Tom Read Reports 'Having A Wonderful Time'

Letters home from Thomas H. Read who is spending the summer in Germany indicate he is having a "wonderful time" and already making plans to "return to Europe again, someday."

Tom, son of Mrs. Howard Read, who went to Europe in June with the Youth For Understanding Teen-age Program sponsored by the Washtenaw Council of Churches is now living with "his family," the Erich Geurtens of Eschweiler, Aachen, Germany. The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Geurtens whom Tom affectionately calls "Mom" and "Dad" and their son, Wolfgang, Tom's "brother" for the time being. The family lives in a town of 40,000, surrounded by many points of interest easily visited on day-long bicycle trips. Tom reports old castles to be especially fascinating to view and to visit. The happy, busy summer is speeding by, he writes, with a trip down the Rhine River, a trip to Paris and a motor jaunt thru Germany by Volkswagen still to come.

Tom's "brother" Wolfgang is attending classes daily and is learning English which he speaks, reads and writes fairly well to date. His parents speak no English at all. The language barrier seems to make little difference in the understanding between hosts and guest. They get along fine and have no real difficulty in communicating. Tom says the food served him ever since he arrived in Europe has been very good and the people he has met everywhere are very friendly.

A fellow exchange student from Bear Lake, Mich., is living in a town near Eschweiler and she and Tom have met on several occasions, once on a bicycle trip.

Social life in the German town is very pleasant, Tom says, with the entire family going out together. Shopping, attending musical concerts and many other activities to thrill the tourist-visitor fill Tom's days in Germany according to his letters home. When Tom returns to Pinckney in September he will be a senior at Pinckney High School.

4-H Mother's Aid Sought

Mrs. Ralph Hall, 4-H leader, has issued an S.O.S. for 4-H mothers to assist in readying the kitchen at the Fowlerville Fair building for next week's opening. About three hours of work on the part of a group of mothers would put the kitchen in 'ship shape' for serving foods to members and visitors.

Donations of berry pies are also asked and may be delivered to the kitchen on any Fair day. 4-H members should get their sewing articles and their summer - foods items to their leaders on Monday morning, July 24. Handi - Hammer members should get their handicraft work to their leader, Marshall Meahon, on that date, too.

WIN IN OHIO

The Huron - Portage Yacht Club's Rebel crew, Skipper Tom Ehman, Jim Barstow and John Davis, won the Lee Wilson Trophy in the Quarter-Finals Races held over the week end of July 15-16 at the Vermilion Boat Club, Vermilion, Ohio, to determine the ILYA representatives for the Area No. 6 Mallory Cup Elimination. They returned home with their prize late Sunday night.

A round - robin series of races with crews changing boats in each race so that each crew gets an opportunity to sail each boat was the way of conducting the Quarter-Finals.

The local crew will now represent the ILYA in the semi-final races to be held in Chicago on August 15. Here they will compete against boats of regional winners from every part of the country.

The winner of the Chicago event will represent the ILYA in the finals to be held in Montreal's Royal St. Laurence Yacht Club, on September 11.

ENGAGED

Mrs. Evelyn Atkins of S. Howell St., Pinckney and Mr. Marshall Atkins of W. Shore Drive, Pinckney, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Donald R. Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Kaiser of Portage Lake. The bride - elect, a graduate of Pinckney High School, is now employed by the Ranch House Grill, Hell, Mich. Mr. Kaiser is employed by ACO, Pinckney. No definite date for the wedding has been set.

RUSH LAKE SKI CLUB ANNOUNCES SHOW DATE

August 19 and 20 were announced Saturday as the dates of the annual Water Show and Ballet of the Rush Lake Water Ski Club. The event will take place on Rush Lake.

At Saturday's meeting of the group, conducted by President Pam Hoeft, the club accepted a donation of a Dyolete Cooler from Mr. Reake.

After the business meeting seven members practiced for a water safety demonstration they were to perform the following day. They are Morrie Scherrens, Jim Wrigglesworth, Greg Reske, Sue McMillan, Barbara Hoeft, Ricky Wrigglesworth and Pam Hoeft.

Announce New Post Office Station at Hell, Michigan

Santa Claus, Indiana, now has a rival. A postal substation at Hell, Michigan, at Hi-Land Lake, became a reality on Saturday, July 15. Housed in the Ranch House Grill located in the center of the small community the office will cancel mail with the postmark shown here. The mail will be sent to the Pinckney Post Office to be dispatched with mail leaving that office each afternoon at 5 p. m. Permanent office hours for the substation will be set later this week.

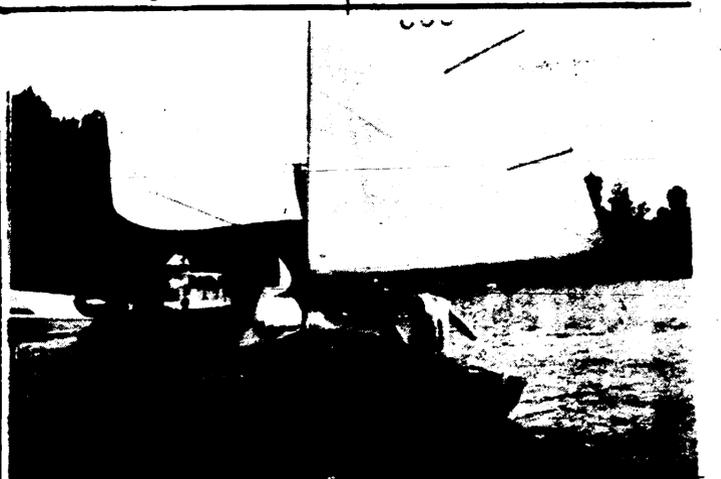

Mrs. Al Dewey, shown here with her husband, will be the clerk in charge of the station. The couple owns the Ranch House. Postmaster Lawrence Baughn of Pinckney (back to camera) prepares to open the new office for business.

Mrs. John Rahrig is in San Diego, California, visiting at the home of her brother, Frank Holmes and family, their first visit in seven years. Mrs. Rahrig flew by turbo-jet from Willow Run last week and was on the plane which made the publicized landing on foam on a Los Angeles, Calif., airport because of a flat tire. She expects to return home on July 26.

Miss Pat Kirschke of Chicago, Ill., is a visitor this week at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kirschke.

TOM EHMAN, of Ypsilanti and Portage Lake, who is the skipper of the Huron-Portage Yacht Club crew which won the Mallory Cup Quarter-finals in Vermilion, Ohio, Sunday, shows in a Rebel practice session on Portage Lake. He is adjusting the spinnaker, a sail used in running before the wind. Crew member Jim Barstow is barely visible. John Davis (not present) is the second crew member.

Items of Interest About Your Friends

David Curtis of Plymouth was a guest several days last week at the home of Neil Hall.

Ralph Hall with three friends from Dexter left Friday for a fishing trip in Canada. They are expected home Tuesday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Raetz who will be observing their 46th wedding anniversary on July 26.

The Merlin Amburgey family is back home after a week's vacation spent in Lovells.

News Notes From HAMBURG

Staff Sergeant Roger Hamilton returned to Goose Bay, Labrador on Friday after a two week stay with his family.

On the sick list this week are Mrs. Ruby Vasher and Clarence Radloff. Both are patients in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Jean Densmore returned to her home last week from St. Joseph where she also had been a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sowers and family returned home last Monday from Manitoulin Island. They spent five days on the Island with Mrs. Sowers' parents the Darel Bakers. The Bakers returned to Lakeland on Saturday.

Patrick Burke of Rush Lake left last week for Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin for an indefinite business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riopelle accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Riopelle of Detroit to Frederick last week. They spent a few days with the Harold Kadys, who are managing the Bass Lake Cabins on US 27.

Miss Judie Inhof and her brother Harold were guests of the Hollis Whites' last week. They are from Lebanon, Pennsylvania and are cousins of Mrs. White. They visited the Chevrolet plant at Flint, Kelloggs in Battle Creek, also went to Windsor, Ontario and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis White and son Edsel called on Mrs. Dorothea Hart in Chelsea on Sunday.

The James Kubat family are vacationing this week at their cabin near Ludington.

The Rush Lake Association met at the cottage of the Joe Garagolias on Sunday afternoon for the annual meeting. Election of officers was in order. They also made plans for a picnic to be held on August 26, the place to be announced later. John McMillan was re-elected as President, Roy Hoeft, elected Vice-President, Joe Basydlo Secretary and Olin Robinson was re-elected as Treasurer. It was also decided that markers would be placed on the lake for the safety of the children.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly and children of E. M-36 are on a two week vacation. They will visit his parents in High Point, Alabama, and will go on to Indian River, Florida where they plan a week of fishing. They are expected to return home this Saturday.

Ralph Schroeder of Bishop Lake Rd., is recuperating at home and is improving steadily. Mr. Schroeder recently had surgery on his throat at the University hospital.

Christine Schroeder is visiting friends in Dearborn this week.

Frost in Freezer Cuts Efficiency

Frost on home freezer walls or shelves cuts down on storage space and makes the freezer inconvenient to use. Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says frost may also cause storage temperature to rise several degrees.

Thin layers of frost can be scraped off as they form, and this will cut down on the number of complete defrostings necessary. Packages of frozen food can be shifted to another shelf or side of the freezer as the frost is scraped from each surface.

Complete defrosting should be done before the frost reaches a depth of one-half inch over a large area of the refrigerated surface. Another defrosting clue appears when frost begins to accumulate on packages that have been stored in the freezer only a few hours. Manufacturer's directions for defrosting should be followed.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

It takes better timing to get a real estate salesman's license in Michigan now than in the past.

Now due to austerity budgets and cost-cutting measures, the examination for real estate salesman in Detroit will be given only two times a month instead of three times each week.

In Lansing, the Corporation and Securities Commission will continue to give the examination each week on Thursday.

The recently-named Corporation and Securities Commission, Raymond F. Clevenger, said other belt-tightening moves would also be made, but he indicated his agency would try to keep everybody now employed on the payroll as long as possible.

Some departments and agencies are being forced to cut people from the work force, and many others are not filling staff vacancies as they occur.

The Corporation and Securities move apparently will cut service slightly without putting too great a hitch in public service.

Fewer examinations for securities dealers and salesmen, residential builders, residential maintenance and alteration contractors will also be offered by the commission in their austerity program.

Driver safety experts hope they have a good thing going for them in the relatively new "Multiple Interview Program" being conducted by the Secretary of State's office for drivers who have accumulated 12 or more violation "points" in a year or less, for the first time in their driving career.

Since the program started early this year, results have been very encouraging, according to the Department of State.

Success is measured by the number of persons who have further moving violations, which count points against the driver, after being called in for a group interview.

Before the Multiple Interview technique was worked out, each driver was called in for a short session with one of the driver improvement experts. These briefings lasted only about 15 minutes each.

Now, drivers who have compiled a bad record come in groups of about 30 to spend up to two hours hearing the law and point system explained, see educational movies, hold a group safety question and answer sessions.

In the first four months of the program, 11 cities were the scene of the group meetings.

James M. Hare, Secretary of State, says the Multiple Interview program permits all the drivers who accumulate 12 points in a year for the first time to be interviewed at a nominal cost to the Department.

Hare was quick to point out that the change in program means absolutely no softening up in dealing with violators.

He said "scofflaws" and other habitual violators would still be severely dealt with, as in the past. Also as in the past, the "first timers" will not generally be prevented from legal driving, but they will be expected to profit from the Multiple Interview, and prove it.

TIS SAID the Irish are a charming race and truly, a great many descendants of the auld sod are that, indeed.

But a true-blue Norseman, Michigan's Gov. John B. Swainson, has stolen a march on the Sons of Erin by extending the cordial hand of friendship thru a most distinguished emissary.

Swainson traces his lineage to Norway, but here's what the 35-year-old chief executive, well known as a personable man, did:

He sent silver card trays, bearing the Governor of Michigan's seal, to the Mayors of Dublin and Cork, Ireland.

Presenting the gift, the best wishes of the people of Michigan and Swainson's personal greetings to His Honor, Robert Briscoe, Lord Mayor of Dublin, and Anthony Barry, his counterpart in Cork, will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jerome V. MacEachin, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas church, East Lansing.

Minsignor MacEachin is the spiritual leader of the pilgrimage going to Europe, includes visits to Ireland and Rome.

Raymond Burns left Friday with the Dominic Conklin family on a 2-week vacation trip into the Black Hills and other points of interest in the Dakotas.

Birthday greetings go today to Faye E. Gardman and to Jack Doyle; on Friday John and Betsy Eisenhardt, Gloria Golden and Marsha Knight will observe their birthdays; on Saturday; Roy Cox, Clifford Van Horn, Derwood Nowak, Bev Richardson, George A. Cottom 3rd, and Marcella Roth; on Sunday, Duane Bennett, Jeanette Emery and Marjorie Brown; Susan Roth's birthday is Monday, July 24; and Rose Kozij and twins Jeanne and Joey Kennedy will blow out the birthday candles on July 25.

Termite Danger Ever Present in Michigan

Beware of termites if you're building a new home.

That's the advice of Ray L. Janes, a Michigan State University entomologist. The sandy soils and occasionally muck soils, of southern Michigan and the shore areas of the Great Lakes are ideal spots for the tiny home insects.

Buildings erected over old woodlots, vineyards or orchards are especially vulnerable to attack by termites, according to Janes. Those areas may be infested with termites before buildings are erected.

Houses built on cement slabs can present the most perplexing problems. Basements, Janes points out, do not prevent termite entry, but treatment is much simpler in the event of a termite invasion.

Where the home pests are a problem, treatment of soil should be strongly considered before building. Janes suggests. This is particularly true if the home is to be of wood construction on a concrete slab. It might well consider warnings in building codes against termites in areas that are known to harbor the pests.

Since the insects travel in wood, the specialist also advises that the burying of old trees, vines, wood or lumber scraps near a house wall may be a direct invitation for termites. Checking with residents in new developments to avoid a building site which is a haven for the termites, unless treated may also be good insurance.

MRS. ZORA RIDENOUR

Funeral services for Mrs. Zora Ridenour, 50, were held last Thursday at Muscatine, Ia.

Mrs. Ridenour died at St. Joseph Mercy hospital on July 10 following a long illness. She had made her home with Mrs. Mabel Zimmerman of Portage Lake for the past four years.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to say a very sincere thank you to everyone who so kindly remembered me during my stay in the hospital. Your cards, flowers and visits meant more than you know.

"For Mother's Sake"—A License Appeal Board Safety Story

"It's not for me that I want my license back," the young man in the black leather jacket pleaded, "It's for my mother!"

Secretary of State James M. Hare tells this story of a teenager who had accumulated a traffic conviction record of 16 points in less than a year, far above the quota. The record showed that the Driver Improvement interviewer had "grounded" him for 60 days for a series of moving violations which included racing two other gang-jammed jalopies through a red light, speeding through a red light, speeding through a school playground, illegal U turns, and failure to stop at a State trunk highway.

"This habitually careless driver felt that this interviewer's decision was unfair," Hare said. "He took advantage of his legal rights and appealed to the local License Appeal Board."

As he faced the three-man appeal board, the young man in the snappy leather jacket told how he wasn't interested in getting his license for his own welfare, but for "mother's sake."

With moist eyes he explained in detail how his mother was in the care of a physician and that he had to drive her once each week to the hospital clinic. How she depended on him to drive her to the supermarket each Saturday. How impossible it would be for his mother to get to church on Sundays without him.

"It's not for me that I want this 60-day suspension removed," he pleaded. "It's for my sick and helpless mother. I do not want my car to go to dances and drive-ins. But she needs it. For her sake, can't I have my license back?"

The Attorney General's representative leaned over and whispered to the Board Chairman, who represents the Secretary of State. He turned and whispered a question of the local police official. Then he turned to the eloquent young speedster and said: "Young man, this Board has made a decision based on the story you have just told us. We will change the decision of the Driver Improvement examiner and give you back your license today."

The young man's face changed from a scowl to a grin of victory. His hearts and flowers pitch had worked.

"You can drive this car any time, day or night," the chairman said. "However, we are including just one restriction."

"Okay, okay," said the eager young man, "what is it?"

"The restriction is that you may operate this vehicle during the next 60 days under the one condition that your mother be in the car AT ALL TIMES when you are operating it."

Hare reports that the young's triumphant grin turned into a frustrated frown. The "firm but fair" policy of the State Department had once again been carried out.

Nearly ten thousand Michigan motorists who have been "grounded" for their poor driving records appealed to local License Appeal Boards for another chance during the first six months of 1961.

TAG-A-LONG WINNER

Lee Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Davis of Fox Point, was the first place winner in the first of the races for the junior group of the Huron-Portage Yacht club held on Portage Lake last Wednesday afternoon. He out-sailed Dave Kevi of Ann Arbor and John Towsley of Portage Lake who came in second and third respectively.

The Juniors will hold their races every Wednesday at 11:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beck returned Wednesday from a vacation trip that included several days of fishing at Muskollange Lake and a stop over of several days at Indian River.

Mrs. Beulah Dewey suffered a badly broken knee-cap in a fall at her Ranch House Grill at Hi-Land Lake last week. She has been hospitalized at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor, for surgery. Mrs. Dewey expects to come home this week with crutches.

"Gigantic Jumbo Economy Family Size" Quart is a Quart is a Quart

By Paul L. Adams
State Attorney General

It was Gertrude Stein who remarked that "A rose is a rose is a rose." I think of this whenever I see a sign telling about the "gigantic jumbo economy family size" quart. However long a train of adjectives you tie to it, a quart is a quart — just that — a certain size container holding a precisely determined amount.

Psychologists say this kind of advertising is supposed to dazzle you with words so that you think you're buying more than you know a quart holds. They say it works, too.

But suppose you don't know how much the bottle container holds?

As long as the word "quart" is there, you have the basis for protecting yourself. Once the standard sizes are abandoned, however, you may be deceived by an infinite number of shapes and sizes — all of which silently deceive you by appearing to be more than they are.

In some areas, such as certain basic foods, there are federal or state laws, governing the use of standard size containers. But, unfortunately, these laws do not cover all or even most of your basic daily needs.

Be on the lookout for the new or odd-sized can, bottle, jar or other container, which does not contain one of the standard measures. In this way you can help to outlaw a psychological assault on your purse that is often, to say the least, on the borderline of fraud.

The names of Marion Kenny of Pinckney and Hilda C. Zech of Gregory appear on the list of notaries recently appointed by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Notes of 48 Years Ago

Many from here attended the Washtenaw Pomona Grange picnic held at Stevenson's Grove at North Lake on Thursday.

Thomas Moran left for Detroit Monday. He will work in the post office there.

Leo Lavey of Pinckney is assisting M. J. Foche on his farm.

John and Fred Wylie, Lester Bowen and Fred Evers attended the horse races in Toledo last Thursday.

A surprise farewell reception was given the H. D. MacDougall family last Tuesday evening by twenty O.E.S. members. Mr. MacDougall has been Supt. of Schools here for the past four years and will assume a similar post at Brighton in September. They are moving next week.

Dr. G. J. Pearson and wife and the Will Millers visited John Croope and family of Webberville the first of the week.

Forecaster W. C. Devereaux of the Cincinnati Weather Bureau leaves Monday for Washington D. C. for a month's duty at headquarters as a member of the national staff. He is a former Pinckneyite.

PLAN CLASS REUNION

The class of 1957 of Pinckney High School has planned a reunion to be held on Sunday, July 23 at the Dexter-Huron Park, Huron River Drive, starting at 12 noon. All graduates and their families are urged to attend bringing their own picnic food and drink. Robert Ward is one of the chairmen in charge of arrangements.

The tradition of the U. S. Marines serving in every clime and place was much in evidence when Marines were among the party as the Wilkes Exploring Expedition reached Antarctica on January 19, 1840.

Now a regular White House ceremony, the Marine Band in Washington first played a concert at the Presidential mansion on January 1, 1803.

State Police Acquire New Rescue Aids

In readiness for emergency, the Michigan State Police are stocking 200 disposable canvas body transfer cases for handling bodies of victims in large scale disasters such as airliner crashes, fires, floods, or tornadoes when local facilities are inadequate or unavailable.

Half will be stored at Detroit Metropolitan airport and the remainder at East Lansing headquarters, ready for relay to needed points. Part of the supply has already been received.

Procurement of the cases was prompted by such a need in natural disasters and recent big airliner crashes when large numbers of persons were killed at one time.

A low cost item, the cases are being made at the Ionia Reformatory. Material was obtained through the federal surplus property program. The cases are water repellent, have full-length zippered openings and six canvas webbing handles for carrying.

Packed five to a box, the cases can be easily carried in to remote, isolated areas by rescue parties on foot. They will be available for disaster use by other police agencies upon request.

MRS. HAUER APPOINTED GIFT CART COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Glen Haas of Fowlerville, chairman of the Womens Auxiliary of the McPherson Community Health Center, has announced that Mrs. R. Fred Hauer, also of Fowlerville, has been appointed to the newly established position of Chairman of the Auxiliary Gift Cart Committee.

Mrs. Hauer, wife of Dr. R. Fred Hauer, will be in charge of the wives of the medical staff member of the Health Center who are volunteering their services on Tuesdays and Fridays in order to take the gift cart throughout the hospital so that patients may select in their rooms items available in the gift shop.

Patients have displayed so much interest in and appreciation for this service that it was found necessary to recruit a work force of the doctors wives to continue this function on a regular basis.

SUNDAY SAILING VICTORIES TOLD

Sunday was just "perfect" for sailing according to the Huron-Portage Yacht Club members who participated in the races on Portage Lake.

Paul Ehman of Ypsilanti emerged victorious in the Flying Scout division with Erv. Wolf of Detroit coming in second in the 2-boat event.

In the Lightning Class Lou Schafer of Ypsilanti out-raced Dr. Robert of Wayne and Robert Steven of Ann Arbor who came in second and third, respectively.

Gary Davis won the Rebel race for the second time this season while Dr. B. C. Payne of Ann Arbor and Dr. John Bartlett of Detroit finished second and third.

William Richard of Portage Lake outdistanced other boats of the Snipe group to win that race and finishing close behind were John Swisher of Ann Arbor and Dr. Wesley Douglas of Detroit.

The first U. S. Marine aviation unit saw duty in Europe during World War I, when it reached France on July 30, 1918.

Miss Nancy Nash as Miss Livingston County participated in the Miss Michigan contest at Muskegon last week and was given special mention in the Muskegon Chronicle, scoring solidly in talent with singing of her medley of show tunes. Nancy reports that the trip and the contest were a very happy and breath-taking experience for her and for her fellow contestants. Meeting Nancy Anne Fleming, Miss America, was the highlight of the program many of the girls agreed.

Miss Karen Southway of Wyoming is the new Miss Michigan. She will represent the state at Atlantic City this fall.

Sergeant Adolph M. Ploeh of the Brighton State Police Post was recently promoted to sergeant IIIA and transferred from Brighton to Detroit. His successor is Sergeant Robert T. Vesey, formerly of Gladstone.

A station hospital valued at $135,000 recently arrived to be stored in Dexter for use in a possible disaster. The 200-bed hospital will be housed in the Dexter Fire Hall. J. Yates Kennedy of Dexter is the Civil Defense Director for zone 5 and Victor Sindlinger is the director for the village.

John Howley, an Ann Arbor resident, died suddenly last Saturday at his summer cottage at Portage Lake. Mr. Howley was known for his activities in the American Legion.

Mrs. Garfield McKillen (the former Kathryn Roche) of Dexter was appointed librarian of the Dexter Library to succeed Mrs. Parker Ward who is moving to Ann Arbor. Mrs. McKillen will assume her new post on September 1.

A two-day celebration over the past week end marked the 25th anniversary of the Argus Camera in Ann Arbor. The Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, merchants and industry joined in the salute to the firm.

The old Hyne Grain Elevator in Brighton is being torn down. It was built in 1870 on S. Main at the railroad tracks. It was the first elevator in Michigan to be powered by a gasoline engine which replaced the original horse power near the turn of the century.

Only about ten per cent of the 1500 eligible voters went to the polls in the recent annual school election at Whitmore Lake. They elected two school board members and passed two tax proposals.

The Edgewood Country Club at Union Lake was recently awarded the contract to build and lease a new building for the New Hudson post office.

Miss Alice Ann Dargis who was killed July 9 in an early morning auto wreck on Coon Lake road just off Pinckney rd. was the daughter of Fowlerville Police officer and Mrs. Vincent Dargis. The family lives at Chemung Lake.

Preparations for drilling a 6000 ft. oil well on the Charles Soule property in Handy township are being made. It is about one and three-quarters miles north of Fowlerville.

THE DRUMMING LOG

by JOHN MADSON

Conservation Department
Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation

THE KID AND ME

As a sportsman, I'm having a high time these days. As a sportsman-father, I'm not doing so well.

There's a ten-year-old boy in our house who is being sold short.

I have always prized my hunting and fishing time, and jealously resent wasting it. I don't care to hunt or fish with novices and dilettantes for they detract from the business at hand, intrude on my private ways and waste time. This feeling, I'm deeply ashamed to say, has even extended to my son.

It's pure selfishness, I know, and partly laziness. But I find that I covet my hunting and fishing trips more each year, and that I am taking them — and myself — much too seriously.

And so I'm gone a lot, and Chris stays at home and plays ball and watches television and waits for me. But I seldom return from hunting or fishing so late that he doesn't come out of his room to greet me, rubbing the sleep from his eyes and saying: "How was it, Dad? How did you do? Tell me how it was!"

And I cuss myself and make a firm resolution to take him along some time, and the next time I go it's with an old companion just as it has always been.

This is strictly one-sided, for Chris never lets me down. Anything he finds or sees, he shares with his old man.

All last winter there were chores around home that took up my spare time. But Chris pestered me constantly, asking me to "please come down to the creek and see Beaver Falls." That creek is a trickle that drains some hilly woods behind our home, and is much too insignificant for any grown man to bother with. Only boys know of it. And all winter long, Chris kept badgering me to see his private creek and his Beaver Falls. I finally grew angry and told him to shut his mouth, for couldn't he see that I was too busy to play and waste time puddling around in his blasted "creek?"

Last Sunday was a rainy, lowering day and I was obviously bored and had no excuse for him. Grumbling to myself, I slipped into a raincoat and followed him down to the creek. Chris capered ahead of me all the way, proudly scouting the easiest trails and leading me into a deep valley.

I heard the falls five minutes before I saw them. Then we came around the shoulder of a timbered hill and saw the rain-swollen stream plunging over a great ledge of lime rock. It was a lovely place with the fifteen-foot waterfall roaring through a narrow gorge down into a hidden pool rimmed with rock walls and shattered ledges. Beside the fall pool was a deep overhang out of the rain, with moss inside to sit on. We loafed there while I smoked, and Chris showed me how to skip flat stones and climb, and we talked all afternoon. A perfect host and guide, he even shared half a rather dirty candy bar with me.

I asked him how many other fathers had seen Beaver Falls. Radiant, he replied: "Dad, you're the first one!" Then, wistfully: "I wanted awful bad for you to see it last winter when it was froze up, but you were too busy."

I won't be too busy next winter, Chris boy. And I won't be too busy for you this Saturday when the bass will be hitting, nor next autumn when the mallards begin pushing through. You showed me your Beaver

Lampshade Linings

Most lampshades on the market have white linings, and this is the kindest choice you can make for your eyes. Home economists at Michigan State University say white reflects the most light and best illuminates the magazine or book you are reading. As lining color deepens, it absorbs more light.

Wash-Day Ease

Fabrics in clothing and household articles can lighten the homemaker's job on wash day. Home economists at Michigan State University note that smooth weaves shed dirt more easily than napped or pile surfaces. Weaves such as jersey or terry cloth require little or no pressing and special fabric finishes can add to ironing ease.

Telephone Lines

By RUSS ENGELHARDT, Manager

PLEASE REFER TO YOUR

new telephone directory before calling your friends. Many numbers have been changed.

This had to be done because of the addition of telephone facilities brought on by growth. Looking up the number in your new directory will help you reach your friends quickly.

EVER HEAR OF A TELEPHONE FARM? It's not like most farms because what's "planted" there by Bell Laboratories' engineers doesn't grow. But the farm does help us analyze and improve various types of underground telephone equipment. Into acres of ground go some 11,000 different items — wires and cable for example — that must be engineered for many years of dependable, trouble-free service. Selected areas are dug up at intervals of from 1 to 32 years to check the equipment's resistance to underground conditions. This helps us in our continuing search for ways to make your telephone service even more dependable.

THE INSIDE STORY. "What do they carry in those little green telephone trucks?" you may have wondered. Well, each truck carries some 400 separate items — from an extension ladder to screws and plastic wood. Every one of Michigan Bell's more than 2,000 installation-repair trucks is stocked in the same way. In an emergency, where trucks must be rushed from one part of the state to another, any installer-repairman would be completely familiar with the layout of whatever truck he was assigned. These little trucks provide him with all the tools and equipment he needs to give you fast, efficient one-stop service when he visits your home.

MICHIGAN ART SHOW AT U-M JULY 20TH

The ninth annual Michigan regional art exhibition and conference will be held at The University of Michigan July 20.

The exhibition in Rackham galleries will include an estimated 170 paintings, many of them award winners in local and regional shows. About 70 Michigan communities will be represented in the exhibition, to remain on display through Aug. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oleski and family returned home Wednesday from a week's vacation spent on a camping trip in the upper peninsula. They camped at Tahquamenon Falls for three days and visited Boyne City for two days.

LIBRARY NEWS

New this week is "Russia and the West" by Kennan.

Con-Con concerns you, and is of vital importance to every resident of Michigan. The library has literature on this subject from the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Citizens for Michigan, and the Michigan Municipal League.

We wish to thank Mrs. Mark Nash, Mrs. George Engquist and Mrs. R. C. Barlow for books, also everyone who helped to make our Bake Sale a big success.
