News and Happenings of the State Today Told from Lansing

Will the legislature revise Michigan's horse and buggy constitution? Bulked by the senate in his attempt to repeal the sales tax diversion, Gov. Sigler now favors a commission to revise the 1908 Michigan designed state constitution.

While sales tax repeal calls for a two thirds majority revision of the constitution only needs a simple majority.

"Michigan cannot long continue to grow and prosper under the handicap of antiquated tax and financial structure," Gov. Sigler said in his budget message. "I am convinced that we should have at the earliest possible date a complete revision of our total tax structure."

"This should not be done in a makeshift manner. It should be approached with the idea of getting at the cause for the present financial plight of the cities. It should be done with the full understanding of the problems of the schools. It must be done with an appreciation of the responsibilities of state government in the services it renders to the people."

"It must be considered in the light of the taxpayer and his ability to bear the tax burden. It must delineate clearly the responsibilities between state and local units of government, both for collecting and spending tax money in order there shall be no wasteful duplication."

Our predecessors attempted to meet new problems such as improved highways and better schools by increasing the real or personal property tax. These grew so high the people rebelled and adopted the 15 mill limitation.

Next the legislature adopted the sales tax. Since then state expenditures have increased 168 millions or 161 percent. If this amount the state spends about 30 millions and returns 38 millions to local units.

The governors thesis is that the Michigan antiquated tax structure is so overloaded it is liable to fall down on our heads.

Mich. schools claim they have failed to get needed aid and the cities echo the claim. Both point to the big vote of approval given the sales tax diversion amendment as proof. Since you can't have your cake and eat it too new sources of tax revenue will have to be found.

Guest Nite

Annual Venison Banquet and Guest Night Held by Masonic Lodge

The 10th annual guest nite was held by Livingstone Lodge No. 76 F. & A. M., at their hall here Saturday. These banquets were originated by the late Ford Lamb in 1937 and have since been a yearly event. Each Mason is asked to bring a guest. The banquet is prepared and served entirely by the Masons and about a dozen Masons worked most of the day preparing it.

The music was furnished by a recently organized Masonic orchestra composed of Edsel Meyer, saxophone, Fletcher Tracy, violin, Otto Poulson, drums and traps and Mrs. Frank Aberdeen, piano.

The invocation was given by Rev. John McLucas of Brighton.

Following the banquet Norman Miller, W. M. in an address of welcome related the origin and purpose of these banquets. The Masons and their guests were introduced by the lodge secretary.

A boys quartette composed of grade boys, Dick and Chris Campbell, Jackie Clark and Billie Miller sang several selections with Mr. Win Campbell as accompanist.

The address was given by Wilfred Erwin, prosecuting attorney, recently of the FBI who related some of his experiences at Washington D. C.

The Pot of Gold Quiz Contest was conducted by Frank Aberdeen and after a fast contest participated in by some 25 contestants was won by Clifton Heller, Howell florist.

The door prize was won by James Walker of South Lyon and was an electric toaster. This was awarded according to the number of your chair.

A number were then called on for impromptu remarks. They were Roy Harris Chelsea, Haze Bennett, South Lyon, Prof. Rogers of the U. of M. head of the game reserve where the venison was obtained. Eric Ormsby, master of Washtenaw lodge, Dexter, C. W. Hooker now of Ann Arbor & W. E. Beach, A. C. Digby, 30 years secretary of South Lyon lodge and Rev. McLucas of Brighton. Who talked on his early days in Pinckney.

There were 27 different lodges represented. 65 members of Livingstone Lodge were present, besides 50 non-Masonic guests and visiting Masons. A Mason was present from Washington D. C. and one from Chicago.

The date for the annual past masters night banquet is set for Saturday, March 29.

Current Comment

We don't get this agitation against pressure groups started by the sales tax diversion repeaters. Lansing Pressure groups are a part of Michigan government and have always existed. As long they rely on oratory and moral persuasion they are within the law and these same groups have been responsible for placing much beneficial legislation on Michigan statutes. The editor was secretary of one such group a few years ago when Murray Vanz Wagner was state highway commissioner. Its object was to get M-36 blacktopped. It was composed of delegates all the way from Northville to Lansing, numbering about 100 and ultimately M-36 was blacktopped. We suppose according to the present Lansing view activities of the group were criminal. It always seems to be a question of whose ox is gored. Attorney General Black railed against pressure groups last week in regard to the sales tax diversion repeal and threatened dire things. It would seem these threats were of pressure nature.

The automobile insurance companies have advanced their rates 30 percent and some classes of cars they are refusing to insure. Their reason is there were too many accidents last year and paying damage claims cost them too much money and cut down their profits. They charge too many old cars are on the road in poor condition and these are responsible for many accidents. We think the condition will continue for some time as the new cars are priced too high for the ordinary man of moderate means. Few can pay around $2000 for a car and as a result the car market is not brisk or will it be until prices come down.

We have read much the past week on what Washington would do if he were alive today. Most of them are bunk. In our opinion Washington if alive today would be bewildered. Few of the problems which exist today occurred in his time. He was of the wealthy landed class, chiefly due to the fact that his brother, Lawrence, who married in the wealthy Fairfax family who owned thousands of acres of land and had died childless leaving all his wealth. Practically his entire life was spent in the army, first in the militia, fighting the Indians and then as an officer in the British army in the French and Indian war. Following this he spent 7 years more in the army during the Revolutionary war. He was a federalist of the old school who believed in property qualifications for voters. He knew little of workmen's rights & in his day there were no progressives or liberals. Property rights were supreme and like most landed proprietors he was a large slave owner. He regarded the army as his right arm and when Pennsylvania staged her whiskey rebellion when congress taxed whiskey he sent an army to sub due them. No if Washington were alive today he would be entirely out of his element.

One item in the account of the Brewer murder in the county seat paper interested us. It stated that although Brewer had been barred at the Howell taverns for some time he was able to get hold of a bottle of wine the night of the murder and get steamed up. There is apparently no way to keep liquor out of the hands of such persons. Liquor in any form is poison to some people and Brewer was in this class.

100th Anniversary of the Birth of Alexander Graham Bell

MARCH 2, 1847

The telephone was born and raised in a laboratory

Alexander Graham Bell's invention of the telephone was the achievement of a trained scientific mind.

Continuous scientific progress to improve telephone communication began with him and has continued ever since. It is carried on today by the six thousand men and women of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Dr. Bell's thoughts on work and research were given to a number of young people in a graduation address. "Don't keep going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something that you have never seen before.

"Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another and before you know it you will have something worth thinking about."

That has been the policy of the telephone business from the beginning. It underlies the progress that has been made and the progress that is to come.

FIRST SENTENCE EVER SPOKEN OVER THE TELEPHONE (on March 10, 1876) "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you." It happened when Alexander Graham Bell was in his laboratory on his clothes and called out for assistance. Thomas A. Edison was in the room and from another room and exclaimed "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said distinctly."

PRICES ARE PARTLY UP TO YOU

Most of the shopping for the home is done by the women of the family. They know a bargain when they see one, but they are usually willing to pay a fair price for whatever they buy. When the asking price gets outrageously out of line, the women shoppers of the nation can take effective action as they have done in some instances, by simply not buying until the price is lowered. This is one of the most effective means of keeping prices from running wild. It's a veto power that's largely in the hands of those who hold family purse strings. Spending carefully is another habit of thrift. Like depositing regularly in your bank account, this habit pays handsome dividends.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Solves
 the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could not get together. But look at Bert Solves—who has 220 acres of grazing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

When called Bert a "capitalist" he doesn't know what you mean, and neither would Spike and Smokey, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them, and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at these friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

*Sleep Warm...
 Sleep Well*

under an Automatic Electric Comforter

YOUR VERY FIRST NIGHT under your new electric comforter or blanket will convince you how cozy wintertime sleeping can be. No more wrestling with mountains of old-fashioned covers or quilts—too warm one minute, too cold the next. Michigan's unpredictable weather need never disturb your rest. The exact "undercover" temperature you like best, is maintained automatically. You sleep warm—sleep well—no matter what the weather.

Electric blankets and comforters are available in soft pastel colors (the comforter has a quilted rayon satin cover with a non-slip faille underside). Easily cleaned? Of course.

See them now at your favorite department store, at your electric appliance dealer or at your neighborhood Detroit Edison Office. For sleeping that's out of this world, an electric comforter or blanket is a blue ribbon investment in rest.

STATE OF MICHIGAN In the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston in Chancery

G. D. Franks and Myrve A. Franks, his wife, Plaintiffs vs Nathan J. Hickey, William McPherson Jr., Alexander McPherson, Martin John McPherson, Edward G. McPherson, Elias D. Galloway, James R. Galloway, Frederick R. Galloway, and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns. Defendants

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston in Chancery at Howell, Michigan, on this 28th day of January 1947. It appearing from the sworn bill of complaint as filed in said cause that the plaintiffs have not been able after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain whether the said defendants are alive or dead, or where they may reside if living, or if they have any personal representatives or heirs living or where they or any of them may reside, or whether the title, interest, claim, lien or possible right of these defendants have been assigned to any other person or persons or whether such title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been disposed of by will by the said defendants.

And it further appearing that the plaintiffs do not know and have been unable after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain the names of the persons who are included as defendants without being named. Upon motion therefore of VanWinkle and VanWinkle, attorneys for plaintiffs, it is ordered that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered herein within three months from the date hereof, and that in default thereof said bill be taken as confessed by said defendants and each of all of them.

It is further ordered that the plaintiffs cause this order to be published within forty days in the Pinckney Dispatch, a newspaper published, printed and circulating in said County once in each week for at least six successive weeks. A true copy Glenn C. Yelland John A. Hagman Circuit Court Clerk Livingston County, Michigan

Housewives!!!

SAVE YOUR WASTE FATS

Overcome Soap Shortage

There is world wide shortage of all Animal Fats and Vegetable Oils. Last year Soap Makers only got one fifth of what they used in 1941. This also affects paints, textiles, leather goods, floor coverings etc. Without the help of the American Housewives there would have been little soap last year. One out of every nine cakes of soap made last year was made from waste fats saved in American kitchens.

So don't blame your grocer if he has no soap but save every ounce of fat you can and sell it to your butcher.
