State Attorney General Says Debt Pooling and Selling Is Bad Mixture

(NOTE: This is one in a series of articles by Frank J. Kelley, State Attorney General concerning frauds affecting the consumers of this state.)

This office has recently obtained a court order to halt the practice used by certain home improvement and construction organizations whereby a reluctant prospect for, say, aluminum siding is persuaded to sign a contract by the salesman's offer to consolidate the prospect's most pressing current obligations by folding them into the siding contract. Watch out for this. It's illegal, and it may spell trouble for the customer as well as the salesman.

It works this way: Mrs. X. is unable to afford, say, $1,500 for a siding job because she owes $100 on a sewing machine and $200 more on other installment purchases. "Don't worry about it," says the salesman. "We'll write up your siding contract as $1,800 instead of $1,500, and

The Cub Scouts of Pack 58, smile in anticipation as they wait to board the bus which took them to the baseball game in Detroit last Wednesday. In the background are a number of Boy Scouts of Troop 58 who joined the younger boys for the day. This was the first of several outings planned for the Pack this summer.

Hell Slogan Contest Winner Is Mrs. L'Hullier of Inkster

Mrs. Wesley L' Hullier of Inkster, Mich., was named the winner of the Hell Chamber of Commerce slogan contest by the judges last Monday night. The name of the winner was told at the Chamber's meeting at the Ranch House Grill.

Her slogan "A Town On Its

Pvt. Willis Assigned to Pentagon

Private Charles L. Willis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Willis of Lakeland, Michigan, has been assigned as Computer Operator to the Defense Atomic Support Agency, Damage Assessment Center in the Pentagon.

The Defense Atomic Support Agency, manned by all the services, provides technical, logistic, and training advice to the Department of Defense and the services in the nuclear weapons field. As the representative of the Department of Defense, it coordinates the nuclear weapons requirements of the services with the Atomic Energy Commission. DASA also conducts nuclear weapons effects testing and disseminates the data obtained.

A 1961 graduate of Pinckney High School, Private Willis enlisted in the Army in January of 1962. Having completed basic training and clerical schooling at Fort Knox, Ky., he was immediately ordered to the Computer Branch of the Damage Assessment Center. He presently resides at 4124 Lee Highway, Arlington, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Poulsen were Sunday visitors at the home of the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Allardine at Coat's Grove and enroute home called on the Elden Poulsens at Hastings.

"Way Up" has been adopted as the official motto of the community which is seeking industry as well as popularity as a vacation spot.

Mrs. L' Hullier's entry was chosen from among more than 2,000 slogans received from 50 states and at least 10 foreign countries in the $25 cash contest conducted by the newly-organized Chamber of Commerce.

Her prize check, an official "passport" through Hell and a warm note of welcome "anytime you can visit here" was sent to the winner by Chamber President Mel Reinhard.

The slogan will appear on billboards, letterheads, window decals and other promotional material to be used in the work of the Chamber.

Runners-up in the contest were such slogans as "Cool Waters and Warm Friends Await You in Hell," "Hell's Warmth of Heart Plays the Devil with Satan's Art," "This Beautiful Land Is a Waiting Room for Heaven," "Pla-cation City of the Nation," and "Hell, Where You Are Never Given the Cold Shoulder."

Mr. Reinhard wrote to the eight contestants whose slogans reached the finals assuring them of a perpetual warm welcome in Hell.

Mr. Reinhard said the Chamber of Commerce hopes to attract light industry and research activity to the area and that inquiries are now being made of the possibility of Hell becoming eligible for a Dept. of Commerce weather station.

Letters also have been sent to Michigan Senators Patrick McNamara and Phillip Hart requesting their assistance in obtaining federal funds for area re-development. Hell's rolling hills, its lake and dam and lovely wooded areas may help the community to qualify for funds as a public picnic site.

Little League Play Begins

The Kiwanis little league baseball season is off to a slow start because a number of practice sessions as well as games were called off because of rain. The Hamburg - Pinckney portion of the schedule is delayed because organization of teams in the former area is still complete.

In the two games played so far in the American league the Yankees beat the Indians, 5-0. In the National league the Dodgers beat the Cubs, 16-1.

Tonight the Cubs meet the Cardinals and tomorrow night the Dodgers and the Braves will play. All games are on St. Mary's field at 6 p. m. The public is invited to see all little league games. There is no admission charge.

Babe Ruth Team Wins First Game

Pinckney's Babe Ruth team won its first game of the season by defeating the Stockbridge team 10-0. The winning battery was Jim Barker and Ken Garr. The local team had 16 hits, the opponents 2. Duane Knapp hit a home run in the 4th inning with one man on base.

Tonight the team will play an exhibition game with the Howell Varsity there starting at 5 p. m.

LIVINGSTON PLAYERS PLAN NEW PLAY

The Livingston Players, spurred on by the great success of their first effort, "George Washington Slept Here," have cast the players for their second production.

The play, an adult comedy entitled "Bell, Book and Candle," is a venture into the land of witching and witchcraft. Written by John Van Druten, it is to be directed by Tevis Reyburn.

The cast headed by Betty Golden will include: George Segar, Bob Rehm, John Stephens and Dorcas Walby. Rehearsals started June 18th and the play will be presented July 27th and 28th. More details later.

Wm. Barber Named Flying Team Coach

William A. Barber of McGregor road, Portage Lake, has been named to coach the United States flying team in the second world aerobatic championships to be held at Budapest, Hungary, July 17-29.

Barber, a pilot for North Central Airlines, was selected last week to head the seven man team which will compete against teams from England, Italy, West Germany, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union.

The team's pilots will fly two U. S. aircraft, both over twenty years old, through a series of difficult maneuvers including rolls, stalled turns, spins and outside loops.

State Government Payroll Nearly Reaches 31,000

State government last year employed nearly 31,000 persons, the State Civil Service Commission reports.

Of the 30,552 persons on the state payroll at year's end, more than two-thirds of them were in three areas of service: mental health, highways, and health, welfare and employment security.

Mental health units around the state accounted for 10,000 employees. Departments of health, welfare and employment security employed another 5,417 persons, and 4,646 were listed on the Highway Department payroll.

The year also marked what Commission Chairman George N. Higgins of Ferndale called "some of the most significant advances of any year since civil service was established by Constitutional amendment 21 years ago."

Agency personnel officers worked with the Commission staff to accomplish the first overall revision of the Commission rules which affect all classified employees.

The state also entered its first contract to provide group life and health insurance for its employees similar to policies used in private business.

Automation made its way into the Civil Service Department system in 1961. A method of producing employment lists and scoring written tests by machine was designed.

The Commission also instituted a partial tuition program to encourage employees to improve their abilities by training at accredited schools on their own time.

Seasonal changes in employment boosted the average to 31,561 during the year although at the end of the calendar period the figure was down somewhat. The average for the year was an increase of 1,000 from 1960, Higgins said.

Children entering school each fall have their problems. Most problems are small and resolve themselves as soon as the child gets used to his new surroundings, but there are a number which take much longer.

Some of these, such as vision irregularities, often take some time to solve because they are not discovered immediately. The State Health Department has hopes of eliminating this problem which prevents many children from adjusting to their new life in the classroom.

A vision screening device designed by department technicians is being used commercially for the first time this year to test the sight of large numbers of preschool children.

It is hoped that widespread use of the machine can be gained within a few years to catch sight problems before children reach the stage where they are causing a teacher difficulty which is not easily diagnosed.

Previously the limited ability of pre-school children to communicate, and the lack of an effective vision testing device frustrated efforts to check the sight of youngsters.

The new screening device, designed for use with three-year-olds and older children, avoids the use of concepts such as up, down, right and left—which are often confusing to a child in these years.

Instead of these abstract terms, the youngsters are asked whether the letter "E" is pointing to a rabbit, flower, clouds, or grass.

Another technique developed by the Department gives the child an opportunity to become familiar with the idea. A replica of the testing device is sent to parents of children to be tested. They are encouraged to teach their child the "game" on which they will be tested.

Experiments with the machine showed nearly 6 per cent of the youngsters screened were referred to their eye doctor because of possible defects. Half of these failed the test and the others were referred because of symptoms such as squinting or watery eyes.

Officials who developed the machine said the three-year-old testing age was set because of the advantages of working with this group. They more readily need glasses or a patch to strengthen weak eyes than other age groups, either older or younger.

The statewide screening program includes 12 counties this year: Antrim, Calhoun, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Ingham, Kalamazoo, Livingston, Macomb, Marquette, Midland and Wayne.

The Constitutional Convention will not officially be concluded until after its scheduled Aug. 1 session to approve the final printed version, but Secretary Fred I. Chase has compiled an interesting note on the proceedings during the bulk of the meetings.

Convention delegates worked a total of 70,344 man hours in formal sessions. This compilation did not include the thousands of hours in the early weeks last fall when only a brief formal meeting was held but long hours were spent in committee rooms.

Many of the work hours were accumulated during the final 16 days prior to the May 11 adjournment. These sessions averaged more than 8 hours a day, Chase said.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith have announced the marriage of their daughter, Pearl M. Smith, to Mr. Joseph P. Doyle, on Saturday, June 20, in Ann Arbor. Mr. Doyle has been superintendent of the Pinckney school for the past year.

We are in receipt of a Crosswell, (Mich.) paper of which P. W. Curlett of this place is now editor and business manager. The paper is a credit to this young man and Sanilac County.

Gale Johnson and wife of Detroit are the proud parents of a baby girl born last week. Happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Johnson of Pinckney.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Clark left Thursday for a two - week vacation in Simcoe, Ontario, where they'll visit relatives. Mr. J. Dingman of New Haven will have charge of the depot during Clark's absence.

A hurricane did great damage in the area Saturday night. Hail stones 7 to 8 inches in diameter fell breaking many windows. Unadilla felt the greatest blow being practically wiped out with the loss of 22 buildings totally wrecked. Giant trees around Silver Lake were uprooted and cottages on the south side of the lake were splintered. Many people were seriously injured.

Few things are more dangerous than a train of thought that carries no freight.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Duck for A Cookout . . . "Primitive" Style!

Joe and I had the gang over for a cookout last weekend. Now, cookouts are one of my favorite ways of entertaining, but believe me — this far along in the summer I really start racking my brains for something different to serve!

Suddenly I remembered I had some wild ducks left in the freezer, and that brought to mind a wonderful old-timer's recipe I learned as a girl. I took the ducks out and — ignoring Joe's startled expression — I sent young Mike off for a big pail of clean mud. By the time the guests arrived, I was busy making Wild Duck, Primitive Style! Here's how it's done:

Draw and clean thoroughly. Place apple in cavity. Roll whole duck, feathers and all, in thick mud or clay, and cake the mixture on. On grill, clay will harden. Broil thoroughly. Split clay covering and remove. (Feathers will come along) Add dabs of butter, salt and pepper — and enjoy.

Simple? You bet, and delicious, too. Serve it with home fries and a big bowl of buttered limas or green beans, and your gang will clean up every smidgin of it, just as mine did!

● NEIGHBORING NOTES ●

Paul C. Younger, State Senator representing Ingham and Livingston Counties, announced that he would be a candidate for re-election this year. Mr. Younger has served in the Senate since 1957, replacing the late Senator Harry F. Hittle.

Severe winds did considerable damage in the Manchester area last week Monday.

Bill Donohue, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Donahue of Gregory, narrowly escaped death in Ann Arbor the day the underground tank at the Gulf station on Huron street exploded. He was walking by the station when a 2,000 pound concrete slab flew into the air; Bill veered back and the slab which killed a worker at the station missed Bill by inches. Bill was covered with dirt and bits of concrete, badly shaken, but uninjured.

South Lyon's Board of Education has scheduled its third school election on millage for the 16th of July. The voters will be given a choice: 4 mills for three years or five mills for one year.

The Dexter Kiwanis Club will hold its annual rummage sale on June 29 and 30. Proceeds this year will pay for the already completed tennis court in Dexter, a donation from the Kiwanis club.

Louis Bekkering, who has been employed by the B. and H. Broadcasting Co., WHMI, Howell, since 1957, has resigned to accept a selling position with the Bisbee Coffee-matic, an affiliate of the United Servomation, Inc.

The Jaycees of Chelsea sponsored a seat belt clinic there last week end. They installed seat belts meeting all state and government specifications for the nominal charge of $6.00 per belt. This was the groups public service project for the year.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

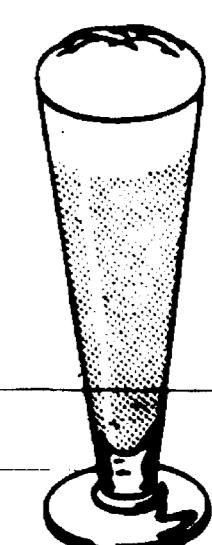

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, hearing of the gallant fighting of the 1st, 4th, 5th and 7th Michigan regiments against the Confederacy, folks all over the state toasted their troops' bravery with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry pays more than 16 million dollars in taxes to Michigan each year, money that helps support our parks, hospitals and schools.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Stalk Stand, Soil Fertility Key to Money-Making Corn

IT WILL pay corn growers to make a stand count after the crop is up, to see if there are enough stalks per acre for really profitable yields.

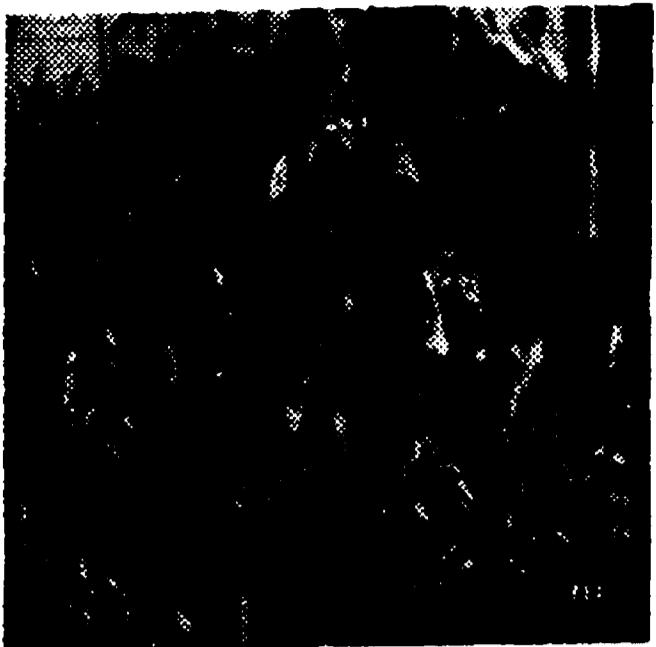

"If you expect to grow 100 bushels per acre, you will need at least 16,000 stalks per acre," says the National Plant Institute, in summarizing reports by Midwest agronomists. "If you are shooting for even higher yields, then 18,000 plants are usually needed."

A car driven by Mrs. Gladys Lee of Lakeland and a truck driven by August Musolf of Stockbridge collided Wednesday at the Main street and Dexter road corner. Mrs. Lee's car turned over twice. She had minor injuries.

Chief Nevitt, former baseball and football star of Detroit was a week end guest at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Lee, Kelly road.

William H. Miller, salesman of Herb Estes, Inc., Ann Arbor, Mich., has been graduated from a Retail Selling Course at the Detroit Ford Marketing Institute. Bill is a former Pinckneyite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Miller of E. Main Street.

You can make the stalk count most any time after corn is up.

High soil fertility plus large stalk population add up to top income from corn crop.

It will show the difference between what you thought you planted and what actually has come up.

Making the stalk count is relatively simple. If you used a two-row planter with 40-inch spacing, count two rows 66 feet long. If you used a four-row planter, count four rows 33 feet long. In either case, multiply your total by 100, and you will have a reasonable accurate picture of how many corn stalks per acre your field contains.

Two factors decisively influence the corn stalk population—selecting the right planter plate and proper tractor speed in planting.

Dr. Gordon Ryder, Ohio State University extension agronomist, says selection of the proper seed plate will do more to increase the uniformity of the stand than any other planting operation. He says, "A good fit is one that provides 1/16th inch clearance between the end of the kernel and the edge of the plate."

When a planter plate is used with cells either too small or too large, corn stands can be reduced as much as 60 percent. The result is that either fewer kernels will be dropped or many kernels will be cracked or broken. Cracked kernels thus can represent 18 to 20 percent of all corn planted.

Planting speed is equally important. Rushing to get the job done, by speeding up the tractor, can cut down stalk population. Many specialists say you should not exceed three or four miles per hour. Otherwise you won't get the seed into the soil.

Important as it is, stalk population is not the entire story.

"Actually, you need a combination of high soil fertility and a large stalk stand to get extra profit yields," says the Institute. "You need to use a hybrid that has what it takes for multi-bushel production. You need to add nutrients sufficient to feed the corn crop from germination to harvest—and you need to have good control measures for weeds and insects."

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to help keep freedom in your future for $4.33 a week

The sum of $4.33 a week will buy you a dozen Savings Bonds in a year. A few years of this and you'll be $1,000 richer.

Nothing wrong with being rich. The more savings strength we have as individuals, the more strength we have as a Nation.

But there are some other rather remarkable wheels you set in motion when you buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

As your Bond dollars grow, your country uses them to protect the things America stands for. And to make sure that you and your family will always enjoy the freedoms which a handful of brave Americans set their names to on July 4, 1776.

Buy Bonds for freedom now. All you need to make this investment is a few dollars a week and a belief in America.

New this week are Statler, "Japanese Inn"; the history of the inn Minaguchiya on the Tokaido road from Tokyo to Kyoto. The Minaguchiya Inn has been in the Mochizuki family for twenty generations and its story is a social history of Japan through the last four hundred years; warriors marching across Japan; lovers fleeing to a new life, great men going to and from the capital. The book is illustrated by over fifty prints and drawings by well-known Japanese artists of the past.

Herman Wouk's "Youngblood Hawke" is a powerful and exciting book about a man — a talent — and how we live now. It is based somewhat upon the life of Thomas Wolfe, the author.

Our summer reading program is getting underway. We already have 89 children enrolled. All children in the community are invited to join and may do so at any time.

We wish to thank Miss Bernadette O'Meara, Miss Marion McNeil and Miss Ella Campbell for many fine books, also the Franz Ottos for magazines.

Announces Candidacy

Rudolph Sistek, Brighton Township Constable, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Livingston County. To accomplish these, he proposes to turn over the major part of process serving to township constables so as to release deputies for needed road patrol work and other essential police duties.

Sistek has lived in Brighton Township for the past 22 years and has been Township Constable for six years, worked for two years as a civilian employee at the Michigan State Police Post and has taken every advantage to study police work which fact now affords him this opportunity.

He is a member of the Brighton Township Lions Club, having served as Treasurer and of St. George Lutheran Church. He is married to the former Evelyn Kruger of Howell. They have one son Richard.
