From March 19 to the 25th is Girl Scout Week. We "salute" our local Girl Scouts and their leaders. They are an asset to the community and make many people proud to know them.

and are very sorry, too, that Gentile's Home Center has been closed for nearly a week now due to the two employees being ill with the flu. Joe Gentile has suffered pneumonia along with the flu bug, and Mr. Ed has been rather ill with just the flu. We do hope both recover and return to their work very soon - all their "colleagues" along Main Street miss them dreadfully.

and can't help but notice it too, the front of the new Dispatch office really shines now that it has been all nicely washed down!

Roads bordering the camp site are Bentley Lake Rd., Bentley Lake Rd., and Bentley Lake Rd., and the one main entrance is to be located on Bentley Lake Road.

Clerk of Court Summons Jury - But Wrong One

HOWELL — The clerk of the court goofed! And 30 jurors were sent home.

Newly-elected Joseph H. Ellis called the March jury last Wednesday when he should have called the December members.

Result: the case will be tried later.

The "mishap" took place in the court room of Circuit Court Judge Michael Carland where a postponed negligence case was scheduled to be heard.

When attorneys Joseph Cox and Charles Gatesman agreed that the jury was not the one which should have been called, Judge Carland said:

"The December jury should have been here. Members of the Jury, I am sorry about what has happened this morning. I am sorry about bringing you out here; I am also sorry I brought myself out from Owosso.

"We do have a new Clerk and there are some things, perhaps, he hasn't found out about running the Court. Probably that will be corrected with experience. There is nothing I can do but grant a continuance now.

"I am sorry about the expense the County has been put to. Members of the Jury, you will be excused until Friday, March 15, at 8:30. Again I say I am sorry for what has happened."

State Board of Education, and Circuit Judge Richard G. Smith of Bay City, GOP-nominated candidate for one of the two supreme court openings.

Jones Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter

HOWELL — "I only meant to scare my wife and her companion," said Harley Lee Jones, 45-year-old Howell barber, who killed his wife with two close-range blasts from a shotgun last Dec. 14.

He made this statement on Monday in Circuit Court while being arraigned on two counts.

On the first degree murder charge he stood mute.

On the second count, that of manslaughter, he pleaded guilty. He was represented by two lawyers, Benjamin Watson and Jerry Keyworth of Lansing.

Jones is to appear before Judge Michael Carland on April 2, at 2 p.m. for sentencing on the manslaughter charge, which carries a maximum of 15 years, and a tentative date was set to have him appear for the first degree murder charge on June 3.

Jones of 222 Byron Rd., Howell, admitted shooting at his 39-year-old wife and mother of three as she was driving up in front of their home at 3:30 a.m. last year.

Jack W. Ries, 26, of Fenton told Howell police at that time he met Mrs. Jones in a bar and offered to drive her home. He was injured only slightly on the left hand by pellets from the shotgun.

As they drove up front of Jones home, Ries, a salesman, testified in Howell Municipal Court that Jones was outside with a shotgun and called for his wife to get out of the car.

When she did not immediately move from the car, her husband started firing.

The first shot did not hit Mrs. Jones, it shattered the right window but the second blast went through the rear window, as the car started to move. It struck Mrs. Jones fatally in the neck and head.

At least four criminal cases are scheduled to be heard by Judge Michael Carland at 2 o'clock.

One of them involves James A. VanAmberg of Webberville who was arrested Saturday night for stealing an automobile. Allegedly, this was one of three cars in which VanAmberg was involved.

He was bound over to Circuit Court, Monday night by Howell

Municipal Judge Wilfred Erwin. The court, yesterday, appointed Stanley Berriman to represent him and released him without bond to appear April 2.

Another case to be heard that day, is that of Thomas G. Fthridge, who was extradited from Ohio after jumping bond in the summer of 1961 on a breaking and entering charge. The court appointed William McCrie

Missionary To Address Methodists
Rev. Warren M. Woolsey, missionary to Sierra Leone, West Africa, will speak on Tuesday, March 19 at the Brighton Wesleyan Methodist Church, 228 S. Fourth Street at 7:30 p.m.
Mr. Woolsey, together with his wife and four children, returned to the United States in August, 1962, after having completed three terms of missionary service with Wesleyan World Missions in Africa, where he has been field superintendent.

A graduate of Houghton College and Biblical Seminary in New York, Woolsey is a capable educator, having taught in the Clarke Memorial Bible School in Bendembu, Sierra Leone, during two terms and in the theological department of Houghton College during his last furlough. Realizing the need of a well-trained ministry in the recently independent nation of Sierra Leone, Woolsey envisions the founding of an evangelical seminary there through the cooperation of evangelical missions now working in the country.

During his furlough Woolsey is speaking and showing slides in Wesleyan Methodist churches in the interest of missions. Together with his family, he is residing in Houghton, New York, until his return to Africa.

LOOK ALL WAYS BEFORE CROSSING

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW
Attorney General
FRANK J. KELLEY

This is one of a series of public service articles explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.
A better understanding of the law governing unemployment compensation should prevent many of the problems faced by unemployed workers who do not properly comply with the law and as a result lose their benefits.
To be eligible for benefits, you must be able, available, and seeking work. The purpose of the act is to tide workers over periods of unemployment between jobs by the payment of unemployment benefits, thus reducing economic insecurity, which is detrimental not only to the worker, but to the welfare of the whole State.
Payments under the act are intended to be payable to workers who have become unemployed through no fault of their own, such as those who have been laid off because of a lack of work. In the case of a worker leaving his work voluntarily, he must establish that he left work for a "good cause attributable to the employer," i. e., that he was justified and that his employer was at fault.
A worker who is separated from his job because of alleged misconduct with his job is disqualified if the charge is proven.
No worker is eligible unless he has been employed for at least 14 weeks during the preceding 52-week period, providing his employer is subject to the act.
To qualify for the benefits available on a week to week basis, a worker must:
1. File a claim for unemployment benefits with the Michigan Employment Security Commission.
2. Register for employment at a State employment office.
3. Report weekly, or as otherwise instructed, at a local office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.
4. Serve a one week waiting period.
5. Certify that he is able, available and seeking work with each week he seeks benefits.
The amount of money collected depends, of course, on his regular salary and the amount of time worked previously and the number of his dependents.

Former S. A. Officers To Hold Services
Conducting special meetings at the Livingston County Salvation Army, March 21-24, will be Sr. Major and Mrs. J. William Rawlin of Ecorse, Michigan.
Sr. Major and Mrs. Rawlin lived in Howell in 1921 and were in charge of the local Salvation Army branch. At that time the Salvationists held services up above the office of the Livingston County Democrat, predecessor to the Press.
On Thursday, March 21, the Major will speak to a combined group of members from the Ladies Home League and the Men's Club.
On Friday, Sr. Major and Mrs. Rawlin will meet with Salvation Army youth.
A special service is arranged for Saturday with all Senior members of the local Army.
The Major and his wife will take part in all Sunday services on March 24.

INDUSTRIAL MARRIAGE
Henry Ford was instrumental in bringing industry, agriculture and recreation to the South. His offer in 1921 to buy a government-owned nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., on the Tennessee River, kindled interest of private and public groups, and helped bring about the Tennessee Valley Authority.

FORD AVOIDED "15"
When Ford Motor Company was organized in 1903, Henry Ford refused a doctor's offer to invest money in the new company. Twelve men already had purchased stock and Ford feared 13 incorporators would bring bad luck.

On July 10, 1903, Ford Motor Company's bank account dropped to $233.65. Five days later, Henry Ford sold the company's first car for $850.

In this era of world wars, in this atomic age, values have changed. We must discover security within ourselves.

FORD AND ENGINES
From his youth, Henry Ford was fascinated by engines and decided to provide a more economical and practical way of mechanical farming by developing a gasoline-powered Fordson tractor in 1917. This year is being observed as the 100th anniversary of Mr. Ford's birth.
Henry Ford experimented with an "automobile plow" in 1905 with the conviction that "mechanical equipment will become the universal thing on farms." Production of his Fordson tractor began in 1917 - the same year Ford began making trucks.

Raiders Remain on Top In Roller Hockey Play

The fifth game of the hockey league was played Friday. The Raiders took the Stompers in a real hand checking game.

The Raiders goals were paced by Bob Johnson and Len Farmer, each scoring 1 goal. Len also picked up 1 assist.

Raider star wing Don Good was unable to score that night. Goalie Ron McClement did another wonderful job for the Raiders by only allowing 1 goal. Ron is now leading the goalies with the average of 2.3 goals per game.

The Stompers' goal was paced by their captain, Roger Shekell. Ron Price was unable to score a goal that night. This game put the Stompers in second place. Their goalie John Birmingham allowed only 2 goals putting him in third place with the average of 3.6 goals per game. The Stompers had the total of 6 minute penalties also.

The second game of the night was also an important contest. The Pirates edged the Bandits by a 4 to 3 score. The winning goal was scored by Larry Shekell mid-way in the third period. It was his third goal of the night. The other goal for the Pirates was scored by Bob Darga. Joe Waterbury, the goalie for the Pirates held his position as 2nd best goalie in the league to this day with his 2.5 goals per game average.

The Bandits were paced by captain Marty Wildman who scored two goals for the team. The other goal for the Bandits was scored by George Standlick. The Bandits played short handed most of the game while they built up a total of 16 min. in penalties.

The week saw the addition of two new teams to the league. They represent Novi and Deerfield.

The Deerfield Crusaders played their first game last Sunday afternoon when they took on the Stealers. The Stealers won by an overwhelming score of 10-1.

However, despite the score, the Crusaders have many good points and their future looks bright.

The Stealers were paced by captain Al LaBush who had an amazing night and scored seven goals and had one assist to lengthen his lead on the individual scoring race. Other goals for his team were by Randy DeHate who had two goals and two assists and by Carl Stuber who got one goal and one assist.

The goal by the Crusaders was scored by John Park and an assist by Ken Burrison.

The next game will be Friday night at 11:00 p.m. when the Stealers take on the Bandits. The second game at 11:45 p.m. will see the Raiders vs. Pirates.

Deer in Southern Michigan

Southern Michigan's deer herd is in the midst of a population explosion which has jumped its numbers to nearly 40,000 animals, with much of the increase occurring since 1950. Whitetails are found in all 34 counties south of Highway M-20 with highest populations located in Montcalm, Gratiot, Saginaw, Barry, Calhoun, and Kalamazoo counties. Primarily because of excellent food conditions, which have boosted production to a high level, southern Michigan's deer population is increasing at an estimated rate of about 14 percent each year. The region's deer herd, under present hunting regulations and range conditions, is expected to continue its rapid growth. It may number 60,000 animals by 1965, and 100,000 by 1970. Likely places for seeing deer include the Gratiot-Saginaw state game area where the above pictures were taken, Barry state game area, Waterloo recreation area in Jackson and Washtenaw counties, and Fort Custer recreation area near Battle Creek, Mich. Dept. of Conservation.

Deer Population Increasing In Southern Part of State

LANSING — Southern Michigan, challenged to meet the needs of its burgeoning numbers of people, is also experiencing a population explosion among deer.

Re-established in this part of the state around 1920 and now found in all 34 counties south of Highway M-20, the area's deer herd is estimated at nearly 40,000 animals, having made its greatest gains since 1950.

The herd has been increasing at an annual rate of about 14 per cent since that year, according to records kept by the Conservation Department. This means it has been almost doubling in size every five years.

Under present limited hunting regulations and other conditions, things are expected to continue this way for several years. Southern Michigan may well have 60,000 whitetails by 1965, and 100,000 by 1970, the Conservation Department estimates.

Highest populations are now located in the northern and western parts of the region, but most observers feel that the animals' big increase is in the southern-most tier of counties.

Gov. Romney To Tout State In Washington

Michigan Week '63 has scored an important "first" with the acceptance today by Governor George Romney of an invitation to address the National Press Club in Washington, D. C., May 22.

William H. McGaughey, chairman of the 17-member Manufacturing Committee of Michigan Week, said the committee originated the idea for the Governor to address the nation's press corps in the middle of Michigan Week activities in order to acquaint the nation with Michigan's recent progress and future industrial potential. Top Michigan Week officials also prevailed upon the Governor to accept the invitation, extended by Bryson Rash, president of the National Press Club.

It marks the first time that any Michigan governor has addressed the National Press Club while in office. Forty of Michigan's leading industrialists and educators are planning to accompany Governor Romney to Washington to attend the luncheon. Michigan's 20 congressmen and two senators that make up the state's delegation in Washington will be invited to attend.

"The Governor's talk before the National Press Club will focus favorable attention on Michigan industry and bolster our national reputation as an important and growing industrial state. Other Michigan industrialists also are being urged to seek out and accept speaking engagements beyond the state lines as a continuing effort in behalf of Michigan accomplishments and growth potential," McGaughey said. "Governor Romney's example undoubtedly will spur others to carry the Michigan progress story to the 49 other states."

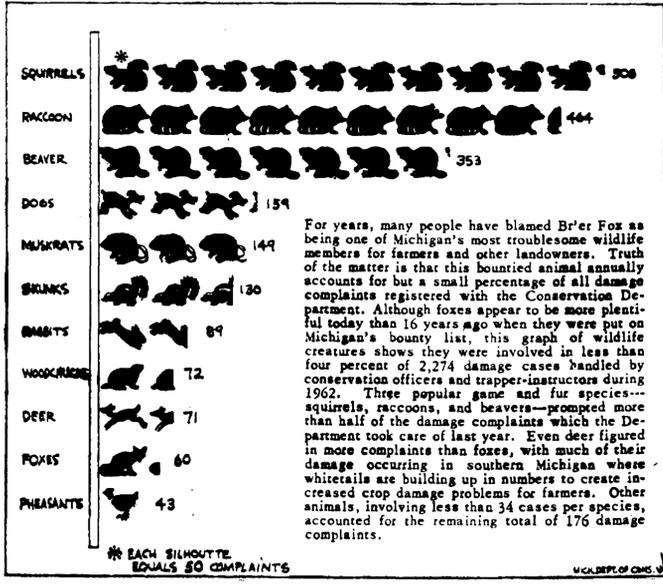

Under the slogan, "What Michigan Makes - Makes Michigan," the state-wide Manufacturing Committee has established a number of other targets in its vigorous promotion of manufacturing during Michigan Week, May 19-25, McGaughey said. These include:

-A survey of Michigan colleges and universities, both public and private, describing projects underway which will contribute to immediate and long term employment and industrial expansion in the state.

-Manufacturers, whenever possible, will key the introduction of new products, announcement of expansion programs, contributions to local communities, etc., to the Michigan Week period.

Additional continuing activities will include promotion of Michigan Week through in-plant programs and community activities. Among these activities will be: informational meetings with employees, plant tours, use of Michigan Week slogans on postage meters and as a greeting by switchboard operators, speakers for local meetings, and "Made in Michigan" signs and stickers on Michigan-made products and the cartons in which they are packaged.

Major Animal Damage Cases, 1962

For years, many people have blamed Br'er Fox as being one of Michigan's most troublesome wildlife members for farmers and other landowners. Truth of the matter is that this bountied animal annually accounts for but a small percentage of all damage complaints registered with the Conservation Department. Although foxes appear to be more plentiful today than 16 years ago when they were put on Michigan's bounty list, this graph of wildlife creatures shows they were involved in less than four percent of 2,274 damage cases handled by conservation officers and trapper-instructors during 1962. Three popular game and fur species—squirrels, rabbits, and beavers—prompted more than half of the damage complaints which the Department took care of last year. Even deer figured in more complaints than foxes, with much of their damage occurring in southern Michigan where whitetails are building up in numbers to create increased crop damage problems for farmers. Other animals, involving less than 34 cases per species, accounted for the remaining total of 176 damage complaints.

Civil Service Proponents Argue for New Code

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 40 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

The proposed new Michigan constitution somehow works to the disadvantage of the state's Civil Service System have been refuted in recent weeks by two leading advocates of a strong state civil service.

They are Prof. James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan, known as "the father of civil service," and Mrs. Dorothy L. Judd of Grand Rapids, a member of the present civil service commission. Both were delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Provisions in the new document which keep the system strong and independent include:

1. The bipartisan civil service commission whose members have long, overlapping terms.
 2. The requirement that the commission must give prior approval before anyone can be hired or promoted.
 3. Mandatory appropriations for administering civil service.
 4. The requirement that all civil service provisions must be complied with before any wages can be paid.
 5. Permitting any citizen to force the observance of civil service requirements by instituting court proceedings.
- One change in the new Constitution permits executives to reorganize their departments. Appointing authorities will be allowed to create and abolish positions, for reasons of administrative efficiency only, without commission approval. Protection for employees is provided by allowing any employee who considers himself aggrieved under this process to appeal to the civil service commission. This change merely restores civil service as it was originally instituted by the people. It was a court decision which held that language used in the original civil service amendment required approval of the commission for the creation or abolition of positions.

No other civil service jurisdiction in the country has this power for determining how many jobs and what kind of positions are needed. Delegates to the Constitutional Convention believed that sound administration requires that reorganization responsibilities be vested in the governor and the executive branch. As at present, the new document gives the commission power and the duty to classify positions—fix pay rates, determine "competitive performance" exclusively on the basis of merit, efficiency and fitness—the qualifications of candidates for positions, make rules and regulations covering all personnel transactions and regulate conditions of employment.

To avoid financial problems which have arisen in the past through commission orders for mid-year wage adjustments, the new Constitution provides that pay increases shall take effect only at the beginning of a fiscal year. The governor is to be notified of these increases and must include them in his budget.

The proposed Constitution makes it possible for the legislature, if it acts within 60 days, to reject or decrease pay raises scheduled by the Civil Service Commission. Since this can only be done by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house, it would require bipartisan support and would be most unlikely to occur except in the event of a financial emergency.

Legislative juggling of salaries of individual persons or classes is prevented by the provision that any reduction must apply uniformly to all classes affected and cannot change pay differentials between grades or classes.

The legislature is also forbidden to reduce wages below those in effect at the time the increases are proposed.

The new document expands the anti-discrimination clause by stating that not only removals and demotions, but also appointments and promotions, shall not be made for "religious, racial or partisan considerations."

It seems to me that the pull-over is bound to make fashion history. In R & K's version, the knit is cotton rayon and the colors are whitened pastels — so this pullover can join your wardrobe now, and live in it for many seasons.

An Egg Factory That Pays Off

Despite the low egg prices in recent months that have spelled financial difficulty for some Livingston county poultrymen, it is pointed out by MSU poultry specialists that the poultrymen should plan to weather the poor months by having a back-log of income which was built up during the good months.

Charles Sheppard, MSU poultry specialist points out that some poultrymen are trying to live out of current income when egg checks won't even cover production expenses. Many producers act as if the egg business is profitable every week of the year, adds Sheppard. "This just isn't so!"

"Some flock owners are trying to make a living from a small flock. Producers doing their own egg marketing should figure on at least 3,000 birds and probably 5,000. Those selling to a wholesale market, need at least 10,000 birds before you can expect to make a living from the poultry business."

However Bonnie Offink, in an article in the Fenton Independent, tells of the great success of Howard Scott on his chicken farm at 8444 W. Bennett Lake Road near Fenton and how he did it. We herewith "steal" part of her article to help our Livingston County poultrymen.

Chicken Farming - 63 model is a matter of conveyor belts, automatic timers, metered water feeders plus some old-fashioned farming know-how. Visiting the Howard Scott chicken farm gives a chance to observe first hand modern automation applied to the production of that egg you so casually ate for breakfast this morning.

3000 HYBRID layers are the basis of Mr. Scott's flock. No longer does a farmer begin with chicks day old from the hatchery or even month old birds. These layers were 5 months old and laying when trucked in from Clare, Michigan.

In less than 3 weeks they were laying 900 eggs daily. This will probably climb to 2400 eggs daily as they settle into routine after which they should lay profitably for the next 15 months.

THE HEN wants for nothing at the Scott egg-factory. Everything she needs comes automatically before her. Mash is fed by auger from a six ton bulk storage bin into automatic feeders at the rate of one ton every three days.

Water is fed by pipe into waterers and a handy little pump will put measured doses of medication directly into the water system should any sickness develop in the flock.

However, the most ingenious handling is of the egg itself. Nests are engineered so eggs are laid on a plastic grid. The egg rolls from the back of the nest to a nylon conveyor belt.

At 9:15 in the morning the 150 foot endless belt automatically begins moving in creep gear, moving just enough every ten minutes to spread the eggs out on the belt.

At 11 Mr. Scott comes into his heated workshop, flips a lever and the eggs begin rolling off the conveyor into a sorting tray.

Here he can pull off any soiled eggs and pack the rest into cases which go directly into a walk-in cool room. The cool room is maintained at 45-55 degrees all year.

SCOTT THEN puts the baskets of soiled eggs into the automatic egg washer in which an egg washing compound and hot water are swishing around.

When removed the eggs are clean and ready to store with no leakage.

The nests are closed at night when a timer clicks the lights off and a panel comes forward to sweep any reluctant hens off the nests and onto the roosts.

LAYING IS maintained without seasonal dips because the laying house is kept at a constant 55 degrees by blower fans.

Humidity is not allowed to climb. Birds heat themselves by body heat and need to be kept cool and dry rather than warm.

Cases of eggs are picked up weekly by the Farm Bureau refrigerated truck from Brighton.

Once at the egg marketing division of the Farm Bureau, they are candied, sorted, inspected by a Federal inspector and sealed in fancy cartons.

From here they move to stores and supermarkets under the trademark, County Queen, and are graded fancy fresh quality which commands top prices.

The world is now faced with the question whether freedom is to prevail or not.

To often habits make men instead of men making habits.

HOW WILL THE HOUSE LOOK 10 YEARS LATER?

Some houses seem to improve with age. Others, of course, have "seen their best years" and gradually deteriorate. Construction quality is important; neighborhood character influences value.

These factors should be considered before buying, and they should be reviewed periodically afterwards. Whether you plan to buy—or already own—we'll be glad to help you determine how the future will affect your house.

Hell Markers Prove Popular

The Michigan State Highway Department reported recently that it has taken special steps to protect a sign that directs motorists to the community of Hell.

A new sign, which has the word "Hell" and a picture of a devil, was installed on M-36 at Pinckney to replace a sign apparently stolen by a souvenir collector.

Highway Department officials said the bolts on the new sign were battered in and welded in an effort to make it "tamper-proof."

Highway Department officials said about a half-dozen other "Hell" signs on county roads in the area also have disappeared in recent months.

Lakeland Kings Daughters Past Presidents Club will meet on March 19 at the home of Mrs. Bernice Baker. Lunch will be served at 12 noon.

Hamburg Store Offers New Tax Service

HAMBURG — A new service to provide the average family with an annual record of drug purchases for federal income tax purposes is being started here by the Hamburg Pharmacy.

George Katona, owner of the store, said the service will be provided without charge to customers.

The system, called Drug Tax, uses data processing equipment to keep a record of drug store purchases that may be deductible in computing federal income tax returns.

Each customer will be assigned a code number — in most cases the family telephone number.

Each purchase will be recorded on "memory" tapes, which later will be fed into computing equipment. At the end of the year, Drug Tax, Inc., will mail customers a record of the total amount which may be deductible in computing the tax return.

"Many taxpayers," Katona said, "have not taken their proper deductions, or have not taken the full amount allowed, because they have not had proof of purchases or did not know what items are of a deductible nature."

He indicated that literally hundreds of drug items may be deductible, and said the new Drug Tax system "should help our customers save money on their tax returns."

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Van Horn visited Mrs. Van Horn's Aunt, Mrs. George Parker, in Ann Arbor on Sunday. Mrs. Parker celebrated her 80th birthday.

Word has been received that Mike Schaible of Detroit had a slight stroke. The Schaibles are summer residents of Lakeland. Their Detroit address is 6452 Barlum Detroit 10.

Clarence Prudham is in McPherson Community Health Center in Howell and Theodore Polaski is recuperating at home, having been released from McPherson.

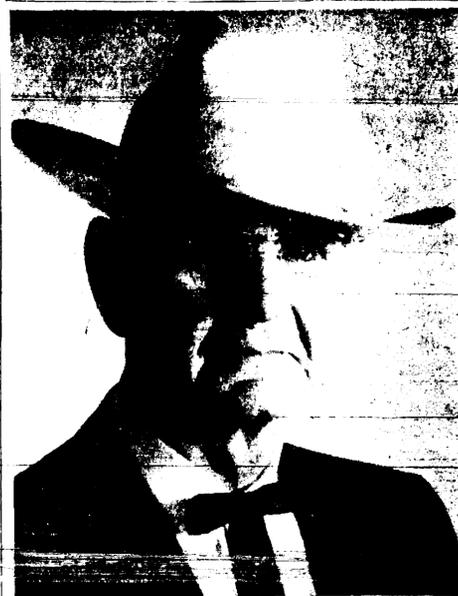

Mr. Victor Lotus of Lakeland is recovering at home from injuries received when he was hit with a car on M-36 near Lakeland.

Belated wedding congratulations to James and Emma Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett are announcing the birth of a daughter, Sunday evening, at St. Joseph's Hospital. The new little miss weighed in at 7 lbs. 3 ozs. She has two sisters waiting for her to come home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Krupa spent Sunday visiting Mr. Kupa's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blass, and his brother Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kupa in Detroit.

SPEAKER — Fred Chase, prominent state political expert, will describe the new constitution Monday night to the combined PTA's of the Pinckney School District. He will speak at 8 p.m. at the Hamburg Elementary School.

Around Bishop Lake

By E. C. SCHROEDER AC 7-3420

"This has been a very quiet week.

"Spring has tried tip-toeing in by sending a few sunny days. The hills are taking on the appearance of "unborn calf" — the brown spots growing larger each day. Last Thursday we watched 24 deer grazing on the southern slope of a hill near Chilson Creek at Bishop Lake Road.

Some were lying down and enjoying the spring sunshine, others seemed to enjoy walking around on the bare ground and nibbling at the roots and grasses. The roads are beginning to break up as the frost is leaving, slowly but surely.

It would be well for all visitors to stay off the dirt roads for awhile. The ice is still thick on the lakes. "Skating is poor but a few ice fishermen still hope to get a few before the spring break-up.

"The people around here are staying pretty close to home — at least I have heard of no exciting events! The women go to their bridge club, the men to their bowling and the kids are still in school.

"And the dogs? At least

ONE is doing a little less barking — he actually had laryngitis Saturday morning and still can manage little more than a strangled "yarp" — we're all hoping it is catching!!

"And while the dogs barked, no one paid any heed to the sound of breaking glass at the Southern Michigan Nursery where sometime during the dead of night, a prowler broke in through a window and searched the building for valuables.

"All this was during the lovely springtime last week. Monday we were back into winter — with snow and wind and threat of freezing rain!!

"Cecil Lindburg of Owosso is the new foreman at the Southern Michigan Nursery.

Farm Labor Income Rises

The 1961 average labor income for a group of farms in the Michigan mail-in account project was $3,412. This was $1,073 higher than for 1960 and the highest since 1958. The rate earned on investment was 1.3 percent higher in 1961. Total investment increased by $5,686. Seven of nine areas for which this summary was made showed an increase in labor income over the 1960 levels. Average cash incomes and cash expenses were higher in all areas in 1961.

The data presented in this report was obtained from the farm records of 861 farmers throughout the state, who keep and submit these records as part of the Mail-in Account Project of the Cooperative Extension Service program in each county. These records were summarized under the supervision of farm management specialists in the Agricultural Economics Department at Michigan State University.

The farms in the Michigan Mail-in Account Project do not represent a specific research sample of farms in Michigan. Thus, the results and the changes which occur from year-to-year should not be construed as indicative of the changes in income and expense for all farms. However, the characteristics of the farms in the account project compare quite closely with those of commercial farms in the 1959 Census.

Average gross income has increased from $14,855 in 1956 to $25,019 in 1961. Total expenses, which do not include operator's labor or interest on investment, have also increased substantially in this same period. For this period, 1956 to 1961, these farmers received about 5 percent on the conservative market value of their assets plus hired man's wages for their labor and management.
