PUTNAM PLANS HALL WORTH $106,000

Democrats Nominate Hendee

PINCKNEY — Putnam Township's incumbent supervisor, Lloyd Hendee, was nominated Monday by the Democrats as their candidate in the April 1 election.

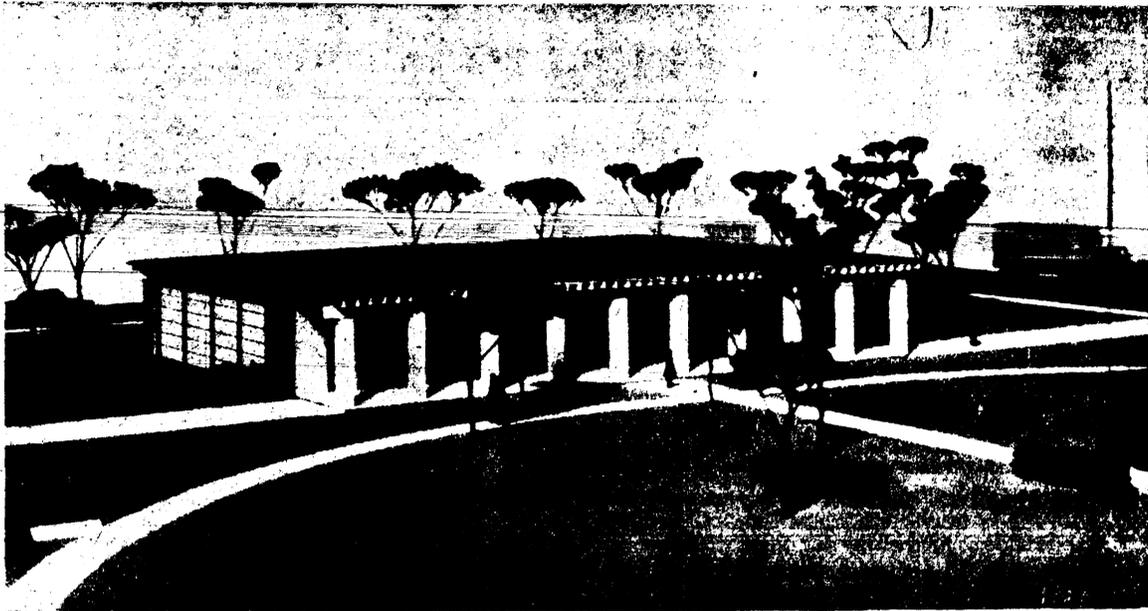

Hendee defeated his challenger, Wayne Shettleroe, 263 to 129.

The supervisor will be opposed in April by Stanley Dinkel, Pinckney village president, who polled 89 votes to secure the Republican nomination over Gerald Reason who received 43 votes.

Incumbent treasurer Helen Reynolds, Democrat, received 249 votes to outpoll her competitor, George Roth, who was given 142 votes.

Mrs. Reynolds will be opposed by Mrs. John Ruhlig, Republican candidate who was without opposition.

There were no other contests in either party.

Architect's drawing of proposed Putnam Township Hall

Voters Must Okay $53,000 Borrowing

Application has been made to the U. S. Community Facilities Administration by Putnam Township, for a grant to pay one-half the cost of a proposed new Township Hall.

The building would be erected on the Public Park in the Village of Pinckney and the total $106,000.

Property owners in the Township will be asked to approve a bond issue in the amount of $53,000 at the April 1 election to match the requested Federal Grant.

Lee Goucher of Hammett Associates in Architecture, Inc., Ann Arbor Architects for the project, today turned over to the township Board a model of the building and preliminary drawing.

Goucher, a resident of Putnam township, described the proposed project as a "Community Building".

The building will be a three level structure and house the township offices, meeting rooms, public library and the Putnam Township Volunteer Fire Department.

In accepting the architect's model and drawing, Lloyd Hendee, Putnam Township Supervisor commented on the need for the facility in the community.

He stated that the present Township Hall was erected in 1883 as a store building on what is now the Township owned village square and site of the proposed building. The present Township Hall contains only one room and is largely occupied by the local public library.

The library consists of more than six thousand volumes and is heavily used by both permanent residents and the many summer cottage owners in the area.

The Township Board holds meetings in this building but due to a total lack of office space, much official business must be conducted from the homes of the Township Clerk, Murray Kennedy and Treasurer, Mrs. Helen Reynolds.

A similar situation exists for the Village of Pinckney officials and Hendee hopes the Village will accept the Township Board's offer to share the new meeting rooms, offices and record storage spaces to be provided in the proposed building.

The Putnam Township Fire Department is now housed in a building located on Main Street in the Village of Pinckney.

This building is owned by the Village, and located between commercial structures.

The new building will be of fireproof masonry and precast concrete construction.

In addition to providing local government departments with offices, fire department and public library, the proposed building will contain public meeting rooms and areas for functions sponsored by any recognized community group.

A large colonnade in front of the building will act as a park shelter at times of inclement weather for the many summer activities using the park.

Hendee stated that the model and drawings of the building will be placed on display in the Pinckney Post Office window until the April first election.

In addition to Supervisor Hendee, the Putnam Township Board consists of Murray Kennedy, Clerk; Helen Reynolds, Treasurer; and John Wylie and Louis Stackable, Trustees.

Supervisors Say: No Airport Funds

Decision Halts Site Development

HOWELL — Plans for a Livingston County Airport were slowly pulverized yesterday by the Board of Supervisors.

Playing with the project like a cat does with a mouse, the county lawmakers preferred to keep toying with the proposal rather than subdue it with a good stiff blow.

Finally after about three hours, filled with drama, humor, politics, and a lot of conversation, supervisors voted 12 to 6 not to show their intent to put $20,000 in the 1964 budget.

This was the maining stroke for without this resolution, the county has not allocated enough money to acquire state and federal matching funds.

The $20,000 put in this year's budget needs to be augmented by another $20,000 to get $40,000 from the state and $80,000 from the U. S.

It was rather a sad day for the six airport commissioners who have worked diligently to push across development of the Howell Airport.

Supervisors buckled down to their task for an hour before noon and resumed after lunch for two more hours.

During this time they often referred to the resolution, adopted in October, establishing the airport commission, as the source of much of the current misunderstanding.

Steps were taken to put new resolutions on a firm legal footing so, as Supervisor Clifton Heller (Howell City) said, action by the board could be "above reproach but not above attack."

After considerable wrangling, and explanations about the law, given by Prosecuting Attorney Charles Gatesman, a resolution was adopted which changed the wording of the October resolution from "committee" to "committee."

This act defines the authority of the airport commission as an advisory board.

The official airport committee is composed of three county supervisors: Marshall Cooper, Earl Dickerson, and Glen Berry, chairman.

It was also clearly spelled out in a resolution offered by Heller that the committee can were the first polled. Right down the line it was "yes" from Heller, Fred G. Catrell, Herman H. Heeg, and Douglas Swann.

As light was thrown on the matter of committee authority and establishing resolutions "above reproach," it became evident that Berry would reintroduce a resolution, put aside earlier in the day, to indicate the supervisors' intent.

Lavan called the shot. He said, "We can soon expect to have the chairman ask again for the $20,000."

Berry did, and then, when the roll was called on the question, voted against his own resolution.

As some legal questions came up in the afternoon discussion, someone asked, "Where's Gatesman?" just as the prosecutor was arriving from Brighton. The time was ripe for a demonstration from all present and a big cheer arose at the timing.

How far the county wants to go in the future was a question left unanswered.

Marshall Cooper, committee member (Brighton City), moved for a vote on the question "Do we want an airport, owned operated, and maintained by the county?"

A decision to table the matter left it hanging in the air.

Some of the other participants in the discussion were Fowlerville attorney Joseph Cox, representing a group of dissident property owners, Airport Commissioners Glen Miller, Bruce Taylor, and Gerald Harmon; and Edward Hubbell who presented a petition bearing signatures of 125 persons opposed to the airport.

Plans are now under way to have the art students at the High School set up their creations at the June Festival which will not only provide them with funds to further their art work but will also lend a continental atmosphere to the celebration with the artists actually at work on their sketches of the beautiful hills and lakes at Hell.

Park Unit Seeks Bids On Sewage Disposal System

PINCKNEY — Bids to construct a new sewage disposal system in the Pinckney state recreation area are now being accepted, the Conservation Department announces.

The proposed new facility would service the beach and picnic area development on Half Moon lake.

Area contractors can obtain bid specification forms for $3, by writing to the Department's parks division, Lansing.

Sealed bids will be opened at 2 p.m. on March 21, by the State Administration Department in Lansing.

The Pinckney area is one of many Michigan state parks and recreation areas being developed or improved under an initial $5,000,000 bonding program.

Last fall the Pinckney area entrance road and parking lot were completed and the toilet portion of a combination bathhouse, toilet and concession building will be erected this spring.

... Mr. Robert Amburgey has been appointed to Fire Chief by firemen, waiting for Putnam Township's approval.

The office of the Pinckney Dispatch has changed location — and all within the week! We are now located at 109 East Main Street — two doors west of where the former office was.

I like being messenger very much. I think I am able to do the job of messenger very well. I have been doing it for the past year.

I think I have been and will be very trust worthy by seeing that all errands are done as quickly as possible. I didn't loaf around at the office when delivering lunch money.

I stood still and waited my turn to give the lunch count when there is a line.

I like my helper Sandy, too. I have been on many errands this year, and have done them to my best ability. I am trust worthy, and I've also found that Mrs. Kellenberger finds me trust worthy. I've always got the correct amount of tickets and money. Thank you, Deborah Horner.

Pee Wee Cagers Win Two

Pinckney Junior High Hoopsters were back in the win column with a double win over Whitmore Lake Wednesday.

In the opener the 7th graders came thru in the 4th quarter with 8 points, held the Lakers to 4 points and won a hard fought 18 to 14 victory.

The game was a cliff hanger all the way, the half ending 8 to 8, the 3rd quarter 10 to 10. Bullwinkle Cavins came thru in great style with 11 points, followed by Mandy Fulerson with 4 for the miniature Pirates.

Spicer kept the Lakers in the game all the way with 11 scores.

The 8th Grade Pirates took an early 7 to 4 lead at the quarter, slowed up in the 2nd quarter and was on the short end of a 14 to 12 score at the halt. With the reserves in the line up in the 3rd quarter they fell further behind and had the short end of a 18 to 13 count at that point.

They got their teeth into the Lakers in the final quarter and Slowly but surely cut them down, winning going away by a 24 to 20 margin.

Mike Sepulveda turned in an outstanding performance for the locals and also led the way in scoring hours with 9 counters.

Lupi was the Laker luminary hitting the hoop for 9 tallies.

After the tournament at Fowlerville the locals will close out their season with a game at South Lyon and the 8th grade team will meet the Pirate freshmen in their annual encounter.

Junior High Cagers Lose In Tournament

The Fowlerville Jr. High Tournament found both Pinckney teams losing to their more experienced opponents when the 7th grade bowed to Fowlerville by a 25 to 15 count and the 8th graders on the short end of a 40 to 23 score, against the Webberville Spartans.

The 7th grade team were slow starters being shut out in the 1st quarter 11 to 0 and winding up at half time with a 17 to 9 deficit.

County Dairy Farmers To Meet With M.S.U. Experts

Milk Producers Will Study Costs

HOWELL — The 1963 theme for dairymen in Livingston County is "Milk the Best and Sell the Rest."

Livingston County dairy farmers find themselves having to face up to several situations in their business today.

Under the theme of "Milk the Best and Sell the Rest" county dairy farmers are having to take closer look at their operation.

The family farm is still a strong unit in the agriculture of Livingston county. Under the present economic conditions of rising costs and lowering prices it is necessary for a dairy farmer to make some very exacting appraisals of his business.

He finds that it is desirable to stay within the family farm structure. Then, on the other hand, he is wondering a little bit about expanding the business in order to maintain a favorable income and expense relationship.

More cows are not the answer.

Better cows are the answer. Certain efficiencies have been revealed recently concerning this matter of better cows and not more cows.

It has been shown that 18 cows producing 13,700 pounds of milk and 520 pounds of butterfat will return as much as 46 cows producing 8500 pounds of milk and 328 pounds of butterfat.

Another fact revealed from this information is that there is less total milk placed on the market.

It is a known fact that these low-producing cows are contributing directly to our surplus problem so the theme of "Milk the Best and Sell the Rest" was developed.

value of keeping a cow who habitually experiences irregular calving intervals.

Many ideas are evident these days concerning the matter of some sort of a preventive medicine program for dairy cattle.

Some dairymen in the area have already subscribed to this kind of a service with their local veterinarian. Those who have are expressing their satisfaction with this kind of a service because many situations become evident before they otherwise might be known.

The dairy housewife is urged to attend these meetings, too, from the standpoint that she too plays a vital part in this matter of maintaining proper records and the amount of the milk check.

Extension Specialists Will Cover Economics

Clint Meadows, extension specialist in dairy at Michigan State University will be on the Dairy Day program, Feb. 26.

Culling the dairy herd is still a most vital process in pointing up the best cows. Dr. Meadows has developed a dairy slide rule that will assist greatly in doing this job.

If a dairy farmer is to milk the best then he is going to have to cull continuously. This dairy slide rule will point up the loafers before the end of their lactation.

It is designed to project partial production records to a 305 day mature equivalent figure. With this slide rule a dairy farmer should be able to do a better job quicker in culling their herds. Dr. Meadows will be demonstrating this slide rule at the Dairy Day meeting. As he demonstrates the slide rule he will also be discussing information that research has developed concerning breeding practices. This matter of milking the best involves a very exacting breeding program in conjunction with a culling program.

Curtis Miller, extension specialist in dairy record keeping from Michigan State University Dairy Department will also appear on the Dairy Day program. Curtis has been instrumental in revitalizing the dairy record program in the State of Michigan.

field. He will be discussing different types of dairy record programs and how these programs can quickly detect the best cows.

Don Murray, another extension specialist from M.S.U. Dairy Department, will be talking on the matter of mastitis. Dairy cattle diseases are one of the main reasons why dairy cows have to leave the herd before they should. Mastitis is yet the one dairy cattle disease causing more trouble for Livingston County dairymen than any other.

What does mastitis cost the dairyman?

Individual high producing cows that flare up with mastitis several times during the lactation period and require treatment often incur loss of more than $100 in discarded milk. In determining this matter of milking the best, disease prevention is of vital importance.

Livingston county veterinarians feel that the preventive program is of vital importance in the dairy herd. Preventive programs in mastitis control have been developed. This involved the management of the mechanical and the physical as far as the dairy cow is concerning.

Milking equipment dealers are extremely interested in this program.

Dairymen need to exercise more management techniques in carrying out a preventive program. Many new findings have been revealed through research during recent years. Don Murray will be bringing these to Livingston county farmers.

Dr. Glen Reid, extension veterinarian from M.S.U. will appear on the program talking on Bang's disease and tuberculosis in dairy cattle. Dairymen should be alert to the new Bang's law that becomes effective January 1, 1963. Dairymen are rapidly learning that there are responsibilities on their part of their off-the-farm concerns.

They are appreciating more that they are under an obligation to produce an acceptable product, which they are doing. In order to maintain this high caliber product disease control is of the utmost importance.

Preventive disease control is a continuous thing all the way from raising the herd replacements to the care and maintenance of the milk cow.

Dr. Reid will have some new information concerning the status of the T. B. program in Livingston County.

Akin-Craig Buys McPherson & Uber

HOWELL. One of the oldest insurance businesses in Livingston County, McPherson & Uber Agency of Howell, is being sold, effective March 1, to Robert J. Akin, owner of the Akin-Craig Insurance Agency of Howell.

The McPherson & Uber Agency began business in Howell in 1922, 41 years ago. The business was started by Paul H. Uber and the late R. Bruce McPherson. On Mr. McPherson's death in 1956 his interest was acquired by his son, Robert H. McPherson.

In 1957, Billy G. Tomlinson was admitted as a partner and the business has continued to this time as a three-man partnership of McPherson, Uber and Tomlinson.

The Akin-Craig Agency has a staff of four, consisting of Robert J. Akin, owner; Edward H. Akin, Doris Kubat and Susan Stickle.

The Akin-Craig Agency is located in the Howell Shopping Center, next to First Federal Savings & Loan and the agency specializes in all lines of insurance.

McPherson plans to continue his duties with McPherson Oil Company and other McPherson interests.

Uber will continue his association with the McPherson family in the same capacity he has served in for 50 years.

Tomlinson for some time past has been employed by Citizens' Mutual Insurance Company of Howell as an underwriter and will continue this position.

Dairy farmers will gather at the 4-H Building this Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 10 o'clock in the morning to learn how this can apply to their own situation at home.

The luncheon will be served at the 4-H Club Building on the Fowlerville Fair Grounds by the Oak Grove Methodist church women.

This meeting is sponsored by the Livingston County Dairy Council and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Livingston County dairymen will have an opportunity to become better acquainted with Louis Boyd, a new member of the dairy department at M.S.U.

Newspapers Can Help With Legislative News

STATE REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS G. SHARPE, LIVINGSTON-SHIAWASSEE DISTRICT

I would like to tell you something about this report. I have always supported the suggestion that public officials keep their people informed, if only in a small way, on what is going on.

There are many ways of accomplishing this task. Direct mail is probably the ideal way; however, it is costly and would add to the already over-loaded budget. So you see the newspapers are doing the taxpayers a direct service by publishing the weekly reports from their elected representatives.

However, in some areas they have not been able to find space for this report which leaves the direct mail as an alternative.

Hats off to the many newspapers that are serving the communities in Livingston and Shiawassee counties.

The legislative pace has quickened in every way and many important bills have been introduced, including labor legislation, school and education bills and, of course, the appropriation bills. Public hearings are being conducted nearly everyday.

Speaker Allison Green (R-Kingston) states that satisfactory progress is being made. "In our legislative work, good committee work is the greatest time saver, and our committees are moving satisfactorily with hearings and study of proposed legislation."

A bill to discontinue the bounty paid on fox, coyote and bobcats is certain to arouse untold controversy. The United Conservation Clubs of Michigan indicate that the bounty systems invite fraud and are recommending it's abolition.

This week will see the deadline for new bills. More than 1400 requests have been made. Last year only 16 per cent of the requests became public acts, in 1961, 24 per cent made it.

The House paused briefly last Wednesday to pay honor to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. Rep. Homer Arnett (R-Kalamazoo) led the members in a memorial tribute.

Mich. Dairy Assn. Elects President

Herman Koenn, Chelsea dairy farmer, who left a factory line 20 years ago to enter farming, has succeeded to the presidency of the American Dairy Association of Michigan according to an announcement made by the American Dairy Association following the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors.

Koenn, who milks 55 cows on his 320-acre farm, succeeds Andrew Jackson of Howell, A.D.A.'s President for the past two years. Koenn is a member of the Michigan State Grange and the Michigan Milk Producers Marketing Committee.

New Booklet Explains Proposed Constitution

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 36 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

A simplified statement of the major provisions of the proposed Michigan constitution is contained in a recently-published booklet: "Voters' Guide to the Proposed Michigan Constitution of 1962."

The booklet is authored by Miss Sarah Luedders, a research assistant for the Constitutional Convention. It was prepared at the suggestion of the convention's Co-Directors of Research — Dr. William H. Combs of MSU, Dr. Charles W. Joiner of the U of M, and Dr. Alfred H. Kelly of Wayne State University.

In the booklet's preface, the research directors write: "We believe the booklet merits the consideration of every voter for it puts the proposed constitution in context with the government of this state as we know it today and affirmatively states how that government can be carried on under the proposed constitution.

To aid and inform the casual student of the new document,

- Miss Luedders divides her discussion of the proposed constitution into six parts:
1. The checks and balances operating to control the three traditional branches of government — legislative, executive and judicial.
  2. The basic rules laid down by the document for such vital governmental functions as elections, qualification of officials, civil service and local government.
  3. Provisions relating to the raising and expenditure of governmental funds.
  4. Guarantees of individual rights.
  5. Proposals for education.
  6. Provisions permitting changes to meet changing conditions.
- Three useful charts appear at the conclusion of the booklet. They illustrate in simplified form the workings of the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government under the terms of the proposed constitution.
- Fifty thousand copies of the Voters' Guide have been printed and are being distributed as a public service by the Michigan National Bank. Copies are available on request from any office of the bank.

Patricia Rouse, Francis Veik Exchange Vows at St. Patrick

St. Patrick's Catholic Church of Brighton was the setting Saturday, Feb. 9, for the ceremony which united in marriage Patricia Mary Rouse and Francis Urban Veik son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Veik of Brighton.

The Rev. Father J. Leo McCann performed the double-ring ceremony before the main altar flanked with bouquets of white carnations, Mrs. Patricia Stourenburg sang several selections.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Rouse and the late Mr. Rouse of Brighton wore a princess-style, floor-length gown of acetate taffeta which fell into a chapel train, featuring a neckline of Alencon lace and seed pearls.

The veil was shoulder length with a headpiece of matching Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

H. B. Shuttleworth of Detroit, cousin of the bride, gave the bride away.

The bride's cousin Patricia E. Kenny was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Elaine Paquette and Joyce Rettinger, all of Brighton.

All three attendants wore identical gowns of princess style, street length, emerald green velvet with yellow mums pinned to emerald green velvet muffs, and a circlet of velvet and veiling formed their headpiece.

When you indict your government, you are blaming yourself and other voters.

Part of a Woodland Caribou antler was found in an old peat bog near Lapeer last summer, the second piece of recorded evidence ever unearthed to indicate that the animal once ranged over southern Michigan. The first discovery was made in 1940 near Minden City in Sanilac county.

Out-State Students Pay Average of $10,000 To Attend Mich. Universities

By ELMER E. WHITE

Michigan Press Association
Some $10,000 rolls into Michigan for every student from another state who attends Michigan State University for four years, according to a study by that institution.

A slight variation between the tuition fees at MSU, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, the "Big Three" of state-supported institutions of higher learning, would indicate this could be an average contribution to Michigan's economy.

Multiply this by the number of non-resident students at the three universities and the contribution to the state is considerable.

Tuition at MSU is $670 per year, for the nine-month school year, to non-residents. During the most recent complete school term MSU recorded 5,421 out-of-state students at East Lansing and another 77 at its Oakland branch.

The University of Michigan charges out-of-state students $666 during the first two years, and $666 for the upper class years. The Ann Arbor institution leads the state colleges in non-resident enrollments with 7,748 out-of-state students registered last fall.

At Wayne, some 771 non-residents pay $666 per year for their education.

With the exception of one or two universities, MSU and U. of M. charge the highest non-resident rates in the nation.

OUTLAW SLOW FOKES

Freeway motoring in Michigan would have fewer hazards if the traffic flow were more closely regulated, according to some experts.

With this closer regulation in mind, State Sen. Lester O. Begick, Bay City Republican, and three other members have proposed a bill to set a 45-mile-per-hour minimum speed limit on the freeways.

Begick's proposal has the full support of state highway officials.

The experts contend that many freeway accidents, most of which involve rear-end crashes, are caused by motorists driving too slow rather than by those who exceed the maximum speed limits.

"The principle objective of speed control is to achieve as much uniform movement of cars on the highway as possible," says Commissioner John C. Mackie. "The slowpoke is a highway menace, especially on freeways."

"The slow driver impedes the normal movement of traffic and is a hazard to motorists who are traveling at the maximum speed. It is hazardous to allow one driver to go 70 while another is dawdling along at 15 or 20 miles per hour."

Bills setting the freeway minimum speed at 45 miles died in legislative committees last year.

FREE "CON" MEN

In addition to the voluminous supply of library literature on the proposed Constitution, there is also a healthy-sized speakers' bureau awaiting invitations to speak on the new document throughout the state.

The Democratic Party, one of the chief opponents of the April 1 ballot question, is offering to make speakers available to groups interested in hearing the "con" arguments on the document.

On the "pro" side, 13 groups which comprise the Coordina-ting Committee for the new Constitution have a number of speakers touring the state to speak for the adoption of the proposal.

Both groups offer the services of speakers without charge, of course.

ISLAND DREAM

A unique plan by a state aide completely outside the field of conservation is gaining strength rapidly among the outdoor recreation specialists.

When Paul Lutzeler, aide to the Secretary of State, first proposed the creation of a chain of 20 islands in Lake St. Clair, he considered it a dream which might be fulfilled during his lifetime.

"As a bachelor I will not leave any children to enjoy Michigan's recreational facilities, but it would be a great satisfaction to be able to have contributed something to the enjoyment of future generations," said Lutzeler.

Now the plan for using the shallow lake channel for filling in islands will be presented formally to the Michigan Legislature. The Conservation Commission has given Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy the go-ahead to ask for $100,000 for the initial study of the Lutzeler proposal.

Legislators interested in recreation have already heard much of the plan.

Since the number of tourist and recreation-minded legislators has been increasing steadily for several years, the study proposal is very likely to get a sympathetic hearing.

Whether $100,000 will be found for the proposed study remains to be seen, but even a lesser amount appropriated soon would give the Lutzeler plan a faster start than its author anticipated.

TOP COVERAGE OF ALL LOCAL SPORTS EACH WEEK

Bulldogs Absorb Twin Loss

By CHRIS KLAGES, JR.
BRIGHTON — Last week's action on the hardwood floor ended all hopes that Brighton fans may have had toward a winning season.

On Tuesday the Bulldogs traveled to Holly with a 3-win, 6-loss record.

Even after hitting on 13 out of 13 from the charity line the Bulldogs fell to a much bigger Holly squad, 54 to 51.

On Friday Clarkston came a-calling bringing with them highly touted Dan Craven and Ken Miskan. It was the visitors' victory, 44-37.

The Bulldogs gave Clarkston an early lead in the first quarter, but came storming back, falling behind by only two points 10 to 8.

The story of the Bulldogs' defeat was shown early in the first quarter as the Bulldogs missed on 5 straight free throws, completely reversing their Tuesday form.

Action picked up in the second quarter with both teams scoring on fast breaks and fine outside shooting. Again the free throw problem was not solved, and the Bulldogs remained behind 19 to 18.

In the third quarter the Bulldogs began to crack, missing many easy shots from right under the basket. Clarkston, too, had its troubles, as its old jinx in the B.H.S. gym showed itself. Clarkston scored but 8, giving the Bulldogs a chance.

But Brighton scored only 6, losing its chance for victory.

Behind 27 to 24 as the last 8 minutes began, Brighton finally showed a last effort, with both Bob Evenson and Louie Williams scoring for the Bulldogs from way out.

Scoring 11 but allowing 17, the Bulldogs fell to their 8th defeat, 44 to 37.

Even in this defeat the Bulldogs had their heroes in Bob Evenson and Louie Williams, who together kept Brighton in the game, most of their way.

This week lowly Clarenceville invites Brighton to its gym, which should be good, even if it doesn't effect the standings. Now is the time to practice for the Tournaments are just 3 weeks away.

High for the game was Ken Miskan with 19 points.

Bob Evenson was high for Brighton with 12. Brighton made only 3 out of 19 free throws.

DENNIS Hartman reaches for the basket in the Clarkston game.

Close at Half, Pirates Falter

By JERRY VAN SLAMBR00K

PINCKNEY — The first half of last Friday night's game, between Chelsea and Pinckney, was probably the longest that either will ever want to play again.

The reason for this was the unpredicted closeness.

It just wasn't expected, with Chelsea being the third-ranked team in the league and Pinckney standing on the last rung of the ladder.

The Bulldogs racked up a 12 to 7 lead in the first quarter, but soon after the start of the second the Pirates seemed to become possessed with unbelievable spirit and will to win. They closed the gap between the scores and the fans went wild as they stole the lead from the no doubt over-confident Bulldogs.

The whole second quarter added up to a real cliffhanger and it was this everlasting tension that made every minute seem like an hour and every point a milestone for both teams.

First it was Pinckney's lead, then a tie, and finally the Bulldogs regained their lead with a mere 25 to 23 score.

This excitement was disappointingly short lived in the final quarters of the game.

The Pirates dropped behind in the third quarter 40 to 33 and Chelsea, realizing how close they were to the biggest upset of the season, put on an exhibition of real teamwork and unerring accuracy. They were much relieved by their 74 to 42 victory.

Boys Will Race Bicycles On Ice This Saturday

BRIGHTON — The Brighton Boys Club will have Bicycle Ice races on Feb. 23 at 1:00 on the Mill Road.

Any boy, at age 10 through 14, wishing to compete in these races can do so by calling AC 9-6796, AC 9-6787 or AC 9-6959. Applicants must be approved by the supervisor before they can race.

This is a trophy race. The trophies are displayed in the window of Gaffney Electric.

There will be a Class A and B. In both classes, first, second and third prize trophies will be given; and a sportsmanship trophy is added for sportsman of the day.

Bounty Bookkeeping: A Show of Waste

DATE	AMOUNT	DATE	AMOUNT
1. PUBLIC HUNTING LANDS		1. FEWER FOXES AND COYOTES
2. PUBLIC FISHING SITES		2. MORE BAY AS A RESULT OF LESS PREDATORS
3. WATERPOOL FLOODING PROJECTS
4. OTHER PROJECTS
$ 223,000 ANNUALLY

Never have so many paid so much for so little. This, in short, is the progress report of Michigan's bounty system which has eaten up $23 million in hunting and fishing license fees since 1935. Sportsmen who have paid the shot believing that bounties would control predators and, consequently, mean more game in their bag have nothing to show for all this spending but piles and piles of paid-up bounty claims. And to expect a change for the better under this system would be pure folly. Simply put, the principle of bounties doesn't jibe with the way things really are; such factors as food supply and living space—not predator control—hold the upper hand in determining game population levels. Ironically, the annual bounty bill continues to grow. At a time when there is a crying need for money to buy and develop worthwhile game and fisheries projects, upwards of $220,000 is being wasted annually on bountied foxes, coyotes, and upper peninsula bobcats. Legislation will be sought by the Conservation Commission this year to abolish bounties. Sportsmen have everything to gain and nothing to lose if it goes through.

Sky Divers Give Exhibition at Mt. Brighton

By Jeanne Jones

They are "Growing by Leaps and Bound" say the Sky Divers of the Mid-West Sport and Parachute Center of Howell.

From six to ten men have been coming to Mt. Brighton to help bring out more spectators each weekend and to promote sky diving. If the weather permits of course they are there doing jumps and free-falls and thrilling all the people.

This group does it for the love of the sport and puts on exhibitions on a cost basis for service clubs.

The requirements for a beginning student are ages 16 to 21 preferred, either male or female.

Those under 21 must have parents consent. Jumpers must weigh under 200 and over 120 pounds and have a good mental attitude. These are necessary qualifications. Detroit Harold Lang, team captain, stated "Last year, however a renowned chutest retired, after his last jump, at 68 years of age."

This is a sport that moves along quickly. For example if you were to start the course at 10 A.M. by 4 that afternoon you may try your first static-line jump and after 6 or 7 jumps you may be ready to try a free-fall.

Lang is also ground controller and secretary for this club. He is one of two members that had his previous training in the armed forces. Lang was instructor of the 82 Airborne Division from 1947 to 1949.

Bill Webber 23, is their master rigger from Detroit.

Danny Hamlin, 25, from Detroit is jump master and vice-president. He only started a year ago and has already 100 jumps to his credit.

Robert McTagert, 28, is a jump master. He is also the area safety officer appointed by the Parachute Club of America.

Two other members very interested and active on the business side of the group, are Joe McTagert, 50, and Stan Obiol, 60 owner of Scuba Skiing Sport shop in Dearborn.

Three years ago there were only 30 jumpers in Michigan; today there are 3000 and by next year they expect 6000. This is indeed a sport that is growing rapidly.

Jumpers claim this is a thrilling and exhilarating experience and they do it because they enjoy and love the sport and are not dare devils or thrill seekers.

They will jump from either a Cessna 173 or Stinson V77 which can carry three or four passengers and a pilot. They must have a ceiling of 2500 feet and a minimum of 2200. Saturday being a clear day they anticipated jumping from 7500 feet with a 20 to 30-second free fall when they must pull out at 2500 feet with 300 feet deployment, giving time for any emergency actions.

The hazards in this sport are very low. Over 1000 jumps from this center were made with only three minor accidents. None of which was serious enough to even keep the man from their job. The state record is 4500 jumps with only one fatality. The group has its headquarters at the Howell Airport and they will be training civilians to be jumpers.

INTERESTED? Y. S. F. Lang and the other officers hope to make jumps with the group and would like to hear from you. Write to them at the address below.

Dispute Over Pesticides Centers Around Controls

The "Silent Spring" grows louder with the sounds of combat in the wildlife versus pesticides war — and it may get worse, observes a University of Michigan wildlife authority.

Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the Department of Fisheries in the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources, says that although evidence accumulates that chemical poisons are killing or rendering unfit for human consumption many wild fish, birds and mammals, some individuals and industries appear to be trying to discourage the adoption of needed controls.

Lagler, cites examples reported by the National Wildlife

Federation (NWF) on his radio program, "Conservation Report," produced by the University Broadcasting Service (WUQM):

"Federal biologists recently pointed to traces of the pesticides aldrin and dieldrin as the killers of as many as 2000 wild ducks annually at three small industrial lakes near Denver, adding that many thousands of ducks carried sublethal doses of the poisons to their nesting grounds, where their reproduction may be impaired.

"Word from California indicates that pheasants in agricultural areas there carry large amounts of DDT and smaller amounts of dieldrin, and that chlorinated hydrocarbons readily pass from the pheasant hen to the egg."

Meanwhile, Lagler adds, the NWF has indicated that the National Film Board of Canada has withdrawn from distribution its "outstanding" color film, "Deadly Dilemma," which argues for biological controls combined with a minimum of chemical control.

Federal wildlife biologists who have specialized in pesticides have been "dis-invited" to give a number of talks, "indicating that a concerted effort is afoot to silence the anti-chemical people."

Wisconsin's Natural Resources Committee of State Agencies has drafted a proposed pesticide control bill to be presented to the legislature, the U-M spokesman reports. A committee chairman of the International Union for the Conservation of Nature declared in Rome that pesticides in the long run may increase problems rather than reduce them.

"With this in mind, careful consideration should be given to other solutions of the problem such as other control methods," Lagler concludes. "Biological control, though not so spectacular and not so effective immediately, may eventually be a more economic way of improving the production of food. "Such control may be brought about by changing key ecological conditions that favor pests."

Pinckney Driver Loses License

Richard Edgar Sochow, of Pinckney, has had his drivers license revoked, effective January 9.

This data was from a weekly report of the Secretary of State.

There was only one offender from Livingston county out of twelve central Michigan motorists whose license was suspended or revoked.

The last known caribou in Michigan was found on Isle Royale near the turn of the century. Today, caribou are found only across the northernmost part of the North American continent.

Lynx May Return To Upper Peninsula

The day may not be far off when a once-lost member of Michigan's wildlife family — the Canada lynx — will regain his place as an established resident of the Upper Peninsula's densely-forested areas.

That's the way things look to William Laycock, of Marquette, the Conservation Department's regional game supervisor.

He reports that 10 lynx were killed above the Straits last year, the most recorded since the animal dropped out of the state's picture — or nearly so — as a result of Michigan's virgin forests being cut over.

There is a good chance that more lynx were taken in 1962 than reported, because they can easily be mistaken for their little brother, the bobcat. In other words, some lynx kills may have passed for bobcats.

This, in turn, points to the possibility that the upper peninsula's lynx population may be even higher than kill reports have indicated in recent years. Department game men in the field have noted signs which suggest that lynx numbers are building up slowly, but surely.

They also have good evidence that the moose, another scarce species since the logging days, is increasing gradually in the Upper Peninsula, mostly in the eastern end. These giants of the antiered world also have two small colonies in the central part. The rise of the lynx and moose is more than a mere coincidence, according to Laycock. Their comeback is traced to changing forest conditions, namely the return of the big timber — the very thing which is working to the disadvantage of deer, grouse, and snowshoe hares.

In a way, history seems to be repeating itself. Where upper peninsula forests have been growing back closer to the big timber stage of the pre-logging boom, conditions for wildlife have also reverted toward that by-gone period.

All this to the liking of the Canada lynx and moose.

Boat Trailers Need Not Be Reweighed

Watercraft enthusiasts who own boat trailers have been informed that such boat trailers need not be reweighed for the 1963 trailer license year.

This order, issued this week by Secretary of State James M. Hare, covers all boat trailers regardless of size or weight, providing that the owner can present for surrender a previous year's registration, a manufacturer's statement of origin, or a copy of a bill of sale from a dealer wherein the weight of the trailer is stated.

An optimist is an individual who starts construction work, expecting to come out on the estimated cost.

Dept of State Offices To Stay Open Friday

All branch offices of the Michigan Department of State will be open for business on Washington's Birthday, Friday, Feb. 22.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, license tab sales are more than 20 percent behind those a year ago.

Hare urged those who were fortunate enough to have a holiday on February 22 to use the time to get their automobile and trailer licenses.

A forest fire is a dangerous thing — so be careful when you are in the woods that you don't start a blaze.

Diplomats speculate the President's trip to Italy might be extended.

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW
The volume of inquires to this office indicates considerable citizen interest on the question of what rights does the law guarantee a citizen when his property is needed by the State for a public purpose, such as, the building of highways.

Private property is acquired for public use by purchase when possible. Otherwise, it is acquired by eminent domain proceedings, commonly called "condemnation."

The Constitution restricts this power by requiring in each case, (1) a determination of the need to acquire the private property for public use and (2) the payment of fair compensation for it. To effect this result, the legislature has provided condemnation statutes carefully outlining specific procedures to protect all concerned.

The determination of compensation to be paid is made by the courts through juries and commissions who arrive at their conclusions with the assistance of expert appraisers and engineers. The cases are presented in most instances by attorneys who represent private individuals.

Fundamentally, the standard measure of just compensation has been established by the courts as "market value."

Fair market value is based upon the highest and best economic use of the property.

When part of a tract is taken by condemnation proceedings, the measure of damage is the injury done to the fair market value of the entire tract, that is, the difference between the value before and after the taking.

The law contemplates that neither the property owner nor the public shall become enriched at the expense of the other.

Citizens whose property is being taken by condemnation are best advised to contact an attorney to assist them. He is equipped to bring into focus the constitutional safeguards and legislative provisions which, under vigilant court supervision, protect the citizen's legal rights.

Why Secrecy Is Bad

From: THE STATE JOURNAL.

The decision of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University to change the name of Michigan State University-Oakland to Oakland University raises a number of questions.

One of them is why the action was taken in secret instead of being discussed at the public meeting of the board last Saturday.

Other questions have to do with the possible significance of the action. Does it mean, for instance, that there is a move afoot to create a separate and fully autonomous tax-supported institution of higher learning with full university status?

Will the legislature ultimately be confronted with demands for higher appropriations to meet added costs of a separate administrative structure?

The Board of Trustees announced the name change as a means of giving the Oakland school an identity all its own and avoiding further confusion with its parent institution, Michigan State University at East Lansing.

In its apparent effort to end one kind of confusion, the board appears to have taken the risk of creating new confusion over the Oakland branch's status as an institution under the jurisdiction of the MSU Board of Trustees and under the administrative jurisdiction of MSU President John A. Hannah.

More than that, there is the matter of uncertainty in the legislature and among private citizens as to the possible implications of the sudden emergency of "Oakland University" among the names of Michigan's educational institutions.

The portent of the name change might have been clear had it been discussed at a public session of the Board of Trustees instead of having suddenly been unveiled as a completed action.

This is one of the reasons conduct of the public's business at public meetings is always preferable to secret proceedings by official bodies.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper welcomes letters from all persons who care to write them based on the belief that when a great number of citizens step forward to express their views, it shows a healthy interest in our community.

There is great value to public expression which can aid public servants in reaching sound conclusions.

It is in the interest of advising the letter writer what he can expect will happen to his literary efforts, that this message is being written.

Printing Author's Name

First of all — contrary to the practice of many newspapers — no letter will be published without the name of the author also being published.

There are two reasons for this: 1) How does the public know we didn't write it? 2) We assume responsibility for the things we write and feel that the letter writer should be willing to stand behind his remarks.

Secondly — although we try to print most of the letters — we don't print them all.

Why? Letters which are libelous will not be used. Letters of this nature would defame a person by accusing him, without proof, of doing something not socially acceptable. To call an individual, a thief, a liar, a drunkard, immoral, or depraved would be some of the terms used which would cause a letter to be rejected.

No Advertising

Those letters which fall in the category of advertising are also rejected. Matters mentioned in these would recommend purchase of commercial products or might be of a political nature.

Many times, just prior to an election, a letter will be written urging the election of certain candidates or the passage or defeat of certain proposals. It is not fair to those who pay for advertisements to allow free publicity to those who don't.

A third type of writing which will not be used, is that which is not in good taste. A letter containing vulgarity or profanity will not be considered.

Maintaining Intent

The newspaper may cut the length of the letter or eliminate portions which it feels would improve readership. However, it will endeavor to maintain the writer's message. The writing will not be altered, wittingly, in such a manner as to change the author's purpose.

Few changes will be made in spelling, punctuation, or grammar, unless such are obviously typographical. This is keeping with maintaining the intent of the letter and allowing it to reflect the education and background of the writer.

Rejection of Letters

Preference is given to letters which are neatly typed or written and are interesting. Some are rejected because of illegibility; others because of space limitations or subject matter.

We are at liberty to accept or reject any letter. If the author of a non-used letter wishes to know why, please call and we'll be glad to explain.

In Appreciation

I wish to thank the voters of Putnam Township for the fine turnout in votes in the primary election Monday, Feb., 18th.

Two Farm Groups

Criticize Hatcher

The head of one of Michigan's largest farm organizations this week criticized the "short-sighted and selfish" viewpoint of University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher. The Michigan Farm Bureau was also concerned.

Glenn Lake, president of Michigan Milk Producers Association, said Hatcher's denunciation of state funds allocated for agricultural research and rural extension work were hardly fitting for the head of an institution dedicated to the betterment of the entire state.

"We have no quarrel with Mr. Hatcher's desire to obtain more money for his research projects," Lake said, "but we would expect him to sell such experimental programs on their own merits, rather than try to tunnel money away from existing programs of proven value."

"Mr. Hatcher hails the 2500 employees in the Ann Arbor area whose jobs he implies were generated by U of M," Lake added, "but he ignores the thousands of jobs in the state which depend on a prosperous and efficient agriculture."

"Nearly 780,000 jobs in Michigan are directly or indirectly created by agriculture," Lake said, "or about 25% of all job opportunities. The asset value of agriculture in Michigan is 4.3 billion dollars; equal to that of all our automotive and steel plants put together."

"We would expect a man of Mr. Hatcher's stature to recognize these facts," the MMPA president concluded, "and to acknowledge the tremendous service to the state being performed by Michigan State University's work in agricultural research and extension which are in part financed by state appropriations."

Expressing "amazement" at proposed cuts in Agricultural Research appropriations, Walter Wightman, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau has brought the strong support of the 70,000-member farm organization to bear on continued funds for a program of agricultural research and education.

In a strongly-worded statement, sent to Senator Frank Deade, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Wightman said that Michigan agriculture needs to expand to assure "economic growth" in the state. He said that Michigan farmers need more, not less research, to "face the challenge of new plant and animal diseases and insects now reaching Michigan."

WASHINGTON NEVER SLEPT HERE!
The old saw "George Washington Slept Here" was turned into an amusing 3-act play a few years ago. Later, they made a movie of it.
Goodness knows how many houses have been sold on some such romantic nonsense. We can't see it. Supposing he DID sleep there? Is that a good reason to BUY the place?
Not in our judgment. We'd rather see you choose on the basis of construction quality... neighborhood desirability... Structural soundness... architecture... investment value... or any one of many other intelligent buy-reasons.
Come in and we'll show you some homes that Squire Washington — or any other celebrity — would be glad to sleep in TODAY!

Kensington Attendance Sets Record
David O. Laidlaw, superintendent at Kensington Metropolitan Park southeast of Brighton, today announced that over 57,700 persons visited the 4,300-acre recreational site during the month of January.
This is a record-breaking figure and tops the previous high of over 49,000 visitors reported in January 1962.
Laidlaw said that the consistently cold weather has kept the ice rink in operation a full 31 days, while the hills for tobogganing and sledding remained in use most of the month.
Ice fishing continues to boom at Kent Lake in Kensington Park where over 196 shanties are reported. The main attraction for fishermen are Pike, Crappies and Blue Gills and the ice is over 22 inches thick.
For those interested in wildlife several hundred Canada Geese make their home near the Buno Road bridge in the park and several winter animals, including deer, have been sighted along the nature trails near the Nature Center.

THE BRIGHTON (Mich.) ARGUS, WED. FEB. 20, 1963
and PINCKNEY (Mich.) DISPATCH

Gov. Romney takes a lesson in the structure and function of the human heart after signing a proclamation designating February as Heart Education Month. "It's marvelous, the things you heart people are doing lately," he told Dr. Muir Clapper, President, Michigan Heart Association (left), Lawrence E. Dooge, Chairman, and Dr. Robert M. Stow, a Member of the Association's Board of Trustees. Gov. Romney asked about the heart muscles and valves depicted in the model. The explanations came from the physician; Dr. Clapper, a professor, teaches cardiology at the College of Medicine, Wayne State University, while Dr. Stow is chief of staff, St. Lawrence Hospital, Lansing. Dooge is a lumber dealer in Grand Rapids.

Hamburg School Is Now Wired For Educational TV Programs

By Gilbert Dunn
Principal

HAMBURG—We are glad to welcome Mr. Martin Vorgitch back to school after a bout with the flu. Mrs. Myrna Darow from Pinckney has been filling in for him.

Mrs. Vera Downing has the record so far this year, having neither missed on account of illness or for business reasons. Maybe Mrs. Downing takes some special type of vitamin pill.

By the time you read this, the school at Hamburg will have been wired for educational television. At the present time we are taking part in classroom 10 from East Lansing but without an aerial the picture has not always been the best.

We hope that now our troubles are all over. With the set up being installed it will be possible for us to enroll in MPATTI, the air-borne TV programs.

The teachers in both schools feel that the TV programs are a real help to the students. PTA's and the Board of Education have combined to make the TV sets and the hook-up possible.

February 14 was a big day for all the children. Valentine's Day seems to be a very exciting occasion and just how much learning is absorbed, especially in the hours just preceding the parties, is debatable.

The students at Hamburg are proud of the trophy that sits so proudly in our display case, won by our Pee-Wee League Team coached by Mr. Haines.

PRETTIEST neckline of the season belongs to this Gay Gibson cotton piped to match its own elegant Schiffl embroidery of paisley swirls in pink and olive or blue and olive, or white about $15 in better stores across the country.

Students Swim In Ann Arbor

By DIANNE FARLETTE
5TH GRADE STUDENT
HAMBURG — On February 9, the 6th, 7th and 8th grades went swimming at Ann Arbor High School.

We left the school about 6:15 p.m. all excited and ready to go. Mr. Dave Fisher was kind enough to drive the bus into Ann Arbor and back.

We swam from 7:00 to 9:00 and most of us were water logged but happy. We swam in pairs for safety's sake. We had high divers and people who could do flips very well.

The ones not diving were kept busy by a game of keep away or just plain swimming.

We were chaperoned by Miss Kirachie, Mr. Dave Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Haines and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dunn.

We had some sore backs, legs and arms along with some bruises but it was all fun and we hope to do it again in the future.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE EVENING

Around Bishop Lake

By E. C. SCHROEDER

"It was not a very quiet weekend here." The "Sunset Freeze" Winter Camp of nearly 400 Boy Scouts from the Detroit Area weathered the below-zero temperatures Friday through Sunday on the frozen shores of Bishop Lake. We certainly congratulate the leaders of these future American citizens in taking the time (and building up enough courage!) to make such an endeavor possible.

"To those who made an effort to go out to vote in the Township elections Monday will find the returns on our front page. Study your candidates closely in order to vote wisely this spring!"

"Dennis Haas left our area to live with his sister, Mrs. Wilma Euler in Chicago.

BOUNTY CRUELTY!

Not even the home of the red fox family is sacred to the bounty hunter, who gets a $5 fee for every fox scalp he can collect — and by any method. Don't digger, the this one, ruthlessly slaughter thousands of fox pups (or kits) each year with shovels and clubs after unearthing their nests. "The costly and wasteful bounty system," charge officials of the Michigan Audubon Society, "warrants some of the most cruel, pitiless killing of wildlife imaginable." The society has called upon the state legislature to repeal Michigan's bounty system, prevent a worthless throwaway of nearly a quarter of a million dollars every year.
