"POINT-SAVER" MEAL... Here's a low-point and different recipe from our Home Service Department:

Liver Patties
2 lb. pork liver 2 tps. salt
1/2 cup chili sauce 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 cups soft bread crumbs 1/4 tsp. pepper
1 small onion, finely chopped 1 egg
2 tbsps. chopped parsley

Parboil liver 10 minutes. Put through meat grinder, then mix well with all the other ingredients. Shape into patties three inches in diameter and about one inch thick. Wrap with a strip of bacon, and broil about five minutes on each side. Do not have patties too near broiler unit, as liver burns easily. Makes 10 patties.

AMERICAN HEROES

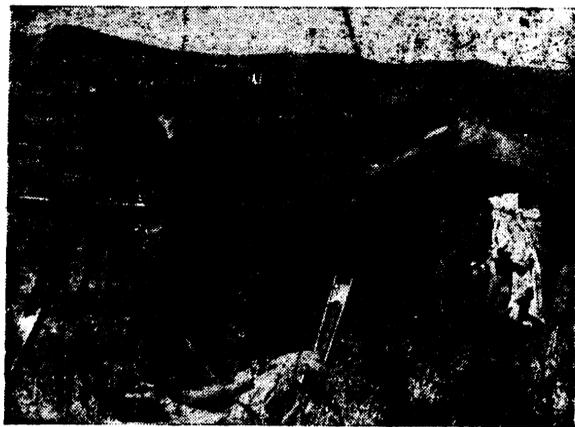

by JULIAN OLLENDORFF

WHEN the tanker Virginia was struck by enemy torpedoes and exploded, Mike Kuzma, seaman, suffered severe burns in the blazing gasoline. He ignored his hurts, however, when he saw two shipmates worse off. He succeeded in towing both men out of the flaming area and supporting them until picked up by a rescue crew. Kuzma was awarded a Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal. Hundreds of thousands of dollars in War Bonds must be sold to replace that tanker and the fuel.

University Offers Many Summer Courses at Campus, Its Camps

Geology students, both men and women, learn how to make a geologic survey and map by actually doing it out at Camp Davis in the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming.

From all indications this will be a busy summer at the University of Michigan. Courses will be given by 16 of the 14 schools and colleges. These are: the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, Engineering, Medicine, Pharmacy, Education, Music, Public Health, Architecture and Design, Forestry and Conservation and the Graduate School.

Up at Douglas Lake near Cheboygan the Biological Station will again be opened for field training work. Courses in music, physical education and youth education will be offered for the first time at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Field courses in geology and surveying will be conducted at Camp Davis in Wyoming. Special courses in education and sociology are offered at the University of Michigan's Fresh Air Camp. The School of Forestry and Conservation maintains Camp Filibert Roth in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. A number of courses will be given at the Rackham Building in Detroit.

WHEN Nazi planes strafed the SS Samuel Parker, setting fire to its cargo of high explosives and aviation gasoline, during unloading operations at a Sicily beachhead, Fred A. Anderson, able seaman, dropped into the hold and extinguished the blaze in the ammunition. Then he went into another hold and put out fires in the gasoline. He was awarded the Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal. War Bonds helped supply the gas, munitions and fire extinguishers.

GEORGE A. VICKERS, master of the SS Nathaniel Greene, has a Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal for heroic maneuvering of that ship during eleven months when it delivered munitions overseas. Surviving 10 torpedo plane and bomber attacks, two submarine and four torpedo onslaughts, it was finally crippled on a trip to Algerian ports, but the master successfully beached it. Laden with cargo that War Bonds helped to buy for our fighting men, it was struck by two torpedoes, yet Vickers got it ashore.

WHEN a Jap 75-mm gun threatened to halt landing parties at Bougainville, Marine Sgt. Robert A. Owens placed four men to cover fire from adjacent bunkers and then charged into the mouth of the cannon. He entered the emplacement through the fire port, drove the gun crew out and insured their destruction before he himself was wounded. War Bonds helped pay for the guns with which his men covered his heroic feat. Sgt. Owens was awarded a Navy Cross.

Wartime Corn Crops Set New High

Heavy Yielding Hybrids, Plus Intelligent Fertilization, Enable Farmers to Produce More Than Three Billion Bushels of Corn Yearly.

CHICAGO—Those bumper corn crops grandfather used to boast about were just drops in the bucket compared to what his grandsons are growing in this Second World war, according to a statement made public here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"In granddad's day," says the statement, "40 acres of corn producing 40 bushels per acre—or a total of 1,600 bushels—was a prime year's work for a farmer. Today, with hybrid corn, there are plenty of farms where one man alone can produce between 5,000 and 6,000 bushels per season."

"Several factors have been responsible for modern record-breaking corn yields. One is the switch from open-pollinated varieties to heavy-yielding hybrids. Another is the increasing knowledge by farmers of how to fertilize hybrid corn which takes far more nourishment per acre out of the soil than did its lower yielding granddaddy. A third is the wartime contribution of the fertilizer industry in producing vast quantities of plant food in time to meet the unprecedented demands. In spite of labor shortages, transportation bottlenecks, scarcity of materials and overworked machinery, fertilizer manufacturers have established a remarkable record of performance.

"It is estimated that more corn was fertilized through-out the Corn Belt state last year than ever before in history. Test and research by agronomists at state agricultural experiment stations have been of tremendous value in increasing the farmer's knowledge of how to fertilize hybrid corn."

SOME VICTORY RULES FOR CANNING VICTORY VEGETABLES

Canning without rules is like driving in a strange country without a road map—one is likely to go in the wrong direction. The wrong direction in canning leads to spoiled food—loss of essential food through spoilage is deplorable and unnecessary in time of peace and war.

Clayton K. Kumbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, gives the following sure-fire rules for successful home-canning:

1. Use jars intended for home-canning. Every one of them has a name lettered on the side.
2. Examine every jar to make sure that it is in good condition. Give special attention to the top edges of Mason jars. Most of them must be sealed with glass top seal closures or two-piece metal vacuum seals, because the zinc that used to go into the one-piece Mason caps has gone to the battle front. The glass top and vacuum seals can take the zinc cap's place on the home front only when used on jars with perfect top edges.
3. Do not stretch rubbers to test.
4. Wash and rinse jars, lids and rubbers. Then cover jars, zinc caps, and glass lids with lukewarm water, heat to boiling, and keep hot. Jars and lids to be used for old-fashioned open-kettle canning must be boiled 20 to 30 minutes. Wash rubbers and vacuum-seal lids, drop into boiling water, and keep hot until needed if to be used for processing (cooking food in jars). They must be boiled to sterilize for open-kettle canning.
5. Get canners and jars ready before starting to prepare vegetables.
6. Use vegetables that are fresh from the garden. The alien enemies, mold, yeast and bacteria stand ready to sabotage any and all vegetables left standing over night or all through a long, hot morning.
7. Be sure that everything to be canned is at the right stage for canning. Shelled beans and peas should be young and tender—a few over-size or over-mature ones can cause the loss of the whole batch. The pods of string beans should be crisp and meaty—corn in full milk stage—and tomatoes red-ripe, firm, and sound. Wash all fruits and vegetables before breaking the skins.
8. Hot-pack all vegetables except tomatoes. Let pack means to cook the food a few minutes, then pour it into hot jars for processing. This is also the best way to can most fruits.
9. Fill no more jars at a time than your canner will hold.
10. Leave ample head space and leave a half-inch between jars in the canner. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
11. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
12. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
13. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
14. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
15. Set hot jars on a flat surface as soon as they are cooled. Do not move them until they are completely dry.
16. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.
17. Do not use a hot water bath for all jars. Use a hot water bath for all jars that are not sealed with vacuum seals. Use a pressure canner for all jars sealed with vacuum seals before the war. Do not tighten caps until the jars are cooled.

Red Cross War Fund Head Enlists Full Public Support

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Urging each American citizen to consider the Red Cross as his personal emissary to his particular serviceman, Colby M. Chester, chairman of the 1945 American Red Cross War Fund campaign, today asked all Americans to give to their fullest ability in support of the 1945 national goal of $200,000,000.

"Those of us who must stay at home and fight by doing our daily tasks as efficiently as possible," he said, "like to feel that though we are not beside Johnny Jim or Bob on the battle field, we do have a personal ambassador in each of the ten thousand Red Cross workers now serving with the troops overseas."

Opening March 1 and continuing throughout the entire month, the third Red Cross War Fund will not only fill intensified needs on advancing war fronts, but will provide needed services to those who have returned from action, their families, their buddies awaiting transportation overseas, and their friends and neighbors at home in time of natural or war-caused emergency.

More than 3,000,000 volunteer soldiers stand ready to aid in local collections in every American community. Each will devote his time and effort toward reaching the goal so that men and women in military service will know the Red Cross "is standing right with them, right up to and beyond the day of peace and victory," Mr. Chester explained.

Without personal gain or remuneration, the 3,000,000 men and women volunteer canvassers will represent 3,756 Red Cross chapters throughout the nation. Seeking from door to door those contributions which will not be made through factory, office, school or theatre, each will carry an official identification card for the protection of the householder. For the most part, however, such identification will be unnecessary because the solicitor will be a neighbor or friend. To each contributor, he will give a red, white and blue window sticker bearing the well-known Red Cross emblem.

PAST MASTERS NIGHT BANQUET

John Martin gave a memorial for the late Kirk VanWinkle past master and Rev. McClucas one for Lucius Wilson. A life membership was presented to Dr. George Pearson who has completed 40 years membership, by Ona Campbell and it was received in proxy by Paul Clark. Both are cousins of Dr. Pearson.

Clifford Miller, youngest past master received his past masters apron, the presentation being made by Wesley Reader, W. M.

Congressman William W. Blackney, a member of Genesee Lodge, Flint, delivered a fine address on his recent tour of Naval bases in the Pacific, as a member of the naval committee. He traveled 27000 miles by plane, visiting Pearl Harbor, Saipan, Guam, Guadalcanal and all of the places taken by the US troops in the Pacific. He came out 100 percent in favor of not scrapping a single ton of the navy after the war and continued possession of all strategic naval bases. If we give them up he said some other country will take them. He found the boys in the service well fed and clothed, condition sanitary and they were getting plenty of cigars, and cigarettes sold there for 2c per package. The congressman was accompanied by his son, Jack Another son, Bill, has been in service three years and was in the invasion of New Guinea. His son, Jack, has been rejected twice.

Following this the Mees of Lansing, a father and daughter combination, of piano and soloist put on their entertainment and Bill Gibson of Detroit, a Scotchman, put on a Harry Lauder act in fine style.

The grand lodge officers were then introduced and spoke briefly or merely took a bow. Dr. Francis B. Lambie, past grand master and present grand lecturer, made the address of the evening. He is one of the best Masonic speakers in the state if not in the nation and his address was forcible and to the point as he discussed present day Masonry and the problems the war had thrust upon it. Incidentally Michigan Masonry gained 8000 members last year. he stated.

Following this the past masters and masters were introduced and the visiting Masons in group. The following: Livingston Lodge Past Masters were present: Clifford Miller, Ona Campbell, Ross Read, Glenn Slayton, C. W. Hooker, H. C. Vedder, P. W. Curlett, J. H. Hooker, Percy Ellis, Paul Clark and John R. Martin.

About 40 lodges were represented, including 2 from outstate, White Bear Minn., and DeGoffe, Ohio. All neighboring lodges were represented and also Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Flint, Saginaw, Redford, Farmington, Milan and Dearborn.

Thus endeth an important episode in the annals of the local Masonic

ONE GOOD REASON TO INCREASE YOUR SAVINGS
Most post-war plans provide for continued high wages. This course must mean higher costs for the things we will want to buy. We hear about automobiles costing 20 to 30 percent more than in 1941, when we are able to buy them and other things in proportion. It would seem to be good reason that we should save an extra amount now so that we can have the things we want when they become available. Buy more war bonds and put more in your savings account to meet the added costs.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank all my friends who remembered me in so many ways during my illness. Mrs. James Roche

Again the sentimentalists are agitating that all soldiers and servicemen now in action be brought back and given a vacation and their places be filled by men who have not yet seen action. With the end of the war in sight this suggestion is impractical and foolish and would only prolong the war. A system of furlough rotation has been worked out whereby service men who have served three years are allowed furloughs but in such small numbers as not to disrupt the organization. The army command should be allowed to run the war and not the fire-side generals at home.

CARD OF THANKS
To the voters of Putnam township: I wish to say that I am perfectly satisfied with the election returns. I am sure Mr. Hendee will make you a good supervisor and want to wish him all the success in the world. Yours, Norman Benson.
