J.V. Footballers Shutout Chelsea Bulldogs 13-0

The Pinckney H. S. Junior Varsity won its second game of the season defeating Chelsea 13-0.

The Pinckney "Raiders" a newly developed, high spirited defensive platoon set up both Pinckney touchdowns and held the high scoring Bulldogs to a mere four first downs.

Larry Smith recovered a Chelsea fumble on the Bulldogs 45 yard line to set up the Pirate's first T. D. Ten plays later John Biery scored on a 8-yard pass from John Holben. The touchdown drive was highlighted with fine running by Gary Szalwinski and Chuck DeWolf.

The remainder of the first half was full of frustration as the Pirates were stalled by a fumble, pass interception and an off-side penalty nullifying a 30 yard pass from J. Holben to Tim Clark.

A last minute drive by Chelsea in the first half was snuffed out when G. Szalwinski intercepted a Bulldog aerial and returned the ball 67 yards to the Chelsea 28 yard line. Time ran out before the Pirates could capitalize on this opportunity.

The Raiders again set another Pinckney touchdown when J. Biery recovered a fumble on the Chelsea 48 yard line. Eleven plays later C. DeWolf scored the one foot line. Again it was the line plunges by Szalwinski and C. DeWolf which produced the T. D. J. Biery ran for the extra point.

Local Man Dies in Train Crash

3 MEN HURT

Oliver LaBelle, 42, of 910 W. M-36, was killed instantly in a railroad accident last Wednesday morning in Gregory. Mr. LaBelle, foreman of a work crew, and three other men were aboard a hand-car-mower which was struck in the rear by a west bound train on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad east of the Gregory crossing.

Witnesses believe the workers did not hear or see the approaching train. Rounding a curve the engineer, A. Zimmerman, saw the men but was unable to bring the train to a stop in time. There was no flag man on duty, nor were there flares to warn the train, according to the engineer and the brakemen.

Severe head injuries were sustained by Alton "Stubby" Hoffman of Munith and less serious injured were Ed Walz, also of Munith, and W. F. Cove of Pontiac. The injured were taken to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, by Caskey's ambulance. Walz and Cove were released following treatment but Hoffman remains hospitalized.

The hand car was dragged some one hundred feet before the train came to a full stop.

Scene of last Wednesday's railroad tragedy which took the life of a local man and resulted in injuries to three others, near Gregory. Mowing equipment, above, on which the men were riding was struck from the rear by the train.

Area Students Enroll at Cleary

Cleary College, Ypsilanti, announced this week the largest entering class in its history. Listed among the new students from the area served by the Pinckney Dispatch are the following: Robert C. Hollister, Mary Morris, Loretta Tomasik, John Winger, Harley Beeman, Hamburg; John Boyd, Lakeland; and Dennis Morgan also of Lakeland.

Michigan hosts—Paul Bagwell, Republican nominee for Governor, joined his busy campaign schedule to that of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, during the presidential candidate's most recent visit to Michigan. But the conversation here between the Nixons and Mr. and Mrs. Bagwell obviously was family talk, not political strategy.

Mr. Bagwell and Mr. Nixon will campaign together in Michigan at least once more before November 8.

Congregational Church Promotes SS Students

A special service of worship and dedication in Pilgrim Hall Sunday morning marked the annual promotion of Sunday School pupils to higher classes and the welcoming of the new little ones to the church school. About one hundred youngsters are enrolled in the classes from beginners through senior high.

Church School Superintendent Dan VanSlambrook conducted the services. Mrs. Eric Rose and daughters, Noel and Janice, sang one selection and Rev. J. W. Winger asked the benediction at the close of the program.

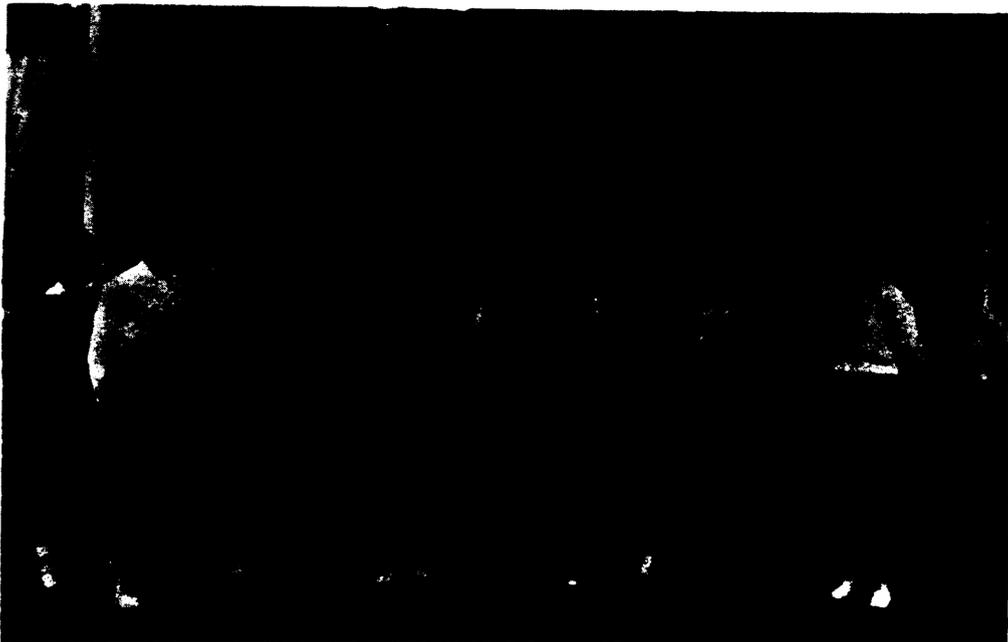

Homecoming Queen To Be Crowned Friday

The high school grades announced their class queens last Friday afternoon. The four girls are the candidates for Homecoming Queen who will be chosen by ballot this week and crowned Queen at the half-time of the Pirates - Whitmore Lake football game here Friday night. Crowning ceremonies will include special numbers by the high school marching band and the driving of the queens and their courts around the gridiron in convertibles. The Homecoming Queen and her court will reign at the dance which follows the game.

Local Men Rescue Accident Victim Pinned Under Car

Four local men enroute to Howell about seven o'clock Sunday morning arrived at the scene of an accident on Coon Lake road in Marion township in time to help lift a car under which the driver was pinned. Roy Bain of Howell had stopped at the scene minutes before and called State Police from the Brighton Post. Friday Haines, Joe Plummer, Don Gardner and Jim Meyer helped Bain rescue the victim, Nancy Ann Graham, 21, of Inkster. She was taken to McPherson Health Center by the McDonald ambulance. Police say the accident happened about 4 a.m. when Miss Graham's car failed to make a sharp curve and rolled over throwing her out. She suffered from exposure and had many bruises. Her condition was reported as fairly good by the hospital Monday morning. Miss Graham was alone at the time of the accident.

The Freshmen at P. H. S. elected their class officers last week and named their student council representatives for the 1960-61 school year. James Wicker was elected class president; LaVerne Hunt, vice president; Linda Haney, secretary, and Jim Barker, treasurer. Shirley Mitchell and Terry Everett are the regular student council delegates and Larry Hull, the alternate.

Students Rode Exam "Ponies" 90 Years Ago

University of Michigan students caught cheating 90 years ago seldom tried to justify themselves, according to an anonymous student writing in "The Chronicle," predecessor of "The Michigan Daily."

In the November 1869 issue, now in the Michigan Historical Collections, the student gives itane which controlled the worms. Army worms live up to their name. They occur in great numbers and have a cavernous appetite. Tender green plant tissue is their main dish. Besides early alfalfa seedings, newly sprouted wheat would be a feasible location. These worms are for the most part greenish black with yellow stripes going along each side. Their underparts are a yellowish cast. The adult stage of the insect is a moth that is brownish with a white spot on each wing. These lay tremendous numbers of eggs that hatch into the larvae or worms. In many areas of the state this pest is of real economic importance.

as a notorious fact that "ponying is practiced more or less in the larger literary institutions of the country.

"The funniest, best remembered incidents of many a student's college life occur in connection with his own or his classmates' sly tricks and cunning maneuvers in term examinations.

"But when questioned sharply and seriously as to the right or wrong of such deceptive manipulations, very few will venture excuses, but are free to admit that scholarship and self-respect thereby suffer severely."

The U-M student points out that pupils have been known to request teachers to "lead them not into temptation, but to deliver them from the occasion of ponying."

Results were forthcoming! The student goes on to report that "the previous year a method was tried and resulted in mutual satisfaction.

"Two or three professors made the reviews at the close of the semesters answer for the examination," he says. "If the average daily recitations justified it, the student was passed, or vice versa.

Fall Army Worms Found

An unusual occurrence was discovered this week in an unusual year. Upon investigating a call from the Don Brinks Farm on Dutcher Road, Isoco township, it was discovered that a 5 acre field of new alfalfa seeding was heavily infested with army worms. It was first assumed that change in color texture of the field was due to a frost, but closer scrutiny disclosed the armyworms. Extensive damage was also observed. Upon consultation with Dr. Ray Hutson, extension entomologist at Michigan State University, it was learned that this was a infestation of army worms, but coming under very unusual circumstances. Mr. Brinks immediately made an application of chlor-

Living Standards Rise Against the Angler's Pastime

America's high standard of living poses a threat to the sport of fishing, declares an expert in the field at The University of Michigan.

Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries, points out that "only in countries with high standards of living does sport fishing exist. But standards go ever higher.

"Within one generation the work week has dropped from 60 to 40 hours, and it seems to be headed even lower, with longer paid vacations to boot. It is inevitable that a part of growing leisure time will be spent in fishing.

"Add to this the multiplication of roads for more and more ready access to fishing waters," Lagler continues. "And add not one, but two cars, plus a boat and trailer in the family garage, and we see where we may be headed."

Sewage and industrial wastes plus natural aging processes combine to conflict with fishing, and, Lagler points out, so do irrigation, navigation, dams for water power and, most recently, fast boating and water skiing. Private ownership of waterfront property makes access difficult to many lakes and streams.

He explains that diversion of waters into irrigation ditches in the West, for example, not only has cut down on water supplies for stream fish but has led many fish to death by desiccation in farmers' fields. Only recently have reasonably effective barriers been worked out.

The newest "coast to coast problem," the fishery specialist reminds, is the "conflict with fishermen centered on small, fast power boats, often ones towing water skiers. Water skiers numbered at least six million on American waters in 1960 compared to a handful only five years ago."

With the number of anglers seemingly growing twice as fast as the population (one in five Americans today), "the amount of natural water suited to the production of sport fishes preferred by fishermen is shrinking, perhaps as rapidly as the supply for human use is being consumed," he concludes.

Lagler's views were recorded for his program "Conservation Report," radio series produced by the U-M Broadcasting Service (WUOM) and carried around the state.

It's A Fur Fad

If you've always wanted something with fur, you should be able to find that "something" this fall. Designers have decided to put fur in the foreground. They use it on collars, cuffs and hems of jackets and coats. They make it a part of a hat — or the whole thing.

There's a size fur to suit your fancy, from small collars of mink to bulky ones of fox. For a dramatic look, there is leopard in a full-length coat or on the trim of a hat.

If your clothes budget can't stand the cost of real fur, consider the many modern fabrics made to look like fur. The beaver-like fabrics of deep pile are shown, along with some newer flat-type furs which resemble leopard and otter.

Some of these fur fabrics also are available by the yard — an easy way to add a 1960 trim.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Huck Saves the Day

Saturday's always "together" day for Huck Roberts and his missus. Five days a week Huck's sailing on the road, so they like to spend Saturday afternoon by themselves.

Most of Huck's friends know this and stay away unless invited. All except one couple. Then Huck found a polite way to send them home.

Soon as Huck would spot the couple driving up, he'd put on his hat and coat—and step out the front door. Polite as could be, Huck would say, "Sorry we can't ask you in, we're just on our way out!" Then, soon's the couple drove off, Huck went right back inside!

From where I sit, neighborliness means a mutual respect between neighbors—for one's privacy, feelings and preferences. This holds for little things too. For instance, when a neighbor prefers a glass of beer or buttermilk, that's his business. And it's our job to respect his preference every day of the week—Saturdays, Sundays and holidays included.

Hull-Gross Vows Spoken Friday Evening at Home Ceremony

Claudia Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hull of Main Street, and James Gross of Northville spoke their marriage vows at 7 o'clock Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Nancy Reason of Pinckney was the maid of honor and Jerry Lindig of Brighton was the best man.

For her wedding the bride chose a lace gown of ballerina length. Her tiny veil was held by a crown of white lace and pearls. She carried a pink and white bouquet fastened to a small pearl evening bag.

The bride's gown was of pink lace with a matching veiled crown. Her flowers were pink.

A reception for thirty-five guests followed the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home at Walled Lake.

The new Mrs. Gross was graduated from Pinckney High School last June. Her husband is employed in Northville.

Student Council Activities In Planning Stage

High School Student Council officers for the ensuing year are: president, Karl Burg; vice president, Carol Miller; secretary, Nancy Read and treasurer, Francis Clark. Dwight Matteson is the assistant treasurer. Representing the seniors at student council meeting will be Francis Clark and Paul Howell with Karen Eichman serving as an alternate. The juniors send Jack Young and Bob Beck and have Kaye Wylie as their alternate. Nancy Read and Dwight Matteson are the sophomore delegates and the alternate is Gary Lee.

Homecoming events, of course, are now foremost in the council's program; they will sponsor the Homecoming Dance to follow the game, about 10 p.m. to 12 p.m. They have invited D. J. Dave Pringle of Ann Arbor to direct the music and entertainment. Admission is fifty cents, stag, and seventy-five cents drag. Refreshments of cider and donuts will be served.

A word of caution; girls are requested not to attend the dance wearing slacks.

Albert Shirley Now Retired

Albert Shirley is actually taking it easy . . . for the time being, at least. Mr. Shirley who recently observed his 65th birthday has retired from active employment. For the past 14 years Mr. Shirley was on duty every day at the Lavey Hardware; before that he farmed in both the Gregory and Pinckney areas.

Currently he is just relaxing with "work around the house and yard". Active for many years in civic and church affairs Mr. Shirley is a member of the village council and Community Congregational Church. He served the Pinckney Fire Department as a volunteer for many years.

Future plans for himself and Mrs. Shirley include spending the coming winter in Florida.

Conservation Notes

Property owners in Michigan, out-of-state tourists, civic groups, conservation clubs, schools, the press, radio, and television are urged to give an all-out effort against fires during the October 9-16 period which has been proclaimed as National Fire Prevention Week by President Eisenhower.

Support is sought in publicizing fire safety practices and in applying these measures to thwart potential fires not just next month but throughout the year.

This year's national observance is well timed with a seasonal forest fire threat in Michigan, according to Milton M. Bergman, chief of the Conservation Department's fire control section. The most disastrous fires in Michigan's history have occurred during the fall, he stresses.

Drying frosts, winds, and lack of rainfall frequently leave the state's forest lands ripe for heavy and costly losses. This threat is further heightened by thousands of hunters afield and thousands of others burning leaves and debris.

Bergman points out that fall fires are hard to control and usually cause far more damage to the soil and forest growth than spring or summer fires.

Noting Michigan's 1960 record through September 25, Bergman is confident of continued cooperation from the public in the weeks ahead. Fires have damaged 2,338 acres this year. A year ago, they had burned 3,600 acres.

Entrance stickers and vending machines were ordered last week for Michigan's 1961 parks season by the Conservation Department.

The order calls for 500,000 annual $2 stickers, 1,000,000 daily 50-cent stickers, and 80 vending machines. December 10 is the delivery date.

Beginning January 1, 1961, parks users will need stickers on windshields of their vehicles to enter 54 of Michigan's 61 state parks.

Annual stickers will be available through hunting and fishing license dealers, according to present plans. Daily stickers will be sold from vending machines in parks where they are required.

Monies collected from sticker sales will be earmarked to retire a bond issue which will finance $3,000,000 improvement and land acquisition program during the current fiscal year. The program, spelling out $1,000,000 for new parks lands and $2,000,000 for construction work, awaits final action by the state legislature when it meets early in 1961.

Plans covering the sale and enforcement of stickers will be discussed at length next week during the Department's annual parks managers' meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation school.

State Police August Report

State Police officers made 17,854 arrests in August, 15,983 for traffic violations and 1,871 for criminal offenses, according to the department's monthly activity report.

In addition, 610 juveniles were arrested on traffic complaints and 627 delinquent minors and eight wayward minors were apprehended.

Troopers made 24,842 property inspections and 2,908 liquor inspections.

Department vehicles traveled 1,692,853 miles, of which 895,679 were on traffic patrol and 797,174 to investigate criminal and other complaints.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Ducks Unlimited Is The Duck's Best Friend

About 25 years ago, a group of sportsmen became worried about the great decrease in the duck population of the American continent. They were afraid the duck might become extinct, like the passenger pigeon.

These sportsmen discovered that at least 65% of all North American waterfowl are bred in Canada, and that agricultural and drainage projects had drastically reduced the breeding grounds. The men banded together and formed an organization called Ducks Unlimited, for the purpose of restoring the Canadian breeding grounds and increasing the migratory waterfowl population.

Ducks Unlimited received an enthusiastic welcome from the Canadian government and farmers. It became a wonderful example of what international cooperation can do. In just a few years the waterfowl population of North America—with the help of Ducks Unlimited—increased by 300%!

Federal law prohibits the use of government duck stamp funds outside the United States. The money that Ducks Unlimited spends must be donated by American hunters.

You can help the work of Ducks Unlimited go on, too, so that you and your children and grandchildren can enjoy the wonderful sport of duck hunting. Send a contribution to Ducks Unlimited, 165 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

Local Postmaster Attends Detroit P. O. Dedication

Pinckney Postmaster and Mrs. Lawrence Baughn were among the more than 2500 guests who attended the dedication ceremonies for the nation's most modern postal center, the new $23,000,000 Detroit Post Office, at Eighth and W. Fort Streets, last Thursday.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield came from Washington, D.C. to help dedicate the huge center which will handle about two thirds of Michigan's mail daily. About 2,000 employees, using the most modern of facilities, will work in the building.

The mile long "Parade of Progress" was small as parades go in Detroit, but it was outstanding in its civic and historical theme. Military and postal vehicles of every description were intermingled with Police, postal and military bands.

Mr. and Mrs. Baughn also attended the luncheon for 2500 Michigan postal employees in fabulous Cobo Hall. Eleven postal employees represented Livingston County at the celebration.

ELECTRIC HEAT

EVERY ROOM HAS ITS OWN THERMOSTAT TO HOLD ITS OWN BEST TEMPERATURE. The ideal temperature will vary according to personal taste, the use of a room and its exposure to wind or sun. Dial that temperature, and electric heat keeps you perfectly comfortable. Here's uniform heat—warmth that seldom varies more than two or three degrees in any part of the room, even between floor and ceiling. And should conditions change, you can quickly warm up one room without overheating others. Built-in electric heat may cost more but it's worth every penny in solid comfort. And when you heat your home electrically, Edison's Budget Billing Plan equalizes heating costs over the year.

CHOOSE FROM SEVERAL TYPES TO MATCH YOUR NEEDS PRECISELY. Built-in electric heat systems may be baseboards; forced air units or radiant panels set in walls; cables embedded in ceilings. When you build, buy, add new living space or modernize, choose modern electric heat.

In the 20-24 age groups, this percentage drops to 57%. This decline continues to middle age where it levels off. In the 45-54 age group, only 40% of our adults drink milk regularly, another 26% are occasional milk drinkers. From middle age on, one-third of our adults are not drinking milk at all, and far less than half are drinking it with any regularity."

EIGHTH GRADE—

Last week we played football against St. Mary's School and we won. Next Thursday we are going to play Hamburg School. The game will be played here from 2 to 3 p.m.

We elected a president and vice president of our school. Our president is JoAnn Shugg and our vice president is Gary Henry.

We have a crack in one of our big windows. The State Police were here trying to find out who through a stone at it.

We have our bulletin boards completed. They are on Abraham Lincoln and on September.

SEVENTH GRADE—

For art we made geometrical designs and mosaics.

Monday, September 26, we picked class officers Dennis Reynolds, president; Joyce King, vice president; Laura Mason, secretary; Clair Bell, Treasurer and Christine Clark and Mike Carver for Student Council regular, Linda Latimer and Alan Burg for alternates; service squad, Linda Wylie and Dennis Reynolds.

We read our unit on ancient animals and some of the students made a mural.

Mrs. Wright was our substitute September 29.

SIXTH GRADE—

Thursday we had a spelling bee. The winners were Doug Winger, Nancy Bond and Patsy Pendergrass. The winning words were tortillas, skewer, consonant, definition, pronunciation, apostrophe, abbreviation and permission. There were 22 people before we started the harder words.

Each person in our room that will bring a game from home and explain it will get an A in English.

We are very glad that the boys asked Mr. Reader to send down two boys to teach us some football plays. They taught us how to get on three points. Their names are Keith Morgan and Jerry Steffen.

Each child in our room named what they liked to eat in sandwiches.

FIFTH and SIXTH—

We are studying rocks and soil formations in Science. Many kinds of rocks and fossils have been found in crushed rock recently on the playground.

Student Council members from our room are Bill Rentz, Donald Hollister, Dean Gardner and Dale Booth.

On Tuesday, Ruth Bennett suggested that we organize our room like a town.

The name of our town, Coolston. Our mayor is Judy Hull, our vice-mayor is Mike Johnson, secretary is Pamela North, and treasurer is Donna Beck.

On September 21, Mrs. Cool's room visited Mrs. Erhard's room. She showed us all kinds of designs that they used with compasses. When we got back Mrs. Cool showed us how to make them.

FIRST GRADE—

We are working hard to learn to read and write.

We made a little story book to take home. Some of us can read in it.

We are sorry Donna Coquette and Jimmy Dean are sick.

SECOND GRADE—

Mrs. Johnson Janet Rentz thinks we are doing very nice work. We are studying about seeds.

Mike Scott told us about a railroad accident.

Linda Reason talked with a real Indian on her vacation last summer.

FIFTH GRADE—

On Tuesday through the courtesy of Mrs. Evelyn Thomas of Hamburg Mrs. Cool's 5th and 6th grade and Mrs. Millers 5th saw a very interesting movie on "Shipping on the Great Lakes."

One hundred in Arithmetic was earned by Penny Reynolds, Linda Zezulka and Robert Potter.

We are doing graph designs for art.

Our combinations are getting a workout. We are drilling daily and multiplication tables are really being worked on.

We took a "Follow Directions" Test and found it was fun.

In social studies we are working on New England States. We have committees appointed for reports on the Codfish, Gloucester and the coast of Massachusetts for reading also.

To make reading easier we have four activity groups where we will get all individual help possible.

We have written letters for Letter Writing Week and are ready to send them.

THIRD GRADE—

In science social studies we are studying how the sun helps us.

We planted 2 bulbs and covered one with a can to show the affect sunlight has on growing things.

We are all keeping our eyes open for pictures and articles of current interest for the bulletin board.

We welcome Kenneth Logie to our room. Kenneth has a twin sister in Mrs. Henry's room next to us.

FIRST GRADE—

We now have a gold fish, a toad and a salamander for our science table. We have been studying about caterpillars and butterflies. We made a booklet about them. Everyone made a hand to help us remember what we are to do each week to help keep our room nice.

SECOND GRADE—

We are sorry to report that one of our new boys have already left us. Rich Schall has moved away.

We are collecting seeds and making a chart. This time the boys have to make the chart.

Mr. Down made our room a very nice grasshopper cage. We can open it to feed the grasshoppers. We wish to thank him very much.

We had a spell down last Friday. We had more boys left standing than girls. Maybe the girls will win next week.

One of our reading groups acted out the story of "The Toy Mender." We enjoyed it very much.

FOURTH GRADE—

Our new plastic flag with fifty stars is now hanging in the front of our room.

Shirley Harmon and Gary

burg are our new student council representatives. Breeta Brash and David Michael are the alternates.

In arithmetic so far we have been reviewing addition and subtraction. Subtraction seems to be difficult for several of our class.

Our room had the responsibility of fixing the bulletin in the West Wing Hall for September. We drew pictures showing the rules of our school for all good citizens.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

The Michigan Probation, Prison and Parole Association wants to help inmates of correctional institutions think better of themselves by helping the public to think better of the inmate.

They call it "mobilizing social influences for correctional change."

"Social influences," however, is a broad and inclusive term. It could also be subject to a wide variety of interpretations which would be flattering neither to the MPPPA nor inmates in Michigan prisons and other penal institutions.

The idea that MPPPA wants to get across is this:

An inmate, or a parolee, or a probationer, is subject to social influences much stronger than the ones which make most of us act the way we do in our normal daily lives. A person who has made a mistake, even though he might want to reform, meets, suspicion, social stigma and misunderstanding to a great degree.

Even family and neighbors are wary of a person who has been in trouble. The general public shuns "ex-cons" and "jail-birds."

One natural reaction of the person who has been convicted of a crime is to fight back against the persons or persons who refuse to accept him as a responsible member of the community.

The attitude and influence of other prisoners, if an offender is institutionalized, is also important in shaping his behavior upon release.

The concept of corrections held by the general public may be second only to the influence of correctional workers in rehabilitating an offender, says the MPPPA.

A late September meeting of the organization tried to bring out the whole panorama of influence—working both ways—between offenders, the public and the groups working in corrections.

No whitewash of lawbreakers was intended.

The psychological aspects of criminal behavior, whether they cause habitual lawbreaking or some other problem, are not neglected by the MPPPA.

But even psychological problems have to be treated within the context of society.

The aims of the MPPPA would be to have correctional procedures all working toward the same goal, increase society's understanding of the offender and the offender's understanding of society, and bring groups related to the correctional field into the integrated effort for a greater degree of rehabilitation.

Butchers with a thumb on the scale are a common subject of cartoon quips.

Not so funny are the occasional cases where a buyer gets less than the legal measure of a product because of deliberate misrepresentation by the seller.

It's the job of the Foods and Standards Division of the Department of Agriculture to police the weights and measures of goods offered for public sale.

It tries to protect the public from paying too much for the goods received.

Dealing with reputable firms, understanding what is bought, knowing how quantity is determined and examining the cost per unit of measure can help the public protect itself.

But the Foods and Standards division warns consumers to remember the old legal maxim: "Let the buyer beware."

A hopeful note has crept into talk from the Michigan Economic Development Department on the nebulous quality called "economic climate."

Michigan has a much better "image" outside the state than it has enjoyed for a long time, the Department says.

Local industrial expansion programs, building of new manufacturing facilities and a general optimism among business and community leaders in all parts of the state has improved the feeling of outsiders, the Department says.

The Department hopes the optimism—and consequently the improved image—will spread.

Necessary ingredients to help the movement catch fire are business confidence, governmental stability, and pride in Michigan accomplishments in Michigan people.

Interested citizens would like to see a snow-balling, or pyramiding, return of confidence in the "economic climate."

LOOK FOR THE STARS

Meteor Showers to Brighten Skies During Month of October

A shining group of stars will brighten the October nights, says a University of Michigan astronomer.

"October this year might be considered the month of planets, for all the bright ones are above the horizon between sunset and 9:00 p.m.," says Associate Professor Hazel M. Loah.

"Mercury, which is always hard to see, reaches its greatest angular distance from the sun on October 15, and might be picked up as an 'evening star' low in the southwest for a short time after sunset.

"Venus, the brightest object in the whole sky, will be seen low on the horizon just a few degrees toward the south from Mercury," she points out.

"Mars, a reddish object in the constellation of Gemini, will be rising in the northeast at about 9 p.m. by the end of the month.

"Jupiter, bright and low in the southwestern sky, is still with us, but by the end of the month will be setting about three hours after the sun. Saturn follows Jupiter by about an hour, but is not nearly as bright."

Also, two meteor showers are scheduled, Professor Loah says, one occurring in the north around October 9, and the other in the east around October 20.

"The first one, the Draconids or Giacobinids, should be best seen on the early morning of October 9. The second shower, the Orionids, spreads over about eight days with the maximum coming during the sunrise hours on October 20. These Orionids have the highest orbital velocities of any of the showers, which make them tend to appear quite swift and leave trains or streaks in their wakes," Professor Loah says.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK is coming up—from October 9 through October 15. That's the time to check your home, your office, your car and garage for possible fire hazards. And be sure, too, that every member of your family knows the number of your fire department. You'll find it in the front of your telephone directory.

FIXING UP FOR FALL? A lot of people find that this is a good time for getting things done around the house. And it's a good time to think about getting the extra convenience of an extension phone in your bedroom. It's particularly nice in the winter. If the phone rings at night, you don't have to hop out of a warm bed to take the call. Our new Princess phone fits nicely on any bed table—and its built-in night light is an added convenience. To order a bedside extension phone today, just call your telephone Business Office.

ONE OF THE LATEST improvements in home building is free Built-in-Wall telephone wiring—throughout the house. Special wiring, designed to provide for all future telephone needs, is concealed in the walls of your home during construction. When you move in and order telephone service, the installer locates the hidden wires with an electronic detector and connects your phones. Built-in-Wall wiring assures neat, attractive telephone installations in a wide choice of locations throughout your home and permits you to change locations readily at a later date. If you're thinking of buying or building a new home, be sure to call us at Michigan Bell. We'll be happy to install Built-in-Wall telephone wiring . . . at no cost to you or your builder.

Bell's Detecting Device Helps New Home Wiring Service

LOOKING FOR PHONE LINES — A special electronic detecting device, used by Michigan Bell Telephone Company installers to locate concealed telephone wiring in new houses equipped with free "built-in-wall" wiring, is demonstrated by Thomas G. Boes, installer. After wiring is located, installer (right) uses a special drill to cut two-inch wall opening. Then, wiring is "fished" out and fastened to a wall fixture designed especially for pre-wired homes. An attractive face plate covers the fixture and opening. During National Home Week, new home builders are reminded they can obtain the new free pre-wiring service by giving Michigan Bell advance notice as to when electrical wiring will be completed. Concealed phone wiring, installed before insulation, lath, or plaster is placed, preserves the finished appearance and adds to the efficiency of new homes.

Notes of 25 Years Ago

Fred Read, director of the Pinckney school board, answered some of the questions asked by Editor P. W. Curlett relative to the proposed addition to the high school building. Q. Why is it considered necessary to raise the school tax in this district from 3 to 4 mills? A. To pay interest charges on debt.

Q. Does the entire appropriation of $45,450 include the furnishings and the equipment for the new additions? A. Yes. (The school board at this time had received an offer of $20,450 from WPA funds to build the gym and classrooms costing $45,450.)

Mrs. Wayne AtLee was host to the Kings Daughters at her home Monday. The following delegates were appointed to attend the State Convention in Mt. Clemens: Mrs. Harry Palmer, Mrs. AtLee, Mrs. Winifred Graves, Mrs. Mae Daller, Mrs. Roger Carr and Mrs. Ford Lamb.

The first Junior King's Daughters' convention to be held in Michigan took place at the local Congregational church with delegates coming from Ann Arbor, Howell, Brighton, Gregory and Lakeland.

The annual election of officers for the Pinckney Board of Commerce was held at the regular meeting last week. William Dilloway was named president; Wayne AtLee, vice president;

Small Game Season Opens October 7, 12M

Hunters waiting for the curtain to go up on Michigan's migratory game bird seasons at noon, October 7, have several important cues to remember.

First and foremost, they must bypass canvasbacks and redheads to help these diving ducks build up from their low numbers.

Going a step further, they must curb Michigan's losses of crippled legal ducks if they are to help their sport for future years.

Records from recent years show that one out of every five ducks shot in Michigan is never recovered. Based on last year's kill figure, roughly 80,000 crippled or dead ducks were left to waste in this state in 1959. This represents a full day's bag limit for 20,000 hunters.

To cut crippling losses this fall, hunters are urged to hold their fire until ducks are within an effective shooting range, preferably around 40 yards. Errors in judging this range can be held down by driving stakes in front of blinds at distances of 30 to 40 yards.

"Sky shooting" has no place among sportsmen. It encourages other hunters nearby to try impossible or, at best, improbable shots which increase crippling losses and soon spoils shooting for everyone in the area.

A good retrieving dog is often as important to successful duck hunting as the hunter himself when it comes to reducing the number of lost cripples.

Shooting hours on all migratory game birds will be lengthened this fall from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, except in Wildfowl and Sebawaing bays where hunting will again be illegal after 4 p. m.

Coot bag limits have been increased to six daily and twelve in possession. Last year, they were four and eight. Bag limits on all other migratory game birds remain unchanged.

Lewis Riggs and Elaine Collier Married at St. Mary's Church

Elaine Marie Collier and Lewis W. Riggs were united in marriage at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church with Reverend Robert Schlaff of Dearborn officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bond Collier, wore a beautiful floor-length gown of satin taffeta, fashioned with long sleeves and a sabrina neckline of chantilly lace trimmed with sequins. Her full bouffant skirt had a tiered ruffled sequin and lace front and ended in a chapel train of chantilly lace. A coronet crown of lace, seed pearls and crystal held her fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses, carnations and ivy.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Riggs of Cedar Lake road.

Mrs. James Cole of Whitmore Lake was the matron of honor. Her gown was a sapphire blue silk taffeta sheath with an over skirt, matching shoes and small feather hat completed her costume. Blue and white carnations formed her bouquet.

Complete costumes identical to that of the matron of honor were worn by the four bridesmaids: Carol Anne Szymanski, Janet Rose Szymanski, both cousins of the bride, Windsor, Ont.; Miss Marilyn Gustafson and Mrs. Keith Koch of Pinckney.

Donald Stackable of Inkster served as best man. The ushers were Michael Szymanski of Windsor, James Cole of Whitmore Lake, Edward Riggs and Keith Koch of Pinckney.

Master Donald Burke, cousin the bride, was the ringbearer and Nancy Kay Collier, sister of the bride, was the flower girl. Nancy Kay wore a white nylon dress with a sapphire blue sash and a hat of nylon trimmed with blue and white carnations. She carried matching flowers.

A reception - dinner immediately after the ceremony was held at Lakeland Golf and Country Club for 250 guests. The Starlite Trio played for dancing following the dinner.

The newlyweds left by plane for a two week honeymoon in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. For traveling the new Mrs. Riggs wore a black wool sheath dress with a tweed jacket and wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

They will be at home at 6482 Riverdale, Buck Lake, Hamburg, after October 17.

Both are graduates of Pinckney High School. The bride had attended Michigan State University and was employed by the Detroit Edison Company. Her husband is with the Retail Credit Company of Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Collier wore a honey-gold satin brocade sheath with a mink trimmed packet. The bridegroom's mother wore beige brocade with brown accessories.

Miss Audrey Randall of Ann Arbor was in charge of the guest

Winter Comforters

It's sheer luxury to snuggle down in a warm comforter on a chilly night. But when you shop for a comforter, keep on the practical side. Comforters have kept pace with the times and are boasting new fibers and fabrics. The old-time feather, down, kapok, wool and cotton fillings are still around, but they are making way for synthetic fibers such as Acrilan and Dacron.

Look beyond color and inspect the outside fabric quality. It should be closely woven so the filling can't poke through.

Top stitching gives the comforter an interesting pattern. But more important, it holds the filling in place. When large areas of the comforter are without lines of stitching, the filling can shift and bunch in one place. It may be difficult to redistribute the filling, especially after the comforter has been cleaned. Also look for fine, even top stitching. Long stitches can catch and break easily, causing the threads to ravel and the filling to shift.

Fiber content of the filling is important, too. If the outside fabric requires steaming to remove wrinkles when it is cleaned, the filling should be able to take steaming without matting down permanently.

Madras Fabric

Authentic Madras fabric, straight from the state of Madras in India is a fashion hit this year. It is found in dresses, suits, skirts, sport coats and bermuda shorts, as well as on yard goods counters. Madras plaids and stripes rate high even though they defy some "required" characteristics of quality cotton fabrics.

Madras is not colorfast. In fact, it is guaranteed to bleed or fade. Some Madras will shrink. Raincoats are pre-bleed to avoid running of the dyes.

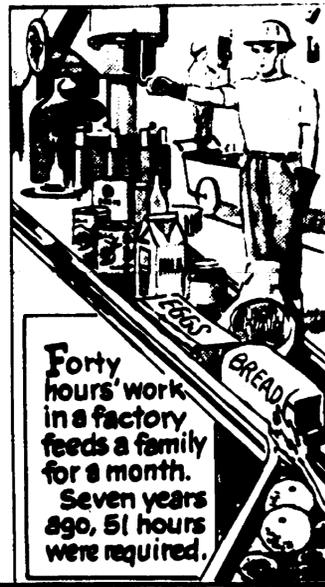

The appeal of this cotton fabric is in the interesting colors achieved by yarns dipped in natural vegetable dyes. When the fabric is washed, these dyes fade or run together giving a soft, muted effect.

The result is interesting, but a word of caution against washing Madras with other fabrics. Colors will bleed onto anything else in the same wash water.

Dry cleaning often is recommended for Madras garments made with a lining, and some folks prefer to send washable garments to the dry cleaners also. Effects of dry cleaning depends on the individual fabrics. Some colors change, while others do not. A few colors even become brighter.

Domestic mills are producing Madras-type fabrics in cotton or cotton blends that are colorfast.

Local residents who were hospitalized at McPherson Health Center in the past week are Mrs. Courtland Geib who is recovering satisfactorily from severe surgery; Joseph Harden; Frank A. Winslow; Mrs. Orchid Hutchings, Joseph Manden; Stephen Oleski; and Lillian Bell.

Forty hours' work in a factory feeds a family for a month. Seven years ago, 51 hours were required.
