Hamburg, Putnam Tax Bills Delayed by Machine Failure

Mrs. Helen Reynolds, Putnam township treasurer, does not have the tax statements. A breakdown of computing machinery in the Livingston County treasurer's office seems to be the reason for the delay. Mrs. Reynolds will mail tax bills to Putnam property owners promptly upon their arrival from the county office.

Hamburg township officials wish to notify all Hamburg taxpayers that there has been a delay in the preparation of tax bills at the county level and that bills have not yet been received by the treasurer for mailing. At this time no approximate date can be predicted as to when they will be available. Taxpayers may be assured that mailing of the bills will begin the moment they are in the hands of the treasurer.

Meanwhile, taxpayers who plan to leave the state for the winter months, or those who for urgent business reasons must have tax receipts, may contact Treasurer, Mrs. Ellen McAfee who will determine the tax and accept payment for same.

Scout Paper Drive Saturday

The Cub Scouts of Pack 58, who have scheduled a paper drive for next Saturday, January 14, report having run into difficulty. The building in which they had planned to store the paper is no longer available to them for this purpose. The Pack would appreciate the use of a garage or barn for a short storage period. Also, those who had planned to donate paper to the drive are urged to contact the Cubs on or before Saturday, just in case arrangements have been made for storage, meanwhile. Every effort will be made to pick up paper as promised. Please call UP 8-3466.

Both the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts had fine Christmas parties which were attended by their families. The Cubs wish to thank Mr. Art Rentz and the Scouts, Mr. Botsford for their generous donation of candy canes.

'AMPER THE POT FOR GOOD COFFEE

That new Christmas coffee maker — or the old one — will brew good coffee if the appliance is managed properly. It must be fed fresh coffee of the right grind, measured to suit the family's taste. Cold water goes into the clean pot, and the brew is made according to the manufacturer's directions.

Georgianne Baker, home management specialist at Michigan State University, says a clean pot really does make a difference in coffee flavor, and it takes more than a quick rinse to clean it. A thorough washing with detergent and water will remove stale coffee oils from the pot, spout and other parts of the appliance.

Miss Baker warns against the scouring of the inside of the pot. This might eventually remove the inside plating. When rancid coffee flavors and odors accumulate, percolate one tablespoon of baking soda or cream of tartar in the pot — unless it is aluminum. For aluminum pots, use vinegar and water. A commercial stain remover should be used only when recommended by the manufacturer. In any cleaning operation, the electric heating unit should be kept dry.

When the coffee maker is not in use, leave it in the open air.

CHERRY PIE CONTEST WINNER EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

As I look back on yesterday, I think that I am dreaming. Just before supper the telephone rang, and I went to answer it, unaware that there was wonderful news coming. I stood there in a daze as I was told that I had won the Cherry-Pie Baking Contest.

As I entered the contest I was thinking that it would be a lot of fun and a worthwhile experience, never dreaming that I would be the winner!

I wish to thank everyone who made this contest possible.

The Pirate's Plank ... Pinckney High School Notes

Mrs. Raymonda Morris, civics teacher of Pinckney High school attended the inaugural ceremony for Francis E. Barron, Probate Judge of Livingston County, on Monday, January 2, at the court house in Howell.

Mr. Donald A. Gibson, history and speech teacher, is back at school after a quick recovery from surgery at Providence hospital in Detroit.

Three excellent films rented from Michigan State University were viewed by the students of the English classes last week. The films were: "How to Read Novels," "How to Read Stories" and "How to Read Poetry."

The faculty and students extend their sympathy to Principal Gilbert Dunn and Mr. Robert Dunn on the death of their mother, Mrs. Orville Dunn.

YOUTH PEACE CORPS PLAN DISCUSSED

On Thursday, January 5, the civics classes had a discussion on president-elect Kennedy's proposal of a "Youth Peace Corps" plan. A few comments follow:

Gary Lee: Yes, I think that the plan Mr. Kennedy has proposed will work, and I am all for it.

Beth Minock: Yes, I think American youth is capable and intelligent enough to handle this job.

Duane Knapp: No, I think we are smart enough for the job, but I don't think we would use our smartness in the right way.

Del Fritz: No, because I think older people can do the job better; I think that older people can get down to business better than the young people.

Donnie McMichael: Yes, if this plan is tried out and succeeds, it will help the people of the world to understand each other better.

Gary Hall: No, it is my guess that our youths would make mistakes as they do back in the U.S.A. Only here, in an entirely new country, under heavier pressure, they are apt to make larger mistakes than ever before. And, as representatives of our United States, the mistakes would be counted as blows against our own country.

Nancy Ritter: I say yes for American youth.

(Note: a "youth" in this case means a person between the ages of 18 and 35.)

STUDENT COUNCIL

The meeting was called to order on Jan. 4, 1961. The minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read and approved. The first points of business on the agenda were the reports from the committee.

All the carnival reports are filed. The medallion has come and will be presented to the queen at the next assembly.

The semi-formal Christmas dance was cancelled, but the original committee will look in to a Valentine Dance and will have a meeting Jan. 5, 1961.

The ways and means committee is looking into the purchase of new folding chairs for the school and will have a meeting Jan. 6, 1961.

Karen Eichman is to write to the W.C.S.C. and find out the date of the next meeting.

The council will have a night meeting Jan 11, 1961, at 7:00 p.m. to revise the Constitution. The next regular meeting will be Jan 25, third hour.

Respectfully submitted,
Nancy Read, Secretary.

A LETTER FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

Vice President Nixon recently sent the following letter to Judy Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haines, Pinckney:

Miss Judy Haines,
Box 102, Pinckney, Mich.

Dear Judy:

I wish to take this opportunity to tell you how much I appreciated your thoughtfulness in writing, and I regret that the demands of election campaigning did not permit me to do so even earlier.

I share the pride your parents must have in your expression of interest in the government and its officials. As I have often said, it is always reassuring to a person in public life to see young people so concerned with local, national, and international affairs. My wish is that you will continue this interest, for, in this way, you are acquiring the knowledge and understanding so necessary in preparing for the responsibilities and obligations of good government, voting and citizenship.

In view of your kindness in writing, I want you to have the enclosures as a remembrance of the 1960 presidential campaign.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,
Richard Nixon

(Judy had written a letter to the vice president expressing her political views after a discussion of campaign issues in civics class earlier in the year.)

Customer in chain-restaurant: "There's a twig in my soup!"

Waitress: "It's all right, sir. We have branches all over the country."

SEMESTER EXAMS

The high school teachers are very busy at the present time preparing semester exams. Anxiety is beginning to run high among the students.

BIOLOGY CLASSES

All biology students have completed and handed in their conservation units. These units, and the semester exams, will count heavily on the first semester markings.

FUTURE NURSES' TRIP

On Thursday, December 22, Mrs. Dinkel and Miss DeBarr took a group of Future Nurses to Howell. First stop was at the old people's home; here the girls sang Christmas carols for the patients. Many of the patients showed their appreciation by joining in the singing.

Next point of interest was the McPherson Hospital. Here the girls were allowed to see the wards, the nursery, the delivery room, the operating rooms, and even the morgue.

The group enjoyed the trip

MICHIGAN MIRROR

G. Mennen Williams has a habit to deal with if he wants to do well in his new job as Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs in the administration of John F. Kennedy.

Put simply, Williams must change the habit of speaking his mind in public on whatever issue he wishes or any question that is put before him.

For 12 years, Williams has been the public leader of the Democratic party in Michigan.

As such, he had to answer primarily to himself for any view he might express on any issue. In short, Williams was the chief policy maker of the particular organization which he represented and as such was a leader to be followed.

In Washington, it is a different story.

As a member of the Kennedy "team," Williams must be extremely cautious not to embarrass or offend the administration. His job, though it may truly deal with more important questions than he faced in Michigan and be of greater significance from the standpoint of world governmental affairs, is nevertheless that of an underling.

That Williams recognizes the difficulty of his new role is certain.

He has admitted he will miss the "individual eminence" which he had as governor. As he made the transition, Williams said he "can't say very much now because now I don't speak until I hear the leader speak."

very much, and they would like to extend their thanks to everyone who made it possible, with an especial "thank you" to Mrs. Stackable, who helped with the planning.

The students of the high school wish to thank Phil Gentile and the other civic-minded men who have worked to keep the pond flooded and in good condition for skating. The pond offers hours of wholesome recreation for everyone, young or "a little older."

The adjustment is, of course, one which many people have made before Williams.

But Williams served as chief-tain for much longer than most who leave to become Indians in the war party of another. He also held a special position among Democrats and was even instrumental in helping his new boss get elected President.

Still, there is no doubt that the habit of 12 years will be hard to break, even for a man of Williams' intellectual ability.

Dignified Otis M. Smith, the Michigan Auditor General and the first Negro to be elected to statewide office, takes himself and his job seriously.

Above all, he believes in his own real ability to do the job to which he was elected.

Smith is proud to be the first of his race to attain such a high position, but he is also cognizant of the fact that it was ability and not inheritance that brought him a position of leadership.

He also seems to feel deeply the gratitude and humility toward the people who elected him that some politicians might sham.

Smith compiled a distinguished record as an attorney, and as chairman of the Public Service Commission before Gov. G. Mennen Williams appointed him Auditor General to fill the vacancy created when Frank Szymanski left to take a Wayne County judgeship.

Smith's election apparently came, not because of the fact that he is a negro, nor in spite of it, but because voters felt he had demonstrated that he could do the job.

"Yellow Jaundice", the liver-damaging ailment which is really infectious hepatitis under another name, hit a peak in Michigan during 1960.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS ASSOCIATION

The F.H.A. girls had a Christmas project in which they sent place mats, apple Santa Claus favors and Christmas cookies to the T.B. Sanatorium in Howell. They also went Christmas caroling on December 19, to the shut-ins in Pinckney. Afterwards, they came back to the Home Ec. Room and had sandwiches, cocoa, and doughnuts.

State health department officials said the disease should decrease slightly in 1961, if it runs true to its pattern of reaching a peak about every six or seven years.

The more than 2,000 cases of the disease reported in the state last year came close to doubling the previous record, set in 1954.

Michigan mirrored a national increase in the disease during 1960. Sanitation breakdowns in certain communities during an unusually wet spring season were largely to blame for the jump, officials said.

Infectious hepatitis spreads through the intestinal-oral route, the doctors said.

Best protection against the disease is a high degree of personal cleanliness, with frequent hand washings a necessity. Winter and spring, when family members are in frequent close contact, are the peak times for outbreaks.

'Crazy' Loon Full of Tricks

The loon may be crazy, but he's learned to dive like a submarine and "fly" underwater, says George Hunt, (Ph.D.) University of Michigan assistant professor of wildlife management.
"These birds of the open water escape their enemies by diving into fairly deep water," Hunt explains. "They use both wings and feet in swimming—actually you could say they fly under water. They've been caught in fish nets as deep as 240 feet.
"More than that, the loon is able to sink straight down into the water like a submarine," Hunt adds. "He accomplishes this by holding his feathers tight against the body and squeezing out the air that might be captured in the feathers, making his body heavier. When the loon wants to emerge from the deep water he can rise straight upward—again like a submarine. How this is accomplished I do not know," Hunt confesses.
Courting loons are sometimes seen running along side by side on the top of the water.
The loon is about three feet long and weighs from eight to ten pounds. Its head is iridescent black, neck and shoulders are checkered black and white and the under parts are white. In winter the upper parts are gray. The long black bill is conical in shape and tapers to a point. These heavy, compact-bodied birds have a wingspread of four to five feet. In flight they appear to be pointed at both ends.
"The loon is still fairly common here in Michigan and is found nesting in the north half of the Lower Peninsula and in all of the Upper Peninsula. You see occasional pairs nesting in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula," Hunt says.
The loon is monogamous, at least for a breeding season, he ret tracks. Denise saw bird tracks and Denise Mc saw deer tracks.

George Marshall caught a little mouse in school. It had come in from the cold to get warm. We gave it to another room to keep.

FIFTH GRADE—

Mrs. Miller
We have begun new phonics lessons—we looked for initial medial and final "b" words in the newspaper. We are making Phonics Books.
Fractions are new, we're having fun learning about them.
Our Michigan Units are being reported and we're learning a great deal about our state.
We are working on individual states doing another unit—for we did not follow our outline nor organize our material. We'll do better next time.
We are going to have a class meeting to get new committees for our classroom jobs.
Spelling Bee Winners: Susan Baughn, Penny Reynolds, Linda Zezulka, Sandra Salyer, Deane Halliburton, Marjorie Quesenberry, Roddy Widmayer, Bob Wylie—after Christmas holidays with no preparation—very well done.
Douglas is absent with a tonsilectomy—Hurry back, we miss you.

adds. The birds become mature at two or three years of age and start to nest.
"The loon is highly territorial," says Hunt. "On a lake of 100 acres in size you will only find one pair. They frighten off others of the same species. Not tolerating much disturbance from mankind, they like to have cover around the water areas. This is a big factor in their decrease in southern Michigan."

BEWARE OF THE CHAIN THAT BINDS —

By PAUL L. ADAMS
State Attorney General

The "chain referral plan" chains more people to a contract they can ill afford to pay than almost any other con-man device.
This gimmick is used by door-to-door salesmen, selling vacuum cleaners, carpeting, siding, recording machines and many other articles. These fast talkers would have you believe that you purchase for free because of the bonus you will receive for each prospect you recommend.
You can't win on this deal: First, because there are only so many people in the community who need the product being sold. The salesman makes the same pitch to each person he sells to. It doesn't take long to clean out all the prospects. You end up paying the top price for whatever you have purchased.
Second, even if you do furnish some prospects, the price for the product is usually so much higher than the normal one that the seller can afford to give you a part of the purchase price back and still make a big profit. If you doubt this statement, take time to check what a similar item would cost at a local store.
No matter what a salesman tells you, you will NOT get something for nothing. Your best bet is to patronize local reputable merchants. They will be in business long after the gimmick boys are gone.
You can always tell an eight-year-old, but you usually have to tell him twice.

"Jocko" and his trooper-handler successfully completed the training course at the St. Louis, Mo., police department canine training school. It is the beginning of a State Police experiment to use a trained dog to track or trail lost persons or criminals.

The four and a half year old "Jocko", whose name was changed from "Dago Von Liebestraum" for command purposes, was a gift of Grant E. Mann of the Liebestraum kennels of Southfield, Mich. The dog is all black, weighs 85 lbs. and was the best of the Liebestraum stock.

Trooper Abbott says the training has made "Jocko" a good all-around police dog. Though he's had extensive training, his schooling will be continued on a daily basis so that he remains adept and improves his skills.

Training phases included such activity as agility, searching buildings and boxes, open field search, chase and hold and tracking. Abbott and "Jocko" will be assigned to the headquarters training bureau.

The dog has become a mem-

HIGHWAY NEWS IN LIVINGSTON COUNTY

An interchange at the junction of Interstate 96 and US-23 Freeways just east of Brighton is being built.

It is one of the largest in the State of Michigan, made up of eight separate bridges and covering about 175 acres.

Structures carrying I-96 have been redesigned to carry three traffic lanes in either direction instead of the usual two lanes. Studies have shown that additional traffic lanes will have to be built on I-96 at this point so ber of the Abbott family, which includes Mrs. Abbott, two girls and a boy, at Monroe. This home pet treatment for the dog is recommended by canine school authorities. A station wagon has been outfitted as a traveling kennel.

Thoroughly trained to act on command, "Jocko" will do only two things on his own, says Trooper Abbot. These are to protect himself and to protect his handler in event of physical attack. The dog is not vicious, takes to the training as a game, and is gentle with the Abbott family members.

the structures were redesigned to accommodate the future lanes.

With this interchange, a continuous 96.7-mile stretch of the US-23 Ohio-to-Soo Freeway will be in use or under construction from Ann Arbor to Kawkawlin, north of Bay City.

COMPLETION DATE on the interchange is Sept. 30, 1962.

LOW BIDDER: L. A. Davison, Lansing, $1,985,527.

A second Livingston county project is for the 2.6-mile I-96 bypass of Brighton.

It will extend the freeway from the I-96 and US-23 interchange west to existing US-16, where it will tie into a 5.7-mile stretch on which bids were opened Dec. 7.

Included in this project are interchanges at Spencer rd. and existing US-16, about two miles west of Brighton and a grade separation at Flint rd.

COMPLETION DATE Sept. 30, 1962.

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives for flowers, gifts visits and all the nice cards I received during my hospital stay.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford J. Burt wish to use this means of expressing sincere thanks to friends in Howell and Livingston county for the generous well wishes for a Merry Christmas by cards, acts and word. We want to especially mention the WSCS of the Methodist church for the cutest little bottle of sweets, no doubt fashioned by members of a Sunday school class, a member of which delivered it; the Carolers of that church who came Friday night and stood in our yard in zero weather and sung several Christmas carols, and last but not least the "Three Wise Men From the East" personified by Brothers Ralph Hawkins, Bob White and Glen O'Lone, who delivered a beautiful basket filled with fruit and sweets, then remained a half to visit (as usual WJ did most of the talking). It was a great Friday for us and who dares to say that "Christ has been taken out of Christmas?" Finally I wish to thank the County Press, where was completed a career of about 70 years as a practical printer by the undersigned, for the space for this statement other than the waste paper basket. Thank you — See You Next Christmas.

FINAL DATE FOR GRAIN PRICE SUPPORT APPROACHING

Farmers expecting to apply for price support loans on their 1960 crops wheat, oats, barley, rye, dry edible beans, soybeans, flaxseed or grain sorghums should do so by January 15, according to Jacob Bontekoe, the Chairman of the Livingston ASC County Committee. The final date for approval of loans and purchase agreements is January 31, 1961, however, in the case of farm-stored loans a minimum of two weeks is required for inspection of storage structures and the grain by loan inspectors and the obtaining of a sample of the grain to be forwarded to a grain laboratory before the loan documents can be completed. If the storage structure and the grain are found to be acceptable, the producer will be given an opportunity to complete the loan. The loan and chattel mortgage must be signed and on file in the county ASC office by January 31, 1961.

Price support may be obtained by the producers of the above commodities through purchase agreements by applying to the county ASC office or on before January 31, 1961. Purchase agreements differ from loans in that the producer receives no funds unless he delivers the commodity to CCC after the maturity date for the loan program. These maturity dates vary, depending on the crop, from one to four months after the final availability date of January 31, 1961.

There's a song in every heart! Most of us feel that we could write a hit song. All we need is the market.

Many advertisements currently running in various publications, offer to take lyrics composed by amateur composers, set them to music and sell them. The would-be composer is assured that the world has great need for his lyrics, and that if he will send in a payment to cover the costs of finding a suitable melody and getting it to market, he will reap much profit. Take care, friends, lest the song turn to discord!

Investigation by my office shows that of the many who send in their lyrics and their payments most never hear of a sale being made. If they hear from the musician at all, it is a request for more money.

Farmers have twice as much invested in machinery as the steel industry and five times as much as the automobile industry.

One of baseball's greatest is gone. Lynwood Thomas 'Schoolboy' Rowe died Sunday at his El Dorado, Arkansas, home following a heart attack. He would have been 51 today. Rowe was a scout for the Detroit Tigers at the time of his death.

A myriad of Tiger fans will recall this veteran right-handed pitcher in action during the 1930's. In 1934 he tied for the American League record for the most consecutive games won—16—in one season. His 15 seasons with the major leagues gave him a all-star game in 1936 and three World Series, 1934, '35-'40.

He will best be remembered in this area for his greatest year, 1934, with the pennant winning Tigers when he won 24 games and lost only eight. In each of the next two seasons he won nineteen games.

It was during that summer of 1934 that his "How'm ah doin', Edna?" gained him almost as much fame as his pitching. He drew the line at the close of a radio interview, intending it for the ears of his sweetheart, Edna Mary Skinner, back in El Dorado. Their marriage plans, Edna had told the press, would have to wait until "Lynwood won the series." He did.

Mrs. Rowe and a son, Lynwood T., and a daughter survive.

Fans and old opponents will always remember the Schoolboy.

The old-time art of quilting is staging a revival, and women throughout the country are giving their homes authentic touches of Americana with modern versions of Colonial quilt patterns. But while quilting was a long and often tedious process for pioneer women, it's much easier for today's homemakers. High-quality fabrics, glazed cotton quilt battings, and automatic sewing machines make it possible for even beginners to create lovely quilts.

APPLE CHEESE HOT BREAD ... for a Wintertime Meal

Here is a hot bread so good you'll be tempted to make a whole meal of it.

The bread itself is a good honest loaf, light, close crumbed and tender. But it's the topping that sets this loaf apart. A fragrant blend of canned apple slices, brown sugar and spices is spread thick over the top. Over that is sprinkled grated cheese, with just enough beaten egg and milk to bind the topping. Last touch . . . poppy seeds. Then into the oven to bake.

Served warm with a hearty meat, fish or chicken salad, or with a thick soup, you have the makin's of a fine satisfying lunch or supper.

It's a simple bread to make. Just allow for the time to rise all yeast breads demand.

1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
3/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 cups (1 can) sliced apples

1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
2 cups grated sharp cheddar cheese
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
2 teaspoons poppy seeds

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Scald 1/4 cup milk; add butter, sugar and salt. Stir until butter is melted. Cool to lukewarm; add yeast. Add to flour and mix to a dough. Knead on floured board about 3-4 minutes. Place in greased bowl; cover. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Press out dough into greased 13" x 9" x 2" pan. Cover; let rise until double in bulk. Combine apples, brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Simmer 5-8 minutes until most of the liquid has evaporated. Cool. Carefully spoon over dough. Sprinkle with cheese. Beat egg; add 1/4 cup milk. Spoon over cheese. Sprinkle with poppy seeds. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees, 30-35 minutes, or until done. Serve warm. Makes 18 servings.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Where else in this world, but America, can citizens call their leader by an informal nickname, in speech and print, without bringing the wrath of state upon their heads?

Just because it is permissible does not lend dignity to such a practice.

Calling the Chief Executive Ike or Jack or ex-president Truman "old boy" is sadly lacking in courtesy.

President-elect John Kennedy would no doubt, prefer to be called by his full name instead of Jack — in print. The press should certainly attempt to respect this practice. History and Civics teachers may stress the proper names but the press influences young readers, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson of Portage Lake have returned home following a three - week vacation in Florida.

The James Whitley family were dinner guests Sunday at the Leonard Fishers, Huntington Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson left Monday for Florida where they plan to spend about three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gove and family of Detroit were Sunday guests at the George Van Norman home.

A linen shower tomorrow evening, at the home of Mrs. Lonnie Van Slambrook of Gregory, will honor Miss Evelyn Hall, a bride-to-be. Mrs. Barbara Clark will assist her mother as hostess.
