At Sea, May 12, 1943.

Dear Mom: Well today I hit the jackpot. I received 63 letters. 15 of them were from you. I also got letters from Jack Hannett, Francis Shehan, Norma and Kay Eisele, Shirley Rockwell, Katherine Humerick, Esther Carpenter and girls from Missouri, Mississippi and Texas and Garth and Jimmie.

I am glad I did not know you were in the hospital for I would have worried. It's a great relief to know you are feeling fine again. I have not received the cigars yet but have high hopes. Burt Clawson was lucky to get a furlough. Maybe my luck will change soon. As usual news from home is the greatest morale builder we have out in these God-forsaken posts. So Megan met that fellow who was burned from the hips down on the carrier while she was in Florida. I stuck a cigarette in his mouth and helped carry him to the sick bay after he was wounded. He told me later it was the best cigarette he ever had. We sure went through plenty from the Japs those first few days but we dished out a little more than we got, I think. That Capt. Boyer who called us "unsung heroes" after the battle is not with us anymore. He is a fine fellow and we shall always miss him. I must close for now say hello to all for me. Edsall Meyer

The boat Edsall was on was badly damaged in the south sea battle and was brought to California for repairs. It is now back in commission. The crew was landed at Honolulu, that is, what was left of them.

Race Riots in Detroit

Great Loss of Life and Property Damage Results As Thousands Are Involved. Federal Troops Are Called in

The race question which has been smoldering in Detroit and the metropolitan district for some time broke into open warfare the first of the week to such an extent that the fracas got out of control and federal troops had to be called in to restore order.

Owing to the labor shortage large numbers of negroes and white people from the south have flocked to Detroit to get in on the big money paid in war factories. In the south the white people have always managed to hold the upper hand. Such is not the case in Detroit. The colored races attempt to obtain the same social rights as the white people seem to have precipitated the mob scenes. They have had several previous outbreaks in a smaller way. The Packard strike was one where white workers resented the attempt to have negroes placed on the same jobs with white men. At Eastwood park a week ago a fight between white and colored people resulted in 7 casualties. At a large war factory where many local persons are employed we are told that several clashes between white and colored people have resulted in stabbing affrays.

There are several stories as to how the fight started last Sunday. One generally accepted is that negroes started to take over a picnic ground on Belle Isle about 10:30 p.m. Sun night being used by white people. The latter resented it and drove the negroes away. They came back with reinforcements and vanquished the whites who attempted to escape over the Belle Isle bridge. Here a pitched battle followed in which thousands joined and the bridge approach at Jefferson ave. became a battle field. Police and state police were called in, sailors from the training stations but were hopelessly outnumbered and could do little. The fight spread into other sections and wind ows for 25 blocks on Hastings, a negro section, known as "Paradise Valley" were smashed.

Clothing stores were looted and pawn shops and hardware stores were broken into to obtain fire arms. On Monday night 23 people had been killed and over 700 wounded, and were overturned and set on fire and general anarchy prevailed.

Gov. Kelly who was attending the governor's conference at Columbus, Ohio, flew back to Michigan, and as the mob grew stronger and the police less powerful he asked for federal aid. Some 24 truck loads of soldiers armed were sent from Camp Custer Monday. By that time the rioters had centered on Cadillac Square and Woodward ave where windows were smashed and all traffic paralyzed. Street car men and bus operators refused to take out their cars and buses on account of the disorder. The morning according to news broadcasts order had been partially restored by federal troops but not until they had fired several volleys from tommy guns at the rioters who were massed on Woodward ave.

An investigation will be made of Axis saboteurs may have been responsible for the riot. It is known that they have been extremely active among colored people. According to many of the negroes arrested, they participated in the fighting because they had been informed that a negro woman and child had been murdered on Belle Isle. This was entirely false according to police.

The federal authorities took over but martial law was not declared as that would have meant taking over courts and law enforcing agencies. As far as we have learned no Pinckney persons have been injured. Miss Betty Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Carr who holds a secretarial position in a Detroit police station had to ride to and from work in a police patrol wagon for protection.

Following World War I there were several riots between negroes and whites when the negroes tried to move into white residential districts.

Small Towns and Cities in no Danger of Extinction Says Minn. Man

For more than a generation there has been wailing about the future of small town and rural America. Michigan has had its share of tear shedders.

Last Sat. we attended a war conference of the National Editorial Assoc. at Cincinnati and we heard a remarkable talk about the American Main Street - those thousands of small towns of less than 10000 population scattered from coast to coast.

The speaker was the publisher of a small town newspaper, L.A. Rossing, editor of the Herald Review at Grand Rapids Minn. presents facts about Main Street which are worth repeating - and we know of no better theme for this week's Michigan Mirror.

"52 percent over half of the people of the US live in rural areas or towns with less than 10,000 population" said editor Rossman.

This fact of vital importance to the case he presented is really established from the 1940 census.

It has been charged that the auto and motor vehicle is destroying the smaller communities and building the larger cities.

Such predictions ought not to be discussed on the basis of sentiment though that element is involved generally on ill founded opinion. There is a better basis that of fact and thoughtful observation.

Available to every citizen is the census of 1940 and its comparison with previous years. Therein population is divided into two classifications the rural which includes all villages and cities up to 2500 people and the urban which includes those communities of more than 2500. Here is a table showing the comparative increase in urban and rural population by decades:

Decade ending	Urban	Rural
1920	29.0	3.2
1930	27.3	4.4
1940	27.9	6.4

That general change came from obvious causes. The primary reason was the great development of industry thrives upon cities and tends to build great centers of employment and population. At the same time that industry passed through its great mechanical changes agriculture was also becoming mechanized. The great farming frontiers were nearing development.

In truth it is interesting to hear the dire predictions of today that the large cities are to lose in population and prestige. The cities are disturbed because so many of their people are moving into outlying areas. This condition has its particular effects upon the cost of government and the value of property in metropolitan communities.

In the decade ending in 1940 the population of the whole nation increased by 7.2 percent the population of the rural areas increased by 6.4 percent and the population of the twenty largest cities increased 4.7 percent.

The assumption that the auto age was to adversely affect rural and small town America has never been reasonable.

It is true that the auto sometimes takes people from a smaller community

COMMENT

In some quarters in this country and in Great Britain there is considerable protest against the wholesale bombing of German cities and those in territory held by the Germans. We wonder on just what ground these people base their belief that there is or ever was anything humane about warfare. Undoubtedly innocent women and children have been killed in these bombings but as this is the one phase of war in which the Allies have a marked superiority which some optimists claim is powerful enough to end the war without any land invasion and huge casualty lists which would certainly result, these wholesale bombing objects will probably get nowhere. No war is played with a set of rules and humaneness and mercy have no part in it.

Americans are probably the most optimistic race in the world. Following the capture of Attu and the two small islands near Sicily another outbreak of overconfidence has swept the nation to such an extent that the editor was offered but last week that the war would be over in 6 weeks. At the present time the Axis and the Japs still hold all of their captured territory with the exception of Africa and a few small islands in the Pacific and the Mediterian Sea. At the present time we are in no position to talk peace terms because Hitler holds all the high cards in the form of France Belgium Greece Norway Holland etc. Not until a landing is made in Europe and a substantial part of the territory taken away from Hitler will they be in a position to dictate peace terms to him. Then a large army of occupation to restore and hold the captured territory will be necessary as they will never make the mistake of picking up their marbles and running home as they did after World War I.

The meatless days are back with us again and we wonder if they will be followed by the wheatless ones of World War I. So far they only effect the hotels and restaurants and Gov. Kelly's proclamation was made at their own request as they were unable to get enough meat to operate 7 days a week.

Wednesday is the meatless day in the Governor's proclamation and all hotel and public eating places are expected to observe it. These places have been cut down to 60 percent of their meat purchases for last December their lightest month in the year and as a result 1600 of 4800 eating places in the state have had to close. This proclamation does not apply to homes and is only a method of self protection for public eating places.

We can't see the point in Gov. Kelly's order withdrawing the state guards from the Port Huron tunnel the Detroit-Windsor tunnel the Ambassador Bridge and the Mich. Central Tunnel at Detroit. If they were strategic points a year ago they still are and the utmost precautions should be taken to protect them. His reason given is that they are private owned except the Port Huron tunnel and it is not the state's duty to protect them. We can't see his point. They are important arteries for troop and freight movements and the cost of protecting them would be a mere drop in the bucket in comparison to the damage and loss that would follow if they were rendered inoperative by saboteurs.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reason at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor Mon. June 21.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beck (Lucile Kennedy) at Rowe hospital, Stockbridge on Thursday, June 17 an 8 1/2 lb son, Bobbie Lee.

Mrs. Clare Palmer, Mrs. Naomi Murphy and Miss Druscilla Murphy attended a pre-nuptial shower Friday in Jackson for Miss Florence Murphy whose marriage to John Sullivan of Jackson takes place there Saturday.

Dick Amo, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Pauline McLucas Amo, has arrived safely in Alaska.

A DROP OF OIL

may help to

"KEEP 'EM ROLLING"

for the duration!

Anything with a motor needs oil to keep it running smoothly, whether it be a tank, a plane, a jeep or a household electric appliance. * Your faithful electric servants must last for the duration. A drop of oil occasionally will do much to prolong their usefulness and avert possible breakdown. Give your electric appliances this simple "ounce of prevention!"

*Do not try to oil an electric clock or hermetically-sealed refrigerator.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

Electricity is not rationed. But its production requires coal and railroad transportation. Don't waste it!

Attention Auto Owners

The New Financial Responsibility Law enacted by the legislature makes every automobile owner responsible in case of an accident which results in personal injury or death. Evidence of Financial Responsibility must be filed with the Secretary of State. A policy of Liability insurance in a company acceptable to the Department of State is the most convenient way to file.

If you dont comply

With the requirements of the new law after it goes into effect July 30th, 1943 you come face to face with loss of your driving rights.

In event you are involved in an accident where anyone is hurt or killed, YOU MUST:

- 1st. Immediately (unless incapacitated physically or mentally) make a report to the Secretary of State on blanks provided by him giving information in detail regarding the accident.
- 2nd. If you can show that you have an INSURANCE POLICY issued by an insurance company licensed to do business in this state which is in force and insurance against liability or personal injury or death, of at least five and ten thousand dollars OR if you can show by affidavit that all personal injury or death claims arising out of said accident have been settled OR that SECURITY has been filed THEN further proceedings shall not be required.

Good insurance IS MORE VALUABLE under the provisions of the new law than ever before — and costs less. A card or phone call will get you this information without obligation.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Makin', Judge... meetin' someone?"
"No, Sam, I'm just going up the line ways on business. Wasn't that a troop train that just pulled out?"
"Sure was, Judge... stopped over here for ten minutes and what a swell bunch of fellows they were."
"That's true all over, Sam. Our present Army is the best trained, best disciplined, best behaved in American history. That's why I get my hair up when I hear of some people trying to dry up the areas around

Army camps. Why, in a recent report by the government, it said the Army usually prefers its camps to be located in wet instead of dry communities. And there's a sound reason. In a wet community the Army can control drinking. In dry communities where bootleggers run wild it's almost impossible. We know that from our nearly 14 years of experience with national prohibition.

"There's no getting away from it, prohibition does not prohibit."

THE MICHIGAN MIRROR

ity to trade in a larger one. But at the same time it brings the whole country-side in closer contact with local centers of trade. The farmer who was once perhaps hours from the nearest village now finds himself but a few minutes distant from town.

There is still another factor. The smaller community of a generation ago had its livery stable a noise some and interesting institution. Today the sale and servicing of auto mobiles is the largest commercial enterprise in town. There is a gas station on every other corner in town. It requires more people spread throughout America to sell and service automotive vehicles than are needed to manufacture them in large centers of industry.

Yes, times have changed and the Michigan small town today has many advantages which were formerly the exclusive possession of large cities. City and country know of no general distinction of merchandise. The silver screen reflects the same Hollywood films. The same radio program comes into your homes.

And as every politician knows control of the government in America rests with rural small town and small city America. Proof: In 29 state of the union the rural population exceeds the urban.

When you start to think about the fate of small towns think twice. The facts tell an entirely different story.

WE'LL PAY YOU BACK TOJO if it takes our last dime!

BUY MORE WAR BONDS

There will be American justice for the crimes of Tokio but our trial and punishment of Tojo and his crime will cost blood, sweat, toil and tears and money. You can supply the money by upping your war bond buying through the payroll savings plan. Figure it out yourself and see where the money is coming from. How much does it cost you and your family to live each month? How much money is coming in from all members of your family? Put the extra money into war bonds, every penny of it. Let 10 per cent be only the starting point for figuring your allotment.

AWOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street—she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean, to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.
