COUNTY DEER KILL

Three hundred deer were killed in Livingston County this year according to the conservation dept, 150 in Jackson County and 100 in Washtenaw County. Hunting pressure was heaviest in the Waterloo and Pinckney recreation areas but the bag at Manchester and Whitmore Lake was up over past years. The largest one killed was a buck near Chelsea that dressed out 238 lbs. It would have weighed over 300 lbs. before dressed. A 12 pointer was shot at Manchester that weighed 206 lbs. dressed.

During the year the Render Convalescent home at Fowlerville dropped its license because it could not comply with state regulations. Licenses were denied to the Ruth Perkins home at Byron and the Cassie McDonald Home at Howell. Plans are underway for a new 30 bed home, just outside Howell.

BASKETBALL NEWS

With 4 of Pinckneys first string players sitting out the game for disciplinary reasons, Manchester walked all over Pinckney Friday night in their opening game 70 to 25. Pinckney only had 3 seniors back to start with and with most of them out Pinckney offered little opposition. Their high men were Bob Williams, playing his first regular game in his life. He is a sophomore and did not play last year and Don Barker, a first year man. Pinckney for some reason or other seems to be all out of material. It is not like the old days when they were winning league titles right and left. The old athletic families which furnished most of the players are out of it now. In those days the Ledwidge family furnished 5 stars, the Young family 5, the W. H. Meyer family 4, the Ray Burns family 4.

Pinckney plays their first home game Friday with Saline. This team is favored to take the league title but did not get away so good in their first games. Mikan beat them 56 to 51 in their first game. In their first league game with Dexter they managed to win in the final seconds 40 to 39 after trailing the entire game. Jim Fuhrman was their high man with 13 but Cliff Blossom of Dexter topped him with 19.

The Pinckney Reserves also lost 52 to 22.

In other games Chelsea lost to Onstead 40 to 31 and University beat Clinton 49 to 41. Those are non league games.

THE PRESIDENTS GOOD WILL TOUR

The present world Good Will Tour of President Eisenhower seems to be a big success. He is being received like a conquering hero in all countries. He is one of the three United States presidents to be received by the pope at Rome. The others were President Grant and Woodrow Wilson.

William S. White in the Detroit News says the president could have accomplished more by staying at home. That is his opinion. Still it must be admitted that we have been rapidly losing ground abroad to Communist influences. A good will tour by anyone except the president would have been useless. Vice pres. Nixon essayed a South and Central American tour he was mobbed and stoned and his car windows smashed out. The results of his tour were nil.

HOLD TWO OR MORE JOBS

The census now being taken will list persons who hold two or more jobs. In July 1958 there were 3.1 million workers doing so, or 4.8 percent. Persons whose primary employment was in agriculture are more likely to have two jobs. Last year there were 750,000 in this class.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

Many years ago King Solomon got his great reputation for wisdom by threatening to cut a baby in two. He did not do it though.

The Detroit News says the school board at Merheum, Mass. deserve a place right alongside of King Solomon. With one single edict they solved the school teenage driving problem. They ruled that the school pupil may only leave his car in the school parking lot if he or she maintains a "C" average in their studies. The jalopy being what it is in school high society this will be a powerful incentive for them to maintain a "C" average. The news says they could as well have set the average at "B" and there would have been a lot more "B" averages rather than fewer cars in the parking lot.

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS
Postmaster Lawrence Baughn said today, "This certainly looks like a record breaking year for Christmas mail."

The Postmaster states that the present flow of Christmas cards is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of Christmas gifts is lagging somewhat. He suggests that all gift parcels to most distant points be sent by Air Parcel Post from now on.

Speaking about Christmas gift packages, the Postmaster said, I cannot emphasize too strongly the vital need for packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts securely. Pack all your gifts in sturdy cartons, wrap them with heavy paper, and tie them securely with strong cord. It is sometimes hard to understand why people will be so careless about putting valuable Christmas gifts into the mails in flimsy boxes and loosely wrapped packages. Many of these poorly wrapped gifts simply cannot stand the necessary handling, and thus cause much delay and disappointment all around."

The Postmaster further suggests that it is best to print the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone number and state on all mailing labels, making sure to include an extra label inside your gift packages.

If you'll send all your Christmas cards by First Class mail and include your name and address on the envelopes, you'll help your friends to keep their mailing lists up-to-date.

Tax Muddle at Lansing

The state senate at Lansing is still floundering in the bog of despond. Last week they turned down a payroll tax approved by the house. Gov. Williams and Paul Bagwell and passed the so-called nuisance tax. This however will only yield $15,000,000. Last month Gov. Williams said $110,000,000 were needed but the senate said $73,000,000 was sufficient. Just how they arrived at the $15,000,000 figure. The nuisance tax soaks beer drinkers, tobacco users and those using telephone and telegraph. Beer is taxed an extra $1.25 a barrel to bring in $7,000,000 a cent a bottle, tobacco $4,000,000 extra; telegraph and telephone $8,000,000 extra, Cigarettes $9,000,000 more.

In the meantime nothing has been done to cut the $110,000,000 deficit.

The schools are still hard hit. They have already borrowed $52,440,675 with only five months of the school year gone. They are expected to borrow $75,000,000 this year. The interest is estimated at 2½ million dollars. All of this could have been saved if the legislature had passed an adequate tax bill.

★ CURRENT COMMENT ★

By PAUL W. CURLETT

The current farm census seems to be clearing up one thing at least. That is the question of "What is a farm?" Heretofore any parcel of 3 acres or less that produced $150 worth of garden produce, poultry eggs, etc. was considered a farm and subject to all the regulations, price supports etc. of a farm. Now the size has been changed to 10 acres and it must produce $500 or more in farm product sales. The significance of this is of course yet a matter of speculation but it would seem to reduce significantly the magnified influence of the farm vote and the countless avenues of farm spending and elimination of price supports, guarantees, acreage and marketing controls. Any reform that brings our national statistics closer in line with the facts of life is all to the good and when all the figures are published people should not rush to the conclusion that the farm is declining. It should help the dirt farmer and cut the influence of federal handouts and controls.

The super market has come to the tiny republic of Israel. Two native Detroiters who went there in 1951, Allen Feinberg, 28, and Herbert Hordes, 31, are operating the only one there. They were backed by the Luries who control the Wrigley markets and had $265,000 invested. Their market has 10,000 feet of floor space, a 40 car parking lot, is air conditioned and called Super-soil No. 1. The market made a 3.2 profit last year and paid a 22% dividend. They expect to have 20 more such markets. It looks like an American market except it has a fish pond for live fish. Before the advent of this market the Israel markets were little more than holes in the wall with little sanitation.

We have heard much of the smog in cities of California, caused so it is claimed by the exhaust fumes of autos and trucks. The cities there have even considered ordinances to bar cars and trucks from their streets. Now the auto makers claim to have perfected a device that will do much to eliminate this smog by feeding the crankcase fumes back in the engine to be burned in the cylinders.

Due to the recent TV exposes that medium of communication is under fire. An exchange takes exception to a recent statement by John Doefer, Federal Communications chairman that we do not pay our way into TV shows. Therefore we do not have a right to criticize them. He says the home owner does pay his way into these shows. He pays from $100 to $300 for his set. He pays the upkeep including the cost of electricity. This amounts to about 50 cents a day to amortize his investment. He also contributes by buying the advertised product the advertisers pay for the time the show is on the air in proportion to the number of viewers. In contrast the home owner pays less than 5 cents a day for his newspaper which entitles him to deal with it as a public service. In view of this 50 cents should buy him some protection against fraud on television programs.

An attempt was made last week to inject birth control into next years political campaign. To me it seems like a tempest in a teapot. A special study commission last summer recommended to President Eisenhower that this country in connection with foreign aid supply to any requesting nations information on how to keep rapidly expanding nations populations within bounds. The word birth control was not used according to William Draper committee chairman. In many asiatic countries, India for instance there is more population there than the country can feed or support and death from starvation is common. This is also true of China. Children are sold or given away and have even been thrown into the river for crocodiles to eat. The birth rate in these countries is tremendous. Nothing much can be done for them until it is curbed. The committees suggestion created no comment until it was suddenly injected into next years presidential campaign. Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts the leading Democrat candidate is a Catholic and his enemies saw a chance to put him behind the 8 ball. His church is against artificial birth control. The senator said he is against artificial birth control and any attempt to distribute such information to foreign countries unless they request it. The press sensed a big news item and interviewed the other presidential candidates. Adlai Stevenson, Gov. Rockefeller, Senator Humphreys, Senator Symington. They said the same thing as Senator Kennedy. This country should only make this information available to foreign countries if they request it. Vice President Nixon made no comment. The Bishops of the Episcopal Unitarian Church, added to the confusion by coming out in favor of it. Bishop Dearden of Detroit went on TV last Monday night to give his view of it. He said artificial birth control is a violation of the moral and natural law and his church could grant no dispensation for the practice of it. The whole thing is ridiculous. This country could not pass any law forcing birth control on another country and if they did it could not be enforced. President Eisenhower entered the controversy Thursday when he stated as long as he is President this country will provide no funds or information for birth control. That it is not a government function. Therefore, the President is in Senator Kennedy's corner.

Bell Presents New TV Series

"Gateways to the Mind," the Bell System Science Series story of how we see, hear and feel, was repeated over the NBC-TV network Sunday (Dec. 6) at 6 p. m. (EST).

The program explains the operation and function of the human senses. Contrary to popular belief that there are 5 senses, scientists contend there are at least 14.

For example, there are four senses of taste — sweet, sour, salt, and bitter. In our skin are senses of cold, heat, touch, pressure, and pain. Balance and muscular tension are also senses. These 11, along with sight, sound and smell, make up 14 senses and scientists now believe there may be at least five senses of sight and many individual senses of smell.

The hour-long telecast features Dr. Frank C. Baxter, English professor at the University of Southern California, in the role of a scientist visiting a movie set. He points out similarities between movie-making equipment and the senses, using scientific documentary films and animated drawings.

Dr. Baxter explains that sensory impressions are produced by the brain rather than by the sense organs or sensory receptors.

For example, if you should touch a hot pan, the sensory receptors would send signals along a double nerve network to the brain where the sensation of pain actually is registered. The pain nerve passes through a reflex center enroute to the brain and from there a nerve signal is sent to muscles around the receptor. Reflex action pulls your finger back a split second before you feel the pain.

Plaid designs should be matched at seam lines, so the plaid continues in unbroken lines, say home economists at Michigan State University.

Progress in Pharmacy...

A century ago druggist put up or made most of their products. My father was an old time druggist and he used to make extract of vanilla from the vanilla bean, spirits of Camphor, nitrate of copper, stock foods, many kinds of liniments, and cough medicines, hairdyes, and many other things. He also made rosewater perfumes.

Now this is all ancient history as he can buy most of these things from the wholesale houses cheaper than the cost of the ingredients to make them. Pharmaceutical houses spend $190 million a year in research. To the known drugs they have added serums made from the blood of animals and blood transfusions were unheard of in the day of the old time druggist. So was the sulphur and polio vaccines.

U-M Astronomer Notes Coming of Winter . . .

Ann Arbor - If you prefer the sultry heat of summer to winter's cold crisp days, you should hasten south of the equator immediately, a University of Michigan astronomer advises.

The reason? "The official beginning of winter comes at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday (Dec. 22)," says Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh (Ph. D.).

"That is the instant of the sun's turning north, or the winter solstice, when the sun reaches its most southerly point in its apparent yearly trip around the earth.

"On that day, the sun will swing its shortest daily arc across the southern sky, with the day being about nine hours long and the night - 15 hours." Thus Dec. 22 will be the shortest day of the year, Professor Losh explains.

"The date of Christmas is believed to bear some real relation to the sun and the winter solstice. It is likely that the date of this Christmas celebration was set to agree closely with the earlier pagan festival attendant upon the rejoicing of the sun's turning northward.

"On Dec. 22, the sun will start its long trek north again toward summer, continuing to lengthen days and shorten nights until our longest days of June," she notes.

"Conversely, in the southern hemisphere, the summer season will be starting at the same moment as our winter, for the seasons are reversed in the two halves of the globe.

"Contrary to many popular beliefs," Professor Losh continues, "the seasons do not depend primarily upon the variation of the earth's distance from the sun, but rather on the 23½ degree tilt of the earth's axis.

"During our winter, the earth's north pole is tipped away from the sun, and we have our cold weather because the sun is shining on the northern hemisphere at an oblique angle, while at the same time the earth's south pole is tilted 23½ degrees toward the sun, with the southern hemisphere getting the most heat of the year.

"However, we in the north benefit by the fact that at this time the earth is about 3 million miles closer to the sun than during our summer. This tends to make the northern winter a little milder and the southern hemisphere's summer a little hotter."

MICHIGAN MIRROR . . .

Lobbying activities in the capitol this year have prompted more complaints than usual. More, in fact, than during any year since the mid-forties, when the Carr-Sigler grand jury investigated influence peddling.

The lobbyists insist there is no justification for making them scapegoats for Michigan's longest legislative session.

The 200 - member "Third House" considers itself a part of state government - the voice of those taxed and regulated by government.

Big business took the brunt of complaints.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams blamed "the intervention of lobbyists for a few business interests" for Michigan's tax deadlock. He said they blocked a settlement months ago in the Senate.

Although they evaluated carefully information supplied by lobbyists, Republican tax experts said nobody dictated their votes.

A scare was thrown into the ranks of some cloakroom cloisters when Secretary of State James M. Hare said "it has come to our attention" that some of those promoting and advocating "on the sidelines of the tax battle were not formally registered."

Hare reminded that failure of a legislative agent to register is a felony, carry a maximum fine of $1,000 and a one-year jail sentence.

Under law, legislative agents must pay a $5 registration fee and keep a record of expenditures.

Protest were heard about the lobbying on key measures other than tax legislation.

Outraged opponents of passage of bills on horse racing, small loans, and reflectorized license plates complained of lobby tactics.

But the protests were tame compared to the charges that set off the grand jury investigation of wholesale bribery in the forties.

Repeal of a controversial law requiring reflectorized license plates has been proposed and may be passed before the law goes into effect.

The law as written would not go into effect until 90 days after the 1959 Legislature adjourns. As the tax deadlock kept lawmakers in session longer than expected the reflectorized plate law not in effect as planned when license tabs went on sale Nov. 1. Motorists who buy their tabs before the bill goes into effect will not have to pay the 35-cent fee designed to build a fund to buy the reflectorized material.

But the delay issue was not the main factor in the move for repeal. There were complaints of "rigging" and "junkets" against the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., which produced reflectorized material. And some state officials were less than enthusiastic about the safety value of reflectorization.

The Minnesota firm complained "false impressions" were circulated in Lansing along with the complaints about lobbying on the reflectorized plate bill.

It denied writing specifications for the bill, and said there was no truth to reports that Michigan legislators were wined, dined and otherwise entertained by the company in St. Paul.

Poverty may be the rule in Michigan's general fund but there is wealth elsewhere in this state plagued by recurrent financial troubles.

A Michigan State publication reports Michigan has more millionaires than Texas - in fact more of them than all but four states.

The report came out about the same time the State Administrative board emptied the state's general fund by releasing available money for schools, payrolls and welfare.

Another example to counter reports that Michigan is a pauper state came from figures released by Business Week magazine.

The publication showed Michigan's personal income increase in September of this year when compared to last year was the third largest in the nation.

Michigan's increase was 11.4 per cent. Florida has 13.5 per cent and Alaska 12.7 per cent.

Government has been getting a big bite of this income.

The MSU report said Michigan residents in almost all income brackets pay a higher effective rate of taxes than do Americans generally.

Jaycees Will Give Yule Baskets

The Howell Jaycees have announced plans to prepare and distribute Christmas baskets to needy families again this year. At this time persons and organizations wishing to contribute food, clothing or money are asked to either take the items to Richard Quinlan at McCormick Farm Equipment store, 2321 E. Grand River, or to telephone Bruce Campbell at 2128 or 193. The articles should be in the hands of the Jaycees before December 17 to make distribution possible on December 19.

Last year more than 30 baskets were distributed. Families receiving them are those whose names are secured by the Jaycees from the Livingston County Department of Social Welfare and the Salvation Army.

Included with the donated items will be toys for boys contributed by the Lions club and toys for girls given by the Jaycee Auxiliary.

General chairman of the project is George Landon. He is assisted by John Reardon, Frank Gould, James Campbell, James Myers, Bruce Campbell and Richard Quinlan.

No Solution Found

The legislature recessed Tuesday without getting anywhere. The Republican caucus refused to support an income tax put forward as a compromise by Speaker of the House Pears. They also refused to go for the Republican sponsored Nuisance tax which would have raised $40,000,000 by taxing beer, cigarettes, and services. The last included about everything which requires labor, bus and train fares, amusements, building costs, doctors and undertakers bills, dental bills. The state is $80,000,000 in debt and is laying out about $5000 a day on interest on said debts.

Paul Bagwell a present Republican candidate for governor in a press release called for a payroll tax at once to tide over the emergency. Then he said the governor should appoint a Blue Ribbon Tax Committee to draw up a tax bill and see that it passed.

Michigan State Highway Department engineers say an average of 16,500 barrels of cement is used in the construction of the average mile of rural limited access expressway.

More than 80 percent of the Interstate 94 (US-12) expressway from Detroit to the Indiana state line a distance of 217 miles is now open to traffic or under contract.

By the end of 1961 a motorist will be able to drive non-stop from Detroit to the Indiana state line on the I-94 (US-12) expressway without being exposed to traffic signals or traffic from intersecting roads.
