Michigan Mirror

It is the duty of the press to remind its readers of the importance of voting at the primaries on August 5th. You may not think your vote is important but it is. In a presidential election in the state of Maryland once Henry Clay defeated Andrew Jackson for president by just four votes. Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams and Ruth Serrord Hayes were all elected president by just one electoral vote.

A Korean peace within 30 days is forecast by Washington authorities. Their reason is that the nomination of Gen. Eisenhower means there will be no backdown in military policy no matter who is elected president.

Gov. Williams has sent Gov. Murin of Porto Rico, a Michigan flag for use in the ceremonies marking adoption of commonwealth status by the territory. Bert Robb has been loaned to make a study of harbor facilities and water resources by Gov. Williams.

Michigan was represented last week at the hearing on Canadian application to begin work on the St. Lawrence Waterway before the International Joint Commission. Congress has so far refused to let the United States participate.

The death of Judge Walter of the supreme court gives Gov. Williams an appointment to the court to make. Judge Steve Roth of Flint is said to be first choice with Clark Adams of Pontiac second. The appointee holds office until the spring election.

WO DISTINGUISHED JURISTS

Last week two distinguished judges of Michigan who were prominent in Masonry passed. One was Judge Walter North of Battle Creek a member of the state supreme court and a member of Michigan grand lodge jurisprudence committee for 20 years died at University hospital, Ann Arbor last week. This committee handles all Masonic legislation. In the course of my connection with Livingston the said lodge has presented legislation to this committee at various times and have always received greatest consideration and assistance from Judge North. Judge Arthur Gordon of Wayne court resigned due to ill health. Ross Read and I sat next to Judge Gordon at grand lodge at Flint some years ago. I was introduced to him by Ross who had met him at Republican meetings. Judge Gordon was prominent in higher orders of Masonry.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

The suit to prevent the filling in of a fish spawning marsh at Osego Lake has been put over to Oct. The reality company doing the filling in have indicated they may comply with the dept. request.

A 10 year study of Michigan lakes and rivers financed by the Dingell Johnson fund has been approved by the federal government.

The conservation dept. will plane spray 400 acres in Black Forest to curb spittle bug infest. So far 20 acres in Presque Isle county have been killed by the bugs.

The smallest fire loss of the season resulted last week when fires burned over 5 acres. The years total so far is 899 fires and 5,276 acres burned over.

An albino woodchuck was caught at St. Johns recently and is at Rose Lakewild life station. There are also a pair of twin fawns there.

DURANTE SALUTES MAGGIE TRUMAN

Jimmy Durante takes readers behind the scenes of TV rehearsals and reveals that Margaret Truman has a real sense of humor even when the "sit" is on her. Durante tells all in "MY GAL, MAGGIE TRUMAN" in this Sunday's (Aug. 3) issue of the American Weekly, with Detroit Sunday Times.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my neighbors and friends for their acts of kindness, cards, etc., during my recent illness at St. Joseph's hospital. Mrs. Lee Lavey

THE DOLAN FAMILY

A family who played a prominent part in the annals of this community was the Dolan family. We are indebted to Edward and Clara Dolan for our information. They are grandchildren of the founder of the Dolan family and are still living on the Dolan homestead taken by their ancestor in 1835 which has always been in possession of the Dolan family.

The ancestor of the Dolan family was one Thomas Dolan of Kings county, Ireland. He married Bridget Ciamin of Kings county and they came to America in 1835. In 1835 they took up 140 acres in Dexter township which is the homestead later they bought the Knutfield farm of 80 acres next to it. Mr. Dolan was one of the leading farmers of Dexter township nearly all of whom were Irish in the early days. He was the father of 7 sons and 2 daughters. The sons were Frank who went to Williamston Steve killed in the civil war, Patrick William, John Michael and Thomas. The daughters, Mary who married John and Rose who died in early life.

Thomas who got the homestead, married Kathryn Guinan. There were 3 children, William, deceased, Edward and Clara.

William married Ellen McNamara of Dexter. He had a grocery store and saloon in Pinckney. His children were William, Thomas, Frank, Agnes who married John Ruen and Gerude. All are now dead, the home is now owned by Gerald Reason.

Michael worked in Dexter for awhile where he married Ellen Sloan had a grocery store in Pinckney. His children were Thomas, Frank, Minnie Nolan, Nolan, Rosalia McClellan, Anna Ashley, Florence Chapman and Ellen. Mes James Nolan, McClellan Chapman and Ellen survive.

Patrick married Mary Ryan of Hamburg. His children were Emma who married Michael Ryan, Julia Tappe and Ida Quim of Jackson and Agnes. He was in the saloon business and builder of the stores in Dexter now occupied by Joe LaRosa and the Webster Grocery.

John married Anna Mahoney and was in the saloon business in Dexter. His children were Henry, Louis, John, Michael, Walter and Claude and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Quish. All are now dead.

There was another Dolan family in Dexter who were cousins of the first. Thomas, Mrs. Mary Kittleton was a daughter.

In discussing the early settlers with Adrian Lavey he said he was out with the late Dr. H. F. Sigler in the Silver Lake section and time and the latter remarked that he could not understand why the Irish who settled that section took up all the bad land. Adrian asked his father, Michael Lavey and was told that in Ireland they depended on wild grass for their hay and streams or springs for water and when they took up land here they looked for those things on it.

When they were discussing a name for it, Marion, the 7 year old Wing daughter, came in the room and some one said "Name it after her." The name stuck. So the township was not named after the revolution or war general as supposed.

Convention

DEMOCRAT CONVENTION

While the Republican and Democrat conventions were in session in their useless polls of the delegations and monotonous long speeches there were some differences. The Democrat one seemed a little better organized. With the exception of the vote on seating the Virginia delegation all questions were decided by a voice vote. The Republicans polled the delegations on all the questions that come up. Both parties could have settled their business in 3 days if they had so willed but the hotels and other businesses who put up the money to get the convention to Chicago were promised a week and they had to make good.

It was the first televised in history and some of the rough spots will be rubbed off in years to come.

The nomination of Gov. Steven son was forecast by a number of commentators. The only question was would he accept? He did and had the nomination handed to him without making a single speech or travelling a single mile. The other candidates toured the nation and made many speeches. His acceptance speech even drew praise from Republicans. In it was a vein of humility seldom heard in political speeches. The nomination of Senator Sparkman of Alabama was an olive branch to the south who have been threatened to bolt.

As in the Republican convention the younger men showed a disposition to take control. Eisenhower supporters were all young men. At the Democrat convention the young men put over the loyalty oath the first day. Thursday nearly unseated the Virginia delegation who was one of the three states who did not take the loyalty pledge. Eventually cooler heads prevailed and the 3 delegations were seated.

PLAY BRIGHTON FRIDAY

The county league softball game to have been played last Friday at Brighton between the Pinckney and Hamburg teams was cancelled for some unknown reason. This week Friday the Pinckney team will play the Brighton Vagabonds, the league leaders at Howell at 7:30 p.m. A Howell team will play Birmingham in the second game.

The O.E.S. will hold a bazaar at the Masonic temple Saturday, August 2 starting at 10:00 A.M. There will be baked goods, Fish Pond, Fancy Work, Rummage Sale, White Elephant Booth, Parcc Post Booth. Luncheon served from 11 to 2. All invited.

THE MELODY MINSTRELS

The Pinckney Masonic Building Ass'n. will put on a minstrel show on the Veterans Lighted Field here on the nights of Aug. 22, 23 for benefit of building fund. There is a cast of 25 and it is being directed by Mrs. Winifred Aberdeen. Rehearsals are being held 2 nights a week. There will be specialties between acts. Quite a number of the cast attended the Lowell Show Boat Saturday night and they would like to duplicate it here when the dam is put in and the water restored to proper depth in the pond here.

Like the Republican convention the first 3 days were cluttered up with speakers who talked on everything but the matter at hand. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt got the greatest ovation and Vice President Barkley next but as like the demonstration for former Pres. Hoover by Republicans the Detroit Free Press remarked it did not mean anything, he was not a candidate for any office. Like the Republican convention there were numerous delays and adjournments and the sessions lasted to the early morning hours. With all its absurdities television has made it the greatest show on earth but the time may come when the parties may have to get their delegates from Hollywood or hold rehearsals before hand.

Mrs. Loretta Schafer gave a baby shower last Wednesday for Mrs. Mary Ellen Read and Mrs. Jane Feltner one Friday,

Current Comment

A manufacturer who died in Illinois recently was brought to Owosso for burial. His body was accompanied by $10,000 worth of flowers in a refrigerated car. Now this man was probably well liked and a member of many organizations. Hence all the flowers. We think this money is too much to spend for flowers which bloom for a day or so and fade. The money could have done more good if contributed in some other way. There was a similar incident in Dexter many years ago. One Patrick Gallagher who lived in Webster was a money leader. Many farmers bought their farms with loans from him and he never foreclosed on anyone. He removed to Coruna and became bank president. When he died they ran a special train to Dexter which carried $5000 worth of flowers, a lot in those days. There was not enough room on his cemetery lot for all them and the family gave them away.

The Steel Strike has been settled after months of fruitless negotiation and work will be back to normal in 3 or 4 weeks. President Truman is said to have put Philip Murray, head of the C.I.O. and Amos Grassing, head of U. S. Steel in a room and told them to stay there until a settlement was reached. The one worked out gives the workers 21c an hour more and the steel companies $5.24 a ton more. It probably means the price of steel products will be increased some. Now why this settlement could not have been arrived a month ago without all this loss of production we do not know. There is not enough give and take in labor and industrial relations.

The Democrat convention at Chicago last week differed considerably from the Republican one of 2 weeks before. The Republican convention was a clash between two personalities with directly opposite ideas typified by Senator Taft and Gen. Eisenhower with about the same number delegate votes. Warren and Stassen got few votes outside their own states. Day after day Taft and Eisenhower clashed head on with Eisenhower always winning. Eisenhower's "Thou Shall Not Steal" signs in reference to the southern delegate debate turned the tide in his favor. On the other hand instead of 2 leading candidates the Democrats had 11 with no one anywhere the goal line of 616 delegates. There were numerous delegations with one half and one fourth split votes each. The Republicans have no split votes. Gov. Dever of Massachusetts, temporary chairman did a fine job and things moved swiftly under his direction. Demonstrators were limited to delegations.

Speakers barred. Nominating speeches to 20 minutes and seconding speeches to 10. Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, permanent chairman did not do so good. He seemed confused at times and let the convention get out control Thursday during the nominating speeches.

Like the Republican convention the big fight on a civil rights plank failed to materialize and it was adopted by a voice vote. The big fight was on the loyalty resolution submitted by Senator Blair Moody of Michigan. There was a lot of hair splitting on this. The resolution merely asked each state delegation to promise to do all in their power to see that the Democrat national ticket was on their state ballot in November. In 1948 4 southern states left it off, 3 states, Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia refused to sign the resolution but after long debate were seated by roll call when they gave assurance the Democrat ticket nominated at the convention would be on their state ballot.

One Campbell went to Spawton hospital, Lansing Friday for a checkup.

The Kenneth Reason family of Ann Arbor spent Sunday with Mrs. Edna Reason. Sunday visitors at the Louis Shehan home were the Gene Shehan family of Brighton and Mr and Mrs Bob Cannon of Ford.

Young Billy Hubble shows how easy it is to unload a silo electrically. Automatically controlled, the blades work silage to the center, where it is picked up by the blower and dropped down the chute.

ELECTRIC SILO UNLOADER saves one hour's hard work a day

Every farmer knows that it's hard, disagreeable work to climb into a silo every day and throw down silage. Charles Hubble, Lapeer County farmer, has done something about it with a new electric silo unloader that does the job for him and saves at least an hour of work every day. He finds these advantages, too. (1) The cows eat more because the silage is shredded finer. (2) The revolving blades keep the top of the silage leveled off, with less surface exposed to freezing. (3) Less waste from spoilage.

For more complete information on this new time-saving electric farm-hand, see your dealer or your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

Good wiring is always important. So always ask your Farm Service Advisor for his recommendations.

Buy Fertilizer Now To Avoid Shortages When Spring Comes

FERTILIZER shortages can be avoided next spring if farmers place their orders now and take delivery early, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing a recent statement by Dr. H. B. Cheney, extension agronomist at Iowa State College.

Cheney points out that railroad car shortages may restrict the movement of fertilizer next spring and it may be impossible to meet farmers' demands if they call for heavy deliveries over a short period of time.

"The outlook for fertilizer production is good this year," he said, "but if fertilizer producers run out of storage space, they will have to slow up production."

As a means of keeping plant food moving steadily, he advises farmers to make immediate arrangements for supplies and to store the plant food until it is time to use it next spring.

Cheney recommends a dry building with a wooden floor as the best storage place. If the fertilizer is stored on a concrete floor, a wooden platform should be built 4 to 8 inches above the floor. This will allow air circulation under the bags, which can be piled 8 to 10 bags high. Space should also be left between the wall of the building and the storage pile to provide for more circulation.

Uncle Sam Says

The purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds is a method whereby you can make your dollars work for America, just as they work for you. Our country must be strong economically. It should be apparent to everyone that defense is everybody's job. Your part is to buy Defense Bonds. Every employee in a plant or business establishment should be enrolled for the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan at his bank. A few dollars here or there will accomplish little, but with everyone doing his or her job, America will be economically secure.

Bigger Corn Goals Heighten Need For Plant Food in '52

WITH 1952 corn planting goals reported at 38 million acres, Midwestern farmers will be asked to produce big yields again next year, points out the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Prospective 1952 goals will be about 3½ million acres more than the corn acreage harvested this year, says the committee.

"Getting big corn yields per acre," it says, "is a matter of following good soil management practices that increase the plant nutrient and organic matter supply."

"Soil specialists estimate that farmers in many states could double their present corn output."

"Where soils already have good tilth, the generous use of nitrogen,

Well-fed corn yields extra bushels. phosphate and potash can give immediate yield increases. This is particularly true if a starter fertilizer at planting time is reinforced by a backlog of nutrients in the soil.

"Other soils may need to be conditioned for high yields by building up the organic matter supply with a well-fertilized legume-grass crop."

"When taprooted legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover are well fed with phosphate and potash, they condition the soil all the day down through the root zone and enable corn to make the most efficient use of plant nutrients and moisture in the soil. The active organic matter added by the legumes supplies energy material for the billions of tiny organisms below the surface that fix nitrogen in the soil, fight plant diseases and release carbon dioxide for the use of crops."

Good Soil Tilth Helps Crops Thrive in Drouthy Weather

CROPS grown on soils of good tilth have a better chance of standing drouthy summer weather, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"The reason for this is that such soils soak up more moisture and store it for the use of crops during dry weather," says a statement issued by the committee.

Plant nutrients play an important two-way function, says the committee, in helping make more water available for crop use:

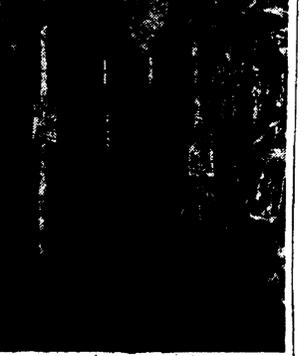

1—By producing larger amounts of organic matter, they help increase the soil's water-holding capacity. Less water runs off; more is saved for crop use.

2—The nutrients help the plants make more efficient use of water.

"When ample plant nutrients are provided," says the committee, "the crop will actually make more growth per unit of water taken up. So crops grown on soils of good tilth take longer to be affected by drouth when they are well nourished."

One of the best ways to add organic matter, according to the committee, is to follow a rotation that includes plowed under deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover. These mellow the soil and improve drainage.

You can fertilize the legumes and row crops following, with phosphate, potash and nitrogen as needed to produce bigger yields. In that way you get more roots, tops, straw stalks and other aftermath to build organic matter in the soil. You can also increase the organic matter supply by saving and returning barn-yard manure to the soil.

Well structured soil (right) enables corn roots to forage for more water and nutrients. Tight, poorly drained soil (left) cuts down root growth.

Fertilizer Boosts Crops Profits And Rebuilds Farm Soils

USING fertilizer is simply good dollars and cents business these days, says Dr. William A. Albrecht, chairman of the soils department of the University of Missouri.

Take the corn crop, for instance. Dr. Albrecht reports that it requires nearly 40 bushels of corn per acre to meet production costs, exclusive of fertilizer.

When it is considered that average corn yields are less than 50 bushels per acre in most Midwestern states, the use of fertilizer can provide the margin of profit the farmer needs to make money.

Dr. Albrecht said that more and more farmers are realizing the need for management methods that build the soil permanently rather than merely stimulate crop production. In Missouri alone, farmers are using four times as much mixed fertilizers containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash as in 1946.

Emphasizing the need for long range soil building, Dr. Albrecht pointed out that fertilizers are only starters and crop stimulators when added with the seeds near the soil's surface.

Sustaining soil fertility is provided when fertilizers are plowed under in larger amounts or applied at greater depths, he said. Such a system aims to rebuild the soil rather than just fertilize one crop.

FRED M.
ALGER

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural.

Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first.

Both have proven themselves good and able administrators. Ike, in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II.

Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorship, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression; Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

They understand each other.

It's a pair that can't be beat.

For Michigan and the Nation, it's

REPUBLICAN

Dear Fellow American:

The time has come for us, as Americans, to re-establish the rights for which we stand—to re-assert our inalienable rights to human dignity, self-respect, self-reliance—to be again the kind of people who made America great.

Upon this philosophy and the following 10 points, I am basing my campaign for election to Congress in the 6th District:

1. A realistic, friendly but firm foreign policy.
2. A constitutional limit on federal taxes.
3. A return of morality, fidelity, and honesty in government.
4. The conservation of all natural resources.
5. A safe balance between military and domestic spending.
6. The preservation of state rights and limitation of the federal government to specific taxes.
7. A sound agricultural program free of present socialistic policies, and prevention of top soil erosion through head water flood control.
8. A return to government based on fact, for the common good rather than political expediency.
9. A realization that there is no substitute for mutual cooperation and best production of consumers goods to attain real prosperity, and the return to a sound national economy.
10. Finally, I believe that faith and unity are the hallmarks of America's future and the salvation of the civilized world—we must face the fact that a bankrupt nation offers no man security of any kind.

I invite you to join me in my efforts, to put this philosophy and program into practice.

Sincerely,
James Gardner

When 10-10-10 fertilizer was added to white clover and bluegrass on the Betlach farm near Sun Prairie in Dane County, pasture yields increased by about 1 1/2 tons per acre. The output was 8,025 pounds per acre on July 2, 1951, on the fertilized fields and 2,300 pounds on the check plots.

The pasture demonstrations are being carried on in cooperation with farmers, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and organizations in the fertilizer industry.

We must find a remedy for work stoppage. Technical schools are teaching that the incentive profit sharing system is the coming thing. Right now it has been eagerly accepted in many industries wherein everybody benefits. Tax exemption will speed the early adoption of the incentive sharing system.

High taxes, resulting from corrupt banking laws (the biggest Washington scandal) are another source of work stoppage. We can reduce these unnecessary trade barriers to free enterprise by expanding the lawful or hon-

War Threats Spur
Need for Building
Up Soil Fertility

THREATS of war heighten the need for putting farm soil in top condition to produce high crop yields, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a statement made public here.

Legumes, fertilizers, soil-saving rotations and conservation tillage methods are the tools for building and maintaining the soil's crop producing capacity, the committee points out.

By strengthening the soil's reserves of organic matter and stockpiling supplies of plant nutrients in the soil now, farmers can be ready if things get really tough later on, the statement says.

"Farm soil took a beating in World War II," it says. "Soil-depleting forces worked overtime after Pearl Harbor when every acre had to produce food to the utmost to help speed victory."

Quite a few people have asked why Bill Broughn carries a canoe, painted bright red around on top of his car. Well its a long story and goes way back to the book of Genesee. There we read the Lord appeared to Noah in a vision and told him there was going to be a big flood and to build an ark and put his family in it and also two of every living creature on earth. We hear Bill also had a vision, and was told there was to be a big flood. He believes in being prepared so he tied the canoe on top of his car and got a pair of hip boots. As he has not got any two of a kind, his family consisting of his wife, Dolly, and son Jimmie, he figures the canoe is big enough so he is all set for high water.
