Michigan Mirror

Like a virtuous wife, that which is commonplace is often unappreciated.

We refer in particular to Michigan's 10,000 inland lakes, its 2,028 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, and its numerous navigable rivers and streams.

Because these lakes, sandy beaches and waterways are a familiar part of the Michigan scene, we have a tendency to take natural resources all for granted and to postpone until "tomorrow" our enjoyment of them.

The other day we dropped in at the office of a newspaper editor who likes to go fishing. Knowing his hobby, we made prompt inquiry.

"How's fishing in these parts this season?" we asked. The editor looked at us with a far-off yearning and recollection.

"Come to think about it," he said, "I haven't been fishing yet this summer. That's the trouble with Michigan. Our lakes are here today and they will be here tomorrow. It's too darn easy to get in the habit of going fishing tomorrow but never going fishing today."

A favorite uncle and aunt paid us a visit over a recent weekend.

Packing up our snug cabin-in-wheels, we headed our house trailer towards the Michigan west coast. Our destination: Muskegon State Park with its 1,357 acres of woodlands and dunes and three miles of Lake Michigan sandy beach.

The harbor entrance into Muskegon lake was lined with townspeople and tourists who were fishing for perch. A pole and some minnows and lots of patience, and you can while away several hours pleasantly at the end of a busy day.

On the lake and inside the harbor were all kinds of boats: Sailboats lazily drifting, boats noisily powered by outboard motors, and luxurious cabin cruisers which cost their owners a pretty penny -- five to six figures. The Clipper arrived about 6:45 p. m. from Milwaukee. Bathing beaches nearby were thronged with sun-tanners and swimmers.

To us here was Michigan! The same scene was duplicated on the same Sunday along the shore of Lake Michigan, Lake Superior, Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie, and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers -- just to mention the main waterways. Our sole cost for the weekend, other than for food, was the park fee for electricity -- 20 cents a day!

Let's take another weekend outing just to prove our point. This time we go on an afternoon canoe trip on the Huron river from Milford to the Proud Lake recreational area which is part of the state's 100,000-acre health and sports program for the Detroit metropolitan district.

Our hosts: The editor of the Milford newspaper and his wife. Another couple from Milford are in the party. The water is high, so we portage around two bridges. Outboard motors cut our traveling time again at the river current.

The Huron flows through a series of lakes, all fine for fishing. You travel through wide marshes and along rough hillsides, hedge rows and wild meadows. You arrive at Proud Lake, a small body of water surrounded by woods and marshes. It reminds you of North Michigan, and yet you are less than 30 miles from Detroit.

No matter where you go in Michigan you will find opportunity to enjoy the outdoors on Michigan water. Here is wealth waiting to be used. Take some today!

While the lighted field was used for football last fall the new soft ball diamond was just completed Friday night. It was necessary to grade it and draw in fill dirt and clay. Three bees were held at the field the past week and the week before to get the diamond in shape.

The committee wishes to thank all those who helped in this work.

We also thank Bill Baughn for grading and he and Norman Miller for drawing the clay and Stanley Dinkel for building the backstop and also all others who donated their time and labor.

These soft ball games are going over big and a big crowd is looked for in this opening game.

John Burg will broadcast the games at the field over the loud speaker system

RECRUITS WANTED

Young men interested in joining the Michigan State Police today were reminded by Sgt. George Malnar, commander of the Brighton post that he will be at the post from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., 31 of July to interview prospective applicants and give them whatever information about the organization they desire.

Although applicants are invited to visit the post at any time to get this information, 31st has been set aside as a special day in connection with a current recruiting program to bring the State Police up to pre-war strength. No replacements in personnel were made while the war was in progress.

Minimum requirements are that a candidate must be between the ages of 21 and 30, unmarried, in good health and not less than five feet 10 inches in height.

"Service in the State Police is not only interesting, but it has many other advantages," Sgt. Malnar said. "Among them are employment security, paid vacations, sick leave, promotions based on merit, and a pension. We think it is a fine career service, and it is proving especially appealing to war veterans, who now comprise most other recruits."

Application blanks may be obtained at any post, or by writing the State Civil Service Commission or the Michigan State Police headquarters in Lansing.

CONSERVATION NOTES

A new fish has appeared in Michigan waters known as the redear. It is common in the south and has been planted in Ind. from where it is supposed to have spread into Michigan. They are about the size of bluegills. Burnt over acreage in Michigan forested the 9000 mark in the 785th forest fire.

Michigan will plant a full million trees to catch heat this season. A bluewing teal banded 3 years ago in Michigan has just been taken on the French Island of St. Pierre 100 miles away.

Lake cottage owners wishing to stabilize the level of their lakes should petition the county board of supervisors who have sole power on this.

28 tons of suckers were netted from northern lakes this year on permits.

50,000 acres of state land is up for lease for oil exploration.

The Farmers Feed & Supply Co. here installed a hydraulic elevator by means of which loads of grain and beans may be hoisted up to the bins.

John H. Carver III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carver Jr. of Portage Lake was born July 23, 1944 in Ann Arbor and died July 25, 1947 after a prolonged illness. During these three short years he endeared himself not only to his devoted parents but to all who knew him.

Funeral services were held at the Pinckney Congregational Church Sunday P. M., Rev. J. M. McLucas officiating.

Not Now, But in the coming years, It may be in the better land, We'll read the meaning of our tears, And then, ah then, will understand, Then trust in God through all thy days,

Fear not, for He doth hold my hand Through dark the way still sing and praise
Sometime, sometime, we'll understand.

Current Comment

The supreme court may have to be called in to settle the question how big must a city be in order to justify the installation of parking meters. Brighton having a regular revolution over the action of the city council in signing a contract with the Magee-Hale Parking Meter Co. to install said meters. The council seems to have observed all the rules before doing so. They advertised the action before hand and asked all objectors to parking meters to be present. None showed up so they signed the contract. Then the furor started with the local paper and the citizens voicing their disapproval. At a meeting of the board of commerce attended by the council and a representative of the parking meter co. Rev. J. M. McLucas spearheaded the opposition and asked that the entire matter be submitted to a vote of the people. At. Martin J. Lavan was also among those who spoke against said meters. Off hand speaking from our own experiences we do not see the need for meters in Brighton. We have been there many times and never found any parking problem. On the other hand we think Howell could use them as parking space is pretty scarce there at times.

The suit of the city schools vs the state to declare illegal the single school district is being heard at Lansing by Judge Coah. The Cities of Detroit, Grand Rapids, Jackson and others are the plaintiffs. They charge that by the formation of the state into a single school district the cities are defrauded of $6,000,000 in school funds. If the Lansing court rules against them they will carry the case to the supreme court.

The action of a V. F. W. post in refusing to award a Cadillac auto to a negro who held the lucky number has drawn universal censure from the nation at large and through pressure by the national V. F. W. organization the South Carolina Post has given the colored man $3200 the value of the car. The reason for refusing the negro the car in the first place was that the Carolina post claimed tickets were not supposed to be sold to negroes. This discrimination is decidedly unAmerican and indications are the bars are being let down in many places. Brooklyn was first league team to put negroes in their lineup. Cleveland followed and now St. Louis has two negro stars in the team. We wonder that Detroit with their large colored population does not follow suit.

Great Britain had better develop a Jewish plan and soon as her present stop-gap plan seems to be going from bad to worse. In a pitched battle off the Holy Land last week Chesapeake Bay excursion boat which had been made into a carrier ship for misplaced Jews. Over 100 Jews were wounded in the battle and a number killed. In the meantime the drive for funds to free the Holy Land from British domination goes on here. The Jews charge Great Britain has sold them down the river for Arab oil concessions.

Right from the Horse's Mouth...

Comes the Moisture That Can Ruin Your Stable

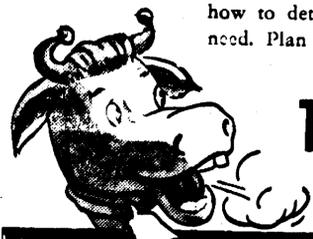

In cold weather, moisture and condensate from animals' breath play hob with any sort of wooden farm building—be it stable, cow barn, or poultry or hog house. Dampness rots the timbers; doors and windows swell and warp.

But the Simple Installation of ELECTRIC VENTILATION Gives You Clean, Dry, Odorless Air Wherever Animals Are Housed

A good-sized hog will exhale as much as three quarts of moisture daily, a cow more than two gallons. That spells sure decay for wooden buildings. It can mean trouble with leather in the saddle rooms—trouble with feed and hay, with the livestock and their produce.

Properly planned, correctly installed ventilation can check decay. Electric ventilation, automatically controlled by thermostats, will eliminate drafts, offensive odors, ammonia in the air, and condensate from animals' breath.

See your Edison Farm Service Advisor for up-to-date, impartial and accurate advice on electric ventilating systems. He knows how to determine the size and type of ventilation you need. Plan now to be ready for winter.

AMERICAN HEROES

by WOODY COWAN

JAPS threatening a vital position in the Solomon Islands were thwarted largely through the leadership of Staff Sgt. Floyd E. Hill, Marshville, N. C., who has been awarded a Silver Star posthumously. As leader of an antitank section, he was ordered to support a rifle platoon and to have his positions dug and ready when the enemy struck. The big gun that War Bonds helped provide for those men was ready when the Nips struck. Sgt. Hill, wounded, helped his men to completely rout the enemy.

Grow Perennial Flowers From Seed

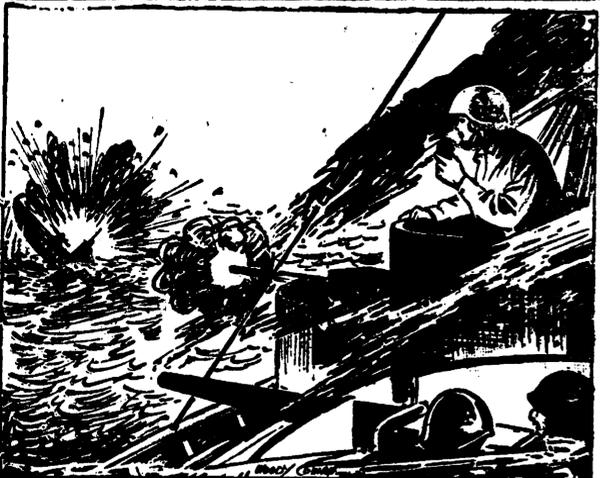

You can save considerable garden money and add new zest to your gardening by growing your own perennial flowers from seed. The best quality seeds cost only a few cents a packet and with simple care will produce scores of plants to bring color and beauty to the garden for years to come. Most perennials grown from seed bloom the second year after sowing.

Seed should be started at about the same time as that of the annuals, such as zinnias and marigolds. The secret of success is to get the seedlings to transplanting size early enough so that when set in their permanent places in garden or border, they will get a good root-hold before cold weather comes on. A specially prepared seed bed or seed box is best for starting perennial seeds. A seed bed can be easily prepared by knocking the bottom out of a good-sized shallow wooden box and sinking the sides into the ground. The top should be about two or three inches above the surface. Use finely prepared, crumbly garden loam containing plenty of humus. It is important to locate the seed bed where it will be sheltered from strong winds and from sunlight during the hottest part of the day. A seed box or flat may also be used, with holes bored in the bottom for drainage. This has the advantage of being movable to sheltered locations when necessary. Some perennial seeds are very small.

Mix them with sand so that they will not be sown too thickly in the row and merely press them into the soil instead of covering them. Larger seeds need a shallow covering of soil. Firm the soil down on them so that they will make immediate contact with the moisture and plant food. Keep the soil moist but not wet until the seeds sprout. Some gardeners spread damp burlap over the surface to furnish needed moisture, removing it at the first sign of sprouting.

Here are a number of perennials that beginners can start from seed with almost sure success: Columbine, gailardia, coreopsis, hollyhock, painted daisy, sweet william, hardy pinks, hardy alyssum, and the violas.

Perennial seeds usually take somewhat longer to germinate than those of annual flowers. Don't be discouraged if the tiny sprouts do not show themselves for two or three weeks after the seed is sown.

COAST GUARD officers every day are proving how effectively the smaller naval vessels purchased with the help of War Bonds can clear the seas of enemy submarines. Comdr. David H. Bartlett of San Diego, Calif., recently was awarded a Navy medal for maneuvering his Patrol Frigate in such a manner that it brought about the destruction of a Jap midget submarine. Other commanders of small vessels are doing highly efficient work.

1937 telephone rates won't work in 1947

THERE have been a lot of changes moneywise since 1937. Wages have gone up. Taxes have gone up. Prices of most things have advanced. But during this time, telephone rates haven't budged an inch ahead.

The last rate increase, in fact, was in 1926—21 years ago! From then until 1937 telephone rates went down substantially. Since 1937, there have been even further local reductions in a number of exchanges, and toll rates have come down too. But, in general, the 1937 rates prevail today.

Looking at the other side of the ledger, post-war wage adjustments alone, including settlements reached during the recent strike, have boosted our costs $11,000,000 a year. All our other costs have risen, too.

But our income hasn't gone up nearly as fast as our costs. In the ten years since 1937, income has increased 141%. Costs have gone up 193%. Our return on investment has dropped more than a third.

We've held the line on rates just as long as possible. Now we have to ask for an increase in order to protect our customers' service.

We still have a lot of additions to make to the telephone system before we can give service to those who are waiting, and give better service to everybody. This will take a lot of money . . . money which must come from investors. Investors will put up the money only if they are assured a fair return, which we cannot provide under our present rates. A growing business, especially, has to earn a good return in order to attract the capital needed for growth.

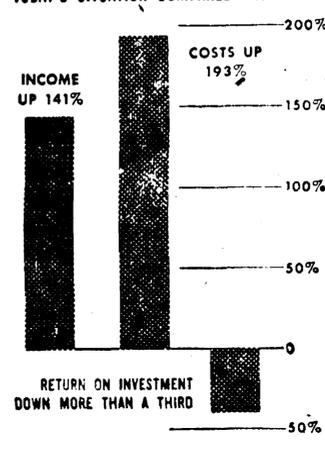

So the future of Michigan's telephone service depends on raising rates enough to assure the financial stability of your telephone company.

That's why we're going to ask the Michigan Public Service Commission for a public hearing to review our proposed new schedule of rates. (The Public Service Commission is the body established by State law and appointed by the Governor to regulate utility rates.) During the week of August 3, we'll publish details of the proposed rates throughout Michigan Bell territory. After that, we'll file the petition with the Commission.

We feel the same way you do about raising rates. We'd rather not have to do it. But, when the quality of your service is in question, we have no alternative.

TODAY'S SITUATION COMPARED WITH 1937

NOTE: Where the term "Income" is used above, its meaning is the same as "Revenue" or "Gross Income." Where the term "Investment" is used, it means the original cost of the telephone property less the depreciation reserve accrued against the ultimate retirement of the property.

United Jewish Appeal Launched by Eisenhower

THE $170,000,000 United Jewish Appeal for Refugees, Overseas Needs and Palestine was launched by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, who described the nationwide campaign as essential to "fill the breach" and lift the victims of Hitler above the level of mere existence, which he characterized as the "limit that perforce controls Governmental effort." President Truman also has urged support of the life-saving UJA campaign.

If you can't write a good big figure in the space above then you'd be smart to adopt a method of savings that millions of Americans have found to be absolutely sure fire. This method is the regular buying of United States Savings Bonds. People buy Savings Bonds now on two convenient plans. If you are on a payroll, through the Payroll Savings Plan. If you are a professional man or woman or self-employed, through the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. By signing up on either plan, twelve months from now you will be able to write a nice healthy sum in that space up above.

44 ways

To get "Something for Nothing"

The railroads have received 44 "rules" demands from the leaders of the operating unions . . . representing engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen. They say they are seeking only changes in working conditions—not a wage increase.

More Money For Less Work

But what kind of rules are being asked for? Twenty-eight of them would compel railroads to pay more money for the same, or less work; 7 would require additional and unnecessary men to do the same work; the rest would bring about changes in operating practices at increased cost.

For Instance:

The Union leaders demand additional train and engine crews on Diesel-powered trains—one full crew for every power unit in the locomotive. A freight train hauled by a 4-unit Diesel would have to carry 4 engineers, 4 firemen, 4 conductors, and at least 8 brakemen, or a total of 20 men instead of 5.

"Made Work"—Sheer Waste

The Union leaders demand that full-length freight trains be cut to about half their length, even though such trains are most efficient for low-cost service to you. This rule would call for twice as many locomotives, would double the number of trains, and make accidents more likely.

Additional equipment, yards, and other facilities required to take care of these short trains would cost hundreds of millions. What the Union leaders really want is to make more jobs.

The Union leaders demand that when a crew in one class of service performs incidental service of another class, it will be paid not less than a day's pay for each class, even though all service is performed as a part of the same day's work. The crew would get at least 10 days' pay for one day's work.

The Union leaders demand that present basic day for . . .

ductors and trainmen be reduced from 150 to 100 miles, which would have the effect of increasing their pay 50%. Such a run often takes only two or three hours!

You Can't Afford This Waste

Demands like these are against the interests of the whole American people, who depend on railroad service for nearly everything they eat, wear and use.

These rules would cost a BILLION DOLLARS annually—a gigantic waste which neither the railroads nor the country can afford.

Railroad workers are good citizens and good employees, with pride in their calling. Their record during the war was outstanding. We do not believe they fully understand the "featherbed" rules which the Union leaders are demanding. We do not believe they understand the harmful results which these rules would have to the railroad industry, to the millions of men and women dependent on railroads for their livelihood, and to the shipping and consuming public.

The great strength of America is in production—an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

For only through greater production can we hope to stop the steady upward surge of living costs.

Surely, if ever there was a time in our history when we needed to work, not waste, this is it.

ROOM 214 • 143 LIBERTY STREET • NEW YORK, NEW YORK

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

POWER TELEPHONE SERVICE

Power-line telephone service which permits the transmission of six telephone conversations and 2400 volts of electricity simultaneously over one line has been introduced here for the first time in the state by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Called "M-1 carrier" by telephone engineers, the new system enables Michigan Bell to provide service in sparsely developed territory where the construction of regular polelines would be economically prohibitive.

Theodore H. Dawson, general development supervisor for the co., said power-line systems similar to the one at Crystal Falls would be introduced next year at other small rural communities in Michigan Bell territory.

The newly equipped line here runs 20 miles to Way Dam on the Michigamme reservoir and serves 24 rural subscribers. The service was made possible by a cooperative construction project between Michigan Bell and the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company.

Special radio apparatus developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and manufactured by Western Electric literally makes the power-line telephone a miniature broadcasting station.

Ordinary telephone current is converted into high-frequency radio impulses and put on the power-line. At a telephone central office, similar equipment separates the radio impulses from the electric current and converts them back into regular voice frequencies.

In effect, telephone conversations hitch-hike on electrical current.

Exceptionally sensitive fuses and special "filters" prevent high-voltage electricity from its way into telephone equipment.

A maximum of six radio channels can be provided by M-1 carrier equipment on any one power system. However, up to eight subscribers can be handled efficiently on one channel so that a total of 48 customers can be provided service on a single power-line.

Uncle Sam Says

"Where on earth did my money go?" How often have you asked this question, half in wonder, half in dismay! It's so easy to fritter away ready cash. A dollar here—and a dollar there—and in the end nothing to show for it. And yet saving for the things you want—a new home, travel or future security—is easy and effective simply by allowing a portion of your income either through the payroll savings or by arrangement with your bank for the systematic purchase of United States Savings Bonds. Dollars go, your bonds grow. When you buy Savings Bonds regularly, you are building the nest-egg for whatever you've set your heart on.

U. S. Treasury Department

Have you stopped to think that you are a Minute Man, 1947 model, when you invest in United States Savings Bonds? The first shots in defense of your security were fired on April 19, 1775, on Concord bridge in Massachusetts. Today you stand guard over your security not with bullets but with your Savings Bonds which in the years to come will make your home the fortress it should be against financial distress. Equally important to you is the fact that your growing stack of Savings Bonds is available for attainment of personal or family goals such as a new home or education for your children. Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds is backed by the United States Government. Savings Bonds are safe, sure, profitable—$4 for every $3 invested 30 years hence. U. S. Treasury Department

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Jane Cupper's "Daring" Bathing Suit

The Cuppers showed me some of the types of their nineteen-ten vacation—picnicking on the beach with beer and pretzels, in bathing suits that made them look like they were dressed in street-wear.

Dee was smothered in a long-sleeved pull-over with knee length shorts, and looking embarrassed—as if he thought Jane's costume of a heavy blouse, two copious skirts, and long black stockings was a little daring.

We laughed a lot at these costumes... but come to think of it, as Dee says, we'll probably look just as funny twenty years from now, in what we call our "Modern" clothes. Only thing that won't change in the picture is that milky, wholesome glass of beer.

From where I sit, tolerance that lets us wear sensible, decent clothes—to give us sun and air and freedom—will keep that wholesome glass of beer a part of the American tradition.

STATE WELFARE LAW
Recent changes in the State Welfare Law as it affects Old Age Mr.
Bohm, Director-Supervisor of the Livingston County Bureau of Social Aid and County Welfare Department says will be of general interest.

Most widely publicized of these changes is the increase in the maximum Old Age Assistance grant from $40 to $45. This will apply only to those persons over 65 years of age whose requirements actually exceed $40.

The amount of need in all cases is arrived at by figuring expenses on the basis of a standard budget, and taking into consideration all other available income. Where a deficit in the budget exists, increases will be given within the new $45 limitation.

As this change in the law is effective immediately, adjustments are being made in county offices as rapidly as possible. Approximately one half of these increases will be effective in time for the Aug. payroll, and the balance will go into effect in September.

Other important changes have to do with property in the form of real estate owned by Old Age Assistance recipients. It was the original intent of the law that the aged should be enabled to remain in their own homes. For this reason the value originally placed on real estate which recipients might own and still receive Old Age Assistance was supposed to be the equivalent of the sale value of a modest home. With the present inflated values on real estate, the sale value of property which a recipient is allowed to own has been increased from $3500. to $6000. in order to avoid bringing hardships on many who would become ineligible for assistance if the previous law should be strictly enforced.

The law further provides for the recovery from estates of Old Age Assistance recipients the amount of assistance received by them during their life time. This, which is popularly known as "the Recovery Act"
does not become effective until Oct.
11th. Evasion of the law through transfer of property by Old Age Assistance recipients to their heirs is made impossible through a clause in the law which makes ineligible any one who has divested himself of property within the last five years "for the purpose of precluding recovery".

law with regard to personal property which an Old Age Assistance recipient may own. The amount remains at $500 for a single person and $750 for a married couple. Nether has there been any modification of the law which makes children responsible for the support of parents if financially able to provide for them. The present law places the burden of proof that they are unable

Make Better Seedbeds
and Till Close to Fences
with a SEAMAN TILLER

Because the wheels of the SEAMAN TILLER are placed in front of the machine instead of at the sides, on all of the new, improved models, you can till the soil right up close to fences, and make a better seedbed at the same time. You actually increase your crop acreage by putting hitherto idle land into production.

The SEAMAN is the original farm size rotary tiller... service covered over a period of more than 20 years. It is supplied in a full range of sizes for take-off and motorized models, from 36-inch to 72-inch tillage widths.

Let us tell you more about the SEAMAN TILLER and its practical applications to your farm and crop conditions. Come and talk it over.

THE MICHIGAN COMMUNITY
PROPERTY ACT

The Community Property Law enacted to place Michigan taxpayers on the same level as taxpayers in the ten other states where community property laws are in effect.

From July 1, 1947 and after, in-from personal services earned by husband and wife is considered community property. In computing income tax thereon the husband and wife will each pay on one-half of the income.

It has been suggested that husband and wife deposit all money received from personal services and all dividends and interest accruing from community property in a Community Property bank account, in order to firmly establish their rights to the tax savings which may accrue to them from this new law.

Housewives!!!

SAVE YOUR WASTE FATS

Overcome Soap
Shortage

There is world wide shortage of all Animal Fats and Vegetable Oils. Last year Soap Makers only used one fifth of what they used in 1941. This also affects paints, textiles, leather goods, floor coverings etc. Without the help of the American Housewives there would have been little soap last year. One out of every nine cakes of soap made last year was made from waste fats saved from American kitchens.

Don't blame your grocer if he has no soap but save every ounce of fat you can and sell it to your neighbor.
