THE PINCKNEY DISPATCH Wednesday, April 22, 1959

No. 20

The Michigan Mirror

For the first time since Louis Cass was nominated for president before the civil war and lost Michigan as a candidate for president next year in the person of Governor G. Mennen Williams, Senator Vandenberg might have had the nomination in 1940 but could not make up his mind and Wendell Wilkie, a Democrat stumped the convention and took it only to lose to Franklin D. Roosevelt. Gov. Williams has been the superman in Michigan ever since he overthrew a top heavy Republican majority in Michigan and got elected governor for 6 consecutive times, a record that will probably always stand. In doing this he carried his party into office with him and they not hold all the state offices except 3 minor ones on university boards.

You would think Michigan would rejoice that one of their citizens is being given serious consideration for the presidency but such is not the case. His opponents are doing their best to block him by painting a false picture of Michigan being bankrupted by ignoring the fact that all these tax measures they claim have brought Michigan to the brink of ruin were passed by Republican legislatures. Michigan's condition is due to a decline in the auto industry, Michigan's main business—and the bird that laid the golden egg.

Michigan has had men suitable for the presidency before but they were passed over and the candidate picked from New York, Ohio or Illinois who have large electoral votes. Anyway Williams is expected to enter some of congressmen were being attacked the presidential primaries. During the past week or so when congressmen were being panned for loading their payrolls with relatives Senator Phil Hart of Michigan received praise for making public his office payroll at Washington. When the senate refused to do this he voluntarily released a list of his employees.

It happens every so often. A sect called the Davidians an offshoot of the Seven Day Adventists in Texas have predicted the Second Coming of Christ on April 22 and ordered their followers to sever all earthly connections. There have been many such predictions none of which ever came to pass. The most famous was the Millerites in Pennsylvania in the eighties. Their founder, Zack Miller, ordered them to dress in white robes and await the coming on high hills which never materialized.

Current Comment

The big news of last week was the resignation of Secretary of State Dulles although it was not unexpected as he was known to be doing of cancer. He had a long diplomatic career starting with appointment to the dept. of state by Franklin D. Roosevelt. President Truman kept him on and he helped form the United Nations and the North Atlantic Alliance. When Eisenhower took over he was appointed to head the dept. and really took over. His term marked the transition of the Republican party from Taft Nationalism to Eisenhower Internationalism. He has been in transit most of the time and has visited about every country in the world except Russia and Red China with whom he refused to have any dealings with. For this he was criticized by many who say these governments are there to stay and we must learn to live with them. He turned down summit conference after conference with them. He threatened to send troops to Vietnam & Quemoy to block the Communists but did not. He forced Great Britain and France out of Egypt when they took Suez and enabled Nasser to become a power and threat to this country. He had more power over the president than anyone else and whipped him into line whenever he showed signs of drifting to Russian offers. David Law once commented says Dulles passing means the appeasers will get their foot in the door. It is announced that President Nixon will visit Russia in June and talk with Khrushchev. Dulles would have visited this. His successor is Christian Herter, former governor Massachusetts who is not expected to wield the power Dulles did. He is an arthritis sufferer and uses two canes to walk with.

The 60th National Convention next year will be in Chicago. Other places under consideration were New York and Philadelphia. Republican national committee is friendly to Nixon and turned down New York because they figured it would give Gov. Rockefeller an advantage. Philadelphia was also vetoed as Harold Stassen who tried to block Nixon's nomination for vice president is a candidate for mayor there and should he win the election they would be anti-Nixon. Chicago got it but payed plenty. They gave $400,000 cash, free rent of the international amphitheatre, free hotel space for party headquarters and donation of program sales to the Republican committee.

The nomination of Clare Luce Booth as ambassador to Brazil has been held up by the Democrat controlled senate on account of some speeches made by her years ago. She is said to have told Franklin Roosevelt lied us into World War II and later that President Harry Truman was a traitor. She previously served as ambassador to Italy and spent about as much time here as in Italy. She does not talk Italian. Notice does she talk Spanish the language of Brazil. She owes her appointment to the fact her husband's newspaper supported the president.

The unemployment checks for some 28,000 Michigan workers expired on April 1 and as of yet the legislature has not yet seen fit to extend them. The Republicans base their refusal to a Democrat refusal to support an amendment to it repealing the supreme court decision granting Ford workers unemployment pay due to a Ford strike in Ohio. 200 women employees of the Ford Motor Co. demonstrated last week. They claim they have seniority but are not called back. Carl Siellago union president says the reason is that most of the jobs they held in the electrical dept. have been sublet to outside contractors.

A new racket has cropped up in this country although there have been rumors of it before. Two weeks ago 27 and 37 are reported to have received $500 each in Idaho for marrying 3 Basque sheep herders so they could say in this country. The herders were here on limited visas and never had with the women.
