Work Goes On, But Pay Stops May 15 for Con-Con Delegates

May 15th is drawing near and there are many delegates that finally are becoming aware of the fact that if we are not finished by that time, the pay for delegates will stop but the work will go on, and that they must attend the daily sessions until we are through. In 1908, the delegates worked for a month without pay and it looks like this situation may repeat itself. Perhaps this will have a tendency to speed up the procedures.

Because of these facts, the Convention passed a new work schedule today which will go into effect Monday, April 2. For those who plan to visit the Convention, the following schedule may be of interest to you: Monday, 6:30 P.M. till 11:00 P.M.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9:00 A.M. till 12:00 P.M., 1:30 P.M. till 6:00 P.M. with Wednesday night session from 8:00 until 11:00.

There has been an extensive effort to create a strong Civil Rights Commission composed of four members whose power, under certain proposals, would be very broad. However, because of disagreement as to how much power a commission in our state government should have for the best interest of all the people, this section has been passed over to be taken up again at a later date, hoping we will be able to reach some unanimity within the Convention is to this particular effort.

Friday, March 30, we started the committee proposal on Legislative Organization, Chairmaned by Dr. John A. Hannah. The first thing on consideration is "shall we create a bipartisan apportionment commission which will deal with the apportionment of our State Legislature", after the next decennial census, in the manner prescribed by a formula relating to population and area. This section, dealing with apportionment, is predicted by many delegates to require at least a week for debate.

In regard to the proposal offered by Dr. Hannah in last Friday's session, of which I believe the news services gave adequate coverage, I would like to report that the Convention leaders and a majority of the delegates believe that the problems that would arise would be more than significant, and for that reason, the proposal died without ever being formally presented. I can appreciate Dr. Hannah's sincerity in making this proposal and give him credit for pointing out the obvious negative aspects at the time he presented it. His interest is the same as mine in that we want to draft the best possible constitution for the people of the State of Michigan.

HAMBURG P.T.A. SPONSORS SPRING CARNIVAL

New Section of Ten-Mile Road Completely Rebuilt by County

Ten Mile Road, south of Brighton, will stand the strain of annual spring thawing in this 1½-mile section which has been completely rebuilt by Livingston County Road Commission. More than $22,000 of Road Commission funds went into reconstruction of the base of Ten Mile Road which only two years ago has such a deep mud-hole in this area that the road was impassible. Road Commission crews spread and compacted 12 inches of sand and 6 inches of crushed gravel to provide a stable base for the new asphalt surface.

The old rough road has been condemned as inadequate by Livingston County Road Commission. Ten Mile Road is the second heaviest traveled road in Livingston county. It had been covered with 2 inches of asphalt laid over the natural terrain which made it an easy victim for the road-destroying effects of spring thawing.

Portions of the new road were raised to provide more adequate sight-distances for the motorists, trees were removed to allow for widening and new gravel shoulders have been added.

Hospital Economy Contest Sponsored by Blue Cross

Announcement of the kick-off of Michigan's fourth annual hospital economy contest is generating considerable interest among employees of the McPherson Community Health Center, Mrs. Lynn Zimmerman, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, said today.

The Michigan Hospital Association and Michigan Blue Cross are co-sponsoring the "Fourth Annual Search for New Hospital Achievements" to seek out the leading economy measures developed by the Association's member hospitals and to report these money-saving ideas to the hospital field in general.

Mrs. Zimmerman stated that last year's contest drew 203 entries from member hospitals of the Michigan Hospital Association, which were subsequently distributed to hospitals in the form of a manual. This manual received national recognition as a reservoir of information upon which hospitals can draw so as to increase their efficiency and operation.

Although the McPherson Community Health Center was represented in the 1961 contest that does not mean that our employees have run out of ideas, Mrs. Zimmerman said. Actually it has sharpened their interest and desire to produce more and better economies. We are encouraging this healthy competition not only for the benefit of our employees, but for the patients we serve.

Last year, two employees of McPherson Community Health Center entered the Third Annual Contest. They were Bernard Kirshman, Purchasing Agent, and Mrs. Mary Dake, Medical Records Librarian. This year, Michael Hejjas, Food Service Manager, has already won recognition in the form of a $25.00 bond, for having his idea entered first in the state-wide contest.

Michigan Blue Cross underwrites the contest which awards a total of $4,000 in cash prizes. This includes a Grand Award of $1,000., four $500. awards for the best entry in each hospital size group, and ten special awards of $100. each. Certificates of Honorable Mention will be presented for outstanding entries which do not win a cash prize.

Special Education Election Is Slated for June 11th

A proposal to decide whether or not Livingston County will participate in the state supported program of Special Education will be placed before the school electors of the county at the several annual school elections on June 11, 1962.

At their regular meeting in February, the County Board of Education passed a resolution to submit to the school electors of the constituent school districts of Livingston County the question of adopting sections 309 to 327 inclusive of the School Code of 1959, as amended, which are designed to encourage the education of handicapped children. The annual property tax levied shall be limited to 3/4 of a mill.

State Legislators for the past several years appropriated state funds which provides up to 75% financial aid to counties participating in programs under the Special Education Act. At present, taxpayers of Livingston County are aiding in the support of similar programs in the 32 Michigan Counties which have voted to support special education, and receive no benefit from this support.

What is special education? It is that program in a school which is designed to give additional help to handicapped children. These children include those who are mentally handicapped, emotionally disturbed, hard of hearing, partially sighted, physically disabled, and those who need speech correction.

Each of these children need extra time from his teacher as well as special training to help him to overcome to some degree or to accept his handicap so that he may become a productive, self-reliant, emotionally mature adult, capable and independent, and prepared either to continue his schooling or to find employment.

Without special training these children do not get the help they need. Not only do teachers find it impossible to devote the necessary time to these pupils, they have not had the necessary preparation to cope with the problems of these exceptional children.

Next week the specific needs of Livingston County will be examined as well as other phases of special education which will help the voters be more adequately informed when the time comes for making this vital decision.

Attorney General Warns Public About Misleading Plant Ads

(NOTE: This is one in a series of articles by Frank J. Kelley, State Attorney General, concerning frauds affecting the consumers of this state.)

Do not be misled during the spring gardening rush by photographs or lurid verbal pictures of climbing vine peaches, stunted peach trees referred to as flowering almond, giant climbing strawberries, or like exaggerations. The files of my Consumer Protection Division and of the Michigan Department of Agriculture indicate that large numbers of complaints are received every spring from disappointed buyers of nursery stock.

In certain instances Michigan residents have been over persuaded by high pressure salesmen who have used fancy names for ordinary shrubs and plants or have made exaggerated claims — either verbally or by flashy advertisements. In a few instances misrepresentation or other illegal activity has occurred, but in the main the state agencies have found that the disappointed buyer has received what he is legally entitled to, even though what he received is not what the salesmen had led him to believe he was getting.

I have directed the Consumer Protection Division to work closely with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and established nurserymen, such as the Michigan Association of Nurserymen, to develop maximum protection to the Michigan public in this area. It is our experience that citizens can protect themselves by using existing resources before signing on the dotted line or opening their pocketbooks — for example, by directing an inquiry to the local nurserymen, the Michigan Department of Agriculture, or the Horticulture Department of Michigan State University. It is well to remember the warning of the Michigan Department of Agriculture that one cannot expect to get high quality stock at ridiculously low prices.

Letters to the Editor-

The Republican Party is a progressive party and I wish to report some of its many activities.

A resolution has been passed asking that Congress pass a law which will allow the several states, Michigan included, to retain 10% of the money collected in federal income and corporate taxes, this to be in lieu of all federal grants in aid to the states. Michigan is one of the states that pays much more into the federal treasury than it gets back in grants in aid, which would make Michigan one of the states to benefit from this plan. Representative Raymond C. Wurzel, Republican of Port Huron states.

Another bill has been introduced in the state legislature to bring county safety patrol officers under the provision of "Workmen's Compensation Act". The bill would extend to such county employees the same benefits as are listed for city, village or township employees.

A bill was introduced to require an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Michigan, by all those who receive their pay or any part of it from the state. The final passage by the House indicates that there is little opposition to requiring loyalty from those working for the state in any capacity. An amendment provides that a paycheck cannot be issued unless such a "loyalty oath" is on file.

The Republican controlled Legislature assumes responsibility for the appropriation of adequate funds to operate the Mental Health Department and it contends that adequate appropriation have been made and if there is any fault, it is with the management of the department and not caused by lack of money. More than $62,000 was returned to the state treasury from the funds appropriated for maintenance and repair at state institutions serving mental patients.

The public is reminded that the Republican Party created and gave cabinet status to the Department of Labor, Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare.

Representative Charles Chamberlain, our sixth district Representative to Congress, is most conscientious about keeping us informed about activities in Washington, with his regular news letters, at his own expense and not the tax payers. Periodically, questionnaires are sent to determine what the people in our sixth district wish to have him do in considering bills and resolutions that are proposed in Congress. This information is available to anyone wishing it, by writing to Representative Chamberlain, Washington, D.C.

The Michigan Republican State Committee has adopted the resolution as being opposed to the John Burch Society.

News of this nature of the Republican Party will appear from time to time.

Notes of 25 Years Ago

There was a big upset in the Putnam Township election as the Republicans won over the Democrats due to a split in the Democratic party. Norman Reason is the new supervisor; Stanley Dinkel, clerk; Winifred Graves, treasurer. They defeated Max Ledwidge, Lulu Darrow and R. J. Carr, respectively.

On the state ticket Democrats won 6 out of 9 offices.

Each card and note of encouragement sent to me during my recent stay in the hospital helped to fill the long hours of depression. Republican delegates to the Constitutional Convention were sharply criticized recently when reports were published about a "secret trade" being made to assure agreement on several sections of the document being prepared.

There were charges that "principles are being compromised," by naive supporters of some of the delegates.

It is a well known and hard political fact that the basis for most legislative action is compromise, although this word can be given a negative connotation by people seeking political advantages who can find no better issue.

It now appears the only great "sin" involved in the compromise worked out by differing viewpoints within the Con-Con's GOP ranks was that the "deal" was so openly made public.

At nearly the same time as the Con-Con deal was made known, another "compromise" was being worked out between Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature. The single issue involved was not as important as the several constitutional provisions so it did not gain as much attention from the public or politicians.

A newspaper reporter who wrote that a "gentlemen's agreement" was being attempted, however, was severely criticized for putting the pending "deal" in print.

It appears inconsistent that all politicians freely admit, off the record, that they are willing to compromise for the public good, but they refuse to let the public know when they have reached a compromise. And it seems hypocritical for those who understand the value of compromise to rant against those who try to reconcile differences so that progress can result.

A substantial share of an $8 million Congressional appropriation for manpower training may be available to Michigan because of the state's high unemployment rate.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett reports the training program would be of special benefit to high school dropouts and graduates unable to find work.

"Both the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Department of Labor have indicated that Michigan is in the top group of states in the nation with high unemployment and will be eligible for a substantial share of the funds," Bartlett said.

The Federal act authorized a $435 million appropriation over a three-year period to help train thousands of unemployed who lost their jobs or others unable to find work because of automation.

Enabling legislation to allow Michigan to accept funds provided under the Federal law has passed in the House and is under consideration by the Senate. The bill provides for administration of the funds through the State Board of Control for Vocational Education.

No state funds would be needed to administer the program, Bartlett said, although the Department of Public Instruction and the Michigan Employment Security Commission would participate in it also.

Under the program, benefits also would be available to train unemployed adults and farm families with incomes of less than $1,200 a year.

Where does the money go? A study by the Michigan Citizens Research Council shows some $506 million of Michigan's money during the past eight fiscal years went to create and pay for 90 programs which did not exist prior to 1956.

Included were 27 new programs in the general field of education and 20 in general government operations. New programs were also added during the period in public health, mental hygiene, public welfare, safety and defense, regulatory services, conservation, recreation and agriculture.

An indication of how the addition of relatively small, inexpensive programs add up is seen in the Council's fact sheet on the new state services.

In the education category, for example, a $900 appropriation was made in 1956 for state historical markers. The following two years saw the money spent on this government service triple before it dropped back and evened off at below $1,000 a year.

Over the period since 1956, however, more than $51,000 has been spent for historical markers.

The new services and agencies dramatize how changing conditions create new needs. The list includes watercraft registration, civil defense programs, driver education, a survey of air pollution, mental institutions, a board of veterinary examiners, race track improvements, and emergency highway patrols.

This capsule summary of some of the new programs which cost money to the Michigan taxpayer points up the problems facing the Legislature each year.

Who can say that emergency highway patrols were not needed when traffic fatalities were increasing annually between 1957 and 1959? What man could win an argument that a board of veterinary examiners was not needed when the vets themselves asked for a regulatory agency to police their own profession?

How much support could be gained for the contention that the increasing number of boats in use in Michigan did not warrant a registration system similar to motor vehicle registration.

The Council reports indicates there was little support for keeping these and the other 80 plus programs out of the state budget. A need was evidenced for each of them. Few, however, have been dropped entirely even if the need no longer exists.

Annual Dead Deer Survey to Begin In Mid-April

Plans are being readied for a dead deer and pellet count survey to measure northern Michigan's whitetail population this spring, the Conservation Department reports.

Survey work is expected to get underway by mid-April, weather permitting. It is scheduled to begin in Gladwin and Baldwin districts, continuing northward as snow leaves the ground.

Department district game supervisors are currently mapping out general areas to be covered by the survey, including those in which winter deer losses may run high. Some 60 standard-size plots, already picked at random, will be searched in each of nine northern districts.

This spring's survey will take in about 550 of these 24-acre plots covering some 35,000 square miles of whitetail country in the upper and northern lower peninsulas.

As in other years, a two-man team will be assigned to each plot. One of these men will be a game biologist who will autopsy dead deer. Men from the department's field administrations, fish, forestry and parks and recreation divisions will also cooperate in the field studies.

SAFE KITE FLYING

1/ CONSTRUCT the kite frame of lightweight wood. If nails or pins are used be sure they are covered to eliminate chances of cuts, scratches or torn clothes.

2/ CONTROL the kite with stout, dry, all-fibre cord. Avoid metallic threads or wire in kite control. They can shock if touched against electrical equipment.

3/ CHANGE altitudes in kite flying by letting out or reeling in cord. Prevent trips and falls by keeping cord off ground, wrapped tightly on a spool or stick.

4/ PILOT a kite with alertness. Sudden gusts of wind may cause loss of balance or pull the control cord quickly through the hands leaving a bad burn.

5/ SELECT a kite-flying site away from trees, highways, railroad right-of-way and overhead lines. Kite-flying is most fun without all these obstacles.

6/ ABANDON any kite that gets tangled in a high tree or overhead wires. No attempt should be made to untangle it.

NEVER FLY KITES NEAR ELECTRIC WIRES AND TV ANTENNAS
NEVER USE METAL OR METALLIC STRINGS
