National Letter Week Is Oct. 5

All Persons Are Asked to Aid the Postoffice Department By Writing Letters to the Soldiers During That Time

Fourth National Letter-Writing Week will be observed October 5-11, 1941, and this year takes on new importance. National defense transcends in importance all government or public activities and a very vital part in this program falls to the Post Office. The service functions must be maintained at a high level. Postal activities must be enlarged or extended to provide facilities at military and naval establishments, or in new industrial fields. It is our duty so to conduct them that no unnecessary burden falls upon the taxpayers. Now more than ever operating costs should be kept within the revenues and operating costs must necessarily increase. Since the first mail is the backbone of the service and its most lucrative source of revenue, it is most important that letter writing be encouraged.

Letters can be a source of great comfort and happiness to the thousands of young men serving in the armed forces. It would at least bespeak appreciation if during National Letter-Writing Week there could be widely developed the habit of frequent correspondence with these well-deserving youths. The exchange of cheerful letters between friends, acquaintances, separated members of the family, will contribute in no small way to spreading happiness and building up a better spirit among all the people. School children should be encouraged to write more letters both from the standpoint of improving the use of the mother tongue and developing a worthwhile accomplishment for later life.

The activities of Letter-Writing Week can be turned to good advantage in the promotion of the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps. Many public-spirited individuals and firms are gladly referring to them in advertising literature, broadcasts and newspaper publicity. Such cooperation might be extended to the use of slogans or stickers or enclosures with their letters during the week.

War Activities Cause Big Revival of Temperance Activities. Ex-Gov. Dickinson Again Receptive

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, crusader for prohibition since 1874, is enjoying an unexpected revival.

Reason: America's undeclared war on Hitler.

Just as World War I afforded Congress an opportunity in December 1917, to launch the noble experiment while several million men were in military camps and industrial plants were striving for the utmost efficiency, so the present emergency is being hailed by 600,000 members of the W.C.T.U. as an economic reason for curtailment of drink.

If we must tighten our belts and deprive ourselves of "non-essentials," the problem of beer, wine, and liquor is bound to bob up. Whether these commodities are "non-essentials" depends upon each citizen's ideas about personal liberty, personal health, national security and the like.

Dickinson
A situation such as this is made-to-order for ex-governor Luren Dickinson.

Since departing the governor's office, the 82-year-old arch foe of sin and sipping has been doing some lecturing. He went to Florida, stopping over at Possum Poke, Georgia, long enough to chat with ex-Governor Chase S. Osborn, and sent back a letter to a Hearst newspaperman containing glowing words about the nice publicity he had been getting.

At the Grand Rapids convention of the W.C.T.U. last Wednesday (Sept. 3) Dickinson reiterated his conviction that the world's problems could be quickly solved by prayer and suggested that maybe President Roosevelt needed after all was just an old-fashioned prayer meeting at the White House or elsewhere in Washington.

While even Dickinson would probably qualify this statement in a practical way, as it would take a lot more than a prayer meeting to stop the Nazi at Leningrad, the fundamental epigram is beyond moral dispute. Dickinson has always been right, and even his critics used to whisper in resignation, "You can't argue with God."

Keeping Out of War
The W.C.T.U., like about everybody else in Michigan, finds itself concerned in the present national crisis of whether we can stay out of war.

The white-ribboned mothers do not want their sons to drink. They also don't want them to go to war.

There is probably no church group in Michigan so devoted to the cause of peace as the W.C.T.U. They hate war with a grim determination that is kindred to their moral zeal for the good life. Likewise they would be among the first to commend President Roosevelt for keeping us out of the holocaust, as he pledged one year ago to do. His opponent was Wendell L. Willkie, but that is beside the point.

CURRENT COMMENT

Hollywood is under fire and has been accused of spreading British propaganda through the films. The charges will be aired in a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Committee, when leading producers will be invited to testify. However, they may not do so. They do not deny that they are pro-British and anti-Axis. They argue that the official attitude of the United States has become so clear-cut that patriotism not only justifies but demands the type of picture of which complaint is made. Nor are they in the least worried about the outcome. They don't expect any congressional committee to chastise them for anti-Hitler fervor.

The isolationists stress the fact that 80 per cent of the people of this country are against participation in the war, according to the Gallup poll and others. However, they soft pedal the fact that 80 per cent also wish Great Britain to win or Hitler to be defeated, according to the same poll.

There are a number of people who can see no good in the papers and believe advertising is a waste of money, no one reads the papers, and getting out a paper is a waste of time. But let those same persons get into trouble and they hot foot it to the newspaper office and the theme of their appeal is "Don't put it in the paper" Now, if they believed their first statements, just why do they care whether items unfavorable to them get into print.

Hitler is encountering stiffer resistance in his Russian campaign than he has had in previous campaigns, mostly due, according to war correspondents to the fact that Russia has an excellent air force, thus depriving the Germans of the advantage they have enjoyed in this respect in other campaigns. This has caused some journalists to question the authenticity of some of Col. Lindbergh's information. It will be remembered that he classed the Russian air force as obsolete, inferior and of little consequence as an implement of war.

Senator Wheeler, in a Labor Day speech, called for an end to war preparation and the diverting of the country's energies to a "war on poverty." He did not elaborate or give any idea on just how this war on poverty should be conducted. Ever since the existence of man poverty has existed. Jesus, during his time on earth remarked, "The poor are always with us." A great many schemes have been evolved to abolish poverty but none have worked. Poverty causes high taxes, a big welfare list and many other things disturbing to the prosperity of the country. Abolishment of it would create an ideal state of being. However we doubt that the senator from Montana had any intention of heading a crusade to abolish poverty. Instead we have a suspicion he is merely using it as a herring to distract the attention of the people from the preparedness program.

CONSERVATION NOTES

Although drilling operations stopped at 10,446 feet, the Bateson oil well, near Kawkawlin rate as the deepest well east of the Mississippi. The previous record was 6,775 feet near White Cloud in Newaygo county. The Bateson well is the only one to produce gas abundantly in the salt section. It is capable of producing eight million cubic feet of gas per day.

The fall influx of ducks and migratory birds from the north, previous to their flight south has started.

100 pairs of breeder Hungarian partridges and 1000 younger birds were recently released from the state game farm near Mason.

Several forest fires were caused last week by lightning striking trees in the forest area. The conservation department has purchased the sand dunes in Muskegon and Ottawa counties and has announced a program of reforestation to be started under the Bankhead-Jones farm tennant act. 21,860 acres have been acquired in Ottawa county and 16,260 acres in Muskegon county.

Colored Fireplace Flames
QUESTION: How can I treat pine cones so that they will burn with colored flames?
Answer: Heat them on a radiator or otherwise to make them open, and then soak them in a solution of copper chloride in water, letting them dry naturally. The color will be a rich blue. Pine cones burn quickly. For a more lasting flame, soak paper toweling in water until it becomes pulp; squeeze handfuls into lumps and let them dry. Then soak in the copper chloride solution, and again allow to dry. Drying should be on strips of wood; not on metal, because of the corrosive effect. The stronger the copper chloride solution, the better. Because of the poisonous nature of copper chloride, rubber gloves should be worn when handling the wet lumps. Other chemicals can be used to obtain different colors, but to my mind the intensity of the copper chloride color is the most effective.

Disposal Plant

Question: What is the advantage of a septic tank over a cess-pool? When we built our house two years ago we were advised to install a septic tank to avoid the trouble of cleaning the cesspool. Now we are told that the septic tank must be cleaned, for which the cost would be $20. We cannot see any advantage in having a septic tank.

Answer: You are evidently the victim of a poor installation. Properly put in, a septic tank should go for many years without requiring attention. A septic tank has many advantages over a cesspool, and should be used whenever possible. With cleaning necessary at the present time, I should have the job done by someone who is thoroughly expert and able to make the changes that seem to be necessary.

Tar on Sidewalk

Question: Some tar or roofing compound was spilled on my sidewalk by some mischievous boys. Turpentine and scraping do not seem to help. Could you advise me of anything that would remove this unsightly blotch?

Answer: First soften the tar by covering it with a few drops of oil, (engine or olive oil will do.) After several hours scrape off as much of the tar on the surface as you can. Then, cover the stain with a paste made of fuller's earth or powdered chalk and a half and half mixture of carbon tetrachloride and benzine. The paste should be put on at least one-quarter inch thick. Place a piece of metal over the paste to prevent fast evaporation. When dry, remove the powder, and repeat the process, if necessary.

Radiator Finish

Question: With which finish does a radiator throw off more heat; paint, or bronze or aluminum? Has the difference actually been proven by tests?

Answer: The National Association of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, New York city, announces officially that an oil paint finish radiates about one-sixth more heat than a metallic paint finish. Color of the paint makes little difference.

Grimy Andirons

Question: My brass andirons are blackened near the bottom. Brass polish has no effect. How can I clean them?

Answer: Add salt to vinegar; as much as will be dissolved. Mix with flour to make a paste and spread it on the brass. Allow to remain for an hour or two, and wash off. Be sure to remove all traces of the salt. If necessary follow with polish.

Paint on Screening

Question: When painting the moulding of the galvanized screens for my porch, black paint was touched to the screening. How can I remove it?

Answer: Wipe the screening with a strong solution of washing soda in water; this will soften the paint which can then be washed off. Follow by rinsing with clear water.

Painted Telephone

Question: How can a couple of layers of paint, lacquer, and aluminum be removed from the base of a telephone hand-set?

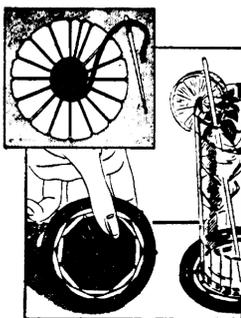

Answer: Your contract with the telephone company forbids any work on the telephone instrument: painting, or anything else. You should ask the company to replace your instrument.

Venetian Blinds

Question: What are the essential good qualities to demand when buying venetian blinds; type of wood, finish, metal parts, etc.

Answer: Your best move will be to buy the blinds from a reliable manufacturer or from a dealer of good reputation, and to pay a good price. Quality must be paid for.

CAR TURNS OVER

A car containing five boys from Dexter left the road just this side of the bridge this side of George Meabon Jr. home on the Pinckney-Dexter road about 9:00 p.m. Tuesday evening. It was driven by Donald Shoemaker and contained Henry Kolander, Carl Kolander, Wayne Augustine and Paul Henes, all of Dexter. The car turned over but none of the occupants were hurt except Henry Kolander, who suffered a badly wrenched arm and a cut on his head. Kevin Ledwidge, Jack Caldwell, and Gerald Vedder came along and got the boys out of the wreckage. Henry Kolander was pinned under the car. He was taken to the Pinckney Sanitarium where Dr. Ray Duffy rendered first aid. According to the Dexter boys the accident resulted when their lights suddenly went out. Deputies Loren Bassett and Lester Huff investigated the accident.

Sheriff Kennedy came over again 2 hours later when an argument started between two of the men who helped pull the car out of the marsh in which it had tipped over. The Dexter boys returned home with Paul Breda, who works on the night shift at the Sorenson factory.

Ogemaw Deer Are Tourists' Pets

Feeling the deer at Ogemaw state game area headquarters near West Branch is a wildlife display always on schedule, as the wait-tails come out of the woods as early as 5:30 in anticipation of their evening meal at 6:15. Above, game area superintendent Harold Tubbs makes a doe reach high for a handful of grain, and gathers half a dozen of the wary creatures about him as he finishes emptying a bucket. The deer will poke their noses into car windows for such tidbits as soda crackers with salt on them. Tourists also enjoy having the friendly deer eat out of their hands. Besides 2,000 acres of game refuge for the herd of semi-tame deer, the game area includes 6,132 acres of public hunting ground.

"This is the life!"

George J. Knapp, Monroe County Farmer

SOME FOLKS think a farmer's life is a long, hard row to hoe, with nothing much at the end. But I wouldn't trade places with anyone!

"I've been getting real pleasure out of farming ever since I planted the first crop on my own farm 45 years ago. And nowadays, with all the electric and mechanical tools we have, I enjoy farming more than ever. There's a lot of satisfaction in watching electricity do some of the jobs that took so much time when we had to do them by hand.

"For example, take milking. It used to be a slow, hard job for several men. Now my grandsons do that job and it's a cinch for them, with the electric milker. I get a kick out of plugging in the electric cream separator and watching the milk go through. And, instead of standing around pumping water, I can spend more time in the fields, running the tractor. That kind of farming pays better.

"Farming isn't all work, either. I have more time now to spend with my four children, seven grandchildren, and their families. We're healthy and happy, and we have plenty of fun together. That's why I say that modern electric farming is a great life. I wouldn't trade places with anyone!"

St. Mary's Church

The feast of the Holy Name of Mary occurs Friday, the day of our National devotion in her honor. The feast was appointed by Pope Innocent XI that only the faithful may be called upon in a particular manner to recommend to God through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin, the necessities of His church, and to return Him thank for His precious protection and numberless mercies. What gave occasion to the institution of this feast was a solemn thanksgiving for the relief of Vienna when it was beset by the Turks in 1683. If we desire to deprecate the Divine anger, justly provoked by our sins, with our prayers, we must join the tears of sincere compunction with perfect conversion of our manners. The first grace we should always beg of God is that He will bring us to the disposition of contrition. Our supplications or divine mercies, and our thanksgivings for benefits received, will only thus be rendered acceptable. By no other means can we deserve the blessings of God, or be recommended to it by the patronage of the Holy Mother. To the invocation of Jesus it is a wholesome and pious practice to join our application to the Blessed Virgin, that through her intercession, we may more easily and more abundantly obtain the effects of our petitions. In this sense devout souls pronounce, with great affection and confidence the holy names of Jesus and Mary.

CONSERVATION NOTES

Success of oil and gas development in the Reed City pool has stimulated great interest among oil producers. The Reed City pool is producing 15,000 barrels a day.

On account of lower water levels and more favorable weather a more productive muskrat trapping season is expected this year.

Though protected by federal law, wood ducks have been seen in large numbers in Michigan this year.

COTTON MATTRESS PROJECT

The cotton mattress program, which flourished in this county last year, will again be inaugurated this year except that in addition every person who makes a mattress will also be allowed to make a comforter. The cotton and percale will be furnished for these. These comforters use 4 per cent cotton and 10 per cent percale. It is hoped to get this program started on or about September 15, as a carload and a half of cotton and percale is already on hand. Anyone wanting to make a mattress and comforter should see your community committeeman, who in Putnam is Frank Bowers.

Clifford Desmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Desmore of Patterson Lake, expects to be home from Camp Livingston, La., on furlough some time in October.

SCRAP ALUMINUM DRIVE

A total of 6,700,000 pounds of "pots and pans" donated in the nation-wide defense aluminum drive by housewives has already moved toward defense production, it was announced August 27 by Production Director Biggers, OPM, and Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia.

This total represents 124 separate government-directed allocation from concentration points to smelters having defense preference ratings.

OPM has received final reports from 7 states and the District of Columbia, and reports more than three-fourths complete from 10 additional states.

These results to date indicate an estimated average collection of nearly half a pound of scrap per occupied dwelling. This "per family" estimate projected on a nation-wide basis indicates a national collection of nearly 14,000,000 pounds of "pots and pans".

OPM expert estimate that 14,000,000 pounds of scrap metal will yield about 10,500,000 pounds of aluminum.

Approximately 2,800 fighting planes could be manufactured from 10,500,000 pounds of aluminum.

On the basis of the present movement of aluminum scrap, it is expected that final shipments will be completed within the next 3 or 4 weeks.

SCHOOL LUNCH PROJECTS

Peanut butter, pork and beans and concentrated soup are headlines on the varied list of foods which will be available for free distribution to school lunch projects in Michigan during the 1941-42 school year. E. M. Rowlands, acting regional director of the Surplus Marketing Administration, announced in Milwaukee today.

Thousands of teachers, parent-teacher associations and other school lunch sponsors are now laying plans for re-summation of school lunch projects. Allotments of these foods already have been made to state welfare agencies for distribution in Michigan and the 11 other states in the mid-western region.

Other items on the list of available foods include grapefruit segments, grapefruit juice, prunes, corn meal, honey and wheat products consisting of cereals and both white and graham flours.

The regional director said it is likely a variety of fresh fruits will also be available again this year particularly citrus fruit and apples.

The school lunch program, which last year helped to see that five million needy and undernourished children in the United States were better fed, is one of the chief outlets for surplus food purchased by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in its efforts to broaden domestic markets and bolster farm prices.

Last year during the peak month of March, the school lunch program was operating in 2,492 schools in Michigan. A total of 124,816 undernourished children received benefits of the program in these schools.

It is predominately a rural program. Seventy-seven per cent of the participating schools and 63 per cent of the children served live in rural areas. In comparison with the 5,000,000 children who participated during the peak month last year, the present national objective of the program Mr. Rowlands explained, is to reach all of the 9,000,000 children shown to be undernourished in a recent national survey, nine million youngsters who are living below the danger line of health.

Mr. and Mrs. James Docking entertained for Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowston and daughters Betty Jean, Dorothy May, and son, Harold of Pontiac and H. W. Downs of that place also.

CLARENCE SCHRAY

Clarence Schray, 52, of Lansing, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association and district representative for the Federal Farm Loan Bank of Minneapolis, died at his home in Lansing Thursday. He was formerly vice-president and cashier of American State Bank of Lansing and one of the original organizers of the Industrial Bank organized there in 1931. He left this position to become representative to the Federal Loan Bank.

His wife was formerly Millicent Starnard, daughter of Charles Starnard, Dexter postmaster and a great granddaughter of Judge S. W. Dexter, founder of that village. She survives also a daughter, Betty, and two brothers. During the lifetime of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Sigler here, the Schrays visited often at their home and their daughter was born at the Pinkney Sanitarium.

The deceased was a member of the Plymouth Congregational church Lansing Lodge No 33 F. and A.M. and Maurice Harvey Dixon Post No. 12, American Legion, he having served in the navy during the world war. The funeral was held Saturday from the Estes-Leady Funeral home with burial in Evergreen cemetery, Lansing.

SCRAP IRON CAMPAIGN

A campaign to increase the junking of worn out automobiles and provide additional scrap iron and steel needed urgently for defense production will be extended this week to the Chicago, St. Louis, and Kansas City areas, and the Office of Production Management announced August 30.

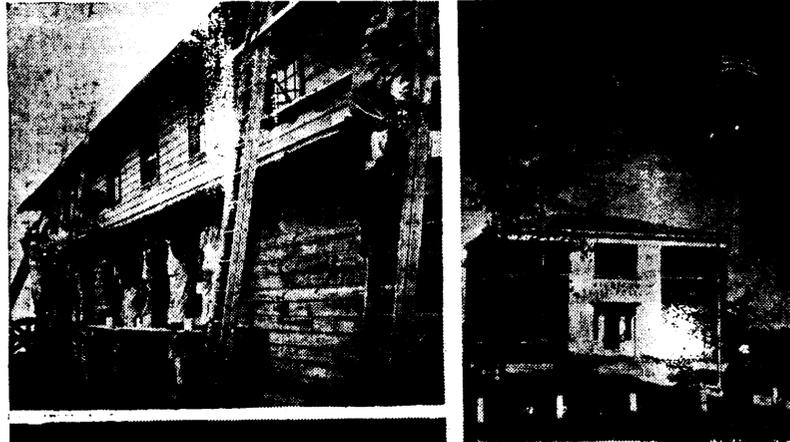

At meeting in the three cities, government officials will appeal to automobile wreckers and scrap dealers to strip derelict cars now in their yards of saleable parts and scrap the bodies and engine blocks immediately.

Government officials attending the forthcoming meetings will include R. H. Ridgway, assistant to R. C. Allen, deputy chief of the Iron and Steel branch of OPM in charge of raw materials, and Maj. E. T. Butler of the Army and Navy Munitions Board.

Allie Stalker has hold his farm, west of town, to Leonard Larue of Detroit. He plans to use it for a summer home.

Thousands of women are helped to get rid of the distressing urinary troubles peculiar to women—caused by many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory results. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination, sometimes with disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, weakness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—It was quite by accident that little Dorothy Dale of Kansas became a sorceress and overthrew the Wicked Witch of the East and freed the enslaved Munchkins. We wondered why Lucy Monroe, the "star spangled soprano," kept reminding us of all this and now it is all clear. Miss Monroe's mother, Anna Laughlin, was the first Dorothy Dale, in "The Wizard of Oz," with Fred Stone, and when the daughter made her musical comedy debut in "Louie the Fourteenth," in 1925, old-timers in the audience, this one among them, were moved to poignant and all but tearful memories by the winsome daughter's resemblance to her mother. Little Dorothy Dale was forever young, still in a land of enchantment—that was all there was to it.

The sorcery of Miss Monroe, opera, concert and radio star, is, unlike that of Dorothy Dale, quite premeditated, and involves a somewhat wider outreach in world liberation, but at a time when people are hoping that somebody will pass a miracle. She has become our national patriotic songster and song-leader, here and there and everywhere, and at the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Philadelphia Municipal stadium recently, she led the second "community sing," in a series of great public invocations of old-time patriotism throughout the country. More than 30,000 persons attended the first one at Washington several weeks ago.

The "star spangled" phase of Miss Monroe's career began in 1937 when she was made official soloist for the American Legion. This stirred in her deep patriotic fervor which found a response in her audiences everywhere.

She is an eighth-generation American, trained as a singer entirely in this country. She made her Metropolitan debut in "La Boheme," in the spring season of 1937.

IN the first World war, facing a hurry-up job of army morale-building, they slammed Irving Berlin into a corner and told him to dish up a few red songs, right away. Here are a couple of lines from the first one:

Broadway Is Out, Osborn In, to Buck Up Army Morale

"Don't you worry, mother darling, Although the skies are gray, For there's always a little bit of sunshine, In the Y—M—C—A."

This time they pick for the bucking-up job a eugenist, population expert, conservationist, business researcher, corporation executive, art connoisseur, banker, and traffic expert—all in the one distinguished person of Frederick Osborn, of New York. The war department names him as head of its morale branch, with the temporary rank of brigadier general.

The appointment may or may not have something to do with the recent disquieting magazine articles about unrest in the new army. General Osborn has been occupied, as a dollar-a-year man in Washington, as a consultant in various endeavors and has been chairman of the army and navy committee on joint recreation. Hence it is possible that his appointment to the army post had been decided upon before the recent flare-up about discontent among the National Guard and selectees.

Whatever the appointment may mean, the choice of a civilian for this office sets a precedent. General Osborn replaces Brig. Gen. James A. Ullie. Furthermore there is disclosed here a trend away from showmanship as an old-line, dependable morale builder. Billy Rose of Broadway was back in New York a few weeks ago, after a session with the army morale-builders. He was all fussed up. "Nothing happened," he said. "They told me my blueprints were wonderful, the ideas were wonderful and I was wonderful. Then they said good-by. That's all I expect to happen."

General Osborn, never a hooper or spoofer, is 51, the son of W. C. Osborn, distinguished New York lawyer, and an alumnus of Princeton university who started a career of business management in 1912. His book, "Preface to Eugenics," published last March, reveals uneasiness about the falling birth rate and the urgency of nice people having more children. He has six. Always in deadly earnest, he's farthest north from Broadway, and Irving Berlin's little bit of sunshine in the Y.M.C.A. Possibly a highly technical war demands that kind of morale-builder.

Washington Digest

'Morale for Defense' Is National Problem

Lack of Rhythm Marks American Efforts to Arm; Wider Use of Plastics in Industry Would Benefit Farmer.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

If you've ever watched a slow-motion picture of a high-diver, a professional golfer, or any other trained athlete in action, the thing that strikes you first is the perfect rhythm.

If you come back to America's peace-capital of Washington from Canada's peace-capital of Ottawa, the first thing you notice is the lack of rhythm.

As one just-returned American who was comparing notes with me remarked: "Canada seems to be taking the war in her stride." Certainly Washington is not. Today the one topic in the capital is—"Morale for defense," how to achieve it. And very few people can say how. Morale by speeches doesn't work so well because speech is free and there are always "un-morale" speeches, too. Morale by committee doesn't seem to work. There are plenty of committees. They solicit funds for advertising. Ads appear in the metropolitan papers. One greeted my eye this morning, the first line of which read: "The next few weeks may decide what will happen in America in these next weeks. You can make people see the truth about the peril you face, that your family faces, that this whole nation faces."

But can you? Or do you want to? Civilian Defense Effort.

A few days ago, as some of you may have heard me mention over the air, I sat in a little group in Washington where a very earnest, very emphatic man was talking about this very thing. He was an army officer in a branch of the service that is tied up very closely with the civilian defense effort. He is at his desk from 7:30 a. m. to 6:00 at night. I never heard a talk that sounded less like what the average person thinks a professional soldier says when he "sounds off."

"If things go the way they are going," he said—(he referred to the lag in defense production and the lack of civilian support of our defense effort) "it will be fine for me. I'll be a major-general. But you civilians and your children will have to pay for a bigger and bigger army the rest of your lives. In the end, there will be nothing left of life as we have known it in America."

He went on to say that the time had come to explain to the American people that "it is no longer a question of whether you like Britain, whether you approve of the administration, what you think of the President, but just what is going to happen to you" if the United States doesn't end dissension over defense, and build up an unbeatable machine right now which is stronger than the potentialities of the Axis.

Need for Co-operation.

Objective observers here say that the trouble with the defense program itself boils down to this: civilian demands have been taken care of rather than defense demands. You can't have your guns and your butter, too. Nearly 9,000,000 man-days have been lost by strikes. Business that wants to help the government has frequently been given insufficient co-operation—that is the government has not been geared to tell just what it wants. Business that doesn't want to help has not been forced to.

Back of it all is public apathy. And that is the key note. Washington can't be described as apathetic. It is hectic. But there isn't sufficient drive from the people throughout the country to move congress into dynamic action. The leaders in Washington have not the sufficient assurance that congress and the people are back of them so that they can drive through their programs.

In Ottawa there are no bands playing, no soldiers on parade. But there is some tension. An Englishman just over said to me that, after spending two days in the Canadian capital, he was worn out and "longed for the tranquility of London." But Ottawa's tension is merely the strain of a nation with a relatively small population carrying a heavy burden.

Excitement seems to vary in direct proportion to the distance from the shooting. The nearer to the front, the more folk saw wood and the less they say.

Use of Plastics Would Aid Farmer

Have you been to the five and ten cent store lately? I went down in the basement of one the other day and had some surprises. I bought a cake knife. It was made of plastic, but it was plenty sharp enough to cut bread. There were a lot of other things—fountain pens, inkwells, automatic pencils—made from plastic. So I began to wonder if maybe the shortages in metals caused by war was really beginning to absorb some of the farm surpluses from which plastics can be made. I asked a member of the department of agriculture.

"The use of plastics is slowly on the increase," I was told, "but the little gadgets you see in the stores are just the bridge from the test-tube to commercial production." Already the aluminum parts on certain machines are being substituted with plastic. Washing machines. Business machines. However, so far these smaller articles are chiefly synthetic, chemical plastics. They aren't touching the cornstalks. They are as yet experimental.

Tung Oil Production.

In other fields, the war has created new uses for agricultural products. War conditions have hastened perfection of these uses. Formerly we imported 10,000,000 pounds of tung oil a year. This year we have produced 5,000,000 tons from our home-grown tung and we have made great progress in producing drying oils from other things such as soy beans, linseed and castor beans. Thorough tests have been made of the use of soy oil in paints and enamels and a report on that subject is now available from the department of agriculture. I'll be glad to send you one.

The humble soy bean, once considered good for little but to be plowed under as fertilizer, is coming to the help of Britain. Casein from soy is replacing casein from milk, which makes it possible to release more cheese for England—cheese, and dried milk, too, are two of the island's crying needs.

Waste Found But No Graft

Senator Truman, Democrat of Missouri, has been checking up on how efficiently the defense program was being run. Among other things, he reports that a million dollars have been wasted because of lack of plans for training the huge force of men which was inducted into the army. This applies specifically to housing the soldiers.

As a matter of fact the army wasn't expecting any such number as was suddenly placed on its hands. They had to hurry, and haste makes waste. But there is one consolation. The senator found no graft.

Checking Up on Air Propaganda

When I was broadcasting the early days of the war from Germany, it always gave me a strange feeling to sit in the government-controlled radio station in Berlin and listen to the foreign broadcasts coming in. I knew that it meant penalties as high as death for the German citizen to listen to what I was hearing. Of course, German radio officials monitored the stations.

Today the American government is monitoring foreign broadcasts. Not because they care whether the Americans listen or not—not very many do—but because, to quote from a statement by the Federal Communications commission: "Today almost every political, diplomatic or military move is presaged by shifts in propaganda treatment. Consequently through study of propaganda trends, it is often possible to predict such moves... the altered tone of foreign broadcasts gave the first indication that Germany was about to invade Russia, and that Japan intended to occupy Indo-China."

Propaganda by air, the FCC says, uses "the old devices of exaggeration, suppressions, distortion, appeals to selfish pride and interests, and exploitations of prejudices and jealousies."

Remember that when you tune in on a foreign broadcast.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Ⓢ A Nazi plane crashed off the Norwegian coast. A fisherman put off in his boat and when he returned alone, he was asked, "Were none of the fliers alive?" The fisherman answered, "One said he was, but you know you can't believe those Nazis."

Ⓢ Don't worry about our boys in Iceland. Returned travelers from that little island tell us that whisky is a dollar and a half a drink there.

Ⓢ Secretary Wickard says he can't conceive of a satisfactory future for the American people if we ignore the one-third of our land which is, or should be, forest. In other words, we can't get along without "the Sticks."

Ⓢ Food may not win the war, but it will have a lot to do with writing the peace treaties.—Secretary Wickard.

MICHIGAN STATE MIRROR NEWS

At the Grand Rapids convention last week, the temperance ladies heard Charles P. Taft, assistant federal coordinator of health, welfare and related defense activities, declare: "War can be avoided and will be avoided." Then he added by post script: "Surely we don't want to fight, but we have been thinking too much about how unpleasant it is to fight and not enough about the priceless heritage for which our forefathers for 300 years did fight and sometimes died. We ought to choose war only when the alternatives are worse."

Slump in Morale

Whether you are interested in liquor or an automobile or silk stockings or almost any other commodity, you invariably think around the circle until you come back to the central query in America today: "Where are we going from here?"

It is just another way of saying that some of us don't know where we're at and our morale is not what it should be.

Morale is a military word for enthusiasm, and belatedly it has become apparent to a lot of bigwigs in Washington as well as elsewhere that the public is reluctant to accept wartime sacrifices in peacetime.

As the United States News, edited by David Lawrence, put it, "If the people will not accept the sacrifices without shooting war, then shooting war may become necessary to fulfill the foreign policies laid down by this government. A war, with loss of American life and sinking of American ships and forcing of the issue of victory or defeat, would be expected to provide the necessary emotional stimulus."

"Not Quite Waked Up"

Michigan-citizen William Knudsen, director-general of the Office of Production Management, recently voiced regret that the United States lacks the spirit to do the job.

"I don't think we have got it," Knudsen is quoted in the press as saying. "I think a good many of us have, but we haven't all got it. I have been all around, and we have not quite waked up. Nobody has dropped any bombs on us yet."

Frank L. Kluckhorn, Washington correspondent for the New York Times, says that Americans, unlike the British who do their work calmly, "are capable of gigantic efforts only when their emotions and dramatic instinct are aroused. They like a 'cause'."

The idealistic trait in American character prompted W. E. Woodward, American historian, to remark humorously in his "New American History": "At heart we are a nation of Sir Galahads, hell-bent on rescuing the Holy Grail, at whatever cost." Exaggerated as it is, the statement does possess considerable merit.

Reform in Eclipse

The congressional vote on extension of the draft found both Michigan senators and nearly all representatives betting that we would stay at peace. Through diversion of opinion at Washington was a reflection, according to Walter Lippmann, newspaper columnist, of the Russian amazing stand against the Nazi.

Yet the crisis in morale is not limited to the United States. English journals recently cautioned Britons that the "Yanks are not coming" and that British confidence in victory had become, due to Russia's unexpected resistance, perilous overconfidence and complacency.

Can America make good on the government's promise of all-out aid as provided in the lease-lend act, without being in a shooting war? Or must we fight first before we sacrifice willingly? Here is the cross road at which we find ourselves—like it or not.

It relegates the renewed objective of the W.C.T.U. into temporary eclipse. That reform, like many others, is linked inseparably with coming world events.

MORNING

An auto wreck took place on the Patterson Lake road early Sunday morning in which several persons were hurt. A Ford sedan containing Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Homan of 4005 Grindley Ave., Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall of 4274 Lawton Ave., Detroit, collided with a Plymouth sedan containing Leonard Draczowski of 8948 Hepper Ave. and Edwin Dictorson of 19618 Helen Ave., Detroit. Mrs. Hall suffered an injured knee and Dictorson's head went through the windshield, and a quantity of his hair was pulled out when it stuck in the shatterproof windshield. Both cars were badly wrecked. The injured were given first aid at the Pinckney Sanitarium by Dr. Ray Duffy.

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES
THE FUTURE

We are not prophets, we cannot predict what the future will produce. We can see conditions and trends, which when they have happened in the past caused other things to follow.

We see now a period of high wages, of large volume buying of consumer goods, of increasing shortages of raw materials necessary to manufacture consumer goods, of large expenditures on war materials.

As it has happened before, the demand for goods is more than the supply, or is fast getting that way. The demand for war materials is fast destroying chances of manufacturers to get raw materials for other goods. In turn these manufacturers must of necessity stop operating their plants. This means no work and no payroll and soon the old shadow of depression is spreading.

It is possible, however, that more defense work will be subcontracted and this almost certain depression may be forestalled. Our theme song is "Save Now".

CONSERVATION MEN AT PORTAGE LAKE
