Former Resident Sells 2nd Novel To Movie Company

Glendon Swarthout, a Michigan State University professor, made a quarter of a million dollars from movie rights to his book "They Came to Cordura."

Now he has sold Hollywood a second book, as yet unpublished.

Swarthout earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan and a doctor's degree from Michigan State College in 1951, when he joined the department of communications skills.

His historical novel, "They Came to Cordura," was sold to Columbia Pictures for a reported $250,000.

The United States premiere is planned for September. Swarthout and his wife will fly to London for the British premiere in October, which will be for the benefit of the British Empire Cancer Fund.

An earlier short story by Swarthout, "A Horse for Mrs. Custer," also was made into a movie.

Now his book "Where the Boys Are" has been purchased for filming by Metro-Goldwyn Mayer after it is published in January.

It is a story of escapades of a coed from a large Midwestern university who spends a spring vacation in Florida — because that's where the boys are.

Swarthout is working on another novel. It will be somewhat biographical in form and will have a Michigan background.

He is leaving MSU this week to move to Arizona and work on his new novel.

Glendon Swarthout was born in Pinckney on the Dexter Road on what is known as the Haines farm. He was the son of Fred and Lilia Chubb Swarthout. His mother is dead. His father lives in Howell. He is married and has one son.

Communication From West Point

Excerpts taken from a letter of Cadet Richard Wylie which may be of interest to our readers.

"Our training this summer during July and August is held at Camp Buckner, which is called the Country Club of West Point. It is like a large summer resort built on the side of a mountain overlooking the beautiful Lake Popolopen. The barracks have no windows, but instead are all completely screened in. On one side you may step out of the door onto the ground, while the other side sets on 20 ft. stilts.

We have all types of recreation facilities imaginable. I could not begin to mention them all.

Our training consists of various activities, we have fired Browning automatic rifles, .45 caliber pistols, mortar, machine guns, bazookas, etc. Then there is the Buckner Slide which is a lot of fun and a real thrill. That is a cable stretched across Lake Popolopen from a tower 60 ft. high and back from the lake on one side to a cement foundation on the other. You climb the tower and grab hold of a huge hook mounted on a pulley affair and away you go, swinging across space. Just before you hit on the other side they wave a flag and you let go, fall into the lake and swim ashore. I get a kick out of it and have gone more than once, and just in case anything should happen they have life boats circling underneath and an ambulance on shore. No one in our company was hurt, but one cadet in another company got panicky and wouldn't let go and piled into the shore going 90 miles an hour and had both legs broken.

There also is a cat walk to cross about 40 ft. above the water which consists of telephone poles. Only 2 or 3 fell off and got slightly wet.

We have also had map reading courses. They send you out, with maps which are simulated battle maps with no roads, in a woods at 8 a. m. with your lunch, map, compass, rifle, helmet and battle equipment and with a maximum score that you have to finish by 2 p. m. My team was second in at 2:11, by not stopping to rest or eat and it was really rough. Some teams never did get back and it was comical to have them call in by telephone about 10 p. m., from some farm house 10 miles away."

DROWNS AT PLEASANT LAKE

The body of Harold Heiber, 53, an employee of the Klager Hatchery, Saline was found in Pleasant Lake near there Sunday at 1:30 a.m. He had rented a boat to go frogging Saturday night and search was made when the boat floated ashore. His pocket book and false teeth were found in the boat.

TAX PROBLEMS

The income tax is the bugaboo of industry and the Republican senate at Lansing echoes their views. They admit that there is more money in circulation now than in years but say the confiscatory income tax will take over 50 per cent of it. Just what do they mean. The state does not lock up the tax money in a vault and leave it there. Instead it nearly all goes out as fast as it comes in for wages, supplies and articles manufactured by industry and there is no way the state can prevent it. Business Week for July 25 last says personal incomes for May 1959 were 16.5 higher than May 1958. Only Indiana with 16.8 five had a higher income than Michigan. Could this be wrong writes W. K. Kelsey in the Detroit News. The press has been stating that Michigan is going to Hell on a handcar and industries everywhere are moving out of the state.

Mr. Yankus emigrated to Australia. All because of the misconduct of Soapy Williams and a Democrat legislature. But don't fear the state will be saved by the Republican Senate.

TOWNSHIPS LOSE LIQUOR LICENSE MONEY

Governor Williams has signed the bill providing that 85% of the liquor license money must be returned by the townships to the sheriffs department unless the townships have a full time police department. The townships now get about $2 millions in liquor licenses most of which they will now lose. The sheriffs ass'n. backed the bill and contended the townships were using very little of the money for law enforcement.

MICHIGAN MIRROR . . .

The 1959 five hundred and seventy-three page Red Book on Michigan taxes is headed for the archieves. It is the result of the 1958 Michigan tax study most of whose recommendations have been scuttled by the 1959 legislature, including the dream of Rep. Rollo Tipton. Republicans its chairman for an overhaul of Michigan's patch work tax system. He was a proud man when a Citizens advisory committee appointed by his tax study committee came up with a comprehensive tax program. It was labelled the "Conlin Plan." It was built around a graduated income tax. Gov. Williams endorsed it but the Republican senate killed it. Conlin turned to a piggy back income tax. It also failed. Then he presented a flat rate income tax. It passed the house but failed in the senate. Conlin, a 16 year veteran is serving his last term. He did not vote when the house increased the sales tax.

The legislature may require zoning board and other bodies to hold open meeting under the Right to Know law. An amendment to allow school boards to hold closed sessions was killed. This was sponsored by senator Stahling of Belding, a freshman and the outstanding senator. He has been extremely critical of the senate and what he calls the big wheels there.

Frederick Mueller of Grand Rapids is the 4th Michigan man to be nominated by President Eisenhower for his cabinet. Others are Postmaster Summerfield, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of the Army Bruckner.

New Subdivision

To Open Soon

A new lake subdivision will soon be opened in Pinckney. This one right inside the village limits. Some time ago Phillip Gentile bought the north end of what is known as Monks Hill at the intersection of Mowers and Patterson Lake Roads. It consists of about 10 acres. Honey Creek runs through it.

He dug out a lagoon there and by damming up the creek has formed a lake 600 feet long by 200 feet wide. It is 8 feet deep in some places. It has a sand bottom and is already being used as a swimming pool by the children of the village.

There has not been a swimming pool since the dam went out here about 15 years ago.

The hill will be graded and 13 lots offered for sale, six on the lake and seven one block from it.

Phil has not yet named his lake but is thinking of putting on a contest and offering a prize for the best name submitted which would be picked by judges.

For Best Results Seed Your Lawn in August

August is lawn seeding time, says Carter M. Harrison, of the farm crops department at Michigan State University.

The usual dry weather helps in weed control, and makes the soil easier to prepare, he says. August 15 to September 1 is the best time.

Later seedings will not have time for enough growth and winter killing may result.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Have Some Fun, Lady...
Learn Hubby's Hobby!

If you've a yen to accompany your hunting hubby into the woods or fields this fall, do him a favor first — learn to shoot. It's not so hard, honest Injun! If you're fortunate enough to have a patient, even-tempered husband, have him teach you. If not, get professional help. You can borrow or rent a shotgun, and arrange with someone at your local trap or skeet range to instruct you, or join your local rifle club, depending on what kind of shooting your man prefers. Whomever you choose to teach you, chances are he'll be delighted to go out of his way to help when he finds you're truly interested. There's lots of fun going on about now at the shooting clubs, too — target matches, women's groups, the supervising of activities for youngsters, and lots more. From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

An Apparent Reason

A week ago, Red Roberts' wife gave birth to a baby boy. Naturally, we went to the hospital to see the new arrival.

We found Red standing (and beaming) in front of the nursery window, saying things like "look—he's got my eyes," and "his chin is shaped exactly like the Missus," and "Yessir, that's my boy."

Just then a nurse whispered, "That Johnson baby is cute, isn't he Mr. Roberts? We'll bring yours out in a minute."

Are Flies Bothersome?

One thing's sure: with the hot summer, flies come to the dairy barn. They can be a pest, and sanitary danger.

But thanks to modern sprays, you can do better than the little tailor who got seven flies at one blow. You can knock out practically the whole bunch, with proper treatment.

Here is a list of sprays and dusts recommended by Michigan State University entomologists.

Malaithion or diazinon on barn walls will get control of house flies for three or four weeks. Treatment can be repeated then.

But don't put those materials directly on the cattle. They might get into the milk, and it's illegal to have any in milk.

Baits of the insecticide in corn syrup are also effective. Dry baits are also available. For best results, put the bait on clean concrete where the sunlight hits.

If it's necessary, spray the cow at milking time. A spray of the pyrethrin type is recommended by the entomologists. Methoxychlor, in a 50 per cent wettable powder, put on the backs and necks of the cattle, will repel flies. Put about one tablespoon on each cow.

In all cases, the specialists warn, insecticides should be used only after reading carefully the directions on the container label. Those instructions must be followed.

Midsummer Drouth—

Midsummer drouth will give trouble to shrubs and evergreens as well as the lawn. And this summer is shaping up for a long, dry one.

Shrub trouble will be especially serious for first-year bushes. They need more care the first season. Gentle, soaking applications of water at least once a week or oftener, depending on the soil, will bring the best results. Heavy soils need less water than soils that are lighter or better drained.

Less attention need be paid the shrubs in later years, but they still bear attention. Even well-established, heavily-rooted bushes often show drouth pangs.

An additional warning is that if plants are closer than three or four feet from buildings, the building surface will reflect heat strongly enough to injure the plants. About the only thing that can be done is to supply enough water to offset the heat. And, when you plant next time, keep the shrubs away from buildings.

For moisture conservation, we suggest mulching around plants. Mulching also reduces extreme temperatures, reduces soil cracking, discouraged weeds, and improves the soil texture during the summer months.

Dry lawn clippings, peat moss, straw and sawdust are among materials that make good mulch, if used two inches thick or more.

Proper watering can save shrubs in a summer like this.

Traffic Safety—

Doing a lot of traveling to and from the city? If you are, remember that summertime weather makes for some tricky driving problems.

Fog can obscure your vision. If you're driving heavy farm equipment on the highway, stay on the far right hand side of the road. The National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agricul-

Falls on Farms Kill or Injure Dozens Yearly

Farm work falls have killed 96 Michigan people since 1950. Thousands more farmers have been injured in falls, according to Richard Pfister, extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State University.

Pfister estimates that over 3,000 Americans will die this year as a result of farm work accidents. Add home and highway accidents, and you have 12,000 accidental deaths each year to the nation's farm people.

Pfister records dozens of serious farm falls in the state each year. A moment's alert thinking could prevent most falls. For example:

A 16-year old Huron county boy fell when climbing on the top of a silo. He struck the concrete silo floor, fracturing his skull and both arms.

A middle-aged Tuscola county farmer died when he fell from a loaded hay wagon. The tractor started forward quickly while he stood near the edge of the wagon.

A teen-aged boy from Eaton county fractured his skull when he absent-mindedly walked too close to a hay chute. He fell about 20 feet to the feeding area.

A Tuscola county farmer fell 15 feet to the concrete floor of his tool shed when his ladder slipped. He suffered a fractured shoulder and broken ribs.

A Lake county man nearly lost his right arm when he fell into a whirling buzz saw. He lost his balance while trying to adjust the saw.

ture adds this reminder: Use your lights and reflectors if you travel at night.

Sound barrier: What you should have between the rumpus room and the rest of the house.

RAISE DRIVER'S LICENSE COST

The legislature has raised the cost of driver's licenses.

Yours will cost you 50c more next year. This will raise $675,000 and will go to supplement the $1,712,000 now raised for drivers training classes which is not enough. This was condemned by representatives from Detroit who said parochial schools get nothing from it as the public schools claim their classes are too crowded to admit any more. Here it is necessary to continue the driver's training school all summer to accommodate all who wish to take the course.

★ CURRENT COMMENT ★

By PAUL W. CURLETT

A donkey soft ball game is scheduled for the Pinckney lighted field on the night of Wednesday, August 19 at which time the inhabitants of this area will get much pleasure out of seeing the stalwarts of this section endeavor to ride the stubborn little beasts. The donkey has existed from time immemorial. It is frequently mentioned in the Bible and even in chronicles before that. It has other names. It is called the ass, the jackass and in this country the burro. According to history it was descended from the wild ass of Abyssinia, which was captured and tamed in the long ago. They are found all over the world mostly in southern countries. Very few in the Arctic regions. Mexico has the most in North America, about three million. They are not natives of this country but were brought here by the Spaniards when they conquered Mexico, Central America and South America, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma has many of them. In Mexico they are indispensable and their low cost enables even the poorest family to own one or more. Their upkeep is nothing as they live on the country. They carry tremendous loads of wood, hay, bricks, freight, and about everything else that has to be moved. They are sure footed and some places are the only animals that can navigate the trails. They were the companion of the old time prospector who traveled the mountains of this country looking for gold and silver. Snow packers also use them. In places where there is no ice they are used to go up in the mountains and bring snow back for refrigeration.

Cigarette smoking began in this country in 1854, the first smokers being immigrants in the cities. In Spanish speaking countries corn husks were often used as wrappers. In our boyhood few tailor made cigarettes were on sale. They rolled their own. Bull Durham and Dukes Mixture were the best selling cigarette tobacco and a package of cigarette papers was given with each sack. Total cost 5c. They are condemned on health and moral grounds. Anti-cigarette Societies were formed as early as 1857 and in 1860 the Methodist church of Ohio refused to receive into membership anyone who smoked cigarettes. Women started smoking them around 1910 and in 1916 the Good Housekeeping magazine had an article condemning cigarette smoking by women. But in 1929 about 14 per cent of the cigarette smokers were women. Of late years there has been much research on the subject by the medical profession who claim that cigarettes are one of the main causes of lung cancer. Still the consumption of them has increased into the billions. Now few roll their own. Most cigarettes smoked are tailor made.

A canoe expedition sponsored by the Institute for Regional Exploration left Ann Arbor Saturday to explore the Indian burial mounds in the Manistee River area. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Howser and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Banks. Howser is an artist and Banks, an archaeologist. The Indians believed in a hereafter they called the Happy Hunting Grounds and that they lived again there. So they buried the things with the departed they thought would be needed. These included weapons, pottery, and usually his favorite horse that they thought he would need to ride. In fact in Africa it was the custom to kill so many slaves and bury them with the chiefs. Even his favorite wives were sacrificed. The Indian burial mounds in Michigan have yielded much scientific information. Very few have been found around the Saginaw Valley as the terrain is difficult cedar swamp land.

The supreme court has overruled Postmaster General Summerville and rendered a decision that he has no power to bar the controversial novel "Mrs. Chatterley's Lover" from the mails. He said it was obscene. It is said also only a court decision can rule a book obscene or bar it from the mails. So a definition of what is obscene is still not on the records.

BEEFARONI STUFFED TOMATOES STAR ON PARTY MENU

EATING OUTDOORS has a special charm all its own. It is especially nice for entertaining whether you barbecue a steak in the backyard or set out a meal that you've put together in the kitchen beforehand.

Whether the party is large or small, buffet-style has become the accepted way to serve these days. This makes it so much easier for your guests to help themselves. Here is an easy-to-fix party main dish that everyone will go for: large luscious tomatoes stuffed with Beefaroni, a delicious combination of macaroni, rich juicy browned beef in a savory tomato cheese sauce. You need only pop them in the oven for about twenty minutes.

Beefaroni, the inspiration of a famous chef, comes in a handy

15½-ounce can and needs only to be heated. You will find it extremely versatile for all sorts of family dishes, too.

For a party menu, serve Beefaroni-stuffed tomatoes with a crisp salad, hot-rolls, and for dessert, a bowl of fresh strawberries with a pitcher of cream — and don't forget the iced coffee.

TOMATOES STUFFED WITH BEEFARONI

4 large, firm tomatoes
1 (15½-ounce) can beefaroni
¼ cup buttered bread crumbs

Start heating oven to 375°F. Scoop out pulp and juice from tomatoes (use pulp and juice for stewed tomatoes, chowder, etc.). Sprinkle insides of tomatoes with salt. Fill each tomato with Beefaroni. Sprinkle tops with bread crumbs. Bake 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Supervisors Meeting Last Week

The board of supervisors met last week Tuesday, July 21, for a one day session.

A motion was introduced by Supervisor McGregor and carried by the board that the Agriculture Committee and Dr. C. Crook of St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor take up the question of working out a plan for the use of dogs for research collected by the dog warden.

Supervisor Ellis moved that the register of deeds charge the county as a whole, instead of individual townships, for making photostatic copies of conveyances of ownerships. This motion did not carry, however, losing 11 to 10. With "yes" and "nay" vote taken, it was Chairman Miller's vote which broke the tie.

Other business was routine and included presentation of the payroll, cost of various tax billing machines, and presentation of bills.

The board agreed to hold soldier and sailor burial bills until the next meeting on August 18 at 10:30 a.m.

PAINT ON PAINT

If you are about to paint over an old coating that is chipping and peeling, make sure that all loose paint is removed with a wire brush, steel wool or coarse sandpaper. Sand the surface smooth, especially edges of patches of old paint. Sandpaper all glossy spots, as a new coating will adhere more consistently if the surface to which it is applied has "tooth" as they say in the trade.

Mrs. Lyle Hendee and daughter, Marion, of Ann Arbor called on Mrs. Blanche Clark last week.

Andrew Nesbitt underwent an operation for cataracts at St. Joe hospital, Ann Arbor, Friday.

Gets Prison Sentence for Armed Robbery

Elwood W. Hayes was sentenced Monday afternoon when Judge Michael Carland presided at a session of circuit court.

Hayes, one of the two men involved in the robbery of the Gwozdzik couple near Fowlerville in December, was charged with robbery armed.

His sentence is to serve from five to 15 years in Southern Michigan prison at Jackson.

Callers of the Ben Whites last week were Frank and Basil White families of Howell, the Carl Bidwells of Brighton. Jimmie Bidwell is at Boy Scout camp at Bruin Lake.
