Illegal Deer Kill at Reserve?

RESIDENTS ARE ANGRY

In Dec. 17 School Election Registered Electors Total Out to 2,300

PINCKNEY—Twenty-three hundred electors are eligible to vote in the school election coming up, Monday, Dec. 17, according to Pinckney Community Schools Superintendent Wesley Reader.

Voters here are being asked to share the expense of the Hamburg bond tag program which was instituted in 1957 to build the Hamburg Elementary School, before the district was consolidated.

The Hamburg Chamber of Commerce is spearheading the effort and circulated the petitions asking that the matter be placed before the public.

Two proposals will appear on the ballot.

The first authorizes a sufficient millage levy (4½ mills) to retire the equalized debt, while the second authorizes the consolidated district to "assume the tax-limited bond issue of Pinckney Community Schools dated Feb. 1, 1955 and the unlimited tax bond issue of former School District No. 1, Hamburg Township dated March 1, 1957."

Backers of the proposal, including the chamber committee of Bill and James Bennett, Hugh Radloff, and Clifford

...state that the amounts to be levied under the new plan for all taxpayers would amount to 3.1 mills from 1962 to 1964, 1.1 mills from 1964 to 1977 and .5 mill from 1977 to 1986.

They are asking for community support on the basis of "fairness." If the plan fails, taxpayers in the Hamburg No. 1 District, according to the committee will pay at the rate of 6 mills from 1962 to 1977 and five mills from 1977 to 1986. This millage is based on the current state equalized value.

TO BE REPLACED?—Plans are under way to secure federal funds to help build a new town hall here in Pinckney. Officials of Putnam Township, Pinckney Fire Department, Community Library, and Village Council met recently to discuss securing federal matching funds. Another meeting is set for Thursday (Dec. 6) in the evening. —Photo by Mal Rose

Claim 6-ft. Fence Violates Law

PINCKNEY—A running feud between Pinckney residents and the Edwin S. George Game Reserve flared this week over the "management" of the deer herd. (This is explained in a story by Illar Muul on page 3).

Gerald F. Reason, Pinckney realtor, and John F. Burg, 2324 Patterson Lake rd., have sent letters to the Michigan Conservation Dept., and conservation magazines, claiming the University of Mich. Dept. of Wildlife Management, which operates the Reserve, is acting illegally under the state laws.

Burg claims the law requires an eight-foot high fence around the enclosure and says the Reserve fence is only six feet high.

The University is now in the process of raising the height of the fence to nine or ten feet, according to Muul.

Reason issued a statement to this paper in which he says: "The Edwin S. George Reserve is operated by a tax free, tax-money-operated institution and on tax free land for which we taxpayers in Putnam Township must supplement for, and governed by a tax paid bureau in Lansing making sure to arrest any game law violator in this area for even minor infractions while condoning, by illegal issuance of a Game Breeder's license to the George Reserve, the shooting and selling of deer during closed season, and with prohibited gun-making a mockery of the Conservation Game Laws."

John Burg's Open Letter To Public

"Deer-Harvest" under the cloak of "Biological-Research" by the University of Michigan Dept. of Wildlife Management has been in operation several years at the George Reserve located at 5640 Doyle Rd., near Pinckney.

This Reserve has been licensed by the Dept. of Conservation (current license issued Jan. 25, 1962) under the Game and Fur Breeder's Law Act 191 P. L. 1929 and Conservation supplement to this Act over signature IHB: FWS: III, 2-23-57, which stipulates adherence to certain specifications and regulations to entitle a Valid license.

The fence specifications have NOT been adhered to these past several years thus enabling deer to pass into and out of the enclosure. Deer of open land are driven into the Reserve due to the pressure of hunting of the regular season on the outside of fence. Then, when regular season closes the Wildlife Dept. of U of M assembles a kill — in the name of "Biological-Research."

This year, Saturday, Dec. 1, 1962 I was present at the slaughter and locker plant at the Reserve where I witnessed the results of the days kill, the venison of which will be sold on the open market. The law specifies that deer MUST be confined in an enclosure to be eligible for a Game and Fur Breeder's license this — NO deer from outside to go into and NO deer from inside to go out.

Now, if a fence does NOT confine the deer then the license should be declared Null and Void immediately, and anyone in the enclosure attempting to, or killing a deer in any manner at any time other regular deer season as prescribed by LAW is in the role of a violator.

Additional kills are planned thru December, 1962. The deer driven into the Reserve by regular hunting season pressure increases the total count of deer in the Reserve so that the "deer-harvest" kill is excessive in proportion to the deer normally in the enclosure.

Transient deer, shot in the Reserve after regular season, belong to the licensed hunter of the State of Michigan.

Does the University of Michigan have a moral obligation NOT to allow such actions of game violations when it is known by them that the Reserve does NOT meet specifications?

Also, how can the Department of Conservation justify its actions of issue and release of a license to anyone, no matter how large an organization, when said enclosure does NOT meet specifications of Michigan Law and its own Department of Conservation?

Hell Chamber Drops Pee Wee Hockey League

HELL—Due to lack of interest from sponsors and coaches it has been necessary to discontinue plans for the Pee Wee Hockey League, the Hell Chamber of Commerce announced Sunday.

The high cost of outfitting the teams and the danger of injury to the players were the principal deterrents to the inauguration of this activity. The only source of enthusiasm was from the players themselves.

Dave Struck, U. of M. basketball coach, will be the host of the Pee Wee Basketball League youngsters at one of the U. of M. Home games in December.

Some 60 boys and their coaches will make the trek to Ann Arbor to see how the big fellows do it and the exhibition should materially help the youngsters in improving their play in the months ahead.

A committee of the Hell Chamber of Commerce attended the recent Michigan National Convention of Square Dancers at Cobo Hall, Detroit and lined up groups of dancers and callers for the Satans Holiday Festival here, Saturday, June 29, 1963.

The State convention was a huge success, four floors being required to accommodate the 6,000 dancers.

The National Convention will be held at St. Paul, Minn., next June. Invitations will be sent out in January to area dancers for the Hell festival, which will be followed by a summer session at Boyne Mountain, Mich.

Fund Drive Falls Short by $1,000

PINCKNEY—Collection of 40 per cent of the 5,000-dollar goal of the Hamburg-Putnam Community Chest, was announced this week by fund officials.

The drive began Nov. 2 and was scheduled to end Nov. 15, but due to lack of funds collected towards the goal, it continues to go on.

The slogan is "Let's all give — once for all — the United Fund way."

Reason's Letter To State

November 28, 1962

Mich. State Conservation Commission, Game Department, Lansing, Michigan. Att. Gerald Eddy:

For the past several years the Edwin S. George Reserve, operated by the University of Michigan, in Putnam township, Livingston County, has been allowing the shooting of deer after the regular deer season closes and by unlicensed hunters and then selling the meat therefrom.

It is my information that the George Reserve is licensed under Act 191 Public Acts of 1929 and under Act 191, Section II supplemented by the Conservation Commission's regulations for fences on enclosures of over ten acres the specifications for such fences to be very clear, therefore under Act 191 the Edwin S. George Reserve could not possibly qualify for a license. I believe that all the facts are well known by your department yet you deliberately license an unqualified party or enclosure for a license. It is my contention that the deer that are shot after season by unlicensed hunters and then sold constitutes three distinct game law violations and this has been going on for several years. I am, along with many other persons, getting disturbed by this disrespect for the law and by, of all persons, the members of the Conservation Commission.

I hereby request that the Breeders license for the Edwin S. George Reserve be immediately revoked and remain revoked until such time the Reserve has complied with all necessary regulations required in Act 191 and supplement.

The revoking of said license will make it necessary for some of us to request that anyone shooting a deer after the regular season, without a license, and selling such meat, be arrested and fined as anyone else would be for the same violation.

I have personally seen many deer jump in and out of that enclosure making the basis for my contention that our deer are being illegally taken and sold.

Your personal attention in this matter will be appreciated, let's just be fair, which will create more respect for the law.

Your Truly,
Gerald F. Reason

Uncle Sam Offers Bonds In New Gift Envelope

A familiar and popular gift item - United States Savings Bonds - will be available in an attractive new "package" this Christmas, according to William McPherson, IV, volunteer chairman of the Livingston County Savings Bonds Committee.

The package consists of a handsome new gift envelope which will be available free at local banks to purchasers of Savings Bonds to be used as gifts. The envelope is faced in blue with a drawing of the American eagle holding a red, white and blue streamer.

It is backed in white and flapped with the blue inscription, "A Gift for You . . . A Share in America". Space for address and signature is also provided along with another inscription of "Keep Freedom in Your Future - with U. S. Savings Bonds".

"Coming at this time of year," Mr. McPherson said, "the new gift folder is an attractive bonus to Christmas givers. Throughout the year, however, these folders will be available for all types of gift occasions, and will be kept in stock by the banks for this purpose."

"The folders are easy to mail, and can be slipped into a Christmas card envelope or tucked into a child's Christmas stocking. However they are given, they are certainly easy to receive!"

TB Contributions Keep Pace With Those of Previous Year

HOWELL — Initial 1962 Christmas Seal campaign contributions from residents of Livingston County have hit an early pace near the all-time record established last year, it was announced today.

The Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reported $990 was received from county residents in the first week of the campaign compared with $1,019 in the similar period last year.

Total contributions from Livingston County residents last year were $4,414.00.

"Christmas Seal contributions in the first week exceeded last year's pace in 72 of the state's 83 counties," MTRDA President Lloyd Humberger, of Battle Creek, said.

"Christmas Seal cause, now in its 56th year, is gaining stronger support than ever before, indicating Michigan people are grateful for progress which has reduced deaths from 3,618 in 1918 to 332 in 1961, and that they know the need for even more effective action if the mountain of TB infection is to be conquered."

"The menace of tuberculosis is that it strikes in sinister fashion, frequently does not give warning until after the illness is advanced, and thus some 1,500,000 persons in the state — one out of every five — are believed to be harboring TB germs."

"Our hope that this disease will be eradicated in our generation. The response to the Christmas Seal campaign this year shows that the people of Michigan want this goal achieved."

Edwin S. George Reserve

Provides Natural Habitat for Animals

PINCKNEY — One of the aims of the Edwin S. George Reserve is to provide a place where animals can live in their natural habitats relatively undisturbed. These animals range from water-hyacinths to turkey vultures. Only a relatively small percentage have been studied in great detail so far, and yet the fauna of the Reserve is one of the best known in the world.

The plant community is also quite well known. It is surprising how little man actually does know about the subtle ways of nature; a great deal is still to be unveiled.

How much energy from the sun falls on a typical field and how much of it can be used by the living community? What types of plants are found in this field and how does the prevalence of different species vary from week to week and from one year to the next?

One notices that in abandoned fields plants are flowering all through the summer, but each individual flowers only for a few days and each kind only for a few weeks. Thus, each species may be said to take its turn at flowering sometime during the summer. This relationship has come about through competition.

It is difficult to conceive of competition among plants, but it is actually very effective. Crabgrass, for example, can hold its own against most competitors. By blossoming during different times the various species in the field reduce this competition. In this way available space, available energy and pollinating agents are shared most effectively by milkweeds, goldenrods, hawkweeds and others.

As the plant community changes during the summer, so do the insects that pollinate, eat, or find shelter on the plants. For example the rosechaffer beetle, which is altogether too common during August, cannot be seen in June. Through extensive and thorough collecting on the Reserve ever-increasing numbers of moths, beetles, wasps, birds, mammals and other animals are being recorded.

Accurate records are being maintained as to the time of first appearance and the relative abundance of various animals in different seasons and years. By analyzing these records data are obtained which may be the basis for predicting insect plagues and the anticipated amount of insect damage to crops and forests.

Area Deer Herd Shows Increase

Another long-term Reserve project is study of the controlled deer herd. When Colonel George fenced in the Reserve area he bought several pairs of deer and some antelope and released them. The antelope did not do well since they were not suited for the type of habitat found in the Reserve, but the deer herd increased from year to year.

At this time there were very few deer in the Pinckney area, but as the Reserve herd grew some escaped and stocked the surrounding area; some deer were also released by the Conservation Department in the Pinckney Recreation area. From these original sources the deer population around Pinckney has become one of the largest in southern Michigan.

Meanwhile the herd within the Reserve grew tremendously until there were somewhere in the neighborhood of 160 deer in the two square mile enclosure. This resulted in heavy grazing on the vegetation, especially during the winter.

It soon became obvious to the faculty in the zoology and conservation departments at the University that this herd could not go on growing unchecked if the vegetation of the Reserve was going to be kept in balance. Therefore a controlled harvesting program was begun and has continued to the present day.

A great deal of valuable information has been gathered about the deer in the past decades. Rates of reproduction and growth have been analyzed. Various types of harvesting programs were tried out: some years only bucks were shot, in others bucks and does. It was found that removal of does as well as the bucks did not significantly change the reproductive capacities of the herd.

Study Deer Feeding Habits

Studies of feeding habits were also undertaken. A deer can starve to death with its stomach full of hay because it lacks the appropriate micro-organisms in the digestive system which actually digest the hay; cows, sheep, and horses all possess these digestive agents and are thereby capable of getting the maximum food value from hay.

The micro-organisms in the deer are capable of digesting leaves and stems of woody and herbaceous plants. Young trees, goldenrods, hawkweeds, and other herbaceous plants provide the bulk of the diet of the deer. This is why deer are not as successful in mature forests where the foliage is high, but they do very well in grown-over fields and immature woods.

Another interesting mammal which is common in the Reserve is the flying squirrel. These squirrels are much more common than people realize. Spending the day in an old woodpecker hole or some other hollow in a tree, they come out only during the night.

Gliding from tree to tree, they can cover distances up to 150 feet or more. Their large eyes are apparently able to gather enough light even during the darkest night to make the navigation of the glides possible.

During the winter 20 or more of these squirrels sometimes join housekeeping. This apparently helps them to conserve heat during the cold weather.

Another rodent which comes out only at night is the deer mouse. It also has big beady eyes and large leafy ears. The color is usually light brown. There are two kinds of deer mice on the Reserve, one which lives primarily in the fields and the other which inhabits the woods. Since they are so similar, it has always been a puzzle why there was so little overlap in the habitat selection of these two mice.

Environment Affects Mice

One recent experiment at the Reserve involved a long "mouse-proof" pen which extended for 50 feet into the woods and an equal distance into the field. Each half of the pen contained several compartments each connected with a trap door. In this way a mouse placed in it was able to move freely from one compartment to another, as well as between the woods and the field.

As would be expected, the field deer mouse spent most of the time in the "field" portion of the pen as indicated by the records kept by each trap-door. But, if the same kind of mouse was raised in the woods it chose the "woods" portion of the pen. Those raised in the laboratory would spend more time in the "field."

From this type of experiment it can be seen that although the heredity of the U of M Professor Says:

Power Struggles Create Faculty Woes

Authority and power struggles in American educational systems are frequently to blame for such ills as "teacher turnover," discharge and arbitrary termination of contracts, low productivity, and highly publicized resignations, says Gale Jensen, University of Michigan professor of education.

"These power struggles develop mostly in connection with an organization's decision-making," Jensen says. He writes in the current issue of "The School of Education Bulletin," published at the University.

The U-M educator names six sets of conditions which create the authority struggles which show up in the everyday behavior of employees.

First culprit is nonpublic decision-making, says Jensen.

"Under these conditions, only a few persons know how any particular decision was made. Personnel tend to grow suspicious and noncommunicative if they are adversely afected. It's as though some invisible hand were at work directing their lives. And if the decisions result in bad conditions, the personnel also become apathetic and resentful."

Bad decisions about goals was also blamed for producing power struggles.

"Loyal opposition" groups spring up determined to take action before it is too late. A great deal of personnel energy is given to criticizing decisions that have been made to expressing concern for the welfare of the organization.

Power struggles are also caused by persons using organizational resources as patronage to build personal power, says Jensen. Situations like this are common to organizations and are watched carefully by all personnel. When they are present, off-hand remarks about the "guilty party" are made to call attention to what is happening.

Another set of conditions has to do with differences between personnel with respect to what the proper objectives of the educational system should be.

The struggles here usually take the form of scuffles between "humanities," the "arts," "science," "practical arts" teachers, and administrators.

"Candidates for administrative posts are scrutinized for their values and attitudes toward educational problems and organization more than for their actual competencies for performing the job well."

Power struggles are also created when some outside organization which holds "public power" continually demands an accounting of what the organization is doing, says Jensen.

"Under these conditions, the educational system has a tendency to employ personnel who are unable to contribute to the instructional work but who are skillful in keeping the 'enemy at bay.' To personnel who conduct the basic work of the system, the newcomers appear to be meddlers and bureaucratic nuisances."

"Last," Jensen cites, "the failure of personnel in authority roles to get the decisions needed by the educational system. When this condition becomes chronic, personnel become apathetic and are like to make cynical remarks about how the system is suffering from 'administration constipation.'"

"Gradually some personnel try to fill the vacuum by 'illegally' supplying the kind of decisions needed. When discovered, this upsets the persons responsible for decision-making and then authority struggle is on."

The Atlantic Charter, declaring peace aims, was issued on August 14, 1941 after a conference aboard the U. S. cruiser 'Augusta' and the British battleship 'Prince of Wales' at Argentia, Newfoundland.

Gals Favor Things to Wear for Christmas

A recently popular song points up the fact "that it's fun being a girl." And, it seems that the fun of being a female is particularly fun-filled at Christmas time.

Maybe a girl wouldn't find life unbearable, if she didn't get some "wearable," but dollars to doughnuts, the average missy, miss or missus would be quite disappointed without something for her wardrobe from Santa.

If you're her Santa this Christmas, the something-to-wear possibilities in gifts are endless. From plain to fancy sweaters, patterned or not, with or without fur, novelty knitted or classically simple, unadorned or bejeweled, the sweater line-up goes on and on in rich glowing colors and styles.

Slim jims, capris, stretch pants, shorts, slacks, etc., are all high on a girl's wish list, and selections are tremendous.

Blouses to tuck in or wear outside run the full gamut from pure white to black, in solid colors and prints of all kinds. Fabulous new fabrics make their care a dream. These are styles for the tomboy types or the "I love puzzles" ladies.

Wrap her lovingly in a new coat, a jacket or cape and you'll put stars in her eyes.

A mink coat, of course, will thrill her, but she'll love a cashmere if it's from you; tweeds, all leather, and a most elegant fabric story make up the new coats for Christmas.

Although this season's trimmed coats are lovely and simple, the big news is in the exciting handling of coats with luxury fur trims.

If you'd like to make it a gift of fur but can't afford it, look at the fascinating "fur look" coats that authentically copy the sophisticated leopard, tiger, leopard and zebra look of the real thing. Best of all so many of these fabulous fakes have real fur on collars and cuffs to enhance them.

Fur-trimmed jackets in the widest variety of car coats, jackets are designed to top the elegant formal or sleek-look slacks. Some are hooded, many are pile or fur lined; others have linings that go out or in as the weather changes.

She'll certainly welcome a topper for all weather wear. Some of these look like theater coats set shed water like a duck when the rains come; many do an about-face with one fabric for the top side and a completely wearable lining to flip over when the occasion or mood is right.

Although capes in poncho styles head many sportswear showings, the cape that's most favored, comes in fur — mink, in tricky capelets of fox, chinchilla and other luxury pits.

gloves, jewelry and other feminine accessories.

Big squares, long oblongs, bandit ties or what have you, scarves are modestly priced; they come in rich silks, wools, knits, chiffons; in solids, prints, polka dots, etc., etc.

Yes, give her something to wear — she'll know you care.

Traditional Trains Vie With Highway Vehicles

Young railroaders can have new twin-rail track with stipulated wooden ties that are hard to tell from the real thing. Miniature trains riding the rails range from the chugging, smoke-puffing steam locomotives to modern diesels, and even a self-propelled rocket sled that ejects its pilot by remote control.

Looking behind the scenes, youngsters will see the full range of automated railroading. A touch of a button will send a mine car flying apart in a simulated explosion, or a missile roaring off into space from its launching car. There are even work cars that spray forth little railroad ties and hay bales automatically.

On miniature highways, there's more excitement than ever. A new Autorama "which lane?" chicane race has an oval roadway with two small go-karts that change lanes at random, adding unpredictability to the fun of racing. And a new over and under "speedway" allows as many as four youngsters to compete with brightly-colored stock cars, each one under individual throttle control.

A more elaborate superhighway features all the action and realism of a modern turnpike. Young drivers can turn off into side streets, back up, or follow another car in the same lane. The little cars can now do nearly everything a real car does, except get a ticket.

So the question is, which to buy your youngster — trains or cars? Both are exciting fun, but the makeup of your youngster's personality may be the best clue.

Kids who like to make up games by themselves, and who have active imaginations, may prefer trains. This gives them the opportunity to build up a whole action story about the travels of their train, where it's going and the goods it carries in the little freight cars. Younger children are apt to prefer this, say the toymakers.

For older boys, 9-14, who are more outgoing and competitive, the highway race games are likely to get a good reception. They give a child the opportunity to compete with his friends in a really exciting situation that encourages his abundant energy. All the while in these toys comes with the boy.

If you're still in a dilemma, here's a hint: one of the new train sets has a flat car that carries a car to go on the raceway. And if experience is any teacher, say the people at American Flyers, just ask Daddy what he likes best.

Give a science set that is versatile. Good science toys do more than one thing, they should allow for many expanding interests. Versatility is really the key to any good toy, not just science sets. Expect fair value for your

 "ACROSS FROM MILL ROAD" BRIGHTON

THE OPULENT LOOK for this girls holiday season is expressed in a full-length evening gown such as this. Its elaborated bodice is encrusted with pearls and sequins. A high-circling waistline, two flying back panels and a matching stole add glamour to the rich luster of satin Chateau-rose tulle.

The Council of State Governments, an instrument for encouraging cooperation among the states in solving interstate problems both regional and national has a central office at 1213 E. 60th St., Chicago 37, Ill.

Rally 'Round The Punch Bowl

For your holiday open house nothing will raise the spirits and warm the heart more than a "party rally 'round the punch bowl." The theme for your party can take its name from an outstanding wine-punch gaining wide popularity throughout the country. Pink Gold punch, made of a brilliant, lively carbonated Roselle wine, with maraschino cherries, poured over a star ice mold, can set the stage for your own festival of food gifts for guests this season.

Pink Gold Punch Bowl
 2 bottles Pink Gold (carbonated Lake Roselle wine)
 Star Ice Mold
 Maraschino Cherries

To make star mold pour about 1/4 inch water into bottom of mold. Freeze firm, arrange maraschino cherries around edge of mold, pour in small amount of water, being careful not to disturb cherries. Freeze firm. Fill mold with water and freeze firm. Unmold just before serving into punch bowl with cherry side up. Four Pink Gold over ice mold just before serving. Serves 12.
 Good companions with Pink Gold punch are cheese and crackers, cakes and cookies, nuts or thin cut sandwiches. One idea: Sherried Snowballs.

2 tablespoons cocoa
 1 cup confectioners sugar
 1/4 cup Wildner Neapolitan Sherry or Lake Niagara Wine
 3 tablespoons light corn syrup

3 cups crushed vanilla wafers (12 oz. package wafers)
 1 cup broken pecans
 1/2 cup confectioners sugar

Sift cocoa and 1 cup confectioners sugar. Stir in wine combined with light corn syrup. Add vanilla wafers and nuts and mix thoroughly. Roll the mixture into small balls and dredge with the 1/2 cup confectioners sugar. Makes 40.

The P.T.O.-sponsored fair will offer almost 300 titles for all ages, from pre-school through high school.

The books have been selected by the co-chairmen, Miss L. K. Edgerton, librarian; Mrs. D. Bowman, high school English teacher, and Mrs. Ross Taylor of Whitmore Lake.

Members of the high school library staff will also assist.

The fair is planned to stimulate interest in recreational reading among the school children and provide an opportunity for them to buy for their personal book shelves.

Parents also will want to consider the books on display as Christmas gifts for the family.

Such perennial favorites as "Mother Goose" and "Cinderella" will be available as well as new titles, "A Tree is Nice", "Curious George," and Dr. Seuss's many books.

Older children will enjoy, "Charlotte's Web," a farmyard story in which a beautiful and wise spider rescues a lovable pig. "The Borrowers," by Mary Norton introduces a fascinating world of little people who "borrow" what they need from humans.

Other titles give a fresh view of American history in his books, "Ben and Me," and "Captain Kidd's Cat."

Profits from the fair will be used by the school library for needed equipment.

Six Livingston 4-H'ers Enter Livestock Show

By DUANE GIRBACH
County Extension Agent
4-H Club Work

HOWELL — The climax of more than nine months of careful livestock feeding, grooming and training has come this week for 4-H Club members attending the 33rd annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

Six 4-H members from Livingston County entered animals in the market lamb, and steer classes at the show.

They are, Arthur and Gordon Munsell of Fowlerville; Lynn DeForest, Byron; Barbara Musson, Howell and Judy and Sheila Sober of Fowlerville.

Cattle exhibitors have worked hard with their animals since before March 1 when all steers had to be in the hands of the 4-H youngsters. Sheep and market hog entries were required to be on feed by September 15.

Dates of this year's show are Dec. 3-6 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds. Main emphasis of the show is on the education of young stockmen, according to 4-H leaders. They pointed out that many of these 4-H Club members will be the commercial farmers and meat producers of the future.

More than 350 exhibitors brought their prize livestock to the Detroit show, according to Ralph Morrow, 4-H livestock specialist at Michigan State University. The event is jointly sponsored by the MSU 4-H Club department in cooperation with the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

Carcass entries arrived during the afternoon Monday. Exhibitors took part in an on-foot judging evaluation of market lambs, hogs and steers the same evening. Carcass evaluation sessions are being held in the meat coolers of several Detroit meat packing houses today.

Other livestock exhibitors arrived yesterday.

Bulldogs Can't Lick Jinx

West Bloomfield shoots for another goal.

The Bulldogs and West Bloomfield battle it out.

Can't Seem To Conquer West. Bfd.

By CHRIS KLAGES, JR.
BRIGHTON — Whatever it is that West Bloomfield has over Brighton they sure are making the most of it.

For one to fully understand this statement we must look to the past. Brighton has never beaten West Bloomfield in football, and in the last four years has never won a basketball game with them at West Bloomfield.

This jinx, as it seems continued into the present year and this basketball season, for last Friday Brighton was beaten soundly by the Lakers, 57 to 25.

Brighton never seemed able to get started, as their carefully laid plays never materialized, as West Bloomfield paced by Robinson, scored 16 points mostly on fast breaks made possible by Bulldogs' mis-cues.

The Bulldogs were saved from being shut out in the initial quarter, by Dennis Hartmann who sank Brighton's only score of the quarter.

This continued to be the pattern of the game, as the Lakers scored 32 points in the first half, while the Bulldogs could manage only 7.

One more problem developed for the Bulldogs in the second half, when they developed a severe case of "I don't want the ball", and seemingly gave it to the waiting Lakers who promptly continued their fast break and sure scoring.

High scorer for the game was the Laker's Robinson, who despite the fact that he didn't play much of the fourth quarter, succeeded in scoring 21 points.

High man for Brighton was Ed Case, with 7 points.

JAYCEE GAME
Brighton's J.V. team dropped their second game of the year to West Bloomfield 38 to 17.

High scorer for Brighton was Cliff (Grass) Ritter, with 6 points.

High for the game was Hall of the Lakers with 8 points.

Like the varsity, the J. V. showed a need for scoring, as the only points they could manage in the first half were 7 of which came on free throws.

This game showed a marked improvement in this squad, as in each game it gains more experience.

Wrapping of Gifts Can Be Fun Task

If you don't wait until the last minute, and have all the tissue, ribbons, paper, bows, tags and other "ingredients" you need — gift wrapping Christmas packages can be as much fun as opening them.

Be sure you have a good working surface; the dining room table, a desk top or a card table can give you a good area for your happy task.

Always cut your paper a bit larger than the box you are going to wrap. This extra allowance will provide smooth edges and a neater fit to the paper. Make the side folds first, then bring the paper down upon top and up from the bottom. This is the way professionals do it.

Tie your ribbons around the package at square corners, or diagonally. You can achieve a smart look by taping the ribbons on at various angles.

Most rolls of ribbons provide instructions on tying various bows. If you are at all dextrous, these instructions are easy to follow.

However, pre-tied bows in gay colors, patterns and textures are available in a wide range of sizes and clever shapes — and they are as inexpensive as tied-up, ready to put on your package — as if you had made them yourself.

THE PINCKNEY (Mich.) DISPATCH, WED. DEC. 5, 1962 9

Manchester Beats Pinckney Pirates

The first home game of a basketball season is always one of aspiration and high spirits. The game last Friday night was certainly no exception.

The Manchester Dutchmen went home with a dual victory, but surely not without an excitement willed battle with the Pinckney Pirates.

The opening game between the two Junior Varsity teams ended with the score 41 to 28 in favor of the Dutchmen.

The Pirates stayed close to the Dutchmen in the first half but never actually got in the lead.

The Dutchmen outscored the Pirates in the final quarters 22 to 12, which gave them their first victory of the night.

The varsity game proved to be a much closer battle than the previous one. During the first two periods the lead changed hands several times, but ended with Manchester ahead 27-36.

The last half contained as much excitement and tension, which lasted to the very last seconds, as could ever be hoped for by any crowd.

The fourth period was the deciding one in this ball game, and the victory might have gone to Pinckney if it had not been for a series of fouls which gave the Dutchmen a winning score of 48-55.

Ron Haines led the scoring for Pinckney with 24 points.

Gary Mitchell was high scorer for Manchester with 19 points.

Hamburg, Playland Hold League Lead
PINCKNEY — Playland and Hamburg Chamber of Commerce teams took the lead in the second round of the Pee Wee League, Saturday.

The playboys had no trouble with the crippled Pilgrims winning 28 to 5, and for a change put up a smooth passing game, but were off on shooting, cashing only 12 percent of their floor shots.

Russen performed best for the winners, while Hollister held down the fort for the losers.

St. Mary's bowed to the strong Hamburg quint 14 to 13 in the daycap, missing many easy lay up shots and failing miserably from the foul line.

The game was hard fought all the way with Hamburg taking an early lead and showing the way throughout.

Hamburg meets Playland Thursday at the Elementary School gym at 6:30 p.m. for first place honors.

Trojans Lose To Morrice 53-37 Final

WHITMORE LAKE — A lack of rebounding and an abundance of fouls were the two biggest factors in the Trojans' 53-37 loss to Morrice High last Friday in the opening game for Whitmore Lake.

The visiting Orioles jumped to a quick lead and outscored the Trojans in every quarter, controlling the boards and taking advantage of the free throws awarded after Whitmore Lake fouls.

Morrice hit on 65 per cent of their free throws. Ted Ringle threw in 14 points for the Trojans.

Allen Norton netted 12 points to lead the Whitmore Lake junior varsity squad to a 37-35 triumph over the Morrice reserves.

Fowlerville Clips Hartland

Final Score Is 59-45

By JIM EVERS

HARTLAND — Hartland lost their first basketball game of the season on Tuesday, November 27, to Fowlerville, 45-59.

Fowlerville led the game throughout the evening and the only time Hartland was close to their goal of winning was in the second quarter with one minute and 19 seconds remaining.

At this time Fowlerville was leading by five points. It was a very exciting event and good sportsmanship was sought to the end.

John Douglas and Gordon Hetrick of Fowlerville were the two highest point men, Douglas with 17 and Hetrick with 13.

Vernon Smith scored the most points for Hartland with 16 points. Charles Cone and Jim Kanyit were second with 12 points each.

Each team received most of their points in the third quarter, Hartland 15 points and Fowlerville 16.

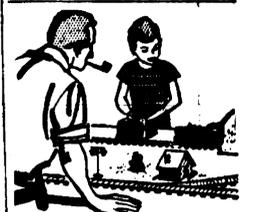

The Fowlerville Junior Varsity defeated the Hartland Junior Varsity that same evening with a score of 67-22.

The Hartland Junior Varsity lacks height this year which was the biggest handicap Tuesday.

Hartland's next game is with Morrice in the Hartland High School gymnasium on December 7, at 7:00 p.m.

HARTLAND J. V. — Fowlerville's Ganton gets away a shot. Ricky Anderson (20), and Denny O'Dell, (22) of Hartland make a game effort to stop him while Dennis Dietrich (50) awaits the outcome.

One Hundred + Eyes +

BY BILL GAIL

THOMAS MUNCE, editor of the Livingston County Farm Bureau News, and his wife have flown off to California for one month to visit their daughter. Tom gets the credit for the story on Hi-Point Farm which appeared last week in his paper and the Argus.

GERALD F. REASON, Pinckney real estate man, was able to spread his views in the Sunday Free Press "As Our Readers See It" column. His letter said:

"Contrary to the auto industry's claims that authorized dealers are necessary because they perform services for the car purchaser it seems that about the only differences between an authorized dealer and a discount house is that a discount house sells the car to the consumer at less money. I could write a book on the service that you get at the authorized service garages, which are just a gathering place for part-changers and not mechanics. The authorized service garage does not perform any service that any 'wrench jockey' could not perform. "When you take your car in, the general procedure is to change parts until the ailment is corrected. In a large percentage of cases the ailment is not corrected. "Most owners know nothing about mechanics and are therefore unaware that they have been taken to the cleaners. A fee is added to every new car price to take care of service but try to get any service after you once buy the car."

"Let the public decide where they want to buy their cars. I will buy mine at a discount house any time as long as the company sticks to their guarantee, and I will get a mechanic of my choice to work on the car."

MRS ANNA COOK of Brighton is proud of her grandson, Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cook of New Hudson. Gerald is a member of the Future Farmers of America at South Lyon High School. His team took a second-place emblem in the recent national contest held in Kansas City, Mo., for its work in the "meats" division. He and his fellow future farmers had their picture taken with former President Harry S. Truman at the Truman Library in Independence.

Michigan Milk Producers Association has been having a little trouble with its advertising. According to their monthly bulletin: "The Association's most recent television commercial (we call it the "POW" commercial) had to be taken off the air the month after viewers complained that it was making too strong an impression on their children. "Mothers and fathers both called or wrote the Association to say that the children were acting out the commercial in every detail, including the paws. "The cartoon-styled commercial has a girl asking the young male proprietor of a sidewalk dairy bar for various milk drinks. Each time the boy tries to explain his mother didn't order enough for the week-end, the girl swats him. A new commercial stressing that girls who value their complexion drink milk every day" was scheduled to replace the "POW" commercial last month.

Karen Hargeshimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hargeshimer, 4374 Skusa Dr., Brighton, has joined the 1962-63 Spartan Debate Squad at Michigan State University. Miss Hargeshimer is a junior majoring in speech education.

All right lets help them!!! All you guys and gals that spend money freely to entertain and to be entertained, you are some of the lucky ones, now how about it!!

Could you perhaps one evening out on the town, skip 3 or 4 scotch and sodas or 4 or 5 cocktails, or even a half dozen beers? Could you just one evening drink a little less and donate this foolishly spent money to this worthy work?

Just think what this grandiose sacrifice will do for your health and figure. If you decide to let that big steak or lobster dinner and all the trimmings, plus the after dinner drinks, buying "One for the House," and one for the road.

How about passing up the big time for one night and contribute to these worthy needs? What a wonderful feeling, what a lovely sacrifice, and you can reward yourself double the morning after the memory of safe driving... the clear head... no bromo needed.

Now let's just try it once, send your sacrifice (money) to Lincoln Schmitt, Rev. Robert Coffey, or Fred Hynes so they can help these less fortunate people. They are also human just like you and I.

Life is "Funny". Some have everything, and then there are the ones who thru no fault of their own, illness, tragedy, and just plain unlucky and poor some with pretty terrible afflictions.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir: On Nov. 26, I parked on Main Street. When I tried to put money in the meter, I found there was a penny jammed in the slot. I left the car there, and when I returned, I had been dinked for over time parking.

When I went down to City Hall to pay the fine, I asked the person in charge why the meters weren't marked if they didn't work.

I was told that presumably the police didn't know about it. I think the officer should check it before writing out a ticket.

If people are unable to put money in them, they should not be fined for it. The meter should be marked, "Out of Order," and no tickets should be issued there until it is repaired.

You should not have to go to the trouble and expense of paying a fine under these circumstances. This kind of policy isn't good for local business.

If a person from out of town had this experience, I doubt if he would care to come again.

Mrs. Thomas Kluck

UNITED FUND

Dear Sir: Here is that pest, Oscar, again.

In your last editor's note you mentioned something like, "Oscar, let your conscience be your guide" in writing letters to the editor."

That I will, and hope that all the readers of the Brighton Argus will let conscience be their guide.

I am referring to the edition of the Argus with the heading, "Community Chest Lacks $2,200, needs volunteers."

According to the chairman of the board, Lincoln Schmitt and Rev. Robert Coffey, the money is needed for the local community benefit work such as the Rickett School for special education, for boy and girl Scout assistance, the Salvation Army and many other worthwhile organizations.

Now the committee says, "we need help."

Expert Advises Pig Producers To Avoid "Meatless Wonders"

Now that the dust has settled after Ed and Marge Gottschalk's open house at the Howell Livestock Auction, let's see what was presented during the swine demonstration worthy of note.

Bob Hines, Extension Swine Specialist from M.S.U., had a lot of comments that should be remembered. He referred to the total area of misconception of the "meat-type hog."

Length and leanness, however, emphasized to the point where they have become "meatless wonders."

What a warm and noble feeling! The almighty god will look upon you with favor and approval.

This writer gave ten dollars to the United Fund drive and then decided to give another ten dollars after seeing the call for help in the Argus.

And this writer is not more fortunate than most of you. Again, hoping that I have caused no bad feeling, trusting that a lot of people will give to this wonderful worthy, cause and bring our quota over the top.

I am respectfully,
Oscar Muller

Non-public Decisions

Gale Jensen, University of Michigan professor of education, has written an article analyzing teacher personnel problems.

One of the factors he names as affecting personnel behavior is "non-public decision-making."

He says, "Under these conditions, only a few persons know how any particular decision was made. Personnel tend to grow suspicious and noncommunicative if they are adversely affected. It's as though some invisible hand were at work directing their lives."

Many school boards, including the Brighton Area Schools, hold discussions involving personnel at executive sessions. This may be necessary.

However, the decisions reached and supporting reasons, should be announced.

This could help to avoid any hard feelings on the part of faculty members or employees, such as Prof. Jensen describes.

The Editorial "We"

What is the reason for the editorial "WE"?

According to "usually reliable sources" the editorial WE originated over 100 years ago. Here is the accepted reason, handed down through the years:

"An editor is one who reads newspapers, selects miscellany, writes articles on all subjects, sets type, reads proof, folds papers, and sometimes carries them, prints job work, runs errands, cuts wood, works in the garden, talks to all his patrons who call, patiently receives blame for a thousand things that never were and never can be done, gets little money, has scarce time and materials to satisfy his hunger, or to enjoy the quiet of nature's sweet restorer, sleep, and esteems himself peculiarly happy if he is not assaulted and battered by some unprincipled demogog who loves puppet shows and hires the rabble with a treat of cider brandy to vote him into some petty office.

A man who does all this and more, not here recorded, you will know must be a rather busy animal.

And as he performs the work of so many different persons he may justly be supposed their representative, and to have an indisputable right, when speaking of himself, to use the plural number, and to say 'we' on all occasions and in all places."

—The Nebraska Newspaper

Promotion of Justice

"Integrity in journalism, as in law enforcement, cannot be a matter of percentages," says J. Edgar Hoover: "It must be complete and impregnable. As guardians of American liberty, the press and the police are charged with a sacred trust. Operations which closely affect the lives of millions of people must be exemplary and above reproach.

"In addition to its innate responsibilities, the press is morally obligated to promote the furtherance of justice and the perpetuation of law and order. Indeed, much of the progress our profession has made in raising its standards to professional status is directly attributable to the support of editors and publishers who recognize the need for effective law enforcement."

On occasion, to be sure, the penetrating eyes of the press have spotted evidence of abuse of authority and corruption within enforcement ranks. However, fair and objective reporting of such matters has proved to be beneficial to both law enforcement and society."

This newspaper supports Hoover's position 100 per cent.

The Argus believes that everything it can do to promote law and order is in the best interest of the entire community.

If anyone feels there are areas where improvement can be made, step forward and let them be known.

Whither the Chamber?

Is the Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce dying? Some say yes.

Some say no.

Having undergone a re-organization, it appeared that the group had found new blood and was ready to become an energetic civic organization.

Yet, little or nothing has been done as yet to show signs of significant progress.

A manager was hired on a trial basis and let go after several weeks.

Since then... the chamber has been spinning its wheels.

Petty jealousies and schisms have developed which are not healthy for a community that hopes to grow and improve.

Perhaps the spirit of Christmas will descend and permeate the membership, creating the unity which the group must have if it is to provide militant leadership for this community.

"It is a day we all have awaited because it marks the completion of Michigan's third cross-state freeway." Michigan's first border-to-border freeway - I-94 - has been in use two years. The final link of the 330-mile Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway - the nation's longest toll free superhighway - was completed earlier this month. The 170-mile Detroit-Lansing

Muskegon Freeway actually is being opened a year earlier than was anticipated when plans for the freeway were announced by Mackie in 1957.

At that time, it was planned to have the entire freeway under contract by 1962 and opened by the end of 1963. But the construction timetable was moved up to enable it to be completed a year ahead of schedule.

During the last five years, Michigan has opened more than 900 miles of freeway - 83 miles during the last half of 1957, 104 miles in 1958, 100 miles in

Highway Dept. Appoints Brighton Man To Supervise Two-County Maintenance

HOWELL - The appointment of Clair Rathburn as State Highway Department Maintenance Superintendent for Ingham and Livingston counties was announced recently by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. Rathburn, 51, will supervise the work of State Highway Department maintenance garages in Mason, Williamston and Brighton. These three garages will be responsible for maintenance of nearly 260 miles of state highways in the two counties. State Highway Department maintenance activities in the two counties will be merged on Jan. 1, when the Highway Department takes over the maintenance of all state highways in Ingham County.

The Ingham County Road Commission, which has done maintenance on state highways in the county under a contract with the Highway Department, recently asked to be relieved of the responsibility.

Mackie said the Highway Department will maintain highways in the two counties under an "area plan" put into effect 18 months ago in other areas of the state where the Highway Department does its own maintenance work. Under this plan, men and equipment from garages in one county cover highways located in portions of two or more counties. Under the old system, maintenance garages in each county were responsible only for highways in that county.

Rathburn, who joined the Highway Department in 1945 as a weighmaster, has been maintenance superintendent for Livingston County since February of this year. Prior to that, he was District Maintenance Superintendent for the eastern half of the U. P. for three years. A native of Manton in Wexford County, Rathburn is married and has two children. He and his family live at Brighton where he is now stationed. Eventually, he will be stationed at Webberville where the Highway Department plans to build its headquarters garage. The Webberville garage will replace a temporary facility being rented at Williamston.

Rotary To Serve Venison Dinner Thursday Night

BRIGHTON - The Brighton Rotary Club will hold its "Winter Dinner" Thursday (December 6) between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m. at the Episcopal Church Parish Hall.

This annual Rotary fund raising event is being held for the first time at the Episcopal Parish Hall. A full course venison or beef dinner is being offered and will be served by Brighton Rotarians.

All proceeds from donations will go into the Rotarian's Community Fund, which supplies scholarships for deserving students, Christmas baskets for the needy, support of Girls State and Boys State activities, sponsoring of community informational events, and support of the Brighton Scout Building.

Church To Lay Corner Stone

BRIGHTON - Plans are in the making for the laying of the cornerstone of the First Methodist Church which will be on Dec. 30.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed of Detroit and Dr. Edwin Stricker, district superintendent will be here.

Bishop Reed will deliver the sermon at the 10:45 a.m. service.

Fire Destroys House Trailer

BRIGHTON - Volunteer firemen here responded to four alarms within the past seven days - two of them for the reusciator.

A house trailer, insured for $7,300, was completely destroyed Sunday morning at 10175 Bishop rd., Green Oak Township. Owned by John Nichols, occupants at the time were his wife, Gladys, and five-month-old baby daughter. Neither was injured.

Fire Chief Harold Jarvis believed the fire was caused by faulty wiring.

Firemen were unable to save the life of Mrs. Betty Sak, 42, of 8822 Maltby rd., who died Friday morning at her home of a heart attack. The volunteers used the regular fire truck for the run as a properly equipped car was not available.

They expect to have their reusciator in operation soon so that a speedy vehicle will always be available. The man had better luck shortly after midnight on Nov. 30 when they supplied oxygen for Joe E. Rodriguez, 15, of Wheeler, who was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while sleeping in a car. He was given first aid at the Brighton State Police Post by Trooper DeLaney.

On Monday, the fire department responded to a false alarm at 8225 Dana Lou Dr. at Woodland Lake.

Health Center Confirms U. S. Grant of $76,250

HOWELL - Confirmation of a federal grant of $76,250 was announced this week by the McPherson Community Health Center.

Mrs. Lynn Zimmerman, chairman of the Center's board of trustees, said this sum had been secured under terms of the Public Works Acceleration Act.

This brings the total of federal grants and foundation gifts, awarded the Health Center since its founding, to nearly $200,000.

The money from the latest grant will be used to pay about two per cent of the cost of a new Self-Care Unit to be built just west of the present hospital. The structure will be an "L" shaped one - story building of 20 private rooms furnished much the same as those in a first class motel or hotel. The new section will be connected by a corridor to the ground floor of the present west wing. The Self Care Unit will be used for patients who are able to walk to the cafeteria for meals. Among those will be convalescent patients and others who are in the hospital for diagnostic work. The Health Center Self Care Unit will be one of the Student Council Notes By Nancy Bond Council President

The student Council is really keeping busy!
Monday, Nov. 26, we sponsored a program having Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barling come and run puppets with a skit called "Robin Hood". Everyone enjoyed it.

We are now preparing for a Christmas program for the school in which each room usually participates.

We sent our Korean orphans, Shelly, $28.00 worth of Christmas presents. This included a snow suit, shirts, carduroy rompers, toys and other different things.

We are having a leadership contest and the boys and girls from our school put the name of an adult for whom they think is most active in community activities.

Then we will choose the best ones and give them a token, by which they can remember their winning.

The Student Council is buying a camera for the school and the teachers may use it any time they wish. The council will furnish the film. If any room is having a party, they may take pictures and we will have them developed and put them in our school scrap book.

THIRD GRADE Mrs. Henry

We are preparing the bulletin board for December. The children made houses with Santa Claus and his reindeer going over them.

In Arithmetic we are adding columns of numbers and studying measurements. Next week we will begin adding and carrying.

Today we made get-well cards for James Dean, who had his tonsils removed. We hope he will soon be back.

The 3rd reading group read a story about a lighthouse and are making models out of oatmeal boxes.

SECOND GRADE Mrs. Anderson

The girls leader this week is Connie Lenn and the boys leader is Danny Murphy.

Eddie Gerdel's father got a deer.
Today is Rex Meabon's birthday.
We drew names for Christmas.

FOURTH GRADE Mrs. VanBlairoum

We made December calendars. Monday we will choose the best one. The chosen boy or girl will make a large one for the room.

Everyone in the room can now do even and uneven division by the 2's, 3's, and 4's.
We made a Holland scene in a cake pan. We built dikes to show how much of Holland would be below water if it weren't for dikes.

We are anxiously waiting for our new library books. We are also getting another order for the Arrow Book Club.
Janis Russom, Mary Schroeder and Linda Gehringer have birthdays in December.

FOURTH GRADE Mrs. Campbell

We thought the Thanksgiving program was very good this year. Susan Riggs gave a short talk on "What to be Thankful For" and Penny Goucher "Thanksgiving". We could understand every word they said over the microphone.

Besides those two we had several good Thanksgiving stories written by Linda Reason, Linda Gyde, Janet Rentz, and Deborah Michael.

For November we have been working on writing book reports. Penny Goucher, Linda Gyde, Deborah Marshall, and Susan Riggs have more than five already finished.

In Arithmetic we are working on uneven division by two's and three's. Next week we start our four's in multiplication.
Janet Rentz brought some peanuts to plant. We are watching to see if they will grow.

SIXTH GRADE Mrs. Erhardt's

We have two new students in our room, Kathy Sheeks and Jack Goforth. We are glad to welcome them to our room and school.

We are making maps of France, the British Isles, Denmark, Belgium, Finland, and Norway.

Mrs. Erhardt put our desks in tables. We have a secretary for each table to check to see if everyone has their work done.

SIXTH GRADE Mrs. Teach

We are making Christmas presents for our parents.
We are making decorations for our room.

We started fractions in arithmetic. Alvin McCarty got "A" in spelling. Kenny Brayton left for Arizona this week.
We were quiet every day this week except school.

SEVENTH GRADE Mrs. Morris

We had a class meeting on Friday conducted by our class president, Susan Baughn. We tried to follow the rules for parliamentary procedure outlined in the "Pocket Primer of Parliamentary Procedure", written by Fred G. Stevenson, University of Michigan.

At this meeting we made plans for our Christmas party, and drew names for a gift exchange. Ricky Sours suggested we have a "silent auction" as part of the entertainment. The money will be used to build up our class treasury.

June Brown, Linda Hutchings, Marjorie Quisenberry, and Diane Halliburton are decorating one bulletin board; Linda Zesulka and Becky Read, decorated the other one.

Artists who are painting the windows are Linda Stefan, Becky Henry, Susan Baughn, Becky Read, Diane Haines, Pauline Van Blairoum, Linda Zesulka, Penny Reynolds, Sandra Balyer, and Linda Whitley.

We have been trying to add words to our writing vocabulary. Some of us have written pretty good poems.

Jerry Goforth entered our room on Tuesday. He has been attending the Stockbridge School.

7TH AND 8TH GRADE Mrs. Carr

The 8th graders are working on area and perimeter in our arithmetic books.

We all are doing a play called "Happy Christmas to All". We will do the play for the other rooms.

The characters are; Dennis Vertin as Mr. Moore, Nancy Bond as Mrs. Moore, Tim Umstead, Judy Hull and Jack Pfaff as the children, and Bonnie Surtis as cousin, Emily.

We had a class meeting and picked a committee to decorate our room for Christmas. The committee is Tim Umstead, Clara Watters, Nancy Bond, Dale Booth, Alan Porter and Judy Hill.

We've picked out many things for example, a poster that has a Christmas picture on it and reads, "Merry TWIST-mas". There are many other nice things.

A handful of patience is worth more than a bushel of brains. This is an Old Dutch Proverb.

+ Health Center Confirms

James H. Sullivan, administrator of the Health Center, said there have been four major items which make up the nearly $800,000 the hospital has been able to obtain in the past six years.

HILL-BURTON FUNDS
The largest of these was $450,000 in 1957. This was a United States Public Health grant under the Hill-Burton Act. This money, along with other contributions made by citizens, companies and groups in the area, made the present hospital possible.

There was another federal grant of $143,683 under a Hill-Burton appropriation in 1962. This money is helping pay for grants besides the latest one the present construction now under way at the Health Center. The ground floor of the west wing, which had not been completed, is being finished.

The north wing is being extended on the ground and first floors and an entire second floor of that wing is being added. When the west and north wings are completed and the Self Care building is finished, the hospital will have 141 beds.

The Health Center has been interested for some time in organizing the care of hospital patients in line with what is known as Progressive Patient Care. (Progressive Patient Care is a plan of organizing the hospital staff and facilities so that patients can be grouped according to their nursing and medical needs.)

Many connected with hospitals throughout the country and in the Public Health Service in Washington believe this plan can supply the best kind of hospital care.

KELLOGG GRANT

A grant of money was requested from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek to subsidize a Progressive Patient Care Program. This year the foundation granted the Health Center $80,750 to hire special personnel and to meet other expenses necessary to start and operate the plan.

In addition, the Bureau of Hospital Administration of the University of Michigan will conduct a three-year study of Progressive Patient Care at the Center in order to evaluate the program and make possible recommendations to the Health Center and other hospitals as to patient care in the future.

Another grant received this year was one of $27,000 from the Michigan Department of Health. This was part of the monies the state received from the United States Public Health Service.

The grant will be used over a three-year period in the new Home Care program at the Health Center.

Because of the grant, money is assured for the salary and travel expenses of a graduate Public Health nurse. The nurse will work from the hospital and make visits to patients at home as physicians order this care.

Sullivan stated that there are several other requests for grants in process. Any money resulting from these requests, he said, will be used for improving or extending the health care in Livingston County.

I have been in contact with the Dept. of Conservation several times the past year and recently with the University of Michigan, to no avail, expressing that the present action cease immediately and NO license be granted until such time as the Reserve in question comply with ALL the specifications.

I am asking those interested persons or organizations contact the Department of Conservation and University of Michigan immediately expressing your concern over the 'Authorized-Violations' of Michigan's deer regulations, thus putting an end, even for the remainder of this year's so-called 'deer-harvest'.

HOWELL — The official canvass of votes in the 1962 General Election shows that in Livingston County 4,960 voters cast their ballots for Governor John Swainson, 8,999 for Governor-Elect George Romney, and 24 for Socialist-Labor Candidate James Sim.

The total Michigan vote received by the three candidates for the state's top office was 1,420,088 for Republican Romney, 1,339,513 for Democrat Swainson and 5,219 for Sim.

In the close vote for Lt. Governor, incumbent T. John Leelanak received 4,965 votes in Livingston County compared to Clarence A. Reid's 8,714. Democrat Leelanak received a State total of 1,537,872 compared to Republican Reid's 1,334,883.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, running for reelection for an unprecedented fifth term, was not only the pace-setting vote-getter on the ballot but won with the largest plurality. Hare's 1,489,527 votes gave him a 300,509 edge over Republican Norman O. Stockmeyer who polled 1,189,018 votes.

In Livingston County, Hare received 5,870 votes compared to Stockmeyer's 7,768.

Hare, whose support came from all parts of the State, had campaigned in 74 of Michigan's 83 counties. No other Secretary of State has ever served more than three terms. Hare won a fourth term in 1960 and a fifth term in 1962.

A SMART HANDFUL OF FASHION is in the bag for Christmas when you gift her with this "Commuter" hand-bag. In natural, imported Heather Spun and trimmed in soft leather, it has a large outside pocket. Best of all, it's a bag that's fashion-right any season with lots of room for personals and packages.

VOTE YES

ON THE

PINCKNEY School Issue

Monday, December 17, 1962

PROPOSITION 1:

This proposition is not for the purpose of levying additional taxes; therefore, may be voted on by any qualified elector of the Pinckney Community School District. This proposition applies only to the 1955 Bond Issue that was voted by the people of Pinckney Community School District for the purpose of additions to the high school and elementary school in Pinckney. This bond will be retired by 1964 at the current rate of 2 mills. Because of the increase of valuation of the district. This proposition must appear on the ballot in its legal form as follows:

I. Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Pinckney Community Schools, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, for all purposes, except taxes levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased, as provided by Section 21, Article X of the Constitution of Michigan, by forty-five hundredths of one per cent (0.45%) (4 1/2 mills) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of twelve (12) years, from 1963 to 1974, both inclusive, for the purpose of spreading a debt retirement tax levy uniformly over the territory of the combined district to provide funds to pay the principal and interest on bonds of the school district dated February 1, 1955, School District No. 1, Hamburg Township, Livingston County, Michigan, having been annexed to this district on December 2, 1958?

PROPOSITION 2:

This proposition is for the purpose of combining the $105,000. principal balance of the 1955 Pinckney Community District debt with the $184,000. principal balance of the 1957 debt of former Hamburg School District No. 1. This proposition must appear on the ballot in its legal form as follows:

II. Shall Pinckney Community Schools, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, as combined with School District No. 1, Hamburg Township, Livingston County, Michigan, assume the tax-limited bond issue of Pinckney Community Schools dated February 1, 1955 and the unlimited tax bond issue of former School District No. 1, Hamburg Township dated March 1, 1957?

TAXPAYERS

This is what it means to you in $ and ¢.
A yes vote on above proposition will mean an increase of 30¢ to 36¢ per $1000 assessed valuation for all taxpayers of this district, excluding those in former Hamburg School District No. 1.

The taxpayers of former Hamburg School District No. 1 are presently paying at least $10.68 per $1000 assessed valuation more than the remainder of the Pinckney Community School District.

DO YOU THINK THIS IS FAIR WHEN WE HAVE EQUAL FACILITIES FOR OUR CHILDREN? We urge you to vote YES on both proposals.

HOW TO MAKE SURE IT'S THE HOME YOU WANT!

Buying a house may be the most important purchase you will ever make.

With our office, every transaction is a two-way street. If the sale isn't to the best interest of BOTH you as a buyer and the party who sells, then WE are the ultimate losers!

Our interest must be your interest. If you won't be happy in a home, we won't sell it to you, because we can't afford a customer who is not altogether contented!
