BRING BACK CHERRIES

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer returned from Old Mission near Traverse City Saturday night with a load of cherries all which are contracted for. They were unable to get enough to fill their orders and may go back again if they can get enough sold for another load. All Cherry farms have signs out reading "Pickers Wanted". Many Mexicans are picking there and some war prisoners. They experienced some difficulty in getting their load as many of the orchards have been sold to big canning companies. They were inconvenienced by the fact the pickers pick sweet cherries one day and sour the next. The reason is that the pickers pick for so much a bushel and sweet cherries are bigger than sour ones.

Philathea Class Party Held

A Very Pleasant Class Party Is Held at Hi-Land Lake Last Week

The Hi-Land Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson was the scene on Wednesday afternoon, July 12, of a delightful class party of Philathea ladies and friends, Mrs. Buzzard presiding. After the opening song Mrs. Peck, led off the devotionals, which were helpful and inspiring. The roll call and secretary's report and short secret service report followed. We gladly accepted Mrs. Nay's invitation for the August missionary meeting, which time the program committee will consist of Mrs. R. K. Elliott and Miss Blanche Martin. The calling committee for next time will be Mrs. Winifred Graves and Mrs. Lillian Hasenau. For last Wed meeting, Mrs. Doni throughout and Mrs. Mabel Bekker presented a pleasing program including a group of solos by Mrs. Merwin Campbell. There were two contests, in which honors were won by Mrs. Winifred Graves and Mrs. Edna Euler. Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Pierce North Lake were among the guests and Mrs. Pearce delighted us by an amusing reading of "Easy be Good" and by helpful remarks. A unique feature of the meeting was Mrs. Thompson's "Guest Book" where each lady was asked to register before going home. A particularly fine pot luck luncheon was enjoyed and all reported a good time.

On Sunday, a good class attendance and most interesting lesson discussion covering the past two weeks was led by Mrs. Peck, following the splendid message by Rev. Pearce, who used as a text a passage from James: "For what is Your Life?" and also our own special Philathea text "I can do the things through Christ which strength themed me" Phil. 4:13. A receipt was received from Franklin W. Barber, Treas. of the Michigan-Baratzen-Philathea Union for the dollar recently sent to the Mich. union.

Next Sunday's lesson is "Woman's Part in the National Life" Judges 4: 1-9, 13-16.

In Which the Northern Michigan Resort Season Is Touched On

Lake cottages and resort hotels are jammed to the limits. The 1944 vacation season in Northern Michigan, and many parts of the upper peninsula promises to set an all-time record for attendance and expenditures. George Bishop of Marquette, Manager of the upper peninsula Development Bureau tells of visiting the Keweenaw high way commission park and cabins out at Copper Harbor on the week end of June 24-25. "More than 200 travelers were there," he confided. "Don't ask me how they got to Copper Harbor which can only be reached by automobile. I don't know."

Michigan, the world's automobile center is awaiting 1946 which now appears to be the earliest date when production of cars can be resumed. As contrasted to California and other states where aviation is predominant, Michigan has an estimated "backlog" of seven billion dollars in automobile manufacture. It should absorb much of the economic shock that will be inevitable when war plants are reconverted to peace time utility.

The transportation situation isn't a bit good. The ODT estimates that 5,000 autos are getting junked per day. Automobiles are wearing out. Trucks are near to a serious deterioration point especially heavy duty trucks that haul freight after state. Railroad passenger trains are overcrowded and travelers can expect continued discomfort, delays, poor service. Buses are filled; standing room only is common. Strangely enough air travel is the only service on which improvements is in sight, as plane space priorities will be abandoned around Sept. 1.

To get a close-up of how global war is affecting our nation just look around your own town. If you reside in a town of any size, you will see the effects along your main roads, as in a house. Let them not have a service flag in the window, a man has been appointed to lead 60,000 men to war. Nationally there are more than 2,000,000 tanks over-cast and there will be more than 700,000 by the year end.

Social unrest is shown by the number of really transfer and railway strikes. Labor turnover, Michigan troops are on the move. Theater are changed, betting on horse races has resumed daily heights. This craving for entertainment is a good mental tonic. That's one reason the newspapers still continue to be daily comic strips, despite stringent rationing of newsprint. People demand them.

The Michigan Mirror forecast Dec. 30, 1943 that the Nazis would surrender unconditionally by late Autumn of 1943, still stands. If our American Michigan lakes have a water level of nine tenths of a foot lower than last year on account of lack of rain. Michigan started leasing state lands for oil and gas in 1927.

A 15 percent increase in fishing licenses is reported for the first 6 mos. of 1944 over the same period in 1943.

Michigan has been producing oil since 1886.

The 9th law enacted by Michigan in 1837 was a wolfe bounty law.

CURRENT COMMENT

By Ye Editor

The result of the primary election were not surprising except in one instance few expected that Dr. Eugene Keyes, the Dearborn physician would be one to withstand the onslaught of Keyes Kelly and the entire state Republican machine, especially with the caucus limited to 2 candidates. In previous years Keyes has won because there were 4 or 6 candidates in the field, having overthrown both Frank McKay and Gene Keyes, Gov. Kelly now finds himself in the position of Alexander, the great looking for more words to conquer. Well as Gene Algran recently remarked in the Michigan Mirror, "There are too many bosses and bad bosses." The big surprise was the easy victory of Ernest Cornell of Howell over V. O. Braun of Owosso for the legislative nomination. When the two counties were placed in the same district we concluded as did most other people that Shiawassee county being much larger would hog the nomination in the same way that Ingham county now does the senatorial nomination, as we know all about the gentlemen's agreement but Livingston was supposed to have a similar one with Ingham which never worked. V. O. Braun, three times prosecutor and three times legislator was supposed to be unbeatable. Still there were undercurrents and we do not attribute the result entirely to the generosity and sympathy of the Shiawassee voters for Livingston county. Anyway as the Democrats have nominated no one for the office, Livingston county will elect a legislator this year if she never does again.

As a result of the Ringing Bros. circus fire in which 153 people lost their lives and 800 were injured damage suits totalling a million have been filed against the circus company and it has been forced into receivership. We don't ever recall such a flood of damage suits. We believe that after the Chicago fire only one of the insurance companies involved paid their bills in full. This we believe was the Phoenix Co. which carried a considerable amount of fame over the fact. We believe the war may be blamed to a certain extent for the catastrophe. The circus was unable to get new canvas and had to coat their tents with waterproof material which made them inflammable. Nevertheless the circus states it will continue to carry on under the new burden it has been forced to bear.

The Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Ladies Home Journal has been sued for $100,000 by three physicians of St. Marie, Drs. William H. Johnson & Male who charge they were libelled in an article published in the Ladies Home Journal in September 1943 in which it stated all competent doctors of that city had gone into the army and those remaining were incompetent to care for the health of the community. Three other suits were filed in June by other physicians. Of course the article was by a special writer and in this instance the proof reader must have dozed momentarily.

A profit of $6,000,000 has been made by the U. S. government on the labor of the German war prisoners held in this country according to Lt. Col. George of the Sixth Service Command. The prisoners are employed at army camps or by private employers who pay the prevailing wage. The government pays the prisoners the wages they received while serving in the German army and gets the difference. This treatment is in sharp contrast with that given prisoners in Germany where they are forced to work for nothing and are poorly fed.

Auditor Gen. Vern Brown has announced that he will be a candidate for governor in 1946. It has long been known that this small town editor had yearning in that direction but invariably, circumstances thwarted him. He wanted to succeed the late Gov. Fitzgerald but fate intervened, the governor died, the aged Luren Dickinson took over but later failed of election. Again in 1942 Brown was all set to take his hat in the ring but the Republican organization decided only a Wayne county man could beat Murray VanWagoner so Brown was sheltered and Harry Kelly chosen. This year Brown finally got a break. In looking around for a candidate to beat Keyes Kelly picked Brown. It is known that Kelly desires to go to the U.S. senate either by appointment or election in 1946. Then if a formidable opponent does not appear the way should be clear for Brown to win the nomination.

A LABOR MIXUP

The Seamies Tube Co. at South Lyon which has government contracts is tied up in a knot. It has twice been awarded the K. E. banner for high production but has fallen 35 percent behind schedule on account of insufficient labor. It appealed to the War Labor Board who offered 100 Negro or American born labor or 100 negroes. The CIO which controls the factory would not consent to the Japs and the South Lyon village authorities would not let the negroes come.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items concerning your electric service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

NEARLY EVERY DAY one reads of some new device to make living easier and pleasanter in the postwar home. Automatic dishwashers, quick-freeze cabinets, automatic home laundries, garbage disposal units, television sets, fluorescent lighting, air conditioning . . . the list is endless and varied. But all have one thing in common: They all operate by ELECTRICITY. Which raises a question: Will your house wiring be able to carry this postwar burden? If you are building a new home after the war, plan to provide proper wiring. More than ever in the home of tomorrow, electricity will play a major role.

TODAY'S TASTE TEMPTER . . . Here's a tiptop summer recipe from our Home Service Department:

Curried Shrimp in Green Peppers

2 cups medium white sauce 1 cup shrimp
2 tablespoons pimiento 1/2 teaspoon curry

Combine all the ingredients and fill green peppers. Place in tightly covered skillet with 1/2 cup water and let steam 45 minutes.

GOOD DEED FOR THE DAY . . . Boy Scout Robert Neal, Troop 343, recently performed a public service and did his duty as a Scout by warning people away from electric wires that had fallen in an alley in Detroit. When our line crew arrived to handle the fallen wires, Scout Neal was on the job, keeping passersby away from the live wires. He stayed on the job until all danger was removed. Hats off to Robert Neal!

A JOB TO COME HOME TO . . . More than fifty Edison men in military service already have been mustered out and have returned to their jobs. A training program is now being worked out for other war veterans when they return. Many will have gained new skills and added years of experience. Others may be physically handicapped and will need lighter work. The Company feels that merely holding a place for service men and women isn't enough.

— The Detroit Edison Co.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

"I don't blame the fellows overseas for gettin' all het up over it, Judge. For the likes of me I can't see what's all the hurry about holdin' these local prohibition elections while they're away."

"I agree with you, Steve. Time after time . . . in their letters, in articles, in polls taken to get the views of our fighting men . . . they have indicated in unmistakable terms that they don't want any action taken on prohibition, either local or national, until they get back."

"Too bad there isn't a law or somethin' to be sure their wishes are carried out, Judge."

"There is in one state I know of, Steve. Just recently it passed a law prohibiting the calling of any prohibition election until a year after the peace is declared."

"That really makes sense to me, Judge."

HOME CANNED PEACHES DELICIOUS
WHETHER CLING OR FREE-STONE

Clingstone peaches are excellent, but a great many persons prefer the flavor of freestone fruit and also find it somewhat less troublesome to prepare for canning. Whether cling or freestone, good raw peaches make good canned ones, provided they are canned right, but right canning can do nothing for greenish, bluish, poorly flavored fruit.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, advises those who can peaches for the first time, and those whose canned peaches are below par, to select tree-ripened fruit, when possible, and sort it for size, color, and condition before washing and peeling it.

Skins may be stripped from some well-ripened peaches after they have been scalded in boiling water about a minute and then dipped in cold water, but the general run of them require other methods of peeling. The lye method, while practical when a large quantity is to be canned, requires skill. To lye peel, put four tablespoons concentrated lye in an enamel or granite kettle. Add two gallons water and heat to boiling. Put peaches in a basket and hold in the boiling lye from thirty to sixty seconds; then wash immediately in cold water. Rinse through several waters to remove all skins and all traces of lye. The fruit will darken if left in lye too long or if not well rinsed.

Usually, paring with a knife is the most practical way of peeling. The peaches should be washed clean and drained before peeling. After peeling, the fruit should be cut in half, and the stones discarded. Freestone fruit has better flavor and nicer, cleaner appearance if the red fibers are cut or scraped from the cavities.

Dropping the peeled peaches into weak salt-vinegar water (one tablespoon each to one gallon of water) helps prevent discoloring. They should not be left in the water longer than thirty or forty minutes and must be well rinsed before canning.

Clingstone peaches are prepared for canning by removing the skins by one of the methods described above. Clings may be halved (before peeling) by cutting around the peach with a sharp knife, beginning at the stem end and following the crease. After cutting, hold the peach with both hands and twist in opposite directions. This pulls one side away from the stone. Use a regular peach pitting spoon, a teaspoon, or a knife to remove the stone from the other half of the peach. Peel the halves by scalding, by the lye method, or by paring with knife. If preferred, the peach may be peeled and then halved by cutting around the stone with knife. The easiest way to remove the flesh from the stone is to cut it in wedge-shaped slices.

Miss Kimbrough recommends hot packing and processing in a hot-water bath canner. Here are her two favorite recipes: (Use the longer cooking and processing time for clings and other very fine peaches.) Method I. Make a sirup of 1 or 2 parts sugar to 1 of water, depending upon the amount liked and the amount available. Add peaches, a few at a time, and simmer until hot through (4 to 10 minutes). Pack into hot jars, layers overlapping, cavity side down. Cover with sirup in which peaches were cooked. Process (cook in jar) 10 to 20 minutes in hot-water bath. Can left-over sirup for pudding or ice cream sauce.

Method II. Add from 1 to 1 1/2 cup sugar and one cup boiling water to one gallon prepared peaches. Cook gently until peaches are hot through and sugar dissolved (10 to 20 minutes). Pack and process as instructed above. If there isn't enough liquid to cover peaches in jar, add boiling water after they are packed.

If one is short of sugar, a sirup may be made by boiling two cups white corn sirup, two cups sugar, one cup water, and one-eighth teaspoon salt together five minutes. Honey may be used instead of sugar but it changes the flavor, and sometimes the color, of the fruit. From three-quarters to one cup sirup is usually needed for one quart of peaches. The fruit should be well covered with liquid. (If one runs out of sugar, peaches may be canned with plain boiling water. They keep just as well that way but do not have as good flavor.)

Once fine fruit is selected, carefully prepared and processed right, canning success is assured if jars and caps are used according to the manufacturers' instructions. These instructions will be found on printed leaflets packed in every carton.

FRUIT JUICES FOR YOUR FAMILY'S HEALTH AND PLEASURE

The average person finds it somewhat difficult, except in hot weather, to drink the quantity of water needed for keeping the body in prime condition but there are few who do not welcome a tall glass of cool, home-canned fruit juice at noontime, bedtime—any time! Fruit juices are water with the plus value of color, flavor, vitamin, and sugar. They are also useful for making cocktails, punches, congealed desserts, molded salads, sauces, ice creams, sherbets, etc.

According to Gladys Kimbrough, authority on home canning and Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, fruits from which juices are to be extracted should be fresh, sound, ripe, and of good color and flavor. All except citrus fruits and white grapes should be heated before the juice is extracted. The cooking should be done below boiling point because intense heat tends to destroy color, flavor and vitamins.

Juices of highest quality can be made easily at home if instructions are carefully followed and a dairy or candy thermometer is used to determine temperatures. However, a satisfactory product can be made without the use of a thermometer. The amount of sugar used varies from 1 to 2 cups to 1 gallon juice, depending upon preference. Some fruits do not hold color and flavor well unless a larger quantity of sugar is used and are for this reason made into sirups which may be combined with other juices or with water when served as a beverage. Juices intended to be used for making jelly must be canned without sugar. Fruit juices should be processed (cooked in jar) 30 minutes in a hot-water bath at 175-200° F. If no thermometer is available, process at simmering—that is, just below boiling, when bubbles begin to show on the surface of the hot water. Grape and berry juices are clearer if left standing 12 or more hours and then siphoned or poured from the dregs which settle at the bottom. Filtered juices are more attractive in appearance, but less so in flavor than unfiltered ones.

Of tomato juice, Miss Kimbrough says, "No tomato juice is superior to that which is made, as needed, by pressing home-canned tomatoes through a fine sieve." For those who prefer canning the juice, she gives the following recipe: Use firm, red-ripe, freshly picked tomatoes. Discard any that are bruised or spotted with decay or fungus. Wash carefully. Leave whole and bake in an oven; or steam; or cut into small pieces and cook until soft. (It is said that a smaller percentage of vitamins is lost when the cooking is done by steaming or baking.) Press the hot tomatoes through a fine, preferably cone-shaped, sieve. Reheat to simmering (195-205° F.). Pour into hot jars. Process 20 minutes in hot water bath at simmering, or 10 minutes at boiling. If the juice is to be used in infant feeding, omit salt. Otherwise, add salt to season.

And this is a good recipe for grape juice. Wash stem, and crush fresh, firm-ripe grapes. Add 1 cup water to each gallon crushed grapes. Heat 10 minutes at simmering. Strain through several layers of cheesecloth. Let stand in a cool place, preferably in refrigerator, 24 hours. Strain again. Add 1 or 2 cups sugar to each gallon juice. Reheat to simmering. Pour into hot jars. Process 30 minutes in hot-water bath at 175-185° F.

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by O. G. Lloyd
 Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics
 Purdue University

FOR more than 16 months farmers have enjoyed the most favorable exchange of farm dollars for Bond dollars in more than a quarter of a century. Based upon 1935-39 as 100, farmers have sold farm products at the average ratio of $140 for every $100 paid, including interest and taxes. This ratio compares most favorably with the decade 1920-29 with a ratio of 105 and especially with the decade 1930-33 when the ratio fell to 83 or an $11 loss compared to the base period of 100 in 1935-39.

Granting that the post war period price level will not fall lower than the level of 1935-39 for a long period of time, the advantage of exchanging war inflated farm dollars for War Bond dollars is obvious. Ordinary business transactions are made on a margin of less than 10 percent compared to this extraordinary exchange of 40 percent.

To obtain the 40 percent advantage of inflationary farm dollars, it is necessary to keep the War Bonds until prices are deflated to the 1935-39 level. In the meantime the interest paid on the investment will increase the value of the bond 3 1/2 percent or a War Bond costing $75 will be redeemed by the Government at $100.

During periods of stationary and of falling prices of farm products, which are probable during the next decade, farming will have urgent demands for liquid capital which can be readily turned into cash for equipment and improvements. Such expenditures wisely made pay big dividends through more economic production which meets current demand. At such periods the wise farmer is not handicapped for operating capital if he owns War Bonds. Backed by the credit of the Government, War Bonds are so secure and so readily convertible into purchasing power that they excel the land itself as a means of providing ready cash.

The discipline of following a budget which requires savings for investment promotes prudent spending of time and money. When the amount for spending is reduced in order to invest for private and public benefit, an increased satisfaction is gained by a new evaluation of current needs in terms of making the investment goals possible. It is little wonder then that such War Bond purchasers marvel that current needs are met about as fully as before and the Bond seems to be more of a gift than of a sacrifice of present wants. Savings for buying War Bonds are obtained, therefore, with the least friction of daily living when accompanied by judicious spending.

Farming is an occupation which offers an excellent example of the American principle of free enterprise. Farmers should buy War Bonds and keep them because their industry and efficiency have given them the highest production per man of farmers in any country. Without high production per man, there cannot be much to spend on current needs, much to save for purchase of War Bonds and much to give to any worthy cause. Now that high purchasing power of farm products is accompanied by high physical production of farm products per man, the income of farmers has been increased correspondingly and farmers are able and willing to buy War Bonds. Such purchases are not only a smart investment for high economic and patriotic returns, but farmers can avail themselves of the opportunity today because they do have the money to make the purchase of the War Bonds and should keep them in order to obtain the highest returns on the investment.

Coaching from the sidelines is being given Marine trainee Olshanski by three of the hostesses at the new Ann Arbor community USO just opened Dec. 11. Olshanski, football star and letterman at the University of Michigan, comes from Wausau, Wisconsin. One night at the USO he started to write a letter home to his girl. He got stuck after "Dear Mary." Soon gathered around to help him were Peggy Kahr, Joan Gallup and Dorothy Klittridge.

troops continue to receive a sufficient flow of munitions and supplies and American industry, labor and management in a team—Will not fail them. It is better than an even bet again. This is the time to deliver the goods. Shortening the duration of the war against Germany may save the life of a limb of that kid next door...or perhaps your own son! Stay on your job and buy another bond!

Shortage of manpower for the army and factories shortages of oil and other supplies and inability to overcome the allied superiority in arms and airplanes due to the terrific punishment given to Germany arms plants by Allied bombings—these are the things that are pinching Germany most at present.

Hence the urgency for more increased production in American armament, for more manpower controls for driving ahead to fight both wars at once. Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, and Adm. Ernest J. King recently signed a joint statement warning against optimism over early military victory and urging workers to stay on their jobs. They reported that successful battles such as the Normandy landings, involved heavy equipment loss which must be replaced by American industry, that slackening of production will delay victory.

The W.P.B. reports that over-all war production was 1 per cent below schedule in May with the principal lag being in ammunition, motor vehicles and radio and radar equipment. Material and labor shortages are blamed. It is not generally known that serious shortage of motor trucks compelled the government to recondition used trucks for shipment to our troops overseas. In June the airplane output slumped to 8,024 units from May's total of 8,902 although heavy bombing production exceeded quotas.

The July 11 primary produced two significant results: The victory of Auditor General Vernon J. Brown of Mason over Dr. Eugene C. Keyes of Dearborn for the Republican nomination of Lieutenant governor and the triumph of Edward J. Fry over two opponents. William Cody of Detroit and Earnest Brooks of Holland for the Democratic nomination of governor. The two-to-one vote of Republicans over Democrats has been interpreted widely as a sign of a continued trend of Michigan voters to Republicanism. Marquis Child, newspaper columnist visiting Detroit, reported a Michigan swing to Dewey, a native son.

Democrats will center their efforts to re-elect President Roosevelt as wartime "Commander-in-Chief". This is smart strategy especially so since the Republican nominee was born in 1902 and hence is a "young man" of 42. Edward J. Fry, Democrats standard bearer in Michigan, is expected to rely heavily on the urban vote in industrial centers—such as Detroit and Flint. Fry is an independent who differed with Governors Frank Murphy and Murray Van Wagoner and declined to go along with the state committee headed by Brooks as a tentative nominee. He conducted a vigorous campaign and may produce a surprise or two on the stump before election day. It's Roosevelt and Fry—any resemblance of humor or being purely accidental.
