Local Cagers Enter New Dexter League

Pinckney has a men's basketball team in the newly organized Dexter area Adult Recreation Basketball League. The league, formed to encourage young men who have graduated beyond high school athletics to participate in organized sports, is composed of four teams; Chelsea, Stockbridge, Dexter and Pinckney at the present time. Games are scheduled for every Wednesday evening at Dexter High school. All four teams play weekly with two games on each evening's program. The first game is at 7 p. m.; the second at 8 p. m.

Tonight Stockbridge and Chelsea meet in the first contest; Dexter will challenge Pinckney in the second.

The weekly schedules will continue thru March 21. The public is invited to these games; there is no charge for admission.

In the opening games last Wednesday, Dexter defeated Stockbridge in a close game, 65-63. Top scorer for the winners were Duane Clark with 19 points; Pat Long led Stockbridge with 23 points.

Chelsea came from behind in the final quarter of the game to whip Pinckney, 78-69. Dan Gerkin was high for Pinckney with 28 points while Fredricks and Murphy tied with 11 each for Chelsea.

Phil Gentile is manager of the local team. The players now on the roster are Doug Gerkin, Glen and "Red" Gillet, Don Packer, Dick Darrow, "Tiger" Wilkinson and Tom Wylie.

Seaman, 1st class, Tom Auxier, who is stationed at Treasure Island, Calif., with the Naval Electronics school, spent the recent holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Auxier. Citizens Advisory Group Co-Chairmen Are Named

At its regular meeting last Thursday night the Board of Education of the Pinckney Community schools named co-chairmen to head the four major committees of the Citizens' Advisory Group now being organized to assist the board with the proposed expansion program for which a bond issue election will be held in the near future.

Roy Hoeft and Hugh Radloff will head the Buildings and Facilities committee; Howard Thayer and Willard Wiltse the Curriculum Committee; Ralph Hall and John McMillan, the Finance Committee, and Murray Kennedy and Charles Michael, Site Selection Committee.

These eight men will meet with the Board at the high school tomorrow evening for the purpose of naming sub-committees to study the various items coming under each division. Many citizens will be asked to serve and volunteers for any committee will be welcomed.

At Thursday's meeting a date will be set for the first meeting of the entire Citizens' Group and committee memberships will be completed at that time. Every citizen of the school district would have an opportunity to contribute to the school planning by attending meetings.

After a lengthy study of growth and needs, finances, population trends, enrollment, and existing facilities, the Board decided, by a vote of 5-2, to seek a $1,175,000 bond issue to meet current and well-planned future requirements.

The school election date will be told soon.

Stork Resorts To Birth By Telephone

Ice, sleet and snow may not stop a mail carrier from keeping his appointed rounds, nor can they stop the stork from making a landing. The long-billed fellow, used to arriving under practically any known conditions, was baffled only momentarily last Friday morning when his unexpected destination in Hell, Mich., was frozen over by the slickest kind of ice. He took over by telephone.

It became apparent quite early in the morning that Mrs. John Aldrich would not be able to travel because of the icy roads to the McPherson Health Center in Howell. Her doctor tried, but could not have reached her in time. Three neighborhood women, friends of Mrs. Aldrich, did reach her home on foot, and with Dr. Morris Chelsky of Howell giving instructions over the telephone the women delivered successfully a nine-pound boy at 8:40 a. m.

Mrs. Robert Rush at the telephone directed Mrs. Edward Bennett and Mrs. John Booth in doing what Dr. Chelsky later pronounced a "wonderful job." The doctor arrived at the Aldrich home about 11 a. m. and called an ambulance to take mother and son to the hospital; both were "doing fine."

The baby, not yet named, is the second son of the Aldrich's; daughter Kathy is three years old and Robert John is one year old. Dad is employed at Pinckney Fabricating and Sheet Metal Company here.

HELL FROZEN OVER: Ice, snow, and stillness cover the most popular spot in the heart of Hell, Michigan — the old swimming hole just above the Hi-Land Lake dam that all summer rings with laughter of swimmers and the boom of the water.

A long stranger contemplates the icy beauty of the stream below in a setting that resembles a charcoal sketch.

Fort Hood, Tex. — Army Specialist Four Reace O. Gudith, son of Mrs. Gaynell Gudith, 1225 Byron rd., Howell, Mich., recently participated in Exercise Tiger, a series of command post exercises conducted at Fort Hood, Tex.

The exercises provided Gudith and other members of Headquarters, III Corps the opportunity for practical application of procedures required to maintain the combat readiness of the Corps headquarters.

The 24-year-old soldier, a clerk in the headquarters at the fort, entered the Army in January, 1960 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He was graduated from Pinckney High School in 1957.

Great Lakes, Ill. — Geoffrey C. Linden, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. Linden of 11970 Portage Lake Ave., Pinckney, Mich., completed two weeks of Naval Reserve recruit training, Dec. 30, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Delegate Believes Local Government Question Will Be Solved By January 15th

Our Committee on Local Government has called a week end session, January 12, 13 and possibly 14, in an effort to complete as much of its work as possible. I believe, without a doubt, that we will have the complete local government package wrapped up by the middle of the month. I feel confident that every branch of local government in the state will have, "at its option," the necessary tools to draft for themselves a type of government they so desire.

One problem you might be interested in is in relation to County Health Departments. It seems we have 14 counties in Michigan that do not have County Health Departments and there are those that feel the constitution should provide that the Legislature require all counties or groups of counties to organize and support a County Health Department. Another problem is, "in what method we are going to best serve the southeastern counties in Michigan with a metropolitan form of government?"

Mr. Madar, (D) from Detroit, appeared before our committee on January 5 to speak in support of his proposal to allow a city of over one million population to become an individual county.

The Committee on Declaration of Rights, Suffrage and Election are expected to complete their work within the next two or three weeks, according to Chairman Dr. Pollock.

I might say that the committees have been holding evening meetings for sometime now and I can see no relief from the long hours in the near future. Our general sessions are growing steadily longer as each constitutional measure comes up for debate and there is even talk about the possibility of night sessions.

I would like to remind you once more that you are welcome to attend the Convention.

Letters To Editor Discuss Various Education Problems

To the Editor:

In reference to question number 15 submitted to the Parents' Club for the November 30th meeting at the Elementary School which was not answered by the panel: We feel that this is the real issue before the people. The public is entitled to a definite answer. The alternate proposal is — that building is necessary at the elementary level immediately. This will alleviate crowded conditions which exist at the present time. It will be necessary to acquire additional property adjacent to the present Pinckney Elementary School. We also feel that a multi-purpose room at Hamburg School is long overdue. We feel that a citizen committee is necessary to work with the people to get an opinion canvas of pertinent questions concerning the demolition of the old section of the present high school and erection of any needed classrooms as determined with the help of the administration. We also feel that the teachers should be consulted before a proposal for a bond issue is considered. We definitely feel that this program will meet the needs of the district and will not put our district into financial chaos.

Thomas Line, Trustee
Lyle Kinsey, Treasurer
Board of Education

(Editor's Note: Question fifteen referred to above was one of the sixteen questions submitted earlier by interested citizens to the Parents Club who in turn prepared a list of the questions for the five school board members they had invited to answer same. The question reads:

15. "This taxpayer says no to $1,175,000. What are the alternatives? For this area, is a separate building necessary for Junior High School? Why not trade school sites (elementary for high school and vice versa)? Let's have school for learning first of all, and not concern ourselves with more prosperous nearby school districts. School rooms first and athletic fields for all."

To the Editor:

At the November meeting of the Pinckney Parent's Club I was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the possibility of advance weekly publication of school lunch menus in the Pinckney Dispatch.

We have no quarrel with the menus as they are because we don't know what they are. We have heard so much about the balanced diet and we are anxious to know that our children get a balanced diet. Most of us could not wear the title of "Dietitian" but most mothers are quite expert in the field by the time they have children of school age.

Many has been the time that children have come home to dinner only to find that mother is serving a rerun of the day's school lunch.

We have heard the argument that the quantities of food could not be planned properly because of the children's likes and dislikes. That is admitting failure to say that one must prepare as much of an unpopular dish as of a popular one. Also it is possible to add a tasty side dish with the unpopular main dishes to gain popularity.

It is understood that advance menus are only an indication of ones future plans and that they must remain somewhat flexible; depending on the availability of certain food items.

We feel that this is a just and reasonable request, that it would work no hardship on anyone, and that it is something that we as parents and taxpayers are entitled to.

I further have requested that this be taken up at the next regular meeting of the School Board and that I be allowed to attend so that I can report back to the Parent's Club.

Respectfully yours,
Virginia Slagle

To the Editor:

Please be kind enough to allow the writer space in your paper to deny a false and malicious rumor being spread regarding the writer's interest in the architectural contract for the proposed school building program.

Section 547, Chapter 31 of the General School Laws of the State of Michigan specifically prohibits any school board member from performing any paid service for the school district while holding office.

The Registration Act of the General Laws of the State of Michigan concerning architects and engineers specifically prohibits the writer from any participation in this building program as an architect or in partnership with any other architect.

The writer, for reasons of professional ethics as a member of the American Institute of Architects, will not accept any part of the architectural assignment involved even should he cease to be a member of the Board of Education.

All work of a professional nature that the writer has performed or will perform for the Board of Education such as site evaluation, population trend studies, building and bond issue cost estimates, etc., has been done and will continue to be done on a gratis basis, subject of course to acceptance of such services by a majority of the Board members.

Trustee.

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE — EXTINGUISHERS

Many families are being pressured to buy automatic fire extinguishers misrepresented as approved by the State Fire Marshal and by "name" insurance and chemical companies. Some recent buyers of extinguishers have found them to be not approved as represented, and also to be loaded with chemicals found dangerously toxic when tested by the State Health Department.

The law requires certain standards of safe content for some fire extinguishers, but this law does not cover single family dwellings.

Thus, the homeowner is on his own.

Don't play with fire or with hazardous fire extinguishers. Check sales claims before you buy. If in doubt, ask the State Health Department to analyze the extinguisher for safety of content.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Installment buying and "charge it" plans have grown in popularity with increasing speed in recent years.

Like many mushrooming facets of America's economy, the buy-now, pay-later plans have led to many problems for the consumer, probably the greatest of which is staying within a budgeted income.

With the growth in the use of credit purchasing, a large number of Americans have found themselves over their heads in debt. Others, classed as opportunists or enterprising businessmen depending on how you look at it, found this a chance to help themselves while managing other people's affairs.

"Debt management" came into the vocabulary only a few years ago. It means the planning and management of the financial affairs of a debtor for a fee.

A wage earner who has a lot of creditors hounding him for payment and threatening repossession, garnishment or worse, may hire a debt management firm to work out a compromise with the creditors, for a percentage fee.

Experience in Michigan indicated some of the debt management firms which arose nearly overnight were abusing the purpose of their existence.

Corporation and Securities Commissioner Raymond F. Clevenger said reports indicated some "unscrupulous operators" entered the field.

"It is said that in some cases money turned in (to the manager) is not passed on to creditors; that there are exorbitant forfeiture penalties when management plans are dropped and dishonest advertising and other abuses," said Clevenger.

Before the 1961 session of the legislature, the wage earner had only his own resources to rely on to correct any abuses. Most individuals who found themselves the victims of unreliable debt management programs had enough problems without adding this, lawmakers thought.

The more ethical segments of the debt management industry were also anxious that a policing job be done to get rid of the undesirable practices.

This year Michigan became one of the few states which regulate the business of debt management by license.

"The new law provides that a debt management licensee must show financial responsibility, experience, character and general fitness to warrant belief that the business will be operated fairly and honestly," Clevenger said.

Insurance of payment relays is provided in the law through a requirement that licenses keep a separate bank account for the benefit of creditors and a 15-day time limit is imposed on the remission of funds to creditors.

Legislative apportionment, a possible Achilles' heel for Michigan's Constitutional Convention, may not be as tough a problem as it has been considered.

A plan presented to a con-con committee during its early sessions apparently has gained bi-partisan support outside the convention hall.

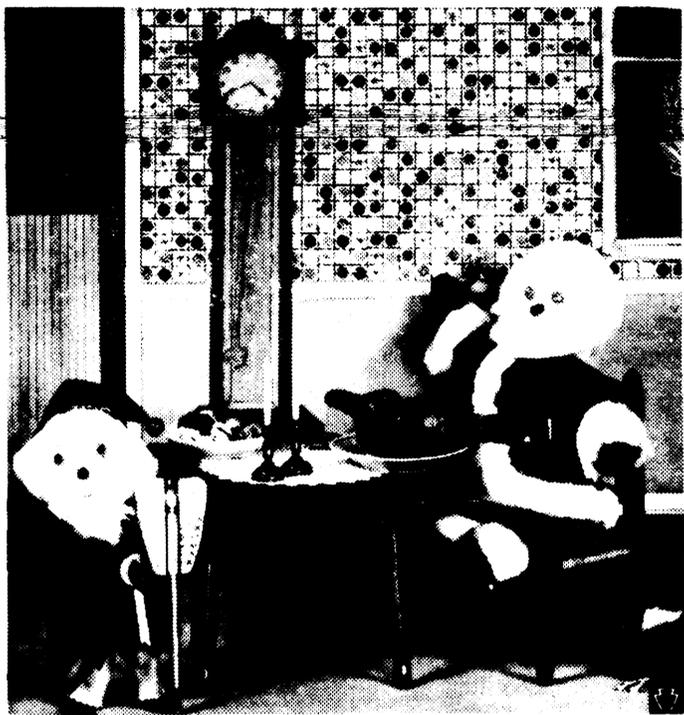

The proposal was first voiced some years ago by former Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler. It was presented to the Con-Con committee by present Republican Chairman George Van Peursem.

It called for a skeleton of State Senate apportionment with an automatic revision clause for each 10-year census. This seemed to fit what authorities say should be in a state's constitution: just framework.

The plan called for a 35-member Senate elected from districts to be spelled out in the Constitution. Each district would have seven members in the Senate. The representational units within each district would, or could, be changed every 10 years as necessary to adjust to population changes.

Although not a final solution, because apportionment of the Senate seats themselves would be left up to the legislature every 10 years, the proposal seemed to have a good chance to take some of the sting from the apportionment problem.

When Santa Sits Down To Christmas Dinner, Be Sure His Goose Is Cooked!

If the cook carries her roast meat thermometer into the dining room while serving Christmas dinner, it will be no breach of etiquette. Even Santa's kitchen elf, Sugarplum, could hardly resist sharing the credit for a perfectly roasted Christmas bird, says Pat Desmond, Taylor Instrument Companies' cooking expert.

Stuffings that have little or no fat are usually preferred with goose. A succulent Apple Apricot Stuffing will extend the number of servings your goose will yield.

APPLE APRICOT STUFFING

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| 1/4 cup butter or bacon fat | 1 tbsp. grated lemon rind |
| 2 quarts diced tart apples | 4 cups diced bread cubes |
| 1/4 cup brown sugar | 2 cups apricots (No. 2 1/2 can), drained and chopped |
| 1/4 tsp. cinnamon | |

Heat butter or bacon fat in a large skillet, add diced apples, brown sugar, cinnamon and lemon rind. Stir over low heat until apples are tender, not mushy. Add bread cubes and apricots, tossing together lightly. Make enough for a 10 to 12 pound goose.

When goose is stuffed roast promptly, Miss Desmond advises. Place bird breast up on rack in a shallow, uncovered pan. Insert meat thermometer either between the first and second rib until tip is in center of the stuffing or in the center of the inside thigh muscle. Roast at 325 F. until thermometer registers 180 F. in stuffing or 190 F. in the leg. Don't add water or fat. During roasting fat should be spooned off as it accumulates.

Flowers for Me, Please!

The old - fashioned custom of sending flowers to funeral, increasingly supplanted by a terse "Please Omit Flowers" in a death notice, is something worth preserving, thinks Rev. W. Carter Merbeier, 34, of St. Matthews Lutheran Church in Philadelphia.

In this month's pastoral letter to his flock, he pleaded eloquently for flowers — at his own funeral, in any case.

"Don't paste my casket with certificates for charities, and professional chair endowments, and the hundred-and-one do-gooder agencies goulishly squeezing through the door of the funeral parlor for a handout.

"If you are going to be big-hearted, do it on your own time . . . and don't wait for death to open up your heart to the needy and the sick.

"I believe flowers are proper and right at the time of death, beautifully symbolic of the brief human life, grown by God and thereby so precious to Him, even at its fading.

"So, no matter what others may say, send ME flowers. And don't use my last mortal remains as a charity income tax deduction."

NEW NYLONS

Nylons now are featured in a box with the same dimensions as a cigaret flip-top box. The purse-sized stockings can be tucked away for emergency replacement.

THE 'GREAT SEAL'

One of the actions of Michigan's first Constitutional Convention in 1835 was to adopt the "Great Seal of the State of Michigan." Although several changes were made in the decorations of the seal, it has remained essentially, as originally drawn by Lewis Cass, governor of the Michigan Territory.

Delegate Thomas Sharpe's Weekly Con-Con Report

We are beginning our third month of the Michigan Constitutional Convention and I would like to express to you some of my personal experiences thus far.

I will always feel in debt to the people of my district for affording me the great privilege of serving them in this capacity as delegate to the Constitutional Convention. I have taken advantage of every possible activity that would lead to the broadening of my education in governmental affairs and I sincerely have received a wealth of knowledge so far, and I realize that we have just begun a real educational phase of writing a great constitution for our state.

I have been pleased with the letters and cards received from the many people living in Livingston and Shiawassee Counties. This is encouraging to know that there is an increase in the interest and concern of our state government. This concern is something we must all indulge in to make certain we supply our grandchildren with the type of government that our forefathers supplied us with. With the threat of Communism hovering over our country like a dark cloud, we should exercise more interest than we do. We are capable of maintaining the greatest free country in the world. If we concern ourselves more with our governmental affairs and not take the attitude of "let someone else do it", this type of apathy is dangerous to our form of government and freedom.

The Committee on Finance and Taxation will hold a public hearing December 6 at 7:30 P. M. in Room B at the Civic Center in Lansing. This hearing will be for taxpayers, both state and local levels, who wish to be heard on anything that should or should not go into the constitution with reference to taxation.

The Committee on Legislative Organization held an open hearing last night which was well represented by people who testified on their views as to reapportionment. This meeting was well attended by the public.

Yesterday, Honorable Don R. Pears, speaker of the House, and Honorable Paul C. Younger, member of the Senate, testified in this same committee in support of the state legislature's efforts over the years in the fields of Education, Mental Health, Welfare Aid and other areas of legislative responsibility. These men presented substantial evidence to refute the claims of Detroit and Wayne County spokesmen that heavy populated Southeastern Michigan is being deprived by Michigan legislators in its fair share of state funds. Detailed charts were made available, showing that the state, in the last fiscal year, paid 66.07% of Detroit's direct relief welfare costs, despite the fact that Detroit's monthly case load averaged only 33 1/2% of the total case load picture. This hearing also was well attended not only by visitors but delegates as well.

Today, Delegate James Pollock, also testified, concerning the same subject of reapportionment, and submitted a plan that would be within the traditional mold of the bicameral system. However, Dr. Pollock stated that perhaps a unicameral legislature, elected by proportional representation would give Michigan an ideal system of representation, but at the moment, he thought it did not appear to be feasible. Dr. Pollock recommended that we increase the size of the Senate to 39 in order to avoid the prospects of a tie vote and to allow the legislature greater flexibility in drawing new district lines and to eliminate existing inadequacies. The 5 new seats should be assigned for the first 10 year period, after the ratification of the constitution as follows: Two additional seats for Oakland County, one additional seat, each, for Genesee, Macomb, and Wayne County. This would only involve the Convention in providing for new district lines for these four counties. For the future, provide that the legislature should reapportion the boundaries of the senatorial district by the end of the calendar year, following the year in which a federal decennial census is taken. Dr. Pollock further stated, so far as the House of Representatives was concerned, only minor improvements were needed. He also stated that his plan was far from what he considered the ideal plan. As an observer, I would like to state that this is one of many plans that have been submitted to the committee for consideration.

At the close of the meeting today, the committee voted to hold a public hearing in Detroit within the next ten days. It is likely there may be at least one public hearing held somewhere in rural Michigan for the benefit of those who are not able to come to Lansing. However, I would like to remind you again that all hearings and all meetings are open to the public and that you are welcome to attend at any time.

It is gratifying to see someone from the Shiawassee District attend the Convention nearly everyday. I would like to also impress upon you that there has been over 400 proposals for constitutional changes, but a great many of these proposals deal entirely with legislative matters and I believe the finished product will contain a very small percentage of change from our present document.

Thomas G. Sharpe

Library News

We wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams for a new bookcase and Mr. O'Dell for books.

Mr. C. F. Hewlett of Victoria, Texas, has donated two books to the library which he urges everyone to read so they may better understand the communist threat to America, and our Foreign Aid policy: "Communist America, must it be?" by Hurgis and "The Great Giveaway" by Castle.

We are very anxious to supply the books which will meet the needs of the different organizations in Pinckney, such as Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H, etc. We wish that every group leader will send us in writing before the first of the year the name, author and publisher of books they feel will help their groups.

We welcome suggestions for new books from all.

Michigan Mirror MONEY IS BIG PROBLEM FACING LAWMAKERS

Money to operate state government, where and whom it will come from, still looms as the largest problem facing Michigan lawmakers.

The problem reached its peak during the year-long 1959 session of the legislature when state employees faced one payless payday and were threatened with others.

A $71.5 million deficit was on the books at the end of the fiscal year in July and there is no sign that the financial picture has improved since then.

Legislators this year will be hard pressed to find new sources of revenue to meet the demands for governmental services.

In the 1961 budget-writing process, the Democratic administration and the Republican legislature were far apart on estimates of how much was needed and the amount which would be available for operations.

It is still a matter of conjecture as to which was right, but the two sides now appear to be closer together on at least one point: that more money is needed than is available.

Recent meetings of both parties brought forth general agreement that Michigan's citizens want services not now available under the present revenue pattern.

If new money is to be forthcoming, the only unanswered question remaining is to find the most equitable means to tax Michigan citizens to provide it.

Some Republicans feel minimal opposition to the nuisance taxes which were allowed to expire last July indicated these might be desirable areas to impose new, permanent levies.

The beer and liquor, telephone and telegraph, and cigarette and tobacco interests, of course, contend their products and services are already taxed beyond reasonable limits. And there is some justification for their stand.

Pessimists predicted last year that if the four per cent sales tax were approved, it would soon be boosted again and again and again. There were no indications from any quarters that this was being considered.

The business community now complains loudly and with agreement in both parties that its taxes are already too high.

Many Republican lawmakers have been heard in recent weeks to say an income tax might be the lesser of the several undesirable

Gov. John B. Swainson, who proposed this method to the 1961 legislature as part of his fiscal reform program, said he welcomed this stand by some members of the opposition party.

"We haven't seen their votes on the board yet, however," he said. "Speeches sometimes are not backed up when the voting buttons are pushed."

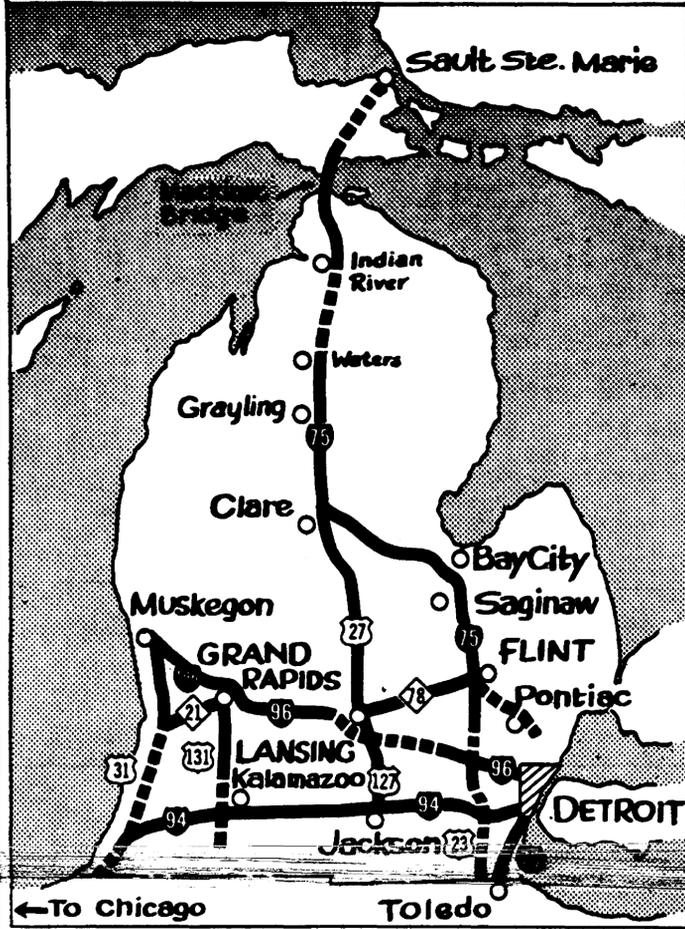

Swainson is sticking to his position that he will not approve an income tax alone, however.

"This would not be the answer," he said. "The total picture of our tax structure must be taken into account."

Recognition by both parties could mean they are ready to sit down and seriously discuss how to put Michigan back on the black side of the ledger.

MICHIGAN'S FREEWAY SYSTEM

— OPEN ■■■ UNDER CONSTRUCTION

MICHIGAN MOTORISTS are now driving on more than 800 miles of freeways that link a dozen of the state's major cities and penetrate its northern resort areas. A record 238 miles of freeway were opened during 1961. Map shows divided four-lane routes—most of them built to freeway standards—now open or under construction.

Any solution, however, must be designed to cover more than a single fiscal year. It must be a program which will keep Michigan's income growing along with its population and demand for services.

State personnel director Franklin D. DeWald would like to dispel the common belief that civil service provisions prevent the discharge of incapable employees.

In a recent 12-month period, 220 state civil service workers were fired, DeWald said. "This record showed state agencies can and do fire undesirable employees," he said. "And this number of dismissals is only a small percentage of the number allowed to resign when faced with removal proceedings."

There are many who believe, however, that the civil service set up leaves administrators without proper authority to operate as efficiently as otherwise and that when a supervisor lodges a complaint about a subordinate, it is he rather than the employee who goes "on trial."

The state's civil service work force of about 32,000 undergoes a turnover of about 10 per cent annually, a civil service commission research report shows.

The study showed that a total of 6,735 state employees have been fired since Michigan's civil service system was established by constitutional amendment in 1941.

"State employees are subject to annual service ratings by their supervisors or an interim service rating may be given at any time," said DeWald. "Commission rules provide an employee who receives a conditional rating for one period and fails to achieve a satisfactory rating for a subsequent period, or an employee who receives an unsatisfactory rating may be dismissed."

Library News

We have two new books this week. Peter Freuchen's "Book of the Seven Seas" will appeal to both adults and young people. This book tells all about the seas — the monsters which inhabit them; man's adventures on the seas from prehistoric times to the present; great naval battles including that of Leyte Gulf; and the great treasures of the sea — food, jewels, oils and minerals. It is fascinating reading.

The other, Gladys Harty Carroll's "Come With Me Home" is the story of Miss Rosamond Lacey; how she influenced the lives of those who knew her, and how they influenced her life, in a small New England town. Her wholesome, mature philosophy of life is heartwarming. Those who like a good book will love this one.

We wish to thank Mrs. Andrew Nesbit; Mrs. Fugate and Mrs. La-Rosa for books.

HERE IS EASIEST WAY TO PUT ON TIRE CHAINS

It can be done in six minutes, and without a jack!

1. W. B. (Walt) Lashar, Jr., chairman of National Safety Council test committee, shows Marion Olund, Clintonville, Wis., the first step. Spread chains on the ground to remove tangles. Reinforced chains are best, and the projecting teeth or cleats should be up.

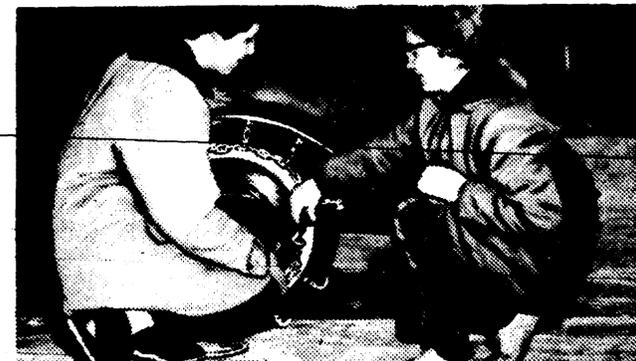

2. Then put end links of side chains on loops of "applicator" and push onto tire as shown. No jack is needed.

3. It is wise to gather the cross chains up close in back of tire on some cars, so chains won't catch on back of fender when car is moved forward to encircle the rear wheels.

4. Now drive ahead one wheel revolution, until side chain fastener is near fender. Remove the spring steel wire "applicator" and fasten the inside hook. Lashar shows Marion that the usually difficult inside hook can be fastened by "feel" (without getting under car) after you practice it once and learn how.

5. Marion has now learned how to put on a pair of tire chains in six minutes, the easy way. She is seen showing Joan Klemp, Clintonville, the final step—fastening simple outside hook.

6. Lashar congratulates the girls on their aptitude and reads them Council's tips for safe winter driving, one of which is "always carry reinforced chains and use them for severe snow or ice conditions to help avoid traffic blockades and accidents."
