SOLDIER LETTER

New Guinea, Oct. 8, 1942
Dear Folks: Received your letter of Aug. 2 today. Was sure glad to get a lot of enjoyable news in it. So dad had a birthday. I'm sorry I could not help him celebrate it, tell him they live to be 100 just like nothing over here. Cannot write anything about Guinea but it sure would make an interesting letter if I could. Have told you so many times how fine I am you must be tired of hearing it. The ball season is about over by now. Did Pinckney win the county league championship? Friday must be quite a card at Fort Custer. Would like to see him in his outfit. Received your second V letter the other day. Also one from Harry Jackson. Glad to get Howard Read's address and am going to write to him. Wouldn't be surprised if he was a neighbor of mine now. Looks like I am going to miss the deer hunting season this year. Makes me rather mad at the Japs, will eat Xmas dinner with you next year sure Tell Rich and Bill hello
Norman Miller.

The following letter was received from Burdith Clawson:

U S S Mississippi, 5th Division
Postmaster San Francisco, Calif.
Dear Paul: I am sorry that I have not written you before, because it has been almost a year since I have seen you or my family. I have not seen Paul Singer who went into the navy with me since I left Newport. R I I want to thank you for sending me the paper and I appreciate it a lot. I like to get the news from home. I see the football team is going good. The ball team from our ship won the fleet championship. I was close enough to Edill Meyer's ship a while ago to signal back and forth with him. He is the first one from Pinckney I have met since I left. There are about 34 boys from Detroit that I know and we run around together. I just finished mess cooking on K.P for the noon hour so thought I would write you a letter.
It is fairly good weather in Calif but would like to get some of their sunshine. It always seems to rain when I am here. Have you had any snow yet? It will be two years since I saw any.
Yours, truly
Burdith Clawson

Gasoline Registration Dates

Registration for Gas Coupons is Nov. 18, 19, 20

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 18, 19, 20 have been designated days for gas rationing coupons, at which time motorists must appear at the local school and make application. The basic allotment called "A" or cards, allows a motorist four gallons a week and that is all that may be obtained unless a motorist can qualify for other cards.

One of the questions asked by every motorist is whether he has more than five tires per car. Five tires is all that is allowed and if he has any more he must dispose of them before a rationing card will be granted. The government has made arrangements to buy these excess tires through the Railroad express agency, and anyone wishing to dispose of a tire is asked to either take it to the local depot or dispose of it.

The motorist is given a receipt and the tire is sent to Detroit Defense Supplies Corp. warehouse for appraisal and the amount will either be paid in cash or war stamps, or the tires may be donated. Remember, if you have more than five tires you cannot get a gas rationing card.

Can Harry Kelly Break the One Term Governor Precedent

Unless Harry F. Kelly breaks another precedent in Michigan history, he can look forward to two years of public service and no more.

The Republican sec. of state, victor in the GOP landslide of Nov. 3, upset one historical habit of voters in not changing their governor during a war. War governors Austin Blair, Hazen Pingree and Albert Sleeper were all returned to office by a public which evidently cherished the old admonition of swapping horses in midstream.

However, the custom didn't save the genial, capable Murray VanWagoner smiling "Pat" to thousands of his friends, from being buried beneath a 75,000 Kelly majority. The war governor will be retired in favor of an opposition candidate whose record in the world war was most distinguished, having been awarded the French Croix Guerre for valor.

Between 1892 and 1912 the Wolverine state was tagged by politicians as safely republican.

Republican governor Blair had put the state well into the republican column during the Civil War. The memory of Lincoln became a rallying point in succeeding campaigns, the state remained GOP for twelve elections until the turn of the nineties.

Winans, Democrat, won in 1899 by only 11,500 plurality. The state then remained republican until 1914 when Ferris defeated the field to win by 35,000 votes.

Michigan then returned republican until the Roosevelt New Deal swept across the nation like a tidal wave in 1932, and Comstock, a conservative Democrat, became governor. Since advent of the New Deal which hastened the development of social legislation at Washington such as unemployment compensation and old age pensions, the state has gone Republican for two years and Democratic for the next two.

Wilbur Bruckner was the first victim of the Democratic upset in 1932. Every governor from that day on has held office for two years and no more.

1930 - Wilbur Bruckner, Republican.
1932 - William Comstock, Democrat.
1934 - Frank Fitzgerald, Republican
1936 - Frank Murphy, Democrat
1938 - Frank Fitzgerald, Republican
1940 - Murray VanWagoner, Democrat
1942 - Harry Kelly, Republican

Why have the voters switched favors so consistently, as the above record bears out?

CURRENT COMMENT

"By Ye Editor"

The commentators have all examined the results of the recent election like a bunch of fortune tellers scanning tea leaves and each and every one found in the results just the kind of forecasts he was looking for. Taking all things into consideration the election ran true to form for the political party in power has lost every off year election held since 1930 and the principle reason is that the people in those off years did not take time to vote. Last Tues. only 51 per cent of the registered voters took the trouble to vote. In 1940 51 percent of the voters voted. It is a fact that in this country that only in presidential years is a normal vote cast. For instance this year Harry Kelly was elected governor although he received a smaller vote than Luren Dickinson did in 1940 when that venerable gentleman was defeated. Wayne seems to have skidded considerable in the election in 1940 the county cast 702000 votes. This year the vote dropped to 460,000. If the 257,000 voters who did not vote cast their ballots in the same manner as those who did this year 6 democratic votes to 4 republican the complete picture might have changed. There apparently is no way by which the full vote can be gotten out in an off year. This is true in Mich. for time immemorable.

Late out-state returns apparently were responsible for defeating the Wayne County Home Rule Amendment which early returns indicated had carried this rural antipathy. The bill is not hard to understand. This amendment would abolish the principle of township government on which this country is founded and is that branch of government nearest to the people and over which they have direct control and it made no difference to the rural people that it would only apply to Wayne county. They saw it as an opening wedge to do away with the cornerstone of the government of this country and wanted none of it. The economy argument of the supporters of it fell on deaf ears for in the past centralization of government has not always resulted in such economy.

Cooties, the pests of the soldiers in World War I are no longer menace to the soldiers according to dept. of agriculture. They have perfected a spraying device by which soldiers clothing can be rid entirely of these body lice and their eggs. The apparatus is so light it can be carried by plane to any battle section. Of course the soldiers have done little trench warfare as yet as in the 1st world war and cooties are bound to develop where unsanitary conditions prevail. After the armistice in the world war 1 American soldiers were taken to regular delousing stations where their clothing was deloused before they returned home.

The report the Gov. VanWagoner was to abolish the deer season was without foundation. In a radio address he said that on account of the great loss of work hours in the war munitions factories by workingmen who intend to go deer hunting this year he was asking them to remain at their jobs if possible. He invited Gov. elect Kelly to join him in such an appeal. So no stringent measures will be taken to prevent deer hunting.

The DAR and Marian Anderson the negro singer are at it again and once more the organization seems to be coming off second best. In 1933 this grand opera singer was barred from singing in constitution hall by DAR. This gave the society a lot of unwelcome publicity. This year Miss Anderson was invited to sing there but agreed to accept only on the condition no attempt would be made to segregate her audience on account of color or race and she would be allowed to use the hall on future occasions. The DAR rejected these terms and so the negro singer will probably not appear.

All persons who carry other persons to work in their cars or who are members of a ride swapping organizations are entitled to a special gas rationing card and will be allowed more than 4 gallons a week. However to get this ration ride swappers must fill out a special card.

Nazi and Fascist Blandishments Fail in Wooing Chile and Peru

U. S. Backs Its Good-Will Gestures With Orders for War Materials; Geographical Position Eases Fear of Attack; Leaders Are Popular

The following article by Mr. Tomlinson, author and lecturer, who has studied South and Central America for eighteen years, is timely and interesting. We will publish additional authentic feature articles dealing with significant personalities and fundamental institutions of Latin American countries whose newspaper publishers are cooperating with Publishers' Reciprocal Program (Inter-American) by publishing in their newspapers feature articles back-grounding and interpreting our "way of life" in the United States.—Editor.

By EDWARD TOMLINSON

IN SPITE of great numbers of active Germans and Italians, Nazi-Fascist pressure has had less effect in the Andean republics of Chile and Peru than in the countries of the east coast. Italians in Peru have tried to court favor with government through influential nationals in that country. Their Fascist friends from Spain have attempted to woo the aristocratic conservatives by harping on the importance of cultural ties with the Old World. Although ardent in its support of the fatherland, the large German colony in Chile has exerted little or no influence upon the political policies of President Pedro Aguirre Cerda and his government.

Geography and local politics have been among the chief stumbling blocks to non-American political activities in these countries. Unlike the countries to the east, the Pacific coast nations are not particularly worried about an Axis attack by force. Ingenious Nazis and Fascists may conceive of the possibility of attacking Brazil and Argentina and maintaining seaboard transportation to them, but it is hardly possible that any of them can see a way of getting sufficient naval forces to the west coast of the continent to carry out a successful attack, or back up any coup d'etat they might help to effect.

Liberal Trend in West

They also find in western South America a strong tendency toward liberal and even radical government. The Leftist, or Popular Front, administration and Congress in Chile are just the opposite of a Fascist regime. Peru, under the administration of President Manuel Prado, is experiencing the most liberal and democratic regime in twenty years.

But Nazi propagandists continue to battle us on the economic front in Chile and Peru. Here as elsewhere they lose no opportunity to play up the difficulties of trade with the United States. They point to the copper industry as the great example of how the Yankees get control of the great national resources of a country, the products of which the United States does not need and cannot buy.

Many Chileans themselves remind us of this situation and its results. "You own," a Chilean official told me recently, "the world's largest copper mine, located 10,000 feet up in the Andes, at Chuquibambilla, Chile. Your copper investments in this republic alone run into the hundreds of millions. You also built up the great copper industry in Peru. Copper is the largest industry and the largest export from each of these two countries. Yet in normal times practically none of this product can be sold in the United States. Markets must be found for it in other parts of the world."

When reminded that in the emergency the United States is purchasing large quantities of nitrate and iodine from Chile, great quantities of copper from both countries, and is likely to continue to do so for some time, they reply, "Yes, but we are thinking not only in terms of the present crisis but of our future economic welfare."

The Nazis repeat and amplify the same sentiments and add that with the coming of peace (and of course with a victorious Germany) the nations of the "New Order," all under the leadership of the Nazis, will need copper and many other Chilean products. "When this war broke out," they say, "Germany had, through its trade, become a tremendous factor in Chile's economic life. She was buying minerals in increasing quantities. More important still, she was buying wool, wines, timbers and beans, an important export, all of which put profits into the pockets of native Chilean farmers and peasants, instead of the coffers of rich foreigners."

The solution to the problem of our commercial relations with both Chile and Peru, or the possibility of relieving them from European economic pressure, is by no means easy. Fortunately, we will still be a large market for nitrate of soda and iodine. Chile also possesses important deposits of manganese of the finest grade. Like Argentina and Uruguay, if assured a steady market she could increase the production of carpet wool and sheep and lamb skins, as well as animal furs. Chile is one of the original homes of the chinchilla, one of the rarest of all fur-bearing animals. There are possibilities for the increased purchase in this country of Chilean fruits. In December, January and February, during the dead of our winter, she produces the finest of peaches, apricots, plums and melons.

Peru Vanadium Source

To the Peruvians, Nazi agents point out that when the war is over, the United States will buy practically none of their copper; on the other hand, Germany and all Europe will need it and can buy most of Peru's exports. Fortunately, for us, Peruvian economy is much more diversified than that of her neighbor, Chile. She possesses, or is capable of producing a number of important materials which we buy from non-American countries. Aside from copper and oil, she is a large producer of silver and gold and has the world's leading source of vanadium. Peru alone could supply us with our entire needs of vanadium in the years to come. She also has considerable zinc resources and antimony, both at present strategic products. She has recently gone in for the production of fiber flax, an industry which is receiving encouragement and expert advice from the United States Department of Agriculture. Our own production of fiber flax is rather small, so that the larger portion of our annual consumption of 7,000 tons has come from Europe. Peruvian tea compares favorably with that from the Far East.

Although we are the world's greatest producer of short-staple cotton, long-staple for the manufacture of the finest textiles, particularly the type out of which stiff collars and certain fine grades of thread are made, comes from the outside world, mostly from Egypt. Peruvian long-staple cotton, ample to supply us with most of our imports, is among the finest in the world. Last year we imported 31,899,910 pounds from Egypt and only 393,670 pounds from Peru and the other countries of this Hemisphere.

GEMS FOR YOUR TRUE FREEDOM

The only freedom worth possessing is that which gives enlargement to a people's energy and virtues.

Only free peoples can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end, and prefer the interest of mankind.

The Pilgrims came to establish a nation in true freedom, in the rights of conscience.

If the true spark of religious and civil liberty be kindled it will burn, humans cannot extinguish it.

—THE ELECTION—

This election apparently was merely protest against the party that happened to be "in". People whose sons had been drafted people who thought somehow the President could have prevented the Jap assault on Pearl Harbor, people who feel rationing; it is this type of folk in our opinion, who decided the election. They merely voted against who they were not in favor of.

—Wahnetaw Post
Indeed the type of American who would welcome a repudiation of Mr. Roosevelt either on foreign or domestic policy will be fooling himself if he thinks this is it. The New Deal he originally fought has been largely accepted by the country, and many Young Republicans coming to power in this election ran on platforms that would never satisfy the Old Guard-Christian Science Monitor.

WPB Order Affects Cooking

Available Facilities Must Be Utilized

Families or persons planning to change their residence were urged Saturday by the War Production Board to investigate thoroughly the utilities available for cooking in prospective living quarters.

This precautionary advice was given by James E. Wilson, WPB's deputy regional director in charge of the priorities division, in explaining a WPB order which prohibits connection of an electric range where complete gas facilities are available and the connection of a gas range where complete electric facilities are already installed.

He added, however, that in cases where neither complete gas nor electric facilities are available on the premises, and the premises are not equipped with ranges of any kind, service extensions may be made for either gas or electric connections.

The sixteen-inch coast gun is the most powerful of all American guns and costs about $2,000,000 each. It will throw a shell weighing up to a ton many miles. The Coast Guard also has an eight-inch mobile railway gun which will hurl a heavy projectile about 18 miles.

THE FIRST STARS AND STRIPES
This is the first Stars and Stripes. The Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, resolved: "That the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." According to legend the five-pointed stars were designed by Mrs. Eetsy Ross.

FIFTEEN STARS AND STRIPES
With the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union two stars and two stripes were added to the flag following an Act of Congress in 1794. It was a flag of 15 stars and 15 stripes over which McHenry that inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner." Congress in 1818 restored the original number of stripes.

A procession headed by the band, formed, consisting of 50 torch light bearers and others and paraded the town. It halted in front of the hotel balcony where William VanWinkel and Dennis Shields of Howell made speeches, a dance followed. Grover Cleveland won the election and the Democrats also won control of the house but not the senate. The Populist party lost some seats.

CONSERVATION NOTES

The Conservation Dept's new blacklist of persons denied the privilege of buying a deer license this year contains 232 names. 67 of these were violators of the deer hunting law and 167 while hunting wounded or killed some human being. Of these 167 persons 38 wounded themselves. A five year suspension of the privilege of buying a deer license for persons wounding or killing another person while hunting is automatic and requires no court action.

No more orders for pine seedlings will be accepted this fall owing to the freezeup.

The eggs of garfish are poisonous and should not be fed to chickens.

800 hunters drew lucky numbers and will hunt deer in Allegan co. Dec. 1-10, if unlucky in the north previous to that.

CHRISTMAS MAILING

The Post Office Dept. now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Xmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces.

Indications are that the volume of Xmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in Sept. latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of Dec. 1941, according to the Dept. of Commerce, and sales are rising. Such heavy purchases always presage heavy mailing.

If the usands of our soldiers, sailors and marines are not to be disappointed at Xmas time, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. The best efforts of the Post Office Dept. alone cannot be enough, in view of wartime difficulties faced by postal system, the public must assist.

About 25000 experienced postal workers already have been taken by the war services. Arrangements are under way to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs but this man power is hard to find and is inexperienced. Extra trucks are almost impossible to find.

The free mailing privilege granted to members of the armed forces has cent, it is estimated. Expansion of raised their mailings some 30 per those forces also is adding rapidly to the postal burden.

The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to the army and navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Xmas.

The Post Office Dept. is making strenuous efforts to avoid such terrific jam as it faced in 1918 under similar conditions, during the First World War. It can succeed in those efforts...and avoid many heartaches for its patrons...if the public will cooperate by mailing early.

NEIGHBORING NOTES

Stockbridge will inaugurate a new course of war production courses. Any one who enrolls may take a course in Dairy Production, Auto Mechanics or farm machinery repair.

Stockbridge is preparing a large sign on which the names of the boys in service will be placed. The names will be in three inch letters. About 75 from there are now in service.

Bill Hodge who has been training for submarine work at Great Lakes has been transferred to New London, Conn. for 2 months training before going on an undersea craft. He has a petty officer's rating.

The US army has sent out an urgent appeal for used silk or rayon stockings. They want them for ammunition bags as no residue is left by them when a gun is fired.

Fire of an undertermed origin destroyed a shop and garage at Hamburg Sunday belonging to Adolph Grumelot.

The proposal to establish a municipal judge in Ann Arbor to supplant the two justices of peace carried at the election in Ann Arbor.

The Dexter Coffee Shop closed on Nov. 10. Inability to get help.

Wm. Steeb of Dexter leaves there this week for army officers training camp.

Mrs. Mae Finnell, 66, wife of James Finnell, well known Washtenaw county auctioneer died at her home in Ann Arbor Sunday. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs Gertrude Smith She was formerly Mae White of Emmett and taught school for some 15 years before her marriage. The funeral was held from St. Thomas church today with burial in Ann Arbor.

Public opinion unfair to rattle snakes. Record War Bond Sales Is Goal Of Women At War Week Nov. 22

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's women in the cities and on the farms—in war factories and in their homes—are determined to make Women At War Week the greatest War Bond selling effort since Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sounded the keynote for the Treasury Department's Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28, with an appeal to women to save on "little things" to provide money for War Bonds.

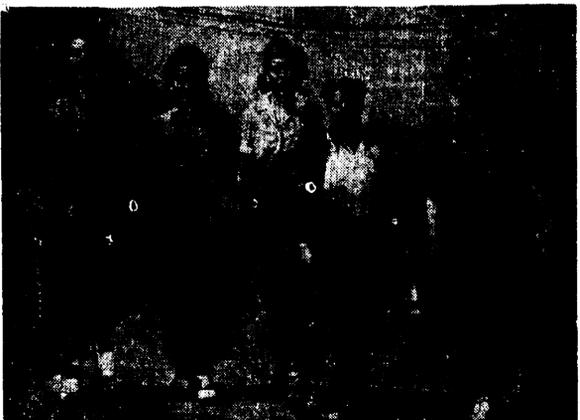

"We women want to work hard, we want to be a part of this strenuous period because unless we are, we will not be able to face the men when they return and claim our share of the future responsibility for building a peaceful world," the First Lady declared.

The overall direction of Women At War Week rests with the Women's Section of the War Savings Staff under the leadership of Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Field Director, and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Chief of the Special Activities Unit.

From coast to coast women in every community have made plans for torchlight parades, fashion shows, teas, rallies, store window displays, Stamp and Bond booths, pageants, civic sings, balls and mardi gras. In each locality administration of the one week drive rests with the local War Savings Committee which has worked out activities adapted to their areas.

Mrs. Morgenthau, in a special message for Women At War Week, declared that the spirit of America's pioneer women lives today more strongly than ever. "The average American woman began to rise to new heights on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941," Mrs. Morgenthau said. "This winter the average American woman will be spending less in order to save more to invest in War Bonds and Stamps. She will not, please God, ever have to fire a gun or fly a bomber. But she will, please God, always do everything she can to help buy anything—and the best of everything—that fires or flies or floats in this terrible war."

During Women At War Week volunteer War Bond saleswomen will wear an armband similar to the one being attached to the sleeve of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by Miss Harriet Elliott.

WOMEN AT WAR—Overalls, wrenches and drills replace fineries as these war workers in an Army Arsenal march to tank repair shops. Note the determination on their faces. These women are typical of hundreds of thousands who are working in war factories and investing part of their earnings in War Bonds.

Mrs. Roosevelt (left) says women help men at front by buying War Bonds. At right is the lapel tag which volunteers will wear during Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28.

Ev'rybody Ev'ry Pay Day

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000. The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 140,000 businesses and factories. Employees of twenty-five thousand of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday.

Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War Bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning, her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

The Treasury Department is counting upon this woman influence in its current campaign to "top that 10 percent by New Year's." By the first of the year the Treasury hopes to enroll at least 3,000,000 women workers in a payroll savings plan and 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.

This Is My Fight Too

Proud of her investment in the American way of life and equally proud of the grime of war production on her face and arms, the young lady in this "Women At War Week" poster symbolizes two of the chief activities of women at war.

PHILATHEA NOTES

A "Go to Church Campaign and preaching Mission is being held at the Cong'l church this week-evenings at 8 p. m.

The November Missionary meeting of Philathea Class is at Mrs. Mary Teeple's on Wed. afternoon.

The founder of our Baraca-Philathea movement was Marshall Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y. A verse used of the Lord to bring about the conversion of Mr. Hudson was John 6:37, "And him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out. Mr. Hudson used this verse in all his personal work in winning souls to Jesus Christ and he requested that the verse be carved on his tombstone.

This week, Philathea should be especially remembered our motto, "We are happy over the home-coming of Miss Eva McLucas who has been ill in a Little Rock, Ark hospital.

The tower house on the Potomac, Baraca-Philathea new administration home is just 2 miles from the famous shrine, and the mail is received at the Mt. Vernon Post Office at the entrance to George Washington estate.

Commence Taking Vitamins Now

PARKE-DAVIS Natola

1. Vitamins A and D are both necessary for maintenance of both health and vigor. The average diet may be deficient in one or both of these vital factors.
2. Vitamin content of foodstuffs varies, and may be reduced or destroyed by the methods of cooking that are generally practiced. The usually selected common diet offers no assurance of a definite intake.
3. Infants, growing children and adults with deficient nutrition may often require a larger intake of vitamins A and D than normal persons.
4. PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA is a scientifically prepared blend of fish liver oils.
5. These oils are scientifically combined to present vitamins A and D in the preferred ratio of 10 to 1.
6. One capsule, or 10 drops (3 minims) of PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA, is equivalent to 3 teaspoonfuls of standard cod liver oil (USP) in both vitamins A and D.
7. The high potency of this product makes it easy to supplement the daily diet with larger amounts of vitamins A and D, as may be prescribed by Physician.
8. Vitamin A is present as the natural vitamin and not as provitamin A which must be converted in the body to a natural vitamin A.
9. The vitamin D in PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA is entirely of natural origin.
10. PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA Liquid (vials) is very staple, but like cod liver oil, it should be kept in a cool place and in tightly closed containers to avoid oxidation by the air.
11. PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA Liquid (vials) is readily administered to infants and children by dropping on the tongue or mixing with the food.
12. PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA Capsules are small, tasteless and easily swallowed.
13. Maximum amounts of vitamins A and D in a minimum quantity of fish liver oil are afforded. Its administration, therefore, is much less likely to cause gastric and intestinal disturbances (nausea, eructations, etc.) which may at times result from ingestion of large amounts of fish oil liver.
14. This product is high in vitamin content and low in caloric value, therefore can be given satisfactorily to patients that object to cod liver oil with its large dosage.
15. Being concentrated, PARKE-DAVIS NATOLA can be taken during the summer months, thus enabling patients to develop and maintain higher vitamin reserves for the fall and winter seasons.
16. Each lot of this product is biologically standardized in our own laboratories. Vitamin A is standardized by two procedures — spectrographic and U. S. P. biological assay.

'PLOW DOWN' METHOD HELPS PLANT FOOD BOOST CROP OUTPUT

More Bushels of Corn Per Acre Plus Higher Fertility Are the Result.

CHICAGO.—How "plowing down" fertilizer before planting time has increased corn yields from 12 to 21 bushels per acre, was revealed in farm tests in which comparisons were made with results obtained from applying plant food in the row or broadcasting it on the surface.

Demonstrations on the farm of Ewald Kahle, of Bremer County, Iowa, were typical of results recorded. On one plot Kahle used 200 pounds per acre of 3-14-6 in a corn planter attachment and secured a yield of 78.9 bushels per acre.

On another plot he plowed under 400 pounds per acre of 10-8-4 fertilizer, prior to planting. Then he applied 200 pounds of 3-14-6 in the row in a manner similar to the first plot. From this treatment he harvested a yield of 100.1 bushels per acre, or 21 bushels more than from the row application alone.

On the farm of Floyd Gerkin of Oelwein, Iowa, a fertilizer treatment of 300 pounds of 10-8-4 per acre, plowed down before planting time, yielded corn at the rate of 90 bushels per acre, whereas 118 pounds of 3-12-12 applied in the row produced 78 bushels.

"The 'plow-down' methods are profitable even on highly fertile land," was indicated by results of a test in Woodbury County. Four hundred pounds of 10-8-4 were broadcast and then plowed under in the latter part of April. Corn was planted about the first of June. This plot yielded 113.2 bushels per acre. An unfertilized plot on similar soil yielded 94 bushels. Thus an increase of 19.2 bushels per acre was obtained from the fertilizer treatment.

"The results of the foregoing tests as well as others conducted throughout the corn belt," says an agricultural report, "indicate that this 'plowing down' method of fertilization not only pays for itself but yields a good profit besides. Moreover, such treatment adds importantly to the fertility level of the entire field and bequeaths residual benefits that add to the yield of crops that follow."

From a state considered in the past to be republican, Michigan has become fighting ground for both parties every other year with better than even chances of victory for the opposition.

These have been times of depression - ups and downs in employment. Mich. once an agricultural state is now heavily industrial. Security through governmental action has been replacing security through individual initiative. More and more centralized control at Lansing and Washington has been on the trend.

Why did the voters once again swing the pendulum in Michigan.

Your guess is as good as hours. Last March we appraised the trend as follows: If the fall elections were to be held today, many Mich. voters and office holders would be buried in a landslide protest. Right or wrong the man on the street is pretty mad today. He is mad about the way the war is going. He is mad about labors insistence of double pay for Sunday work, while the government asks him to buy bonds cheerfully and to pay more taxes. He is mad about the 40 hour week, while his son serves in the army for $50 a month.

It was our observation eight months ago that voters do the irrational thing when they are in the mood to kick someone in the pants—whether he is at fault or not.

Again in early August we sized up public opinion as follows: The key to the 1942 primary and election, will be the war. If the war is going as badly as it is today, watch out. If the tide turns, voters will be more cheerful. Generally speaking, 1942 is already tagged an emotional year.

We have an affectionate regard and respect for both Kelly and Van-Wagoner but we still believe the vote in Nov. was influenced chiefly by upset emotions of many American who does not like the way the war is going.

Will the voters again swing over to an opposition candidate in 1944? Based on contemporary history the chances are 7 to 1 that they will.

We offer one final observation Harry Kelly upset one precedent in 1942 He may do it again in 1944.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every day. It's your badge of patriotism.

DEXTER 7 AND PINCKNEY 6 Failure To Make Extra Point After Touchdown Gives Dexter Long Sought Victory Over Pinckney

Dexter on account of their smashing 21 to 6 victory over Stockbridge who defeated Pinckney 6 to 0 was favored to win over the local team which has had a mediocre season but Pinckney made a strong comeback in the final contest and came near pulling the unexpected and taking the game from Dexter. Pinckney started with a rush and got to the Dexter 20 yard line the first minutes of play where Dexter finally stopped them and got the ball on downs. This was gained by means of straight football.

In the second quarter Dexter's punting ability got them into Pinckney territory and by some hard line plunging they reached the 10 yard line where McGinn went through the Pinckney line on a line play Pinckney looked bad in this half.

Their line did not hold and they missed tackle after tackle. Dexter used the quarter back sneak and got much yardage by it. In the last half Pinckney solved it and rendered it useless. Then the Pinckney team commenced to go to town. Palmer and Aschenbrenner penetrated the Dexter line and on an end run Lewandowski made first down on the 30 yard line. A forward pass to Melnik took the ball to the 20. Another pass to Gentile resulted in a Pinckney touchdown as he ran the remaining 20 yards. Here Pinckney made an error instead of going through the weakening Dexter line for the extra point. They forward passed and it went wild.

Pinckney had all the better of the last quarter but could not quite make the grade. They got to the Dexter 10 yard line. Here in three trials they could not gain. On the 4th down a pass was incomplete and Dexter took over. Pinckney soon regained the ball and started go forward again but this time lost the ball on a fumble. Dexter spent the remaining few seconds of the game stalling to protect their lead. The game was hard and both teams drew 15 yard penalties for unnecessary roughness. The Dexter fans were there in force and supported their team from start to finish.

FOR THE CHILDREN'S FUTURE

PARENTS IN THIS COUNTRY NOW KNOW THAT MOST CHILDREN WILL LIVE TO HAVE A FUTURE-A BETTER FUTURE THAN THEY ENJOYED. THAT'S ONE OF THE REASONS FOR THE INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

CHILDHOOD DEATHS FROM DIPHTHERIA, FOR EXAMPLE, HAVE BEEN CUT MORE THAN 75% SINCE 1920, AND SIMILAR ADVANCES IN MEDICINE WILL BE MADE IN THE FUTURE.

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AS A WHOLE, CHILDHOOD DEATH RATE HAS BEEN STEADILY DECREASING, AS MORE AND MORE PARENTS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MEDICAL PROGRESS AND FACILITIES.
