MICHIGAN MIRROR

Some summer breezes will soon be loaded with sneezes for hay fever sufferers.

The southern half of the lower peninsula is considered to be almost totally a high pollen-count area. Ragweed pollen causes the discomfort, and for the several years that regular checks were made, the pollen count changed very little.

This means that hay fever tends to remain with us as communities grow.

Coldwater in Branch county was known as the hay fever capital of the United States in 1958. It had a pollen count of 190—highest average registered anywhere.

But several other Michigan areas were not far behind and there is no indication that the pesky pollen from ragweed has let up any.

What the Michigan Health Department gaily calls the "sneezin season" reaches a peak between the middle of August and the middle of September. Some sufferers begin to feel the telltale tickling in the nose about July, however.

Of course pollen isn't the only villain in the picture, but it's by far the most active and the most prevalent.

Some 15 species of ragweed produce most of the discomfort, but tumbleweed, firebush, sage, hemp and pigweed are also suspect. The some people get the itchy eyes, runny nose and other discomforts from mayflies, caddis flies, mushroom flies, animal fur or feathers.

This year, as every year, the Health Department is making a plea to landowners and municipal authorities to cut down as much ragweed as possible.

This year, as in other years, people will suffer because the villainous weeds can't all be disposed of.

For those who can, going north is still one of the best ways to avoid hay fever. Northern Michigan is practically pollen-free. Shots or other remedial symptom relievers are also available.

But for countless thousands, the only outlook is suffering until fall frosts take the pollen out of the air.

And the sufferers in Southern Michigan can almost take a perverse pride in being real veterans of the hay fever wars.

Besides a raft of new names, ballots used in the Nov. 8 general election in Michigan this year will have a slightly different appearance. But the voter will have to look closely to spot it.

The Republican party has announced its vignette—the little picture labeling its candidates—will have a 50-star flag this year.

Democrats made no immediate plans to follow their rivals in changing the vignette to take into consideration the fact that Hawaii and Alaska are now part of the United States.

Published Every Thursday by
L. W. DOYLE and C. M. LAVEY
Owners and Publishers
ELIZABETH A. COLONE, Editor

Entered at the Pinckney, Michigan, Post Office for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

The columns of this paper are an open forum where available space, grammatical, legal and ethical considerations are the only restrictions.

Subscription rates, $2.00 per year in advance in Michigan; $2.50 in other states and U. S. possessions; $4.00 to foreign countries. Six months rates: $1.50 in Michigan; $1.75 in other states and U. S. possessions; $3.00 to foreign countries. Military personnel $2.50 per year. No mail subscriptions taken for less than six months. Advertising rates upon application.

The flag which forms the background for pictures of Abraham Lincoln and Dwight D. Eisenhower on the GOP sections of the ballot will have the extra two stars.

Republican ballots for the Aug. 2 primary election will also have the new look.

For the primary, the Democratic vignette has a picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. G. Mennen Williams—backed by a 48-star flag. The party will probably change the vignette to include 50 stars before September 20.

That's the deadline for setting the wording of local propositions which will be on the ballot and if a change were in the hands of county clerks by that time, it could probably be made with little difficulty.

One - horse towns and one-teacher schools are a part of the Michigan scene which may never completely pass out of existence.

But the number of one-teacher schools—defined by the Michigan Education Association as a public elementary school with only one teacher, located in a rural or urban area, including one or more rooms and comprising one or more grades—has been whittled down.

The MEA said there were 7,206 one-teacher schools in 1918, but only 1,291 by the 1958-59 school year.

Nationally nearly 400,000 children attended one-teacher schools last year. This is about 1.1 per cent of all children enrolled in public schools and 1.6 per cent of all public school children in grades one through eight.

By comparison, about a quarter of all school children attended a one-teacher school in 1918.

More than 84 per cent of the teachers in the one-teacher schools said they would choose the same working conditions again if given a choice. About 83 per cent of them had less than four years of college.

The average salary for a Michigan teacher in a one-teacher school was $3,649 a year in 1958-59, compared with $5,504, which is the average salary for all Michigan public school teachers in the same period, the MEA said.

Plans Set For State Farm Tour

Plans are complete for the annual State Farm Management Tour in Jackson County on August 3. Tour coordinator M. P. "Mike" Kelsey of Michigan State University reports two Jackson County farms will be host to nearly 2,000 visitors for the 1960 field day.

Lyle Cunningham's steer feeding operation near Concord will be the morning stop. Following a chicken barbecue at the Tompkins Grange Hall, the tour will move to the Carlton Prine and Sons farm near Springport. The Prine's 90 cow dairy herd is the center of a 500 acre farm business.

Both farms are west of Jackson near main Michigan Highways. Cunningham's modern beef plant is on Little Rd. just off M-60. The Prine farm is about ten miles north, near M-50. Tour signs will be posted to guide traffic into the area. The barbecue and noon program will be held in Tompkins just off the tour route on M-50.

At the Cunningham farm, visitors will see 350 steers fed with mechanical feed handling equipment and a minimum of labor. More than 250 of the farm's 345 tillable acres are in corn to provide feed for the beefy appetites. Minimum tillage and chemical weed control are used on much of the large corn acreage. About half the crop goes into two large silos and the rest is stored as high-moisture grain.

Alfalfa is the chief crop for the Prime dairy herd. Top-quality roughage is the key for high production which will average over 300,000 pounds of milk per man. Silage is fed in a mechanical bunk from two 20 x 50 silos. Visitors will see how building costs can be held to a minimum by use of farm labor. The Prines did most of the work on a new pole barn, milking parlor and the silage bunk.

Specialists from Michigan State University will be on hand to answer management and production questions on both farms. Ladies on the tour will be able to see the new, electrically heated Prine farm home. "It will be an interesting day," tour director Kelsey observes, "and tour-attenders should be able to take home many ideas they can put to work."

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

If You're Married to a Daniel Boone... Relax!

"D. Boone called a BAR on this tree year 1760."

What if Daniel Boone couldn't spell when he carved those words on a tree in Tennessee? He could sure shoot. To him, hunting wasn't a sport. It was an occupation.

If your husband's a modern Daniel Boone, it might be a good idea for you to learn to shoot, too.

You don't have to "cill a BAR" to join the fun. A clay pigeon at your local trap and skeet club will do.

Of course, the first thing you need is a gun... and some good instruction. You'll enjoy learning to shoot from the very first. Next you'll want some of the exciting new trap and skeet shooting clothes. They're gay, colorful and comfortable, and you'll feel as attractive as you look. You'll love the roomy pockets where you can keep your powder dry... and your lipstick, rouge, powder puff and paper tissues dry, too.

Clothes don't make the sharpshooter, I'll admit. But an eye-catching outfit never caused a woman to miss a target. The same thing, fortunately, can't be said of a man. Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition!

PREPARE 4-H BUILDING FOR FAIR

The kitchen committee of the 4-H Council will work on Friday, July 22 starting at nine A.M. to prepare the kitchen for use during the fair. The entire 4-H Council will meet at the fairgrounds on Monday evening July 25 to set up the exhibit spaces in the 4-H building.

Just recently an asphalt tile floor has been put in the 4-H building, by a group headed up by Ted Dey of Fowlerville. An addition to the wash rack was made last week to make the total concrete washing area 20 feet by 40 feet. Concrete was donated by the D & J Gravel Company.

Gureny Beach, Ron Perry and Dennis Clark returned Friday from a five-day vacation up North. They visited the shrine at Indian River and the Tahquamenon Falls among other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clark have announced the birth of their fifth son, Charles Francis, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, on July 13.

Mr. and Mrs. George Monaghan and family of Battle Creek were Tuesday visitors at the home of Mrs. Charles Clark.

Swallowing your pride will never give you indigestion.

VETERANS

Veterans 65 and older will find procedures to establish disability for pension purposes much simpler under new Veterans Administration regulations announced this week.

Gene A. Robens, Manager of VA's Regional Office in Detroit, said today that VA is no longer required to examine veterans 65 and older who submit adequate medical statements from private physicians.

Even in cases of younger veterans who are bed-bound or unable to travel because of serious illness, VA may now rate the claim on the basis of a private physician's statement if it is sufficiently complete and conforms to accepted medical procedures with necessary X-ray and laboratory reports.

To be eligible for this non-service connected pension, a veteran must have the required wartime service, and must be totally and permanently disabled, or partially disabled to the point of unemployment. A disability rated as low as 10 per cent may be considered as precluding employment of men 65 and older.

Mr. Robens pointed out that the new regulations will greatly facilitate VA's processing of pension claims. Heretofore it has been necessary to schedule examinations for all pension applicants at the Regional Office in Detroit or by a participating fee-basis physician.

Life is very much like Christmas — you're more likely to get what you expect than what you want.

Soil Should Have "Pantryful" of Proper Nutrients

FARM soils should have a "pantry-full" of nutrients to feed growing crops, if farmers are shooting for high income yields, according to Dr. Orlo L. Musgrave, Ohio State University extension agronomist.

Dr. Musgrave says accurate soil tests can help give information about the plant food a soil needs to produce profitable crops.

"The selection of the proper fertilizer depends on a knowledge of the nutrient requirements of the crop and the nutrient-supplying power of the soil on which the crop is grown," he points out in a statement summarized here by the Midwest division of the National Plant Food Institute.

Bumper grain yields come from soil well supplied with plant food.

"When a soil does not furnish adequate quantities of nutrient elements necessary for normal development of crops, it is essential that required amounts be supplied."

Musgrave says a well-balanced soil fertility program should involve two definite stages: 1—Building fertility reserves to a reasonably high level; 2—Maintaining the fertility level once a high level has been reached.

Sermons Improve Via Experience, Says Minister

It takes about five years for the average theological seminary graduate to unlearn everything the old fellows told him about sermons and begin to talk in a language that the average layman understands, Lloyd C. Douglas, author of "The Robe", observed in a 1947 letter in the University of Michigan Historical Collections.

The minister-novelist wrote: "The first sermon I ever preached was at Flat Rock, Ind. It was, of course, a very deep and scholarly discourse that nobody in the Flat Rock Church understood very well and I am not sure I understood it very well myself.

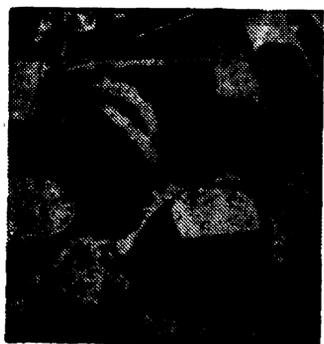

"But the farmers gave me a break, and pretended to listen, although it must have been pretty rough going for them.

"My second sermon—that afternoon at the Marquart church—was much more of a success than the Flat Rock, for I was ably assisted by a baby. Smack in the middle of my tiresome sermon, which had put almost everybody to bed (for it takes a pretty lively form of amusement to keep farmers awake at three o'clock on a mid-summer Sunday after they have filled themselves with stewed chicken, noodles, mashed potatoes, gravy, deviled eggs and apple pie), one of the Marquarts—aged about a year and a half-grew restless, and its devoted young mother decided that what junior wanted was a drink. According to custom there was a tall glass pitcher of water standing on the pulpit with a tumbler beside it.

"The dear girl resolved to avail her child of this blessing. So she brought her baby forward, reached up for the pitcher and poured the tumbler full. Then she stood for a long time, happily watching her son drink all he could hold, after which he blew bubbles into the water, giggling over his accomplishment until the whole congregation came awake and joined in the merriment.

"Meanwhile," writes Douglas, "the young preacher continued with the sermon which, if I remember correctly, was a blow by blow account of the German Reformation in 1517, or a similar narcotic."

PICNIC PACKING

Summer never seems long enough for all the picnicking we plan, so get out the picnic basket now and take advantage of these glorious summer days. And since a picnic is only as good as the food you bring, here are hints to make the outing a success. Plan menu to include food that is varied in flavor and texture, but will carry well. Pack food in aluminum foil so it will arrive at the picnic fresh and flavorful. Foil keeps flavor in and moisture out and is disposable, so you won't have to carry it home.

Use Several Types of Spread Sandwiches, the perennial favorite, can be made more interesting by using several types of bread. Spread bread with butter or margarine, add filling and wrap in aluminum foil. To keep lettuce crisp and tomatoes firm, wrap in foil and add to sandwiches at the picnic.

A welcome addition to any picnic is a meat loaf, prepared the night before, cooled, sliced, and wrapped in aluminum foil. It travels well and stays moist and flavorful. Bread and butter sandwiches taste fine with this.

Bring a salad and pickles to accompany the sandwiches and meat loaf. Line a foil container; the kind you get when you buy frozen pot pies, with lettuce; add your favorite salad—potato, macaroni or bean, cover with foil.

Notes of 48 Years Ago

A very pretty wedding took place July 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson in Durand, when their only daughter, Leah, was married to Wirt E. Barton of Pinckney. They will live in Durand.

The Supt. of Public Instruction is preparing to distribute primary school money. According to the amount of money in the fund at the present time, the rate per capita will be $7.41.

Friday afternoon there will be a parlor-meeting for Pinckney ladies at the home of Mrs. H. F. Sigler. Miss Bliz, an out-of-town speaker, will present a talk entitled "The 20th Century Woman, The Diet, Dress and Drugs."

DAD'S COOKOUT

Here are recipes for use on the very next balmy evening that Dad's in the mood to cook.

Barbecued Ribs

Buy loin ribs or barbecue ribs (uniform lengths cut from regular ribs). Keep in whole pieces. Allow 1 pound per serving. Lay ribs on oiled grill. Turn often. Cook slowly and thoroughly about 1½ to 2 hours or until done. Use hickory shavings on coals. Brush ribs before and during grilling with thick barbecue sauce. Serve with additional sauce.

Thick Barbecue Sauce

2 small onions, finely chopped
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon chili powder
¼ cup water
¼ cup catsup
1 teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients in a skillet. Cover and simmer about 20 minutes. Store in covered container in refrigerator until time to use. Yield: 1½ cups sauce.

Grilled Pork Chops

Purchase center cut loin chops that are about 1 inch thick. Allow 2 per person. Lay chops on oiled grill about 2 to 3 inches above the coals. Grill 15 to 20 minutes on each side, turning only once. Glaze with tangy pineapple sauce the last 10 minutes of cooking.

FRANK WRAPUPS

Whether the location is the backyard, beach or a roadside park, plans for a summer weekend usually include a picnic. Ideal for such outings are Frank and Cabbage Wrapups, a new way to serve franks on buns. The sandwiches which contain cabbage in a peppery dressing in addition to the franks and shredded cheese are prepared at home, wrapped individually in foil and carried to the picnic site. At serving time, the packages are arranged on top of the grill and heated through.

Franks are fully cooked when purchased and may be eaten either hot or cold. This makes them perfect for outdoor eating where the degree of doneness of grilled foods is often dependent upon the size of the appetite. Franks are handy for slicing with vegetables in salads and main dishes—for their popularity isn't limited to the picnic season.

Frank and Cabbage Wrapups (Yield: 10 servings)

1 pound Franks
1½ cups shredded cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
¼ cup shredded American cheese
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt
10 frank buns
Butter or margarine

Combine cabbage, green pepper, pimiento, cheese, mustard, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, and salt. Blend well. Cut frank buns and spread with butter. Spoon about 3 tablespoons of the cabbage mixture onto each bun. Cut each frank in half lengthwise. Place frank halves on top of cabbage. Add top of bun. Wrap each frank and bun in aluminum foil. Place on outside grill for 25 to 30 minutes or until warm. Pull back foil, serve.

Michigan Cherry Festival Queen

When Murrie Tompkins, 18-year-old daughter of a leading Grand Traverse County fruit grower, ended her reign as Queen of the recent 1960 Cherry Festival at Traverse City there was a crop to help harvest.

Visitors were amazed by the former 4-H member's ability to identify most cherry tree varieties by the shape and shade of their leaves, angle of branches, appearance of bark, and height of tree. She is equally at home in such matters of orchard management as tree feeding, when and why to prune, and how to market for maximum returns.

Murrie is widely known as an accomplished clarinetist. She enjoys water skiing and other sports, and is an avid reader of Shakespeare. She will enter Albion College this fall.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Tompkins, and her sisters, 16-year-old Fran and Linda, 12, insist no list of Murrie Ann's accomplishments is complete without mention of her cherry pie baking ability.

Plant Food Gives Americans Top Living Standard

IF FARMERS didn't use fertilizer, there would be shortages of food instead of a surplus and the American people would be "pretty hungry" reports Dr. George E. Smith, head of the University of Missouri's soil department.

"American workers would have to toil two to three times longer to earn a loaf of bread, a pound of butter or a pound of meat," said Smith in a radio interview over Station WBBM in Chicago. Smith's statement was summarized here by the National Plant Food Institute's Midwest division.

Smith estimates that about 25 per cent of the nation's food production can be attributed to the use of fertilizer.

"Undeniably, we do have some surplus production at present," he said, "but I don't think it is nearly as critical as some people believe."

"A factor which many city people don't realize is that they benefit more from the use of fertilizer and the progress of agricultural research than do families out on the farm.

"Food is actually the cheapest item in our budget. The average American worker buys more food with his dollar than probably any worker in any other part of the world. And to be specific, the use of fertilizer is one of the things that makes food cheaper."

Smith said that if the U. S. didn't have its present agricultural production, "a big percentage of the people who are now producing automobiles, refrigerators, radio and TV sets, building homes, making furniture and other consumer items, would have to work on farms."

Use well-sharpened shears, dressmaker pins and fine needles when sewing with synthetics. Home economists at Michigan State University say synthetic fabrics tend to dull needles. They add that if pins are dull, they may pull yarns in the fabric.

● NEIGHBORING NOTES

Earl Doletsky was elected president of the Dexter School Board at a meeting following the election last Monday.

The Washtenaw Historical Society presented a Centennial Plaque to William Scadin at his home at 5566 Webster Church road, Sunday afternoon in special ceremonies. Leo J. Hoey acted as master of ceremonies; the Dexter High School band furnished the music.

A twelve year old Ore Lake boy was struck and injured by a motor boat in Ore Lake near his home last Sunday. He was diving with a face mask and snorkel when the boat pulled in to drop a water-skier. The boy, Matthew Choep, was taken to McPherson Hospital. The accident is being investigated.

Nearly 1000 Livingston County 4-Hers will be making exhibits at the 74th annual Fowlerville Fair, July 26 - 30.

The Board of Education of the Chelsea schools recently announced a decision to discontinue the recognition of the salutatorian and valedictorian of the graduating classes.

In their summer recreation programs Chelsea reports swimming to be the most popular activity and Dexter reports, little league baseball.

Choosy Cook-Out

Why not make your next outdoor junket a Cook-Out for Choosy People?

The fringe benefit in this picnic plan is that it only sounds complicated. Take a single food that everybody likes—versatile skinless frankfurters—and vary it with different fillings the picnickers can add themselves.

You'll want at least three fillings for your "Grill 'n Fill Franks"—more if your family is especially choosy! To add to the possible flavor combinations, pack a few skinless kosher franks along with the regular, more mildly seasoned ones. Complete your menu with a bowl of cole slaw, hot dog buns, fruit and bottled beverages.

Prepare the fillings ahead of time and carry them in plastic bowls or empty plastic sherbet containers. If these are uniform in size, you can stack them for a neat picnic basket.

How It's Done

Cook-out procedure: Grill frankfurters until juicy and brown, or toast on sticks over an open fire if you don't have a grill. Pop them into buns and split lengthwise, almost through. Let each picnicker be his own cook-out chef, adding one of the following fillings to each frank.

SPICY BEAN FILLING: Blend prepared barbecue sauce into canned baked beans. Add chopped sweet pickle to taste.

GOURMET CHEESE FILLING: Add crumbled bleu cheese to softened cream cheese. Blend mayonnaise into mixture until good consistency for spreading.

CHEESE 'N OLIVE LINE-UP: Cut sharp cheddar, Swiss and brick cheese into narrow sticks. Pack with sliced pimento olives. To fill frankfurters, alternate cheese sticks and add a few olives.

SWEET-SOUR FILLING: Drain large can of crushed pineapple. Mix in 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon vinegar and ¼ cup brown sugar.

FRUIT DELIGHT: Add white or dark raisins to thick, home-style applesauce.

AGED-CARE PLAN

A new formula for expansion of the Social Security system to provide health insurance for the aged has been put forward with the backing of influential Senate Democrats.

The plan drafted by Senator Clinton P. Anderson, Democrat of New Mexico, is understood to have the tacit support of the Senate Democratic leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Men who give in if wrong, are wise; men who give in if right — are married.

Army PFC Paul W. Breningstal, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Breningstal, Hamburg, Mich., recently participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division in a six-week gield training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Breningstal, who arrived overseas in August 1959, is a cannoner in Battery C of the division's 16th Artillery in Schwabisch Gmund. He completed basic training at Fort Hood, Texas.

A former student at Ann Arbor High School, Breningstal was engaged in farming before entering the Army in December 1958.

His wife, Phyllis, is with him in Germany.

On August 8, the Senate will return to finish the business of the 2nd Session of the 86th Congress. And one week later, the House will resume its work.

There are a number of vital measures still pending. Chief among these are medical care for the aged, minimum wage expansion, and a Federal assistance for education program.

Social Security News in Brief

Do you know that you are required by law to pay social security taxes for employees who work in your private household?

This requirement and other helpful information about social security are explained in a handy, four-page leaflet "Social Security and Your Household Employee", which is available without charge, according to Mr. W. Scott Hamlin, manager of the Lansing social security office.

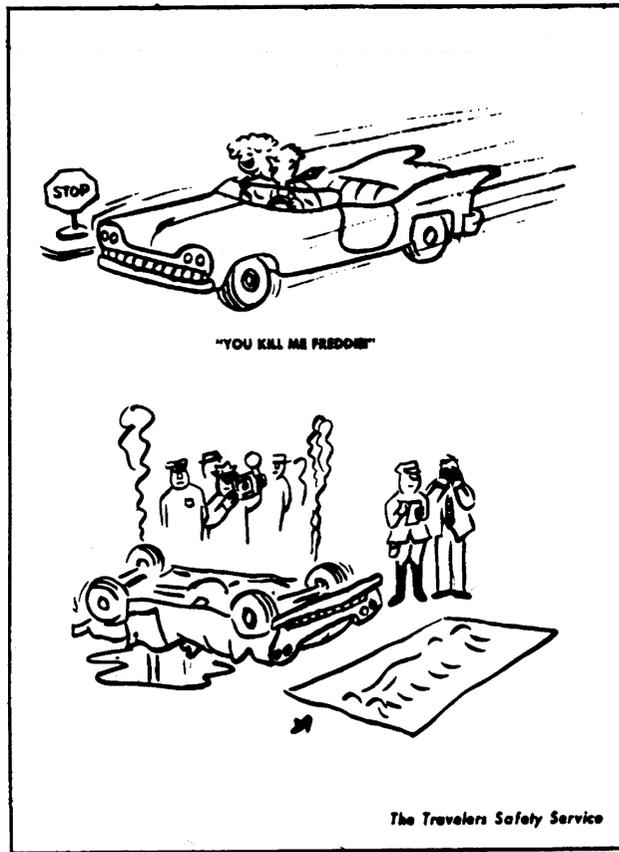

The booklet contains a clip-out registration card for employers of household workers to mail to Internal Revenue Service for tax reporting forms.

"Employers paying their maids, cooks, baby sitters, and other domestic help more than $50 in a calendar quarter of the year must make quarterly reports to Internal Revenue," Mr. Hamlin said. "The report must be accompanied by the payment of 6 percent social security tax on wages paid. This tax is shared equally by employee and employer."

Free copies of the booklet are available upon request. You may get your copy by visiting or writing to the social security office located at 208 East Michigan Avenue, Lansing, Michigan. Ask for leaflet 21.

Reckless driving killed and injured 340,000 persons in 1959.

David Ahrendt was employed as of July 1st as Sanitarian with the Livingston County Health Department. Mr. Ahrendt, a native of Temperance, Michigan, graduated in June from Ferris Institute having completed their two year program in Environmental Sanitation.

Michigan State University's first Garden Day is scheduled for July 23 on the East Lansing campus. Tours of the Beal-Garfield Botanic gardens, the Horticultural gardens and a landscape design tour are highlights. Each of the three tours is to be given four times in the afternoon, starting at 1 p.m.

Homemakers To Attend MSU Conference

More than one thousand Michigan homemakers will say goodbye to their families next week and head for East Lansing. Their destination will be Homemakers' Conference at Michigan State University, July 26 to 29. The conference is planned for all women of Michigan.

Many homemakers will arrive with luggage in hand to register for the complete four-day session. They'll take part in informal classes and hear educational and entertaining programs.

Outstanding speakers include Mrs. Anne Anderson, former associate editor of Better Homes and Gardens magazine and representative to the National Exhibition in Moscow; Karl Haas, director of fine arts at WJR in Detroit; and the Honorable Martha Griffiths, representative of the 17th Congressional district of Michigan.

The Tuesday evening program even incorporates a fashion show. Catherine Cleveland, former advisor on crafts for the state department in Lebanon, will show authentic costumes as she speaks on "Meet Your Middle Eastern Neighbors."

Some homemakers will attend the campus program for just one day. Special programs on Wednesday and Thursday are planned for these day visitors.

Chemical control of undesirable woody plants is a cheaper and better way than older methods say Michigan State University forestry specialists.

1960 will be a critical year for control of peach tree borers say Michigan State University entomologists.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

On the Right "Track"

Job Fisher, the local station-master, tells a story that happened last winter during one of our worst blizzards.

Seems there was a Center City salesman down at the depot waiting for the scheduled 8:02 train. Storm raging the way it was, small town, why, the poor chap pictured himself stranded for days. Suddenly a train emerged from the storm and creaked to a stop. It was the 8:02, right on time!

The happy salesman shook Job's hand and said: "Weather like this and your 8:02 is right on time!" "Hate to disillusion you, son," said Job, "but this is yesterday's 8:02."

From where I sit . . . things aren't always what they first appear to be. For example, there's the fellow whose first impression is that only food tea is real refreshment, but not beer, which I prefer. Sure he's entitled to his opinion, but he's got to respect mine too. That's tolerance and that's something we've got to "train" ourselves to have more of.

Wayne Celebrates A 25th Anniversary; President Hilberry Cites Growth

Symbolic of Wayne's 25-year span as a university are "Old Main" (left), a 70-year-old high school building in which university classes still meet; and State Hall, a classroom building erected through State funds as a part of the modern campus.

Dr. Hilberry

DETROIT — Three major tasks lie ahead of Wayne State University, points out University President Clarence B. Hilberry as Wayne celebrates the completion of its 25th year as a University.

One of these tasks is to make Wayne's educational resources known by and available to the whole State of Michigan, he says. The second task is campus development through the resources of the State and the generosity of private friends. Such development is a pressing problem, since even 14-hour-per-day operation leaves Wayne's facilities seriously strained.

While Wayne dates its beginning from the formation of the Detroit Medical College in 1888, it achieved full University status just 25 years ago.

A third task is that of increasing liberal spirit in the educational sense, Dr. Hilberry says. "Only when all our work is grounded in the basic disciplines of arts, languages, mathematics, the natural and social sciences can we assure our students that they will have the understanding to meet the rapidly changing future.

"Vocational training is an important role of the University, but only through liberalizing studies can we be sure that students understand the relation of their vocational skills to their responsibilities as citizens.

"Over the past 25 years, Wayne has changed from primarily a vocational school to a State University in the full sense," he points out. "In 1934, as we began to emerge from the depression, our students needed first of all to earn a living, and Detroit needed all the technical skills this campus could produce.

"I hope that we never forget our vocationalism as the original source of our strength. As we begin the second quarter century of our history as a University — with constitutional status, a new Board of Governors, and with a broad campus plan on the drawing boards — we must use our creative imagination to advance and perfect these skills."

Women spent more than $1 billion in beauty salons in 1958. To gain their share of the beauty market, perfume and cosmetic advertisers last year invested over $12 million in national newspaper advertising.

In 1959, potatoes made up 12.7% of the total produce sales in grocery stores — more than any other single produce item except citrus.

Green Snap Beans For Frozen Sticks

What next? Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, suggests frozen green bean sticks. She notes that the Oregon Experiment Station has developed this new product. It is made from green beans of top quality which are too large or irregular in shape for regular commercial canning or freezing.

To produce the "sticks," green snap beans are precooked, chopped into small pieces, pressed into molds and frozen. Then they are cut stick-size, breaded, fried in deep fat and frozen. After heating 10 to 15 minutes at 400 degrees in the oven, they are ready to serve.

The sticks are good eating with no added seasoning, but they take on flavor interest with a bit of ham or cheese. Frozen green bean fritters, which can be served after a short heating period, have also been developed. Mrs. Dean adds that these products are not yet on the market.

Work on new products for green beans is being done to prevent waste of good quality beans which are not suited to commercial freezing or canning in the regular size containers. Such products also could help utilize unusually large crops.

Creamed Foods Don't Mix With Summer Heat

Creamed foods plus warm summer weather equal danger, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

The food specialists advise following these rules to avoid food poisoning, a constant summertime hazard with creamed foods:

If you prepare creamed mixtures such as cream pies, puddings, custards and salads or sandwiches with mayonaisse dressings, keep them well refrigerated.

Do not take them long distances in warm weather.

Avoid planning creamed foods of any sort for those family or group picnics.

Good Listening Can Be Learned

Anyone can learn to remember better if he's willing to practice good listening habits.

Some hints to good listening habits include:

1. As you listen, make a picture in your "mind's eye" of what is being described.
2. Listen for the pattern or organization of the material being presented.
3. Select the most important facts or ideas as you listen to the speaker.
4. Concentrate.

These hints for better listening were presented by Oscar M. Haugh, professor of education, University of Kansas, at The University of Michigan's summer Conference Series for Teachers of English. His topic was "Teaching Listening in the High School: a Demonstration Class."

A person with charm is one who can make another feel that both of them are pretty wonderful people.

the-Fun Festival, and Fireworks in front of the grandstand.

Friday, July 29 will be the auction sale of 32 4-H steers at 3:30 p.m. Edward Gottschalk of Howell will be the auctioneer.

Livestock exhibits will be released on Saturday at 3:00 p.m. with all other exhibits being released at p.m.

The 4-H kitchen will be open during the fair each day starting at 9 a.m. 4-H members' mothers will be working in the kitchen. A special feature will be homemade pies. People working in the kitchen can call the 4-H office to find out what day and time help is needed.

Feeding Hogs Will Pay Off Next Year

Hog feeding will pay off in the next twelve months, thinks a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

John Ferris doesn't look for hogs to go below $15 a hundred pounds for any sustained period in the next year. Corn will likely average $1 per bushel, giving a hog-corn ratio favorable to hogs.

In late June, medium-weight barrows and gilts averaged about $17 to $17.50 at Chicago.

"There's still room for improvement," comments Ferris. "We should see $19 hogs by August, perhaps even a $20 peak."

This year's fall decline should be moderate—perhaps reaching $15 in December. Then Ferris expects a rise to about $18 in the first half of 1961.

Home Can Tomato Juice

When red-ripe tomatoes are on the vines in home gardens, canning jars and the food mill, but don't overlook tomato juice, age, but is handy for use all winter long in making soups and aspics and for cooking stews and pot roasts. In preparing tomatoes for juice, there is none of the bother of peeling the tomatoes. The same household food mill you use all year around for mashing, ricing and straining can do the chore for you. If you don't own a food mill, then here is the perfect excuse to get one.

Home Canned Tomato Juice

For each quart of tomato juice, you will need 3 to 3½ pounds of tomatoes. A bushel of tomatoes will be enough to make 12 to 16 quarts of juice. Select firm, red-ripe tomatoes avoiding those with cracks or decayed spots. Prepare only enough for one canner load at a time. Wash and rinse the tomatoes; quarter and cut out white core and stems. Place in a kettle and simmer over low heat, stirring occasionally, until soft. Put tomatoes through the food mill into a bowl or into another kettle. Add 1 teaspoon salt for each quart of juice. Reheat juice just to the point of boiling. Pour the hot juice into hot scalded jars to within ¼ inch of the top. Remove air bubbles. Wipe around top of jar. Cap and screw the band tight, or cover following jar manufacturer's directions. Process 15 minutes (pints and quarts) in boiling water bath. Take jars from bath and set two or three inches apart on several thicknesses of cloth and let cool, about 12 hours. Remove bands; if dome is down or stays down when pressed, jar is sealed. Or test for seal, following jar manufacturer's directions.

To Prepare Boiling Water Bath

If you don't have a boiling water bath canner, an ordinary kettle with a cover and a rack in the bottom may be used. The rack should hold the jars about ½ inch above the bottom of the canner and the kettle should be deep enough for water to cover the jars at least one inch over the top without boiling over.

Before beginning the preparation of the tomatoes, fill the canner about half full of water and heat the water over low heat. The water should be hot but not boiling when you put in the jars for processing. After the jars are in the canner, add boiling water to cover. Cover kettle and when water comes to a fast rolling boil, start counting the time.

Three epidemiologists from The University of Michigan will participate in the International Polio-myelitis Congress in Denmark starting July 26.

flooding the market and heavy then it is time to bring out the Can whole tomatoes if you like. It is not only superb as a beverage.

Why Iron Everything?

If you usually iron everything that goes through the laundry, consider skipping some items to save time and energy. Home economists at Michigan State University say many women never put an iron to sheets, pajamas, towels or seersucker garments.

Thirty-seven intramural sports offered at The University of Michigan attracted 16,727 student participants during the 1959-60 school year.

Polls Set Up for July 21 Wheat Quota Voting

Polling places for the July 21 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1961 crop of wheat were announced last week by Clyde Yelland, Chairman of the Livingston County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum will be those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1961 (except growers taking part in the feed wheat program).

The wheat quota ballots may be cast today, July 21, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at fifteen different township halls in the county, including Putnam townhall, Marion township hall and (Unadilla) at Gregory Township hall.

Don't Scrape the Iron

The soleplate of some flat irons are made of soft metal and can be scratched or marred permanently. Home economists at Michigan State University warn against using a harsh abrasive or scraping the soleplate with a knife or coarse steel wool. ### Plan Those Accents of Color

An accent color in your living room is an accent because it contrasts with everything else. It calls attention to itself, so plan where that attention should go.

Accent colors are automatically introduced through patterned wallpaper, fabrics, rugs, pictures and accessories. Accent colors may also be used in small pieces of furniture.

If you plan to use accent colors on miscellaneous items such as throw pillows or lamp shades, be sure these items add to the over-

Ralph Williams On Infantry Marksman Team

(AHTNC) — Army Specialist Four Ralph Williams, whose wife, Janet, lives at 221 W. Main St., Pinckney, Michigan, was a member of the team which represented the 24th Infantry Division in the recent VII Corps Le Clerc marksmanship matches in Grafenwohr, Germany. Specialist Williams is assigned to the Marksmanship Unit of the division's 19th Infantry in Augsburg. He entered the Army in July 1958 and completed basic combat training at Fort Riley, Kan. The 25-year-old soldier is a 1954 graduate of Valley View High School, Jonesboro, Ark. His father, Roland L. Williams, lives at 204 N. Drake St. Jonesboro, Ark.

all scheme. They should not be irrelevant spots of color.

The fewer accents you use, the more effective they can be. If used haphazardly, or in great abundance, they may detract from the total color scheme of the room.

The homemaker's cry for more storage space can be a clue to newlyweds who shop for furniture. Extra shelves and drawers may be all that separate the neat home from a cluttered one.

When the closets are filled, extra things must go to the attic, the basement or into furniture storage. Young couples should be realistic in judging the amount of storage space they may need, and then add a little extra.

Much furniture on the market is designed to provide extra storage. End tables may have shelves, drawers or cabinet space. Chests can be grouped together along a wall or used as a room divider.

In the bedroom, two dressers with extra drawer space may be a better choice than one chest and a vanity that has limited storage. Cedar chests are long-time favorites. These are no longer confined to the bedroom. The many and varied designs in cedar chests let them do double-duty. They may be as a bench in the hall or as a window seat in the living room.

It's easy to crowd a small home or apartment with large, heavy furniture. You can avoid the "cramped" look with a little planning and space-saving furniture.

Slim-lined furniture eliminates the bulky look and fits comfortably into small rooms. Double-duty pieces make every inch count. You may open a narrow cabinet and pull out a long extension dining table, or raise a coffee table to dining height. A serving cart can have drop shelves which flip up to become a table for two. Lamp tables often feature drawers or shelves to provide extra storage.

For the one-room apartment or the guest-study room, consider a studio bed which looks like a sofa. The back rest serve as a hidden storage bin for the pillow and extra blanket.

Tall furniture is fashionable, so you may want to stack a series of shallow chests along one wall.
