State Government Agencies Planning for Michigan Week

State government officials are looking far ahead to two major non-official functions.

Most state agencies are already making plans for their participation in the 1962 Michigan Week in May, and Gov. John B. Swainson has called for attention to the state's contribution to the Seattle World's Fair in June.

Among the agencies with specific plans in the works for Michigan Week, May 20 - 26, is the Department of Public Instruction headed by Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett.

Bartlett, chairman of the school-college activities board for Michigan Week, has called for school administrators to plan field trips to business and industry as part of the ninth annual salute to state interests.

Education Day during the year's observance will be May 24.

"Lights On" programs at night in the schools to focus citizen attention on education opportunities, open houses, or public assemblies in the schools were among Bartlett's other suggestions.

Schools have been active in Michigan Week in the past. Last year a Kalamazoo grade school class staged an all-Michigan fair; high school students took over city offices in Mount Morris on Education Day, and poster, essay and speech contests were conducted in other areas.

June 19 has been set aside as Michigan Day at the 1962 World's Fair at Seattle.

Swainson has asked any college, high school or other group with musical or entertainment units which might be interested in participating in the Michigan Day program to contact his office.

The Governor will be the top representative of the state at the exposition. He said he and his family will fly to Seattle for the special salute to Michigan.

Plans call for an airport welcome for the Swainsons, followed by a motorcade through the West Coast city, a dedication program at the Fair's Plaza of the States, and a luncheon in the Governor's honor. Swainson also will be a guest of honor at a state dinner given by Washington's Gov. Albert D. Rosellini.

Apportionment Commands Attention in Con-Con

THE 144 DELEGATES to Michigan's Constitutional Convention will probably have no thornier problem than that of apportionment. And, this subject will likely dominate discussions and debate in Con-Con over the next few weeks. Dr. John Hannah (R-East Lansing), chairman of the Legislative Organization Committee, indicates an area under discussion to vice-chairman Dr. Melvin Nord (D-Detroit) and Judge Herman Dehnke (R-Harrisville).

The winter season is a less active one for most people than the summer months.

State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis warns that the lessened physical activity may not be entirely to blame for a lazy, tired feeling common during the winter. In fact, this feel may be a first warning of a threat to life.

Carbon monoxide leaking from a furnace can cause tiredness or other discomforts, Heustis said.

"When the cold weather approaches, storm windows go up and most houses are completely sealed off from the outside air," Heustis said. "The insidious nature of carbon monoxide makes it difficult to detect by the human senses, and thus increases the dangers inherent in this silent killer."

Carbon monoxide is colorless, tasteless and odorless, and it affects the human body gradually.

"It is very important that furnaces be checked regularly," said Heustis. "The combustion products of any fuel: oil, gas, coal or wood, are corrosive, and in time cause leaks in the combustion chamber of a furnace."

"Under certain conditions, carbon monoxide can be formed by any of these fuels and with a leaking combustion chamber, tragic results can be expected," Heustis said.

The health commissioner's point was proved recently when a Central Michigan couple was found dead in their home, the victims of an accumulation of deadly carbon monoxide fumes.

Auditor general, a post now filled by general election, is a job whose responsibilities are little known and often misunderstood.

The position is also under considerable discussion by the Constitutional Convention with the view of possibly abolishing it as an elective office.

Under the present constitution and state law, Michigan's Auditor General is a member of the executive branch. He is responsible for an annual audit of all state agencies, commissions and boards, and county governments.

In addition, the auditor general approves subdivision plats, administrators, the annual delinquent tax sale, and prepares the annual financial reports of state and the county governments.

The law places him as a member of the State Administrative Board, Municipal Finance Commission, the State Employees, Judges, and Probate Judges Retirement Boards, State Police Pension Board, Corporation Privilege Tax Board, and Franchise Tax Appeal Board.

New 'Easy' Tax Form Offered

The Internal Revenue Service today reminded taxpayers about the new two page Form 1040 which combines the better features of the 1960 Form 1040 and the discontinued Form 1040W.

R. I. Nixon, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced that page one of the new Form 1040 provides space for listing the sources of income, computation of tax, a listing of tax payments and credits, and a computation of tax due or refund. The Director added that page two provides a schedule for listing exemptions and various schedules for itemizing deductions.

It was further pointed out that schedules for reporting various types of income which previously appeared on page 3 and 4 of the Form 1040 will be contained in a separate Schedule B for 1961. This schedule need only be completed and attached to the Form 1040 when required.

Director Nixon feels that the revised Form 1040 should make the preparation of tax returns much easier for those individuals who previously filed on Forms 1040 and 1040W.

Business Population For County Shows Increase

Today Willard S. Garrison, district manager of the Detroit office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., announced requests for a financial statement were mailed to 469 businesses in Livingston County. He said the figure obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1962 compared with 382 in 1947 showed an increase of 23 per cent for the period.

Mr. Garrison stated that during January business concerns in all

Snow Plow Debate Ended 44 Years Ago

Motorists long ago learned to expect that Michigan highways would be kept free of snow and ice during the winter.

But the State Highway Department reports that when the first snow plowing efforts were made back in 1918 there was a good deal of opposition to the idea.

The old system was to run rollers over the snowy roads, packing them solidly for horse-drawn sleighs. But by 1918, a considerable number of Michigan people owned automobiles which cut deep ruts in the snow packed roads.

The year 1918 was the climax of World War I. Michigan's defense plant workers were playing a vital role in winning the war. Getting them back and forth to work was a matter of prime importance.

A few counties banded together and put up $6,500 and the Liberty Loan Board put up an equal amount. The money was used to clear snow from 590 miles of the state's most important highways.

The idea was conceived as strictly a wartime measure, but car owners liked it and the State Highway Department was assigned the job and the cost.

By 1925, the snow plowing expense had risen to 15 times the amount it cost that first year. And it has been increasing nearly every year since until now it costs an average of $5½ million a year, depending on the weather.

A big storm means lots of money will be spent to clear highways.

But when big storms do come, there's no longer any debate about whether the highways should be cleared.

That debate ended 44 years ago when the rollers were put away and snow plows first went to work on Michigan highways.

Wayne U Offers New Support Plan

Wayne State University officials are awaiting the opening of the legislature January 10 with a still-unanswered question: "Will the lawmakers accept our plan to raise tuition in return for an increase in state support?"

The proposal, made to appropriate legislative committees in October, envisioned the restoration of the $217,000 cut made in the University's appropriation for the current year.

This would be coupled with a $1.25 per credit hour increase in tuition. Money from the two sources would make possible the admission in February of qualified students turned away in September and the restoration of some of the services curtailed or eliminated by the budget cut.

The two amounts to be provided under the plan would be roughly equivalent.

"This matching feature," points out Pres. Clarence B. Hilberry, "means a sharing of responsibility of the taxpayers and by the families immediately concerned, rather than the assignment of the whole cost to either."

In preliminary hearings the legislators received the plan favorably.

The cut made by the legislators in Wayne's allocation last spring, point out Wayne officials, reduced by $217,000, not just the requested budget, but the actual appropriation of the preceding year. It was this feature, in the face of increased demands for Wayne services, which brought about the rejection of some qualified students last September.

The National Safety Council says: Reduced visibility and inadequate traction are major, added hazards of winter driving. Be sure your wiper blades are in good condition, and have arm pressure of one ounce per inch of blade length to sweep off snow and sleet instead of sliding over it. Check defroster, and always carry a pair of reinforced tire chains to back up your ability to go and stop safely.

CHILLED APPLE RICE FOAM

Now here's a folksy, friendly rice dessert that anyone can make with a mere smidgin of effort. Yet it packs a wonderful lot of goodies... canned apple sauce for the surprise tang of apple, coconut, maraschino cherries and almonds. And it has whipped cream frothed through it.

So pretty and tempting is it, you might almost decide to reserve it as a guest-time dessert. But how about the members of the family? Serving it to them is one way to send them from the table in a sunny frame of mind. So better just acknowledge that here's an all round winner and proceed accordingly.

1 cup uncooked rice	1 cup flaked coconut
1 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups apple juice	1 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup sugar	1 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 cups canned apple sauce	1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds
1/2 cup sliced maraschino cherries

Cook rice and salt according to directions on package using apple juice in place of water. Add sugar; cool slightly. Add apple sauce, maraschino cherries, coconut, vanilla and almond extracts; mix well. Chill; just before serving fold in whipped cream and spoon into sherbet glasses or dessert dishes. Garnish with almonds. Makes 8-10 servings.

Notes of
25 Years Ago

The Congregational church is making plans to sponsor an Amateur Broadcasting WLS show at the Community Hall. Local "artists" are invited to try out for parts in the production. Good impersonations are in demand.

Miss Maxine Smith and Lawrence Seim were married at St. Joseph Church in Howell last week. Mrs. Seim was formerly a nurse at McPherson hospital.

Fred Howlett, former Gregory banker and a brother of the late Rep. Henry T. Howlett, was appointed to the job of steward or business manager of Michigan State San., near Howell. He formerly held the same position under Gov. Comstock. Floyd Weeks, whom Howlett succeeds, has been transferred to a new sanitarium now being built at Gaylord.

Dr. W. C. Wylie is the new president of the Dexter Savings Bank. He has served as a director there for a number of years.

The Independent Door Check company recently established here by Ford Lamb and W. C. Atlee is going strong and working 24 hours a day this year. Nine men are employed there now.

Miss Ruth Johnson and Carl Shellhart of Unadilla were married this week in LaGrange, Indiana.

Col. Edwin S. George of Bloomfield Hills was a guest this week at the Leo Frye home.

The new house of the Thomas Clark farm near Silver Lake, owned by Mrs. George Pearson of Howell, is completed and Oliver Clark, the tenant on the farm will occupy it.

Virginia Baughn underwent a tonsillectomy at the Pinckney san. this week.

Dr. James Nash and his sister, Isabel Nash, were injured in an auto accident this week. Their car skidded on ice and hit a telephone pole while they were enroute home.

Mrs. Alma Utley welcomed a granddaughter on Monday, Jan. 15, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert LeVanseler (Sally Roetman) became the parents of a baby girl at St. Joseph Mercy hospital. The little lady weighed seven and one half pounds.

ASK FOR YOUR free copy of the 1962 Telephone Almanac at our Business Office. It contains items of interest for the whole family. Did you know that 1962 marks the 100th Anniversary of the Battle Hymn of the Republic and the abolishment of slavery in the District of Columbia. These and other interesting facts are found in the 1962 edition of the Telephone Almanac. Don't forget to work the Rebus on page 28.

PROPRIETORS OF SMALL BUSINESSES, including farms, are discovering the value and convenience of Michigan Bell's new complete interphone system. With it, telephones used for regular calls can also be used for intercommunication between house or office and yard and outbuildings. It also provides for calls between locations within a building. A special speaker-microphone is available which lets a person who is called answer "hands free" without touching a telephone. For more information on how new interphone service can help you, just call us here at the business office.

HERE'S A GOOD example of how an apparently small change in your Telephone Company's way of doing things results in better service. Overhead phone cables used to be supported by a strong wire strung above them. Not anymore. Now, in many cases a cable-wrapping machine winds the wire around the phone cable. It saves time, and cables last longer. Just one of the many ways Michigan Bell is furnishing better telephone service—and keeping down costs.

CHILLED APPLE RICE FOAM

Now here's a folksy, friendly rice dessert that anyone can make with a mere smidgin of effort. Yet it packs a wonderful lot of goodies... canned apple sauce for the surprise tang of apple, coconut, maraschino cherries and almonds. And it has whipped cream frothed through it.

So pretty and tempting is it, you might almost decide to reserve it as a guest-time dessert. But how about the members of the family? Serving it to them is one way to send them from the table in a sunny frame of mind. So better just acknowledge that here's an all round winner and proceed accordingly.

1 cup uncooked rice
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups apple juice
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups canned apple sauce
1/2 cup sliced maraschino cherries

1 cup flaked coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds

Cook rice and salt according to directions on package using apple juice in place of water. Add sugar; cool slightly. Add apple sauce, maraschino cherries, coconut, vanilla and almond extracts; mix well. Chill; just before serving fold in whipped cream and spoon into sherbet glasses or dessert dishes. Garnish with almonds. Makes 8-10 servings.

ASK FOR YOUR free copy of the 1962 Telephone Almanac at our Business Office. It contains items of interest for the whole family. Did you know that 1962 marks the 100th Anniversary of the Battle Hymn of the Republic and the abolishment of slavery in the District of Columbia. These and other interesting facts are found in the 1962 edition of the Telephone Almanac. Don't forget to work the Rebus on page 28.

PROPRIETORS OF SMALL BUSINESSES, including farms, are discovering the value and convenience of Michigan Bell's new complete interphone system. With it, telephones used for regular calls can also be used for intercommunication between house or office and yard and outbuildings. It also provides for calls between locations within a building. A special speaker-microphone is available which lets a person who is called answer "hands free" without touching a telephone. For more information on how new interphone service can help you, just call us here at the business office.

HERE'S A GOOD example of how an apparently small change in your Telephone Company's way of doing things results in better service. Overhead phone cables used to be supported by a strong wire strung above them. Not any more. Now, in many cases a cable-wrapping machine winds the wire around the phone cable. It saves time, and cables last longer. Just one of the many ways Michigan Bell is furnishing better telephone service—and keeping down costs.

Delegate Sharpe Tells Views on Civil Rights In Speech At Con-Con Convention

Since it has come to my attention that the Committee on Rights, Suffrage and Elections have recommended the deletion of the majority of Section 10, by 7-8 vote, I have found myself acting contrary to what many of you have heard me recommend and that is that we should, "by and large", take the recommendation of the committee as being the last word in sound judgment.

I have been in every session of this Convention since its opening and as you know I have been saving my words on unimportant matters for occasions such as this.

This proposal to delete from our constitution the amendment of 1936 permitting the introduction of certain weapons in evidence, and the amendment of 1952 permitting the introduction of narcotics into evidence whenever the same are seized outside the curtilage of a dwelling house. These amendments were added to the 1908 Constitution after the proper deliberation and a 5-1 vote of the people of the State of Michigan, and I say, "the will of the people is the Law of the Land". This section incidentally is not a part of the so-called horse and buggy constitution, since its last revision was less than ten years ago. Let us not forget these amendments were considered necessary in order to enable the police to effectively combat gangsterism and traffic in narcotics.

What are you proponents of this change going to tell that mother whose daughter is involved with a dope pusher, who is given a license to carry without the threat of having it used against him in court?

I am well aware that the constitution must protect the rights of the people and that we as delegates to this Convention should not be permitted to transgress the rights of the individual. However, we must have the proper regard for the rights of society as well as the duties imposed upon law enforcement officials by the people. A police officer as well as a prosecuting attorney is also bound by our constitution in performing his duties. Protection of our society should not be suppressed, law enforcing officers must have the backing of every honest citizen. They must continue to achieve victory over those in our state who are habitually committing crimes against our society. The liberty of the honest, hard working citizen must be protected from the racketeers and the hoodlums. They have never worked nor do they intend to. This provision on Search and Seizure should not be weakened. We, I am sure, want to live in a state we can be proud of, with the honor and integrity and not one that is full of corruption.

Let us stiffen the backbone of our state and for heavens sake, let us not relax our guard against the thugs and murderers. The hands of our law-enforcing people should not be tied so that he couldn't perform his duties which he has sworn to perform at the best of his ability.

I presume that the proponents of the movement to strike out these provisions are motivated by one or more of the Civil Rights groups, and possibly they honestly feel that the rights of the individual are transgressed by these clauses; however, I don't see how any individual here could object to a clause permitting the seizure of illegally carried guns or narcotics.

I am aware of the decisions of our Supreme Court in the case of the People vs. Gonzales, 356 Mich. Page 247 and the People vs. Zeigler, 358 Mich., Page 355. These cases carefully define the rights of a police officer to search an automobile on the highway. The case held that this constitutional amendment was not in violation of the United States Constitution, and I repeat, not repugnant to United States Constitution.

I would guess the officer who stops an auto for a traffic violation and finds a half dozen stolen typewriters or some other stolen items only to have the evidence suppressed would be discouraged to say the least, but I ask you, would you want a similar circumstance to occur however instead of typewriters the officer would find a quantity of illegal narcotics, would you like to sit back and watch the narcotic peddler go on his merry illegal way?

Illegally carried weapons and narcotics are certainly two items which should not be carried by the violator under immunity given to that violator by us delegates of this Convention. If these clauses come out of the constitution, as has been recommended by the committee, a police officer in order to prosecute, will have to have advance reliable information that such narcotics or guns are actually being carried in the specific automobile before he stops it.

If the criminal is given a license to carry his tools in the same fashion as the carpenter, plumber or even the lawyer, this will encourage the cunningly defying lawless individual to undermine every branch of society in our state.

I would not want to be guilty of following the role of appeasement regardless of any pressure that I might be subject to. I don't believe in giving up essential liberties that the people of Michigan saw the need for and passed the present amendment that we are asked to leave out of the new constitution.

When the roll call vote was taken, it was 74-62 in favor of retaining the language as is. However, this section was brought back for reconsideration on January 11 and was defeated, but I can assure you that it will be brought up again soon. We hope to be able to maintain this section in our constitution as it now stands.

Thomas G. Sharpe.
