Republican leaders dispute Gov. Williams' assertion that his corporation profits tax is not a consumer levy.

Owen J. Cleary calls it social tax and says there never was a tax which the consumer did not have to pay.

The governor contends that corporations should share some of their huge war profits with the consumer. If they decline to reduce prices the government should step in and give the consumer a break by financing public services.

The state dept. of economic development has raised $250,000 to help keep Michigan industries in Michigan. Don Weeks, of this dept. lists 19 which have left the state. Gov. Williams responds that 12 of these left before he advocated his corp. profits tax bill. Also that 10 of these moved to states which already have corp. profits laws, ranging from 4 to 7 per cent. 32 states now have corp. profits tax.

Don Weeks states that the two main causes for factories leaving Michigan were undesirable labor conditions and desire to reduce operating costs. In most cases it was a desire to get locations to escape wage pressure set by auto makers in contracts with the U. A. W.—C. I. O.

Gov. Williams contends his corp. profits tax will be paid entirely out of corp. profits. Chairman Cleary answered such an idea is socialism. Take your choice.

RURAL MAIL BOX WEEK

The postal dept. has designated the first week of May as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week.

Mail boxes which are not properly erected or in good condition slow up service and damage mail. It is the desire of the dept. that mail boxes be kept in good condition and easily accessible to the carrier. Patrons who have unapproved boxes need not discard them if they are in good condition, and can be properly served.

Postmasters and carriers are required to acquaint the patrons of these facts. They should notify the owners of improper mail boxes by form 4056 what improvements need to be made.

Boxes at or near cross roads should be closely grouped when ever possible. A good support is a board resting on posts about 4 feet from the ground.

4-H CLUBS ON RADIO

On Saturday, April 14 on the Farm-Home Hour a discussion program took place on the recent County Achievement Day between County Agent Hart and Jean Richards of Howell and Mary Ann Campbell of Pinckney. Mr. Hart gave the overall picture. Jean who is a student at Mich State gave her impression of the exhibits and her recollection of the dress revue. Mary Ann gave a history of the 4-H Club work in Pinckney, telling how Mrs. Albert Shirley started the sewing club and had to get several others to help her because so many became interested. How Marshall Meabon took a boys club in hand which became so large that he had to have help from the whole community in providing a meeting place, tools and extra leaders. The square dances sponsored by the clubs were also mentioned as providing entertainment and funds for the boys and girls who belong to the clubs.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

THE START OF A GREAT TRADITION

OUR FIRST MEDICAL SCHOOL — THE COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS OF PHILADELPHIA — WAS FOUNDED IN 1762 WHEN WILLIAM SHIPPAN, A SURGEON TRAINED IN ENGLAND, GATHERED 12 STUDENTS TOGETHER FOR MEDICAL LECTURES IN A ROOM IN THE STATE HOUSE, WITH A FEW CRAYON ANATOMICAL DRAWINGS AS HIS ONLY EQUIPMENT.

FROM THIS HUMBLE BEGINNING OUR MEDICAL SCHOOLS HERE IN AMERICA, HAVE COME TO BE KNOWN AMONG THE FINEST STAFFED AND BEST EQUIPPED IN THE WORLD... THE OPPORTUNITIES THEY OFFER FOR STUDY AND RESEARCH, THE THOROUGHNESS WITH WHICH THEY PREPARE OUR YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN FOR THE MEDICAL PROFESSION ARE BASIC TO THE PROGRESS OF MEDICINE AND THE RESULTING DRAMATIC INCREASE IN THE SPAN OF LIFE WHICH HAVE BEEN ACHIEVED IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

School Affairs

The Brighton school controversy continues. The school faculty takes the Brighton Argus to task for the article published recently which it charges was full of truths and half truths. It especially objects to the statement that the classes were left unattended during the time the faculty and board held a special meeting to thrash out their difficulties. The faculty refers to the school board as their employers to whom they are completely loyal.

The Argus in rebuttal retracts the statement classes were left unattended the Tuesday morning in question. It adds the meeting of teachers and faculty was held during the noon hour which was stretched out an hour longer. During this time students were assigned to take charge of some of the rooms.

It also denies the school board is the employer of the faculty but states the people who pay the school tax are. It criticizes the board for holding meetings behind closed doors from which the public is barred.

At the regular school meeting last week over 100 people attended. Pres. Jarvis of the school board read a statement to the effect, that Coach Peterson could not be given a contract until he made up 7 hours special work. He quoted Wesley Thomas of the Michigan Education Department who was present at the meeting and supported him. Mrs. Arch Peterson addressed the board on behalf of her husband who was ill. Kenneth Stonex called for a vote of confidence in Supt. Johnson and 32 people responded. School Commissioner Gladys McCallum urged the people to do what was in the best interest of the pupils.

No action was taken in regard to the resignation of Superintendent Johnson.

DISTRICT SPELLING CONTEST

The district spelling contest was held at the Pinckney Community Auditorium Friday. The winner was Elaine Sharp, 12, of the Cady school, second place went to Donald Haidt, 13, of the Hammond school near South Lyon, third was won by Robert Barber, 14, of the Pinckney school. Magistrate was the winning word. This was the semi-final contest. The 31 winners of the district contests will compete in Detroit May 12. The winner goes to Washington. James Kilpatrick, Detroit News photographer and Virginia Snell, feature writer were present. In the Washington district Donna DeVoe, grand daughter of Mrs. Marion Burnett won again. Last year she got into the finals in Detroit, losing to the champion.

Pinckney should be proud of their entry, Robert Barber. He stood nearly two hours before going down. This is the highest they have finished in some year. The last time they had a contestant in the finals was nearly 10 years ago when Megan Meyer, Ailee won the district title here. The 19 contestants who were champions from their schools were all given bronze medals and championship certificates by the Detroit News.

Of course, Pinckney really won the contest as the Cady school is now a part of the Pinckney Community School District.

Postmaster General Donaldson has announced a drastic cut in postal service which will cut 10,000 carriers from the dept's 500,000 man payroll. Cities which now enjoy 2 or 3 mail deliveries a day will have them cut to one. Parcel post deliveries will be cut to one a day. Mail pickups will also be cut with the last one being timed at 8:30 p. m. Window services in main postoffices will be cut from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. The Detroit postoffice has announced that under this plan 410 employees will be laid off there. The Letter Carriers Union, an AFL organization announces that they will fight this postal cut. Some regard it as a pressure campaign against congress which has turned down both demands by Donaldson. One for more money to operate his dept. and the other to be allowed to raise postal rates $600,000,000 a year. This cut will make little difference in the Pinckney postoffice with the exception that mail from the cities may come slower.

The New Hampshire State Board of Registration in Medicine has revoked the medical license of Dr. Herman Sanders, the physician acquitted in the mercy killing of Mrs. Abbie Boratto, an incurable cancer patient. The board charged that Dr. Sanders was guilty of morally reprehensible conduct. This action was a necessity unless the board wished to go on record as approving mercy killings. However, it is more or less a slap on the wrist as Dr. Sanders may apply for reinstatement in two months.

In the past few years the medical profession has come up with an astonishing number of cures, many of which failed to prove practical after they had each received a huge amount of publicity. We remember the praise which greeted the discovery of Twilight Sleep, the great panacea for child birth. Now it is little heard of. The sulphite drugs followed then penicillin and more recently histamine for colds. Now in a great many cases these chemicals were successful but in some they were not. A new medicine has now been discovered, Terramycin, which is on the order of penicillin but said to be far superior. In a series of experiments conducted at the American College of Surgeons at Boston, Mass. Some 300 persons were experimented on with it and 19 different diseases were cured. This medicine is the newest of the antibiotics of which penicillin was the first. The diseases cured by it are typhoid and lobar pneumonia, whooping cough, typhus fever, murine typhus fever, shingles, gonorrhea.

When you buy gasoline or fuel, oil you probably wonder who gets the most of your dollar. According to an oil company report the breakdown is as follows: 52.7 17.2 taxes; 16.4 wages, salaries raw materials, transportation etc.; 6 cents for wear and tear; 4.3 for use in business, leaving only 2.9 profit for the owners.

In a recent speech delivered at Howell last week Ex-Gov. Wilbur Brucker warned the listeners against becoming mass minded as regards government benefits such as social security, pensions, unemployment insurance etc. He would go back to the good old days when there were no retirement pensions, no unemployment payments and every individual had to shift for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Now this country has always enjoyed government financial aid but up to recent years it was in favor of industry and the capitalists. When the railroads were built they received huge land grants from the state and the sale of these lands financed the building of the roads. The tariff was never anything but a price fixing subsidy to keep up prices and prevent competition. Industry was also the first to become mass minded and their mass production methods where one man puts in bolts all day long and another puts them on them gave this country the lowest manufacturing cost in the world and the highest wages and cheapest available goods.

His Punch is His Signature

Was on the train up to Central City the other day and when the conductor came around, I asked him why their ticket punches make each odd-shaped holes in the ticket. "Every conductor in the country has a different design for his punch," he tells me. "Some even show up a fellow's preferences. Now take mine. The hole it makes looks like a beer goblet." Sure enough! Then he went on to say that the punch is just like the conductor's signature. Makes it easy to trace tickets... to check up if something happens.

Pastures 'Don't Just Stay Good'; Need Planning, Management and Fertilization

Wood-ridden pasture (left) had no soil care; thick, lush legume-grass growth (right) was well fertilized and managed.

PASTURES just "don't stay good." They have to be kept that way by careful planning, management and adequate fertilization, according to a statement issued here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

The committee cites these steps suggested by J. L. Haynes, of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station for keeping semi-permanent grassland acreages in top production for five or six years without re-seeding:

Seed well adapted, high-yielding legumes and grasses. Alfalfa and ladino clover and brome-grass or orchard grass make good combinations.

Maintain a high lime level in the soil.

At seeding time add the equivalent of 100 pounds per acre of 20 per cent superphosphate for each year of expected stand. Thereafter top-dress pastures each year with generous amounts of phosphate and potash. On most farms, 300 to 400 pounds per acre of 0-9-27, 0-10-26 or 0-20-20 will keep legume stands thick and vigorous.

Maintain the life and palatability of pasture with good grazing management. Avoid overgrazing. Don't let cattle graze on one field for too long a period.

Divide pastures into small fenced paddocks so that most of the forage in any given paddock will be eaten within 10 days or less—at the rate of an acre for each 5 or 6 cows in the herd.

Harvest as grass silage the surplus forage in paddocks not used in the lush spring season. These harvested paddocks can later be included in the regular grazing sequence with spring grazed paddocks.

RED CROSS CHAPTERS MEET VARIED NEEDS OF SERVICEMEN

The Red Cross Home Service worker looked up from her desk to find an old man holding a telegram and twenty-five dollars.

"My boy wants to come home, but he hasn't got the money for such an expensive trip," the old gentleman said. "He has just returned from 2 years overseas service and is getting a leave before reassignment. His mother has been very sick and I think he might help her to get well. We are living on our family allowance and whatever money my son can send, but I've scraped together this $25. Can you give me enough more to bring him home?"

After verifying the facts, the Home Service worker sent a telegram to the Red Cross field director at the boy's camp, telling of the father's request and of the offer of the twenty-five dollars he could so ill afford. The following day she received an answering wire from the field director:

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

"Return twenty-five dollars to father. Army granting emergency leave and arranging for air transportation home. We are arranging for maintenance and return transportation."

It was only one item in a busy worker's day, but to two old people and a long-absent son it meant a lot.

Often the need is not for financial aid but for help with the unexpected problems that may hit any family and are more acute when the head of the family is thousands of miles away.

It was so with an Air Force sergeant who reenlisted after overseas combat service. He left his wife and children in Kentucky on a farm with his mother-in-law. He also left 25 head of cattle, through which the family income would be supplemented. He thought his family secure for the 8 years of his new enlistment. Then disaster struck. The wife's mother became ill and was compelled to sell the farm and go to live with a distant sister. This left the sergeant's family without housing, and 25 head of cattle without care.

The Red Cross helped the soldier get emergency leave, helped him find suitable living quarters for his wife, and arranged for quick sale of his livestock. The sergeant then returned to duty, content in the knowledge that his wife and two small children were provided for.

Often, the need for help extends beyond the time a man is separated from the service. If, as a veteran, the man and his family continue to need aid, the chapter is ready to help.

That is Red Cross Home Service—a friend and counselor to the perplexed, to those in need, to men and women with problems.

Emergency Pasture Keeps Milk Output High When Summer Heat Dries Up Grass

Well-fertilized pastures insure continued high milk production.

NOW is the time to plan for emergency pasture that will keep milk production high next summer when drouthy weather dries up your regular pastures, advises the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

A few acres of Sudan grass seed in late spring can be a life saver when bluegrass fades in July and August, or if there is not a sufficient acreage of legume-grass mixtures to give dairy cows all the succulent, nutritious forage they need.

Agronomists say the best time to seed Sudan grass is about two weeks after corn planting. It should not be grazed until it is 12 to 18 inches high. With favorable growing conditions, it will reach that height in six to seven weeks.

Sudan grass can take plenty of dry weather punishment. It is palatable and productive. As a fast growing, high yielding annual grass, Sudan needs a good supply of readily available plant food. While its requirements for phosphate are high, it needs other nutrients, too. Agronomists at various Midwestern agricultural colleges recommend adding a complete fertilizer, carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash. In some cases they recommend applications of 500 pounds of fertilizer per acre.

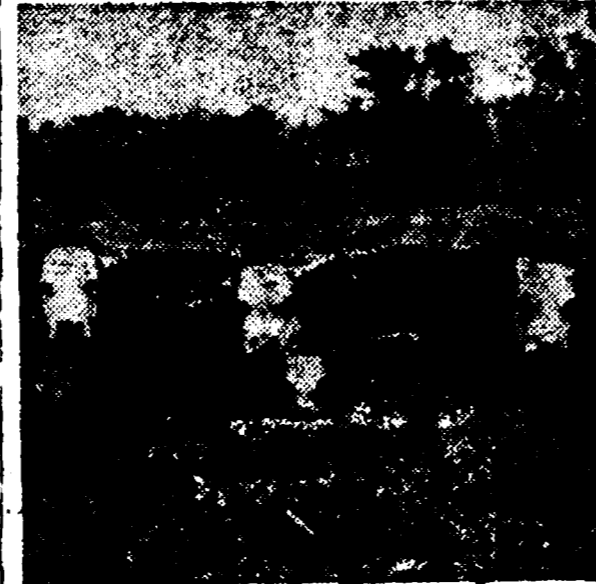

A firm, well-prepared seed bed is needed. Some agronomists suggest working up the seed bed just as you would for corn. About 25 pounds of seed is usually enough. Be careful about seeding. Don't put seeds down too deep. Otherwise, you may get a thin stand.

Need Well-Balanced Nutrient Supply to Maintain High Yields

MAINTAINING high crop yields year after year depends on getting and keeping a well-balanced supply of nutrients in a soil well conditioned with organic matter, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a recent statement.

"No one element is the sole answer to high production over extended periods," says the statement. "It is true that some soil for a time gives startling responses to one element. But the reason for this is that such soil is deficient in that one element, while well stocked with others."

"Take, for instance, a soil lacking in potash. As soon as potash is added, the crop response is tremendous. But continued additions of potash alone will soon pull down the available supply of nitrogen, phosphate and other nutrient elements. When that happens there will be no response from potash until these other elements are added.

"All this emphasizes the fact that an adequate, well-balanced nutrient level is essential to continued high crop production. But for the top in profitable production this high mineral nutrient level must be coupled with practices that give: 1—A plentiful stock of organic matter to give the soil good condition and promote the maximum use of nutrients; 2—Good drainage to save essential moisture and draw off excess water; 3—Adequate soil ventilation to provide crop roots with all the oxygen they need.

"Farmers can condition their soil by the use of lime to provide needed calcium and overcome acidity, the use of good rotations and well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes to increase and maintain organic matter supplies."

More Nitrogen Gives Bigger Grain Yields, Extra Pasture and Hay

INCREASED use of nitrogen fertilizer offers many opportunities for producing higher yields of small grains and more pasture and hay crops, declared Prof. C. J. Chapman, extension agronomist of the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. Chapman cautions, however, that nitrogen will give its crop boosting results only where the soil has a solid foundation of minerals built up by regular additions of phosphate and potash fertilizers and by a crop rotation that includes well-fed, deep-rooted legumes.

Citing examples of small grains' response to nitrogen, where phosphate and potash are in good supply, Prof. Chapman reported that 500 pounds of 0-20-20 made a yield of 56 bushels per acre on one farm. But when 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate was added, yields were pushed up to over 91 bushels per acre.

Chapman said it is profitable to use some nitrogen on small grains at seeding time, but liberal additions of phosphate-potash fertilizers are needed where seedlings of clover and alfalfa are made. The seedling legume plants make a vigorous start early in the growing season and thus withstand competition from the heavy growth of straw due to the nitrogen.

Good Seed, Soil Care And Plant Food Give Record Wheat Yield

THE teamwork of good farming practices, plenty of fertilizer and improved seed varieties helped Claude W. Thorp produce 74.5 bushels of wheat per acre on his farm near Clinton, Ill., last summer. This was one of the highest wheat yields ever reported.

Thorp's record crop came from a 25.2 acre field. Altogether this field produced 1,879 bushels of wheat. He seeded Pawnee wheat, a hard red winter variety developed by the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station. At harvest the wheat was weighed on state-inspected scales and the field carefully re-measured.

At seeding time the autumn before the wheat was drilled at the rate of a bushel and a half an acre, following removal of a soybean crop.

Thorp "poured it on" so far as fertilizer is concerned. He broadcast 500 pounds per acre of 8-8-8 fertilizer before drilling the wheat. Previously the same year, 400 pounds of 3-12-12 was added ahead of the soybean crop. He used this heavy fertilizer program to build up the soil under a 4-year rotation of clover, corn, soybeans and wheat.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943 reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good."

"The careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding." The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT
Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.
