9 Candidates File for Annual School Election

Nine residents of the Pinckney Community schools district have filed petitions to become candidates for the four positions to be filed on the Board of Education in the annual school election, Monday, June 13.

Six of the candidates seek to fill the two three-year terms of Lester McAfee and Carson C. Hollingsworth which expire this year. The former is not seeking reelection. Mr. Hollingsworth, Mark Nash, Henry DeBraaf, F. Ray Williams, Morton J. Scott and Jack A. Swanson are the candidates for the three-year terms.

Those who have filed for the two new four-year terms created by a law making a seven-man necessary, are Edwin Lee Goucher, Lyle Kinsey and Leonard Davis.

The Dispatch plans next week to introduce each candidate by printing a paragraph and a photo, if possible, of each man.

The regular school election will be held at the high school gym, Monday, June 13, where the polls will be open from 1 to 8 p. m.

In addition to naming the four new trustees the voters will be asked to approve salaries for the two newest trustees.

Two Cheerleaders To Attend Camp

Mary E. Kelly and Louise Basydlo, two outstanding P. H. S. Cheerleaders, have been selected to attend a training program, June 5, to June 10, at a cheerleaders camp.

The 10th Annual Midwest Cheerleader Camp under the direction of Lawrence Herkimer of Dallas, Texas and Newt Loken of the University of Michigan will again be held at the Smith-Wallbridge Camp in Syracuse, Indiana. Many schools are now annually sending their entire cheerleading squad to this nationally known camp, and more than four hundred schools have cheerleaders trained at the Midwest Camp. A complete program of cheerleading training is combined with summer camp activities. Girls attending with their squads are trained as a squad, and girls attending alone or in pairs are made up into teams and all get an opportunity to lead the squad.

Gipson Found Guilty of Second Degree Murder

A circuit court jury in Howell Friday found Robert Lee Gipson 27, of Chelsea, guilty of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of Danny Haines, 21, of Gregory. The shooting happened last December 26, in Pinckney.

The jury of three men and nine women brought in the verdict after a deliberation of 2 hours and fifteen minutes.

Gipson is in the Livingston county jail awaiting sentence.

Visiting Circuit Judge Beers of Muskegon was to return to Howell yesterday to set the date of sentencing.

Gipson a former Kentucky convict, said during the trial that he did not know the gun was loaded when he pointed it at Danny with whom he had argued earlier in the day. Several local residents who were at the drive-in or saw the victim and the killer shortly after the shooting were called as witnesses at the trial.

Defense Attorney E. Fletcher Reed tried during the trial to establish self-defense in the shooting. After quarreling with Haines in Pinckney on the day of the shooting Gipson had returned to Chelsea for his gun according to the

The Senior Class has dedicated the yearbook, '60 Pirate Log, to the class sponsor, John F. Burg. Mr. Burg is industrial arts teacher, track coach.

Class Officers Named for '60-'61

In class elections during the past week three high school grades named their officers for next year. Senior Class: President, Karl Burg; Vice-Pres., John Wetherbee; Sec., Carol Miller; Treas., Keith Morgan.

The Freshman will elect officers in the fall.

The seven charter members of the Future Nurses club received their pins at an impressive candle light ceremony held in the Home-Economics room of the high school Wednesday evening. President, Mary Lee Aschenbrenner, opened the program with a welcome address to the girls, speakers and guests. She later presented the pins to Mary Ellen Singer, Becky Morris, Susan Sepulveda, Nancy Read, Ruby Lee Thornton and Scharme Baxter. Mrs. Bellinger and Mrs. Anderson, nurses representing the Livingston County Nurses club and the Livingston County Medical Auxiliary addressed the group. Susan Sepulveda presented a copy of the club's constitution to each member. Mrs. Stanley Dinkel, R.N. Mrs. Raymonda Morris and Mrs. W. Swarthout are sponsors of the group. They were assisted by Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Bower at the beautifully arranged tea table where refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

"I Love A Parade . . ."

Everybody but the weather man cooperated in making the annual Memorial Day Observance here a success, but even in spite of the scattered showers and darkening skies a large and colorful parade left the elementary school grounds at 2 p.m. and thrilled a very large crowd of spectators along the parade route which led to the village square where a distinguished speaker delivered the Memorial Day address, Dr. Alfred Gilmour, Dean Olivet, Michigan, spoke in a downpour of rain. The Reverend J. W. Winger, chairman of the Memorial Day committee, Mrs. Max Russell, village council member, and the Reverend Brooks Sanders of the People's Church, spoke briefly. Don Winger introduced each speaker.

Taking a part in the parade were several hundred people, young and old; representing practically every home and organization in the area.

Out-of-town groups included the Zal-Gaz Grotto band from Ann Arbor and the color guard, of the Lovell - Hill Post, South Lyon.

The Girl Scouts of Pinckney Lone Troop One placed the memorial wreath at the foot of the flag pole in solemn rites and the P. H. S. band played the National Anthem. The playing of taps closed the ceremonies. A special tribute was extended to Pinckney's two Spanish - American War veterans, Gene Mann and George Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. VanderWerwen spent the weekend on a fishing trip in Oscoda.

Excerpts from Memorial Day Address by Alfred Gilmour, Dean of Students, Olivet College, Olivet, Michigan.

"Most of mankind has looked to America for leadership, not simply leadership in science and industry, but leadership in the age-old struggle for an increased measure of dignity and opportunity for every individual."

"America has needlessly sacrificed economics, politics and ideas to narrow military expediency. In our proper pursuit of military security we have allowed ourselves to drift out of touch with the people whose convictions, fears and hopes, for better or for worse, will shape tomorrow's world."

"More adequate military defense, whether it be a U-2 spy plane—or a spy moon, is not the final objective; it is simply a means to that end. The struggle between the forces of totalitarianism and those which support the dignity of man will not be determined by a rocket race to the moon."

A committee of mothers, lead by chairman, Mrs. Robert Amburgey and nurse, Dorothy Dinkel, have been checking eyes of students at the elementary school. Parents of children who do not pass the test offered in this service will be notified by the county health nurse of the fact and will be advised to take their children to an optometrist. Assistance is available for those who can not afford the cost and this information will be given by the county nurse.

● Notes of 48 Years Ago

On Monday, June 3, Laura Doyle and Lucius Smith were married at St. Mary's Catholic church, with the Rev. Fr. Coyle officiating at the nuptial Mass. Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls the couple will live on their farm near Howell.

Professor Kirtland, head of the English department of New York State Normal College will locate here for the summer months and practise his hobby of professional photography. His studio in the Pinckney Hotel will open for business July 1.

John Teeple was quite badly bruised and shaken up one day last week when his automobile, which he was cranking up, kicked back on him.

The first issue of the Gregory Gazette was published this week. Printing was done by the Dispatch in Pinckney.

The Princess Amusement Company will present a great motion picture "The Engineer's Daughter", as their first offering at the Pinckney Opera House Friday evening.

Infectious hepatitis, a communicable disease which can cause serious liver damage and sometimes death, appears well on its way toward setting arecord high number of cases in Michigan and the nation this year.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director, division of disease control, records and statistics, Michigan Department of Health, said that through the week ending May 13, 826 cases had been reported Universities Are Progress Levers, Says U-M Prof.

Large universities are "unsurpassed progress levers" for the states and regions they serve, says Merritt M. Chambers, visiting professor of higher education at The University of Michigan.

"The universities cannot and do not claim to be the sole centers for the advancement of knowledge and wisdom," he writes in the current Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review. "But they are the training grounds from which emerges an endless and increasing stream of reinforcements for the forces of enlightenment in the perpetual war against ignorance."

At present, he notes, more than one third of a million students are taking graduate programs at American universities. This is more students than were in all U. S. colleges and universities at the start of the century.

"It may be that Thomas Edison and Henry Ford never went to college," Chambers asserts, "But no one thinks that the technological geniuses of tomorrow will be trained in news butchering or bicycle repairing."

"They will come from the graduate schools — perhaps via the industrial laboratories — but certainly from the graduate schools. And likewise the discoverers in medicine, in the social science, the humanities, the arts, philosophy, and in every field that challenges the human mind."

"The time has already arrived when the extent and quality of research facilities and the research and professional leadership afforded by the presence of a large university are of inestimably greater significance in attracting and holding particular industries in a state or region than any petty considerations such as comparative personal or corporate income tax rates."

NEWS NOTES FROM THE — ELEMENTARY SCHOOL —

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

Our sixth grade room was very busy. First on Monday our boys played the fifth grade in baseball. The fifth grade won. Our boys were a little disappointed but they were good sports. And we were proud of them. They played good. Then the rest of the week was a busy one for Mrs. Tasch. She and the student council were getting ready for the talent show. Friday afternoon we had a birthday party for Mrs. Tasch. It turned out very nice. We would like to thank every one who helped make her party turn out. Friday night was the talent show. It turned out very nice, and everyone did a fine job.

FIRST GRADE NEWS

Our class is planning to go to Potter Park Wednesday if the weather is nice. One reading group made a village. We made Captain Mac's house and also a houseboat on the bay for Captain Jerry. Another group made a big farm. The other group made a train and animals for a zoo.

FIRST GRADE

The first grade had a very nice time at Potter Park. We want to thank the mothers who went with us.

We were happy to have Mark Merna visit us yesterday.

We made zoo books and Mother Goose books.

FIFTH GRADE

We have finished all our tests and have come out with wonderful results.

No more tests! We have completed all our work. Our assignment on "Why I Like to Live in Michigan" will bring a prize for the best one for the boys and one for the girls.

Our games and party committees are all ready for our Everybody's Birthday Party on Wednesday afternoon.

Have a wonderful vacation as we have had a most wonderful year and we're ready for summer fun.

Thanks to everyone for all their help to make this such a grand year. Special thanks to Mrs. Rene Miller and Mrs. Kellenberger.

SECOND GRADE

Lou Ann Hendee's pony had a baby colt.

We are finishing our spring picture.

We made two books one about arithmetic and one about writing.

Laura Whitley's mother bird had some little birds.

Our other goldfish died.

Carol Ann Sawyer has a little dog and a duck.

Ann Cullen got a baby chick from Larry Gardner.

Janice Dean's mother squirrel had baby squirrels.

Terri Bill saw a mother bird making a nest.

Donna Plummer saw a mother duck take her baby ducks for a swim.

Becky Michael has seven hens and one rooster.

Jackie Bell saw some baby rabbits.

Larry Gardner has some rabbits around his house.

SECOND GRADE

This week we are finishing up our work. We are cleaning our cupboards and putting away library books.

Several of the children are going out of town to visit relatives over this long weekend.

There are many of our classmates taking part in the parade. We are excited about the big parade.

We had several experiments this week with wind. We all made pin wheels.

SKELTON SHOW TO FEATURE SHELTERS.

Red Skelton, as henpecked George Appleby, will base his June 7 television program on construction of a concrete fallout shelter.

Based on the logic that serious subjects often get more public interest when treated humorously, Skelton's sketch will make comic use of a typical home shelter. He will close, however, with some serious advice about how home owners can obtain simple plans for constructing bomb shelters from Office of Civil Defense officials, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Michigan stations scheduled to carry the CBS network show at 9:30 p.m. include WWTW, Cadillac; WJBK-TV, Detroit; WKZO-TV, Kalamazoo; WJIM-TV, Lansing; and WKNX-TV, Saginaw.

Empty cans cost nothing and outdoor Chefs-for-a-Crowd swear by them. Use the big 48 and 30-ounce sizes that fruits, vegetables and juices are packed in for heating barbecue sauces on the grill, keeping cooked onions, green peppers, and gravies hot. Use smaller cans for melting butter spreads and warming desserts and dessert sauces. Best of all... cans don't have to be washed. Just throw them in the waste basket.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Gramps Tells a "Moving" Story

Gramps Adams just got back from his first trip to the city in 40 years.

Thinking there might be a story in an oldtimer's impressions of the big city, I stopped by his place. Gramps was pretty enthusiastic about everything—except the escalators they have in the new department store.

"Sure, those moving stairs are easy on the legs going up," Gramps commented. "But just try to get down on the same ones. I'll be figured if you can do it, not with the steps coming up at you a mile a minute!"

From where I sit, sometimes some of us go out of our way to make things a little harder than they really are. Think, for instance, how much easier living with our neighbors would be if we were more tolerant of things. Like my right to choose an occasional glass of beer—your right to choose coffee, tea or milk. By respecting each other's preferences, we're better neighbors with fewer "ups and downs."

County Supervisors Propose Home For Aged at April 20th Meeting

Faced with the threat of closing of the County Infirmary by the State Health Dept. and State Fire Marshall's office and after a comprehensive study by the Welfare Committee of the Board of Supervisors, for the need of establishing a county "Medical Care Facility" (Nursing Home) for the care of the aged, infirm and Chronically ill of our county.

The Livingston County Board of Supervisors at its April 20, 1960 meeting, approved the recommendations of its welfare committee, to plan upon the August 2nd primary its recommendations to establish a county Medical Care Facility to care for the aged, infirm and chronically ill citizens of Livingston County.

The cost as determined by the board to approximate $500,000, to be paid by a bond issue at approximately 1 mill state equalized and estimated to be paid off in approximately 4 years.

While care for the aged, infirm and chronically ill is a very much talked about subject on the federal (Forand Bill and White House Conferences) and state levels, the Livingston County Board of Supervisors by its April 20th action placing this proposal upon the ballot for the approval of the people in the August 2nd Primary, has shown its concern and willingness to meet this problem head on, and with a favorable vote of the people proceed to construct a County Medical Care Facility for the care of the aged, infirm and chronically ill, where they may carry on in an atmosphere of peace security and dignity.

The architects selected for this medical care facility come highly recommended by the State Welfare Dept. and has a wide experience in the construction of medical care facilities and hospitals, the Architects are the firm of Clark Ackley AIA of East Lansing, who were the architects for the McPherson Medical Care Facility will be along the same general lines as the Health Center.

At their May 17, 1960 meeting, Mr. Harold Armstrong, chairman of the Livingston County Board of Supervisors appointed the following citizens of the county to assist the welfare committee of the board in arousing the people of Livingston County of the need of such medical care and for the promotion of a favorable vote by the people: Dr. Boyd Shertzer, Howell; Dr. Don McGregor, Brighton; Thomas Howlett, Gregory; Rev. Fr. Lea McCann, Brighton; Roy Glendening, Hartland; Dr. Louis May, Howell; Jas V. Brady, Howell; Rev. Walter Geske, Howell; Robert E. Smith, Fowlerville; Mrs. Lucille Beck, Pinckney; Chas Sutton, Howell; Mrs. Nan Allen, Howell; Mrs. Fred Hyne, Brighton; Mrs. Bernard Witting, Brighton.

An organizational meeting of this committee is being planned for the 1st week of June, at which time the architect will be present with brochures and data and architectural drawings of the proposed facility, and in the near future brochures will be mailed out to all county residents with all pertinent data and an architectural reprint of the proposed facility.

Respectfully Submitted,
Welfare Com., Bd. of Supv.

At the planning meeting of Pack 58, Cub Scout leaders, at the John Towsley home last Monday night plans for the summer vacation period were announced. The Cubs and their families will enjoy a picnic and boat trip at Kent Lake on Saturday, June 4.

During July and August a six weeks free Red Cross swimming course will be offered at Fox Point Beach to all Cub Scouts of Pack 58. On July 16 the cubs will be guests of the Detroit baseball club at a ball game in Detroit.

Frank Zzulka is serving as Cub Master now, with John Towsley as his assistant.

The two eighth grade classes of the Elementary school had a class dance Friday evening. The dance which was well-attended was sponsored by Mr. Beach's room.

Mrs. Hollis White and son, Edsel, have returned from a ten day trip to Florida. They took the trip with Mrs. Dorothy Hart, Chelsea business woman, and visited many points of interest in the south as well as Fort Canaveral, Pensacola, Tampa, and Fort Meyer.

Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Sigler of Battle Creek were Thursday luncheon guests at the M. E. Darrow home.

Mrs. Merwin Campbell, Grand Organist of the Michigan Grand Chapter, OES, attended exemplification services with other state officers in Olivet, Hazel Park, and Port Huron in the past week.

Mrs. Carol Bryant of Tiplady road was the guest of honor at a luncheon and stork shower at the home of Mrs. Otto Schaner last Tuesday. There were ten guests and the honoree received lovely gifts.

Mrs. William Huffman and Mrs. Betty Hose entertained at a shower last Wednesday evening for the pleasure of Mrs. Norman Bock, a new mother, whose daughter, Kelly Lee, is just four weeks old.

The Emmett King family spent the weekend in Northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer attended a bon-voyage party at the Hillside Inn, Plymouth, last Thursday evening honoring the group of 32 teachers who will sail for Europe on June 15. Mrs. Meyer, 8th grade teacher, is one of the group.

Joseph Greiner of Detroit was a Pinckney visitor on Tuesday.

Monday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Roger Carr were the Leo Bettes family of Walled Lake, Mrs. Mae Middleton, LaVerne Smith, Mrs. Mabel Olson, and the Wayne Carr family.

Murray J. Kennedy, of Pinckney, is one of the three Livingston County men named by Judge Michael Carland of the Livingston County Circuit court to act as court commissioners in a State Highway condemnation case involving property in Green Oak Township. He will be serving with Glenn Berry and Charles Wilkinson, both of Howell.

Mrs. William Lamb and children Jeri, June, JoAnn and Billy arrived by plane at Willow Run Thursday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meyer. Bill, who drove from their home in Pittsburg, Pa., arrived Saturday morning. Weekend guests also, were Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Meyer and children of Pontiac and the George W. Meyers of Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Horst and children spent the weekend in Three Rivers where they attended a reception and a banquet honoring the former's father, Walter Horst, retiring Superintendent of Three Rivers Schools. Saturday was declared "Walter Horst Day" at Three Rivers in honor of the man who spent more than 40 years teaching and administration there.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davenport of Toledo, Ohio, spent several days last week at the Orville Nash home and together they called on the Joseph Standlicks at Fonda Lake on Thursday.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Hitler said Germany needed living room, but what Michigan outdoorsmen need is playing room.

Increased demand for outdoor recreation will outrun available facilities unless new land use policies and investment programs are adopted.

That's the national picture and Michigan, the "Water Wonderland," is highly concerned because it is a top Mecca for tourists.

The state took a step toward providing more parks, beaches and recreation areas with the so-called "sticker fee" bill which became law in May. The law permits a 10 million dollar bond issue for land acquisition and park development.

However, the Conservation Department says complications in getting the program into effect mean no real significant gains can be registered at least until next year.

This is when national authorities predict a 7 percent yearly increase in visits to federal and state outdoor recreation areas.

At that rate, there will be a 13-fold increase in tourism by the beginning of the 21st century. Three ways have been proposed to take care of the campers, picnickers and hikers.

The first is adding more acres for recreation. But that costs money and raises other problems.

Another way is to intensify the use of existing facilities. More camping places, picnic areas and sanitary facilities can be added so that large numbers of people can use the parks.

This method takes away some of the wilderness qualities of the areas and can be expected to cut down wildlife populations. The competition for living space—or playing space—between animals and humans has already caused some concern to nature lovers.

The third method is to put limitations on length of stay, charge higher fees, encourage use in less busy seasons of the year and "zone" parks for certain kinds of use by campers and others.

Michigan's method encompasses all three of these.

But it's slow. One bright point is that Michigan has more land and water that can be developed into suitable recreation areas than many states. Numerous areas just on the Great Lakes shorelines have been pegged as good sites for parks.

One site for a future park was all but bagged when the Legislature approved money to buy a surplus Coast Guard station near Tawas City.

VOTING MACHINES HAVE a row of levers that look almost like teeth, and they are gobbling up the "paper ballot precincts" in Michigan like so many peanuts. Secretary of State James M. Hare reports four out of five Michigan voters will cast their ballots on machines this year.

Voting, like other facets of life, is becoming automated. The advantages of using mechanical means for casting ballots are many, however.

Speed and accuracy, both in counting the votes and re-counting them if necessary are two chief ones.

The human fatigue factor never enters in when the voting and counting is done practically automatically. And there is never any doubt about what a person means as was sometimes the case with handmarked paper ballots.

THE DANGER OF spreading rumors was pin-pointed recently by a speaker at Michigan State University.

Capt. Norman J. Schleigh of the Baltimore, Md., police department told a gathering of peace officers rumors, half-truths and outright lies—even when the person telling the story firmly believes he is accurate—are persistent stumbling blocks to law enforcement.

They also make many people's lives miserable.

Schleigh categorized rumors as wishful thinking, fear rumors and hate rumors. He said a way to combat falling victim to rumors was to check all things heard for accuracy, source and credibility.

The Baltimore policeman also offered one piece of advice—not only for law enforcement men but for everybody.

Don't be gullible, he said.

STORM WARNINGS. During blizzards and flooding that marked the beginning of Michigan's spring, a new problem faced those who report road conditions. It involved whether to follow the procedure of marine weather reporters. When things got really rough in the state, should they issue a small car warning?

LIBRARY NEWS
A letter to the class of 1960.
Dear Graduates,

The Pinckney Library extends sincere congratulations. Graduation is not the ending; it is the commencement of what we hope will be a successful, happy and enlightened future for you.

Some of you will leave Pinckney for college or to accept positions in other communities and we wish you well; others who stay may wish you were privileged to continue your education. The Library is the only agent for adult education in the community and will be very glad to serve you in any way. Ask us for the books or information you need and if we do not have it, we will do our best to get it for you. It is your library and we want to make it the kind of library you want. Our aim is to meet the needs of the community for information, educational material and recreational reading.

"Why do so many people save money at the bank?"

People save money, of course, for many different reasons — education, marriage, a home, vacations, business opportunities — but really for the same objective: Greater happiness. People bank their savings dollars because at the bank savings are safe, handy, and earn money for the saver without his having to invest; because at the bank the saver can tend to other financial needs... can find experienced help with money matters of many kinds. Why not start saving for your goal, this week, at our bank?

State Police

Michigan State Police officers made 18,313 arrests in April, including 16,660 for traffic violations and 1,653 on criminal complaints, according to the department's monthly activities report.

In addition, there were 847 arrests of juveniles, 478 for traffic and motor vehicle offenses and 365 on nontraffic complaints. Four wayward minors were apprehended.

Officers made 32, 897 property inspections and 3,610 liquor inspections.

Department vehicles traveled 1,709,685 miles of which 1,023,522 were on patrol.

The identification bureau received 10,851 sets of fingerprints of which 6,548 were criminal and 4,303 noncriminal. Thirty-one wanted persons were identified.

Of 1,507 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons, 134 were identified with criminal records.

At a recently held election on the campus of Olivet College, Donald M. Winger, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Winger, was elected to the office of Student Council treasurer for the 1960-61 school year. Besides his election to the Student Council, Don was reappointed the Director of Athletic Publicity, a position which he has held during his sophomore year at Olivet.

Student's Lot Is Hard and Lonely

The price of an education is loneliness and hard work, says James H. Robertson, associate dean of The University of Michigan's College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

The joy and excitement of education has faded needlessly, Dean Robertson declared at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association meeting at the U of M.

"Education is a two-way street. You must bring something to it," he told the students, pointing out that the best teaching staff in the world can't turn an inert lump into a good student.

He stated six points for becoming a successful happy student:

1. The pleasure you derive from education depends on the responsibility you take for that education.

2. "Learning is an active process. You need to set up a study schedule and stick to it."

3. "Getting the education you want depends on hard decisions. You must avoid the tempting side shows of life. This takes courage."

4. "Education is a lonely business. Bull sessions, for example, are nice, but they are no substitute for the isolated one-to-one relationship between you and your book."

5. "We're all basically lazy; we do only enough to get by. But in order to be a good student you have to be dissatisfied even if you get all A's with little effort. You must demand more of yourself."

6. "The intelligent educated person needs to develop the ability to listen. 'This prescription may seem grim,' Robertson said, 'but there's no royal road to education.'

"Those who are willing to pay the price—and this means loneliness—find they become better members of society."

When students have learned something, they will have something to say, he continued. And they will have the satisfaction of finding that their knowledge is being used.

"You can get by with less, but you'll be half used, half happy and half educated," he concluded.

Beauty Queen Entries Still Open

Miss Metropolitan Beach of 1960 will be awarded a beauty scholarship worth $300 from the American Beauty Finishing School of Detroit when the contest takes place at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens at 3 p.m. on Sunday, June 19.

Deadline for entries in the contest is Wednesday, June 8. The event is open to girls at least 17 years of age, who have never been married, and are a resident of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw or Wayne county. Entry blanks may be obtained by writing to Metropolitan Beach, Box 217, Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

The event is co-sponsored by the American Beauty Finishing School of Detroit and Metropolitan Beach.

Mrs. Claire Elias, director of the beauty school, stated that this award entitles the Beauty Queen to 50-hours of free instruction in basic self improvement and that the four contestants selected as members of the royal court will each be provided with a scholarship worth $175.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Huffman of Silver Lake were feted by their friends and neighbors on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. They were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hachey who surprised them by asking twenty more guests to a party in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eichman and daughters attended the Detroit Tigers-Cleveland baseball game in Detroit Friday night.

Mrs. P. W. Curlett and daughter, Paula, Mrs. Olin Robinson and Mrs. Joseph Griffiths attended the initiation services for the former's niece, Mrs. Jack Follick, at the Tyrian Chapter No. 469, O.E.S. on Wednesday evening in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gannon and family, of Kokomo, Indiana, were Memorial week end guests at the John Lundin home.

Overloading Results in Large Fine For Truck Carrying Grass Sod

When the State of Michigan weightmaster stopped a semi-trailer truck carrying rolls of sod for the Dearborn Sodding Company in Pinckney last Thursday afternoon he found it to be considerably overloaded. In fact, his check showed three of the axles overloaded by 15,200 pounds.

The truck owned by Katherine Daymon, 28085 Rosewood Drive, Inkster, was driven by Robert R. Shoffer, 33164 Kathryn, Garden City, who appeared before Justice Otto Poulson. Fines of $1434.00 and $4.00 court costs were assessed. The truck was detained in the drive way south of the Gulf Oil Station and it will remain there until the fine is paid. Saturday morning the sod was transferred to other trucks and removed.

The Dearborn concern has hundreds of acres of sod under cultivation in Belleville and at 7450 Weller Road, Gregory.

An employee of the company informs that it takes about eight months to raise grass to the time it is cut to sell for sodding.

Hare Urges Political Candidates Not To Post Notices on Trees

Secretary of State James M. Hare, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has urged his enthusiasts to help keep Michigan beautiful by not tacking his political notices on trees.

"Tourists, vacationers and nature lovers want to see our trees, not political signs," Hare said.

"Nothing in politics," he added, "annoys those of us interested in keeping Michigan beautiful as much as the custom of nailing or tacking political placards and posters on trees."

Hare said he is writing to enthusiasts in Hare for Governor clubs, and other supporters in all 83 counties, to request that they refrain from putting his placards or posters on any tree, regardless of its being on public or private property.

"All who love Michigan want to make our Great Lakes state a more desirable place in which to live, work and play should band together to stop this campaign custom," he asserted.

Hare said he hoped all candidates in Michigan — regardless of the office they seek — would join him in eliminating the practice.

Callers at the Ben White home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bidwell and daughter, Janie, and Mrs. Beas Devereaux, all of Brighton, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and Nadij, of Howell and the Norman Whites.

The Ben Whites called on Mrs. Ellen Newman and Mrs. Joe Forner in Ann Arbor one day last week and since have learned that Mrs. Newman is now a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Herman Vedder entered McPherson Health Center Tuesday planning to undergo surgery later this week.

David Burns of Los Angeles, California, is home for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burns. He will leave Pinckney for Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, for a two week training period with the enlisted reserves before returning to California.

Dave is a recent graduate of a barber college and will assume a position in the Coliseum Hotel.

Weekend guests at the Ray Burns home were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman of Ann Arbor.

The Jack Youngs family and the Robert Darrows were also guests.

Patio Plan Book Available at MSC

More outdoor living coupled with the "do-it-yourself" fad has brought about more homemade patios each year.

Two thirds of the patios built today are done by the homeowner himself, estimates Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University.

Cox says that although most homemade patios are an attempt to save money, they are not always cheaper than those done with professional help.

Important factor to consider when planning a patio are drainage, materials to be used, design layout, proportions of steps and walls, and use of space.

Inadequate drainage causes almost 90 per cent of patio damage, warns Cox. Moisture that gets under patio slabs, heating and cooling of the sun, heaving and settling action of the frost and other destructive natural forces must all be taken into account.

Patio materials commonly used include asphalt, brick, concrete, flagstone, aggregates, tile and wood. Consider cost, availability and desired appearance in making a choice.

Good planning will show up in more interesting and practical design layouts, comfortable and safe proportions of steps and walls and the best use of the available space.

Professional help in planning a patio is available from qualified landscape architects. Additional information may be obtained from the Michigan State University extension bulletin, Landscape Paving for Home Grounds. County cooperative extension offices can supply a copy of this bulletin.

A patio does not have to be large to be useful, Cox says. Proper analysis of available space and the existing features of home and property will make your patio an interesting and important addition to summer living.

Also, it costs no more to do the job in an attractive and practical way than to do it in a crude and wasteful manner.

SUMMER MEDLEY SALAD

2 c drained cooked or canned kidney beans, 1/3 c tart French dressing, 1 small onion sliced in rings, 1/3 c chopped celery, 1/4 c chopped sweet pickles, salt and pepper to taste.

Mix beans and dressing; chill an hour or more. Turn beans in the dressing occasionally so they absorb the flavor. Just before serving, add rest of ingredients. Mix lightly. Season to taste. Serve in lettuce cups, garnished with slices of hard-cooked egg.

TIPS ON CONTROL OF ROSE POWDERY MILDEW

One of the few plant diseases that can be cured after infection has set in is powdery mildew of roses.

This disease, common to roses both greenhouses and out-of-doors, affects all popular varieties. Although rose types and varieties vary in susceptibility, certain climbers are very sensitive.

Powdery mildew affects leaves and young shoots most often. They become covered with the white, powdery fungus growth.

Infection may cause the leaves and shoots to become twisted and distorted, and they may later turn red or yellow. Severe attacks could kill the growing tip, keep buds from opening, or cause leaves to drop prematurely.

This disease, which is easily distinguishable by its felty fungus covering, affects only roses. Mildew diseases of other plants do not spread to roses.

The fungus causing mildew on roses is spread by tiny spores which are carried by the wind to other leaves and plants. It is different from most other common disease-causing fungus organisms because it grows on the surface rather than inside the host plant.

Michigan State University plant pathologists recommend sulfur as the standard fungicide for mildew control. It can be used as a dust or spray, although the latter is more effective.

Mildex (Carathane) can also be used with success as well as a new antibiotic, Acti-dione P.M., in combination with Maneb. Acti-dione P.M., one of the few antibiotics effective against fungi, should be used only according to manufacturers' recommendations, warn pathologists.

Spraying or dusting should be started early in the season and continued as long as plants make new growth.

If mildew alone is the problem, applications at intervals of 10 days or two weeks are enough. When black spot is present, more frequent treatments usually are needed.

Plant pathologists point out the

VA Cautions Vets on Proper Mailing

In the past five years, the Veterans Administration estimated today, that it had put out at least a dozen releases advising Michigan veterans to write only their VA regional office when checks are late or wrong; when changing address and the like.

But every month, several hundred veterans persist in addressing such letters to the Treasury Department's Disbursing Office.

Now, they have a new wrinkle, according to Gene A. Robens, manager of VA's Regional Office in Detroit. They are sending their letters to the VA Automated Data Processing Center at Hines, Illinois.

Mr. Robens explained that letters addressed to the Disbursing Office, to the ADP Center, and even to Washington, are simply readdressed to the Detroit Regional Office for processing. Naturally, there is a delay, he adds.

Tablecloths spend a lot of time in the laundry and one with even, firmly-twisted yarns in a close weave can "take it." Home economists at Michigan State University suggest you also look for a colorfast label on colored tablecloths.

importance of covering both surfaces of infected leaves or leaves maybe have been exposed to infection.

For more detailed information, an illustrated bulletin, Powdery Mildew of Roses, has recently been revised. It is available now from county cooperative extension service offices or the Extension Bulletin office of Michigan State University.

Postmaster Urges Vacationers to Plan Proper Mail Arrangements

It won't be long until the kids are out of school. And it won't be much longer till their parents starts off across the country in all directions.

Postmaster Lawrence Baughn has these bits of special advice for those who want their vacations to be pleasant as possible:

1. Don't let a stuffed mail box advertise your absence. Ask a neighbor to take the mail from your box and hold it until you return, or make written request to your postmaster to hold your mail at the post office while you are away.

2. File a forwarding order at the local post office if you want to receive mail while you're away. Forwarding first-class mail does not require additional postage. Other classes of mail will need more postage, but you can guarantee payment of this postage by so indicating on the forwarding order which you fill out.

3. Use enough postage. Remember that regular size post cards take 3 cents, jumbo size take 4 cents and first-class letters take 4 cents an ounce. Post cards with appendages—bags of salt, bags of ore, national park mementos—require the first-class rate of postage.

4. Don't send cash in letters. Use postal orders to transmit money, and register letters containing other valuable items.

5. Prepare package carefully, and address them on one side only.

6. Buy books of stamps for convenience and for protection against body moisture which develops on long drives in hot weather.

"If people don't make proper arrangements for their mail, an otherwise pleasant vacation can be a mighty frustrating experience," says Postmaster Baughn. The careless preparation or handling of vacation mail can easily result in the traveler's having fewer friends when he returns than he had when he left."

13 Courses Are Available to Area Residents

Thirteen courses are being offered this summer to south-central Michigan residents by Michigan State University at Hartland-Waldenwoods, Battle Creek and Jackson.

Credit courses in education and psychology are open to qualified students.

First of the courses will begin June 20, with the last class slated to start August 1. Morning and evening courses will be offered.

Interested adults are invited to enroll at the first class sessions.

Classes and their dates are: Hartland-Waldenwoods, August 1-12—Practicum-Child Development Laboratory; Battle Creek, June 20-July 13—Counselor Training-Retailing and Business, Counselor Training-Industrial Experiences.

Jackson, June 20 - July 1—Driver Education and Traffic Safety; June 20 - July 15—Elementary School Curriculum, Special Methods and Materials of Teaching Social Studies; June 20 - July 22—Problems in Education-Parent-Teacher Conferences, Guidance and Personnel Services, Educational Administration in the United States, Mental Hygiene of School Children, Learning Theory in the Classroom, Psychology of Human Relations; July 18 - 29—Workshop in Creative Expression for Elementary School Children.

Additional course information can be obtained from Elmer Anttonen, 15 Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, or from local school officials.

Mrs. Meyer and her husband attended a Bon Voyage banquet at Hillside Inn, Plymouth, last Thursday evening.

We all enjoyed our combined roller skating and picnicking party Wednesday, May 25 at Island Lake.

We also celebrated a farewell party Friday, May 27, pop and potato chips were served. We had a mixed baseball game afterward.

Karon King will leave for her trip up north Sunday and will return Monday night.
