News and happenings of the State Today Told from Lansing

In his meeting with the mayors and school heads Gov. Kim Sigler tried to pass the buck for the state financial muddle onto them by asking them to repeal the sales tax diversion or suggest new taxes to replace it. The governor's idea is if they suggest new taxes he will demand repeal and the voters can choose between the two alternatives in April.

Whether the governor can shove the mayors and school heads out on a limb or not he will try to. He evidently thinks he can.

This latest move reminds one of a super chess or poker game at which millions are at stake. The players are the governor and legislature versus the mayors and school officials with the public as usual in the middle.

In his message to the legislature Jan. 30, the governor said he would not support a sales tax diversion repeal unless it was accompanied by a definite guarantee to the schools & cities that their problems would be fairly considered by the legislature.

Now who would give this definite guarantee & who would enforce it? In his inaugural message the governor came out for no new taxes and no deficit. It was Gov. Comstock who sponsored the sales tax the unpopularity of which cost him reelection, through strange to say no succeeding governor or legislature in the past 18 years has changed a single item in it.

It is almost a forgone conclusion the governor will ask repeal. In his message of the 30th he said only by stopping old age assistance and welfare, curtailing state service and closing the prisons asylums hospitals and colleges could the state balance the budget.

DETROIT EDISON BEGINS FOUR-YR. BUILDING PLAN

The Detroit Edison Company this month began a four-year construction program which calls for the expenditure of $98,000,000 and which will increase the power-producing capacity of the system by 22.4 per cent. Expenditures for 1947 will approximate $20,000,000.

Out of the $98,000,000 will come the final payment on a 100,000 horsepower turbo-generator at the Marysville plant which will be put into operation on March 1st. Out of that sum also will come the first payment on the installation of two 133,000 horsepower turbo-generators at the Trenton Channel Plant. The first of these two turbo-generators is scheduled to go into service in 1949; the second, later. Their total cost, with housing, boilers, stacks and other necessary equipment will be from twenty-six to thirty million dollars.

Costs of the 1947 program are divided approximately as follows:

Power Plants, $3,000,000.

Sub-stations, $4,000,000.

Overhead and underground transmission lines, $2,500,000.

Feeder lines, transformers, new meters, $4,500,000.

Buildings, steam heating and gas extensions, $3,000,000.

Land, $2,000,000.

Construction and automotive equipment, $1,000,000.

Here is why the job must be done. Detroit Edison's total power output in 1946 was 2 1/2 per cent over 1945 production. Twice in December the output hit an all-time high. That includes, of course, the heaviest demands of the war days when the great industrial plants were running in eight-hour shifts around the clock.

Production in 1946 surpassed that in 1945 because of the steadily increasing demand from residential, farm and commercial customers. Company officials expect that the increased use of electricity by these three classes of customers will be continuing.

Use by industrial customers was retarded in the early months of 1946, but rose steadily later in the year and is expected to increase sharply early this year.

"Through many years the Detroit Edison Company has successfully anticipated the growth of Detroit and Southeastern Michigan in terms of people, homes, stores and factories," Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board, explained. "Merchants, housewives and industrialists have found power in the lines ready for use as soon as connections could be made. Detroiters have come to accept the availability of electricity as they do the air from the open window. But that availability of power has been no happenstance, no gift from nature. The power is there because of careful planning and prompt action.

"That is no boast. It is a statement of policy and procedure. We believe that unless we act now we may find ourselves unable to meet the demands of the not too distant future. Obviously it is our obligation to provide power when the people need it, not a year, or two years later. We are not expanding our productive capacity because we heard someone make a speech about 'the glorious future' of Southeastern Michigan. We are prepared to spend nearly $25,000,000 a year for the next four years because sober judgment convinces us that such an expenditure is necessary."

The turbo-generators to be installed at Trenton Channel will be the largest of any in the company's four power plants. When operating at full load, each of these generators will require 1,900,000 pounds of high pressure, high temperature steam each hour. To create this steam its boilers will use 1,000 tons of coal and 400,000 tons of condensed water a day. Each generator will produce enough electricity to meet the residential, commercial and industrial needs of the average city of 200,000 population.

Plans for 1947 include the construction of:

The proposed governor's mansion at Lansing which so far, consists of nothing but drawings, is having all sorts of fun poked at it. One reporter dubs it a cross between the famous Taj Mahal of India and Cascades at Jackson. The walls and chimney are strawberry color, the roof of copper, tinted robin egg blue. It is 100 feet long, 50 wide, with 60 foot courts, swimming pool etc. The legislature appropriated the sum of $75,000 for the site and plans. It will cost $125,000 more to finish it. Kim Sigler will need more suits to match the different tinted rooms. Seriously though he cannot be blamed for the rainbow effects as the architect was hired before he ever thought of being governor.

Cold Weather

This section experienced its coldest weather last Wednesday and Thursday. A snow storm Wednesday was followed by a blizzard storm which froze, leaving roads very slippery. Busses and mails were late and the school bus did not make any trips Thursday and Friday. The county road commission and highway dept were short of equipment as their push plows made no impression on the ice and it was not until Friday that the crossroads passable.

This is not like the old days we remember at one time in the winter of 1912-13 Pinckney was shut off from the world for a week by a big snow storm. Pinckney was dependent on the Grand Trunk railroad and no trains came here for 7 day during which time the town was without mail, papers, bread, groceries etc. The cut at the Fred Teeple farm was drifted full and snow plow got the main lines cleared off. At one time a train got stuck in the snow that winter at the Teeple farm and Fred had to board the passengers over night. Such things could not happen today.

ROBBERY WAS A FAKE

The loss by theft of nearly $38,000 in war bonds at the Joseph Clark sr near Brighton has been solved and Joseph Clark jr. has been guilty to reporting a false robbery. Suspicion was directed to him when $10,000 worth of bonds belonging to him were cashed in a Detroit bank and the signature on the bonds was found to be his. The other bonds belonging to his father were mailed back to him from Pontiac. Clark is said to have taken his family to church, left during the service, got bonds and returned to church. His object was to prevent his wife who has filed suit for divorce from getting the bonds.

V.F.W. SCHOLARSHIP

The first test was given on Tuesday an. 21, to the Senior Class members who are competing for the $500 V. F. W. Scholarship.

The advanced series of the California Test of Mental Maturity was chosen as the first test. It has five divisions: Memory, Spatial Relationships, Logical Reasoning, Numerical Reasoning and Vocabulary. There are 253 possible points with 170 and above being superior. This test has been given to 48,000 students and the Pinckney class average was in the upper 29% of those who have taken a similar test.

Another test will be given in May and the Senior with highest average will be awarded the scholarship. The following is a list of the highest students with their scores:

- Richard Young 175
- Thomas Clark 178
- Kenneth Moldman 171
- Lillian Bobon 170
- James Gardner 170
- Cecile Hurlbise 164

Current Comment

The financial situation in Michigan appears to be very unsteady. The state budget for 1947 is a muddle of cuts and school heads last week and the meeting seems to have accomplished little. The mayors and school heads tried to pin the governor down to a promise not to ask repeal of the sales tax diversion but he refused when they voted to right any repeal attempt to the bitter end. The governor asked the mayors and schools to submit a financial plan to him by Wednesday (today) by which the money lost by the tax diversion would be replaced. As he delivers his budget speech Thursday the plan will cut but little figure as his speech will be made up before it reaches him. The Detroit Teachers Federation served notice they would take a strike vote soon. With this threat facing them the cities and schools can be depended on to use all means to retain the sales tax diversion funds. The state association of supervisors in session last week laid the mess directly at the door of former Gov. Kelly and the legislature. They said the governor and the legislature refused to listen to their recommendation that an equitable share of the sales tax be returned to the cities, counties and townships and the diversion amendment resulted.

There seems to be two schools of thought in the Republican party. One is in favor of tax exemptions that will chiefly benefit the rich and the other would help the people in the lower income group by raising the exemptions. The two lines of thought nearly resulted in a battle last week in the congress cafeteria between Congressman Knutson of Minnesota and Engle of Michigan. Knutson introduced a bill to reduce all income taxes 20 percent. Engle blasted it in a speech, saying passage of the Knutson bill would mean defeat of the Republicans in 1948. He advocated helping the people of small incomes by raising the exemptions. When the two met in the cafeteria they grappled with each other before being separated. Engle is known for his war expenditure investigations and his attempts to cut expenditures. Knutson is a hard conservative of the old school.

Statisticians have revealed that the price of a roast beef dinner has dropped 89c since last Nov. 15. There have been numerous indications that the attempts to hold the high prices of food up were in vain. First there was the potato superabundance. Then we hear the same exists with regard to onions. There are just more of them than the people can consume. Butter did a nose dive and pork and beef and many other articles which had been missing from store shelves for years are again plentiful. A gradual reduction is what the government is trying to bring about but if the supply becomes too great it may burst all controls and mean disaster. All remember the '86 wheat of the Hoover administration.

We seem to be stepping out of our foreign commitments as rapidly as possible. During the late war China was praised to the skies for her brave stand against the Japs, American money and munitions were showered on them and American officers sent to train them. It is partially due to the large armies Japan had to keep in China she lost the war. There was even agitation for naming China one of the four world powers the others being United States, Great Britain and Russia. At that time China consisted of 2 parties, the Royalists and Communists but both fought the Japs and we aided both. With the withdrawal the two Chinese parties are again locked in combat and the efforts of Gen. Marshall to assemble a coalition government has failed, also China's chance of becoming a world power. Commercial relations will continue for China has been the world's richest market for a thousand years and will continue to be.

Lem's Dogs vs Thad's Chickens

Running a newspaper, you get to know a lot about human nature. Thad Phipps was in the other day, all burned up. Wanted me to run an item on how Lem Martin's dog had raided his chickens again, and ought to be put away by law. I told him: "Lem was in on Saturday. Said you shouldn't be allowed to keep those chickens so close to his house—and in a residential zone, at that." Thad shuts up right pronto then. And that very evening I see him making his peace with Lem tion of seven new sub-stations in the Detroit metropolitan area and twelve elsewhere in Detroit Edison territory. The largest of these projects is a new station near Inkster to meet the rapidly increasing load in this territory. Others will be located at St. Clair Shores, at Van Dyke and Ten Mile Roads, at Carpenter and Packard Roads, near Ann Arbor, at Thirteen Mile and Rochester roads and in Monroe.

Many of the company's lines must be extended to take care of the increasing load. Further extensions to the alternating current network are being installed in downtown Detroit to supplement the direct current lines.

The company expects to build 110 miles of farm lines in 1947, a project which will nearly complete the job of making electrical service available to every farmer in Detroit Edison territory.

Approximately 650 men are now employed in the company's field construction force. About two hundred more will be added in 1947 and probably another 650 in 1948.

WHEN EDISON SHOCKED THE FRENCHMEN...

When the committee of a noted French scientific society, splendid in cutaways and silk topcoats, called at Menlo Park to present the society's medal, Edison was engaged in an important experiment. He was dirty, perspiring and shirtless. After much persuasion and without hesitating, he took off just enough time to accept the medal and express his appreciation of the honor.

Like all truly great men, Mr. Edison hated sham and pretense. He was always as natural as an old shoe. He could laugh at himself and admit himself wrong.

He was honored by the entire civilized world, yet on one occasion he refused an award because it required his wearing a sash.

"You have to have dirt on your hands to get along with the Old Man," one of his laboratory employees taunted a white-collar worker. And another summed him up with "He ain't got no side—he ain't got no front—he's just a genius."

He was a man idolized and eulogized by millions. He could walk with kings—yet he kept the common touch.

Today, as we approach the centennial of his birth, we are proud that our company like many other independent electric companies, bears the name of this great American.

A REPORT ON

PROGRESS IN Pinckney

There are still a number of people waiting for telephones in this area. Before we can serve everybody, we'll need more outside wire and cable to connect new customers' premises with the central office. But shortages of lead and copper have seriously slowed their manufacture. Even after we receive the new wire and cable, there will be the painstaking job of interconnecting it with the present telephone plant... a job that must be done carefully without interrupting existing service.

We are continuing to stretch our present equipment to the limit to install telephones for as many waiting applicants as we can. If you are waiting for a telephone, you can be sure your order will be filled in its proper turn just as soon as possible.

Meanwhile, our facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before, which means that service for everyone may not always be as good as we want it to be. We're sorry when that condition occurs, but you can be sure that we are doing our best to get additional equipment as soon as possible.

Housewives!!!

SAVE YOUR
WASTE FATS

Overcome Soap Shortage

There is world wide shortage of all Animal Fats and Vegetable Oils. Last year Soap Makers only got one fifth of what they used in 1941. This also affects paints, textiles, leather goods, floor coverings etc. Without the help of the American Housewives there would have been little soap last year. One out of every nine cakes of soap made last year was made from waste fats saved in American kitchens.

So don't blame your grocer if he has no soap but save every ounce of fat you can and sell it to your butcher.

In the Circuit Court for the County
 Livingston in Chancery

G. D. Franks and Myrtle A. Franks,
 his wife, Plaintiffs vs
 Nathan J. Hickey, William McPherson
 Jr., Alexander McPherson, Martin John McPherson, Edward G. McPherson, Elias D. Galloway, James R. Galloway, Frederick R. Galloway, and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.
 Defendants

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston in Chancery at Howell, Michigan,
 on this 28th day of January 1947.
 It appearing from the sworn bill
 of complaint as filed in said cause, that the plaintiffs have not been able after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain whether the said defendants are alive or dead, or where they may reside if living, or if they have any personal representatives or heirs living, or where they or any of them may reside, or whether the title, interest, claim, lien or possible right of these defendants have been assigned to any other person or persons or whether such title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been disposed of by will by the said defendants.

And it further appearing that the plaintiffs do not know and have been unable after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain the names of the persons who are included as defendants without being named.

Upon motion therefore of Van-Winkle and VanWinkle, attorneys for plaintiffs, it is ordered that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees,
 and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered herein within three months from the date hereof, and that in default thereof said bill be taken as confessed by said defendants and each and all of them.

It is further ordered that the plaintiffs cause this order to be published within forty days in the Pinckney Dispatch, a newspaper published printed and circulating
 in said County once in each week
 for at least six successive weeks.

THE POTATO SURPLUS

The dumping of 20,000,000 tons of American potatoes to keep the price up does not make sense in view of the fact half the people of Asia and Europe are on the brink of starvation. 80,000,000 bushels have already been used to make industrial alcohol but there are just too many potatoes and in order to pay the price guaranteed to the growers have already been used to make tinned. This country when it was able to devote its energies to it could always raise more food than it could consume. It was only during the war when part of the land was out of cultivation and great amounts of food was being shipped abroad there was a scarcity. We doubt if it will be possible to maintain the high prices in view of the huge surpluses piling up.

Conservation Notes

Michigan's share of federal aid under the Pittman-Robertson bill is $113,000. Each $3 of this must be matched by $1 in state funds of hunters license money.

Between 3000 and 4000 wild geese
 are wintering at the game reserve
 at Swan Creek near Hastings.

Bounties on wolves, coyotes and bobcats totalled $57,375 which is $5,920 less than last year.

In clear lakes lacking vegetation,
 an attempt is being made to improve fishing by dropping brush shelters through holes in the ice.
 The shelters are wired together in ladder form, weighted and dropped in the lake. 50 each will be dropped in Long and Hubbard lakes near Alpena, also Big Portage Lake.

The bow and arrow hunt for bobcats is on at St. Helen this week.

Deer live trapping has started at Munising. The deer are tagged and released. The first one caught had a 1941 tag on it.

Mrs. Mary Marshall, 90, a familiar figure at Democrat banquets 10 years ago died at the home of her daughter in Green Oak last week.

Notes of 25 Years Ago

Mrs. Jennie Clark Barton, 67, widow of the late Henry Barton,
 died at his home here Jan. 27. The funeral was at the residence Monday, Rev. Cook officiating.

Henry Harris, 31, a war veteran died at his home here Jan. 27. The funeral was from St. Mary's church
 Rev. Fr. Crowe officiating.

Mrs. Wm. Sheffer died at Hamburg last week and Frank Burdon
 at Howell.

The price of Ford tractors has been cut from $625 to $395.

Dale Darrow and family of Nashville have moved to Pinckney where he will start a jewelry repair shop.

S. H. Carr has finished his ice harvest. He put up 409 ton at Pinckney and 60 at Portage Lake.
