Rebman Has Top TV Post

Fred J. Rebman, director and executive producer of station WMSB-TV, Lansing, will become the general manager of station WJTC-TV, Jacksonville, Florida, today, it was announced last Friday.

In his new position, Rebman, who is 28 years old, will become the youngest station manager in the 75-station network of N. E. T-National Education Television, a new major network underwritten by the Ford Foundation.

Rebman, a graduate of Pinckney high school and of Michigan State University, where he received his B. A. degree, has been with the Lansing station for the past six years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rebman, 11945 Lake Shore Drive, Portage Lake, Pinckney.

CARD OF THANKS

The Pinckney Volunteer Fire Department wishes to thank everyone who contributed, worked, and helped in any way to make the Fourth of July fireworks show possible.

Merchants from Pinckney and all areas, including the Hickory Ridge Dairy of Stockbridge, whose name was received too late for publication, were listed last week; their fine support of this event is commendable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ona Campbell were in Lansing last week where their daughter, Mrs. Carl (Leona) Campbell, underwent major surgery at Ingham Medical Center last Thursday. Mrs. Lentz was reported making good progress on Sunday.

FABULOUS, may well describe the display of fireworks put on by the Pinckney Volunteer Fire Department the night of the Fourth of July. The one and one-half hour show contained beautiful aerial and ground displays, many of them seen for the first time this year; their beauty could not be captured on black and white film. Charles Hewlett, volunteer fireman, and Bob Harding conducted the display viewed by more than 2000 spectators. Firemen in charge of parking stated that 576 cars entered the elementary school field filling it to capacity. Several hundred more cars were parked in front of the building and on both sides of W. M-36. Out-of-town visitors compared the local display very favorably with any they had seen in large cities. Many area merchants whose names were listed last week contributed to make the show possible.

Pinckney Baseball Teams Win 3, Lose 1 This Week

The Pinckney Babe Ruth team won the game played at Dexter last Wednesday, 6-4. Batting star of this game was Merle McMichael with three out of four. Jim Barker was the winning pitcher; relief pitchers were Maurice Scherrens and Steve Randolph.

The local team leads the 6-team league as the only undefeated team.

In the Detroit Free Press Junior league there are two wins and one loss to chalk up for the past week.

The team won last Saturday from Clinton, 9-6. They had only three runs in the game at the bottom of the ninth inning when Terry Rowell hit a double with bases loaded. The winning pitcher was Bob Williams.

The Sunday (July 1) game was also a victory for the local team when they whipped Britton, 12-4. Don Barker was the winning pitcher.

Last Sunday brought a defeat at Battle Creek, 14-4. The score was tied 4-4 in the sixth inning when the Battle Creek team broke loose and scored rapidly.

The Junior League will host the Jackson team here Sunday afternoon at the elementary school diamond. The public is invited to see the game.

Calm Lake Nearly Ruins Yacht Club Races on Sunday

A calm lake nearly ruined the Portage Huron Yacht Club's racing plans on Sunday afternoon. Patient sailors slowly crossed the finish line with Dr. Avery Bartlett, sailing Paul Ehman's boat, taking first place in the Flying Scots; Lew Shaefer in the Lightning class, Toni Lott in the Rebels and Lew Barstow in the Snipes race.

Second place winner in the Flying Scots was Virgil Haws of Plymouth; Dr. Robert Bird of Wayne was second in the Lightning group. In the Rebels, Tom Ehman finished second and John Davis third. Mrs. William Call was second place winner in the Snipes class while John Swisher of Ann Arbor finished third.

The Don Oleski family returned home Sunday after a 10-day vacation trip in northern Michigan. Visits in Rogers City, the Indian River area and Traverse City were highlights of the trip.

The Mallory Cup Regionals and the Rebel National races are events highlighting the club's schedule for late July.

There are races scheduled for Saturday of this week and for 1 p. m. Sunday afternoon. Saturday's event is a night race starting at 9 p. m.

John Singer At 4-H Meet

John Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Singer of W. M-36, is one of the 4-H delegates from Livingston County attending the annual 4-H Week at Michigan State University campus, July 9-13. More than forty young members from the county are attending the event. Careers will be highlighted during the meeting; more than thirty careers will be discussed by MSU staff members for the delegates.

CANDIDATES FOR THE Miss Hamburg title during the Hamburg Gala Day Celebration are (left to right) Donna McMichael, Jane Stenke, Jean Wright, Roberta Logan and Ruby Lee Thornton. The girls will sell Hawaiian leis to accumulate votes. The contest is sponsored by the Hamburg Village League. The big day is Saturday, July 21. All five are Pinckney High school students.

The one-ring circus scheduled to arrive here this week failed to appear because of difficulties encountered at Plainfield. A graft game resulted in the arrest of Barteno, the owner, and his actors.

On Monday afternoon this village suffered a veritable cloud burst which did much damage. Merchants had to move goods from their store windows and residents would have found it easy to get around in row boats.

The Dispatch is sponsoring a Grand Piano Contest. By paying for new subscriptions, renewals, etc., a person can cast votes for certain young ladies. The person receiving the most votes wins the $400 piano. There are other prizes for runners-up. A twenty-year new subscription ($20) is worth 30,000 votes.

Name Melon Postmark Committee

The following Melon Postmark Committee has been appointed by Thomas J. Kiser, Chairman, Michigan Kiser Honeysweet Melon Commission:

Robert W. Squire, Chairman, 116 West Grand River; Meno Bailer, 117 South Michigan; Mary Darling, Livingston County Press.

This committee will cooperate with Postmaster Gerald Hughes, Howell in arranging the use of the special cancelling device that will read MELON FESTIVAL, HOWELL, MICHIGAN, SEPTEMBER 1, 1962 during the period July 2, 1962 — September 1, 1962, inclusive.

The committee is having a "cachet" printed to celebrate the use of this postmark. These special envelopes will have an appropriate imprint on the left side, leaving room for the usual address at the lower right. Cacheted envelopes may be purchased for 5c each from any member of the committee after Thursday, June 28th.

The Melon Commission urges all residents of Livingston County to invite the attention of their friends and associates to the special postmark that will be used on all mail that goes through the electric cancelling machine at Howell in July and August.

School House On Wheels

The little red school house has sprouted wheels to serve communities with pressing classroom shortages. The population explosion and shifting neighborhood patterns have evolved a new phenomenon on the American scene: the mobile classroom. Learn how this unique solution to one of our country's most pressing problems can alleviate school crowding in your community and how others are using it successfully.

Will your child attend a school house on wheels? Within the next four decades, educational experts say the sight of a little red school house rolling down the superhighway will be as common as the mobile homes seen today.

School authorities estimate that within the next 10 years alone, nearly one-half million new classrooms will be needed to accommodate the population explosion and to replace present inadequate facilities.

With a present cost of $25,000 to $40,000 for erecting a new class room, more and more boards of education are giving serious consideration to either renting or buying mobile classrooms.

Renting of mobile classrooms is being considered especially for the short pull. In view of shifting populations and community needs for perhaps one, two or three years, the rented mobile classroom has become the answer to a pressing problem of our times.

Taking the lead in installing mobile classrooms are the big cities such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles and their suburbs. And many rural areas are considering them.

Mobile School Facilities, Inc., of Chicago, the nation's leading supplier of the rental units, says they offer many advantages to boards of education and the oft-forgotten taxpayer.

By leasing them for as long as needed, the school district is not saddled with a useless facility that it may have to pay for many years. The rental unit cost may be paid for out of school budgets, leaving valuable bonding power in reserve.

The mobile classroom rolls right into the school yard and is anchored to it in less than a day. It can be landscaped to conform to the setting, becoming a tasteful addition to the school plant.

Mobile School Facilities offers a complete school room package and guarantees it with regular inspections of all equipment. MSF's school building is 40 feet long and 20 feet wide. Inside its exterior of aluminum siding over a rugged steel frame, are all the facilities of a modern classroom — cloakroom, lavatories, supply cabinet, teacher's wardrobe, drinking fountain and heating and ventilating equipment. Connections for water and electricity, for lighting and base-board heating can be made quickly to the main school.

The classrooms may be optionally equipped with air conditioning and carpeting for better acoustics and to deaden disruptive noises.

School boards are finding that the mobile classroom in addition to its advantages of fast, easy erection and modern efficiency, is a plant which requires minimum maintenance.

MICHIGAN'S FREEWAY SYSTEM

THE GROWTH OF MICHIGAN'S freeway system during the Michigan State Highway Department's first five-year roadbuilding program is shown on these two maps. Five years ago (map at left), Michigan had 101 miles of freeway. Today (map at right), Michigan has 993 miles of freeway open and 329 miles under construction. Contracts for modernization of nearly 4,000 miles of other state highways also were awarded during the last five years.

Plan Medical School at Michigan State University

Michigan's fourth medical education facility is well on the way toward becoming a reality at Michigan State University.

The Legislature has specified, in the 1962-63 appropriation for MSU, that the proposed two-year preclinical medical school shall not be expanded to a four-year training program without prior legislative approval.

University officials, with little choice, plan to abide by this dictate.

MSU's Institute of Biology and Medicine is scheduled to officially start operation in 1964 to prepare medical doctors, biologists, nurses and medical technicians.

Dr. Richard U. Byerrum, acting director of the Institute, said he consulted a group of leading medical educators to help work out details for the new program.

"Since our approach is new, we wanted to know if it would be acceptable to medical educators," he said.

The educators consulted, from medical schools at various universities throughout the country, were generally enthusiastic about the MSU plans, Byerrum said.

The Institute will be designed to help relieve the national and state shortage of medical doctors and biologists. Because the two-year program will instruct in only preclinical work, it will not require extensive hospital teaching facilities.

Students who complete it, however, will be ready to fill the many vacancies which occur annually at the third-year level in the nation's medical schools.

One bit of advice offered by Dr. Morton Levitt, assistant dean of Wayne State University's medical school, will likely be incorporated as plans for the Institute program develop, Byerrum said.

Levitt recommended that the medical program in the Institute follow traditional patterns since students will be going to other schools for their final two years of training.

MSU plans several modifications in the Institute program which are not generally used, such as allowing students to progress well into their education before being required to declare their specialty preference.

Appointment of the year in state government may be that of Gary D. Hansen as director of Michigan's Commission on Aging.

The Commission, which deals with services for the senior citizens of Michigan, previously has had individuals with personal "experience" as members or leading it. Most participants in the Commission work are "up in years" or nearing the age the unit is designed to serve. Hansen is 25.

His age, however, appears to have little to do with his qualifications for the job. If education and work records are any indication, Hansen is well qualified.

At his young age, Hansen has completed requirements for his doctoral degree at the University of Minnesota, where he taught for three years. His major in undergraduate study was sociology.

Prior to his appointment with the Michigan Commission, Hansen was supervisor of a demonstration - research project on chronic illness and aging problems in rural Minnesota.

The new director has written extensively on aging, social security and rural retirement, including a book on aging in the Midwest which is now being published.

Secretary of State James M. Hare has a reassuring warning for Michigan drivers traveling outside the state.

The warning is an annual one: Michigan's point system is applied against traffic violations committed in other states and provinces of Canada under cooperative agreements between the governmental units.

The reassuring part of Hare's warning is that the points added to a driver's record are based on Michigan's system. The Secretary of State's office recently has had several questions from motorists charged with violations in Ontario, where provincial officials recently stiffened the penalties under the "driver demerit-point" system.

"The point system in use in the state where the conviction was received has no bearing on the points he receives in his home state of Michigan," Hare said. "If the driver has been convicted of driving through a stop sign to Toronto, he gets the same 3 points he would if convicted of the same offense in Alpena."

A little-known service of state government has been offered for the past 14 years to a select group of citizens as a cooperative project of the Conservation Department and State Library.

This is a library service in effect this summer at 42 state parks scattered throughout Michigan.

State Librarian Genevieve M. Casey said the average park library this year has about 250 books. The collections include fiction and non-fiction on subjects of a wide range.

Under the program, the State Library in effect "loans" some 8,200 books to the Conservation Department for the summer and early fall months. They are returned to the Library in Lansing in October or November.

Miss Casey said the program has been expanded each year since it was started to provide more books and more locations available to the campers using state parks.

The books are available at the manager's office at state parks.

'Shell Game' Has Many Unhappy Customers

"Nothing down, nothing to pay until October."

If you are thinking of buying a shell home—that is, one with exterior finished and interior unfinished or semi-finished — you will do well to approach the "no down payment" promise with great caution. Many buyers of this increasingly popular type of home have found that the last, or "sudden death", payment suddenly goes sky-high. Thus, one such contract called for $5300 to be financed by payments of $39.00. The final payment came to $390, and brought the entire contract to $3170 in interest charges on an original debt of $5300.

Most buyers of shell homes are families of modest income who wish to save money by contributing their own labor. Thus, the balloon note often catches them unable to pay, in which case they have the alternative of refinancing the final payment (and incurring even more financing charges), or of losing the home.

It is also well to check with your lawyer and banker to see if the shell home is the bargain it appears to be. By the time you figure in your price of the lot, of the utilities, and of the labor required to finish the home, you may get a different picture of the price. The many reliable home contractors will welcome an opportunity to compare figures in this way, and to work with competent legal and financial advisers.

There are some unscrupulous dealers, representing themselves as home builders or contractors, who have not complied with state licensing laws.

Don't become a victim of the shell game!
