THE PINCKNEY DISPATCH Wednesday, January 7, 1958

Page 1

The Michigan Mirror

Michigan and 5 other states are fighting in court to keep Chicago stealing the Great Lakes. Chicago for decades has been draining water out of Lake Michigan at the rate of 1200 cubic ft. per second for treatment of sewage. This is all right for all concerned but it is increasing the flow to 2000 cubic ft. for treatment of sewage. The water goes through a sewage canal and then into the Mississippi River. The result is the level of the lakes is being reduced. Attorney General Paul Adams charges it is damaging the recreational value of Michigan, lowering property values and creating chaos. It has already lowered the lakes 2 inches and will do so another 2 inches, reducing tonnage freighters can carry and will cost shippers $4,000,000 a year and raise prices of products.

The damage will extend from Lake Michigan to other lakes. Chicago officials say it is the only way they can solve their sewage problem. Michigan officials want the water treated and returned to Lake Michigan. Chicago says this would double the cost of pipe lines. The other states in the fight are Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota and New York. Three of these states refused to allow their Chicago suburbs to build a pipe line to the lake. They would not sign a non-litigation pact demanded by the investors before they would buy bonds. An added factor is the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Michigan housewives have a champion in the food and standards division. It checks all weight machines from penny scales to those that weigh coal. Also misbranded bottles, packages etc that do not measure up to standard.

ANOTHER HELL HEARD FROM

Hell, Michigan, the community of 200 persons located just south of Pinckney and also called Highland Lake is in the news again but this time on the receiving end as David Lyon III, owner of Fort Hell battlefield and gift shop near Petersburg, Virginia, has invited Mayor Erdley VanSickle of Hell, Mich. to come there and discuss the war between the states. He added the postscript he would show Erdley a Hell of a good time.

Fort Hell or Fort Sedgwick was built during the 10 months siege of Petersburg, Va., in 1864-65 by the Union Army, the First Michigan Sharpshooters were the first Union troops to enter Petersburg after it fell. Mayor VanSickle says he will decline the invitation as none of the inhabitants of Hell, Mich. have any connection with the civil war.

Current Comment

At the time of the civil war when the agitation to abolish slavery was greatest a grand remedy was figured out. It was to send all the slaves back to Africa when freed. This plan gained headway and land was purchased in Africa and slaves sent there. The settlement was named Liberia. Put not a tenth of the freed negroes went back. There were a number of reasons for the failure of this solution. One was the country would not have supported such a vast number. Another was they could not be forced to go back and still another the southern planters needed the negro labor in the cotton fields. Senator Russell of Georgia has another plan about as fantastic. In some communities of the south 80 percent of the population is negro. The senator would distribute them around the nation so that they did not predominate in any one section. Still another solution suggested is to concentrate all negroes in one state and let them take over the government. We doubt that any of these are the answer.

A group calling themselves 59ers is being recruited in Detroit and expected to go to Alaska same way as the 49ers did in the days of the California gold rush. Instead of oxen and wagons they will use trucks and go by the AlCan Highway. About 300 have been recruited and they will take up free land near Anchorage and farm. We think they have chosen the wrong time of year for their trek. We doubt that driving the AlCan Highway would be feasible at this time of year.

New Years was ushered in this year by rain and sleet which rendered the highways unsafe and driving dangerous. There was a lot of traffic and some cars went off the road but there were no fatalities here. A number of carloads of Detroit people who came out here had to stay all night. Quite a number of people finding it impossible to keep their cars in the road left them and finished their journey on foot. We never saw so many people walking before in our lives. Salt was thrown on the main highways and the trucks soon cleaned the ice slush but the side roads and streets remained slippery.

Los Angeles has been troubled by a smog similar to the London one and she blames the auto makers as one of the causes is the exhaust fumes from cars and trucks. There is probably as many exhaust fumes in other localities but Los Angeles is surrounded by mountains and the air velocity does not take it away. Los Angeles wants the cars equipped with a device to eliminate exhaust fumes. The car makers say they have been working on this years but have not come up with an answer.

Right after World War I the Christmas office or factory parties started. We never heard of one before. After we had won the war it was a time for rejoicing and the Christmas party was born. They were usually held in the office or factory and liquor flowed like water, and many who never drank before, especially the women got lit. Fights and auto accidents were common and failures to show up for work were next day. Management at first condoned them and even participated but decided they were a detriment and such parties are on the decrease.

Years ago people who were not too strong mentally and were attempting the impossible were said to be shooting at moon. There used to be a legend told here about an eccentric character named Thed Cucumbe and his race with the moon with his fast horse. Now this country is speed bilions in an attempt to beat Russia to the moon. Just what we will do if we get there is not stated. Probably not known. The project will not be a success until a man has gone there and returned. A prominent scientist says this may not be for 50 years.

PINCKNEY

by RUSS ENGELHARDT, Manager

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL was deeply interested in the hard-of-hearing.
And so the company that bears his name. That's why we're so pleased that a telephone company invention, the transistor, has had such a beneficial effect in the manufacture of hearing aids. For the same reason, we don't charge the hard-of-hearing for the installation of special phones. And, to make the instrument really does make a customer's life so much easier, we allow a free trial period without the normal monthly rental.

NEW USE FOR FAMILIAR OBJECT.

The day was chill and windy.
The man on the street tried,
four times, to light his cigarette... no luck. Then he noticed a public phone booth a few yards away. He stepped inside, shut the door and achieved success with his next attempt. Then he went his way
—and we like to think that he carried with him some small feeling of gratitude to the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, for placing at his disposal a really storm-proof cigarette lighter.

CORDS GET PERMANENTS. "Spring" type telephone cords
—the kind that can't twist and catch on things—eventually lose their neat tight curls, just like a lady's hair. When this happens, they're not thrown away. Like a lady's hair they get a permanent wave. (They get it when the telephones come in for repair.) Around one million cords get the full beauty treatment each year—washing, rewinding and heat setting. $400,000 is saved by this annually. It helps keep down telephone costs.

THE FOLLOWING STORY is vouched for by a highly respected newspaper. A parakeet, name of Jerry, flew away from home and didn't stop until he reached Shawnee, Kan., thirteen miles as a para-keet flies. The man who found him was wondering what to do next when Jerry chirped up loud and clear: "Call Mary... Jackson 3-4312." The man, more from idle curiosity than anything else, dialed the said number. Believe it or not, but the person who answered was none other than Mrs. Mary Neal,
Jerry's worried owner.

What Is The Largest "Farm Group" In Michigan?

112,000 Farm Families That Regularly Save Trading Stamps Are The Biggest
"Farm Group" In Michigan.

America's farm families are trading stamps thrifty. The same pattern of thrift is found in Michigan. It is only natural, therefore, that the response of Michigan farm families to one of the oldest forms of thrift—the trading stamp—is so noticeable.

Today over 112,000 farm families save them. You might almost say that these savers constitute the largest single farm group in the state.

During 1957 alone, thousands of dollars' worth of trading stamp merchandise went into farm households in the state, and every 12 seconds a farm family is redeeming trading stamps.

There is still another side—direct income for farmers. During 1957 the stamp industry purchased from Michigan farmers $975,000 worth of primary materials that go into the manufacture of merchandise for stamp redemption.

No one can contemplate these facts and fail to realize that both personally and economically the trading stamp industry is a meaningful and welcome force in the life of our state.
