A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
We, the undersigned, would like to protect the children of the Pettysville and Cady schools from the reckless drivers who speed past our local school areas.
We need more drivers to remember that a human life is a precious thing. Young lives are at stake in this battle of speed vs. caution. An ounce of common sense will keep our youngsters alive.
We want the Pettysville Road to cease being a speedway and become a safe way for our school youngsters. If the speeders continue making this road unsafe, then we will exercise our rights as citizens of this area and report the drivers of these speeding automobiles to the Sheriff's office.
We mean business! We'd rather be tough today than sorry tomorrow.
The Pettysville Civic Ass'n. Harriet Smith, Mrs. Peter Gerycz, Mrs. C. W. Burroughs, Mrs. Steve Aschenbrenner, Mrs. Estella Tubbs, Antonio Massano, Mark Nash, Bertie Smith, Douglas Smith, Joe Bosydo, Mavis Basydo, Jo, Celia Nash, John Pietrus, John McDonnell, Clifford VanHorn, Beatrice VanHorn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wall, Leona Marie Bennett, Th. Outgoing Comment

With the sale of yellow margarine legal in Michigan for the first time, a history of this product would not be amiss. Necessity was responsible for its discovery. In 1860 during the Franco-Prussian war, butter disappeared in France and a chemist, Hippolyte Mege-Mouries was commissioned to develop a substitute for it. His product was of doubtful taste and quality and as butter became available again at the end of the war, its sale was not very large. However, scientists kept at it and today margarine differs from butter only in one principal and that is that butter is 80 percent animal fat and margarine is 80 percent vegetable fat. Its principal ingredients are cotton seed, soy bean, peanut and corn oils and hydrogenated skimmed milk. It is fortified with vitamin "A" which puts it on the list of the 7 basic foods. However, butter was an important farm product and rural members of legislatures had enough power they taxed colored oleo so high that its cost was prohibitive. As the years went by dairying began to change, due to better transportation and more and dairymen stopped making butter and sold their milk in the fluid, it being more profitable. Butter became scarce and when inflation hit us the price of butter became so high that few could afford it and oleo sales boomed.

For many years the jails and poor houses in Michigan were a disgrace to the state. In recent years the Board of Health has put a lot of them out of business. Livingston, Washtenaw, and Ingham counties have replaced both of theirs in recent years with new buildings. Still some counties do not keep up with the times. At the last election Shiawassee voted to build a new jail and then donated the mill income to finance it. The state has notified the Board of Supervisors it will padlock the jail in 90 days and they will have to transport all prisoners to other jails at big expense. So another election will be called to vote on a new jail.

The governorship recount was in full swing last week and some amusing incidents took place. At Stanton the election board was told to put the ballots in a vault for safekeeping. Apparently the only one was in a cemetery. So they put them there. When they went after them the door was frozen shut. When this had been chopped open the ballot box was found frozen to the floor. Most of the mistakes were due to faulty instructions. In one precinct the ballots were not taken out of the vault. In another a rubber stamp was used. Another lot was discarded because the initial was not on the stub, in another bunch it was on the perforation. Many were also thrown out because they did not have an X marked in the square.

Many city and city or district leagues were drawn up in Detroit last week. A student was arrested for making an illegal turn. He pled his own case and got free. He pointed out the ordinance prohibited making left turns from a one way to a two way street and from a two way to a one way street but there was nothing substituted turning from one way street to an other and way street.

Nearly all minor leagues went in the red last year and the probability is that many will not operate this coming year. Many of them are financed by big league teams and in the Michigan bush league some teams want $200,000 in the hole. The minor leagues lay the blame to television and broadcast big league games and the Piedmont League has introduced a resolution reading "No professional home ball game. All Star and World Series games accepted, shall be broadcast or televised." Now it is a necessity that the minor leagues continue to operate. They are the only method by which players for the big leagues can be developed. The whole thing in a nutshell is that if there are no minor leagues then there will be no players for the majors.

Rural Tele-news

MAKES HOURS OUT OF A MINUTE—The Fastax camera can take so many pictures so fast that one minute's action, when slowed down on a movie screen would make an eight-hour show. Developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, the camera is used to study the rapid motions of telephone switching equipment as well as the action of human vocal cords. Research aids such as the Fastax help to improve telephone service.

THE RINGS YOU CAN'T HEAR—It wasn't too many years ago that nearly every rural-line customer served by Michigan Bell could hear the rings of all other parties on the line. Today, thanks to technical improvements, nine out of every ten hear the rings of no more than half the parties on their line. This is but one of many ways Michigan Bell is providing steadily better rural service.

HOW DO THEY SOUND TO YOU?
In recent months many Michigan Bell operators have been attending meetings to find ways to give you better service. They've listened to their own voices on wire recorders... and analyzed many other phases of their work and they're putting their findings into practice. They hope you notice the improvement.

The Happiest Kid on the Block

... will he be yours this Christmas?

HE CAN BE—he will be—if you bring home the television set that he's wanted so long, that he'll use so much.

Laughter, music, adventure, magic—television at home means all that to a growing boy these days, but it means a lot more than just programs.

Now he'll be able to invite the gang over to his house for TV instead of having to slip over to the neighbors to see television himself.

Now he can choose his own programs, with you to help develop his tastes, instead of viewing the choices of someone else.

Now he'll spend a lot more time with Dad, watching ball games together and listening to Dad's stories about the very teams they're watching.

No wonder the happiest kid on the block will be your son when you make this year his "Television Christmas."

With TV this magic world is his to enjoy every day!

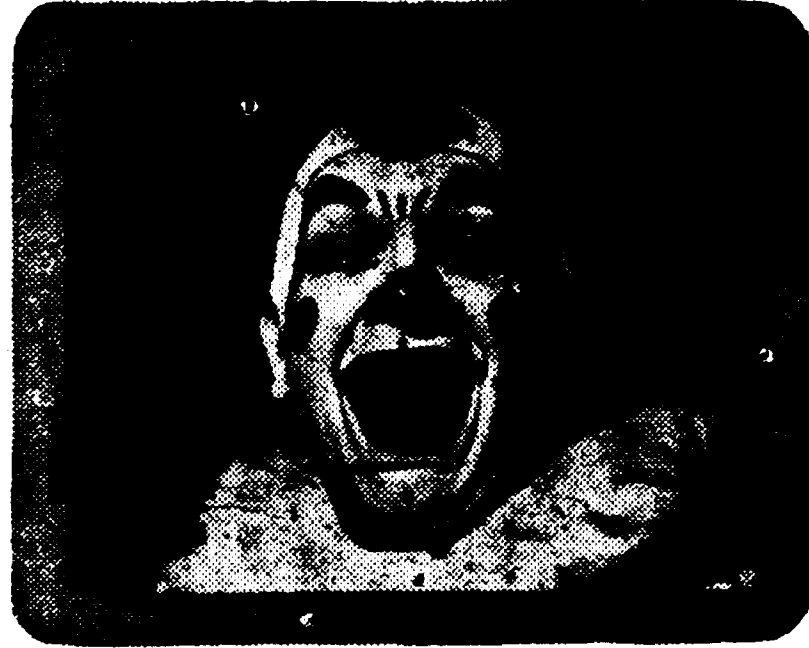

TELEVISION is moving faster than you think. New programs, new stars make their debut every week. The longer you wait, the more you miss! Here's just a partial list.

CHILD PERFORMERS—Talented singers, dancers, musicians, inspire your children to cultivate their own talents. They'll be more eager to learn—practice more willingly.

WORLD'S GREATEST athletic events—Fathers and sons follow their favorite teams together from a front row seat. Television helps teach your children sportsmanship.

THE WONDERFUL world of make believe enchants children for hours—is often both educational and entertaining. It sure helps Mom—especially on rainy days.

MUSIC DELUXE! Now you can see as well as hear your favorite orchestras, singers, instrumentalists! Yes, Television gets you right "on stage" seats, no money could buy!

LAUGHTER under your roof—the shared pleasure that binds your family closer. The greatest comedians of the entertainment world are in your living room every night on TV.

Peter Capra

Executive Director of the Boys Club of New York, says:

"Television is more than fun for boys. It is significant and true that since the inclusion of television in the Boys Club program, the Glee Club, Drama and Music Groups have improved tremendously in the number of boys participating. Television properly integrated in the over-all program of wholesome recreation will continue to make an increasingly valuable contribution by keeping growing boys informed, entertained and happy... essential in building character and developing personality."

How time flies. Just a few years back you were thrilled with the "ole swimmer's hole," ready to take a plunge into the cool, flowing waters. Maybe ten years from now you'll want to take another plunge such as buying a new home, a new car, a long vacation trip. These take money and where's it coming from. The smart people know the easy answer—U. S. Savings Bonds. Enroll now for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. You then save automatically and in 1959 your Savings Bonds will produce $4 for every $5 invested today.

Teamwork of All Plant Nutrients Needed to Make High Crop Yields

PLANT nutrients have to "play ball" together to make high crop yields possible, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. Each element has its work to do. Each reinforces the other. None can do the whole crop-feeding job by itself.

"All nutrients must be in balanced supply to give you top yields," the Committee says. "You can't increase crop production by adding only one plant food element when others are short. If your soil has plenty of phosphate and potash, but is short of nitrogen, you won't get good yields unless you supply that nitrogen. And the same is true of phosphate and potash, respectively."

"University of Illinois agronomists demonstrated that it takes the combined teamwork of lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash to get maximum corn yields. They made their tests on nutrient-deficient soils at the Brownstown field.

"A plot that had no fertilizer yielded only 14.7 bushels of corn per acre. When nitrogen alone was added, the yield was 14.3 bushels. Adding phosphate brought the yield up to 24.8 bushels because the soil got some nitrogen from clovers in the rotation. When potash alone was added, the corn yield was 11.9 bushels per acre. Limestone brought the yield up to 31 bushels. When lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash all were added in balanced supply, the yield rose to 46 bushels per acre."

Graduation days are over and the hopes of those leaving school for the last time are flying high. There is one bit of advice your Uncle Sam wants you graduates to remember, and that is—the only money you'll ever have in the money you've saved right now. Saving part of each paycheck is the ONLY way to succeed. And one of the best ways to do it is to buy U. S. Savings Bonds through your company's Payroll Savings Plan. These Bonds are backed by the full resources of the Government and will return you $4 for every $5 ten years later.

Pinckney School

The grade children are writing a history of the Pinckney school. We did considerable research on the subject at the time of the centennial in 1935 and they may use any of it they see fit.

Solomon Peterson the first settler here came in 1826 and took up a section of land on the Dexter road near where Leon Meabon lives he built his home. Stanford Marble, the second settler arrived here from Connecticut in 1831 and built his home near the present residence of Mr. and Mrs. Floris Clark. Prof. William Kirtland, a Latin teacher in Oneida university, N.Y., and founder of Pinckney arrived in 1835 and platted the village in 1837. His authoress who wrote under the name of Mary Clavers. Her books may still be found in some libraries.

The first school established in Putnam was not in Pinckney at all but at the southwest corner of the intersection of Dexter and Darwin Rd. on John Sigler farm and was called the Sigler school. Later it was moved a mile west to Tama Rd. and renamed the Harris school as several families of that name lived near it. This was District No. 1 Putnam.

The first school in Pinckney was Putnam No. 2 and we are informed by Mrs. Hattie Decker, daughter of Dr. Charles Hase, Pinckney pioneer, that the first school at Pinckney was at Main St. and Dexter Corners. Around civil war time the school was established at its present location. It was a 2 room frame building, heated by a wood stove but it served for many years. In the eighties it became too small and other buildings were used such as the Potlatch, former saloon. The people then were not school minded and voted down several new school proposals. Late in the eighties the old Red School house burned down mysteriously and the first brick school was built here in 1887. Up to that time the school had only owned half of the block where the school was located, the McCullough foundry occupying the south half of it. Now this property was purchased, graded and trees set out. The new school was not built out tragedy as a workman fell from the roof and was killed.

In 1936 with an enrollment of over 200 the first addition was built on. This included the gym. A laboratory was added in the year 1948. The athletic field was bought in 1936 but was not graded, fenced and lighted for night games until 1947.

The present building due to the growing school population and consolidation of 11 districts is again too small and plans have been approved to build an 8 room elementary school at the west village limits on M. 36 W. No record was kept of the early teachers of the school. Prof. William A. Sprout took charge in the seventies and was supt. for 25 years. Under him the school was made a 12 grade one. Stephen Durfee succeeded him. Then came Clayton Miller, Theodore Gaul and Hugh McDougall. J. P. Doyle followed him and was supt. for 25 years. He put it on the athletic map and on the accredited list of the University of Michigan. Erwin Hulce was next and remained 5 years. Wesley Reader, the present supt. succeeded Hulce.

Gene Mann who makes local history a hobby, does not agree with us in regard to the location of the first Pinckney school. He says it was located on South Howell St. near the present home of Mrs. Marion Burnett and not Dexter Corners. Conditions were unsettled in those days and there may have been schools at both locations. Mrs. Kirtland was school teacher and operated a private school for girls in Detroit before coming to Pinckney.

It usually takes a substantial bundle of money to start your own business. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Here's An "Expert" Example!

When our Main Street parking problem cropped up again, we announced a strict one-hour parking policy, and swore in extra duties to enforce it.

We also sent over to the State Capitol for a traffic expert, to give us pointers. He turned out to be real help. He spent a whole afternoon with us talking about zoning and so on. When he left the building and a ticket on his car for parking in the wrong place.

Could have put it over, I guess - or asked us to "fix" the ticket. But instead, he insisted on going over to the Sheriff's Office and paying his fine.

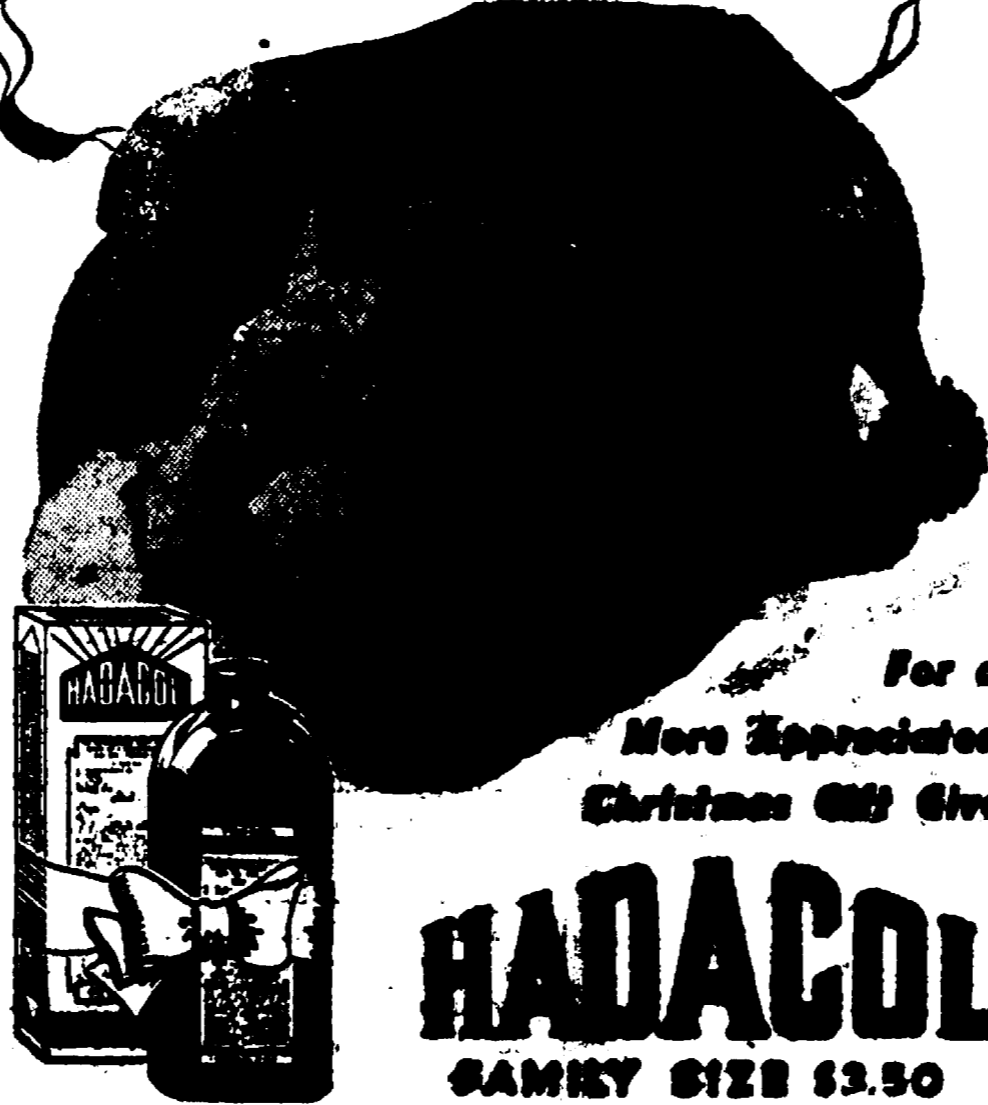

From where I sit, it's good to know people like that young fellow, who refuse to be treated any different than anyone else. City people and farmers—those of us who prefer cider and those who'd rather have a cool glass of temperate beer—we're all entitled to the same privileges. That is, so long as what we do doesn't conflict with the law of the land.
