there was not enough to go round," said Mr. Perkins. "Today, with our capacity to produce, it's physically possible to provide a decent living standard for all of our people. That's the most important material thing that's happened to the human race since the discovery of fire and the invention of the wheel."

Memories of an Old 'Opera House'

Washington's "Opera House" is going. It is a long time since actors trod its boards, since its "Ambassador's tier" glittered with the jeweled ladies of the diplomatic set. For years it was known as the "Belasco theater," one of the most attractive playhouses in the country. Of late it has been a movie house.

On my way back across Lafayette park the other day I glanced up at its sad facade—doors closed, windows blank. And it was then, for the first time in all the 27 years that I have passed it or entered its portals that I noticed the words "Opera House" engraved above them. I walked over and looked at the plaque on the wall, which I had never read before. It said:

On this site Commander John Rogers built an elegant house in 1831. In it on April 14, 1865, an attempt was made to assassinate W. H. Seward, secretary of state, by one of the conspirators who murdered Abraham Lincoln on the same night.

The "opera house" will be soon torn down along with its two neighbors on the east side of the park.

One is the beautiful Tayloe mansion with its graceful doorway and wistaria-clad grill work. It was built in 1828. Later, in the McKinley regime, it was called the "Little White House" because Sen. Mark Hanna, the power behind the throne in those days, lived there.

SLEEP LIKE A PRINCE

in a house cooled for 5c a night!

If you have ever tossed and turned in a hot, stuffy bedroom until four o'clock in the morning, trying in vain to sleep, you will be thankful for a discovery that brings the cool outdoors right into your room... making it refreshingly comfortable. You will be doubly thankful when you find that this method of cooling your entire house costs only about 1/2c an hour!

So effective is this type of cooling—lowering the temperature as much as 7 to 14 degrees in the evening, depending on the outdoor temperature—that it is hard to believe you can accomplish it with nothing more than a giant fan in the attic. Do not confuse this fan with an ordinary fan, however. It is a special type of fan—very large—and its quiet, powerful blades are capable of producing a complete change of air in your house every few minutes. Prices vary from $50 up (installation extra).

The principle on which it operates is simple. The attic fan draws the warm air in your rooms upward to the attic and discharges it out-of-doors. At the same time, a flood of cool night air is pulled in through the windows and gently circulated through the house—making the rooms delightfully comfortable and assuring long hours of restful sleep.

Department stores, electrical dealers, and fan dealers will gladly give you full information about this low-cost method of house cooling. Telephone today. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install this equipment.)

PINCKNEY WINS AND LOSES

Pinckney Independent base ball team defeated Haag's in a 7 inning contest last Thursday evening. The Detroit team was a clever group of young men who played heads up ball. Pressly, pitching for Pinckney, allowed 5 well scattered hits, while Pinckney collected 4 hits off Nelson. Haag scored in the second on a walk a sacrifice with the runner going to third and then a perfectly executed squeeze play. Pinckney's scores came in the first inning when Vandy first up, struck out, Lavey drew a walk, Pressly then struck out, Meyer doubled, Lavey stopping at third, Burg then singled over second, both runners scoring, Shirey ended the inning by flying to shortstop.

PINCKNEY SPLITS

DOUBLE HEADER

The Pinckney soft ballers broke even in a double header with the Ann Arbor Eagle Lodge team played here Sunday. They lost the first game 6 to 3 but won the second one 7 to 6. Both games were close all the way and provided plenty of thrills. Stanley Dinkel was the victim of hard luck in the first. He had battled Jaeger, the Ann Arbor pitcher, on even terms for 6 innings and both teams went into the 7th with the score tied at 2 runs. Dinkel walked two men in the 7th and a hit to second scored one of them. The next two were retired on strikes. Another got on by bunting and another run scored and then a hit to right scored two more. In Pinckney's half, Emery singled and Hulce doubled him home but the next three batters flied out.

After two were out on 2 walks and hits by Miller, Hulce, Darrow and Ward This lead they held until the 5th when Ann Arbor went ahead 5 to 4. Ann Arbor added another run in the 6th. Pinckney tied it up in their half on Marsh Meabon's home run and singles by Emery and Wylie. The 7th looked bad for Pinckney. The first three Ann Arbor men being safe on errors. Then Singer tightened his belt. The next two batters flied out, Art Haines making a great catch of the last one. Darrow threw out the next man and the danger was averted. Darrow, first up for Pinckney in the 7th, flied out to left. Ward tripled down the left field line. Singer hit to second but Ward was held at third. John Wylie drove a high bounder to third and Ward scored the winning run and ended the game.

PHILATHEA NOTES

On Sunday the group discussion was very fine, under Mrs. Rogers able direction, a flock of questions were given out, and a practical, up to the minute application of the lesson was given.

For next Sunday the passages selected by the lesson committee are Gal. 1:11,12; Thess 2:13; Tim. 3:14-17; 2 Peter 3:14-16; and Jude 3. The topic, "The Holy Spirit Inspires Bible Letters" will give us the secret of the vitality of the Scriptures. Each of us is asked to write out a question to be answered by some one in class. Notice the Golden Text—2 Tim. 3:16.

Come to Sunday School. You're missing much if you are absent. Visitors always welcome.

Life-saving shelters for a rainy day. We may never need such things in this country—but just in case, factories are ready to turn out thousands of these little bombproof pyramids Read about them and see some dramatic photographs of these emergency dwellings in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Leaky Brick Veneer
QUESTION: During heavy rains water seeps through my brick veneer house at the joint between the sill and the top of the foundations. What kind of caulking compounds can I use to close the leak?

Answer: That condition is fairly common with brick veneer houses. Water works through the bricks and the mortar joints and runs down into the space between the veneer and the sheathing, which is usually about an inch wide. As the sheathing is covered with waterproof paper, the water that collects in the bottom of the space can escape only through the joints along the sill. These joints can be closed with caulking compound, which should be forced in with a caulking gun. A better remedy is to drill a series of holes through the mortar joints in the lowest course of bricks, so that water can drain off to the outside. These holes can be made with a quarter-inch rose drill.

Maps on a Wall

Question: I have removed the paper from the walls of a small room, and am going to cover them with maps. Should the walls be sized? And can I use regular wallpaper paste?

Answer: Yes; size the walls and put on the maps by the same method as wallpaper. Get the best grade of wallpaper paste that you can find. Spread the maps on the floor for pasting. In sticking them on, begin at the top edge and roll the maps downward so that all air will be excluded. If you find that bubbles of air have been caught, use a rubber roller of the kind meant for mounting photographs. If the bubbles will not roll out, puncture the paper with a needle; the air will escape, and when the paper is pressed down, the hole will disappear.

House Colors

Question: The lower half of my house is imitation red brick, the upper half shingle stained dark brown, and the roof is green shingles. In repainting, what color would you suggest for the shingles that will blend with the red lower half and the green roof?

Answer: My choice for the shingles would be either white, or white with a cast of cream or warm gray. You will probably have to use a first coat of aluminum paint to keep the brown stain from bleeding through. For a suggestion, go around your neighborhood to notice the colors that houses are painted, not forgetting the colors of trim, to see which combinations you prefer.

Stopping Overhead Noise

Question: The kitchen of the upstairs apartment is directly over our bedroom, and we hear every sound. Can our ceiling be made sound-proof so that we can sleep?

Answer: It cannot be made entirely sound-proof, but the noise can be greatly cut down. Line your ceiling with insulating board. On that put 2 by 2 strips of wood to support a second layer of insulating board. Pieces of thick felt should be put under all nail heads. Another method would be to put a framework of 2 by 4s under your present ceiling, but not touching it, supporting a layer of insulating board. The framework can be supported on the side walls.

Economy in Construction

Question: We are thinking of building a six-room house, but do not know whether it should be one story or two. Which would be cheaper to build and to heat?

Answer: In house construction it is considered that the price is least when the roof that covers the rooms is smallest. This means that a two-story house should be less expensive than a house in which all the rooms are spread out on one floor. Another principle is that a square or rectangular house costs less to build than one with extensions or a more complicated outline. Also, the more compact the house, the less should be the heating cost.

Stiffening a Rug

Question: A 9 by 12 foot rug, 10 years old, is in good condition except that it is limp. How can it be stiffened?

Answer: Turn it over, and apply a coat of shellac to the back. The shellac should not be applied so thickly that it will soak through to the front.

Kerosene Stain

Question: A kerosene stove was tipped over on an Axminster rug and the oil made a large stain. What will take it out?

Answer: You can use clear gasoline. Take the rug outdoors, lay it where there is no vegetation to be harmed, and pour gasoline through the stain. Do not attempt to do this indoors because of the great fire risk.

Enchanting Party Frocks of All-White for Evening Wear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

DO YOU believe in the magic of fairy wands? Unless it be at the touch of a fairy wand how could such visions of loveliness as the trio pictured ever come into being?

It is just such lacy, beguiling sheer and lovely gowns as these that women who yearn for pretty clothes envision in their dreams of "what to wear," when they go dancing on a gay summer night. So be as sentimental, as blithely romantic as you will in choosing your midsummer night festive gowns, keeping in mind that fashion particularly favors exquisitely fragile sheer media this season, with the emphasis definitely on all white for evening wear.

The all-white lace dress as pictured to the left is making its appearance again and again on best-dressed women who are attending fashionable night clubs or formal events at important summer resort hotels. It adds to the lure of this lace that it is American made. It is as exquisite and beautiful as it is surprisingly inexpensive. Crisp, white and delicate, the new laces make you look your prettiest with their lure and charm. The dress has its own rayon taffeta slip.

The South American influence is very prominent in the white cotton lace evening gown shown centered in the group. The four flounces on the skirt are reminiscent of the Spanish dancer's costume. The deep capelike collar opens at the back. With the return of the "gracious lady" period, the call for handsome lace such as fashions this distinguished frock is outstanding. Nothing in the way of sheer cottons surpasses organdy and when it is elaborately eyeleted as is the organdy used for the "picture" gown on the fair socialite portrayed here, the effect is most eye-appealing. The introduction of black jersey in the bodice is in keeping with the present trend. This touch of black gives a sophisticated look to an otherwise airy, fairy ingenue frock. The wing-sleeved bolero and the very full over-skirt effect are high-style details.

This matter of sheer airy-fairy fabrics for the party dress carries all the way through the program of the "pretty" frocks fashion so definitely favored this season. Often yards and yards of billowy tulle or stiffened chiffon or thinnest of marquisette go to make up the full skirt with its quaint little fitted bodice.

A new vogue this season is that of enormous florals handpainted on either most diaphanous filmy white sheers or these flower paintings are done on white jersey likewise white shirtings in dazzling color glory.

Most of the new white dresses of rayon jersey (with a dull finish) or rayon crepe are made very simply. They are, however, given a look of distinction and importance by intriguing touches such as gold kid trimmings, gold or jeweled buttons, girdles with an enrichment of jewel embroidery.

Watch buttons! They promise to be as important as jewelry in the evening mode, and are used conspicuously so as to call attention to their intricate design. Huge flower buttons add infinite charm to the otherwise all-white frock. Immense mother-of-pearl buttons are fashion highlights. Some of the pearl buttons are made up with a filigree design worked out in gold or silver. You can get buttons that snap on and off and thus change the entire aspect and color scheme at will. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Vacation Outfit

You can bank on this simple rayon sheer striped dress no matter where you vacation, for simplicity is America's fashion this summer from coast to coast. Broadening horizontal shoulder stripes, with whittling vertical stripes prove the stripe is quicker than the eye when it comes to actually whittling down the figure. This optical-illusion outfit comes in brown and blue, navy and white, also gray and white. A flaring brimmed hat and gauntlet gloves complete this outfit.

Chic Fur Capes Are on Fashion's New Calendar

Keep on the lookout for fur capes. They're on their way! They are available in any length from shoulder to waist depth and longer. If you have a coat that has served its time go to your favorite furrier without delay and have him transform it into a latest-model cape. If you are buying out-and-out new furs, before you invest take a look at the stunning cape fashions that definitely will carry the "new" look from now on. These are the final word in chic.

Linen Dresses and Suits Season's Smart Styles

Women of assured fashion intuition regard suits in black or brown, navy, or dark green linen as the best-looking costume of the season for town wear. These are meticulously tailored and are given charm and femininity via lovely white lingerie accents.

One-piece dresses of non-wrinkle linen are very popular this summer. They are made with all the fine dressmaker details such as enhance chic models in crepe or thin wool. There are such highlight touches as braid trims, odd huge buttons and so on. The dress that looks like a suit, also princess types, are popular in linen.

Print Lingerie

Enthusiasm for lingerie and negligee apparel that is fashioned of either cotton or silk prints that are patterned with luscious looking strawberries is running high. You will love the new rose-motif prints, too.

Origin of Ice Cream

Ice cream is so called because it is ice with cream or milk added, in contrast to the ices of the Middle Ages, which were made up merely of ice with fruit flavoring. Creamed ices were not originated in the United States. They were first developed by French chefs, who used the same ingredients we use today.

Later the French formula for ice cream was taken to England as a court secret. It came to America with the colonists. It was first served at a presidential banquet during President Jefferson's administration.

Household Hints

Dipping fish in boiling water will aid scaling.

Inspect the backs of pictures from time to time to make sure the wires and fastenings are secure and to repair any holes in the paper coverings that might let in dust.

It makes a big difference if you serve hot foods on hot dishes and cold foods on chilled dishes.

A swinging door between the kitchen and dining room is a convenient household aid. They may be installed in old as well as new homes.

MICHIGAN STATE MIRROR NEWS

Most Favored State

And so, while we realize soberly the pressing call for more tanks, more airplanes and more guns, we can well remind ourselves that Michigan should utilize in year-round style its thousands of lakes and its many parks and forests if it is to achieve maximum potentialities as an "arsenal of democracy."

Just because they are commonplace, don't overlook these facts:

Michigan is the most favored state in the north temperate zone. Its climate is thoroughly air-conditioned and thermostatically controlled by the waters of the Great Lakes -- Erie, Huron, Superior and Michigan. (Every school child knows that the lakes absorb heat from the air warmer than themselves and also warm colder winds.)

Our growing season for food crops is from April 25 to October 22, longer and more moderate than that in the average northern state.

3,177 Miles of Coast

Our coast line is 3,177 miles long, an astounding fact in itself.

The AuSable, nationally famous as a trout stream, has a drop of 609 feet.

Rivers of the Upper Peninsula tumble boisterously over rany scenic waterfalls in their wild haste to reach the lakes.

The Porcupine mountain area, near Ontonagon and Ironwood, contains the largest tract of virgin hardwood forest remaining in the United States. (And do you know that House Bill 3793 and Senate Bill 1131 at Washington would preserve this forest under government ownership and would assure logging on a selective, sustained-yield basis.)

When the last glacial retreat occurred some 10,000 to 35,000 years ago (so the geologists insist), the ice sheets left us with more than 5,000 lakes. Most of these lakes possess and beaches, an incidental matter that has been worth millions of dollars to Michigan.

The Keweenaw peninsula, north of Houghton, is a volcanic formation. Scattered remnants of Archean rock, the oldest earth rocks known, have been found in the Upper Peninsula.

Forest Wonders

A tree is a tree, but this was news to us:

In all of Europe there is only 80 species of trees; Michigan has 85 species indigenous to Michigan soil! Michigan's forest, shrub, and herbal growth has been called the greatest of its kind in the entire temperate zone.

Wild flowers grow here in great profusion.

More widely known are the fishing and hunting facts: More than 500,000 persons are licensed to fish in Michigan annually; we lead the nation in number of hunting licenses; the annual bag of deer alone being about 40,000.

Bear are fairly numerous in both the Upper Peninsula and in northern sections of the Lower Peninsula. Tell that to your out-state skeptics!

Indian Lore

It may be "old stuff" also to you -- but maybe news to your guests -- that Longfellow's "Hiawatha" was based on the habits, customs and songs of the Chippewas who dwelled in Michigan.

Thousands of copper hammers have been found in and about primitive copper mining pits in the Upper Peninsula, proof that the Indians utilized this metal many centuries ago.

Descendants of these same Indian tribes live today in Michigan. According to the United States Commissioner of Indian Affairs, there were 4,530 Indians in the state for the year ending June 30, 1939. Collectively, they own some 13,000 acres of land.

Michigan Indians were transformed from an agricultural to a nomadic people by the European demand for furs. Thus, Fort Mackinac was established to guard the Northwest's fur trade; John Jacob Astor founded the American Fur company with headquarters on Mackinac Island. (The original is there today.)

These facts, a few out of many hundreds, may present a new light on Michigan's recreational resources which you will find everywhere.

As a patriotic remedy for the war jitters, we prescribe the Michigan official motto:

"If you seek a delightful peninsula look around you."

BODY RECOVERED SUNDAY Last Friday, James Dick of Ann Arbor drowned at Whitmore Lake, where he was fishing. The body was not recovered until 11:40 a.m. Sunday when it was found in 20 feet of water by Barney Wilson of Whitmore Lake and George Pulsipher of Ypsilanti.

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

There is an old parlor game called Truth or Consequences. Almost everyone has played it sometime during their life. Let us apply it to everyday existence.

First ask the question, "How will I meet another depression?"

Remember the game. If you can't answer, then you must take the consequences as determined by the others playing. We know from past experience that the trials and troubles rising out of failure to have an answer for our question are many, severe, and well-nigh insurmountable.

Now is the time to prepare an answer.

Put a portion of your pay check in Defense Savings Bonds. In that way you provide future security for your country and yourself. You answer the question and need not fear the consequences.
