State Police Warn Holiday Drivers

The grim average of one traffic death every three hours and 13 minutes in the last seven July Fourth holidays observances in Michigan has brought a warning from the State Police to drive with extra care during the coming 78-hour weekend.

"The State Police will again operate increased traffic safety patrols with the help of the National Guard, but in the final analysis, it is the responsibility of the motorist to drive so that he will not become involved in an accident or endanger himself or other drivers," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Pass days for the State Police will be canceled and all available personnel used on desk or patrol duty. Patrol shifts will be increased to 10 hours and enforcement intensity from noon Friday July 1 through midnight Monday July 4 will be focused on high accident areas with patrol coverage shifting as changing traffic patterns require.

State Police will be assisted by 104 Guard members as secondmen on two-man patrols or on point control. Another 96 members will aid sheriffs and one municipal police department.

The July Fourth period is the second worst holiday of the year for traffic deaths, according to the State Police analysis of Michigan accident statistics for the seven years of 1953-59. Christmas leads with one death every 2 hours and 37 minutes.

The death rate for the combined holiday periods of Memorial Day, July Fourth, Labor Day, Christmas and New Year's in the seven years is one every three hours and 32 minutes. With the exception of the holiday periods the average has been one every five hours and 17 minutes.

In the 54-hour July Fourth holiday last year 18 met death or one every three hours, a rate higher than the seven-year holiday average.

The Vacation Bible school at the Community Congregational Church will come to a close at 11:30 Friday morning and special closing exercises will be held at Pilgrim Hall at 7:30 Friday night. Parents and friends are invited to attend this program.

Stockbridge Group To Be in Pinckney Next Tuesday Night

A caravan from Stockbridge will visit Pinckney next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock with a preview of that community's 125th anniversary program which will be celebrated there in August. They will present a program of music featuring the Price Brothers, the barber shop quartette, Belle's, instrumental acts and group singing to be followed by a street dance. There will be both Michigan and Western square dancing. Pinckneyites are invited to join the fun, Tuesday evening, July 5.

Cub Scout Swim Program Offers Instructions

The Cub Scout swimming program starts next week Tuesday, July 5, at 2 p.m. at Fox Point Beach. A Red Cross instructor will be in charge of the class. All Scouts may attend free of charge. Meet at the home of Mrs. Len Davis. In case of bad weather call HA 6-2350 for a new date.

Milk Program Extended to Summer Camps

When the Nation's youngsters make their annual June transition from school to summer camp, a very important part of their diet can go right along with them through the provisions of the Federal Special Milk program.

School children throughout the country have become accustomed to drinking more milk under the Special Milk Program, which is designed to increase milk consumption by reimbursing schools and institutions for part of the cost of additional milk served, and making it possible to lower the price to youngsters.

Camps include about all types of organized activity conducted for children, including nonprofit camps operated by boys' and girls' clubs, civic or church groups, Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, and so on.

LARGEST FIREWORKS DISPLAY SLATED FOR FREEDOM FETE

One of the nation's largest fireworks displays of 1960 will thunder into the sky on Saturday, July 2 as the highlights of the second annual International Freedom Festival.

Sponsored by the J. L. Hudson Company, the all-aerial display will be staged from 9:15 until 10 p.m. from four barges located in the Detroit River midway between Detroit and Windsor.

Last year's event, according to police and newspaper estimates, attracted more than a half million persons.

Four barges will be used, with simultaneous firing from three of the barges during several sequences in the display. The fourth barge will contain only the grand finale, in which more than 1,000 shells will be fired.

Yacht Club Race Held On Sunday

The Beeline, owned by the Len Davis family of Fox Point, won first place in the rebel class in the sailing races on Portage Lake Sunday. Six boats competed in this class of the opening meet of the Huron-Portage Yacht club. John, Gary and Lee, three of the Davis' four sons, formed the crew of the winning boat. In second place in this class was the "Stardust" owned by Dr. Barlett of Detroit; the boat owned by Jack Schafer of Ypsilanti was third.

In the Flying Scot class the boat of Paul Eaman of Ypsilanti took first place.

Swimming Rules Will Cut Drowning Toll

An estimated 7,000 people will drown this year in the United States, some 300 of them in Michigan alone.

Most of the individuals who become part of these dismal statistics will do so because they fail to observe 10 simple rules for swimming, reminds Edward J. Slezak, supervisor of aquatics in men's physical education at The University of Michigan.

To live longer while enjoying the popular sport of swimming, says Slezak, everybody should:

- 1) Learn to swim.
- 2) Never swim alone.
- 3) Refrain from swimming too soon after meals.
- 4) Enter the water gradually.
- 5) Insist on lifeguard protection whenever possible.
- 6) Value the protection of others, and never call for help unless needed.
- 7) Listen to instructions.
- 8) Observe all beach and pool rules and regulations.
- 9) Have a boat and two good swimmers escort long swims.
- 10) Enjoy the sun, but avoid sunstroke.

Water sports highlight Michigan's July-August vacation travel calendar just released by the state tourist council.

Heading the list of 114 special events on the calendar are water carnivals, water ski tournaments, and races for sailboats, powerboats and canoes. Copies of the events calendar are available from Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

Some workers have lots of "get-up-and-go" when it's time to get up and go home. Yes, sir, they're the ones who get "fired with enthusiasm."

Application for Wheat

Any Farmer in Livingston County who does not have a wheat allotment for his farm and wants an allotment for 1961 should make application by July 1. Such an application must be filed in writing, according to Clyde Yelland, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The law under which acreage allotments are authorized provides that not more than three percent of the county wheat allotment may be used for allotments to "new wheat farms."

The formal application for a "new" farm wheat allotment must be made in writing on a form provided for that purpose and filed at the County ASC office not later than July 1. Employees in the Co. ASC office will assist those desiring to file application.

Farms that have not had a wheat allotment for the past 3 years are considered as "new wheat farms" under the wheat allotment-marketing quota program.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Raetz of White Lodge entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Raetz and family of Detroit.

Mrs. Dessa Nash who has been spending the winter at Fort Meyer, Florida, is visiting now in Chicago at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnstone. She is expected to spend some time here at the Mark Nash home later this summer.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

The department's State Plan, which determines how much federal money Michigan will get for hospital construction and where it will be spent, shows 34,011 beds are needed to serve the present population.

There are 25,661 beds in fire-resistant structures available or under construction.

Some 4,133 of these are considered unacceptable for longrange planning; 1,660 of them are under construction and 1,029 of them will be a net addition to the state's bed supply in the near future.

There were 1,050 beds added to facilities existing in Michigan during 1959.

"The State Plan indicates that special consideration for assistance from federal funds will be given to general hospital projects which include a psychiatric unit or which will result in a coordinated program of care for the chronically ill," the department said.

Forty-three of Michigan's 83 counties presently have either no facilities for skilled nursing home care, or none in fire-resistant structures.

A 300-bed state-operated psychiatric center and special units for disturbed children are also high on the priority list for federal funds.

MOTHERHOOD IN MICHIGAN can expect a vote of confidence in the near future.

The State Civil Service Commission has backed approval of a plan that would make it easier for state employes to get their jobs back after having a baby or adopting one.

Under the old rule, a worker who became a mother lost her re-employment rights after three years if no job opened up for her after taking a maternity leave.

The liberalized rule would permit a mother to remain on the lay-off list indefinitely if she notified Civil Service within two years of separation that she intended to come back to work.

She would also be able to take a job, comparable to the one she left, in any other state department.

Martin Ritter, Jr., Ritter TV Service, 125 Webster, Pinckney, Michigan has been certified as a qualified technician under a nationwide program to benefit the radio-television owning public, Wedemeyer Electr., 215 Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor, Michigan announced Saturday.

Martin Ritter, Jr. is a charter member of the program.

Custodians and legal guardians of minor children receiving death pension from the Veterans Administration probably would be wise to elect pension under the new pension law effective July 1, 1960, Gene A. Robens, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Detroit, pointed out today.

The new law raises the income limit for children from $1,400 to $1,800 a year, and earned income of the child is not included under the new law as it is under the old program, Mr. Robens said.

Pension rates are higher for children under the new law. A child currently receiving $27.50 can receive $35 a month after July 1. Two children each receiving $20.45 per month under the old law, may each receive $25 a month under the new law, provided the custodian of each child elects the new law. The new law does have a net worth test, but the VA will not accept an election of the new law if the net worth of the child would bar payments.

SCHOOLS OUT

School's out, but it will be starting again in three months.

If you are a parent of a child who will be trudging off to school for the first time this September, you've got a task to take care of, and the sooner it is done the better. This task involves taking your prospective kindergartner to the doctor and having him immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, polio, tetanus, and whooping cough, if the child hasn't already had these protective shots.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, urges parents to act now. "If you wait until school is ready to open, you not only will tax your doctor to the limit with crowded offices of parents and pre-schoolers waiting for examinations and immunization, but it may also tax your patience at a time when there are many things to be done to get the children ready for school."

These protective immunizations are required under a law passed by the Michigan legislature in April. The law states in part:

"All children enrolling in any public, private, parochial or denominational school for the first time, shall submit a statement signed by a physician that they have been immunized against these diseases; a statement signed by one parent or guardian to the effect that the child has not been immunized because of religious convictions or other objection, or a request signed by one parent or guardian that the health department give the injections."

Most health departments have immunization schedules. Check with one in your area and plan to take the children in during the summer. "Don't wait until a few days before school or you're very apt to run into a line as long or longer than the usual automobile license deadline," Doctor Heustis pointed out.

If your preschool child has already had the necessary immunizations, all that will be needed is his physical examination and a statement from the doctor that he has been immunized as required.

Census Seeks Facts On How People Gain Employment

Information on how people get jobs will be obtained from special questions to be asked in the June Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Regional Director John E. Tharaldson of the Census Bureau's Field Office at Detroit.

The special questions will determine whether persons have obtained jobs through government employment offices, private employment agencies, labor organizations, school placement offices, help-wanted advertisements, and the like. The information on how people obtain jobs will be used by the Bureau of Employment Security of the U. S. Department of Labor in developing plans for increasing the efficiency of operations in government employment offices.

Information on widows of armed forces veterans will be collected for the Veterans Administration in the June Survey. Questions to be asked will cover wars in which the deceased husband served, whether or not the widow is receiving widows' benefits on a regular basis from the Veterans Administration, how long she has been widowed and the number of children she has.

These special questions will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey which is conducted here and in 329 other sections of the country by the Census Bureau. Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of June 20 by duly accredited interviewers.

If livestock are used to market crops and labor, farmers can use up to 10 per cent of their income to provide modern building improvements, say agricultural engineers at Michigan State University.

"THE AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE, COMMON SENSE, AND THE AMERICAN DOLLAR"
By PAUL D. ADAMS
State Attorney General

The American housewife, with her shrewdness and common sense protects the family purse from the frauds and sharpies who are after an "easy buck".

Women from all areas of the state have contacted the Attorney General's office to express interest in my consumer's protection program and to ask how to protect their families from frauds.

Although there are many different techniques used to bilk the public, these are some general rules to keep in mind:

—Whenever possible, shop with local merchants, comparing prices and quality of products.

—If you do purchase from door to door salesmen, demand identification when they claim to represent a national concern.

—Ask salesmen to call back, and in the meantime check with the Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau as to the reputation of their firms. Also, use this time to compare prices with local merchants.

—Before you sign anything, make sure what, if any, interest or carrying charges are added to the bill, and have this spelled out on your contract and note.

—Request and save receipts for your purchase.

—When in doubt about a transaction, check with your lawyer.

These are general hints which should be of some value. But remember, there is one invaluable asset which must be used to the fullest — the common sense of the American housewife.

Pre-school-age deaths on farm tractors have outnumbered fatalities in the 30-34 age bracket three to one since 1950, reports a Michigan State University farm safety specialist.

The recent earthquakes in Chile have taken thousands of lives and the loss of property will run into the millions of dollars. Thousands of families are without clothing and home, having lost everything. It is winter now below the equator, which poses a greater problem for the relief workers. You can help by donating to the Chilean Relief Fund. The American National Red Cross requests you send your donation to the local Red Cross chapter, Chas. H. Sutton, treasurer, 738 W. Grand River, Howell.

The local Selective Service board reports that its July quota of one has been filled by a volunteer, William Frederick Rush of Lakeland.

NEIGHBORING NOTES

The Fowlerville Agricultural Society has announced July 26-31 as the dates for the 74th annual Fowlerville Fair.

Safecrackers, described by investigating officers as "professional", robbed the Stop and Shop Supermarket at Chelsea last weekend of $3,500, most of it in cash.

The J. K. McLeod Memorial Plaque was awarded to the Dexter Kiwanis Club last week as that organization had the largest percentage of its membership giving blood at the PTA sponsored Blood Bank Clinic. The plaque will be retained by the club for a year. It will move on each year to the organization with the most donors.

Brighton will have a new doctor about July 1, when Dr. Luke Sheng will take over the practice originally started by Dr. Robert Rogers. Dr. Sheng is a native of China and carried on a practice in the Orient before coming to the United States in 1956. His wife is also an M. D. who plans to practice "sometime in the future".

The chapel built about 21 years ago for the youths of Henry Ford's Camp Legion, was moved from its Detroit location to Brighton last week. A gift from the Ford Motor Company to the Brighton Hospital, it will serve as a place of worship for the patients at the hospital. The Brighton Hospital Foundation is a non-profit organization for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

If an automobile comes up behind you and wants to pass, 'Keep to the Right'. The woods are full of automobiles these days. As yet few farmers here have purchased machines but hundreds of farmers everywhere are looking into the matter and in the next five years will be driving machines. Soon there will be hundreds of cars in use. Remember, Keep to the Right".

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Gayle Oliver Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Choose dishes with food in mind. Home economists at Michigan State University note that steak looks appetizing on dishes of brown, green or yellow, but pink and light blue may blend better with the dessert course. They add that white seems to go with all foods.

Michigan park users will not be required to have entrance stickers for their vehicles this year, the Conservation Commission ruled during its June 9 meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation school. The state's new parks permit law, calling for an annual $2.00 and daily 50-cent sticker fees to retire a bond issue which will finance parks improvements and land acquisition, goes into effect August 17.

However, the Commission felt it would be unfair to charge fees at this late point in the parks season. No date was set as to when the sticker requirement would begin in 1961.

Conservation Notes

With one minor exception, Conservation Department officials are recommending that hunting and trapping regulations for Michigan's 1960-61 small game, bear and fur bearer seasons remain the same as last year.

Their recommendations, based on post-season opinion polls, spring population counts and a post card survey measuring hunter take last season, will go before the Conservation Commission during its July 6-7 meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation school.

Proposed regulations covering this fall's deer and waterfowl seasons are being prepared but will not be up for Commission action next month. The Commission will act on deer hunting regulations during its August meeting and will set those governing the waterfowl season later that month, following federal recommendations.

In the only change affecting other hunting, Department game men are recommending that the closed season for prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse be lifted on Drummond, Neebish and Sugar Islands and in a portion of Chippewa County.

A general decline overshadowed two bright spots in Michigan's 1959 hunting and fishing license sales and dropped total revenue from these sources to an estimated $7,418,000, some $357,000 below the figure for the year before.

Firearm deer license sales jumped to an all-time high of 472,465 while archery deer licenses neared their 1956 record mark. However fishing license sales continued their nose dive dating from 1954 and small game licenses plunged after making a modest recovery in 1958. Hunting license sales brought in $4,705,000 while fishing license receipts totaled $2,713,000.

Resident fishing license sales skidded from 854,775 in 1958 to 757,250. Trout stamp sales slumped to about 192,000 some 15,000 under the 1958 level. Temporary and annual nonresident licenses dipped slightly, totaling 94,400 and 115,700, respectively.

Only 634,000 residents small game licenses were sold, roughly 64,000 less than in 1958. Nonresident small game licenses were down from 5,500 the year before to 4,500. Archery deer license sales rose to 40,800, approximately 1,500 below the record. Resident archers bought 36,800 licenses while out-of-state bowmen purchased 4,000.

More Michigan state parks will feature park libraries for summer campers this year than any other time since the program began 12 years ago, Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, state librarian, announced following shipment of some 8,000 books to 37 state parks throughout the state.

The unique public service program is sponsored jointly by the State Library and the Michigan Conservation department.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; revenging one makes you but even with him; forgiving one sets you above him."

Popularity of the service has resulted in yearly increases in the number of camps participating. Last year there were 32 parks in the program. Just five years ago, there were only 19. Reports from park managers show clearly that the service is not just a rainy day pastime. The average park library has about 250 books.

The Pinckney Recreation Area is one of the new ones on the Library's list. Books are available at the office of the park manager, at Area Headquarters.

Michigan Bell Announces New Directories

Michigan Bell Telephone Company will begin delivery of its 1960 telephone directory in five local communities Friday, July 6, announced Russell H. Engelhardt, manager here for the company.

The communities receiving the new directory, and the quantities to be delivered, are Brighton, 5,200; Fowlerville, 1,850; Hartland, 600; Howell, 6,500, and Pinckney, 1,300.

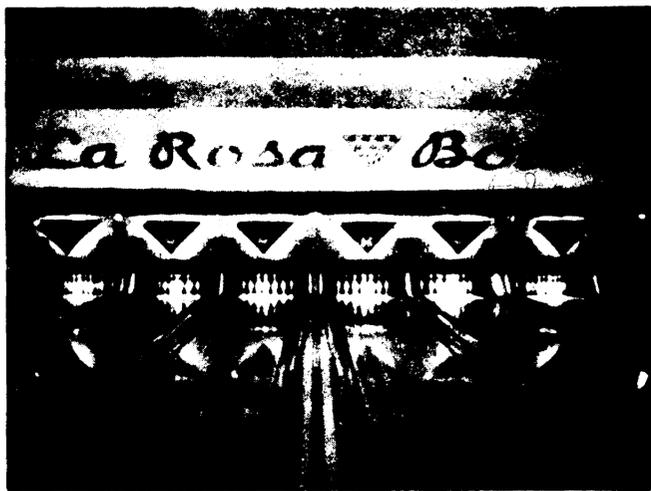

This is an overall increase of 800 for the five communities.

"The new directory is the one which should be used when looking up a telephone number, because it reflects the additions and changes which have occurred in telephone listings and numbers since the last directory was issued," Engelhardt said.

He added that when the new directory arrives, the old one should be discarded.

"It is desirable to get the old directories, with their obsolete information, out of circulation as soon as possible," he explained. "But, before doing so, the old books should be checked in case valuable papers might have been placed in them."

He added that local directories also contain separate listings of neighboring communities.

Fully automatic pinsetters were installed in the six-lane LaRosa Bowl this week. The equipment, weighing about seven tons arrived Monday morning with a crew of men who expected to complete installation by mid-week. The new pin-setters make it possible for the bowling lanes to be open at all times. Owner, Vincent LaRosa, recently attended a training school session in Indiana, in the use of the new equipment.

The Gregory congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been invited to attend a four-day Christian assembly in Detroit, Michigan, July 28-31, it was announced last night.

Warner Miller, presiding minister of the Gregory congregation in discussing preliminary plans for the local group to attend stated that approximately 25 delegates from the local congregation will attend the Detroit convention.

First education of women in the U. S. was in the "Dames Schools" where they were taught to read and sew, but not always to write.

Time to Check Farm Grain Storage

With grain harvest on the way, farmers can take a few precautions to insure good storage for the new wheat crop.

Ray Janes, entomologist at Michigan State University, offers some tips to get ready for the combining season and avoid trouble from pesky insects.

Janes suggests that grain should be stored in insect-free granaries, and have less than 14 percent moisture. Mixing a "wheat protectant" with the wheat as it is stored and fumigating the bins six weeks after harvest can also stop insect contamination.

Clean the granary now, Janes advises. He suggests use of methoxychlor or a pyrethrum-piperonyl butoxide mixture to spray floor, walls and ceiling. This should be done at least two weeks ahead of harvest. After treatment the granary should be left undisturbed, then thoroughly swept out to remove all traces of the insecticides and the dead "bugs".

Extension Folder 134, "Prevent Damage to Stored Wheat" is available from county extension offices giving full directions on getting ready for storing the new wheat crop.
