Approve Women's Prison for Chilson

The state senate appropriations group has approved an appropriation of $150,000 to start a womens prison at Chilson near Camp Brighton. This was fitted in the $17,100,000 corrections dept. budget. The womens prison will be started this summer and be occupied next January. It will house 100 women now in the Detroit House of Correction. The state now has 329 women serving time in the Detroit House of Correction. Most of them work in the laundry which serves Detroit hospitals and other city institutions. The state pays Detroit so much a prisoner. This cost will be materially cut by establishing the Chilson prison.

Boys Vocational School to Open This Month with Staff of 31 and 100 Residents

The new Boys Vocational School is opening this month with 100 boys transferred there from the Boys Vocational School at Lansing. Eventually all the boys at Lansing will be transferred to the new school in Green Oak township, near the intersection of US-23 and M-36. The new school so far cost $2 million but is due to be enlarged. There are now 400 boys at the Lansing school.

The new school has four classrooms for arts, crafts, industrial arts, English, arithmetic, science, and social studies and a special tutoring room. It has a Roman Catholic chapel and one for Protestant services, a gymnasium, health clinic, inner court with fish pond, reception lounge for visitors, and five wings of 20 rooms each. Two of the wings are two stories high. They contain a cot, pullout stool, desk and sanitary facilities. The rooms are locked from 9:30 p. m. to 6:30 a. m. The boys are allowed five cigarettes a day if their parents consent. Each wing has a recreation room for ping pong and other games. There will be a playground surrounded by a 12 ft. fence for softball and football. There will be a laundry, kitchen and cafeteria.

Vergil Pinckney is superintendent, Dr. Stuart Gould, psychiatrist and Willard Maxey, clinical director. A Whitmore Lake doctor is on call and hospital cases will be taken to the University of Michigan. It will start with a staff of 31 which will increase to 51 this summer. The new school is located on 57 acres, once the Fred Burnett farm. Across the road the state owns 200 acres where the water tower is located. The total cost of the school will be $10 million.

New Plastics Factory to Start Production Soon in Plant Vacated by Detroit Die Set

Pinckney was crowded Monday as the new Pinckney Molded Plastics, Inc., who have purchased the Detroit Die Set bldg. at North Howell St. and the Grand Trunk Railroad started receiving job applications. At one time the line of cars extended way back to the Congregational Church. We understand over 100 applications for jobs were filed. Some of those in line came before daylight. The building has been rewired and will be remodeled but will probably be some time next month before they get going.

The new factory is headed by Paul Chamberlain, former plant manager and Al Sanders, former sales manager of the Michigan Molded Panelite Plastics at Dexter. The St. Regis Paper Co. bought the Dexter factory some time ago. Mr. Chamberlain came to Dexter some years ago when John Rossiter, former owner retired. The Pinckney factory will make molded plastic products.

This new factory will mean a great deal to Pinckney. The Detroit Die Set who operated there for about 25 years was the biggest employer of labor here. When the factory was taken over by the Standard Die Set of Detroit a few of the employees were taken to Detroit. Most of them have been laid off and only about two are still employed there. Many of them deprived of their jobs last summer have not been able to find work since.

Pinckney welcomes the new enterprise with enthusiasm and the organization and people here are willing to do all in their power to make the new factory a successful one.

Mr. Chamberlain lives in the former Thomas Birkett home- stead at Portage Lake, while Mr. Sanders resides at Birmingham, Michigan.

MCPHERSON COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTER

The McPherson Community Health Center Auxiliary will have a work meeting at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, March 16th in the auditorium. Projects include mending, sewing, wrapping gloves and rolling pads. It is requested that where possible, portable sewing machines be brought.

A business meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. on the same day. Those wishing to attend both meetings are asked to plan to either buy their lunch or bring it with them. Coffee will be served.

Lavan Wins Motion In Defense of Alvin Knight

Martin J. Lavan attorney for Alvin Knight charged with the murder of State Trooper Albert Souden last August won one of his motions when Judge Carland ruled that Souden's revolver could not be used as evidence. That it was seized before a warrant was issued for Knight. However he turned down 8 other motions. One of which that Knights glasses also found in the cabin at Oscoda could not be used as evidence. A crowded court house heard the rulings.

Distinguished Missionary Slated to Speak at Congregational Church Sunday

Rev. Sydney K. Bunker, for over 20 years president of Jaffna College at Vaddukoddai, Ceylon, and a distinguished Congregational Christian missionary educator, will speak at the Community Congregational Church in Pinckney, next Sunday evening, March 13 at 7:30.

Fresh from this "troubled Eden", as he calls it, Mr. Bunker has much interesting information to share regarding a new nation's problems in self-government and the need for dealing wisely and understandingly with the people of that nation.

He received most of his higher education in the United States, having been graduated from Oberlin College and Union Theological Seminary, where he won a two-year fellowship at Oxford University, England. There he studied literature and African problems.

The public is cordially invited to this service. A coffee fellowship hour will follow.

★ CURRENT COMMENT ★

By PAUL W. CURLETT

Somehow we do not regard the candidacy of Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for the Democrat nomination for president as serious. The south has not elected a president in 100 years. We see some of his supporters are claiming he is from the west and not the south. The last formidable candidate the south had was Oscar Underwood of Birmingham, Alabama. He had been a leader of the house and collected a sizeable block of votes in the Democrat national convention in 1912 but was never higher than third in the convention. The two leading candidates were Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey and Champ Clark of Missouri, speaker of the house. Clark had a majority once but the two-thirds rule was in effect then. William Jennings Bryan dominated the convention, he was for Wilson and against Clark whom he claimed was favored by Wall Street. The convention lasted for weeks and was one of the longest on record. The Underwood supporters kept casting the same block of votes for their man day after day waiting for a break that never came. Finally after about a week of fruitless balloting, Bryan's eloquence won and Underwood swung to Wilson. He was nominated and elected. A similar deadlock might take place this year.

The Chessman case in California is still up in the air following the 60 day reprieve granted by Gov. Brown of California at the request of the secretary of state of Washington, D.C., on the grounds it would jeopardize the success of President Eisenhower's good will tour of South and Latin America. We cannot understand the blood thirsty attitude of the California legislature. Few states have a death penalty now, but California has eight times refused to repeal her death penalty law and according to news reporters will refuse again this year to do so. Chessman has agreed to submit to execution if the legislature will repeal the law but they still seem adamant. Assistant Secretary of State Rubottoms appeal is not unique. In 1958 Sec. of State Dulles himself intervened in a negro execution in Alabama. He said then this country was conducting delicate negotiations with the negro nations of Africa and any such execution would endanger their success. According to early history in old England executions were once public there and free seats used to be provided for them and huge crowds often attended. This is described in the books of Charles Dickens. We wonder if that attitude prevails in California.

The President good will tour of South America where he was on a peace preaching mission seems to be going over well due to his charm and unlike Vice-President Nixon's tour of two years ago, he has not been stoned or injured. He preaches peace but has not defined a policy or made any definite commitments. So far hostile demonstrators have been kept at a distance by the police. In Puerto Rico demonstrators who carried signs reading "Freedom or Death" were kept at a distance but another group who carried signs reading, "Make Puerto Rico the 51st State of the Union," were allowed to see him. The President made no promises though. In Brazil he was whisked over the heads of 500 hostile demonstrators in a helicopter. He said this country and Brazil should live together in a Brotherhood of God. Brazil wants an American loan to develop her oil industry. Congress turned such a loan down last year. The President said he favors such a loan. In Argentina he was likewise shielded from hostile demonstrators mostly Peronists. They carried signs reading "We want Peron Back." This was also painted on the pavement in huge letters. Pictures of Fidel Castro of Cuba were also prominent. The President will undoubtedly ask for more foreign aid which is his remedy for foreign affairs. Congress has never given him all he asked for. It canceled aid for the Aswan dam in Egypt. Russia furnished it and we lost Egypt. The presidential good will tour encountered the strongest opposition at Montevideo University, Uruguay when a mob of students bearing Castro and American Imperialism signs blocked his path. The police had to use tear gas bombs and fire hoses to clear the way. The President was hit by a cloud of tear gas which brought tears to his eyes but he continued his tour.

The Civil Rights issue came up again last week like an explosion and disturbances were reported in different places in the south chiefly over the refusal of cafeterias to serve negroes. Some 76 negroes were jailed in Nashville, Tenn. and 46 in Raleigh, N.C. They had insisted on their right to eat in cafeterias. In the meantime the civil rights bill was reported out in congress and the Southern senators prepared to talk it to death. According to the rules debate on any bill is unlimited and the senators prepared to hold sessions around the clock. Cots were set up and the senators talked in relays. In this endurance contest, it is customary to read the congressional record, the dictionary, the Bible or anything else to take up time. A cloture rule can be evoked but it takes a two-thirds vote and the south is usually able to block this. This endless debate is called a filibuster and continues until one side or the other weakens. It has existed in congress since the beginning of this country and is a tradition.

MICHIGAN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Michigan high school Coaches dinner is at Michigan State University March 19. At this time 12 Michigan High School coaches will be elected to the Michigan Hall of fame and receive awards. Among them are Paul Bennett, former Howell high school coach who retired some years ago. About 500 coaches are expected to attend the dinner.

It costs 87 percent more now to educate a student than it did 10 years ago. From 1957-58 $321 was spent per student. In 1947-48 it was $171.50.

In 1959 two hundred fifty-three Michigan schools approved millage increases and 54 voted them down.

Circuit Judge Robert Wright of Ironwood has just rendered a verdict for $11,200 in favor of William J. Sharon, former supt. of Spalding township school district. In 1953 Sharon's contract as Supt. was renewed. A new school board was elected in 1954 who cancelled it on the grounds Sharon caused dissension. Judge Wright ruled the board had failed to prove the contract was void. It had been signed by three of the 5 board members. Sharon is now supt. of Wyoming Park High School.

Cook-and-Serve Lenten Special

In the modern kitchen the casserole meal has become the answer to the problem of preparing a Lenten dish which is tasty, economical, different and attractive.

A meatless meal featuring such reliable Lenten staples as fish and eggs can become a delight when prepared in the new Pyrex 1 1/2-quart oval Cinderella casserole, with brass table serving cradle.

Kitchen time is reduced by using this cook-and-serve item which complements any table decor with its turquoise meadow design set on sparkling white opal.

Tuna-stuffed eggs on rice with curry sauce, a kitchen-proven recipe, offers a delightful change-of-pace for a meatless dinner.

TUNA EGG CURRY CASSEROLE

To serve six, place three cups cooked rice into a well-greased Pyrex 1 1/2-quart oval Cinderella casserole. Dot with two tablespoons butter. Cut six hard-cooked eggs lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and mix in 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/3 cup grated tuna. Fill egg whites with this mixture and arrange on top of rice.

For curry sauce, melt 1/4 cup butter over low direct heat. Remove from heat and blend in 1/4 cup flour, one teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon curry powder. Add two cups milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly, about 10 minutes. Pour over stuffed eggs. Garnish with a sprinkle of paprika, if desired. Bake 15 minutes in 325-degree oven.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

ANGELS OF MERCY in Michigan would like a little more earthly goods to accompany the "heavenly accolade." In short, nurses are looking around and deciding that they could use a little mercy themselves when it comes to salaries.

Best figures available from state government and the Michigan State Nurses Association indicate that in out-state Michigan starting salary for nurses (and this may mean a woman up to 10 years experience) is between $3,000 and $3,600 per year. It is somewhat higher in metropolitan areas.

This is substantially below starting salaries for teachers. Average starting salary for a teacher out-state is about $4,000 estimates the State Department of Public Instruction. Teachers start at about $4,500 in large cities and suburbs.

Nurses point out that they work 12 months a year compared to the teacher's 10; and that their week rotates around seven days including all holidays.

Meager wages are a major factor in an increasingly acute shortage of nurses, Patricia Walsh, president of Michigan State Nurses Association, told key members of the organization.

A recruitment problem is rapidly developing because other fields which require much less preparation pay much higher salaries. She said that girls who consider the income they can expect after three or four years of rigorous nursing training are more and more inclined to go into other fields where wages are higher and working hours more pleasant.

"First priority in MSNA for 1960 is higher salaries," stated Miss Walsh. The registered nurses organization realizes their success will depend in large part upon public support they can stimulate.

Members seemed a little surprised at their early experience which indicated that the public has a certain sympathy for their position but no inclination to pay higher medical bills without resistance. They found that Mr. Citizen thinks his bill for doctors' hospitals, drugs and medical insurance is increasing too rapidly as it is.

"Everyone I've talked to blasts the doctors," reported one person.

Support of the M.D.s will be very important to the R.N. cause. Nearly all 20,000 registered nurses in Michigan work directly for a doctor, in a hospital controlled by doctors or indirectly under the supervision of a doctor.

There are 15,000 more registered nurses who are not working in the medical profession. Some of these have married and are raising families. Others left for higher wages and better working conditions in other fields says MSNA. The nurses organization is sure that many of this group could be interested in returning to the patient's bedside if the pay schedule were realistic.

"The seriousness of the growing nurse shortage will depend upon how fast something is done to make the profession one where a woman can perform her important duties proudly and for an adequate salary," said Miss Walsh. "Unless something happens to bring this about, conditions will worsen."

MORE THAN 100 MICHIGAN communities now have industrial development corporations to construct buildings for sale or lease to industry they invite to move in. At least 20 have actually played a part in building plants this last year.

Don C. Weeks, director of the Michigan Economic Development Department, says that the greatest service a state development agency can perform is to help communities do a better job of helping themselves, and he points with pleasure to the success of many Michigan Communities.

Here is a list of fruitful accomplishments:

South Haven built a new plant for the Lovejoy Flexible Coupling Co. of Chicago. This is the fourth industrial building project undertaken in that city in recent years.

The Owosso Development Organization built two additional factory buildings in 1959, one for the Shiawassee Metal Finishing Company and the other for the Owosso Container Company. Muskegon which has a record of assistance to industry going back many years, added another accomplishment during 1959 by assisting in the construction of Brunswick - Balke - Collender Company's new automatic pinsetter production facility.

The village of Elk Rapids, which obtains basic financing through one-dollar-a-week contributions from members of a development corporation, built its fourth new factory building last year. This plant was constructed for the Colton division of Snyder Tool Company of Detroit, as a facility in which to make precision machinery for use by pharmaceutical manufacturers.

Among other communities which took part in constructing new plants through industrial development corporations or similar organizations in 1959 were: Berrien Springs which built a new plant for the Weleratt Company of New Carlisle, Indiana; Brown City for Frank Motor Homes, Inc.; Marysville for Pre-Cast Concrete Company; Caro for Weldments - Pacific Inc.; Imlay City for Federal Press Steel Company; Kingston for Marlette

Kingston Enterprises, Inc.; Cadillac for Plymouth Industries; Lexington for Redall Industries; Marlette for Metacraft Inc.; Rogers City for Nicolay Dancey Company; Traverse City for Arca Products Co.; Crystal Falls for Cloverland Metal Fabricators Inc.; West Branch for Evans Products Company; Sandusky for the Elkton Box Company; and Gaytown for C & B Industries.

Although this list of communities is probably not complete.

Money-Making Corn Growers Watch Fertility, Stalk Stand

Net profits go up when farmers use needed fertilizer and other good management practices.

PROFIT figures tell farmers more about the business of growing corn than yields can do, reports Dr. Curtis Overdahl, University of Minnesota extension soils specialist.

To get high profits, a farmer must keep a close eye on costs in relation to yields, Overdahl points out in a statement summarized by the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

"This means paying attention to the fertility needs as indicated by soil tests," he says. "It also means planting enough corn stalks to make maximum use of the soil's fertility resources and probable moisture. And it involves weed and insect control and other good management practices."

As an example of what can be accomplished when attention is paid to all these good management practices, Overdahl cites the record of J. Troy Schrock, of Preston, Minnesota, who recorded corn profits of $86.35 per acre last season. Schrock was first place winner in the University of Minnesota's 1959 Extra-Profit Corn Contest. He also took top honors in the contest's highest net yield division, with 170.3 bushels of corn per acre on a fertilized field.

The net profit on Schrock's corn was figured after subtracting the cost of land, fertilizer, tillage and measures to control weeds and insects.

More than 259 Minnesota farmers participated in the contest, according to Dr. Overdahl. County agents, vocational agriculture teachers and other agricultural leaders work with farmers in setting up the "see-for-yourself" demonstration plots. They also assist in checking results.

First place in the contest's extra yield division, went to Merlin Hildebrandt, of Waseca, who recorded a 115.5 bushel-per-acre increase on his fertilized plot, compared with the results on an unfertilized check field. The fertilized area yielded 140 bushels per acre, compared to 24.5 from the check area.

MICHIGAN VETERANS AND VETERAN WIDOWS

Three thousand one hundred Michigan Veterans will not receive their March pension checks because they did not fill out and return their income questionnaires showing their income for 1959. The law limits the income of persons receiving non-service connected disabilities. These beneficiaries can receive their pensions by returning their questionnaires at once.

APPROVE HOWELL ARMORY

Cong. Chamberlain writes us the house armed services committee has approved construction of a $316,000 armory at Howell. The House appropriations committee now has to approve the appropriation.

NOTICE

The Pinckney Extension Group will meet Wednesday, March 16, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Marshall Meabon, 1135 W. M-36. The subject discussed will be state government.

More Pictures From The Editor's Scrapbook on the History of Pinckney

SETTING IN THE SUN

It will soon be the time when we will be able to set in the sun and warm ourselves by its radiant rays. Spring is just around the corner, ground hog or no ground hog. The above picture was probably taken 60 years ago in front of the Teeple Hardware. The drug store is now located there. The three men were well known here at the time. The first is John Chalker, a civil war veteran. He tended bar in the saloon here and had one at different times. Finally he bought the Fisk farm at Patterson Lake. He rented boats and sold bait. He also owned the land on the lake. They did not sell lots in those days but rented them as the land was not platted or surveyed. His son, Met, told me the leases on some of the lots he rented did not expire until 15 years after his father died.

The second man is Ed Thompson. He lost one eye working in the woods. He also had a saloon where the M. E. Darrow barber shop is. To draw trade he put in a pool table and had Fickie Sellman, playing for the house. He used to write Fickie an excuse when he stayed out of school. Bill Dolan another saloon keeper got a pool table and got Fickie away from him by offering more money. Fickie still came to Ed for an excuse. The last one Ed wrote read: Prof Sprout, lick the devil out of Fickie, he skipped school and played pool all day in Bill Dolans saloon."

DEMOLAY WEEK

March 13-20 is International DeMolay Week, being celebrated by over 3 million young men around the world. Livingston County Chapter is observing the 41st birthday of the Order with a family Potluck supper and initiation of new members in the Brighton Masonic Temple on Wednesday, March 16th. The evenings activities will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the potluck supper, which is being organized by the Mothers Club. At 8 p.m. the officers, led by Master Councilor Larry VanSlambrook, will initiate six new members. All DeMolays and Master Masons are welcome to witness the initiation of the new class called the "Founders Class" in honor of Dad Frank S. Land, founder of the Order of DeMolay, who passed away November 8, 1959. During the initiation the mothers and other friends will hold a white elephant and bake sale to make money to further the Mothers Club's service to the Chapter. For further information call Howell 820-W1 or Pinckney UP 8-3223.

CARD OF THANKS

High Efficiency Key to Greater Profits per Unit

PRESENT and future farm profits depend on higher efficiency that produces more and better products with less cost and labor, reports Dr. E. J. Nesius, associate director of the University of Kentucky extension service.

"Individual farms, the same as other businesses, must be efficient in order to survive," says Nesius, in a statement summarized by the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

Farmers need a greater net income to be competitive and stay in business, in view of changing prices and expenses, Nesius points out. The only way open to them is to increase their efficiency, cut costs of production and attain higher returns per acre.

Nesius says "larger applications and more properly applied fertilizers" can be the answer to the problem of producing more bushels of corn and cereal crops, more tons of hay and forage for less cost and labor. Yields of such crops can be increased from 50 to 100 per cent.

In addition to proper fertilizer use, Nesius advises farmers to: 1—Select enterprises best suited to their individual farms; 2—Study market and market area building; 3—Evaluate livestock herds and poultry flocks to get rid of low producers and concentrate on high producers; 4—Make full use of advantageous seasonal trends in markets; 5—Use effective disease and insect control methods.

Citing the need for increased fertilizer use on many farms, Prof. C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin extension soils specialist, says "many farmers are going into the red on their plant food 'bank accounts' because crops are withdrawing nutrients faster than they are being put back."

Sixteen hundred deer starved to death in Michigan last year but this winter losses by starvation are expected to be light. Some 300,000 does are expected to produce as many fawns. There will probably be 800,000 deer available next October. Some starvation is reported in northern lower Michigan this winter.

Last year the total receipts at Michigan state parks and recreation areas broke all records when it reached $882,056. The southern Michigan parks led with $348,928.

Due to a lack of funds Michigan's forest planting program will be cut 50 percent this year. More land is being acquired each year by purchase and trade.

Mass planting of flowers, the use of all of one variety in a large group, can help the home gardener get the greatest return for money and time. Such planting schemes are increasing in popularity, say Michigan State University horticulturists.

PLASTIC BAG DANGER

This is the danger of those plastic bags in which your cloths are wrapped when they come from the store or back from the laundry:

When anything rubs against the inside of them, static electricity is generated. This causes the bag to cling to the rubbing surface. The more rubbing, the more clinging. If a child climbs inside one, as children are wont to do, and it begins to cling to his face, the more the child struggles, the tighter the plastic gets.

That's the word from the United States Public Health Service. Their explanation comes none too soon, because the bags have already begun to take a toll in human life.

On one day, a few weeks ago, three children suffocated to death by the aforementioned cause.

The lesson should be obvious. If you plan to re-use the bags, store them carefully away from the reach of children. If not — destroy them. Don't just throw them away, because children have the dangerous habit of playing with something that's been just thrown away.

MICHIGAN
PRICES DOWN!

Like the ads of local merchants that you see in this newspaper, S&H Green Stamps boost business. At the same time they help keep prices down.

Here is why: When a store sells more, it can sell for less, since bigger volume brings lower costs.

Stores that use S&H Green Stamps must sell competitively. Michigan housewives are expert shoppers. They read the ads. They check and compare prices. And they can't be fooled!

Trading stamps are being saved today by two out of three American families—about 35 million in all. And their use is still growing in this and other States.

For the best values, shop at the stores in your community that give S&H Green Stamps.

Motorists Kill 2,761 Deer

For the first year since 1955, fewer than 3,000 deer were killed on Michigan's highways during 1959. Automobiles killed 2,761 white-tails last year.

Last fall's archery deer take is still being compiled but it appears likely to edge past the kill figure by autos. More whitetails have been killed on the highways by autos than in the woods by archers annually since 1954.

Michigan's heaviest highway toll again occurred on northern lower peninsula highways where 988 deer were killed. However, this was 215 below the 1958 figure, representing the best improvement among the state's three regions. Compared with the preceding year, the highway toll dropped from 988 to 873 above the Straits and rose slightly from 886 to 891 in the southern lower peninsula.

Band Members

Have New Uniforms

Bob Reason, sax player in the Pinckney High School Band, models the new uniform in the above picture. The uniform, which is made by the DeMoulin Uniform Company of Ohio, is basically a distinguished black in color with red and white trim. A detachable cape is added for marching and parade work to add the desired splash of color.

This marks another first for the High School Band. It is hoped that the uniforms will provide an added incentive to bolster the morale of the present band members as well as to aid in the recruitment of new band members. The uniforms are certainly of the quality that anyone should be very proud of them. . . band members, parents, administration and community.

Financing of the uniforms has been pretty much of a community affair. Thus far several individuals, groups, or businesses have either contributed or pledged their support of this project. A list of contributors will be published at a later date.

Anyone desiring a sneak preview of the uniform may see it during school hours in the music room of the High School.

Lon McCollum, Music Director

NEW RATE SCHEDULES

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. last week filed new rate schedules which would increase the price of residence service a dime a month here.

The proposed schedules, subject to approval by the state Public Service Commission, were submitted in Lansing in compliance with a recent commission order granting the company a revenue increase.

The new schedules would increase the price of all classes of residence main service 10 cents a month and most classes of business service 15 cents a month.

The price of Private Branch Exchange (PBX) trunklines would go up 25 cents a month.

Other increases would apply here only to miscellaneous items such as service connection, automatic telephone answering and recording equipment, and PBX night answering service arrangements involving special equipment.
