Appoint Coordinator at McPherson Health Center

The appointment of a Home Nursing Coordinator was announced by the McPherson Community Health Center Administrator, Miss Diane Long was appointed to this position to become effective September 17.

Miss Long is from Charlottesville, Virginia, where her parents reside. She received her B. S. degree in Nursing in 1957 from Cornell University School of Nursing and her Masters Degree is Public Health from the School of Public Health, University of Michigan, in June 1962. Since that time Miss Long has served as a public health nurse for the New York City Visiting Service.

With the appointment of Miss Long, the Health Center will embark upon a program to provide hospital services and facilities in the home to patients who are either chronically ill, in need of rehabilitation or for some reason are unable to leave their homes. Home care is a mobilized service, administer from the hospital, providing medical, nursing, social and rehabilitative needs of each patient within his home.

It is an extension of hospital services and not a substitute for hospitalization. Such home care may precede, follow or prevent the necessity of hospitalization. There is no change in the relationship between the private patient and his physician who continues responsibility for the medical management of his patient.

Harvest Moon to Make First Appearance September 13th

The romantic Harvest Moon will make its first appearance at 11:12 p.m. on Sept. 13 and it's a good bet that many of its advocates will stay up to welcome it in.

The peculiarity of this full moon, as distinguished from other occasions when the moon is near full phase, is its slight delay in rising for several nights in succession.

Due to this small retardation, the evenings at harvest time are well supplied with moon light and attract much attention. On the average, the Moon rises nearly an hour later each evening, but this delay varies considerably during the year due to the angle that the Moon's path makes with the eastern horizon.

In the autumn, this retardation is the shortest of the whole year, being around 20 minutes in contrast to more than an hour in the spring, and hence becomes very noticeable.

Besides its rising so nearly the same time each evening, the Harvest Moon is likely to appear larger than usual and take on quite a reddish appearance near the horizon. This is due to the condition of the Earth's atmosphere, and not to the Moon itself.

The molecules of the air and the dust particles suspended in it scatter the light, the blue considerably more than the red.

When the Moon is near the horizon, its light rays, passing through more atmosphere than when near the zenith, are stripped of their blue rays more than the red, leaving the red to predominate. It consequently takes on a reddish appearance.

Also at this time of year, a greater dustiness prevails in the air, and the effect may be quite pronounced.

The apparently larger size of the full moon near the horizon is considered an optical illusion, and again has nothing to do with the Moon itself, but is due to comparison with nearby terrestrial objects.

Bass Derby Winner Named

Results of the annual bass fishing derby were announced last week at Hell, Mich.

Jim Loso of Allen Park was the first place winner with his 4 pound 11 ounce catch.

Mrs. Lee (Ruby) Goucher caught the second largest fish in Hi-Land during the contest weeks. It weight 4 pounds and 2 ounces.

The last fish to be registered won third prize for Jim McCrie of Detroit. He landed the 4 pound bass on August 28.

A daughter, Teresa Marie, was born on August 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett (Toni Segura) at St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Reynolds were among the guests on the Paragon Steel Company's cruiser recently when it sailed along the Detroit River to Thomas' Edgewater Inn where the guests had dinner. A close view of the partly sunken ship "Montrose" interested those on board.

County Democrats Meet at Grand Rapids Last Week

At a caucus held at 10:00 P.M. Friday evening, the 6th Congressional District, comprising 98 delegates from Genesee Co., 49 delegates from Ingham County, along with 8 delegates from Livingston Co., elected Mrs. Herbert Munzel of Green Oak Twp. Vice Chairman to serve along with Dale Kildee, Chairman, and Howard Jones, secretary. Mrs. Lester McAfee of Hamburg Twp. was selected to serve on the credentials committee.

Saturday morning Mrs. McAfee and Mrs. Munzel attended the Breakfast Fashion Show at the Pantlind Hotel. Gov. John Swainson was the speaker. Mrs. Swainson, along with other dignitaries of the party modeled new fall fashions for those in attendance.

County Road Rebuilding Moving Ahead

The reconstruction of various roads within Livingston County is going ahead at a rapid pace. Many sections of primary and local roads have required extensive rebuilding by Road Commission crews before bituminous aggregate paving contracts would be completed. Cost of construction of the projects was financed both by Township funds, and Livingston County Road Commission funds. In one case, a large private contribution was used.

EAGER ROAD — The first major improvement in fifteen years was recently completed on Eager Road, Ocoola Township. Repair of .6 miles of road was finished at a cost of approximately $9,000 including $5,405 for 1 1/4" thick bituminous aggregate surfacing. Road Commission crews rebuilt the base using sand and gravel to reinforce weaker areas where the old blacktop paving had nearly disintegrated resulting in heavy maintenance costs.

RICKETT ROAD—A Green Oak Township property owner contributed $4,000 to help finance 7 miles of bituminous aggregate surfacing on Rickett Road, south of Brighton.

Rebuilding and surfacing of one-half mile of road was being completed by road commission crews when the property owner volunteered to contribute the money to extend the asphalt resurfacing the additional mileage.

The entire project was otherwise constructed entirely with Green Oak Township funds and required over 4,000 yards of sand and gravel base and sub-base, and extensive re-ditching on both sides of the road. Cost to the township was $11,000.

KRESS ROAD — $6500 of Hamburg township funds were used to resurface 3/4 miles of road in scattered locations. An additional $1500 was used to reconstruct the base using road commission equipment and crews.

FENTON ROAD — Rebuilding various sections of this Primary Road totaled .5 miles. Gravel base construction was done by road commission crews in two areas which were in bad shape. The cost of $5100 was financed by Motor Vehicle Funds received by the Livingston County Road Commission.

HACKER ROAD — A two-course heavy duty asphalt resurfacing was applied to 500-feet of the intersection of US-16 and Hacker Road. This portion of the road became so bad earlier this spring that road commission crews had to lay gravel over the existing hard surface to make the road usable. Cost of the resurfacing was placed at $1900.

COON LAKE ROAD — Extensive patching of the existing asphalt surfacing was required at two locations at a cost of $375.

Young Attends Conference

Mount Pleasant — John L. Young, Jr., a 1962 graduate of Pinckney High, spent August 31 to September 3 at Central Michigan University's Beaver Island center with about 40 other university students expecting to become teachers.

While on the island, Young visited informally with university faculty members about the fine arts, a liberal education and the teaching profession.

He plans to enroll in the five-year program of the Teacher Education Project to become a high school teacher. This program will provide him with three semesters as a full-time paid member of the faculties of at least two different school systems before he begins his career as a regular teacher.

Pinckney residents who were listed as patients at McPherson Health Center last week were Erick Heinze, David Dupuis and Jean Speake.

Birthday greetings go today to Bryan Walton; tomorrow to Mike Root; Friday, Cass Clinton; Saturday to Raymond L. Baumgartner and on Sunday, September 9 to Earl Fisher, Fred Franz, Luella Czerwinski; Sept. 10, Ruth Borovsky; September 11, Dick Davis.

Wedding anniversary congratulations go on September 9 to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howe and on September 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilkie.

Friends here have learned that Kirk Sims of Morenci, a former Pinckney resident is ill and confined to the Veterans' Hospital in Ann Arbor. Visitors and cards may reach him in room 509A on 5 West.

The Rolfe Gustafson family is moving to Ferndale this week.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Employment forecasters early this year predicted a good year for college graduates, especially those in the engineering, science, and teaching fields.

If the Michigan State University placement bureau activities are any indicator, the forecasts were accurate.

Jack Kinney, MSU placement director, noted the bureau had a record year. More employers visited the bureau and set up more interviewing schedules than during any previous year.

There were 1,513 employer visits to the MSU placement bureau during the 1961-62 school year as compared with 1,162 in the previous year, Kinney said.

The number of job interviews with individual students dropped to 13,058, slightly below the number recorded during the 1960-61 school year, he said. "This was due mainly to the fact that students were more selective."

"The demand for engineering and science graduates remained high and many companies fell far short of their quotas," Kinney said. "Business graduates also fared well as the demand for accountants continued and there were good opportunities for graduates in marketing, production administration, and hotel, restaurant and institutional management."

The economic climate also tended to improve the bureau activities, Kinney said. "Liberal arts majors found increased opportunities because the favorable economic situation brought about more sales and management training programs in businesses."

Predictions about the demand for school teachers also rang true, the Bureau director noted. "Teaching candidates were recruited heavily by the public school systems," he said.

"The Number 1 shortage continued to be in the elementary education field, but there were great demands for teachers of mathematics, science, foreign languages, special education and women's physical education," he said.

Hospitals in Michigan spent $32 million more during 1961 to operate than in the previous year, according to a report by the Michigan Hospital Association.

The cost, a grand total of $443,505,000 last year, was boosted from $411 million the previous year while admissions increased by 12,957 persons over 1960.

A breakdown of the operating costs of a hospital shows nursing service takes the bulk of the patient's dollar paid for care.

Nursing service and education accounts for an average of 29.3 cents of every dollar spent in providing patient care, the association said.

Other major expenditures include 12.3 per cent for medical, surgical care, or delivery room and anesthesia; 11.6 per cent for administration and general operations and 10.6 per cent for dietary provisions.

Lesser quantities of the operating dollar go for housekeeping, pharmacy, medical records, laboratories, radiology, electrocardiogram, electroencephalogram, physical therapy, plant operation, and laundry and linen service.

Economic development, a term used frequently now which undoubtedly will be even more familiar in the future, was given in 1947 to a state department created by the Legislature.

The Economic Development Department was established to "advance the welfare and prosperity of the people by encouraging and seeking proper use of the state's resources and the development of its communities, areas and industries."

A director heads the department but is appointed and advised by a 10-member commission, whose members serve a three-year term.

Comprised basically of four divisions, the department attempts to maintain present industry and induce expansion and new location of others.

The area development and industry service division is charged with the responsibility of helping communities to organize local industrial development programs. It also helps Michigan firms expand markets for their products.

A research division compiles data for use by all four units of U.S. Savings Bonds pay you more than interest because they do more than earn money.

It's a matter of what happens to your Bond dollars. Deposited in the U.S. Treasury, they strengthen our economy at home.

At the same time, they help Uncle Sam take the side of freedom wherever possible in the world. And the opportunities to do so continue to grow.

By standing up for freedom elsewhere in the world, we insure our own personal freedoms. We make it that much surer that we'll be able to enjoy the things we're saving for.

All in all, it makes a pretty substantial return on your savings dollar—one that begins the moment you plunk down $18.75 for a $25 U.S. Savings Bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Wilson have announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Pope to Charles Pogue of Detroit. Mrs. Pogue formerly taught music at Pinckney school.

The marriage of Harold Maycock of Pingree and Miss Lorene Forreider of Constantine took place on August 29 at the home of the brides parents. The bride is a teacher in the Howell school system. Her husband is in the oil and gas business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Cadwell of Detroit who spend every summer at Portage Lake were hosts to more than 100 guests at the Detroit Yacht Club Saturday evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. At the party the Cadwells announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Thomas Lott. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Reg Schafer, the Ross Reads, the Fred Reads, Helen Fiedler and the Harold Toomans.

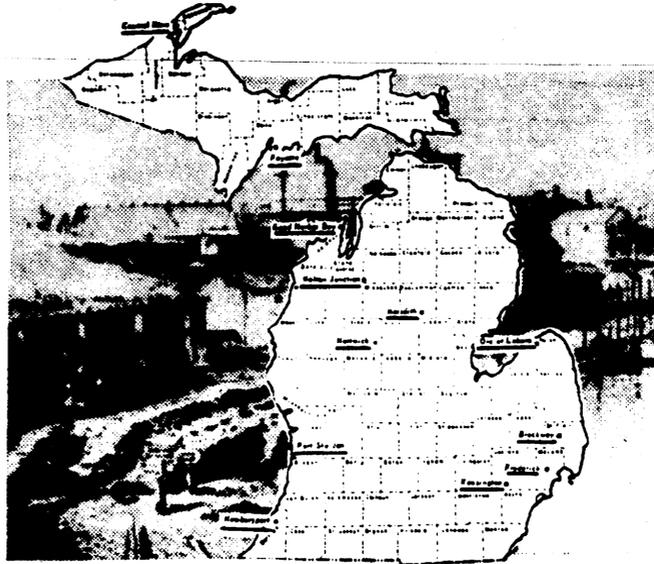

The Masons and the Eastern Stars of Pinckney held a joint picnic at Portage Lake, Newport Beach, on Sept. 3. A potluck dinner at noon was followed by an afternoon of fun: tug-o-war, relay races, fat man's race, quoits contests and a soft ball game.

Miss Margaret Curlett was home from Lansing over the week end. She expects to be transferred to the public utilities office from her position in the auditor general's office next week.

The Percy Ellis family returned Sunday from a week's trip to the upper peninsula. They went fishing on Lake Superior and caught two great northern pike. They also called on Floyd Weeks, a former Pinckneyite, at the new Mich. State Sanitarium.

Sheriff Irvin Kennedy and deputies seized a field of marijuana near Brighton last week and destroyed it. The field was discovered when some people from Detroit were seen picking the leaves from the plants.

WSU Researcher Describes Ghost Towns of Michigan

DETROIT — Boom and bust "ghost towns" are as much a part of Michigan's heritage as are its primeval northern woods, abundant waterways and industrial enterprises.

Recent research at Detroit's Wayne State University by Prof. Sidney Glazer, a Michigan historian, indicates that although lumber ghost towns are by far the most numerous, many other kinds of settlements boomed out of Michigan's wilderness, only to be later swallowed by the forests, the unrelenting dunes and by larger communities.

Possibly the most famous, lying between Brighton and Ann Arbor, was Kensington, notorious for a bank scandal which occurred there in 1838. A prosperous trading post in the early Nineteenth Century, this community marked the terminal of canoe navigation on the Huron River. After the bank scandal, Kensington was boycotted by traders, and today only two farmhouses, a cemetery and a filling station remain.

A small clearing in the woods on the lakeshore drive from Bay City to Port Huron is all that marks the site of the Socialist Community of Ora et Labora, where in 1847 a colony of 280 Germans attempted to establish a religious and socialistic Utopia, basing their program upon "prayer and work." The colony dissolved shortly after the Civil War. Many grandchildren of the original settlers still live in the Thumb area.

In western Michigan, the St. Joseph City area marks the site of 18 villages that lived and died before a permanent settlement was launched. Newburyport is perhaps the most famous. First county seat of Berrien County, it fell victim to the shifting dunes and today is buried under countless tons of sand.

Further up Lake Michigan, at the mouth of the Pigeon River in Ottawa County, lie the ruins of Port Sheldon, born in 1836 of a gigantic scheme to raise a metropolis equal to that of Chicago. All that remains long after the scheme failed are a few decaying maples which once graced the lawn of the Ottawa House, a magnificent hotel erected at the cost of over $200,000.

In the Upper Peninsula, about 30 miles southwest of Manistiquette in Delta County, is the site of one of the State's earliest and largest charcoal iron furnace towns. Fayette, shown in the sketch above as it appeared in 1873. Once the home of several business establishments, nine frame dwellings and 40 log houses, it ceased operations in 1880 and has recently been converted into a state park. Tales of buried treasure still circulate in the area.

Another well known Upper Peninsula mining town, once a village of 1200 persons and now a "ghost," is Central Mine, 17 miles north of Calumet.

Brockway, near Yale in St. Clair County, and Meredith, west of Prudenville in Roscommon County, are among the hundreds of lumber ghost towns that once dotted Michigan's landscape.

Some of the other known ghost towns are: Frederick, in Macomb County; Hartwick, in Osceola County; Walton Junction, in Kalkaska County; and Good Harbor Bay, in Leelanau County.

It seems to me that great fashion is often coupled with great simplicity. Case in point: R & K's embroidered shaft of wool jersey for day, afternoon and after-dark.

Play Safe, Check Before the Photographer's Shutter Clicks

With school about to start, parents survey their children with awe: how they've grown and changed during the summer months! Like many parents, you may consider having photographs taken to record these changes. Then, too, there is the Christmas card photograph (not too many months away, you know.) For whatever the reason, photos are usually cherished and sought by everyone at some time.

The Consumer Protection Division of this office has received numerous reports from Michigan residents who have had unhappy and unfortunate experiences with some photograph studios and sales crews. There are a variety of photograph studios and photographers. Many small communities rely on traveling sales crews of photo studios; other take advantage of special advertising offers when contacted by telephone. These may all be excellent opportunities to obtain photographs, but why not check first to be sure? Here are a few suggestions which, if followed before committing yourself, should help to avoid disappointment or loss of money invested:

1. Ask the salesman for identifying credentials. Most companies issue such credentials to their authorized representatives.

2. Call the City Clerk, local law enforcement agency, Chamber of Commerce, or Better Business Bureau for information on the company. Many towns have ordinances which require registration and/or license fees from itinerant salesmen. Reputable firms and their agents comply with these ordinances.

3. When you decide on a photo plan, be sure you understand the terms: i. e. how much will you have to pay and when; when the proofs will be ready and where they will be available; and how long after you choose from the proofs will the picture be received?

4. If the company name and address is not on the receipt you receive, ask for it. You will then know where to write if you have any difficulties or questions about your photograph purchase.

5. Don't be high pressured into photograph plans which are beyond your needs and financial ability. Shop around and see what others have to offer as to price and quality of finished product.

6. Remember that, as in other businesses, the great majority of photographers are honest and competent. Use your good common sense and protect yourself from the few unscrupulous ones.

NEIGHBORING NOTES

Plans to purchase a rescue truck have been announced by Brighton firemen. The department is seeking funds for the truck which is expected to cost between $3,500 and $4,000 for a fully equipped vehicle.

The expected enrollment in the Brighton schools is about 2,100. The Brighton high football squad will be led by a new coach, Vince Zapone, who comes from St. James school in Bay City, where his teams won 39, lost 23 and tied one over a seven year period.

Jimmy Lee Smith, one of Dexter's tri-captains will be lost to the Dreadnaughts this season. He turned up at first football practise last Thursday only to turn in his uniform issued a few days earlier. The Smith family is moving to Sumner, in the Alma area, where Jimmy Lee's dad will operate a retail store. Jimmy Lee will also be missed by the track team next spring. Walter Pish and Mike Webb are now co-captains of the Dreadnaughts.

The Chelsea Community Fair opens today and will run for four days.

Test cars killed two deer in collisions on the tracks last week at the Chelsea Proving Grounds. The drivers were not injured but the cars sustained extensive damage. The venison from a young deer and the seven-point buck was turned over to the Methodist Home.

Dick Brearley.

Farmers in Putnam and Hamburg area are harvesting the crops left after the big hail storm. The yield is very small.

A card was received here last week from George Reason who is touring thru the New England States with his new Carter Car. He says the vehicle is fine for going over hills and mountains.

Leo Sullivan who has been a Hamburg resident for some time, was recently transferred to Ludington, going from the Ann Arbor office of the U. S. Dept. of Conservation, Fish and Game Division, to the Ludington office.

Thomas Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Singer, completed enrollment yesterday for his third year at the University of Detroit. Tom is studying chemical engineering.

Melon Festival Huge Success

During the afternoon program of the Howell Melon Festival on the courthouse lawn Saturday, Albert Fredenburg, who raised the Florida-trip-winning Howell Melon last year, announced the names of the winners of the 1962 contest.

The lucky winner of the first prize, trip to New York, was not present when her name was announced: she is Mrs. Harry Hagman, 316 E. Brooks Street, Howell. This year, for the first time, second and third place winners were chosen; they are W. S. Watson of Roselane, Howell, and Robert Zizka of 422 E. Grand River, Howell, respectively. They won ribbons.

The weather and the crowds were wonderful and those who contributed their efforts to this community event may be assured that everything was appreciated by those who attended the third annual Howell Melon Festival.

Frolic In Fresh Water From The Sea

A trio of young Virgin Islanders frolic under a garden-hose spray of fresh water for the first time in their lives, thanks to a new sea water distillation unit now in operation at St. Thomas. Although completely surrounded by an ocean, this time-honored childhood pleasure had been denied islanders because of an extreme shortage of fresh water.

Built by Aqua-Chem, Inc. of Waukesha, Wis., the 275,000-gallon-a-day sea water conversion plant and power station will play a big role in the future economic development of the islands, according to government officials and businessmen. Sources predict that the sea water-power plant will double the $25,000,000 tourist business in the next 10 years.

Previously St. Thomas obtained half its water supply by trapping rainfall, and the balance by importing water from Puerto Rico via barges at an average cost of $4-$5 per thousand gallons, exclusive of distribution costs. Cost of water from sea water conversion will be about $1.25. The steam turbine power plant will also increase power supplies by 50%.
