Health Center Invites Entire County To Open House

HOWELL—When the McPherson Community Health Center opened a few years back, officials stopped counting after 8,000 persons had viewed the facility.

They are hoping as many or more will visit the new additions at the open house which will be held this Saturday and Sunday from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The facilities of the hospital have been increased from 75 beds to 141 beds. Both the service and therapy areas have been enlarged also.

The new additions make it possible for the hospital to organize its services under the plan of specialized patient care called Progressive Patient Care, as recommended by the U.S. Public Health Service.

SIDE ENTRANCE

Open House visitors are requested to enter by the employees' entrance on the east side of the building. Parking has been provided near this door. By using the side entrance, Open House visitors will be able to view all the new areas, which are still unused, without disturbing patients in the other parts of the hospital.

Visitors will be met inside the employees' entrance by guides who will escort them through the new building. Members of the Gray Ladies and Women's Auxiliary and other volunteers will act as guides.

Groups of visitors will be taken first to the west wing of the ground floor. This part of the west wing is the original building but was not finished until a few months ago.

The first area to be seen will be the quarters of the School for Practical Nurse Education—classroom, offices and students' lounge. Instructors will be present to answer questions about the school which opened recently. Mrs. P. T. Allen, R. N. is Director of the school. Mrs. Ilene Ikens, R. N. and Mrs. Diann Korowin, R. N. are instructors. Miss Donna Lee McCartney is the school secretary.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

The tour next will go through the new Physical Therapy Department which is under the supervision of therapist Carl Syvertson with the assistance of therapy aides Mrs. Janet Switzer and Miss Angelia Bodrie. Here patients, both inpatients and outpatients, receive rehabilitation treatments ordered by their physicians.

Several new pieces of equipment have been added to widen the range of therapy available. Visitors will be able to see the new whirlpool bath, the exercise wheel for shoulder muscles, the exercise bicycle for retraining leg muscles, the hydrocollator packs for moist heat applications and the paraffin bath for the treatment of arthritis and peripheral nerves.

Of interest to many will be the tilt table for regaining position sense, the exercise pulley channels and the parallel bars for gait training. Many other kinds of treatments and exercises are given by the therapists in the department and in patients' rooms.

At the end of the hall is the Home Office. This is the nerve center of a Health Center service that stretches to every part of the county. As the physician may order, Home Care can supply visiting nurse service, physical and occupational therapy, dietary advice and loan sick room equipment to patients in their own homes.

Many times a patient is able to leave the hospital sooner, or avoid going to the hospital at all, when Home Care is available. Mrs. Diane Webb, R. N. is coordinator of the program and is assisted by Mrs. Muriel Kelley, R. N., and Mrs. Norma Munsell, L. P. N. Mrs. Opel Herren is the secretary. A medical social worker will join the staff in November.

All-Stars Ready for Battle

Spirits Are High at Festive Homecoming

OVER-CONFIDENT?? "No," "Jet" Gentile, co-captain of the Pinckney "All-Stars" says, "just have things well under control". Pinckney "All-Stars" play Hamburg Hell Cats Saturday at Pinckney Athletic Field, 7:30 p.m.

Let's not forget the big Pinckney "All-Star" football game this Saturday night, at 7:30 p.m. under the lights on the Pinckney Veteran's Memorial Field.

The "All-Stars" will meet the big and speedy Hamburg Hell Cats, a semi-Pro-team organized early this last spring, the same team that recently challenged the Jackson Prison team in Jackson.

However, the two captains of Pinckney team have great trust in their men. In fact, the Old captain, (Class of '33) has made the statement, "when my men get through with those Hell Cats, they won't have enough men to play a boy's training school."

While this may sound a little drastic, it should prove to be a very exciting game!

For half time entertainment the 44 members of the Pinckney High School band will present a show based on one of America's popular contributions to the musical scene, the Dixieland Band! The band is under direction of Dennis Napier, music instructor of the Pinckney schools.

The "Old-Timers" cheerleaders will appear this year, too, to attempt rousing the spirit of the on-lookers.

Proceeds of the game are turned over to the Athletic Club of the Pinckney high for equipment, or to be used as they see fit.

A movie camera was purchased with money from this type of game last year, and has proven to be a very useful prop in the training of boys out for football this season.

Last Friday marked the 5th annual "Homecoming" for the Pinckney High School students to take part in, and they did so with enthusiasm and spirit far exceeding what it has been other years.

In spite of the fact the Pirates lost the game to Dexter Dreadnaughts, they remained "champs" by playing a good, clean game right to the final whistle!

At 2:30 p.m. a parade of floats and queens, and football players moved through the Village to the beat of the 44 member Pinckney Community band. This began the "Homecoming" event for the day.

Convertible cars were made available for the "queens" to ride in for the parade. Senior class queen, Shirley Mitchell and her court, Lorretta Haney and Barb Johnson, were in one, junior class queen Kathie Shettleroe, and her court, Pat Wiltshire and Rose Marie Vedder in another, sophomore class queen Tammy Thornton and her court, Chris Clark and Joyce King in a third, freshman class queen Linda Wegener and her court, Lydia Brown and Barb Hoefl, graced another.

Junior Queen, Kathie Shettleroe, daughter of the Wayne Shettleroe's, was named and crowned, "Homecoming Queen of 1963", during half time at the game.

Immediately following the parade, a "Pep-Rally" took place on the athletic field with all high school students participating. Then students hurried home for change of clothes, and a meal, in time to return for the game of the year!

Between 1,500 and 2,000 persons witnessed the game this night, one of the largest crowds ever to attend on a single night in Pinckney.

The Pinckney high school band gave an outstanding performance during half time, doing formations similar to that seen at larger schools or even at colleges! They deserve much credit for their efforts put forth to keep the spirit at top level during the games this season.

Approximately 200 students attended the Homecoming dance after the game. It was held in the Pinckney high gym, and they danced to recorded music and the comments of a D. J.

Cider and donuts were served the guests.

As the clock struck midnight, and the 1963 Homecoming event came to an end, leaving behind many good memories for some, for others "dreams come true", and for all, a day not soon to be forgotten!

HOMECOMING QUEEN of 1962, Nancy Ann Read, fastens Queen Kathie's robes.

Curtain To Go Up Friday and Saturday

By MARY ANN BELYEA
 Under the able direction of Fred F. Ouellette the Livingstone Players new production "Affairs of State" promises to be the finest play given by this community group thus far.
 It will be presented Friday and Saturday night at Hawkins School at 8 p.m.
 Ouellette comes to the Players with a background of acting and other theatrical work and has done a fine job of polishing the production into a bright comedy.
 Ouellette is a member of Ann Arbor Civic Theatre and past member of this club's Board of Directors.
 He started his career in community theatre work in Indiana in 1955 and has taken numerous courses at U of M in drama, stage production, radio and television.
 The play will dramatize the attempts of an aging statesman to divert his wife's attentions from her amour with his younger colleague. The plot takes many a turn when a pseudo-marriage is arranged between the young diplomat and a school teacher.
 In the role of Irene Elliot, the schoolteacher, Betty Eddon is very convincing as an intelligent and studious young woman. Betty has, until this role, confined her talents to behind the scene work. She has done backstage work for Livingston Players and previous to her association with this group she was a member of the Jackson Theatre Guild, where she did parts in "I Remember Mama," "Goodbye My Fancy," "John Loves Mary," and others.
 Playing the part of Constance — and very well, I might add — is Chris Stephens. She plays the roll with the dignity and elegance that is an integral part of Constance Russell, wife of a 70-year-old diplomat. Chris, in real life, is an excellent wood sculptor. She was tops in the "Girls in 508" as Miss Freud.
 I wouldn't be surprised to hear that Tim Hurst is running for Congress someday. With his experience as a politician in "Design for Murder" and the "Girls in 508" and now in this play as the elderly Phillip Russell, he should know the political ropes. Mr. Hurst has done some radio work and has worked in amateur theatricals but association with the Players is his first with an organized community theatre.
 John Stephens is George Henderson, the young diplomat who is torn between his infatuation with Constance Russell and his relationship with Irene. George comes through as a charmer in the competent hands of Mr. Stephens. John's previous acting experience included a part in

"George Washington Slept Here." John is also an accomplished artist who has displayed his talents at art exhibits in the area.
 This is Larry Selm's first play and he handles his role very well as the jovial Byron Winkler. Larry lives in Howell where he is choir master of St. Joseph's Catholic School there. He has aided in the annual productions of the Passion Play which is put on by the Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit. Larry is active in sports and enjoys working with younger students.
 Ed Durk, past president of the Players, has been involved in all phases of little theatre, but this is his first appearance out front for the Players. He has done production work for the Eastern Star, the Presbyterian Church and similar groups.
 Any play could not get off the ground without the efforts of the people behind the scenes. Set directors are Joan Campbell, Pete Hartman, Esther McCree, Ed Wolf, Zelma Dennis. Mr. Roger Vervae, local hairdresser, is handling make-up and hairdos. Responsible for tickets is Bernice Hyne; Production manager, Joan Campbell; House arrangements by Dorcas Hartman; Programs by Tim Hurst and Julie Sutfin.
 Darline Hughes, who had the role of Nora in "Design for Murder," is assistant to the director.

Karen Muchler To Speak Vows
 HARTLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Muchler, of Linden, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen, to Peter Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson of Hartland.
 The wedding will take place in the First Presbyterian Church, Linden, on Saturday, October 26, at 7:30 p.m.
 Friends are invited.
 The University of Michigan was the first instruction in modern languages, 1944.

Weddings
 LIPKA-O'DELL
 Saturday afternoon at 3:30, Mrs. Marilyn Lanning Lipka and Leon O'Dell exchanged marriage vows at the Wesleyan Church, Linden, the Reverend A. C. Barber officiating.
 RINES-MACK
 Miss Patricia Rines and Jess Mack exchanged marriage vows at the Wesleyan Church, Linden, the Reverend A. C. Barber officiating.

 Western is a non-profit organization owned by 175 insurance companies and during the four years Nelson was with them he adjusted all types of claims.
 He was one of the staff adjusters sent by the Company to work on a ten million-dollar hail and tornado catastrophe that swept East St. Louis, Illinois in 1954.
 In 1956 he opened his own insurance agency in his home in Whitmore Lake, soon taking over an upstairs apartment.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

Talk is cheap because the supply is greater than the demand. (Borrowed from the Wall Street Journal.)

Last weekend the Eric Roses, daughter Janice, and Mrs. Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Youngerman were in Northern Michigan on an extensive color tour. They stayed overnight at the James Moran cabin at Grand Lake near Alpena, and then went on to Cheboygan, across to Petoskey and back to Pinckney. The leaf colors are just gorgeous Mrs. Rose says.

George Colons, son of the John Colons, has had complications arise from his recent tonsilectomy and is back in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor for a short stay.

Mrs. Charles Baxter enjoyed a surprise visit last weekend from her aunt, Mrs. Liddy Leach, and a friend, Mrs. King, from Gas City, Indiana. The ladies stayed overnight Saturday and returned to Indiana on Sunday.

Joe Basydlo, Jr., who was injured during football practice came home from McPherson Hospital last Thursday morning, but it will be another week before he will be able to return to school. He will be on crutches for some time yet.

Mrs. Cadia Chamberlain and daughter, Joyce, are now in Florida visiting with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Chamberlain, former Pinckney residents who have settled in West Palm Beach. Mrs. Chamberlain and Joyce may stay for the winter.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Oct. 10, 1963

Dispatch:

Our family has taken the Dispatch for over 60 years and always found something in it of interest. With the Knight, Mrs. Judy Leslie and Mrs. Pat Stillwell.

Mrs. Robert Teach, Mrs. Isabel Johnson and Mrs. Jennie Kellenberger attended the Student Council Conference at St. Mary's Lake near Battle Creek Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11.

Mrs. Norma Frealey spent the weekend with her mother and sister, Mrs. Iva Gardner and Marion.

On Sunday, October 13, Mrs. Gardner and daughters attended the dinner given by Mrs. Anne Long on Tiplady Road for members and friends of the Memorial Church. Sixty five persons from Ann Arbor, Danville and Pinckney were present at the dinner.

passage of time, however, events have passed beyond us and the only thing in it which holds any interest is the 25 and 50 years ago column. I have noticed lately you do not have room for even that and this makes me wonder what I take the paper for, especially with the increase of rate.

There is a small colony of us here who feel the same about this. Do we count for anything, or must we, too, go into limbo with the Dodo? Otherwise, when my present subscription runs out you may discontinue it.

Here's hoping you give us consideration and re-instate this news. Thanking you, I am,

Dr. Geo. R. Mann

TRI-LAKES NEWS

By Velma Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jenks of Round Lake, Mr. and Mrs. William Ernst of School Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hynes of E. Main Street attended an organ recital by Miss Ann Leaf on Saturday, Oct. 5, at the Fox Theater, in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Jenks were joined earlier by Mrs. Shirley Bloom of Milan and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Dickson of Ann Arbor and the group then enjoyed dinner at Victor Lim's before going on to the concert.

On Sunday, Oct. 6, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Witt, of Academy Road, drove to Owosso to visit his sister, Mrs. Amy Bowen. When the Witts returned to Brighton, Mrs. Bowen accompanied them and will spend a few days here visiting. The Witts received word from their son, Bruce, that he is returning from Texas to Denver for the winter months. Bruce is starting his second year as a full-time employee as a government surveyor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hartigan's oldest grandson became engaged recently and plans to be married during the Christmas holidays. Pvt. 1/O Dennis McCullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCullen of Detroit, is presently stationed at Keesaco with the Marines.

Last week Mrs. Lowell Heideman had over 40 Canadian geese assemble in front of her home for a hand-out. According to Mrs. Heideman, they are now so tame they come right up and took the bread crumbs and corn out of her hand, but all the while they kept hissing, apparently to let her know they were in command of the situation. Tim Belis, Bob Witting and Don Beach buried a dead goose that floated around for a while last week. For those who saw it and wondered about it, Louis Lasecki has the answer. While out fishing, Mr. Lasecki saw the goose dive into the water and stay there. Upon inspection, he found it had ripped open its breast bone — but he couldn't determine how this was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kretschmann were happy to have their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rush, of Grosse Pte. Farms, arrive on Saturday, Oct. 12, and remain as weekend guests. The Rushes recently returned from a ten-week trip to Europe. They spent the major part of the time in Germany and came back impressed with the prosperity that was in evidence there. Mr. and Mrs. Rush said they ate six meals each day and they felt shabby in comparison to the expensive clothes that were worn by the German people.

After a Sunday evening lunch, they enjoyed a private concert. Mrs. Kretschmann has also taken advantage of the warm, sunny days we have been having and has been sitting outdoors in the sunshine.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Witting had their son's family, the Dale Wittings, of Kalamazoo, as weekend guests over the 12th and 13th of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hubbel were hosts at a birthday dinner on Sunday, October 13. Family members arriving to help Mr. Hubbel celebrate his birthday were Mr. and Mrs. James Appleton, Sr.; James Appleton, Jr.; Mrs. S. Bert Appleton, all of Brighton; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Appleton, of Mt. Pleasant. Later in the afternoon, Mrs. Hubbel's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Appleton, of Trenton, stopped by and visited with the group.

James Jerome, of Fonda Lake, is taking advantage of the summery weather we have been having this fall and keeping his summer home open longer than usual. Mr. Jerome has his permanent residence in Detroit, but has for a great many years been coming out to Fonda Lake.

Henry Cattran called to tell us that on Sunday, Oct. 20, Mrs. Cattran celebrated her 80th birthday. For this special occasion, Mr. Cattran ordered a cake and an orchid corsage for his wife. The Cattrons' four sons, Robert Henry, of Garden City; James Edgar, of Detroit; William Arthur, of Royal Oak, and Freddie, of Redford Township, along with their families arrived bright and early on Sunday. They brought along the food and spent the day helping Mrs. Cattran observe her special day.

at the Oakwood Hospital in Detroit.

Mrs. Alex Kreuzer had a lot of surprise company on Sunday, October 6. The first car to pull into her yard contained her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaChance, of Dearborn, and Sister Simplicita, S.J., of St. David's Parish in East Detroit.

A second car followed with another sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zweng, of Lincoln Park. Accompanying them were two more sisters of Mrs. Kreuzer, Mrs. Gertrude Davis and Mrs. Mildred Anderson, both also from Lincoln Park.

They arrived with a complete turkey dinner, right down to pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Mrs. Mary Davis, of Island Lake, has been ill so on Tuesday, Oct. 15, two of her neighbors, Mrs. Angelo Parlove and Mrs. Clara Kreuzer, spent the afternoon visiting her.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kusmierz are still spending all their spare time and weekends working on their new home. Mrs. Kusmierz said they did not even put their boat into the water this past summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gallinat, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Hollingsworth and Mr. and Mrs. James Bevak and their families were out at their Fonda Lake summer cottage on Sunday, Oct. 13, to enjoy the beautiful fall day and take care of some last minute cottage closing duties.

Mrs. Gallinat recently submitted to eye surgery in two separate operations at Ford Hospital and aside from having what appears to be two black eyes, is recovering very nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Beach and son, their drive to Woodland Beach, on Lake Erie, two weeks ago Sunday, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Saytos. This past Sunday afternoon, the Beaches drove to Lansing to visit their son, Jerry, who is a junior at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Melvin Decker left from Willow Ruh Airport, along with four other women and two senior Girl Scouts, last Sunday, at 10 p.m. They were all headed for the National Convention of Girl Scouts which is held this year at Convention Hall in Miami. Meetings will be held from Monday through Friday of this week.

Poor Budgeting

There was an improvement this year in the presentation of the 1964 Livingston County Budget: A neatly prepared copy was given to each supervisor. This meant he did not have to write it down as it was read by Chairman Carl Raddatz from what Supr. Martin Lavan has termed "the back of an envelope."

But the budget is still far from being satisfactory. It fails to show how much money the county expects to have on hand at the beginning of 1964 and how much at the end of the same year.

Anybody who has ever done any budgeting knows that this is fundamental.

Can anyone doubt that the Finance Committee members, Raddatz, Harold Armstrong, and W. Burr Clark, aren't aware of this?

Why, then, do they refuse to do it?

Judging from their weak explanations last week at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, it can be concluded that they don't want the true financial picture of the county to be known.

What else?

Supr. Lavan tried to demonstrate that the county would start 1964 with money on hand and thus would not have a deficit budget, but few paid heed.

The supervisors should ask their committee to prepare a new budget with anticipated beginning and ending balances.

This would give all residents of Livingston County a true picture of the state of the county's finances. Will the supervisors instruct their committee to prepare such a budget?

Teacher Tenure

A drive, to have teacher tenure become obligatory by law in all school districts, is now under way by the Michigan Education Association.

This is unwise.

In this day and age when more and more matters are being brought under the control of Big Brother—the bureaucracies—local control must be maintained wherever it is feasible and possible.

Here is a case where the decision should definitely be left in the hands of the local school districts which have the option of adopting teacher tenure or operating on a system satisfactory to local conditions.

New High School

Howell area voters have approved a new high school by a margin of 3 to 1.

What will the citizens in Brighton do when the question is put before them again?

School officials and many citizens hope they will approve.

In order to get this support, efforts are now under way to get the story of the need before the public.

This story was evidently put across in Howell where members of the school board and staff and community citizens came forward to voice their support.

The same thing can be done here and in all likelihood it will be.

Clarkston Whips Crippled Squad 38-0

BY LEE NILES
BRIGHTON — The score read 38 to 0 against the Bulldogs Friday night as the game ended, but the fans knew the story of the game wasn't told in the score. The Clarkston Wolves had three squads from which to draw substitutes, while Brighton was lucky to keep 11 men on the field at the same time. With five Senior regulars out of action and 3 more Junior first stringers on the sideline, it made a total of 8 from the starting line up on the bench. Quarterback Dennis Hartman, halfback Buzz Davison, as well as line men Don Kearns, Chris Smith, and Russ Anderson were the Seniors unable to help the team. The Juniors watching their teammates from the stands were halfback Bobby Larabee, end Joe Kearns, and line man Ron Lattimer. With the odds for the Wolves, the BHS team dressed and went out to start the game. Doug Zimmerman started at left halfback, Phil Stine at fullback, Lee Niles at right halfback, Mike Fournier at quarterback, leaving only one backfield substitute for the Bulldogs in case of an emergency. Bobby Cameron, who was brought up from the JV squad last week, was not ready for varsity action. "BHS fans noted that the announcer never mentioned Bulldog players by name and

Eagles Win First, Blanks Byron

BY JIM STANFIELD
HARTLAND — Hartland played Byron Friday to a long-awaited victory by the score of 24 to 0. Despite a light rain, Hartland got off to a fast TD early in the first quarter. Dewey Matthews, Hartland's quarterback, threw an eight-yard pass to end Richard Anderson for the score. "Throughout the game the team showed heads-up ball. Their spirit was improved, and their ground attack was this year's best and they completed several passes. It seemed as though, when either side fumbled, a Hartland player would be there to pounce on it. By the halftime the rain

Pinckney JV's Never Had It So Bad

BY JOHN TASCH
Last Thursday the Pinckney Junior Varsity was handed a crushing defeat from Dexter when they lost 65 to 0. Dexter started their scoring in the first quarter on a two-yard drive, after driving 36 yards. They ran for the extra point as they did after each of their nine six-pointers. In the second quarter, they caught the JV team in our own end zone for a safety and two points. Dexter scored twice more in the second period, once on a two-yard plunge and once on what might have been called the play of the game. It was a triple-reverse pass play. It started out like a regular reverse run and it drew our defensive halfbacks in to stop what they thought was to be a run, but the ball was handed off an extra time and then passed to an end who was all by himself in his end zone. So at the end of the first half the score was 23 to 0. Pinckney kicked to Dexter to start off the second half and after a few plays they scored on a 25-yard pass play. Next, still in the third quarter, they scored on a 35-yard run. For their last score in the third quarter, Pinckney fumbled on about their own 20-yard line and a Dexter player rushed through, scooped up the fumble and went in to score. In the fourth period, Dexter scored three more touchdowns, twice on runs of 20 and 15 yards and once on a pass play which covered 25 yards. On Oct. 31, the Junior Varsity plays its last game of the season against Williamston at Pinckney.

Insurance Men Warn Against Car Overcrowding

A driver's invitation to "pile in" his car can be an invitation to "pile up" at an intersection or sharp curve, says the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, an insurance company sponsored service organization. The Association points out that a heavy passenger load drastically changes the road behavior of an automobile. The car responds more slowly to the accelerator; braking effort — especially without power brakes — increases, and changed weight distribution alters the "cornering" characteristics of the car. A crowded front seat makes it difficult for a driver to respond to these unfamiliar conditions. If you must overload the car, exercise particular caution, especially when transporting children. Keep them in seat belts. Keep them as quiet as possible. Keep hands, feet and other equipment inside the car, not out a window. If children are riding in the deck behind the rear seat of a station wagon, seat them against the sides or behind the rear seat facing backwards. Don't let them get out until the car is parked and never leave the keys in the ignition. All normal safety precautions should be increased — be sure the rear view mirror can be used; don't permit windows to fog up; travel only a reasonable distance on each leg of a long trip; and finally, stay alert. This column will be glad to answer questions you may have about property and casualty insurance. Send them to Mr. Oren Nelson, NEILSON'S INSURANCE & REAL ESTATE, 8555 Main Street, Whitmore Lake, Michigan.

Public Invited to Open House

to the Occupational Therapy where people regain their strength and retrain their muscles by working with hand tools, by weaving on looms and by other occupational activities.

Included in the room are some of the common kitchen facilities at which women handicapped by illness may learn to carry on everyday activities within their own limitations.

The therapist in charge is Mrs. Lillian Kinney, assisted by therapist aide, Mrs. Lisa Benton. These young women also do much work with the patients in their rooms in teaching handicraft for diversional therapy.

The tour is headed for the new L-shaped Self Care building which is connected on the same level.

JAMES SULLIVAN

In the connecting area on the left is the Medical Records Department. Here a complete and detailed medical history of each patient is kept. Every detail of treatment and care during a patient's hospital stay is carefully recorded so that this confidential record will be available for the patient's physician when any future medical care is needed.

The fact that the Health Center is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals indicates that the highest standards are maintained in this and all other departments.

Mrs. Mary Duke is in charge of medical records. She is assisted by Mrs. Helen Haffey, Mrs. Ellen Gibson, Mrs. Geraldine Fisher and Miss Elaine Latson.

MEDICAL LIBRARY
On the right as you pass the medical library is a technical and medical library unusual for a hospital the size of the Health Center. The latest books and journals in the health field will be available to the physicians, nurses, LPN students and technical employees of the hospital. Mrs. Minerva Wyckoff, A.M.L.S., is the reference librarian; Mrs. Frances Emley, A.M.L.S., formerly librarian at the Bureau of Hospital Administration, the University of Michigan, is consultant.

You will notice a bedroom on the right. This is a room which the physician who must stay overnight can use to be near a patient or for some other emergency. It is convenient to a stairway which leads to the maternity department on the floor above.

DOCTORS' ENTRANCE

The door next to this room is the new doctors' entrance. Physicians' parking will be in the court outside the Self Care building. When the doctors enter they will be near the Medical Records office where they dictate many of the reports which go to make up a patient's record. They will be convenient also to the Home Care office and the therapy departments which they visit frequently.

You may have wondered at the carpeting you are now walking on. This is unusual for a hospital; the whole area you are now in is unusual. This is Self Care.

The Health Center has been planned to give each patient the kind of care he needs—this is the philosophy of Progressive Patient Care. Self Care is for the patient who can be up and about, who can dress and bathe himself, who can go to the nursing station for medicine or the proper department for therapy or tests. He will go to the cafeteria for his meals.

Self Care is meant to be homelike and for the patient who is not sick enough to be a bed patient. He may be a patient convalescing and nearly ready to go home, or one who is in the hospital for diagnosis and tests.

Notice the furniture in the Self Care area. It is comfortable and convenient. You will notice immediately the comfortable lounge for the Self Care patients. Opening off the lounge is a snack kitchen and dining room. For the patient who has slept in and wants only toast and coffee, everything is there so that he can help himself. The refrigerator holds milk and fruit juices for those who like a late evening treat.

The nursing station is located where the two halls making up the L come together. The rooms down each corridor are the same. You will see some model rooms. Note the rooms at the end of the hall are larger and each contains a sleepbed in addition to the other furniture. This has been provided for the occasions when a member of the family needs to stay with the patient over night to allay anxiety or because of the distance traveled.

Visitors have been ushered down the hall and now leave the building and cross the yard toward the north wing. On the left is the utility and machinery building which contains the paint shop, the grounds equipment and the Home Care equipment storage. When the north wing is reached, the hospital laundry can be seen. This is passed and a door entered which opens to a stairway going up one flight to the Intensive Care Unit.

INTENSIVE CARE
The Intensive Care Unit accommodates ten patients. Eight beds are arranged along two sides of a large room. There are two beds in glass enclosed cubicles for use when isolation is necessary because of infection, noise, need for quietness or odor. In these ten beds will be the critically ill patients who need constant care. You will note the nurse will be working from the center of the room from a point where every patient can be always under constant observation.

MRS. LYNN ZIMMERMAN

This is a unit geared for life-saving. This area has priority for personnel, equipment, or any kind of service in the hospital. Emergency drugs and sterile trays for emergency surgical and medical treatment will be instantly available. Oxygen and suction outlets are at the head of every bed. Special resuscitating masks, light adjustable when needed. The ICU has its own Market Forge unit with ice maker, refrigerator and electric hot plate.

Intensive Care is probably the best known of the six Progressive Patient Care units. It tends to "take over" from the point where private duty nursing used to leave off. Private duty nurses are not used in this section, because the nursing team of RN's and other nursing personnel work together in giving constant care and observation in a manner a single nurse could not hope to do.

VISITING LIMITED

Visiting is restricted in ICU. Only the immediate family is allowed, one member for five minutes in any hour. A special family waiting room has been set aside just outside the unit where anxious relatives can wait for that time allowed in the room.

Flowers and mail are not allowed in ICU either. The only objective of ICU is to help a patient get over a critical illness and out of danger. The average stay necessary in the unit is less than four days. After that, patients can be transferred or promoted to an area for patients less ill.

Visitors will be taken next up a stairway to the floor above to the Continuing Care Unit. This area has been set aside for the care of the long-term patient. This will be used for patients recovering from strokes, fractures, burns and other long illnesses.

The objective of this unit will be to help the patients become rehabilitated to the greatest degree possible. Extensive use of physical and occupational therapy will be made on physicians' orders.

Several things should be noted. The cheerful day room and the patients' dining room will both be used to carry out the philosophy of the unit: to get the patient up and active each day where possible and allowed. Patients will be encouraged to go to the day and the dining rooms even in wheel chairs. There is believed to be therapy in socializing with fellow patients.

This unit is using six-bed wards for some of the patients. Here again it is believed being with others and encouraging each other is especially valuable for patients with long stays in the hospital. Many visitors will be interested in the special bath tub into which patients can be put by means of a porta-lift. Mrs. Addie Mitchell, R.N., is supervisor of this area.

The Continuing Care is the last stop on the tour. Guides will show visitors how to leave by going two flights down and out into the parking lot very close to the place of entry.

Hospital administrator James Sullivan said, "It has been necessary to route visitors up and down stairways because it was imperative not to invade the regular patient areas and possibly disturb the ill people there." It also was impossible to use the elevators because crowds of visitors would be likely to disrupt the care of the sick which is the first consideration of the hospital and the basic reason for all the new building the visitor has seen."

ABOUT THE HEALTH CENTER

Hospital Was Started in 1928

Even though McPherson Community Health Center is less than six years old, it has been necessary to build an addition to provide 66 more beds (making a total of 141) and many other new facilities.

There will be a new Intensive Care Unit (10 beds), a new Continuing Care Unit for the long-term and chronically ill (26 bed), an unusual motel-like Self Care Unit (20 private rooms), and an enlarged Intermediate Care Unit (59 beds). The building was planned with the future expansion of the maternity wing in mind. Larger quarters have been set aside for the laundry, linen room and the maintenance work shop.

The X-ray Department and the Clinical Laboratory will both be enlarged and have new equipment added. The cafeteria will retain the use of all its seating area; some of the cafeteria space was used as temporary offices, which will be moved.

Many departments have moved to new homes with larger space and added equipment. These include physical therapy, occupational therapy, Home Care, medical library and medical records.

Many other new features in the new building include a new conference room and also new classrooms, offices and lounge for the Licensed Practical Nurses' School which opened in October at the Health Center. There is a doctor's bedroom for the physician who stays overnight on emergency duty.

The modern $2,500,000 structure is the successor to a little hospital which began in the old McPherson mansion in Howell in 1928. The residence and $15,000 in case were donated to the City of Howell; the city bonded itself for another $50,000 to convert the building to hospital use.

McPherson Memorial Hospital did a great work in hospital care until well into post World War II Days. There were originally 17 beds in the hospital; more were added from time to time until 34 were crowded in.

UNSUCCESSFUL TRIES
After two or three unsuccessful attempts to build an addition on the old building, or to raise money to build a county hospital, a workable plan was discovered.

A non-profit corporation was formed in 1954 to raise money to build a voluntary general hospital. Public subscriptions amounted to $789,000.

Additional funds were obtained under the federal Hill-Burton Act and from a private endowment fund.

A 75 bed hospital, the first to be opened for patients in January, 1958.

The new hospital served Livingston County people well until about 1960 when overcrowding became frequent. The Bureau of Hospital Administration of The University of Michigan was retained to survey the hospital needs of the area. On the basis of the University report, a new addition was planned.

The opening of the new building will coincide with the adoption of a plan of Progressive Patient Care in which a patient is assigned to an area of the hospital where he will receive care according to his medical and nursing needs and as his physician orders.

BOTH M.D.'S AND D.O.'S
All the physicians, both doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy, who live and practice in Livingston County are eligible to apply for medical staff membership so they can bring their patients to the Health Center. Over thirty outside specialists are consultants to the staff.

The hospital is a participating Blue Cross hospital, is approved by the Michigan State Department of Health for maternity care and in 1962 received a three year accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The Health Center is a community project, but receives no city or county revenues. The Board of Trustees elected by the corporate members. Corporation membership is open to the public; all that is required is a donation of $1 or more a year.

Local Companies Participated In Construction

Many skills and trades contributed to the building of the new Progressive Patient Care units at the Health Center.

Clark Ackley of Lansing was the architect. The four major contractors were: Wallace Construction Co., of Farmington, the general contractor; Dard, Inc., Lansing, mechanical contractor; Lansing Electric Motors, Lansing, was the electrical contractor on the north and west wings; and Glover Electric Co., of Fowlerville did the electrical work in the Self Care building.

Austin and Blue, Inc., of Fowlerville, furnished the stainless steel medicine and nourishment stations.

Beurmann's Furniture Store, Howell, had the low bid on the Kroehler furniture purchased for the Self Care Unit and the lounges. E. D. Ewing of Brighton was awarded the contract for the carpeting in the Self Care building.

Other firms which acted as subcontractors on the building were: Metals, Price Brothers, Watson Mfg. Co., Pioneer Detroit, Component Products, Milbrand Maintenance, H. S. Peterson, Pontiac, Millwork, Wm. Reichback, Grand Rapids Tile & Marble, Acme Glass of Lansing, George Worthington, Ciotti Bros., Architectural Bldg. Components, Modern Fold Door, Duane Moore, Penninsular Slate, Whitacre Engineering Co., and Grover Transit Tube Co.

Henry Schallhorn of Lansing was Project Engineer, serving as the agent of the hospital to supervise the construction and to check the specifications.

STANLEY L. HOFFMAN, M. D., Howell, Chief of the Medical Staff, McPherson Community Health Center.

JOHN B. SLATER, Brighton, Chairman of the Building Committee, McPherson Community Health Center.

Group Dynamics To Be Studied By Supervisors

Two series of university extension courses at the Health Center were begun in October. Both were especially designed for the hospital by the Bureau of Hospital Administration of the University of Michigan.

The first will be a series of ten sessions for the supervisors of all departments and head nurses conducted by Alfred Popoff, a research associate with the Bureau. This will be in the general area of the study of supervision problems.

The methodology used will be group dynamics, a device by which group participation is used as a teaching tool.

The second series will be conducted by Lawrence Hill, Director of the Bureau, and by John R. Griffith, Associate Director. This will be a course of five meetings for the Trustees and Medical Staff of the hospital.

The administrative aspects of a hospital and the respective responsibilities of the Board and Medical Staff will be one area covered.

Another phase will deal with the financial problems of a hospital and its relations with Blue Cross, insurance companies, government agencies paying for hospital services and the private pay patient.

Health Center Works Closely With University of Michigan

The Health Center has had close relations with the University for several years. Part of this stemmed from the fact that James H. Sullivan, the administrator of the hospital, was a graduate of the first class of candidates for master's degree in Hospital Administration at the University of Michigan.

In the late fifties, the trustees of the Health Center realized an addition had to be built to the hospital.

At this point they asked the Bureau of Hospital Administration of the University to do a study of the hospital needs of the county so that some projection could be made for the future.

This study was conducted in 1960 under the supervision of Walter J. McNeerney, Director of the Bureau (now president of the national Blue Cross organization), and John R. Griffith, now Associate Director of the Bureau.

The parts of the building being shown in the Open House came about as a result of the study. Also as a result of discussions during the study came a determination on the part of the trustees, the medical staff and the administration to install a full range program of Progressive Patient Care.

Once it was decided to implement a full scale PPC program, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation granted over $90,000 for special personnel to help establish the plan and to pay for a three year study by the Bureau at the Health Center. When the results of the University study are published, the experience at McPherson should be of help to hospitals all over the county.

NEW PROJECT

A new cooperative effort will begin next month when dietary students from the University of Michigan will begin spending two weeks residency experience working with the Health Center's professional dietitian, Mrs. Evelyn Warnie.

Two extension courses given by the faculty of the Program and Bureau of Hospital Administration of the University started this month. One is designed for employees at the supervisory level, the other for the trustees and the medical staff.

Some discussion has been held about having a specialist in physical medicine from the University Medical Center visit the Health Center weekly to advise and assist in the developing of the Continuing Care Unit for rehabilitative care of long-term ill patients.

During the past year Professor Ella McNeil and her associates of the Department of Community Health Services of the University have been very helpful in helping the Health Center establish its Home Care Department. In return, the hospital has offered to cooperate with the University in Public Health nursing research.

What Is Progressive Patient Care?

McPherson Community Health Center has been called a Progressive Patient Care hospital and has been also called the first full range PPC hospital in America.

The question naturally arises: What is Progressive Patient Care?

Progressive Patient Care is an idea of a new way patient care can be organized in a hospital. This plan will be used at the Health Center when the new building is opened. Under PPC, a medical or surgical patient will be assigned to one of the six PPC sections of the hospital according to the kind and amount of nursing and medical care he needs. In other words, care will be tailored to fit his needs.

As his condition changes, his doctor may want him transferred to a different kind and degree of care. This is where the word "progressive" comes in.

The United States Public Health Service strongly recommends this plan, particularly for community hospitals. Several hospitals have successfully used parts of the program suggested by the Public Health Service. The Health Center will be the first to install all six units of PPC.

It is believed having all six parts in one program is as important as having all nine players of a baseball team on the field at one time. One unit of PPC helps balance another. A heavy concentration of help may be required in one area; a smaller staff may be able to care for patients in another.

Costs may run high in one area; another section may balance that with lower costs. Your modern hospital can survive today only if it can keep a balanced operation with average costs to a realistic level.

(1) Intensive Care Unit. This unit is for the critically ill patient who needs close watching and constant care. Found here will be persons who are recovering from serious surgery and need special attention, sufferers from strokes and heart attacks in their critical stages, persons who are unconscious, or who have severe bleeding, or who are badly burned. These are only a few who might be assigned here.

How long do patients stay in the ICU? Three or four days is about the average stay. When the critical stage is passed, the patient can be transferred. Incidentally, the ICU is a place to get well and almost everyone there starts on the road to recovery.

(2) The Self Care Unit at the Health Center will be for the patient able to be up and dressed, able to take care of his body needs and able to go to the cafeteria for meals and to the therapy rooms, X-ray and the laboratory for services.

This is not a convalescent home. Patients in this section will be those nearly ready to be discharged from the hospital, or patients just admitted for tests and diagnosis.

The patient nearly ready to go home may be receiving instructions as to how he can gradually resume his usual daily activity or how to take medicine or do tests when he gets home.

The patient staying in the unit while undergoing a series of tests can make himself comfortable between appointments because the routine in the unit will make the hospital seem much like normal life outside.

CUTS COSTS
There will be twenty private rooms furnished and carpeted similar to a first class motel. The rates will be about half the price of private rooms in the regular building because Self Care patients will not need as much nursing attention. This may be an example of how one unit can balance another in costs.

(3) The Continuing Care Unit is for the patient who will need to be in the hospital longer than the average patient and who has some chance of partial or full recovery with good nursing and with therapy treatments. Here you will find persons recovering from strokes and coronarys, convalescing fracture cases, those crippled with arthritis, the amputees and many others.

This kind of patient takes a lot of nursing — a lot of body care, a lot of lifting, and many linen changes. These patients need physical therapy, exercising — and patience. Two open wards will be tried in this unit with the hope patients will benefit by being grouped together where they can see each other making progress. Good results are expected in this field of physical medicine.

(4) The Intermediate Care Unit is the area of good nursing for the medical or surgical patient who is getting well without any great complications. There is not the need here for the constant care of the ICU or the physical medicine of Continuing Care, but there is more nursing needed here than could be given in Self Care.

(5) Outpatient Care. The Health Center has many facilities for testing and treating patients which the physician could not afford to have in his private office.

The hospital outpatient department is a place where the physician can send his patient by appointment for the X-rays, therapy treatments or laboratory tests he is not prepared to handle in his own office. Emergency room treatment comes under this department also.

CARE AT HOME
(6) Home Care. Many sick persons can be cared for at home adequately if a nurse visits regularly to oversee their care and if physical and occupational therapy, dietary advice and sick room equipment are available at home.

Home care will be offered to a physician's patient if both the doctor and the Home Care Nurse think proper care is possible under the home conditions. Both the patient and his family must prefer home care to be given rather than have the patient go to a hospital or nursing home. Blue Cross will pay Home Care benefits for subscribers.

Maternity and pediatric cases will still be taken care of in separate departments of the hospital because of the danger of spread of infections from other patients.

Home Care Service Grows

The Home Care program of McPherson Community Health Center has completed its first year of service. Patients in all parts of Livingston County have benefited from home nursing care, occupational and physical therapy and dietary advice.

The first month the service was in operation, 20 home visits were made. Last month there were 114. The growth of the service has been steady and it is believed this will continue.

The purpose of the program is to get some patients out of the hospital and home earlier so they can continue recovery in familiar home surroundings. This is particularly important when the illness is long-term and the separation from loved ones is difficult for all concerned. Many times a long-term patient can be cared for at home if the family can be taught what to do with the help and advice of the nurse and therapist. In the case of a mother of a young family, it is important for the mother to be in the home to provide guidance and supervision of her children.

Home Aides have been trained by the Home Care Department to help a family member in the care of a patient. They have been trained in simple patient care under the supervision of the public health nurse.

They also can assist in cooking, light housekeeping and care of children as well as patient care. Several home aides are now working in Livingston County under the supervision of the Home Care Department.

Home care services are always under the order and direction of the family physician.

PHYSICIAN DECIDES
The method followed for determining what patients can be cared for by Home Care is a series of steps beginning with the decision of the physician that the patient could be cared for at home.

The next step is to decide if the patient can be given needed care with the facilities and help at home. Finally, both the patient and his family must be willing to undertake the care at home.

The physician prescribes the care and the frequency of visits by Home personnel. He receives regular reports of the patient's condition so he knows of the progress taking place between his own visits.

Many Blue Cross and some private insurance subscribers can have Home Care benefits under their existing policies.

Some of the kinds of patients who have received Home Care services in the past year have been patients with long illnesses and slow convalescence. There have been post-surgery patients who have needed instruction and assistance in care.

Some have been elderly patients with chronic illnesses and multiple complaints. There are also patients who need help with exercises and in planning ways to take care of themselves. The age range has been from the very young to the very old.

The range of diagnoses of patients cared for has been wide also. For example, some have been cases of arthritis, prematurity, muscular dystrophy, strokes, chickenpox, diabetes, cardiac ailments, cancer and multiple sclerosis — to name a few.

GOOD TO BE HOME
The reasons patients give for liking Home Care are reasons very close to the home and family. The patients like to be with their children, and husbands or wives. They often feel it is necessary for them to be there to care for or direct the children or other family members. The patients often say they have greater independence at home, more freedom about getting up and going to bed.

They like to be able to have their favorite foods cooked just the way they like them. Further, they are surrounded by the family, not by other sick persons. Finally, there is nothing like sleeping in your own bed. No matter how fine the hospital, to many patients home is best.

THERAPIST LILLIAN KINNEY teaches basket weaving to patient taking part in occupational therapy.

HOME CARE NURSE, Diane Webb, R. N. gives a patient exercises as prescribed by the doctor.

MURIEL KELLEY, R. N., gives medication to patient at home, as doctor has ordered, in Home nursing care.

KINDERGARTEN NEWS
 Mrs. Parks
 We are decorating our room now for Halloween and planning a party. Each group have painted a giant Jack-O-lantern to hang up. We have also cut out big ghosts and a fence. We are making black cats and pasting on whiskers.
 Dick Williams brought a big pumpkin, Ricky DeCost brought a middle sized one and Phyllis Rowell brought 2 little ones.
 Shari Kaercher brought some Indian moccasins, a little canoe and some Indian corn to school.
 We have lots of acorns and different kinds of nuts and seeds.
 Donald Gyle, Tom Hallister, Sharon Hooven, Sheri Kaercher, Elizabeth Rogers, Richard Williams, Larry Young, all have celebrated their 5th birthdays in October.
 We are working in our "Happy way to numbers" books now.
 We can read the words on safety posters now along with several other words.
 We can all find our names on the chalk board now. Some of us can write and spell our names.
 We have learned 4 new songs in 2 weeks.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS
 Mrs. Myers
 This week we decorated our room with paintings on the windows and cut-outs on the bulletin boards and door.
 Now we are sitting in groups of three or four and sometimes five. We like this better than rows. The monitors are: Bob Wylie, June Brown, Scott Carver, Debbie Mowers, Ron Makin, and Weas Scott. Also the class is divided into A and B groups.
 We had a class meeting to decide what we would have at the Halloween party. We decided to serve potato chips and cider. There will be dancing and games for all.
 This afternoon (Friday) we had a spell down and Marjorie Quesenberry won.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS
 Mrs. Erhardt
 Our room finished their maps of plans and gave this report. We will be making new ones on a different subject very soon. They will be on resources and how men use them.
 We finished the stories on inventors which we did in English, (with exception of 2 or 3 people). Here is a list of who did what in Geography; Shirley Harmon, Sharon Gray and Kathy Sheeks did a map of our Solar system, showing the planets and their orbits and moons.
 Bill Down, Jim Bennett and Danny Williams showed by use of a master how Mercury, Venus, and Earth revolve around the sun, (light bulb painted yellow). The planets were made from paper mache.
 Mary Plummer and Jackie Reason made a map showing seasons by use of paper mache, also. They were globes. They show the earth revolving around the sun.
 Jon Randolph and David Zetuika made a map showing night and day.
 Mary Clements, Jackie Makin and Isobel Treisles made a map showing the planets and how the earth was formed.
 Allen Russon and Arthur Blades made a map showing the planets in our solar system.

Hamburg Five Stays in Front

The Pee Wee hoopsters completed their half-way season mark Thursday at the High School gym with Hamburg winning handily over St. Mary's 15 to 11 and the Pinckney Merchants downing the Pilgrims in a hair raiser 23 to 22. Leroy Cavins of the Hamburg five has developed into a really potent basketball star. Rangy and with good movement and unerring accuracy, he could be just the boy to lead the Pinckney Pirates in the years to come.
 Hanson, Kennedy and McMacken lead the Irish scoring and the Saints avow they'll take the measure of the Hainesmen before the season ends in November.
 Paul Russell's Pilgrims gave the Pinckney Merchants a scare coming from off a 22 to 9 deficit to tie it up 22 all, and then lose in the waning moments on a foul shot by John Darrow, 23 to 22. John Darrow was the whole show for the Merchants while Weas Scott was the big man for the Pilgrims.

Raddatz Says: Yes Lavan Cries: No

HOWELL—A 1964 "deficit" budget of $860,950.58 was adopted Friday by the Livingston County Board of Supervisors at the conclusion of their annual October budget session.
 A vehement denial that any deficit could be shown was made by Brighton City Supervisor Martin J. Lavan.
 He challenged the figures presented by the Finance Committee, stating the budget does not reflect the true financial position of the county for 1964, citing balances remaining in the Social Welfare Department to substantiate his claims.
 Supr. Carl Raddatz presented the budget, which lists no expected balance at the beginning of 1964 and shows no anticipated balance at the end of the year.
 His figures show the county expects miscellaneous revenues of $114,589.94 plus tax receipts of $671,396.30 for a total of $785,986.24.
 This amount subtracted from the total anticipated expenditures of $860,950.58 leaves a deficit in the budget, prepared by the Finance Committee, of $74,964.34.
 The budget under which the county is operating this year, adopted on October 23, 1962 lists anticipated expenditures of $780,783.04.
 The 1963 budget was submitted as a "net" budget, not showing anticipated revenues and again showing no beginning or ending balances.
CIGAR BOX
 This fact led Lavan to complain about "cigar box" fund when it came to light during this past year that the Social Welfare Dept. started the year with a balance of $186,000 which had not even been anticipated or shown in the budget.
 There was also at the beginning of this year a balance of $131,000 in the general fund, giving the county a cash balance of $317,000.
 It was this balance, plus revenues anticipated this year of $105,000 that was a deciding factor when the County Allocation Board cut the county's request for 5.27 mills to 4.65.
BOHM REPORTS
 The report of the Social Welfare Department, made during the budget session by Cecil Bohm, director, shows that up until the end of September the department did not have to draw on its 1963 allocation of $205,000.
 By using the $186,000 it had on hand at the beginning of the year plus cash receipts from sources other than the county, it still had a balance on hand of $49,000.
 The Finance Committee reported Friday that a transfer was made Oct. 8 to the Welfare Dept. in the amount of $130,000. This was done, explained Supr. Harold Armstrong, chairman of the County Relief Committee and a member of the Finance Committee, to enable the Welfare Dept. to operate through March, of 1964.
LAVAN EXPOUNDS
 Lavan went to a blackboard and wrote down the welfare balance at the beginning of this year which he said was $187,000. He added to this the $130,000 just transferred to prove his contention that the department this year has available $317,000 in cash. The budget only calls for $205,000.
 "All we had to transfer was $18,000," he said. "Why do we have to give them more?"
 The session broke up into small discussion groups at this point.
 After about 10 minutes Supr. Allan B. Campbell moved to adopt the proposed budget, there was support and the budget was promptly passed by voice vote without dissent.
 Lavan said after the meeting, "I never did get my question answered".

Howell Elated Over Vote

HOWELL — All of Howell High School from the greenest freshman right on up to the superintendent of schools was jubilant last week over the passing of the bond issue to build a new high school and to renovate the present high school for use as a junior high.

Delighted grins were the order of the day as Howell voted for the proposal by a margin of almost three to one in favor of a new high school. Much work must be done before the new school becomes a reality. The first order of the day is to get approval of the preliminary plans from the Department of Public Instruction.

Then the Municipal Finance Commission must appraise the legality and soundness of the financial picture.

Following that, the city will advertise for bids to borrow money for construction of the school at the lowest interest rate. Meanwhile the architect will be drawing the working blueprint for the building.

According to Donald Bath, superintendent of schools, bids for construction of the school will be received about the end of February. Construction will start right after the bids are let.

Citizens of Howell can be sure that their boys and girls will be entering the doors of the new high school in September of 1965.
