In Which the Michigan Mirror Takes a Look at the Agricultural Situation

Michigan is the Governor's state of the most perfect poison which could be circulated against an individual. Target of the gossip was Ann Sigler, special prosecutor for the Lansing grand jury trials witness to the late included two upstate newspaper editors.

Permittent to this incident is the following comment expressed by Nelson D. Brown in the Michigan County News weekly newspaper at Mason scene of many grand jury trials:

The stories which were circulated a year ago during the trial conspiracy trial are being pointed again. Such as the grand jury is spending too much money, no man is worth $50,000 or $200 (whatever the peddler says) $100 per day as a lawyer wage near the one about him back there in Barry county, and Judge Carl ... on the supreme court ... a few new stories being ... circulation and we can ... others within a few weeks.

Last year at this time the stories being printed did not appear to have any particular source they seemed to be just imagination. I think now though leads some people to believe that the stories are planted purposely by interests who have to use in the jurors enter the jury room free from bias and prejudice.

We are glad to welcome the summer visitors to our church. Guest soloist for Sunday will be Miss Mary Jane Shepherd of the Y. W.C.A. camp staff.

The initial costs of the present war will be little compared to the after costs. We notice that the American Legion has started a campaign to have the government pay the expenses of every Gold Star mother who has a son buried in Europe or South Pacific to that place to see her sons grave. Such a bill was passed after World War I. Also there was undoubtedly be a movement to bring many of the G.I. boys buried in foreign countries home for reburial. This was done after World War I. The charge was made that the American undertakers were behind the move but no attempt was made to prove it and the appropriation was made. So many bodies were brought back from Russia that a new cemetery known as Whitechapel cemetery near Birmingham was started to receive them. Those who are only a few of the after costs the people will be obliged to pay.

Sum clearance has been a fond dream of cities for many years but opposition on the part of real estate men blocked it because they prefer the development to be in new sections of the suburbs where their profits is greater. Landlords are opposed because the ramshackle buildings in congested city areas yield big revenue and cost little for repairs or improvements. Here unsanitary conditions prevail which are tolerated for the sake of profit. This desire to block progress for the sake of private profit shows up in the attempt of the city of Detroit to get an air field. Site after site has been selected by the city in outlying districts only to be blocked by lawsuits and injunctions filed by property owners in the district where the sites are located. The main complaint is that it will depreciate the value of surrounding property. Former Sen. Arthur Wood disputes this. He said he had been an investor in real estate for years and always found that location of airport tended to increase real estate values in these sections.

It is time the race question was faced and some solution arrived at. Ever since the civil war which freed the negroes and made them citizens the attempts to solve this question have been ridiculous. After the civil war an attempt was made to solve it by establishing a nation in Africa called Liberia and sending the negroes there. However, it was inadequate to house them all. Many negroes did not desire to go there and there was no way to force them to. Negroes have earned good wages of late years and many of them have sought better living conditions than the crowded slums of the cities. Two farms here have been sold to colored people recently. Also one in Uxbridge, one near Fowlerville. At Howell 500 acre farm will be developed as a negro recreational project. Race riots are a waste of time as they do nothing to solve the question which should be considered without bias or prejudice.

On July 15 an interesting program was arranged for the evening service by the teachers who are here for the Summer Bible School. This was followed by an address by Rev. ... from Adrian, Michigan.

Rev. Beachey is scheduled to go to Elkhart, Ind., on July 21 on Committee work for the Indiana Michigan Christian Workers Conference.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Attitude of Sergt. Fred Heasel

Who has lost both legs and parts of both arms should be inspiration to all other persons who have suffered amputations. He was wounded a little explosion on Okinawa on June 2 and suffered the amputations. He brought to Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek where he was joined by his wife. His case has been an example to all other wounded G.I. boys there. He plans to go into chicken business when he gets his artificial arms and limbs and his friends in Highland Park, his former home, have taken up a collection to buy him a farm. The St. Louis team in the American League is featuring a one armed player named Pete Gray whom they signed after a successful year in the southern league. He has made numerous appearances before civic clubs and wounded soldiers.

Washington also has a pitcher who lost one leg. He is used mostly in batting practice but pitched part of charity game for them last week. Science and surgery has made wonderful strides in plastic arms and leg and the days when persons who had suffered amputations sat on street corners selling shoe strings and pencils is apparently past.

The initial costs of the present war will be little compared to the after costs. We notice that the American Legion has started a campaign to have the government pay the expenses of every Gold Star mother who has a son buried in Europe or South Pacific to that place to see her sons grave. Such a bill was passed after World War I. Also there was undoubtedly be a movement to bring many of the G.I. boys buried in foreign countries home for reburial. This was done after World War I. "The electric life is the only life!"

"I've been a dealer in electric appliances for fifteen years, with a close view of the amazing progress made toward providing the 'electric life.' I don't believe many people fully realize yet that the 'electric life' is practical right now! They aren't familiar with the variety of labor-saving devices that appliance manufacturers have developed... have proved in use... and will again make available at reasonable prices. Quite a while ago only those with better incomes could afford to use electric appliances. Today there are few people who can afford not to use electric appliances, because of the savings in time, labor and money that they provide. I'm now telling my customers about all the modern appliances for modern living—automatic washers, ironers, garbage disposal units, ranges, dishwashers, water heaters, extension, home furnaces, automatic blankets, air conditioners and so on. I'm giving my customers to show their ways of doing things... to recognize the old-fashioned ways they cling to... to find out the cost of doing things the modern way. I believe that in almost every case they'll decide that the old-fashioned way is the wasteful way. They'll all be turning on the electric life when appliances are again available."

WOULDN'T it be tough if your family's food had to be bought at auction, where goods go to the highest bidder?

That's just what rationing and top legal prices for food aim to prevent. They give everyone an equal portion, at a fixed price. And this is vitally necessary, since the American food supply—despite greatly increased production—cannot meet all the wartime demands at home and abroad.

You can help greatly in this food shortage—help your country, and help yourself—by treating food as the vital war material it is. Here are four things you can do:

1. PRODUCE FOOD, where and when you can. Farmers are urged to meet farm goals. City families are urged to plan a bigger Victory Garden, to help out on a farm or in a food processing plant if possible.
2. CONSERVE FOOD. Can and preserve food. Cut waste. Stretch your food supply by substituting plentiful for scarce foods. Balance your meals for good nutrition.
3. SHARE FOOD. Put the war's food demand's first. Share the supplies willingly with your armed forces, your Allies, your neighbors.

4. PLAY SQUARE WITH FOOD. Accept no rationed foods without giving up ration stamps. Pay no more than top legal prices under any circumstances.

THE MICHIGAN MIRROR

Remember the Living Letter cancellations at the Ironwood postoffice just before Memorial Day increased 65 per cent over 1944 as a result of a community program sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars, to those hospitalized in veterans hospitals. A.B. Johnson patriotic instructor of the state department sparked the idea with this appeal. Let's try to make Memorial Day something besides an empty gesture. Just another holiday.

With a group of Northern Michigan boosters we traveled the waterway on one of three Chris-Craft speedboats loaned by Robert Graham one of the three Graham brothers of Detroit automobile fame. About half a century ago before advent of the automobile, resorters induced Congress to declare the route a federal controlled waterway. Neglect followed. New resorters are trying to interest the federal government or the state conservation department to do something about boating hazards.

Lt. Col. George Bond retired army engineer scolded sportsmen at a luncheon. He said they could easily get $25 to $50 millions from Congress if they (organized) State conservation officials estimated a satisfactory job could be done for $5,000 or so a year.

Cost of Government has a tendency to rise in proportion to its distance from local taxpayers. Here is a good illustration.

Continued Inflation All economic signs point toward a continuation in 1945 of today's war-time inflation President Truman recently signed a bill reducing the gold coverage of Federal Reserve Notes from 40 to 25 percent. This authority would permit the Treasury to issue $30 billions of more greenbacks. This possible plus the soaring national indebtedness and record breaking accumulation of private savings are prompting nervous investors to turn to land, stocks and goods of all kind as a hedge. Parimutuel betting on horse races has extended to Northville and Jackson. Michigan state police confiscate from 25 to 30 slot machines monthly on an average from taverns and restaurants.

Post War Boom: Instead of deflation the post war years will bring big splurge in buying. Yet studies of the Office of Civilian Refirements and the Census (Department of Commerce) indicate that consumers will rely on installments to finance much of new households goods. To a surprising degree, the American public will hang onto war bonds whose value increase 33 1/3 per cent in ten years. Memories are still fresh of the Great Depression of only 10 to 15 years ago.
