On This Thanksgiving Day...

Local Couples Feted On Anniversaries

With a total of 113 years of wedded bliss between them, two local couples were honored on their wedding anniversaries at an open house Saturday night at the Peoples Church.

Many friends and neighbors attended to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Buzzard on their 60th anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Euler on their 53rd anniversary.

Words and music paid tribute to the honored couples; Mrs. Mark Nash read a poem; Mrs. Merwin Campbell sang, "Take My Hand", "Through the Years", and "A Closer Walk With Thee."

A beautifully decorated anniversary cake was served with coffee and punch. Cutting the cake were Mrs. K. A. Wylie, daughter of the Eulers and Mrs. Eleanor Line, daughter of the Buzzards.

The members of the church presented each honored couple with a mum plant and they received many other gifts from friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard spoke their marriage vows in Tyrone township on November 28, 1900. They are the parents of five children, H. Milton, Russell, Mrs. Don Panbin (Margaret), Mrs. Mary Alta Sohimpe, all of Detroit and Mrs. Line of Royal Oak. There are 18 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. The couple lives at 326 E. Main street.

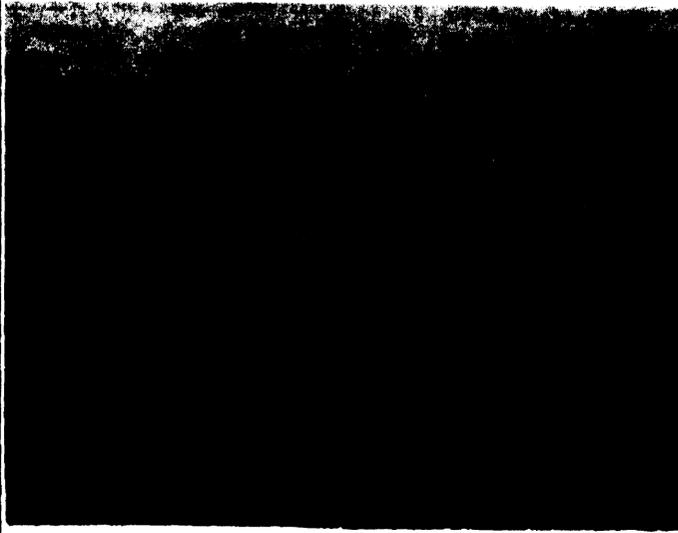

The Eulers were married on November 20, 1907, in Brighton. They have lived here for many years, except for a few years spent in Fairhope, Alabama. They are the parents of a son, Lyle, of Fairhope, and two daughters, Mrs. Ben Huxford (Berdella) of Fort Walton Beach, Florida and Mrs. Nellie Wylie of Pinckney. They live at 190 Unadilla street.

DEXTER GIRL IS CHERRY PIE QUEEN

Ralph Otwell of Pettysville road can vouch for the fact that the judges in the Washonaw County Cherry Pie Baking Contest in Ann Arbor knew their business when they selected the winning pie Saturday.

Washonaw's champion baker is his granddaughter, Susan Besnick, a senior at Dexter High School. Susan brought her grandfather a sample of the prize pie on Sunday.

As the county winner Susan receives a $25 Savings Bond awarded by the Washonaw County Co-op Extension Service which sponsors the contest. She will attend the state contest at the Pantland Hotel in Grand Rapids, January 26-27, with all expenses paid for her and a chaperon.

For health and food, for love and friends,

For everything Thy goodness sends . . .

Father, in Heaven, we thank Thee . . .

Holy Name Plans Card Party and Chinese Auction

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Catholic church will sponsor a card party and a Chinese auction, on Saturday, December 10, at 8:30 in the evening at the parish hall. Proceeds from this party will benefit the athletic program for the children of St. Mary's school. Athletic teams were organized in the early fall and the winter schedule is now being planned.

The Chinese auction, rather new in this community, is a hilarious event, to say the least, and a fine opportunity to have fun while shopping. All items to be sold are selected with the holiday season in mind.

John McMillan is the chairman for the card party which will be held before the auction. There will be many prizes for the card tables.

Serving on committee are James Donahue, tickets; James Gardner, advertising; sale items, James Moran; auction, Peter Redinger; auctioneer, Roy Hoeft; refreshments, Francis Sahan. Joseph Basydio is the general chairman of the event.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY DRIVE NETS $400

Putnam township's drive for Muscular Dystrophy netted a little over $400. This is the week usually designated for the march for funds but Putnam, under the direction of chairman, Don Gibson, completed the local drive two weeks ago. High school students helped the Kiwanis Club in the successful march.

James Rogalski, of Chilson road, a member of the executive committee of the Livingston County chapter spoke to the Kiwanians at a recent meeting on behalf of MDA.

UNADILLA GROCER DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Howard T. Pickett, 56, a Unadilla grocer for more than 11 years died at his home on Sunday following a long illness.

His home was at 1365 Joslin Lake road. Mr. Pickett was a native of Jackson County and well-known in this area.

Survivors include his widow, Winona; his mother, Mrs. Jennie Pickett, both of Unadilla, two sons, Jack and Kent, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Ellen McInnes of Gregory, a brother in Ardena.

Funeral services were held in Stockbridge on Tuesday. Burial was in Pleasant Grove cemetery, Jackson County.

● NEIGHBORING NOTES

Harold Aldon Spooner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Spooner of Pingree road, Howell, enlisted this month in the U. S. Navy, High School Seaman branch. His training will be at the Navy Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

A high school boy is Fowlerville's Champion Cherry Pie Baker. He is John Damman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Damman, who won the local contest over 31 young ladies in the homemaking classes of the high school. Since only girls are eligible for further competition in the baking contests the judges named a second and third place winner who will carry on in the county contest.

A five-mile section of the Ohio-to-Sault Ste Marie Freeway (U.S.-23) was opened, between Brighton and Whitmore Lake, to traffic last Thursday with special ceremonies conducted by the Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce. Now U.S.-23 is a divided four-lane highway from the north edge of Ann Arbor to one-tenth of a mile from U.S.-16.

Nine Stockbridge High school seniors have been listed as ranking among the top ten per cent in the National Merit Scholarship test.

Seventy Dexterites attended the recent dinner honoring officials and welcoming the new firm of Strand to Dexter.

Many other groups are joining the Dexter of Commerce to lend support to their efforts to get toll-free telephone service between Dexter and Chelsea.

Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed two huge barns on the Jack Bradbury farm near Dexter last Wednesday morning. Heroic work by both Dexter and Chelsea firemen saved a third large barn just a few feet away, other buildings, tool shed and milk house.

Boy Scout News

We had our regular meeting last Wednesday. We have a new boy in our troop, his name is Roddy Widmayer. We hope more boys will come on Wednesday for our meetings. The Fox Patrol met at Frank Zezulka's house Sunday at 1 p.m. We hope you are planning to buy one of our Christmas wreaths that we are selling for $2.00.

● Notes of 25 Years Ago

Most of the local deer hunters returned home from the north this week without deer. Deer were reported quite scarce this year.

November 22 was the date for filing applications for the local postmaster's examination. The position will become vacant next February. Six persons have filed.

A company of about 55 gathered in the Congregational church parlors Monday night to honor Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Euler at a farewell party before they move to Fairhope, Alabama.

Funeral services were held Sunday for Lillian Boyle, 57, a former Pinckney resident who died at her home in Leslie. In partnership with Mrs. Iva Halstead Reason, Miss Boyle operated a millinery shop here for a number of years.

The new local receiving station of the Rebel Creamery is reported progressing nicely. New customers are added each week and 70 cans of milk are now being received daily.

Marvin Shirey has resigned from the Independent Gear company and is now working in an Ann Arbor radio store.

The Pinckney Masons played a euchre contest with the Dexter Masonic lodge Saturday night and lost 32 to 22.

About 100 people attended the installation of officers of the local O.E.S. chapter Friday night. Mrs. Alta Meyer was installed as Worthy Matron and Roy Dillingham as Worthy Patron.

Turkey Sandwiches

When there's leftover turkey at your house, consider making turkey sandwiches to store in the freezer. Home economists at Michigan State University say they will keep for about one month. Moisten chopped meat with a little cream cheese or a small amount of mayonnaise or salad dressing. Go easy with the mayonnaise since it separates in the freezer.

Notes of 48 Years Ago

A through freight train killed a prominent Gregory farmer, Will Wood, and a fifteen year old boy, Winfield Bachus at dusk one evening this week near Gregory. Both victims and their families were well-known in this area.

The annual senior class play "The Country Doctor," attracted the largest audience in the history of the school Friday evening. Fifty-two couples attended the dance which followed the performance. The class cleared $90.

W. C. Dunning purchased "Emperor" a handsome three year old imported Belgian stallion at Charlotte last week.

Men's canvas gloves are featured this week at Murphy and Jackson's store at 5 cents per pair.

Twenty-five cents this week would buy your choice: 1 pint fancy oysters; 3 pounds Sunkist raisins; 1 peck onions; 3 pounds of cranberries or 9 pounds of sweet potatoes; at the Monk's Brothers Store. Edison phonograph records were on sale at 31 and 21 cents each.

Bert Cordley of Cornwallis, Ohio, visited at the H. H. Swarthout home all last week.

Hal Erwin of Howell last Tuesday purchased Moonstone Direct, by Direct Hal, at a Chicago horse sale for $1,500.

Glen Darrow was the only member of the grammar school that was not absent or tardy last month.

Mrs. Eleanor Chambers who observed her 84th birthday last week was showered with 88 cards by her friends.

Kathleen Roche, Mary Lynch and Florence Reason visited school last week.

The Congregational Sunday School will serve a 10c supper with the menu listed as follows: Yankee slices, Dutch mixture, English favorites, Irish Kartoffeln, Michigan Greens, Sally Luns, Brazilian Beverage and Preserved Pointers.

Esther Barton, Edwin Blades and Joe Greiner have been on the sick list for sometime.

Library News—

We thank the village of Pinckney for the additional donation of $100 to the Library; also the Winan's Lake Group of the Howell Presbyterian Church and Miss Ella Campbell for books.

The library was well patronized during Book Week, about twice the usual number of books were borrowed. There was a table of new books for children, and the pupils of the three local elementary schools received book mark folders in which to record the names of the ten books they most wished to read. Mrs. Tasch's sixth grade made attractive and cleverly detailed illustrative dioramas of the favorite book which were displayed in the library and will be on view for another week or two.

The committee to select the name of Misty's Colt to be submitted in the national contest met Saturday morning and chose as our entry CHINCO, to identify him with Chiniotegne Island.

This name had been submitted by Susan Craig.

New books for adults include: Shirer, "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich"; Warren, "The Care" and Berry, "Krishna Fluting." The later is an exotic beautifully written book about India and a man whose mission was to kill a man-eating python.

Paper Firm Has New Owner

One of Central Michigan's best known distribution firms announced a change in ownership. The Weissinger Paper Company of Lansing, established in 1929 by Mr. Fred J. Weissinger, has been purchased by Mr. V. A. Triquet, of Lansing. The firm distributes fine paper to printers and industrial firms in Central Michigan.

New officers of the company are Mr. Triquet, President and General Manager; Robert O. Bruegel of East Lansing as Vice President; and Joseph T. Marks of Lansing as Secretary and Treasurer.

With the change in ownership the name of the firm will be changed from the Weissinger Paper Company to the Triquet Paper Company. Mr. Triquet stated, however, the same employees with many years of experience in the paper industry, will continue to offer its customers the same fine quality products and service.

TURKEY SANDWICHES

Turkey for Thanksgiving usually leads to left-over turkey sandwiches for lunch. Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, suggests you may want to prepare turkey sandwiches for the freezer. She adds that these can be kept up to one month.

Most kinds of poultry sandwiches freeze well, and the filling can be made of sliced or chopped turkey meat. Mrs. Dean suggests mixing the chopped meat with cream cheese or a small amount of mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten the ingredients. Since mayonnaise separates in the freezer, use only a minimum amount.

You may also add chopped olives or pickles, grated onion or diced celery. Omit raw vegetables such as lettuce or tomatoes since these lose crispness, color and flavor.

Day-old bread is better than fresh bread for frozen sandwiches. Spread the bread with butter, margarine or cream cheese to keep the filling from soaking through.

Wrap and freeze each sandwich separately. You may wish

"A LITTLE LEARNING CAN BE COSTLY"

By Paul L. Adams
State Attorney General
A little learning can be costly if you let the encyclopedia salesman leave a "free set" of books in your home for so-called advertising purposes.

The "few cents" a day you obligate yourself to pay for a "reference service and keeping the set up to date" often adds up to approximately $400, whether you adopt the ten year or two year plan.

And the "guarantee" you sign is nothing more or less than a contract which guarantees you will pay the price of the encyclopedia.

If you want an encyclopedia, fine. The salesman presently blanketing the State generally are selling reputable and excellent sets of books.

But the techniques, pitches and gimmicks being used are generally nonsense. These people aren't interested in taking a survey, using your letters of recommendations for advertising purposes, or putting a set in the homes of a "select few" as part of an advertising campaign.

They are interested in only one thing — selling you a set of books. And that is usually what you obligate yourself to do when you sign the paper they put in front of you no matter what name the salesman gives it.

If you really want the books — then buy them. But don't be misled by the fast talking pitchman. Know what you are buying and know what the total cost to you will be.

A little knowledge can go a long way but it can also cost a lot of money.

Michigan Bell Announces New Look in Numbers

Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced this week that the telephone number of all of its customers will get a new look sometime within the next five years.

The new style telephone number will consist of seven numerals instead of the two-letter, five-numeral type of telephone number in use today, the company said.

For example, a number such as KLondike 5-2368 would become 555-2368.

The new system, the company said, technically will not change anyone's telephone number. It will simply express it in a different form. In the KLondike example, Michigan Bell explained, the letters K and L are in the same dial slot as the numeral 5.

The change to the new system will start on a progressive basis in most communities beginning next April 1. In several communities, however, the conversion to the new telephone numbering system will be made simultaneously when their service is converted from manual to dial operation within the next year.

Conversion to the new system—known as All Number Calling (ANC)—has been necessitated because Michigan Bell and other Bell System companies throughout the country are running out of the present type of telephone numbers.

ANC also will eliminate misspelling or misunderstanding of exchange names.

Half Lose Licenses

Statistical proof of the leeway given in the case of driver interviews is shown by the fact that only 21,152, or less than 50 percent of the 42,951 motorists called in during the first nine months of 1960, had their licenses suspended or revoked.

"We want to make sure that the chronically irresponsible driver, the drunk driver, and the habitually reckless drivers are kept off of Michigan highways," Hare said. "But we do not want a hard-boiled system which automatically takes a breadwinner off of his driving job or treats a 'first offender' the same way as it does a man or woman with a long and reoccurring conviction record. The law, and the way the Department of State administers it, is firm enough, but it is also fair and practical."

SOPHOMORE ENGLISH

The Sophomore English students completed their unit on the Short Story this week.

After reading the best available in American and English literature, as well as a few translations from other languages, they tried their skill at writing short, short stories.

Jerry Van Slambrook's sketch was selected for publication in the Pinckney Dispatch. It will be submitted to the Detroit News, also, to enter the National Scholastic Contest.

MOTHER NATURE

By Jerry Van Slambrook

With a deep sigh of self contentment I thought to myself how wonderful it felt to be back in my favorite hunting spot.

The trees have been painted beautiful colors that I know only Mother Nature can conjure up.

The pheasants were calling as though they invited me to come and hunt them, like a game we play each year.

As I stepped waist deep into the entanglement of marsh grass, my faithful, obedient dog went bounding on, sniffing for the least scent of game, until the only sign of him was the brown grass rustling above his small, light colored body. Immediately a beautiful cock pheasant came bursting out before him, with his large wings beating rhythmically against his majestic body, his neck stretching out like a rainbow after summer rain. There he was, so beautiful and praiseworthy that I just couldn't shoot him. Before I had my eyes off this beautiful bird, my dog put two more hurriedly into flight. The smoke hadn't cleared from my gun barrel before I had my limit, two nice cocks.

Then in the woods right next to the marsh, the squirrels were running about gathering nuts for the winter months ahead. I walked a short distance until I found a convenient stump to sit on while I awaited my first chance to bag a squirrel.

As I watched and listened I noticed it was that time of fall that with the slightest breath of the northern wind came a cloud of colorful leaves down from the arms that held them there all summer. I was enjoying the beauty so much I nearly forgot that I even had a gun in my hands, let alone that I was hunting, but suddenly the trees verily came to life with squirrels of all shapes and sizes.

I raised the weapon that had served me so well in earlier hunting spees, and began shooting; I shot just small ones, for I knew I had plenty of game for supper and dinner both.

Regretfully I started to leave this hunting paradise; as I did I thought I heard something, somewhere say — Jerry! — get up or you'll be late for school, — but, much to my relief it wasn't a dream, as it very well seemed to be; I think Mother Nature had a way of telling me and everyone else to be thankful that there are fields, streams, and woods for all the recreations we enjoy in Mother Nature's realm.

The ninth grade basketball coach, Mr. Gibson, has been doing a lot of practicing with the boys after school. We think they're doing fine. The team will play their first game in November. Good luck, boys!

TEACHER INTERVIEW

Miss H. Ann Harris is one of the new teachers at Pinckney High this year. She teaches English II and Algebra. Miss Harris came from Mt. Pleasant.

She has a master's degree from the University of Michigan, and she has taught in Baltimore, Maryland, for two years.

METAL SHOP

Industrial Arts Department Metal shop students are studying foundry work. Projects are cast from salvage aluminum. The metal is melted and poured into sand molds to make castings. Wall plaques, book-ends, miniature anvils, small frying pans, ash trays and screw driver handles are made.

CIVICS CLASS

The Civics Class has been busy studying about other countries and the situations they're in. Recently we made maps showing the population of India.

Earlier in the week we saw a film on "Voting Procedures." We had tried to get this film before election, but too many other schools had the same idea. We have found Civics very interesting so far.

The Civics class is enjoying some wonderful new maps. They are of every continent. We want to thank Mr. Burg for helping us get them into working order. We couldn't have done it without him.

Shirley Mitchell

SENIOR INTERVIEW:

Nancy Wegner

Nancy's main interests are drawing and painting; she also has talent for writing. She likes all sports, especially basketball. She enjoys reading when she can find time.

Her favorite subject this year is physiology, because there are so many interesting things to learn. Nancy enjoys her other subjects, also. She is on the honor roll with an "A" average.

Nancy feels that in order to get good grades, one must get all assignments completed, and spend as much time as possible studying.

Nancy's extra-curricular activities include being a member of the Girls' Athletic Association and acting as art editor on the yearbook staff. She enjoys working on class and school projects whenever she can help.

She wants very much to attend college after graduation.

What college she will attend, and curriculum she will pursue are not definite as yet.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY DRIVE DANCE

All students who helped on the Muscular Dystrophy Drive were entertained with a dance and refreshments Thursday evening. The host was Don A. Gibson, chairman of the drive.

The students who worked on the drive were assisted by Mr. Robert Dunn and by the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Gibson wishes to thank all who helped in these words:

"I would like to thank everyone who helped with the drive. The total contribution will be over $400.00. It was the generosity of the civic-minded businessmen of the area which helped the drive tremendously. Thanks again!"

Don A. Gibson

An ironworker was nonchalantly walking the beams high above the street on a new skyscraper, while the pneumatic hammers made a nerve-jangling racket and the compressor below shook the whole structure. When he came down, a man who'd been watching him tapped him on the shoulder.

"I was amazed at your calmness up there. How did you happen to go to work on a job like this?"

"Well," said the worker, "I used to drive a school bus, but my nerves gave out."

I think, you think, he think, all thank;

I copy, you copy, he copy, all flunk.

Newly elected official: "Brother! My only hope is that the voters won't remember all the campaign promises I made."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Michigan lawmakers may be asked next year to pass a bill to help police crack down on distributors of obscene literature—especially to youngsters.

The Legislature, and its bill-drafting agency, the Legislative Service Bureau, may find they have a job on their hands in trying to write a bill that will control smut and still not infringe on the rights of newsstand vendors or offend the literary world and those anxious to guard rights of expression.

A committee of the Michigan House studying circulation of the obscene literature found it was more widespread than had been thought.

Postal officials told the committee, whose chairman is Rep. Harry A. DeMaso (R-Battle Creek), more than 70,000 complaints on smut were received by the Post Office department in the last year.

Groups from various communities told the committee, which has been holding a series of hearings, of problems in their areas.

One well-meaning police officer suggested that the Legislature pass a bill requiring that all newsstand operators be licensed by the state. This, he reasoned, would give law enforcement officials something to hold over the heads of recalcitrant dealers in smut—namely, loss of their license to operate.

The trouble with approaching the problem from this angle is this:

Where do you draw the line between regulating undesirable practices of some operators and interfering with the legitimate circulation of the news and comment to which people are entitled?

Since the distribution point of obscene materials is obviously the easiest place to check it, lawmakers have a ticklish situation in trying to walk the narrow line between necessary regulation and unwarranted interference.

A system which aided the ancient Romans and was familiar to the American pioneers has come to modern Michigan.

Mile posts are being placed on super-highways which are part of the Interstate system. The Highway Department says the posts help travelers estimate their progress.

They also serve as reference points in case of emergency, the Department says.

The mile numbers, which have already been placed on green and white posts on one highway (the Detroit to Toledo freeway, I-75) from the Ohio line to the Monroe-Wayne county line, are the same on both sides of the highway.

This means the numbers will get smaller if a person is traveling south or east, and larger if the traveler is going west or north, the Department says.

Civil defense agencies to protect citizens and help get the state back on an even keel in the event of enemy attack or natural disaster are modernizing in an effort to keep up with the times and be ready in case they are needed.

The state Office of Civil Defense Mobilization (OCDM) will be reorganized next January 1 under a plan approved by the federal government.

Essentially, the changes bring Michigan into line with recent federal innovations in OCDM programs and procedures.

Four state agencies, the Office of Civil Defense, the Health Department, the Highway Department of Administration were slated to receive an additional $101,510 in federal funds to help modernize their programs under the new plans.

The State Civil Defense Council recently approved measures to help state and local units institute their changeover.

County, township and city Civil Defense agencies are faced with more radical changes in some cases to qualify for federal aid and to receive federal approval for their programs.

The advisory council approved a measure requiring state approval before local units could receive federal surplus property or matching funds.

One requirement making it difficult for some local units is that workers in a Civil Defense program must be under a merit employment system to qualify under certain parts of the federal program.

CANDY-TOPPED DANDY

What a topping this cake glories in! Big, plump prunes, tart-sweet and winy, maraschino cherries, red and cheery, and walnuts . . . all captured in a taffy-candy blend of butter and sugar flashed with lemon . . . and standing deep on the tender cake.

This is a cake to cut and serve in fresh, warm squares . . . for coffee-and-dessert perhaps . . . as the happy finale to a family meal . . . as a teatime treat . . . or for late evening after bridge or TV.

Since the cake part is a mix, it is an easy cake to make. As for the topping . . . well, that's sheer fun from the time you start fixing it in the pan to the moment you turn the cake out upside down to reveal its proud candy glaze. Here are the directions:

18 dried prunes, plumped*	1/4 cup prune juice
3/4 cup halved maraschino cherries	1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 cup halved walnut meats	2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup butter	1 package yellow cake mix
1/2 cup light brown sugar	1 teaspoon lemon extract

Pit plumped prunes; place in bottom of greased baking pan 9" x 13" x 2" cut side up. Place cherries and walnuts in open space between prunes. Combine butter, sugar, prune juice (water in which prunes were soaked), lemon rind and lemon juice. Heat until butter melts; pour over prune mixture in pan. Make cake batter, according to directions on package, adding the lemon extract to the mix batter; pour over prune mixture. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, 40-50 minutes. Cool 5-10 minutes on cake rack. Turn out upside down on cake rack. Serve warm.

*To plump prunes, cover with cold water, let stand 24 hours (1 quart water to 1 pound prunes).

EXTENSION NEWS

By MRS. MILDRED CHAPEL

Think twice before you stuff a turkey the night before Thanksgiving. It does save time, but it can be a fine place for bacteria to grow. Storage temperature is a deciding factor.

Safest procedure is to partially prepare the dressing the night before. You can dice the dry bread — toasted or plain — and add dry seasonings. This is covered and stored at room temperature overnight. The broth, however, must be refrigerated. Moist and dry ingredients are then combined and placed in the turkey just before roasting time. If eggs are used, they are added at this time.

When dressing is completely made ahead of time, it must be chilled quickly and kept cold. Warm dressing can be placed in shallow pans to cool in the refrigerator. When a large quantity of warm dressing is packed into a deep container, the interior temperature may not be lowered fast enough to prevent food poisoning bacteria from going to work — even in the refrigerator. This method does take more refrigerator space.

For convenience, many homemakers do stuff a turkey the night before a holiday. This can be risky unless rules for careful handling and refrigeration are followed. First, dressing ingredients must be well chilled before combining and the dressing must be placed in a well chilled bird. The refrigerator is the ideal overnight storage place, though this is not practical in most homes.

If the temperature outdoors is refrigerator cold — 40 degrees or below — some homemakers keep the stuffed turkey on an enclosed porch or other protected place.

THIS CUSTOM MADE LINE OF HOLIDAY GREETINGS HAS BEEN CREATED TO MEET EVERY REQUIREMENT OF THE DISCRIMINATING BUYER AND REPRESENTS THE LATEST IN PERSONAL GREETINGS.

ALL AMERICAN DESSERTS

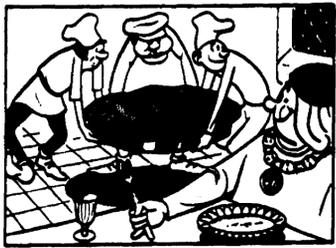

America's near-reverence for its traditions, coupled with a fondness for good eating, has made almost unnecessary the question, "What's for dessert?" at the principal meals served during the holiday season.

Today, centuries after their prototypes were first baked in ovens of England and colonial America, pumpkin and mince pie and fruit cake continue to dominate the dessert menu during the most festive season of the year.

Files of the Louis Livingston Library of Baking, a Chicago library whose history traces back three-quarters of a century, contain articles about (and even recipes for) the pumpkin pies of ancient Greece and Rome, the mince pies of medieval England and the fruit cakes of early Egypt.

Today, America's bakers report that the exacting test of time has made these desserts as typical of the holiday season as roasting turkey, the sound of sleigh bells and auld lang syne choristers.

In capsule form, the Library of Baking reports that English bakers sold "Pumpion pye" more than six centuries ago and that the recipes brought to the colonies were basically the same as those of today. Typical mince pies of medieval England weighed more than 100 pounds and their crusts were confined by iron bands in baking. The first actual fruit cake is thought to have been baked in Egypt several centuries ago from ground wheat, rare spices, oil and honey. It, too, came to us from England.

While these desserts remain basically the same, the modern baker, through years of experimenting with ingredients, techniques and processes, has developed holiday pies and cakes especially suited to the native appetite of Americans.

Farmers' Week at Michigan State University is scheduled for Jan. 30 — Feb. 3, 1961 on the campus at East Lansing.

In 1959, 16 people died in deer and small game hunting accidents in Michigan.

The 1960s should bring a 50-75 per cent increase in American families who can really afford resort vacations, say tourist and resort specialists at the Michigan State University.

Apples in the Oven

Baked apples for dinner are a good idea this time of year. Home economists at Michigan State University note that Jonathan, Stayman Winesap and Wolf River apples rate as "excellent" for baking.

Wool, Lamb Financing Plans Announced

Funds for market promotion on wool and lamb will be deducted from National Wool Act payments earned during the 1960 marketing year at the same rate as in previous years of the program, Mr. Jacob Bontekos, Chairman of the Livingston County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

Deduction rates for the year April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961 will be 1 cent per pound from shorn wool payments and 5 cents per hundred-weight from payments for unshorn lambs. The funds will be used for advertising, promotion and related activities designed to increase the market for wool and lamb.

The wool and lamb producers' self-help promotion program is carried out under an agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council. The present agreement was approved by producers in a referendum in the fall of 1959.

LOW VALUE FARMS HAVE HIGHER TAXES

Michigan farmers in low income brackets pay a bigger percentage of their earnings in state and local property taxes than do farmers in higher income brackets, according to Claude Bitner, former Michigan State University agricultural economics researcher now at Texas A&M College.

Taxes with this effect are known as regressive taxes as compared to proportional taxes, which take a fixed percentage of all incomes, and progressive taxes, which take a bigger percentage of a large income than of a small.

To gather his tax information, Bitner studied the farm account records of 922 Michigan farmers in an MSU farm account record project.

He found that farmers in the three lowest income brackets received only 16.1 per cent of the farm income but paid 31.5 per cent of the taxes.

The present farm personal property exemption could be increased. Property taxes could be lessened and provisions made either for the use of non-property taxes, by local units of government or for an increase in state aid to counties, townships and schools.

Thanksgiving, 1960 . . .

It has been said that if we stopped to thank God for every blessing and pleasure we enjoy, we would never have time to cry over our griefs and disappointments.

Though Thanksgiving has not become as highly commercialized as some of our other holidays, its original meaning seems to have dimmed to the point where, to the average American citizens, the day means only, feast, fun and football. Yes, only; when to millions of destitute peoples in the world getting enough to eat any day is a terrible struggle. Lest the traditional turkey, the trip home or the big game crowd out the time that should be spent in counting our blessings let us consider giving thanks by giving.

Thanksgiving, 1960, launches this year's CARE Food Crusade. It will bring 4 1/4 million packages to the hungry in 20 countries . . . a thanksgiving without end.

The annual fund drive for Muscular Dystrophy is being conducted this week . . . a chance to share in the easing of the suffering.

Tuberculosis killed more Pilgrims than the Indians or the severe cold; today through our contributions to Christmas Seals we are nearing the point where the disease may be eliminated.

These, of course, are just a few of the ways we, as Americans, can show our gratitude.

Actually, as Jeremy Taylor once wrote, "The private and personal blessings we enjoy, the blessings of immunity, safeguard, liberty, and integrity deserve the thanksgiving of a whole life."

Anniversary Dance . . .

Pinckney, a gem of a spot in this Water Wonderland, is 125 years old this year.

A modest celebration will mark this anniversary when the Pinckney Kiwanis Club will host a birthday dance-party for all the residents in the area and former Pinckneyites.

Much water has passed under the bridge since Professor William Kirtland, a land speculator from New York, and his wife, Caroline, a noted author, heeded the "Westward Ho" slogan of the times and joining the early settlers of Michigan, became the first to file for land in this section. Pinckney was named for the Professor's brother, Charles Pinckney Kirtland. In its 125 years of existence the village has contributed its share, in war and peace, to America.

Well-endowed with fine lakes and scenic beauty, the town is a center for summer and winter recreation.

Though Pinckney's life has been placid, its growth unspectacular, its position in many hearts as a beloved hometown knows no equal.

Descendants of the many early settlers still live here, though many of the old residents who came home for the Centennial in 1935 will not be around for this celebration.

Don't miss the chance to join in the celebration on December 3. There is no admission charge. If you live out of town make this an occasion for homecoming . . . but don't stay home — attend the party honoring your hometown in its 125th year.

We made turkeys and Thanksgiving pictures.

MR. BAILER'S ROOM

We would like to thank Mrs. Knight for substituting for Mr. Bailer when he went deer hunting.

Our bulletin board is filled with pictures which we drew.

MRS. TASCH'S ROOM

In a warm up spelling bee, we had the following winners, Rudy Josephson, Jim Baughn, Robert Black, Jeff Davis, Doug Winger, Melba Daniels and Carolyn Sullivan. Patsy Pendergrass, room champion, then gave the words to teams chosen by the above. Linda Wegener won this week's spelling bee, Jim Baughn and John Tasch were the runners-up.

Everyone thinks that the teachers conference turned out very well. There were only a few parents who did not come in our room.

MRS. JOHNSON'S ROOM

We are very happy with the new phonics charts and stand we received this past week.

Some of us are trying very hard to have perfect rows by staying in our seats and keeping our row straight.

We celebrated two birthdays this week, Kenny Hall and Thomas Ehman.

The second and fourth rows were the winners in a homework contest. Each child received a bag of peanuts.

FIRST GRADE NEWS

We wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving. We have been studying about the first Thanksgiving. We made charts about how the Indians helped the Pilgrims, what work Pilgrim Fathers did, what the Pilgrim mothers did, how the Pilgrim children helped.

We are studying about magnets in science. We have many kinds and shapes. Magnets can help people work.

This week we have had several surprises. Our room has new encyclopedias that Mrs. Kellenberger has bought us. The name of them is The Wonderland of Knowledge.

Mrs. Tasch brought us some new book markers. This week is book week.

Mrs. Miller brought us some comics on Hallowe'en.

Our room had 28 parents come to the conference last Wednesday. Mrs. Clarke showed us how to make bookplates for our books last week.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

Twenty-eight mothers out of thirty - three came to our room for the Conferences Days last week. This was a very fine show of interest in the boys and girls of our room. We had a file of our work to give them and a booklet we had made on Iceland.

Our book reports make a very good bulletin board display as do the excellent charts on Iceland telling about the hot springs, the glaciers, the volcanoes, and herring and cod fishing.

We finished our unit on "Our Biggest Plants," the trees.

We have been making build-up posters for Thanksgiving. We have the First Thanksgiving, Preparing the Feast, Returning from Church, and Thanksgiving Today.

On Wednesday we enjoyed taking the Music Ability Tone Test. Some of us hope to learn to play on a band instrument if we pass this test.

FINCKNEY DISPATCH
Wednesday, November 23, 1960

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Van Blaricum went deer hunting.

We are studying about Switzerland.

The children made posters about the insects we are studying in science.

5TH GRADE NEWS

Those on the Honor Roll with A's and B's are Susan Baughn, Linda Hutchings, Sandra Salyer, Bob Potter, Charles Chambers, Nancy Fadenrecht, Diane Halliburton, Marjorie Quesenberry, Katherine Dorn, Linda Zezulka, Douglas Miller, Linda Whitley, Penny Reynolds, Becky Read, Roddy Darrow and Eddie Colone. 16 out of 40 — Some of us just barely made it too!

We enjoyed our Music Test and had Mrs. Cool's 5th Graders take it with us in our room.

We also had our ears tested with earphones and all.

We started our Michigan Unit worked together on our outline and now we're on our way to find out all we can about our State.

Bob Wylie had a birthday this week — he received a card and a spanking.

We're really working on double multiplication and enjoying it very much.

We had 36 out of 40 parents at the Conference. Some Dads came too making it even a bigger average.

THIRD GRADE

We want to thank our parents who came on Parent-Teacher Days. Twenty - four mothers and fathers were represented in our room.

We are finishing our unit on Indians. Our study has covered Indians of the Forest, Plains, Desert and Everglades. We made totem poles and a chart showing the different activities of the Indians.

Our spelling tree is completed and twelve leaves that represent 100% remain in the top of the tree while the rest fall according to the number of words that are missed.

Mrs. Henry would like to thank all the boys and girls who participated in her Music Education Class last Saturday morning. Dr. Morgan was very pleased with the quality of their voices.

CHEMISTRY

During a recent laboratory period, the Chemistry class actively participated in the evaluation of several types of fire extinguishers by attempting to extinguish a gasoline fire. Of the three types tested, the least effective was the carbon tetrachloride extinguisher. Intermediate in its effectiveness was the carbon dioxide extinguisher. Most dramatic was the newer dry powder extinguisher which consists essentially of sodium bicarbonate (common baking soda) kept under pressure. With one brief pass, the simulated blaze was completely smothered.

Conservation Notes

Michigan's pheasant hunters reaped a harvest of slightly more than 1,000,000 birds during the past season to approximate their 23-year kill average, according to an early Conservation Department estimate.

Ringneck kill dropped below the 1,000,000 mark in 1959 for the first time since 1952.

Department field checks of 2,760 hunters through opening weekend, when most of the birds are taken, indicated that this fall's take was only five percent below the average for the last five years. Using this average as an index, Department game men estimate kill at around 1,087,000 birds.

This figure stacks up well with the pre-season mail carrier brood count, the Department's most reliable gauge, which pointed to a harvest of 1,032,000 ringnecks. Estimates from this count have averaged within four percent of the final kill figure which is based on an annual hunter post-card survey.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Milky Way Tragedy

Chub Jackson, the town's only milkman, tells us he missed on an important delivery the other day.

Up way before dawn, Chub went busily about his daily rounds. Three quarts of milk for Mrs. Anderson, a gallon of milk for the Fishers, and so on.

Finished with his deliveries, Chub pulled the empty truck up to his front door. "What would you like for breakfast?" called his missus. "A big bowl of cereal with cream," answered Chub. "Sorry, dear," said Mrs. Jackson, "the milkman passed us by today."

From where I sit, it's wonderful the way folks forget themselves to do things for others. My neighbors are like that. When I have supper with them, they always serve my favorite foods and my favorite beverage—beer! They drink tea themselves, but they're happy to accommodate my preferences. If we all accepted each other's right to have preferences, we'd never "milk" our friendships dry.

Joe Marsh
