5 YEAR POST-WAR PROGRAM

Its wartime operations at an end the Mich. Bell Telephone Co. today announced that it has launched a $120,000,000 five-year postwar construction program.

George M. Welch, president of the company, said the program will include the erection of 49 new buildings and 13 major additions to present buildings, expenditures of $50,000,000 for new central office equipment, long distance cable containing 50,000 miles of wire and cables for local calls with enough wire to encircle the globe more than a hundred times.

Construction already is underway on $5,000,000 worth of projects and engineering preliminaries have been completed on about one-fourth the total program, Welch said.

The proposed program, largest in the history of the company, over a comparable period, will increase the size of the Michigan Bell system nearly 50 percent. It will reach out virtually all of the company's 252 exchanges. Interrupted by war the company's rural expansion and improvement projects will be resumed at a cost of more than $13,000,000.

Welch said the program will provide telephone jobs not only for the company's 2800 employees in the armed forces but also for 2,000 new telephone workers. In addition, thousands of jobs will be provided indirectly for employees of subcontractors, builders and suppliers.

Citing the company's No. 1 objective as providing service for the 125,000 now on the waiting list, Welch cautioned against undue optimism. Although our postwar job is started and will be accelerated as rapidly as possible," he said, "it is of such magnitude that we still must ask the public co-operation and patience."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shehan (Georgia Packer) at St. Joe hospital, Ann Arbor Sept. 11, a 9 lb 6 oz. son.

Sunday callers at the Harry Lee home were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fitzgerald of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrett of Toledo. Mr. Barrett was formerly station agent at Lakeland.

Michigan Mirror

In Which the Michigan Mirror Takes a Look at the Agricultural Side

This Michigan metro is of more than 1,500,000 inhabitants is still the world's automobile center and is still having labor troubles.

A vocal minority in the newly organized automobile industry is chiefly responsible for the current plague of strikes. Oddly enough, the labor conflict is occurring just at a time when labor leaders are yodeling the loud shout of Washington, the rise of unemployment during reconversion and the resultant need of more employment opportunities for jobless veterans.

Gov. Kelly is asked to call a special session of the state legislature Michigan unemployment benefits among the highest in the nation would be boosted to $20 per week.

Dynamic Detroit accounted the world's output of munitions. Perhaps it is inevitable that labor should try to hold onto its wartime boom earnings.

Overtime beyond the 40 hour week plus double time for Sundays and holidays, attenuated the Detroit war worker's purse to a degree unknown in pre-war days.

The sight of negro workers flocking into ritzy Detroit style shops and paying inflated prices for clothing and garments was commonplace here during the war in constant need of more workers to fulfil bumper government contracts, manufacturers welcomed the arrival of Negroes, and whites for the Middle South and the Deep South. An abundance of labor contributed in part to the success of Detroit industry in meeting Washington's demand for more and more tanks, more and more planes and more and more of everything else essential to victory.

Now that the war is over and with it the bonanza of overtime earnings has come to an end, labor is fighting to retain its recently won benefits. Workers are resisting the inevitable adjustment to peacetime production.

The viewpoint of management in Sept. strikes is expressed by Henry Ford II, executive vice-president of the Ford Motor Co. He said recently:

"They talk about 66,000,000 jobs. How can there be that many jobs when the worker quits before reconversion gets under way? Perhaps the labor unions have no responsibilities or refuse to accept them. The fact about strikes now, however, is that the average worker fails to realize the consequences of the strike. It not only cuts his own throat, the strikes now are a serious impediment to the reconversion effort."

The strike situation is a paradox to the demand of the U. A. W.-C.I.O. for full employment or governmental subsidy and deficit financing.

Victor G. Reuther, official of the U. A. W., served notice on Michigan newspaper editors at Ann Arbor, nearly a year ago, that he was willing to scrap the system which has given Americans the highest living standards on earth if private enterprise failed to create 60,000,000 jobs after the war.

Just as the government footed the bill during the war, so the government should make possible a continuance of war prosperity during the peacetime. This is the viewpoint of R. J. Thomas, president of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. who recently advocated that the government pay a bonus of $1,000 to each war worker at the time of severance from employment.

Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach, in his Labor Day address, cautioned organized labor to execute greater responsibility for the public good or risk restrictive action by the federal government. A quotation: "We cannot have full employment unless we have full production of goods and services. And we cannot have full production unless we have full consumption. And we cannot have any productive machine is stalled and our power to consume diminished as a result of chaotic industrial relations."

CURRENT COMMENT

The antics of Frank McKay and his associates at Mason in seizing every opportunity to delay their trial there reminds one of drowning men catching at straws. They fear that King's prosecutor has the goods on them this time and conviction is certain. That is why they are taking advantage of every technicality to delay and stall off the trial. So their gains by these tactics have been but slight. Yet it was but a few short years ago that McKay was all powerful and got about what he demanded in Michigan. In 1938 he backed the late Frank Fitzgerald a staunch champion of his, for governor and despite the fight waged against McKayism in the primaries by Harry Toy, former supreme court justice, Fitzgerald was nominated and elected, mostly by rural voters. McKay was all powerful after Fitzgerald took office but the latter lived only a few months. Gov. Dickinson who succeeded him devoted most of his time to fighting sin and ignored state affairs with the result McKay did about as he pleased and expanded his activities in all directions. This got him indicted by a federal grand jury but his cries of persecution got him a disagreement and finally an acquittal. Now the case is much stronger against him as many of those who were defendants with him previously have pled guilty and will be witnesses against him. The people of Michigan are watching his maneuvering with interest but they have the greatest confidence in Judge Leland Carr, an old Pinckney boy who is rated one of the top circuit Judges of Michigan.

Crimes are sometimes committed in the name of religion and such a case has cropped up in Virginia. Rev. Harvey Kirk has been arrested for manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, Anna, 26. The cult believes that if they become sufficient filled with the divine spirit they can be bitten by poisonous snakes without suffering any ill effects and snakes are a part of their religion. At the recent ceremony snakes were released among the worshippers and one bit Mrs. Kirk, causing her death. This is only one of the many screw ball sects who have found the religious racket a profitable field to work.

The war veterans are entitled to all the rights and privileges they have coming to them but we think they stray far afield in some ways. The Veterans of Foreign Wars have requested the State Liquor Control Commission to resist the rule barring all boys below the age of 21 years from beer gardens and liquor dispensing places as far as it refers to war veterans in uniform. Their contention is that war veterans are entitled to the full privileges of citizenship including free access to all drinking places. This seems a bit far fetched. An effort was made last fall to lower the voting age to 18 as far as war veterans were concerned but it never got anywhere.

President Truman's 18000 word message to congress is the second largest ever delivered and touched on a number of important things. In particular he said the proposals to coolish all war time controls now in force would lead to great confusion and chaos in government. However he added war time controls now in force would be abolished one by one as soon as it was possible to do so. He also promised a full congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster. Malcolm Bingray terms this a dead horse and says all the investigations in the world won't bring back to life the people who were killed there. A Democrat sponsored resolution provides for a joint investigation by a committee of congressmen and senators numbering ten of which not more than 6 shall be Democrats. The work must be completed by Jan. 1, 1946.

Detroit will go back on slow time on Sept. 30. Ann Arbor, Lansing Howell will do likewise and this will force the rest of the towns in this section to do likewise. This will work out all right for the winter months but undoubtedly there will be an attempt to have fast time in spring. A great majority of workers are for it as it gives them a longer evening. In a number of places where it was submitted to a vote fast time carried.

Livingston Chapter O.E.S. No. 145 was awarded the first prize for having the largest attendance percentage at the four county Friendship meetings and county convention at the convention at Fowlerville last Thursday night.

Clarence Culver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Culver, was married Saturday to Miss Margaret Meyers daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyers, at Detroit.

Miss Betty Lou Ritter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ritter of Whitmore Lake and Ronald Campbell of Hamburg were married at Brighton Saturday by Rev. Maurice Kisanen.

The facts about the ELECTRIC APPLIANCE SITUATION

People come into our offices—and to department stores, hardware stores and other appliance dealers—with one question uppermost in their minds: "When can I get a new electric iron? Or an electric clock? Or a washer? I understand they're being made again. And I've seen them advertised in the magazines."

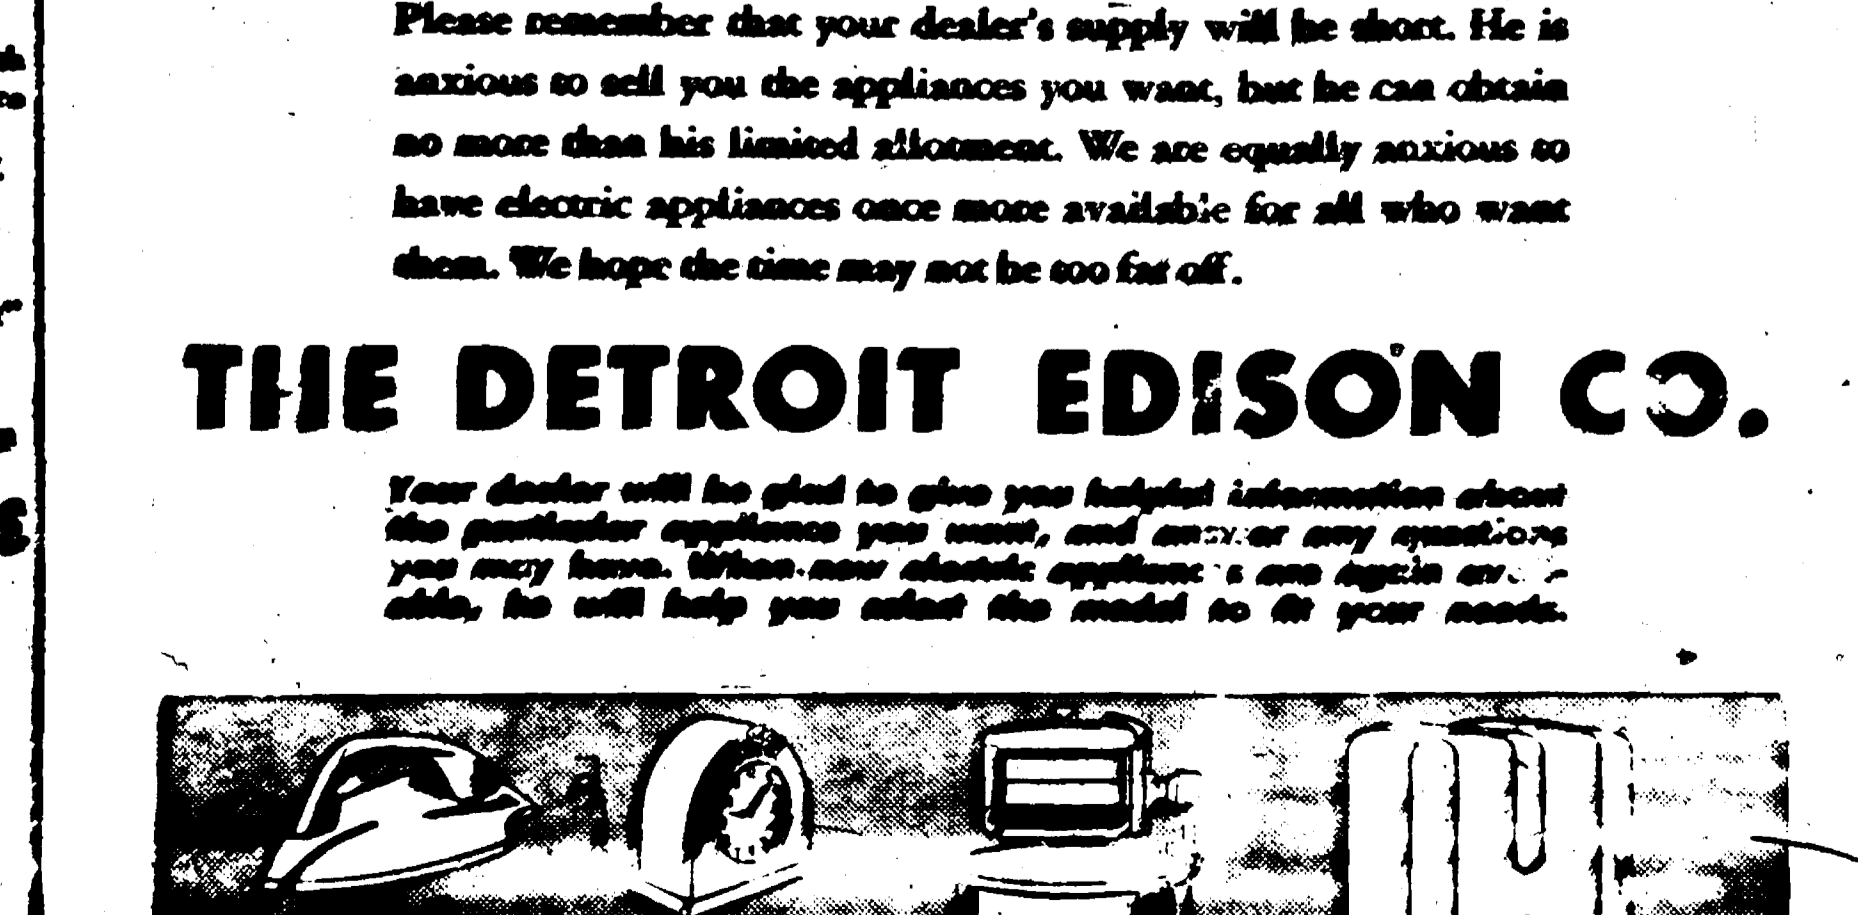

Here are the facts about the electric appliance situation. Manufacturers are resuming production of a limited number of appliances. Until they can reconvert their plants to full peacetime operation, the number built during the first few months will be small.

The demand will far exceed the supply. At least at first, what appliances are available will be spread so thin among the various appliance dealers that there will be very few on any one dealer's shelves. It may be a year before the supply is plentiful—perhaps longer. The first appliances released by manufacturers will go to department stores, hardware stores, home appliance shops, etc.—dealers whose very existence depends upon the sale of merchandise. The Detroit Edison Company—because it handles appliances only incidentally to its principal business of selling electric service—will be among the last to get them. Our policy has always been "See your dealer first." Until the dealers' shelves are stocked, we shall have very few electric appliances for sale.

Please remember that your dealer's supply will be short. He is anxious to sell you the appliances you want, but he can obtain no more than his limited allotment. We are equally anxious to have electric appliances once more available for all who want them. We hope the time may not be too far off.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

Your dealer will be glad to give you helpful information about the particular appliance you want, and answer any questions you may have. When new electric appliances are again available, he will help you select the model to fit your needs.

In the Hour of Triumph

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise . . . the materials and resources . . . with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

ONLY ONE out of ten rural telephones was dial operated in 1937. Today two out of three have dial service. That illustrates some of the progress that has been made in improving rural telephone service.

Now that the war is over, bringing dial service to still more rural customers is only one of many improvements Michigan Bell plans to make as rapidly as sufficient materials, trained manpower and manufacturing facilities become available.

We have developed important new devices and construction methods which will make telephone service available to more rural folks. We intend to add more lines so there will be fewer parties per line.

We are conducting market and rural opinion surveys, so that we can more exactly meet the wants of telephone users. We are studying special features designed to make telephone service more valuable.

This indicates the way we are resuming our rural construction and improvement program. The program began long before the war. In 1940 we incorporated into it a rural construction plan suggested by the Michigan Rural Communications Committee, a group of agricultural leaders. But the entire program had to be curtailed because of wartime shortages.

Its resumption is an important part of Michigan Bell's 5-year, $120,000,000 post-war expansion and improvement program. Of course, it will take time, for much telephone construction is slow, painstaking hand work.

However, we will work constantly toward our goal of providing the best possible rural service, to the largest number of people, at the lowest possible cost.
