STEPHEN THOMAS O'BRIEN
 Stephen Thomas O'Brien died at his home in Pinckney, Saturday afternoon, June 13. He has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, of late where he was given treatment for the illness from which he has suffered for several months. He made progress and returned to his home last month. During the past week his illness became acute and due to his advanced age and the development of complications, he passed peacefully away while in his sleep Saturday night.

Mr. O'Brien was born in Bunker Hill parish on July 4, 1864. He had lived on the homestead and was a successful farmer until he built a comfortable and modern cottage for himself and his devoted spouse in Pinckney, next to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lavey. He leaves a large circle of friends who, together with the family, will mourn his passing. Mr. O'Brien was married in S.S. Cornelius and Cyprian May 21, 1902 to Leda Springman, who survives him, as do the following children: Mrs. Lee Lavey, Mrs. Vincent Shields, of Ann Arbor, and one son, Howard, who resides at Bunker Hill. Also several nieces, nephews and grandchildren. The remains were removed Sunday to Bunker Hill. Funeral services were held from Bunker Hill church Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Burial was in the family plot at the Bunker Hill cemetery.

A Requiem High Mass will be offered in St. Mary's church for his soul on Wednesday at 8 a.m., requested by Pinckney friends.

 M. E. Meyer, Sea. 2nd class, U. S. S. Morris (417)
 May 21, 1942, At Sea:
 Dear Paul: Well, how's everything? I'm still alive and kicking (surprised?) and am feeling like didn't have a worry. I received a copy of the paper last week and it sure was a sight to see. If all the fellows in the services could receive a gift such as that, we'd all be lucky. I enjoyed reading about the basketball team and feel almost up to the local news. The paper is something I wouldn't take $10 for. I read and reread every single scrap in it and almost know it by heart. We can get reading material from the ships library but a paper is something of your own community. I wrote you a letter several weeks ago and I will write again, thus giving myself something to do, and also give you a chance to know I am still getting the paper. There are no stamps on board this ship, so I will send these free. Tell Jack Hannett I'd like to bowl another game with him. Well, it will take a good hour to figure out this writing so I'll close. Hoping this finds you and all the gang in the best of health. Maybe I can send a picture some day. You never did see me in uniform.
 Best of Wishes,
 Ed. Meyer
 Australia, May 15, 1942

How are you all and everyone in the States. Hope you are as well as I am.

Well, after an exciting but uneventful journey we are now somewhere here in Australia. Haven't seen a great deal of it yet but it certainly is swell so far. It's just the beginning of the winter season and the trees, shrubbery and flowers are sure beautiful. We go around without shirts on in the middle of the day so you see the weather is moderate. The trees are very bushy and we have a large, gnarled one to use for fire wood, called the Bastard Gum. Some of the automobiles have charcoal burners in place of a gas tank. They start on petrol and then shift to charcoal gas. Another thing of interest is the fact that we are getting up when you go to bed, but the sun still comes up in the East.

The British accent these Aussies use is sure comical to us. About all 5th word is bloody. It doesn't seem to have any particular meaning. We are laughing half the time they talk but we probably sound as funny to them as they do to us. The old lake was pretty rough for a while coming over. My head got to rolling a bit and my stomach wasn't balanced exactly right but by good luck I kept it down. We saw a lot of flying fish and four sharks. The flying fish are about the size of a large shiner and have fairly large wings. They fly from 10 to 20 yards. All we could see of the sharks was their back fin out of the water. Meals were very good and we ate Wonder Bread stored in refrigeration until the last two days. Then we had our own bakery bread. Also turkey, chicken, pork chops and beef and plenty of fish.

Some of our mail will probably be catching up with us pretty soon and we will get the news from home again. Everybody take care of yourselves and don't worry about me. Ask Rick and Bill if they want me to bring them back a kangaroo.

Lots of love,
 Morm. Miller

To the Editor:
 Well, I've just finished reading another issue of the Dispatch and, needless to say, I enjoyed it very much.

I've finished my basic training now and am stationed here in Co. B. I still don't know whether I'll make a tank driver or not but expect to know soon. Of course we are on the alert here as are the other camps in the country. Only here it is a little tougher for they say this is a war zone. We can't get a furlough and the longest pass is for 24 hours. We have gun crews on the anti-aircraft guns at all vital hours and they aren't too far from them any time. No one has had a pass for 9 days and no one knows when we will be able to get one.

St. Mary's Notes

In the devotions to the Sacred Heart of Jesus which Our Lord revealed to St. Mary Margaret in the year 1876, the following promises were made by the Saviour to her: 1, I will give them all the graces necessary for their state of life. 2, I will establish peace in their families. 3, I will console them in their pains and trials. 4, I will be their assured refuge in life, and especially in death. 5, I will shed abundant blessings upon all their undertakings. 6, Sinners will find in my heart an infinite ocean of mercy. 7, Lukewarm souls will be rendered fervent. 8, Fervent souls shall rise to greater perfection. 9, I will bless those homes where the image of my heart shall be exposed and honored. 10, I will give to priests the gifts of moving the hardest hearts. 11, Persons who propagate this devotion shall have their names inscribed on my heart never to be effaced."

PHILATHEA NOTES

The Philathea meeting for June was postponed from Wednesday to Thursday afternoon of last week, because of the funeral of Mrs. Mary Wendell, daughter of one of our members, Mrs. Nellie Johnson. To the bereaved family our class extends sympathy.

The meeting Thursday was opened by singing, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee". The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Peck. The report of the May meeting was read by the secretary, Mrs. Meda Henry, preceded by the roll call.

After several items of business, Mrs. Buzzard and Mrs. Elliott presented the program for the afternoon, which included two interesting contests, in which the winners were Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Daller. Mrs. Nell Frye invited the class for July 8, the second Wednesday in the month, when Mrs. Frye and Mrs. Peck will be hostesses and Mrs. Carrie Swarthout and Mrs. Rose Hendee will sponsor the program.

As usual it has been a joy to have the Maycraft family in our midst again. They report a happy and successful work in their Sagatuck field.

The S. S. lesson for June 21, is the practical one from passages in Matthew, Mark and Luke on the topic, "The Task Committed to the Disciples, the golden text being the missionary command, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

PLAY TWO OUTSIDE TEAMS

Pinckney played two games away from home last week. They defeated the Marlin team, of South Lyon, 14-12 in a close game on Tuesday night. Pinckney took the lead in the first inning by scoring 4 runs on Seguin's triple, two walks, and hits by M. Lavey, Reader and Bob Singer. This lead they held until the 4th when South Lyon hit Singer for 7 runs, aided by a few Pinckney errors. Dinkel pitched the last three innings for Pinckney. Pinckney picked up 4 runs in the 5th and 3 more in the 6th when Lefty Reason homered with two on. South Lyon put on a rally and scored 2 more runs in the 7th after two were out, but Dinkel struck out the last batter.

The Detroit Edison Company's Standards Catalog lists approximately 30,000 items

how standardization saves money for Detroit Edison customers

Why have 41 different styles of outlet boxes when half-a-dozen will suffice? Why buy 16 different cleaning powders when four will do the job? All departments of the Company are cooperating in raising many questions similar to these. As a result, the big catalog shown above looms large in helping us to make savings. It lists some 30,000 items, all indexed and classified, that are purchased for use in our business. And every one of these items is standardized to achieve important economies in their use.

These economies are twofold: (1) the direct dollar saving in the initial cost of the item, and (2) the saving effected through cutting down the number of items, with a consequent lessening of storage, handling, and ordering expense. A few examples will illustrate the point: In our purchases of printed forms, we planned for fewer sizes, weights, and grades of paper, as well as fewer forms. This reduced the number of forms 43%, and saved $40,000 annually.

The apparently simple problem of washing floors, windows, walls and woodwork would not seem to present much opportunity for saving through the standardization of the materials involved. Yet by having cleaning powders made to our specification, we cut the cost more than half and saved over $5,000 a year. The substitution of wool felt for cork in pipe insulation saved 84 per cent of the cost . . . a total of $1,799 on one job. These examples can be multiplied—pipes and fittings, tools, wiring, lumber, metal polish, fly exterminators, rope and cord, drain solvent, etc. The list is almost endless.

Today we hear much about standardization in industry to help the war effort. Our standards program has been achieving economies for the past 20 years. These economies are reflected in our service and rates. The average price per kilowatt-hour paid by our residence customers for electricity has dropped 46 per cent in the last 20 years. Livingston county is lagging in its efforts to raise a quota of $4,650 for the United Service Organizations by July 4 according to returns reported up to Tuesday morning by Chairman Joe Brady. Seven collection units have a total of $1,200.56.

USO solicitations have been of secondary interest because of the pushed drive to purchase war bonds and stamps, the scrap collections, and the need of tornado relief for some families.

Units reporting to date include the following:

	Quota	Raised

RUBBER SALVAGE DRIVE

John D. McGillis, Executive Secretary for Michigan of the Industrial Conservation Department of the War Production Board, has wired Wm. E. Robb, chairman, requesting that the mayor of every city, Lurl Grubb, chairman of the USDA War Board for the County, every supervisor, as well as every individual co-operate in collecting the rubber salvage.

Every oil company has been requested by the President to co-operate and the rubber will be accepted at each individual filling station in the country who will pay 1c per pound. Each individual here should gather up the scrap rubber at once and see that it is promptly delivered at some gas station.

If this drive is successful, it will enable the automobile owners to continue to drive without gas rationing.

Messrs Carl Mast and Anthony Gallagher, of Dexter, were in town Monday morning.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Emma Vollmer were Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy and children, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hays and Mrs. Rolland Hatcher, of Detroit, called on Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bucher Sunday afternoon.

 six months - he has just come from Washington!

Wishful thinking of this kind has been encouraged, unfortunately, by circumstances under which war news is released by the government for publication.

It is also traceable, according to authorities at Washington, to planted stories by Axis agents who are under instructions to pave the way for a peace offensive. A warning of such an Axis move was sounded in May by Archibald MacLeish, director of the Office of Facts and Figures, Washington D. C.

As it has been explained to you here in the reasoning for the peace offensive. Recent speeches by Hitler, Goering and Tojo have emphasized the idea of a hard struggle ahead. Yet stories of shortages of manpower, shortages of food, were permitted to get out, although such news could have been suppressed.

Field Marshall Goering, in a speech on May 28, 1942, made this astonishing admission: "I know that despair is easy when, after having planted in the fall season, you now find in spring that the greater part of the seed has not come up, you must plow and sow again, and in spite of all we must harvest."

Goering closed with an admonition: "I should only like to beg a hardening to a great extent of each individual at home that he will say to himself, 'We must hold out in this war irrespective of how long it may last.'"

For many weeks we have read in our favorite newspaper, and probably heard on radio broadcasts, a long series of favorable news events.

For the first time, United Nations air forces are strong enough to four-figure plane raids over Cologne and the Ruhr district, seat of the great munitions factories. The Russian news has been generally favorable. The American raid on Tokyo was a spectacular exploit, popularized by the dramatically planned scene whereby President Roosevelt awarded the Congressional medal to Gen. Jimmy Doolittle at the White House.

We had favorable news from the Coral Sea battle, while our losses were suppressed temporarily in order not to aid the enemy. Naval news from Midway and Dutch Harbor have been likewise optimistic, and our losses are being summarily withheld from the Axis - but also from the American public.

This false one-sidedness of the war news parallels the grim realities that the Japanese whom one radio commentator said on Dec. 7 we could defeat any "Wednesday afternoon", have conquered the Philippines, Dutch East Indies, Singapore, and Burma, and now stand at the gates of India and Australia - all of this being accomplished in six months time.

Although Russia has maintained a reasonably effective offensive, she has not yet succeeded in seizing the major bases on which Germany's defense depends.

And Germany, although engaged in heavy fighting on the Russian front and therefore pressed for manpower, nevertheless mustered the strength to start her own "second front", the offensive under General Rommel in Libya.

While there are many signs of unrest in occupied countries, no signs can be found that German troops in these countries have lost control. And in spite of the bombings and the superiority of the Allied air forces in the west, a second front by invasion is still a long way off. American troops in northern Ireland while armed to the teeth with the best of armored equipment, number only a few divisions, compared with German strength in France as estimated by foreign correspondents.

A most difficult situation confronts us in the matter of ocean-going transports, with ships being sunk faster than we can build them.

As of June 2, according to published reports, the toll taken by Axis submarines in American waters since Pearl Harbor had mounted to 234 ships. Assemble these vessels together and you would have a sizeable fleet - a disastrous loss! And yet, like automobile accidents, the sinking of boats off the Atlantic coast has become so commonplace they seldom occupy page one position in the day's news.

According to all facts which can be assembled, we can reasonably anticipate that the war will continue for 18 to 24 months. Even if Germany collapses by 1943, a minimum of a year would be expected to transport troops and supplies to the Orient for a decisive showdown with the Japanese.

And, when the war is won and a long armistice is proclaimed, can we not expect that millions of American men must be maintained at the fighting fronts on land and sea scattered over the globe to police conquered nations and to maintain world order?

An American army of 7,000,000 men is now in the making. Congress has just authorized another tremendous increase in our naval strength.

Instead of repeating whispered rumors about "victory in 1942" whether inspired by favorable news together with suppression of our military losses, or by a "peace offensive" by Axis agents, the Michigan home front must maintain 24-hour production in its arms plants, must shun temptations to minimize sacrifice, and must continue its "all-out" spirit of determination to win - as Goering himself declared - irrespective of how long it (the war) may last.

HELP - HELP - HELP

The class from Pinckney now taking air raid warden instructions will graduate Friday of this week. Only about half the number who began faithfully continued through the entire course. This leaves Pinckney without sufficient protection in the event of an air raid.

A new number of volunteers is therefore necessary if the whole village has adequate protection. Every family in Pinckney should be instructed on how to handle incendiary, gas or explosive bombs, as the fire department cannot handle more than one fire at a time. It is the responsibility of every family to extinguish their own fires.

Six more wardens and ten fire watchers are necessary to complete the quota here.

A new class will be instructed in Pinckney. Instructions begin early in July.

Please communicate at once with C. F. Hewlett, phone 93 if you are willing to serve.

It is better to know all this and not have to use it than need it and not know it.
