County Recount Produces 1 Vote For Constitution

HOWELL — Recounting of votes for the new constitution in 17 Livingston County Precincts last Wednesday produced a net change of one vote in favor of adoption of the code.

County Clerk Joseph Ellis said canvassers found two more "yes" votes in Tyrone Township and declared two "no" votes to be void, for a gain of four votes.

In Genoa Township, three "yes" votes were declared ineligible.

Firemen Fight 4 Fires in Day

The Pinckney firemen were alerted four times Monday, June 3, each time being for a grass fire.

Three calls took Jerry Speake, Leonard Lee and Charles Howlett to the Darwin Road "country dump", where fire of unknown origin kept repeatedly starting through the fields.

The fourth call was to Farley Road where nearly 50 acres burned after grass was ignited by a passing train. Several firemen were on hand for this fire.

Raddatz Makes Statement

The following statement was issued by Carl Raddatz, chairman of the Livingston County Tax Allocation Board, following Monday's board meeting.

I feel it my responsibility to inform the people of Livingston County what has taken place at the Allocation Board meeting.

As you know it is the responsibility of the Allocation Board to allocate the 15 mills to the Township, County and School Districts. The Constitution allows the Township 1 mill if their budget shows need for same, so we have 14 mills left to be allocated between the schools and the county on the basis of their need.

The County Allocation Board according to the Statute is made up of six members. Three are appointed according to state law, consisting of the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors, Carl W. Raddatz, the County Treasurer, Dorothea J. Greer, the County Superintendent of Schools, Walter G. Hampton.

The remaining three members are appointed by the Judge of Probate, Francis Barron. They are Dr. Thomas Barton, who represents the county at large, Cecil Lepard who represents a municipality and Leo Kujawa from a major school district.

The Allocation Board met on May 20, 1963 and made a preliminary allocation of up to 1 mill to the various Townships and 3 mills to the county, one tenth of one mill to the Intermediate School District and up to 10.9 mills to the various schools districts.

This reduced the County's request from 5.27 mills to 3 mills.

If this preliminary order were made permanent, the funds of the County would be exhausted on or before December.

Parade Is Success

"A perfect day! A perfect parade!"

Those are sentiments of the Kiwanis Club after putting much time and effort toward the Memorial Day Parade, May 30 in Pinckney.

"The Kiwanians," said Jerry Speake "are grateful to those taking part and helping where they could to make the parade the success it was."

"The Pinckney band did a terrific job of entertaining on the Village Square, the guest speaker was most interesting, Herb Bowles of Hi-Land Gardens did a good job planting the pretty red geraniums on the square and Read's Lumber Company furnished a very dependable stage for the speakers and guests. "All the floats were beautiful and the participating clowns, bicyclists, the horse man and ladies were fun to have, and queens were most plentiful, having the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior queens and their courts with them on the back of convertibles, and Miss Pinckney leading the procession of lovely ladies and the two Village council members who graced the platform during the program, all this and even more for a perfect parade, and a perfect program."

Allocation Board Can't Cut The Pie

HOWELL — Livingston County's six-member Tax Allocation Board finds itself as of today unable to allocate.

After two meetings, in which the board has attempted to split up the 15 mills — the maximum millage which may be levied by the county, school board, and township without a vote of the people — the unit is at a standstill.

Three members feel the county can operate without trouble during 1964 on three mill while the other three have held out for no less than 4.65 and this is a drop from the county request of 5.27.

On the three-mill side of the fence are Dr. Thomas A. Barton, Cecil Lepard and Leo Kujawa; on the other are Mrs. Dorothea Greer, county treasurer; Carl Raddatz, finance committee chairman of the board of supervisors; and Walter Hampton, county superintendent of schools.

Another attempt to resolve the conflict will take place in the County Court House, Wednesday, June 12, at 9:30 a.m.

A request for leadership was thrown at the board's chairman, Raddatz, Monday afternoon, after the board had struggled with the problem during the morning session without avail. A compromise of 3.9

Lepard: "We elected you to lead us."

Raddatz: "They should have elected someone else, I guess."

Hampton then moved to allocate the county a millage of 4.65. He, Greer and Raddatz voted for this, the latter two with reservations. The other three voted against this millage.

TOWNSHIP ALLOCATIONS

Allocations for the townships were confirmed at a meeting last week on Tuesday.

One mill was granted the townships of Brighton, Hamburg, Hartland, and Iosco. Townships which received no millage were Cohoctah, Conway, Handy, Howell, Marion, Ocoala, Putnam and Unadilla. Cohoctah, Conway, Handy, Putnam and Unadilla did not request millage, and the board felt the budgets of the other three did not show "necessity" for any millage.

Deerfield was granted .448, Green Oak — .532, Genoa — .5, and Tyrone — .494.

The Intermediate School District which is the county district

STATE APPEAL

Supervisors voted at their May meeting to appeal to the state tax commission if the allocation board cuts their millage below their request for 5.27 mills.

At the preliminary hearings, the allocation board granted the county 3 mills, the county's six school districts between 9.95 and 10.9, and the remaining millage as stated above with some changes.

The three members opposed to the county's request claim the county has not presented a "true budget" and that excess funds in a "cigar box" would give the county sufficient operating revenue with the addition of the money to be received from the three-mill levy.

Some supervisors hope to use these funds $186,000 for a Medicare facility but it has never been formally approved by the board of supervisors and, when proposed last month, was laid on the table and therefore did not come up for a vote.

The allocation board has been advised by the state that it must allocate. The general feeling of the board is that it would like to settle its problem at home and avoid any appeals if possible.

Library News

Florence Preuss

New this week is Bruce Catton's "The Terrible Swift Sword", a story of the Civil War, which tells how the war turned into a long national struggle for human freedom instead of a quickly settled limited war which both sides had anticipated. This is a beautifully written history by an authority on the Civil War.

Mrs. Russell Clark, Mrs. A. Barstow and Mrs. Fugate gave books to the library.

We wish to thank all of the girls who worked so hard to decorate our float for the parade. Gloria Sockow, Dora Meabon, Darlene Knapp, Sandra Bell, Janet Cosgray, Cynthia Bowersky and Jo Anne Wylie.

How Hell, Michigan Earned Its Name

The following story was sent to the Dispatch office from Glen Gardner of Stanton, Michigan. Letter enclosed with the newspaper clipping tells it appeared in... the Grand Rapids Press.

It is entitled, "Hell isn't Such a Bad Place to Live - Michigan That Is," and it goes on to say:

As to the origin of his name, there is a diversity of opinion. One of the largest grist mills of the time was located there. Also a saw mill run by water power furnished from a dam still in existence on the headwaters of the Huron River.

A Mr. Reeves started the enterprises and in choosing a name, the community got into a rather heated discussion, finally settled by calling it

"Hell." I am skeptical of this story. There was also a distillery there. My grandfather told me they brewed a very potent liquor for the price of 25 cents a gallon. No doubt, as now, there were prudish people in existence and the name may have been tied up with the distillery.

It is a picturesque site with rolling hills, and the community is made up of prominent and cultured people who are satisfied with its name as are all its residents.

Many of the most pleasant memories of my childhood center around this place. Even today, as I stand on my porch on pleasant summer evenings, it takes but little imagination to hear the rush of water over the dam.

Letter to the Editor

We would like to remind the voters of the Pinckney school District that Monday, June 10, is election day.

Be sure to vote, because it is your school board that forms a bond issue. It is a poor or costly issue, it costs the taxpayers over $800 to put it to a vote, if it passes or not. Let's stop this waste.

It's unfortunate the only two names appear on the ballot, but this means little, if the voters make sure to write our names exactly as they appear in this letter, or on our cards, and to put an X in the box next to our names. This is very important. If anyone would like information concerning this election free to see or call us.

Sincerely,
Arthur Wm. Rentz

ber 31, 1964 and it would mean that money would have to be borrowed on which to operate until taxes were turned over to the County Treasurer in the latter part of March 1965, or it would mean payless pay days and curtailment of various functions of county government.

At the May 28th hearing the six member board were split, 3 for and 3 against the original allocation of the 3 mills to the County.

The three members who have their appointment made by Statute opposed this allocation because they did not feel it was sufficient on which to operate the County for the year 1964 and until tax money was available. The three members appointed by the Judge of Probate voted for the 3 mills for the County.

At the next meeting on June

THE PINCKNEY BAND, in full dress, marched from the High school to Pinckney Elementary to take part in a most impressive flag raising ceremony May 24, at 9:30 a.m. the crowd of over 600 students, teachers and visitors stood at attention to pledge their allegiance to the flag as it was raised high above their heads. The Pinckney band played songs and the girls' 8th grade chorus sang. The Rev. Charles Michael brought the ceremony to a close with prayer.

EIGHTH GRADE
The 8th grade students of Mrs. Alta Meyer room left Friday, May 30, at 6:30 a.m. from Pinckney Elementary and spent the day at Bob-Lo.

The expense of this trip and for each person to have four passes on various rides of their choice, was covered by the students raising money and paying class dues the past school year. It was a large day! Everyone was very tired but agreed it was well worth being there about!

SIXTH GRADE

Mrs. Tasch's 6th grade chartered a Greyhound bus this year for their class trip. They went to the Metropolitan Airport where they explored the big air terminal, and watched big jets take off and land.

From the air port they went to Canada, via the tunnel, and came back over the Ambassador Bridge.

Gaining entrance into Canada was delayed slightly due to one student of foreign decent not having papers sufficient for her to go further. However, the officials in charge decided "it being the Queen's birthday it would be permissible this time that she enter into Canada."

While over there they visited a shopping center.

Upon returning to the United States, the group of students and the 10 chaperoning mothers visited Belle Isle. They ate "sack" lunches, played ball, visited the Belle Isle zoo.

They arrived in Pinckney at 6:30 p.m.

Amateur Scientists Face Disaster

The middle decades of the Twentieth Century are years of rapidly advancing science. Chemistry, physics, biology, space travel, rocketry and many other fascinating fields are being studied by millions of school children. American youth is encouraged constantly to learn more about science.

No one suggests that the budding young scientists should be discouraged, but the American Medical Association joins with others interested in health and safety to point out some of the hazards of careless, haphazard, amateur experimentation.

Chemicals used in high school labs, home chemistry sets and household products are usually not dangerous, if directions for their use are studied and followed. But there are many chemicals that, if carelessly handled, can cause serious injury, even death.

The tragic deaths of three Texas youths earlier this year from explosion and burns re-emphasized the potential dangers of amateur experimentation with chemistry and explosives. The accident reportedly was caused by a mixture of chlorinated disinfecting powder and model airplane fuel.

Amateur rocketry has caused many serious accidents, and the American Rocket Society says that youngsters should not be permitted to build rockets. Other safety experts feel that, under proper supervision of an instructor, limited experimentation can be carried out.

Many chemical mixtures are explosive, even though the individual substances alone are safe. Some mixtures blow up only after standing for a time, possibly several hours.

Most important safety precaution in handling chemicals, either with a home chemistry set or in a school laboratory, is following directions. The home chemistry set comes with a manual of experiments, including safety precautions. The parent should assume the responsibility of making certain that his budding young scientist studies the directions carefully, that he performs only experiments described in the manual, that he does not add additional chemicals from other sources to those in his set.

In school classes, the wise teacher supervises his pupils carefully in their laboratory experiments when potentially explosive substances are involved.

Whether in class or at home, chemicals are safer if handled in proper containers and with proper tools and equipment. Careful cleaning of the lab and careful disposal of left-over chemicals are highly important to safety. Simple manuals or handbooks are available to guide the young chemist in these procedures.

Making gunpowder is a favorite experiment with youngsters. It can, and sometimes does, have very dangerous results. Many druggists are now refusing to sell the ingredients of gunpowder to teenagers.

One safety expert has listed several points as a guide to parents and teachers to help protect their young scientists from the hazards of amateur experimentation—

- Know what home experiments the youngsters are working on and keep an eye on them.
- Encourage students to research home projects thoroughly so that dangers are understood in advance.
- Inform local drug stores of projects the school has approved for homework, and what materials will be needed.
- Encourage teenagers to check in advance with the school any plans for home experiments.
- Parents, teachers and pharmacists should cooperate to keep certain chemicals out of the hands of youngsters. Science teachers and pharmacists can easily obtain or compile check lists.

The fathers of the Texas lads killed in the recent blast issued a statement urging other parents to keep a closer watch on the chemical experiments of their children.

"A youngster's natural curiosity is a wonderful thing when controlled; but though he means nothing malicious in his action, the consequences may be disastrous," the parents said.

Paul DeLuca in rear with his son Frank and the Princess

Some men spend their lives and energy trying to raise a champion bull or heifer, others have lots of money and are able to buy champions but some are simply lucky — they fall into a manure pit and come up with a prized trophy.

In this last group is Paul DeLuca, a Brighton businessman who raises fine herefords on his 180 farm near Latson Road and Chilson Road.

DeLuca was anxious to have his son, Frank show one of his fine Herefords, in order to give the boy confidence and the know-how of showing cattle in the judging ring.

So Paul entered Baea Princess 11999973 in the Michigan Hereford association sale and show at Michigan State University and had Frank exhibit the heifer.

Just before the judging Paul sold the heifer for a nominal sum (he won't tell how much) and left Frank and the Princess on their own.

And lo and behold, the heifer was declared grand champion.

remember all of us have rights which will be protected to the point that a maxim of law is, "It is better that ten guilty persons escape than that one innocent suffer."

Remember too, the police officer making the arrest is doing his job to protect the community as a whole.

Whenever one is accused, he should immediately seek the advice of an attorney.

Education Opens Doors to Farm Opportunities

Rural boys intending to farm are realizing they need still more education following high school graduation.

With only 10 per cent of the farmers accounting for one-

CATHERINE OTT (left) and Barbara Maltby have been awarded 4-H Club scholarships to MSU in recognition of superior academic and 4-H Club records. These scholarships are renewable through a 4-year period if superior grades are earned. Catherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ott of 3336 Marr Rd., Howell, and Barbara lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maltby, 7390 Rickett Rd., Brighton. Each is a senior in their home town high school.

half on the agriculture income, any young man going into farming should aim for a place in that small, select, profit-making group. That's the opinion of Dr. Harold Henneman, director of agriculture short courses at Michigan State University.

"Rapid changes in farming demand good management and sound business practices," according to Henneman. "This makes it imperative that today's farmer get all of the education he possibly can."

Short courses have been offered at MSU since 1894 to aid in filling this need for additional agricultural education. Many short course students are already in partnership with parents or other relatives on their home farms.

In the young farmer program, designed for students planning on returning to the farm, 80 per cent of the graduates start on the home farm with another 8 per cent working for other farmers, says Henneman. The other 12 per cent transfer to four-year degree programs.

Graduates of the elevator and farm supply course are employed as bookkeepers and salesmen. Many eventually wind up as managers. "Nearly 75 per cent of these graduates are staying with the industry, an indication that they are well satisfied," says Henneman.

Farm machinery dealers and manufacturers offer job opportunities for graduates of the farm equipment service and sales course. Many former students now manage their own dealerships.

The commercial floriculture short course attracts students from urban areas. It attracts numerous girls as well as boys. Graduates find careers in outdoor or green house flower production, wholesaling or as designers or salesmen in retail florist shops and garden stores.

The nursery and landscape management course prepares students for growing and selling trees, shrubs, vines and plant materials for the fruit, landscaping and forestry industries.

Graduates are finding careers as tree surgeons and caretakers of lawns, gardens, parks, cemeteries and golf courses.

Dairy manufacturing, training of milk testers and farmstead mechanization are other short courses offered each year. More than 450 students have been enrolled in the various short courses during the past year.

Excessive speed continued to be the Number One Killer on the nation's highways in 1962. Nearly 13,000 traffic deaths were directly attributable to speeding.

PRODUCER FIELDER COOK HAS DISCOVERED A NEW SOURCE OF WRITERS for next season's Du Pont Show of the Week. In England recently to tape Jack Hawkins and Pamela Brown in "The Bury Casar," scheduled for Du Pont. Cook read scripts of some 100 British Broadcasting Corporation dramas, will buy some to adapt for next season's programs. Du Pont's upcoming, "A Dozen Deadly Roses" will star Lauren Bacall. Plans for The Lively Ones to replace NBC's Hazel this summer are on again, with the show about 90 percent certain. If the deal falls, Vic Damone will again be host. Last summer's director, Barry Shear, has left NBC to form his own company, but he would return to handle just The Lively Ones. If CBS's first Royal Ballet special next season is well received, the network will present a series of them, all filmed in England.

BEN CASEY WILL AIR AT LEAST TWO TWO-PARTERS NEXT SEASON, one of them about euthanasia. Casey's Vince Edwards is unhappy about being scheduled opposite The Beverly Hillbillies and has so told ABC chief Leonard Goldenson. All marriages aren't made in heaven; Bonanza next season will spend a good deal of time on Pernell Roberts' meeting and courting a girl, not yet selected. "By the end of the year," says producer David Dortort, "if the audience likes her and she is the right kind of girl, we'll marry them." MGM is preparing a film special, "The World's Greatest Showman," based on the career of the late Cecil B. DeMille. With Laramie now down the drain, Revue plans to build up Bob Fuller as "the dynamic new Wagon Train star." He'll become a Train regular in the fall.

BOB CUMMINGS HAS AGREED TO ... a new series UNDERTAKE A NEW SERIES based on the Banta Plagemann book, "This Is Goggle." But the test film will not be shot until fall. Production co-partners: Filmways (Beverly Hillsbillies, Mister Ed) and James Garner's new company, JLK Productions. After six years on the network air, Leave It to Beaver is going into syndication. Leslie Nielsen (New Breed) will try again with a new series, Pilot for Hire. All is not quite lost for The Untouchables and Naked City. Both are being put back into circulation via syndication. Walt Disney's new contract with NBC carries Wonderful World of Color through the 1964-65 season. Moving way, way out, Twilight Zone will present "The Bard," in which William Shakespeare, portrayed by John Williams, will serve as ghostwriter for a modern TV hack writer, Jack Weston.

Rights of the Defendant...

By Attorney General
Frank J. Kelley

(This is one of a series of articles explaining in general terms the provisions of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Most people never attend criminal court unless as a spectator. Nonetheless, we should know our rights in case we may be arrested and brought to trial. These same rights exist equally for the traffic violator and the defendant involved in a more serious crime.

If you are stopped for a traffic violation, generally you can appear at that time with an attorney if you desire. If you fail to appear, a warrant may be issued for your arrest. You may plead guilty, not guilty, or stand mute. To stand mute, you do not

Unless you plead guilty, the law enforcement officials must proceed to prove your guilt. You do not have to testify against yourself. If you tell your side of the story, you then can be cross-examined by the prosecutor or the judge.

If arrested and held, whether on a traffic violation or a serious offense, you will be brought to a police station for questioning. Again, you need not testify against yourself.

No state law says you have a right to phone anyone while under arrest. However, because of your rights under what is known as "due process," that is fair play, you will be permitted a call as soon as convenient.

Also, as soon as reasonable, you will be brought before a judge to determine if a crime has been committed and that you may be the one who has committed it. Again you may plead guilty, not guilty, or stand mute. You have the right to an attorney at this hearing.

The judge will set bond and may order you to post money as security for your future court appearance, or he may release you on personal bond, which means in a sense that he will trust you to appear.

Naturally, the average citizen, if arrested, is indignant, embarrassed and confused, but

Pinckney People You Know

BY DOLLY BAUGHN

Wednesday Dr. and Mrs. Florence Artz, all of Detroit, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. Reason. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Clare Reason visited them, they are also from Detroit.

Mrs. Leona-Marie Bonner attended a dinner party at the Coach and Four, Northland on Friday evening. There were eight guests present, and the dinner was in honor of Miss Helen Mersier, a retired Detroit school teacher, turned rancher.

Mr. "Hockey" Swarthroat is convalescing at the Veteran's hospital in Ann Arbor after undergoing major surgery last week. It is not for certain when he will come home.

After voting at the school election Monday, June 10, Mr. Wes Reader is leaving for the upper peninsula for a week or ten days fishing. Herman Vedder is school election inspector, and must stay at his post all day, but the next day he and Mrs. Vedder plan to take their house trailer and go join Mr. Reader.

Ray Morliarity of Deerfield formerly of Pinckney, also plans to join the group, and maybe Charles DeWolf will too. Sounds like the fish won't have a chance.

A/2c Dennis E. Singer writes that he rather likes the climate and the atmosphere where he is stationed in Labrador. He says the fishing is terrific.

Gail Gustafson has recently been initiated into Phi Sigma Pi, the scholastic honor society at Alma College. Elected by present student and faculty members, candidates are considered on the basis of scholarship and character.

Gail is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson, formerly of Pinckney. They moved to Detroit from Pinckney nearly four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marshall and their children were in Oregon, Ohio last week-end bringing Mr. Marshall's mother, Mrs. Arthur Marshall, back to Michigan with them. She has been staying at her daughter's home, the Ray Williams since last January.

She is going to go up north now for the summer months, with her children coming up there to visit her now and then. Mr. Harry Jackson of Lansing visited Mrs. Beulah Miller on Monday last week, and on Memorial Day Mrs. Miller entertained Mrs. Marion Pearson, Mrs. Marion Claffier of Brooklyn, Michigan, and Miss Vivian Croope of Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Cooke have had their new son home a week now, and everyone is doing fine. Little Mark Edward arrived at the home on May 24, and weighed 9 lbs. 3 oz.

The ladies of Clark's Grocery bowling team, Doris Shettler, Beverly Bowles, Rosemary Stufen, Jennie Kellenberger, and Ruby Groucher finally managed to spend their bowling "kitty" funds Tuesday, June 4, these ladies went to the Hawien Gardens near Fenton for dinner. Miss Linda Clough is hobbling-around with help of crutches now. She had stitches taken after slicing her foot on some glass.

One nice thing about it, she did wait till school was out.

Pat Borosky underwent corrective surgery Monday, at the University Hospital. She must remain there for at least 10 days, and possibly longer. Her address is 7-west, UM Hospital, Ann Arbor, and I imagine she would more than welcome anyone's messages while laying there resting in that nice cool place. (Hurry and get well Pat, your need at Jerry's)

ADULT EDUCATION

Adult education is a vital segment of the Michigan system of public school education, and every citizen is served by adult education:

- To prepare for new and emerging occupations.
- To earn credits for a high school diploma to meet growing academic needs.
- To meet the needs in aging—planning for retirement, supplemental income, wise use of free time.
- To provide instruction in Braille, speech correction, etc.
- To prepare for safe driving, civil defense, mental and physical health.
- To learn civic participation and exercise of freedom in a responsible manner.
- To keep up with the avalanche of new knowledge in science, mathematics, public affairs.
- To study the school curriculum for effective education.

A comprehensive and diversified educational program for adults should be an integral part of every public community school program.

This is one of a series of Michigan Press Association Education features published as a public service by The Pinckney Dispatch in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Mich. Education Association.

Pipeline Crew Supports Stone School Endeavor

The following article was submitted to the Argus by one of the parents of children attending the Stone School.

A trip to the Lansing Capitol will be a success because of the Genoa Township Stone School Teachers. Children and parents and last but far from least the Cape Construction Pipe Line's boss and crew.

On May 17, our swell teachers Mrs. Gail Clements and Mrs. Vivian Devine teachers at Stone school told their children they wouldn't have enough money for the capitol trip from their bake and rummage sale the week previous.

The children were very disheartened to learn this.

But with the quick thinking teachers they quickly solved the problem.

The Cape Construction Pipe Line Co. of Denver Colorado, are working nearby the school putting a gas line through and they have a large crew of workers.

Our teachers, Mrs. Gail Clements and Mrs. Vivian Devine, decided to have some of the children ask the Cape Crew if they would buy Coffee and Cup Cakes from them if the children baked them.

The men said they would. The next day the teachers brought big coffee pots, bought cream and sugar the children and parents baked cup cakes and cookies, took them to the school to sell.

But Friday morning the Cape Pipe Line Crew were moved to Whitmore Lake so the children thought again the trip was off.

But, at noon one of the "goodfellows" from the pipeline drove up to the school. He bought one cup of coffee and one cup cake and gave the children $1.50 and he also told them where to go to find the rest of the crew take it there and they will buy your goodies."

They loaded goodies and coffee in the schoolbus and the older girls and Mrs. Nola Sebold drove to where they were. They sold the pipeline boys all they had you should've seen the smiles. The boys were more than generous in their donations to the children.

The men then told them to go home and get some more coffee and more cakes they'd buy more.

The children had another problem they had no more coffee to make coffee so they went to Smitty's Chilson store for more.

Mr. Smith upon learning that this was for a school trip, generously gave it to them so the children all went to a mother's home, Mrs. Wanda Morgan baked cupcakes, made coffee and took them up to the boys and again, they cleaned them out.

Believe us, boys, you sure made a group of youngsters more than happy by your generous support and donations.

This is something swell the Cape Pipeline Crew helped to do that the children at the Stone School won't soon forget.

As a result the children will be able to take their trip to the Capital and hope to shake hands with Governor Romney.

SOME PEOPLE ARE GOOD LOOKERS!

If you've ever been involved in selling a home, you know what it means to have a parade of lookers interrupting your privacy. This is one of the less pleasant aspects of putting your house on the market, and we know from experience how to reduce this nuisance to a minimum.

When we size up a home we also size up the prospects . . . and the only ones we bring to YOUR door are those we are reasonably sure will be genuinely interested in what YOUR home has to offer. It's a great time and energy saver — and it's much, much easier on YOU.

Editorial Comment

The task assigned to the County Tax Allocation Board is not an enviable one since it must allocate 15 mills only of the tax monies on the county equalized valuation to the four units of government for operating purpose; namely the township, county, school districts, and county board of education.

Facts to be borne in mind are that the above units have different fiscal years, have varied and diversified needs.

The most important factor is proven necessity by budgets prepared by each unit and approved by responsible boards of each unit and that consideration must not be given to any extra special millage voted by any unit over and above the lawful limit of 15 mills.

If these facts are well in mind, consider now the county's budget of $865,000 was approved by the board of supervisors. The submitted budget indicates that anticipated revenue is expected to be $105,000 leaving a balance of $760,000 to be raised by taxation.

To raise this much on the county's equalized valuation of $144,000,000, requires 5.27 mills.

This budget, as far as needs go was accepted at face value (despite the $50,000 set up for roads which county officials concede has not met all the legal requirements to be used in this manner).

However, when the anticipated revenue was estimate at $105,000, members of the allocation board pointed out that the county had unexpended funds of $186,000 in the social welfare department, $5,200 in the Building Inspection Fund, $131,565 cash on hand at the close of the fiscal year of 1962 and that the anticipated revenues were more accurately estimated at $135,000 than $105,000. These amounts add up to $457,765.

Subtracting the anticipated available cash at the end of this year from the budget of $865,000 reduces the county's needs to $509,235 which can be raised by a millage of 2.82.

None of these facts have been changed substantially by any records or officials of the county.

Thus, at the preliminary allocation, the county was allocated three mills (about $25,000 more than their budget called for.) On the other hand the schools' needs were 9.95 to 12.73 mills — remember now, the law excludes any consideration of extra-voted millage.

Because the townships were allocated one mill, the county—three mills, the Livingston County Board of Education — 1 mill, only 10.9 mills were left for the schools.

This, when allocated to them met the budgetary needs of only Brighton and Pinckney, leaving Howell with an unmet need of .85 mills, Hartland — 1.83, and Fowlerville — .55 mills.

At the final hearings no new facts were listed regarding protests from the county to cause a re-determination of their preliminary allocation save that they wanted a bigger balance at the end of this final year end than $25,000. Thus there wasn't a rational reason for changing the county's preliminary allocation.

In an attempt to resolve the apparent deadlock of June 3, the motion was made by Cecil Leopard, supported by Dr. Thomas Barton, setting the allocation for the county at 3.9 mills, providing a balance of $150,000. This motion was defeated and the matter now rests undecided at the moment.

The allegations that the county will go broke, have to borrow, curtail programs and go in debt are all untrue and being used by county officials to scare the people.

Prudent management and fiscal integrity on the part of the county officials will preclude any of the dire predicions.

More Alien Pests Sneak into State

The pests from Europe seem determined to sneak into the United States. The lamprey eel got into the Great Lakes disguised in a fisherman's minnow bucket, the Japanese beetle also got a foothold before it was recognized.

But some keen eye spotted the imported cereal leaf beetle and where do you suppose he found it? In Livingston County having probably sneaked in hidden in one of our farm wives' mink capes on her trip abroad.

At any rate the Agricultural Department has come to the front before the pest has gotten a real foothold.

A $60,000 contract has been awarded by the USDA to Michigan State University for research to develop an effective method of controlling the imported cereal leaf beetle.

This research agreement resulted from the discovery last summer of this European grain pest in Michigan. Never before found in the United States, the beetle has caused serious damage in Europe for many years. It attacks all cereals and some grasses, favoring especially oats, barley, and wheat.

How the beetle entered this country is not known. Plant quarantine workers of USDA's Agricultural Research Service intercepted and destroyed the insect twice last year at New Jersey ports of entry and once at the Detroit port.

Following discovery of the infestations in Michigan, plant pest control officials — in cooperation with the States — established quarantines regulating movement of commodities from the infested areas, in an effort to prevent further spread of the pest.

STUDIES INSURANCE
Gerald T. Oliver, 9856 Galation, Hamburg, has returned home after completing four weeks of technical study at his firm's home office at Bloomington, Ill.

Oliver is a claim representative for State Mutual Automobile Insurance Company at the firm's claim service office at 3130 Packard Road in Ann Arbor.

State Farm maintains the school on a year-round basis so representatives may be informed of the latest methods, policy contracts and procedures in claim servicing. This year some 650 men will attend classes there.

EWING BID IS BEST

The Building Committee of the Board of Trustees of the McPherson Community Health Center at their most recent meeting reviewed the bids submitted on carpeting for the Self Care Unit. The request for quotations had been sent to seven dealers in Livingston County.

The successful bidder was E. D. Ewing furniture of Brighton, in the amount of $8,420 to provide approximately 810 square yards of carpeting and pad installed.

Coloring samples of the carpeting were submitted to the architect in order that a color might be selected which would be in keeping with the decor of the remainder of the building. The color chosen was a tweed textured pattern of green, white and brown.

A hospital spokesman said this will provide carpeting throughout the patient areas, corridors and lounge in an attempt to make the Self Care Unit as homelike in atmosphere as possible. The additional advantage to be gained will be that the carpet installation will be far less costly from a maintenance standpoint when compared to floor tile such as is used in the remainder of the hospital.

ALBEE HOMES

Progress in any industry is necessary for survival, and in the home building field progress can best be accomplished by offering the buying public new innovations in housing designs and styles.

With this in mind, Albee Homes, Inc. of Niles, Ohio, the country's largest manufacturer of precision cut housing, announces the premier showing of its latest home concepts this weekend. Simultaneous showings will begin Saturday, May 25, at 34 Albee display areas in 12 different States.

These "Designer Award" homes have been developed through months of extensive study into the buying habits and home style desires of thousands of prospective home owners.

Albee's new series includes contemporary ranches and split levels, blevelts with split foyer entries, and New England Cape Cods.
