Pinckney Loses Final Game of Season To Byron, 18 - 0 On Mud-Filled Field

Pinckney High School lost their final game of the season to Byron there Friday night by a score of 18 to 0. It had rained and snowed most of the day and the field was a mud hole covered with slush. The players were mud smeared and the going was slow but Byron had better luck in progressing through the mud than Pinckney. They scored the first quarter when one of their backs ran through the Pinckney team unmolested for a touchdown. Their second touchdown came on an intercepted Pinckney pass and their last one on an end run. They did not make any extra points.

Pinckney had a number of scoring chances but they could not cash in. Paul Russell reached the Byron 5 yd. line on an end run but Pinckney lost the ball on downs. Bob Williams made a number of gains and twice Pinckney reached the Byron 20 yd. line but failed to progress from there.

This was Pinckney's final game. Basketball practice starts now. The Pinckney team has been a puzzle all the season. At times they looked good and at other times terrible. They started off by holding Williamston to 12 points and Manchester to 6. In the Manchester game they got inside the Manchester 10 yd. line 4 times but could not put the ball across.

Then they hit their stride and beat Roosevelt, St. Johns and Dexter in a row. After that they lost their stuff and took one sided beatings from Chelsea, Saline and University. Chelsea and Saline had them outclassed but they could have beaten University if they had taken advantage of their breaks. The team is made up mostly of sophomores and juniors and their tackling has been poor. They have some good players but they never seemed to be able to develop the needed team work to win.

The Junior varsity went to South Lyon Thursday and gave a good account of themselves tying South Lyon junior varsity 6 to 6.

Ronnie Hollis scored the Pinckney touchdown after receiving a pass from Edward Guy. The Junior varsity beat Manchester, tied South Lyon and lost to Chelsea, Dexter, Saline and Stockbridge.

THE DEER HUNTERS

The deer hunters of Michigan got off to a bad start in the same manner as last year. Cold weather and deep snow drove the deer deep in the swamps and few were shot Sunday. The mercury was 14 below at Gaylord and correspondingly low at other places.

From midnight Friday until 4 p.m. Saturday 8739 cars northbound had crossed the Mackinac Bridge and 2,000 more were expected to cross before midnight. This is more than last year. A 5 mile traffic tieup developed between Clare and Harrison Saturday on M-27 and a 14 mile one near Standish. This seems to have been caused by the inability of cars to pull heavy trailers.

There were the usual first day fatalities. Seven hunters died of heart attacks and one was shot in the knee. Two hunters from Detroit were asphyxiated in their house trailer at Lewistown by fumes from their gas heater.

Chris Campbell shot a deer in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graves returned from Vanderbuilt with a 140 lb buck.

Monday night the death toll among Michigan deer hunters was 16, 2 shot to death, 2 gassed to death and 12 dead from heart attacks. Below zero weather is still hampering the hunters.

More deer were shot in this area. Calvin Siminon shot an 8 point buck Monday near Farley Road. Jim Galbraith got one west of Pinckney and Lt. Vincent Snell of the Washtenaw Sheriff's Dept. shot one near Silver Lake.

Bob Vedder was the first one back from the north with a deer he shot near Lovells Sunday. He had a doe permit.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Michigan's next budget is bound to be a whopper. Even while the legislature searched for a tax program to balance the 1959-60 budget, state agencies were completing requests for their 1960-61 allowances from Michigan taxpayers.

The money pinch has made agencies economy conscious the past few months; but not so much so that there has been a widespread clamor for budget cuts by agencies themselves.

A half billion dollar general fund budget is expected to be sought by the agencies. Mental health and education will be the most costly items.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the legislature will be under tremendous pressure when they review all agency requests. The Governor claims the current budget provides for the most rigid and severe economy, even before curtailments brought on by the cash crisis.

Department heads will argue that three years of "austerity" mean the next budget should be larger than would have been sought had the state been able to keep pace with demands for service.

On the other hand, there are those in the legislature who will argue that now more than ever there is need for further economies. They want to deal with inefficiencies caused by civil service regulations, overstaffing, long coffee breaks, etc.

Words from the past by Williams are expected to be repeated in the Governor's budget message.

For the past three years he has introduced his budget much the same way: "If this budget appears to be large, let us remember that we are paying not only tomorrow's bills, but the bills we have accumulated through yesterday's neglect."

Further consolidations will be recommended to the legislature by the Governor's advisory council on reorganization.

Among proposals considered by the council:

1. Suggestions to create a central agency to coordinate the work of the various professional and vocational licensing boards now operating as separate departments.

2. Let the Department of Public Instruction do the work of some state educational boards and commissions.

3. Give the Conservation Commission jurisdiction over the Mackinac Island state park.

It won't be easy, but it seldom is to bring about change in government. The "ins" are usually better entrenched, work harder at resisting, and have more at stake than those seeking the change.

Powerful lobby interests can be expected to oppose any moves that would result in a loss of stature for any professional licensing boards.

A furor was raised when Williams proposed the merging of State Board of Alcoholism with the Health Department. The Senate vetoed the proposal.

What ever happened to the six reorganization plans approved by the legislature earlier this year?

These plans, which included consolidation in the fields of revenue-collecting, health and welfare, were drafted to go into effect Jan. 1, 1960. But technically they cannot become effective until 90 days after the 1959 legislature adjourns. Since we are already within 90 days of January 1, a new confusion has been created.

Encouraging signs have emerged from all of the clouds of controversy about Michigan's business climate.

William M. Day, president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and chairman of the Economic Development Commission, said the state's success in getting new industry the first nine months of the year was encouraging.

Seventeen companies on the Economic Development Department's list of prospects located plants in Michigan during the period. The department said it was "working on" 50 other prospects.

Community cooperation is a major factor in luring new industry to Michigan. The state has 100 communities prepared to offer financial assistance, and 39 can establish planned industrial sites.

Michigan's first snow brought with it predictions that big things are ahead this season for winter sports.

Michigan is counting on a 15 million dollar ski season. The state has 73 winter sports areas, many of them with their own snowmaking machines.

This year's theme: "Ski and Stay".

State officials are hoping the ski crowd will include visiting industries who will consider Michigan as a location for plant expansion.

They carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums in an infinite variety of type and color arranged just opposite the maid of honor. Jack Doyle of Pinckney, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were Lucius Doyle Jr., James Lavey, Charles Willis of Pinckney and Max Smith of Ypsilanti.

Billy Doyle of Pinckney, nephew of the groom was ring bearer and Veronica Kuzera of Detroit, flower girl. Her dress was a floor length iridescent light green organzine with long sleeves and mink trimmed collar. She carried a basket of chrysanthemums.

The wedding breakfast was at the Whitmore Lake Firehall, following the ceremony, a turkey dinner was served. 125 people attended.

The reception was there at 7:00 p.m. in the evening, and attended by approximately 500 people. Miss Beverly Thurston had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Helen Morgan cut the wedding cake. A five piece orchestra from Detroit played for dancing.

After a wedding trip in northern Michigan the newly weds will live at 430 Pond Street, Pinckney. For going away the bride wore a black sheath dress with white trim and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Both young people graduated from Pinckney High School. The bride is employed by the Commission on Professional and Hospital activities in Ann Arbor and the groom operates the Gulf Gas Station in Pinckney.

Postmaster Urges Early Mailings for Christmas Rush

Postmaster Lawrence Baughn announced his annual "Mail Early for Christmas" Campaign today and outlined his plans for insuring delivery of all Christmas gifts and cards by Christmas Eve.

"We've found from past experience," the Postmaster said, "that the two biggest factors in successfully handling the Christmas mail rush are first, to get our Post Office facilities into high gear from every standpoint, and second, and most important, to have the full cooperation of the mailing public."

He then offered some helpful suggestions by stating, "It's not too soon to start checking your Christmas gift and card lists very carefully—making sure that each address includes full name, street and number, city, zone and state." He also said, "Early Christmas shoppers should stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape, to insure secure packing and wrapping of their Christmas gifts. Buy stamps for your Christmas cards now, before the rush, and thus avoid those last minute Christmas mailing headaches."

Predicting that this year's Christmas mail will set a new, all time record, exceeding even the pre-holiday season of 1958, the Postmaster especially directed his appeal to "the lady of the house" for cooperation on his "Mail Early for Christmas" Campaign. She's the one that usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts, and sees to it that the Christmas mailing lists are up-to-date.

For guidance on your Christmas gift mailings he suggested that you secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the Post Office, which gives you helpful, detailed information.

The Post Office also provides free labels which read, "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY," so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups before you mail them, with the addresses all facing one way, thus hastening their handling and delivery.

The Postmaster suggested the use of First Class four cent, or seven cent Air Mail postage on your Christmas cards. This enables you to include handwritten messages on the cards and, also, cards sent by First Class Mail are subject to forwarding or return service, if necessary, whereas cards that are mailed at the three cent, Third Class rate, may include only your signature and will not be forwarded or returned.

It is not only socially correct, but extremely helpful to both the Post Office and those on your mailing lists, to include your return name and address on every Christmas card envelope.

The Postmaster emphasized the importance of planning your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Special effort should be made to get all of your out-of-town packages and cards into the Post Office before December 10th. Those for nearby points will arrive before Christmas Eve if they are mailed by December 15th.

HERE'S A GUIDE TO WINTER STARS

Ann Arbor. Along with the and cold of the winter, the stars seem to shine with increased brilliancy and splendor, states Hazel M. Losh (Ph. D.), University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

"In fact," she says, "Some of the most beautiful figures in the whole sky light up the heavens during November and the winter months to come."

"Around 9 p.m., directly in the east, the familiar Orion comes over the horizon. This constellation, once learned, is a stellar landmark and is never forgotten. It always appears like an old friend."

"When Orion shows up, he quickly dominates the eastern and southern sky. No other constellation has a chance in his presence. One can't miss him. Throught the winter, this giant will march across the southern sky without fear of the Scorpion, which according to mythology, was supposed to have stung Orion to his death because of his boastfulness and vanity. Consequently, Orion and Scorpius are placed opposite, and therefore are never seen at the same time."

"Orion, a hunter by profession, is described as the tallest and most beautiful of men. He is heavily armed with a raised club, a shield, and a sword dangling from his belt, all depicted by stars. A line through the unmistakable three belt stars, arranged like steps in the sky, points upward to Aldebaran, and extends downward to the Dog-Star, Sirius, the brightest star of the whole heavens, and rising about an hour later."

"The three belt stars are enclosed in a four-sided figure, three of the corners being marked by bright stars. Betelgeuse is the orange-red star in the upper left corner of the four-sided figure, and points out Orion's right shoulder. Diagonally opposite is found the blue-white Rigel, brighter than Betelgeuse, and marking his knee."

"An interesting feature of the constellation is the Great Nebula, located around the middle star of his sword. To the unaided eye, it appears as a faint hazy star, but the telescope reveals it as a vast greenish gas, perhaps three light-years in diameter, or 20,000,000 times the sun's diameter and enveloping several stars."

"The density of this nebula is estimated to be at most about a millionth that of the best vacuum produced artificially on earth. If distance from our planet is believed to be at least 1,000 light-years, one sees the nebula as it appeared around 1000 A. D."

SALES TAX REFUNDS

$15,000 was collected by the state by means of the illegal use tax but the state does not figure it will have to refund over $6,000,000. Most of the use tax money is being spent. There probably will be few refunds for a year. Under the priority system those seeking refunds will have to stand at the end of a long line of creditors. The state owes $14 million to creditors. $12,131,800 to large creditors whose bills are more than $50,000 and $2,000,000 to small ones whose bills are less than $50,000. Warrants will be written to pay all bills but will be held up until the legislature raises enough money to pay them.

NEW TAX PROPOSAL

The Republicans have presented their tax proposal to the legislature. It would cost each Michigan family approximately $36.25 a year. The revenue would be about 72,000,000. Most of it would be paid by the beer and whiskey drinkers and cigarette smokers who would contribute $32,000,000 to the fund, $40,000,000 would be paid by a tax on service such as telephone and telegram users, repairs to autos and TV sets, laundry and dry cleaning. The following is the breakdown on what each person would pay: Cigarette users $4.25 a year, liquor drinkers $3.00, beer drinkers $7.00, cigar and pipe smokers $2.00, phone and telegram users $5.00, extension to service taxes $15.00.

Other deer hunters are Darrell Baker and Dr. Enos Walker at Newberry. Clare Swarhout and Willard Morgan, Sr. and Hockey Swarhout and wife at Lovells.

Banking A Hazardous Occupation In Days Before Government Control

In the early days of this nation the money was not sound. There was no gold reserve behind it. In the times of the American Revolution around 1775 the Continental Congress issued currency. There was plenty of English money around then and also Spanish and the merchants and others refused to accept the Continental currency. So it became almost worthless. The often used saying then was "Not worth a Continental." It is frequently used up to this day.

In the early days of Michigan there was little money in circulation. Barter was the rule, the trappers exchanging their furs and the farmers their produce. Then in the time before the civil war a period of intense land speculation ensued. This was about the time Pinckney was platted and laid out by Prof. Kirtland. Towns, cities and villages were platted and laid out promiscuously. This needed some form of currency so the government and state chartered the so called wildcat banks. They issued their own currency. The civil war sent prices of farm produce sky high and these banks flourished for a time. Wheat even got as high as $20 a bushel. Prices of lots in these villages jumped by leaps and bounds. Alas, it did not last.

More villages and cities were laid out than the small population of that day could settle or needed and the frenzied land speculation ended in a panic and the bank notes issued by them became worthless. The most famous wildcat bank of this section was the one called the Bank of Kensington on Grand River where the state park is now. The bank, a brick structure stood for many years after it failed, finally being torn down in 1931.

A village was also laid out on the east side of Portage Lake where Newport Bathing Beach is now by an actor, Gardner Lillibridge. He put on a big selling campaign and his prospectus showed busy streets and business places and stated the University of Michigan was to be located there. He called his city, "Lillibridge, the Saratoga of the West", after a famous New York State resort. Through his acquaintance among the actors he sold many lots in New York. Among them it is said one to the actor, Edwin Forest. But the University located at Ann Arbor and Lillibridge's city was never built and he lost his land by foreclosure.

At the head of this article are a confederate bank note and also one of the banknotes issued by the Kensington State Bank. They have little value now except to collectors and as museum exhibits.

During the civil war or war between the states the Confederate government also issued bank notes which became valueless as they were not issued on gold or silver reserves. Gold and silver was once commonly used as currency but is in little demand now as the bank notes are much easier to handle. However if you demand gold you are supposed to get it.

These two bank notes shown are the property of Mrs. Earl Ward Sr. of Marion township.

BISHOPS CLOTHING DRIVE

VETERAN'S TRUST FUND

The 6 members of the Veterans Trust Fund of $50,000,000 which the state is considering liquidating are against any attempt to borrow or liquidate this sacred trust. They claim sale of the assets of the fund today would not bring over $40,000,000.

They said this was in progress. The board said it would be necessary to borrow $100,000 as the state aid had not been received. From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Real "Meaty" Subject

Today I've got a tale that really hits close to home—but it's okay, I've got the wife's permission to tell it.

My Mrs. Marsh has been cooking hams—deliciously, I might add—for years. But always, just before she pops 'em into the oven, she slices an inch off one end. Reason: she said her mother always did that to make ham tastier.

Last week, though, Grandma gave the real reason. Sure, she used to slice an inch from a ham but only when her roasting pan was an inch too short.

From where I sit, all of us do things that can't be backed up by reason or fact. Most time they're pretty silly things—particularly the petty prejudices we build. For instance, some folks may resent your preference for buttermilk at dinner, or mine for a glass of beer. If they'd stop to think "why"—they'd realize they were taking a "slice" off our friendship and for no good reason at all.

County School Head Asks Parents to Visit Classes

L. D. Adams, Livingston county schools superintendent, today asked all parents of school children and members of the various school districts in the county to visit school during this, American Education Week (November 8-14).

"By doing so," he said, "A better understanding of school problems can be reached. Talk with teachers in regard to children's problems, teachers' problems and school problems.

"Ask teachers and yourselves, are classrooms too crowded? Are there too many children per teacher? Can individual differences be adequately covered by the present school program?

"Further, is equipment and space adequate? Are teachers aware of children's individual problems? Are the buildings and rooms attractive and cheerful and located to the best advantage in the school district? Does room report appear good?

"These are all questions which should be answered and American Education Week provides the opportunity to seek the answers. If you haven't yet this year, visit your child's school and take an active interest in it."

HERE AND THERE

Some years ago Dan Gerber and wife of Fremont, a town of around 3000, north of Grand Rapids started making baby food. This was just before the big birth increase in Michigan. They used vegetables and did all the work themselves. Their business grew by leaps and bounds and they now have a factory and many employees. Their business for the first six months of 1959 grossed $66,298,046. They have declared a dividend of 40 cents a share. Their earnings were $1.73 a share.

Orville Hubbard won a 10th term as mayor of Dearborn last week. The vote was 22,630 to 9,774. Hubbard has been called everything under the sun by the press to no avail every since he appeared on the political horizon.

Cattle rustlers are at large again. Five head of cattle were stolen from the Harry Bowey farm on Eight Mile Road in Salem last week and a heifer was butchered and trucked away from a farm in Pittsfield.

A "RECORD HOP" FOR KEEN TEEN GANG

From the first flip of a phonograph switch there's not a "keen teen" anywhere who isn't ready, rarin'-to-go, toes dancing to the nearest "record hop". Makes not a bit of difference whether the teen in your family be a 'he' or a 'she' record hops, plus good food to munch on, are the big hit of today. And cake is always a favorite.

By GEORGE MacQUEEN, Extension Agent, Agriculture

Rodent Invasion Starting—

Farmers, whether they know it or not, are becoming the hosts to some unwelcome freeloaders now. Since the first days of really cold weather, rats and mice are moving in from the fields and taking up winter quarters in farmers barns, bins and cribs. Farmers have always been a 'soft touch' for rodents because of lack of control measures around their grain and feed storage areas. What with the sharper restrictions and sanitation standards by marketing agencies and the Food and Drug Administration, grain stored for market cannot support these sources of contamination.

Steps a farmer can take now while the weather brings a lull in corn harvest are clean up piles of old lumber, mow weeds around buildings or use chemical weed killers, check for evidences of rodents and rat proof storage areas; preferably before filling or construction. Simple bait stations can be built now. Prebait with unpoisoned food for first couple of days then substitute with baited food using some kitchen grade cereal or oatmeal. Check bait stations and keep full. Double amount of poison following first night after prebaiting is completed. A rat, feeding on poison anticoagulating bait will die in 3-5 days.

Clearing up areas surrounding farm buildings will drive rats and mice into bait stations for food. Farmers never could and cannot now afford the generosity of free room and board for rodents.

Yes, it will pay handsomely to have adequate grain storage facilities on the farm whether or not government programs are used. If government support programs are used two main advantages are offered. A farmer can participate in orderly marketing of his crops and can reseed his storage under the ASC reseeding program. If no farm storage is provided, a farmer is at the mercies of the current market. This is poor management because the handling of the crop after harvest is equally or more important as the work that has gone into the crop up to that point.

Actually, it's good business to have plenty of storage space, whether or not we have price guarantees: How so?

First because of prices. They're nearly always low at harvest time. Too many folks who don't have storage just have to dump their whole crop onto the market and take what they can get.

Next, freight cars are scarce—so scarce that many farmers have had to dump their grain on the ground, and pray for good weather until they get boxcars to ship it into terminal storage, or until the local elevator can ship out enough to make room for it.

Finally, elevator storage is scarce and costs money. Local elevators as well as big elevators at terminal markets are often plugged to the cupolas, just can't take any more grain.

Many farmers could have build excellent bins with the money they've lost from not having storage—and still don't have storage.

Corn Oil Has Become Important Farm Byproduct—

Have you ever wondered how much oil a bushel of corn can yield? Corn refiners' yields average around 1.8 pounds.

These refiners or "wet" millers probably will grind about 150 million bushels of corn this year. If they do, around 300 million pounds of corn oil is going to be produced. That would be twice as much as was produced 20 years ago and an all-time high. (Output of cottonseed oil, the major competitor, is expected to total around 1,600 million pounds.)

Corn oil—most of which is used as salad and cooking oil—is a byproduct of the corn products industry. The refiners (they manufacture starch, sirup, sugar, feed and oil) produce about 95 percent of our corn oil. The rest is produced by "dry" millers (they produce breakfast foods, corn meal, hominy grits, flour, feed and oil) and distillers.

U. S. Government Savings Bonds Improve—

Series E and Series H Savings Bonds have been improved in the Conservation Notes

The conservation budget is $26,797,756. $9,300,000 more than last year. Most of it is for capitol improvement and land purchases.

Legislation will be introduced requiring drillers of water wells to obtain licenses and file reports. To outlaw use of Conibear traps with a jaw spread of over 5 inches. Prohibit hunters carrying 22 rifles in the southern lower peninsula in the deer season unless they have a deer license. Allow archers to carry strung bows in their car if they are in a case or the trunk of the car. Permit hunters to carry firearms in a car in lieu of a case providing they are broken down. Increase the cost of fishing licenses.

Deer eyes will be collected this year to determine the age of deer. This has been successfully used with rabbits.

The 10,575 acre Houghton game reserve is open to hunters after Nov. 15.

The No. 1 Mann oil well at Jonesville was subdued last week after it erupted for 6 days.

Gill lice have been found in trout planted in the AuSable river.

Begin Mailing Fishing Digests and Licenses

Conservation Department workers will begin mailing approximately 1,500,000 copies of Michigan's 1960 fishing licenses and fish-law digests to some 4,200 dealers throughout the state early next week.

Several changes, most of them liberal, are to be noted in the 1960 regulations. The minimum size limit of northern pike is increased from 14 to 20 inches while the creel limit on bluegills is boosted from 15 to 25.

Other changes eliminate a permit-fee of $1.00 to possess game fish in private ponds, and repeal a special license fee of $3.00 for taking caddis fly larvae from trout streams, and permit adjustments in northern pike, pike-perch and muskellunge seasons.

In a restrictive change, the use of more than one, single-pointed hook is limited to manufactured artificial bait.

Regulations pertaining to fishing in Michigan-Wisconsin boundary waters are not included in the Digest. They will be available from the Conservation Department's Lansing office, at field district headquarters and license dealers in Dickinson, Gogebic, Iron and Menominee counties.

last few months. Among other features, they now carry a higher interest rate.

New Series E. bonds with an issue date of June 1, 1959 and after earn 3 1/4 per cent interest, if held to maturity, compared to the old rate of 3 1/4 per cent. Series E bonds are the familiar bonds that got their start in World War II.

If you have bonds outstanding that were purchased before June 1, 1959, they can earn more interest too, according to Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department. Both Series E and Series H bonds earn at least 1/2 per cent more than before from now to next maturity. There is no retroactive increase in interest rates for periods prior to June 1, 1959.

New Series H. bonds with issue dates of June 1, 1959 and after earn 3 1/4 per cent interest if held to maturity. The new H bond, like its predecessor, is a current-income bond, issued at par, redeemable at par and maturing at par at the end of its 10-year life.
