McPherson Health Center Gets Certification for Approval from Michigan Department of Health

It was announced recently by Mrs. Lynn Zimmerman that the McPherson Community Health Center has received its annual Maternity Hospital License and Approval for Certification for the fourth year since the hospital opened.

This licenses the hospital to conduct a maternity department of 14 beds and approves certification to the Department of Social Welfare for a total of 92 beds.

The approval was forwarded from Dr. Charles Behney, the acting chief of the Hospital and Consultation License Section of the Michigan Department of Health.

Hospital certification is the state health commissioner's formal notification to the Department of Social Welfare that a hospital meets Sections I through VIII of the Michigan Department of Health "Rules and Minimum Standards for Hospitals."

This certification is based on the findings of a Department of Health sanitarian and a nursing consultant.

At the recent January meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the McPherson Community Health Center, officers were elected for 1962.

New officers are Mrs. Lewis Weeks of Howell, Chairman; Mrs. Henry Disse of Howell, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Alice Gannon of Howell, Recording Secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth Holtford of Howell, Corresponding Secretary.

Mrs. Weeks will announce her committee chairmen appointments at the next Auxiliary meeting.

Weather Wrecks Pirate Schedule

Weather has played havoc with the Pirate's basketball schedule for two weeks straight.

The prospect of bad driving conditions caused the postponement of the Manchester game here Friday just as the icy roads prevented the Chelsea Bulldogs from making their visit here the week before that.

Both games have been rescheduled; Chelsea will come here on February 19 and the Dutchmen will try again on February 27.

Currently the Pirates stand in fifth place in the Washtenaw Conference race just above Manchester and Chelsea who rank 6th and 7th respectively.

For her going-away costume, the new Mrs. Sprague chose a light blue wool sheath with matching accessories and a rose bud corsage from her bridal bouquet. After a short motor trip the couple returned to their new mobile home at the Wil-Mar Trailer Court on E. Grand River in Howell.

New Road Section Completed At Cost of $105,000 to County

There's a new smooth ride available to residents of Livingston County on a section of Mason Road which forms the township line between Handy and Iosco Townships.

Over $105,000 of Motor Vehicle Highway Funds allotted to Livingston County Road Commission went into improving a 3 1/2-mile section of the highway whose prior condition was labeled dangerous by Norman S. Topping, Road Commission Chairman.

Livingston County Road Commission crews began work early last spring to widen the road to 32 feet, eliminate critical rises in the road, build new shoulders and ditches, and haul sand and gravel sub-base material in preparation for new paving.

Forty-six hundred tons of bituminous aggregate material was applied as surfacing for the reconstructed section of the road. Lake & Howell Co., Whitmore Lake construction firm, was contractor for the surfacing contract which was let under the Federal Aid Secondary plan.

Other sections of the Mason Rd. are still in much need of improvement, said Chairman Topping, and construction of these areas will be begun as funds for the projects become available. Mason Road is a part of the Primary Road system in Livingston County.

Economic Development Has Spotlight in Legislative Session

Economic development, mental health, education, and revenues line up as the spotlight - holding issues in both the 1962 political football game and the action agenda for the current legislative session.

Each was the subject of a major message to the Legislature by Gov. John B. Swainson and each was emphasized in programs he sponsored since the 1961 session.

The answers to problems in the first three areas are, of course, heavily dependent on the fourth.

Members of both parties agree on the problems in each area, but their solutions are far apart.

Improvement of the business climate through the revision of statutes for economic development is a problem which separates the parties at a level considered the basis of their respective principles.

Republicans are convinced that workmen's compensation laws and court decisions on this subject as well as the tax structure are the foundation of problems in Michigan's business climate. Democrats contend out-of-state businessmen have not been told enough about the opportunities here and are therefore wary of certain tax laws.

Swainson has recommended expansion of the budget for promotion by the economic development department, a state magazine similar to "Arizona Highways," a council of economic advisers and a Washington office for the department.

Republicans say he missed the point. He should approve their recommendations for changes in the unemployment compensation law, which he vetoed last year. They also would like him to okay extensive revisions in the workmen's compensation law.

There is little likelihood either side will veer from its strongly established position on economic development.

The Governor's conference on mental health last year gave GOP legislators warning of his increased emphasis on this area of government so they were ready for a substantially increased budget request.

Before Swainson had a chance to recommend his multi-million dollar capital outlay program for mental health, and a $601,000 deficit appropriation for the current fiscal year, GOP leaders blasted the department for not spending money they were given previously.

Charles Wagg, mental health director, said much of the $1.4 million in appropriations allowed to lapse was earmarked for specific purpose. This far from satisfied his critics.

The lapsed funds and Swainson's charge that it was time Republican legislators boosted Michigan's mental health facilities "up to the 20th Century" brought new retorts.

"What the Legislature needs is not criticism by the executive office in its attempt to improve the situation, but sympathetic and cooperative support for the programs which will strengthen our mental health program and better the administration thereof," said Rep. Arnell Engstrom, Traverse City Republican who heads the House Ways and Means Committee.

On education, the sides appear close toward agreement that additional funds may be necessary to do the job that needs to be done.

A bi-partisan committee of the Senate, headed by Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, has recommended a $150 million capital outlay program during the next six years for higher education construction.

Members of both parties also basically support the need for expansion of the community college system and in crease in the state aid formula.

Agreement on this area of concern was gleaned from numerous studies which indicated the enormous need for new educational facilities.

Facts supporting the needs included the entry each year of some 50,000 children in public schools, a live birth rate of about 200,000 each year, and sharp annual increases each year in the number of applicants for post-high school work.

Revenues and the budgeting hold the key to what can or will be done in nearly every area of government.

Swainson's messages to the Legislature caller for a record budget.

Republicans appeared more willing to add revenue sources this year than in the several preceding years, but they will still justifiably demand new economies and tight control over expenditures.

Livingston Players Start Production

Now that all the organization work is out of the way, the Livingston Players are ready to start work on their first production.

At their first meeting of 1962 the members elected their officers for the year, adopted their newly formed constitution and by-laws and appointed a play-reading committee to study and recommend the play to be selected for their first production in the spring.

The officers elected for 1962 are: President, Betty Golden, Vice-President, John Stephens, Secretary - Treasurer, Edwin Hyne, Chairman Front of House, Dorcas Walby, Chairman Back of House, Luella Pless, Business Manager, Betty Watkins, Program Chairman, Carmen Wilson.

The Players have 30 charter members and invite any interested adult to join them.

There are many interesting jobs in a community theatre besides acting.

Anyone interested contact Betty Golden.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be Feb. 1, 1962, at 8:00 p. m. West Elementary School in Brighton.

LIBRARY NEWS

New books for adults include: Kirkland Revels by Victoria Holt the author of the popular "Mistress of Mellyn." This is a suspense story of an old manor house on the Cornish downs. Those who like a good story will enjoy this.

Drown the Wind by Hood is a mystery story of the Maine coast with vivid salty characters you'll like.

Franny and Zooey by Salinger (by repeated request) is two episodes in the saga of the Glars family which has been appearing in the New Yorker. Fine writing and critics think a book which will last.

We wish to thank Mrs. Barnes for the cumulative index to the National Geographic Magazine, 1899 - 1946; Mr. Vann Watkins for a collection of books, and Mr. W. Burleridge for copying and presenting to the library plans for building an ice yacht and for sailing one.

To Organize C of C at Hell

Organizing a Chamber of Commerce is the next item on the agenda for the boosters of Hell, (Mich.)

Interest in the little community just south of Pinckney has been growing — from within and without — since the Michigan State Highway Dept. put Hell on the map last year and the United States Post office department opened a postal sub-station for the summer mailing season, with a postmark to delight the summer visitors who drive miles just to mail their post-cards there.

The community boasts nine businesses whose proprietors will be the members of the new Chamber of Commerce.

Joining in the organization are Mel Reinhard, owner of the Playland Recreation Center; Erdly Van Syckle, unofficial mayor of Hell, who operates the Van Syckle House Moving Co.; Herbert Bowles, Hi-Land Gardens Landscaping, Mrs. Beverly Bowles, beauty shop; George Tansley, machine shop; Al Dewey and Postmistress Beulah Dewey, proprietors of the Ranch House Grill; Dewey Steffens, grocery store; Charles and Bea O'Brien of the O'Brien Land Developing company who are to be the owners of

Ground Hog Weather Prediction Due On February 2nd

Will wintry weather continue? The shadow holds the answer. If you're a believer in legend you'll concede that if the groundhog sees his shadow when he comes out of his den February 2, winter will remain. "At least nobody can prove you're wrong."

says George Hunt, University of Michigan assistant professor of wildlife management.

"Nobody really knows what's behind this old-wives' tale. It might have something to do with the animal's hormonal balance, or reduced fat supply during the long hibernation period, which lasts from some time in November until early February in this part of the country."

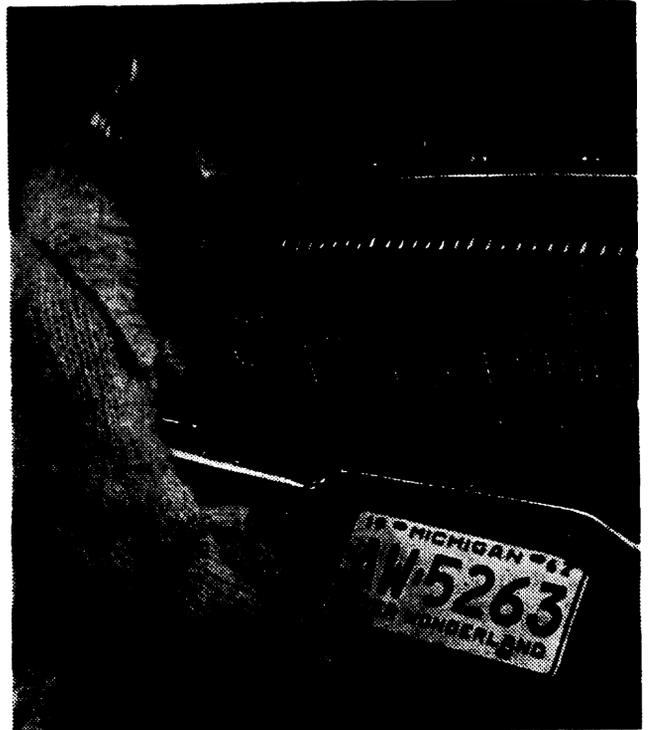

The animal's winter den is usually built on the side of a hill or wooded area and has only one opening. This permits good drainage so he won't get washed out of bed during the long winter sleep.

"The groundhog is a true hibernator," he explains. "He goes into a very sound sleep from which he can't be awakened unless he is warmed up. His body temperature has been noted to go as low as 37.4 degrees, close to freezing. His heartbeat is reduced to four or five times a minute and his respiration rate to perhaps once a minute.

"In appearance, the groundhog is about two feet in length, ranging in color from yellow-brown to almost black. The body is heavy with strong claws and feet for digging.

"Although the groundhog is variously called woodchuck, ground-pig and whistling pig, or just plain whistler, he is actually a member of the squirrel family," Hunt says. "He's called whistler because he makes a shrill whistling sound when alarmed."

ON WITH THE NEW!—Pretty Marilyn Diekman's smile is a reminder that it's time to get 1962 license plates on your car. The deadline is February 28, but it's a good idea to buy them now and miss the last-minute rush. Marilyn thinks the green-on-white plates look fine.

"The nation that secures control of the air will ultimately rule the world."

Who said it? One can find the answer in the 1962 and 40th edition of the Telephone Almanac, now available at any business office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

In addition to information about the weather, astronomical data, important dates, and other interesting facts, the new edition, with its feature drawings, emphasizes the world's struggles to conquer the air — from the first rocket developed by the Chinese to the Space Age of today.

The color of the 1962 edition is blue and the cover supports the Space Age theme with a scratch-board drawing of an experimental earth station for communication by satellite. Incidentally, the author of the above statement is Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, who made the prediction in 1907 when he organized the Aerial Experiment Association.

NOTES FROM THE— ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

EIGHTH GRADE—

This week we divided into two groups for arithmetic. We started a new chapter in Science and finished one in History.

We had a class meeting and elected new class officers. We have all girls in office now. There are Linda Latimer, president, Judy Borovsky, vice president, Joyce King, secretary, and Jennie Divine, treasurer. At our next meeting we planned to have a bake sale Thursday, February 8.

Wednesday we received our report cards. We had two honor rolls. One was with B's and better and the other one was with a B average. Judy Borovsky, Alan Burg, Linda Latimer, Harold Ostrum, Linda Van Blaircum, and Linda Wylie were on the best one. Clair Bell, Jennie Divine, Sharon Froehlich, Joyce King, and Dennis Reynolds were on the B average honor roll.

The assembly was called off and we might be going home at 2:30.

SIXTH GRADE—

Mrs. Tasch asked all of us an arithmetic problem. If we got it right we were doing sixth grade arithmetic. These are the ones that got the problem right: Dean Gardner, Marjorie Quesenberry, Susan Baughn, Penny Reynolds, Linda Zezulka, Jerry Clair, Rick Sowers, Linda Whitley, Sandra Slayer, Bob Porter, Becky Read, Dennis Vertin, Linda Steffed, Bob Wiley, Rod Widmayer, Diane Haliburton, and Charlotte Cocanower.

We saw film strips today and then had a test on it. Most of us did quite well on it.

We read in our reading books then we picked the best reader. So far Bob Wiley, Rod Widmayer, Pat McKenna, and Sam Singer have won.

KINDERGARTEN—

We have finished our winter mural, with children sliding down hill and skating on the ice.

We learned to do weaving with strips of paper, we thought it was fun.

We are learning to pick out the alphabet letters whose names rhyme, and also to recognize words that rhyme in poems.

We are very sorry to hear that Danny Lobdell lost his baby brother.

Our new song is about "The Cowboy."

EIGHTH GRADE—

On the honor roll this month are Donna Parlette, Martha Nash, Bruce Melby, Patsy Scott, Jo-Anne Shugg, Greg Preston, Beverly Umstead and Linda Kaminski.

We have been working on the bulletin board for the hall, for February.

We have divided into three groups for units on Algeria, Egypt and Israel.

We are having a contest to see which group in our room can sell the most seeds, Jo Anne Shugg's or Greg Preston's.

"Dimes" Gifts May Be Mailed

"Check your inside coat pockets and don't overlook your 1962 New March of Dimes contribution envelope," Bob Kennedy, County campaign director, urged today.

"This is a reminder that your contributions are vitally needed to help The National Foundation fight birth defects, arthritis and polio," the director said. "Many have already returned their mail donations but there are others who have forgotten. One local polio patient's bills have amounted to $2,756.02 since the second of November.

"Just what are the advantages of a joint checking account?"

First off, a great advantage to a husband and wife is that either can sign a check to pay a bill, or for any other purpose. Both enjoy, too, the advantages that every checking account offers: Safe, effortless transfers of funds (checks can be safely mailed) . . . easier, more accurate record-keeping (stubs are records; cancelled checks, receipts). Why not get full measure of all these advantages for your family. Start your own joint checking account, here at our bank!

Campbell - Griffiths Vows Spoken January 20th at Local Church

On Saturday night, the 20th of January, Sharon Lee Griffiths and Floyd James Campbell, Jr., spoke their marriage vows at the Community Congregational Church with the Rev. William Hainsworth officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Griffiths of Pinckney, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd James Campbell, Sr., reside at Portage Lake, Pinckney.

The bride wore a long-sleeved gown of peau de soie with a scoop neckline and side panels sweeping to a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a small jeweled crown. She carried white sweetheart roses and a white orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Otis Matteson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a dress of beige peau de soie with a scoop neckline and a pleated midriff trimmed with bows. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Eugene Pieske, sister of the groom, and Miss Chiquita Amburgey, the cousin of the bride, wore emerald green dresses identical in style. All the attendants carried cascade bouquets of yellow mums.

Ronald Eberts of Pinckney served as best man and Donald Griffiths of Mt. Pleasant, Donald Kaiser and Steven Bell, both of Pinckney, were the ushers.

The white gold rings were carried on white satin pillows by nephews of the bride, Timmy Matteson of Pinckney and Bruce Griffiths of Mt. Pleasant.

Teresa Lynn Matteson served as flower girl for her aunt. Her dress was white organza trimmed with lace and bows over pale green. She wore white gloves and carried a basket of yellow mums.

The bride's mother chose a pale blue lace dress with jacket and a blue hat and wore a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore beige brocade dress with jacket and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Marwin Campbell, organist and soloist, sang, "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Mary Lee Aschenbrenner.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Amburgey took charge of the reception immediately following the ceremony at the Elementary School. The cake was cut by Mrs. Donald Griffiths. Miss Dorothy Doyle and Miss Carol Miller presided over the punch table and Miss Nancy Wagner and Miss Tina Jaroslowski took care of the gifts. Mrs. James Knight was in charge of the guest book.

The bride was a 1961 graduate of Pinckney High School. Her husband was graduated from Dexter in 1957 and is now employed at Aco, Inc.
