

Pinckney Dispatch

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

The Pinckney School Board having obtained an option to purchase a 50-acre school site on the corner of M-36 and McGregor Road in Hamburg Township for the fantastic sum of $38,000.00 prompted me to present the board with several propositions whereby they could purchase various sites on the Alta Meyer farm just one quarter of a mile west of the proposed Shehan site and having M-36 frontage with a savings of up to $26,000.00 for one 65-acre site.

Realizing that the board was interested in a two-road access site, I presented another proposition to the board at the regular meeting on March 5, 1964 whereby the board would be given a 50-acre site on the Meyer farm free and when the roads were completed the savings would be from $10,000.00 to $15,000.00 and were the Shehan site to be completed and developed with the same accessibility as in the proposed Meyer site the savings could run to double or more.

According to the minutes of the March 5 Board Meeting in the Pinckney Dispatch, the proposition was ignored as there was no mention of the said proposal and inasmuch as Mr. Roth did not receive a second to his motion to have the Shehan site appraised, I must assume that the board is going to ignore the proposal entirely. I hereby ask the board why they ignore such a reasonable proposition? It would seem to me that the board would be interested in sound business principals and at least investigate such a proposal.

I have been branded as anti-school, and if opposition to the monstrosity incorporated in the Pinckney School facilities, if opposition to not looking ahead and planning ahead, if opposition to the manner in which the board presented the (next to the last) school bond issue, if advocating for many years essentially the same thing as was reported by the U of M Bureau of School Services in their report to the board is being anti-school then I am anti-school. But being in the Real Estate business it would follow that I would be rather silly to oppose any good school program.

I favored the last school bond issue because I thought it had merit, but I do not favor paying $38,000.00 for a site when there are equal sites available for far less money. If the Shehan site can be purchased for an amount which is in direct proportion to the useability and cost as compared to the Meyer site I shall have no objections.

If the board does not at least investigate the possibilities of one site against the other with relation to useability and cost of development I shall have serious reservations as to the integrity of the board.

Teacher Antics

One of the biggest and the best evening's entertainment for this school year took place Friday, March 13, when the Junior basketball players met with the male faculty members in a friendly basketball game in the P.H.S. gymnasium.

The faculty players were introduced by Pinckney School Board of Education President John Walton, just prior to game time and one by one the players appeared from the locker-room attired in everything from regular basketball suits, to "nighties," and baby's bonnets! This, needless to say, added a great deal to the hilarity of the event. Jack Quigley, dressed with that "little boy" look, appeared before the spectators, leading none other than "Porky," the faculty team mascot. (See photos.)

The final scores of 36 to 38 in favor of the faculty held the spectators, AND the losing players in awe throughout the evening. Such team coordination, such as that displayed by the faculty with no beforehand rehearsals is seldom, if ever, found!

On the winner's side the high scorers were Bob Weber with 9 points to his credit, and Jim Bradley making 24 points; Mr. Taylor made 2 points and Mr. Quigley, 3. Other faculty players were L. D. Haines, John Burg and Don Gibson.

The unsuccessful team worked hard for their 36 points. Joe Basydio, Jr., tallied up 6 points; Alan Steffen with 2; Larry Baughn with 4; Miles Cone with 2; Steve Randolph with 14; Gary Henry with 8; Jim Pine made no points but did aid his team immensely!

Million Dollar County Road Program Planned

Supervisors Vote In Favor, 18-3

A million-dollar road program spread over five years will go to the people for a vote in November.

The Livingston County Board of Supervisors at its meeting Tuesday passed by an 18 to 3 majority a resolution placing on the ballot a request for a $200,000 a year program that will pave an average of 15 miles of county roads during each of the next five years.

Also on the ballot will be a request for a five-year waiver on the 15 mill ceiling on property taxes to allow the collecting of the extra 1 1/2 mills that will be required to carry out the program.

Under the new constitution, this request can be presented to all voters instead of just property owners. If the duration of the program was greater than five years, property owners of record would be the only ones entitled to vote on the levy.

The road program was explained to the board by Collins Thornton, County Road Engineer. Thornton told the board that all the federal funds available to the county are now being used. This amounts to $50,000 annually.

Thornton also explained that bonding was not considered a feasible answer because of the interest that would have to be paid out over the duration of the bond program.

Thornton said blacktop cost is now averaging about $12,500 per mile in the county. Because of the weather conditions experienced and because of the soil in Livingston County, it is necessary to put down a base of 6 inches of compacted gravel and 12 inches of sand.

The program as outlined is primarily for blacktopping. Livingston County presently has 222 miles of blacktopped road, most of it in poor condition. Road maintenance is becoming more important all the time.

Thornton told the board that good roads are going to mean as much to the county as good schools in the long run. Both roads and schools are important to the growth and prosperity of the area.

With the road program on a millage basis, there is every likelihood more than 200,000 would be available for construction and maintenance as the county's property values increase.

Thornton said he hoped that with the program Chilson Road, Brighton Road and Hamburg Road could be saved. He said these would probably be among the first items taken up in the program.

All blacktop work would be contracted out. The county is able to build and maintain gravel roads less expensively than a contractor could but would have to buy additional equipment to construct blacktop roads. Equipment purchases would defeat the purpose of the program.

The road program would cover the years 1965 to 1969, inclusive, and would amount to an average tax increase of $10 to $11 per property owner for that period. Thornton pointed out that this is less than the cost of a new muffler or set of shock absorbers and that without the road program, automobile maintenance is going to be expensive for area residents.

Supervisors at the meeting who voted against the resolution placing the road program on the ballot were Supervisor Clark of Marion Township, Supervisor Armstrong of Hartland Township and Supervisor Spicer of Green Oak Township. Supervisor Lavan was not present at the meeting.

Supervisor Spicer told the Brighton Argus after the board meeting that his was a vote reflecting the feelings of the residents of his township. He said Green Oak has been carrying less well-to-do townships in the county and is not interested in doing this on a road program.

Of at least as much consequence as the road program was the Board of Supervisors' move ahead with the county-wide appraisal plans.

Five firms have submitted estimates for county-wide appraisal and the board voted 12 to 8 in favor of getting firm bids for the work.

It has been estimated that the appraisal program would take about 18 months to complete. All five of the companies contacted said they favored having only a few appraisers at work in any given county because this resulted in a more uniform appraisal.

The companies contacted by the county have all done work of this type in Ohio where state law requires each county to have a complete appraisal every six years. Several of the companies have done county-wide appraisals in Michigan.

Supervisor Cooper of Brighton said the experience of his city with outside appraising has all been good. He said the appraisals have been reasonable and that there have been relatively few people going to the Board of Appeals since Brighton was appraised.

Also at the meeting Tuesday, a protest was made in the form of a roll call vote against the paying of $36,096 to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Supervisors Campbell, Beers, Seim, Heeg, Gordon, Roepecke, Conine, Shehan and Armstrong voted against the payment. The payment was originally authorized as a 1/4 mill tax by a vote of the people in 1939 and became effective in 1940 in a five-county area.

The dissenting supervisors maintained that Wayne County cut its annual appropriation to 1/5 of a mill two years ago and that the other counties involved are not being treated fairly.

The funds are used to support parks in the area, notably Kensington Park on I-96. County Clerk Joseph Ellis distributed to the Supervisors a letter from Sheriff Gehring pleading his case for increased manpower in the Sheriff's Department. Gehring pointed out in his letter that in Michigan sheriffs handle about 32% of the fatal accidents while State Police handle 29% and local agencies 39%.

Sheriff Gehring feels his force should be increased to the proportion of other enforcement agencies in the area and that would require the addition of at least four more men.

No action was taken by the board on Sheriff Gehring's letter.

The Way We Hear It

BY: DOLLY BAUGHN

... spring has sprung! At least it seemed it had when looking across the way Monday to see Mr. Markus raking the village park. Of course, looking across there next morning through the blizzard made one wonder just what it was that sprung!

... Marshall Meabon has announced his plans to retire from being 4-H leader for the boy's handicraft group. This comes after giving 17 years of faithful service to this organization. He was honored for this community deed last year by the Pinckney Kiwanis Club, and also, by the student council at the Pinckney Elementary.

... another person deserving recognition for faithful service is Stanley Dinkel who served the Village of Pinckney for 15 years as village president. It is rather evident that the welfare of the village was kept in mind by Dinkel, because he maintained the town on an even keel, so to speak. Pinckney is one of the nicest kept up towns for its size in the state. Just stop and think of some of the towns close by — see what a difference there is. At any rate — my own personal opinion is — hats off to Dinkel for these past 15 years! This is no more than any person would deserve after serving in this capacity this long a time!

... there were a couple of girls up town in shorts Monday — enjoying the little warm weather that hit here. The mercury did climb to nearly 60 degrees, — but, shorts already???

... a group of 16 Pinckney Demolay boys were in Brighton Sunday and attended church services honoring the boys since Demolay Week officially began that day, March 15.

... Friday the 13th proved to be lucky for Wayne Wagner. At least it was on this day he received a license and is now a package liquor dealer.

... the girls who bowl on Hank's B-Line team Tuesday journeyed to Cadillac, Mich., Saturday and bowled in the State Bowling Tournament on Sunday. The bowlers are Em Gilbert, Fran O'Leary, Shirley Richmond, Margaret Wagner and Shirley Murningham. (Never did hear how they did.)

... Herb Schenden has purchased some equipment and a building in town and has some big plans. If they materialize it will be a good deal for Pinckney. Time shall tell and-as soon as I hear from Herb himself, I shall pass it on to you—you see, this is just "the way we hear it"—

Landmark Comes Down

"Landmark" comes down (razed)

A very well known "landmark" in the village of Pinckney, located between the Darrow Barber shop and the Pinckney Body Shop, has been partially torn down in preparation for a badly needed "face-lift." This renovating is being done by the owner, Sam Gentile.

The building was rebuilt some 40 years ago after it had been destroyed by fire once. Bernie Lynch hired Bert VanBlaircum to rebuild it, and then maintained a black smith shop therein. When Bernie passed on, it was left to his son, John Lynch. John rented it to Charles Clark, a mechanic, (and "a very good one") used it for a car repair garage.

C. E. Hewlett then bought it from Lynch and he, being a Watkins Products dealer used the building as a warehouse. When Hewlett left Pinckney about ten years ago, Robert Egeler used the building for an auto body shop, and stayed there until nearly two years ago when he moved into his present location, next door. About this same time the building was sold to Sam Gentile who has used it as a warehouse for building supplies. He now plans to put a new roof on it, a new front, and as to who — or what, shall occupy the building after this is done has not been definitely decided.

As to the exact dates this building was sold each time was not made available to the press at this time. Perhaps someone could fill in with this information, if interested.

Airman Ronald E. Singers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Singer of 1268 E. M-36, Pinckney, Mich., is being re-assigned to Stead AFB, Nev., for training and duty as a rescue and survival equipment specialist. The airman is a graduate of Pinckney High School.

Mrs. Murray Kennedy will represent Putnam Township as a jury member for the March term of Circuit Court.

VILLAGE COUNCIL MEETING

The village council held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday, March 10, in the Pinckney Fire Hall with outgoing president Stanley Dinkel presiding. As the upper floor of the fire hall is completely filled with hospital cots, blankets, and other equipment stored there by the Civil Defense, the meetings are held on the first floor in any clear spot between fire fighting equipment. When the folding chairs are filled, you pull up a fire engine running board and make do.

The six new village officers, after being sworn in by Robert Ackley at the close of the session, stayed on for a "briefing" of village business with the

Howell Area Recreation Centers Begin Fund Drive

The Master Gifts division of the Howell Area Recreation Center officially "kicked-off" March 12 at a special meeting called by W. T. Scarboro, committee chairman.

Members of the committee received their final instructions and are presently making their preliminary calls on large businesses, industry and certain individuals. Master gifts range from $2,500 to $15,000 and up. This division of the campaign hopes to complete its work by the middle of April.

A report by Committeeman Edward G. McPherson of an early gift to the campaign of $25,000 from the McPherson family interests was met with enthusiastic applause. Paul Baldwin, Jr., campaign general chairman said: "This initial gift of $25,000 is certainly a wonderful beginning to what we feel will be a highly successful campaign. It should be an indication to all of us of the growing awareness of the need for a new recreation center by the people of our area."

The Special Gifts division of the campaign under the chairmanship of Fred D. Kowalske, will have its kick-off March 20. A group of approximately 40 committeemen will be calling on smaller businesses, firms and certain individuals for gifts ranging from $300 to $2,500 and up, payable over a three-year period.

The General Gifts division of the campaign, under the chairmanship of Robert Withey and William B. Scofield, met with their vice chairmen last week. A meeting of their section leaders for the City of Howell, Marion Howell, Genoa and Oceola Townships was held on March 17.

The Master Gifts division of the campaign is the enlistment of team captains. The team captain's meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 24, with the general kick-off planned for March 31. Campaign officials pointed out that nearly 500 people make up the general teams organization.

The campaign for $175,000 begins its intensive solicitation of residential gifts the first week of April.

Award Winners Are Announced

HOWELL Awards in three areas of achievement were announced this week by William H. Doucette, awards chairman for the Michigan Week Committee of Livingston County.

He said his seven-member group had picked the McPherson Community Health Center as the county's entry for civic achievement, Utilities Division products for industrial achievement, and the Howell Honeycrisp Melon will be submitted again as the agricultural achievement.

Working with Doucette in the judging were Brighton Mayor Marshall Cooper, County Chairman Douglas Parmenter, Pinckney Chairman Gerald Reason, Howell Chairman Dean Smith, Howell Cultural Chairman Mrs. Jean Oakley, and Fowlerville Chairman T. Nelson Tobias.

Garden Club Talks Roses

The How all Town and County Garden Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Dunn on Caledonia St.

Following refreshments of chocolate cake and coffee served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. Charles Ward and Mrs. William Mayberry, a short business meeting was held.

Mrs. William Carter gave the program for the afternoon. She spoke on "The Legend of Roses" and traced the history of the lovely and historic flower from its earliest beginnings.

The next meeting will be held on April 20 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Nesmith on Higgins St.

Michigan leads the nation in the number of state parks and prepared camp sites, with 60 state parks and recreation areas, 23 state forests, five national forests, and 150 county and municipal camping parks. In this state are more than 9,000 prepared campsites for tent or trailer vacationers.

Jack & Jill Child Study Club Meets

Livingston County's Director of Civil Defense, Milton Conine, was guest speaker at the Jack & Jill Child Study Club's March 10 meeting, hosted by Mrs. Charles Potts.

Conine told the club of the county's survival plans and the duties of the various departments of local government in the event of a nuclear attack or natural disaster. He described the three public fallout shelters stocked by the federal government in this area which are the Citizens' Mutual Building, the First National Bank Building, and several wings of the State Hospital. There are also three completely equipped emergency hospitals in the county; one housed in the Citizens' building, one in Brighton, and another in Pinckney.

The importance of individual families having pre-arranged plans for shelter and a course of action to follow in case of separation was stressed. Pamphlets were distributed on the subjects of fallout shelters, nuclear attack, tornadoes, etc., for the group's general information.

Conine said his greatest problem as county director is getting enough people interested in Civil Defense to donate their time to further the program. Several volunteers have been trained in the operation of the various instruments located in each of the shelters which measure radiation to determine when the area is safe for re-entry. He also displayed an instrument developed specifically for home use which can be ordered through department stores and other retail outlets. Instructions are available on how to interpret the instrument readings.

Mrs. Richard St. Onge reported on the progress of the Easter charity project in cooperation with the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. Walter Hinkle served refreshments following the program.

A meat demonstration will be presented by A&P Food Stores to the Jack & Jill Child Study group of Howell Tuesday evening, March 24, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Raymond Williams on Byron Road.

The demonstration will be presented by George Miller, A&P meat specialist, who is well qualified on the subject of meats, having spent his entire 18-year career with the food chain specializing in this field. He will be assisted by Wilburn Allen, meat department head in the local A&P super market.

Miller's talk will be centered around the price structure of meat, and what the consumer should look for in selecting a piece of meat at her local super market in order to get the true value — not just an advertised value. Grading and inspection will also be discussed, and a variety of cuts of meat will be used to illustrate the different methods of merchandising.

A question-and-answer period will follow the presentation. The demonstration will be most interesting and informative in that the housewife will be able to learn the value of the various types of meat and their uses.

telephone lines

By RUSS ENGELHARDT, Manager

IT DOESN'T HAPPEN OFTEN, but occasionally one of our customers will accidentally dial the wrong number when making a Long Distance call direct. If this should ever happen to you, be sure to ask the person who answers for the city and the number you have reached. Hang up for a moment, then dial your Long Distance Operator and report the city and the wrong number to her. This will keep the charge from appearing on your next telephone bill.

CAN'T FIND A BABY-SITTER FOR THE DAY? Never mind. You can stay home with the children and still get your day's shopping done... by telephone, of course! Amazing how many errands your phone can run for you. Try it next time you are busy at home, or the weather's bad.

"NO CHARGE, MA'AM!" Here's a repairman who never sends a bill. He's your Michigan Bell telephone man and his repairs are included in your service at no extra charge. But chances are you rarely need to call him. Today's telephones are that trouble-free! And they're improving all the time. Our goal is to bring you dependable service that remains low in cost while becoming ever more valuable and pleasant to use.

Michigan Alumni Club Meets Dean Roger Heyns

About 50 persons gathered last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McPherson for the meeting of the University of Michigan Alumni club.

Joe Brady introduced Dean Roger W. Heyns, vice president for Academic Affairs of the University of Michigan, as the speaker of the evening.

Dean Heyns has had a distinguished career at the University. He succeeded Dean Charles E. Odgegaard on July 1, 1958 at the age of 40, the youngest man ever to assume the office of Dean of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts. He had been assistant to the dean since 1951.

College Award for Outstanding Teaching and in 1958 the Distinguished Faculty Award.

In 1958 he published his first book, "The Psychology of Human Adjustment," and has been a frequent contributor to psychological journals and books on psychology.

Dean Heyns topic was "Do Colleges Teach Students to Make a Living or to Live?" He spoke of the attitudes of the young student today toward his country and the world, the hopes and aims of the University for the future and its plans for the expansion of its facilities both in graduate and undergraduate courses. He spoke of the need for support of universities, and of the wonderful backing the University of Michigan has always received from the people of the state. At the end of his talk the meeting was thrown open for questions and a lively discussion period followed.

Easter

By Janice Carol Heiner

Christmas Joys are fine;
But somehow Easter, I do find,
Is a grander time by far.

New Year cheer is grand,
But Easter's cheer is lined,
With music glad.

Hallelujah, Christ is risen,
And we, his people, chosen,
Will help his glory shine.

To Help Another

By Janice Carol Heiner

Easter makes me think that,
God is bending near the earth,
With entreaties that,
One man help another on his way.

God is bending near the earth,
Pleading that a single man,
Shall cheer another on this earth;
On to find the God above.

Easter makes me think that,
God above is happier,
If just one man helps—
Another along the dusty way.

Over The Land

By Janice Carol Heiner

A wandering I shall go,
And never more shall I know,
The hurried business of city streets.

The lapping waves shall be my friends,
Along the roaring ocean shores,
And gulls shall flap their wings around me.

Glory to the sun, sky and sea,
Praise to the rock, hill and tree,
Friends I shall be with my coun-try.

This year's Easter parade of foods focuses attention on lean and juicy ham. A sprightly garnish for the ham is parsley and mashed potato cups filled with frozen peas. Vanilla Bavarian decorated with strawberries provides a scrumptious meal finale.

Haste In Cutting Causes Trouble Later In Sewing

by Mrs. Mildred Chapel

If ever there was an example of haste making waste, it's in the cutting of a garment. Unless a seamstress takes time to cut accurately, she'll have trouble later in the sewing and spend a lot more time adjusting for the careless cutting job.

As clothing specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture point out in their bulletin on "Simplified Clothing Construction," HG-59, it's much easier to sew along a smooth seam edge than a ragged, uneven one.

Also be sure the pattern is laid precisely on the straight of the goods. Otherwise, the garment will pull out of shape — often during the sewing process.

For the woman who likes to cut several garments at once from the same pattern, laying out the pattern and cutting are the most important steps. The layers of fabric must be laid perfectly straight and smooth. (It's a good idea to pin the edges together to keep the material from slipping.) And the seamstress must be sure she has all the necessary pieces. With so many single and double layers of fabric, it's easy to forget a second sleeve or collar facing.

Extra time will be needed for sections that must be laid on a lengthwise fold of material and for accurately marking the pattern perforations.

USDA's clothing specialists also suggest you don't try to cut more than six layers of a lightweight material at one time. It's too hard to pin and cut with home equipment. Even six layers will require a pair of sturdy, bent-handle shears and a strong hand.

And here's a final hint. If you plan to cut several garments at once, select a pattern with simple, straight lines. You'll find it easier to manage.

How To Buy A Basic Cookbook

What do you look for when choosing a basic cookbook — that "bible" of food-buying guides, recipes and meal planning suggestions for the new homemaker?

This list of ideas may help you choose a basic cookbook that is really basic:

Here are some questions to think about:

1. Is the author a qualified authority? Is the information unbiased or has the author promoted specific brands and products? What's the purpose of the book? Some cookbooks are written with "special diets" in mind and are not especially adaptable to normal diets for healthy people.

2. Is the cookbook well organized? Does it have a table of contents and does the index help you locate a recipe quickly? If the cookbook is arranged by menus, recipes should also be listed alphabetically by type (salads, desserts, and breads, for example) to make it easy to find recipes. When recipes are organized by menu, it is difficult to compare ingredients and recipes at a glance.

3. Are the pages made of sturdy paper to withstand daily use? Does the book open easily and lie flat? Has space been provided for writing in new ideas and recipes? The loose-leaf type of book allows the addition of new pages.

4. Is the cover durable and easy to clean?

5. Are the recipes easy to read and understand?

The basic cookbook should also contain general information helpful in food preparation. This often includes:

A list of equivalent measures for measuring techniques as well as substitutions that might have to be made, such as using cornstarch instead of flour as a thickening agent.

A description of measuring techniques to get best results when using the recipes in the book.

A list of standard equipment and utensils for a well-equipped kitchen.

A description of common ingredients that points out the differences between various types of baking powder, flour, flavoring, fat and other cooking staples.

Temperature definitions and time tables for cooking.

Buying tips.

Basic principles of cookery. Reasons for failures.

Illustrations or clear descriptions of the finished product.

Pictures that show "how to do" it.

Descriptions of various types of meal service, including ways to serve and formal and informal table settings.

Suggestions for preparing food in quantity.

The basic cookbook may also include suggestions for meal planning, calorie counts of common foods and guides for providing well-balanced meals.

Even deciding whether or not to use a recipe calls for your better judgment.

Certain things about a recipe can be pretty obvious. Its title may or may not be appealing and original. It may or may not accurately describe the food so that you know what to expect. It's in season or out. You're not likely to want a recipe for left-over turkey in the middle of July, but at the end of November such a recipe can be a real help.

You're more likely to try a recipe if the ingredients are on your pantry shelf. If they are exotic and difficult to locate, it's doubtful you will ever try the recipe.

The most helpful recipes:

List ingredients in order of use.

Call for level measurements. List ingredients in the easiest possible measurements, such as ¼ cup instead of 4 tablespoons.

List weights instead of measurements when most helpful, such as for uncooked meat. For canned products, they include measure and size of can, and for packaged products, they list the size or weight of the package.

Have practical and up-to-date directions that are easy to understand.

Are arranged in the most efficient order of work to avoid the need for extra bowls and utensils.

Specify size of pans and casseroles.

Indicate the approximate number of servings.

Include suggestions for garnishing and serving.

Include complete and convenient directions in one recipe and avoid referring you to other sections of the cookbook.

Note whether raw materials or "partly prepared" foods are used. There may be added cost in using "partly prepared" foods and there may be differences in nutritive value, acceptability of the final product and time of preparation for you to compare.

A can of soup as a binder in a casserole, for example, is quick and convenient, but may not be the same good source of calcium as the white sauce which it replaced.

Observations ON THE ARTS

by Mary A. Belyea

Though Nellie Ann Van Haften and I didn't get around to discussing her heritage when we met at her Fonda Lake home, I would venture a guess that not too far back in her ancestral background there were tulips and wooden shoes.

Add to this the fact that Nellie Ann is a former resident of Kalamazoo, Michigan and I think perhaps I can't be too far from right about this observation.

Nellie Ann is blonde, soft-spoken and most interesting to talk to. She is a comparative newcomer to the Brighton area. The Van Haften's have lived at Fonda Lake for three years.

Among her most rewarding experiences, Nellie Ann counts her selection as a violin student at Interlochen National Music Camp during her high school days. While at the famous summer camp she became interested in modern dance and ceramics and entertained the idea that she would like to be a dancer someday.

Choosing art as her major, Nellie Ann began working toward a degree in Elementary Education at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. She later transferred to the University of Western Michigan in Kalamazoo. The reason for the transfer was a matter of the heart; she wanted to be close to future husband John Van Haften.

When the Van Haften's lived in Kalamazoo, John was a member of the Horseless Carriage Club of America. They still go on the Woodland Tour out of Grand Rapids every year. Usually they drive their 1933 Studebaker in the tour.

Christian Science News

Paul's words, "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth" (Col. 3:2), will be the Golden Text at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Bible lesson on "Matter" will also include this explanatory passage from the Christian Science textbook: "You command the situation if you understand that mortal existence is a state of self-deception and not the truth of being" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 403).

50 Students Take Tests

50 students at Pinckney High School took the 1964 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Mrs. Stackable, principal, announced today.

The test was administered at Pilgrim Hall at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 10, 1964. All students who wished to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1965 took the test at that time.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the tenth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1963, 1528 Merit Scholarships were awarded; 951 were provided by the Merit Corporation. There are 4118 Merit Scholars attending 425 colleges in the current academic year.

The test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by counselors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the test.

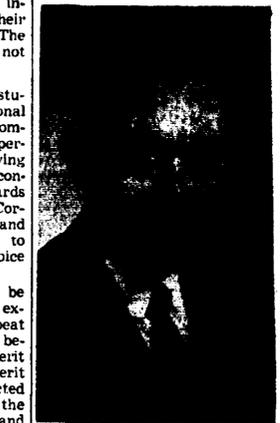

Some 14,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the colleges they express an interest in attending as their first and second choices. The order of preference is not shown.

An additional 35,000 students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corporation, and their names and test scores are also sent to their first and second choice colleges.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become Finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the Finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each Finalist is awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1,500. The average stipend awarded to freshman Merit Scholars in 1963 was $796 annually, or $3,184 for the four years of college. Each scholarship constitutes a form of educational insurance, since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of the scholarship. Supplementary grants are usually made to the colleges that the scholars attend.

Community Chest

The 1963-64 Hamburg - Putnam Community Chest Fund drive was brought to a close, officially, March 3, 1964 with total monies, either donated or pledged, amounting to $4947.64, just $152.36 short of the year's goal, according to Don Gibson, Board chairman.

These funds will be allocated to various organizations. American Red Cross will receive 10%; Boy Scouts, 10%; Girl Scouts, 5%; Muscular Dystrophy, 10%; Salvation Army, 10%; Emergency Fund, 5%; and the Community activity Fund, 20%; Michigan Heart Assoc., 5%; Rickett School, 10%; Michigan United Fund, 15%.

Other than the Board Chairman Don Gibson serving on this "drive" committee board are Manly Bennett, Hugh Radloff, and Mrs. Harold Rittcher, Jr. of Hamburg Township, and Don Swarthout, Mrs. Iola Hall, and Otto Poulson of Putnam Township.

Board Chairman Gibson reports that the local Community Activity Fund will be well over the $1,000 mark for the year when the last of the "pledges" have been turned in and accounted for. It was decided by the board members that this money be used, primarily, for children's activities and child welfare. The Board will not organize these activities, but will according to the funds available, help support them financially after they are organized. This applies to Little League Baseball and organizations similar to this. Persons wishing to secure aid from this Fund should send a written request to any member of the Board.

"I feel this year's drive was very successful," says Gibson, "and, in behalf of the Board, I would like to thank all the individual solicitors who worked so hard and those who gave pledges and donations to make the drive the success it was."

According to Gibson, four of the persons now serving on the Board have been members of the Hamburg-Putnam Community Chest Board since its inception three years ago. These four wish to not serve another year. Therefore new members must be found to replace them if the Community Chest is to continue successfully.

Pinckney's Past

FIVE YEARS AGO
March 18, 1959

Trees were being cut along the right of way of the Pettsville and McGregor Roads and they were to be widened preparatory to blacktopping. This meant the doom of the row of Osage orange trees just east of the railroad on the old Steve Teeple farm. They were set out as slips in the 1880's when hedge fences were popular. The Arthur Shehan, John Teeple, and Dan Richards homes in the Pinckney area also had them. They were supposed to be kept cut down to about four feet, but they were not and some of them got to be 20 feet high.

Percy Ellis suffered a heart attack at Stuart, Florida last week and was in a hospital there. His daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and her husband flew there Sunday.

While preparing to attend church Sunday, Mrs. Pauline Vedder fell on the ice back of her home and broke her knee in three places. She was taken to St. Joe Hospital.

No school Monday at the Pinckney Elementary School as the furnace broke down.

George Aschenbrenner had purchased Lucius Doyle's house trailer and planned to move it on his father's farm on Cedar Lake Road where he has a basement dug for a house.

James Doyle enlisted in the U.S. Marines for six months and left for Parris Island, N.C. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Darrow last week.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
March 15, 1939

Roy Reason had assumed charge of the S. H. Carr ice business.

Pinckney Chapter of OES held their Friendship Meeting and Esther Night combined on March 10. All past Esthers were honored by the local chapter by a ceremony conducted by Bonnie Henry, Hazel Chambers, and Worthy Matron Mae Daller.

Although there was but one ticket in the field in the village election Monday, considerable interest was manifested and 78 votes were cast. Elected were: President — Claude Kennedy, clerk — Nellie Gardner, treasurer — Blanche Martin, trustees — Ross Read, Stanley Dinkell, William Dilloway, assessor — Leo Lavey.

Mrs. B. B. Daller was hostess to the members of her Five Hundred Club at a one o'clock luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stackable of Detroit spent the weekend at the Ledwidge farm west of town.

Ford Lamb was in Detroit this week where he was in charge of an exhibit of the American Society of Tool Engineers at Convention Hall.

Willard Witte and family have moved from the Wirt Carpenter farm near Chilton to the James Marble farm which they recently purchased near Anderson.

Mrs. B. C. Daller, Mrs. Ford Lamb, Mrs. Harry Palmer, and Mrs. M. E. Darrow attended the one o'clock luncheon and board meeting of the Livingston County King's Daughters at Lake Chemung Tavern on Monday.

FORTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO
March 22, 1916

A very lively runaway occurred last Monday when Lee Bennett, who was driving the bus back from the 7:27 p.m. train, got off to remove a few of the surplus kids hanging on the back of the vehicle. The team started to run when he jumped off and he was unable to catch hold of the bus again. The horses ran through town, not doing any damage till they hit Main St., when they knocked down several hitching posts, a telephone pole and an electric light pole, setting the wires down across the road and smashing the window glass and tongue of the bus. The horses were only slightly injured.

John Teeple was drawn as juror from this township to serve at the April term of Circuit Court.

The "U-Auto-Stop-Inn" has a new and appropriate sign placed in front of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Swarthout attended the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blanchard of Dexter Monday. The Blanchards both died on the same day but of different ailments. Mr. Blanchard was the proprietor of the Dexter Flouring Mill.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
March 13, 1884

The village election was a quiet affair. Only 91 votes were cast out of 150 registered voters. Thompson Grimes was elected president.

Dispatch editor tells his readers, "Pinckney needs a good lumber year. Will some enterprising man seeking a location please direct his steps hither?"

The question of why 1900 was not a Leap Year, although the rule of the thumb that every fourth year is leap year, the exception is that the closing year of any century is not so designated unless the number (in this case 1900) is divisible by 400 as well as by 4. Thus the 20th, 24th, and 28th centuries will close with leap years but the intervening centuries will not.

James Hoff rented N. Coleman's farm and moved in. Mr. Coleman planned to occupy the George Reason home on Main Street until his new home was completed.

A donation party was being planned to benefit Rev. K. H. Crane to be held at the Monitor House. Ladies were to bring table cloths and "eatables" to supply the tables. All were invited.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula is a far vaster area than most people realize. Its 16,500 square miles of land area, 30 percent of the total state area, is equal to the combined areas of Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Gregory Area

There will be a farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. Robert Ramseyer and family at the Gregory Baptist Church Friday March 20 at 6:45 P.M. Church family and friends are invited to the Pot Luck Supper. Bring own table service.

Mrs. Nettie Caskey and Ferris were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Caskey and family of Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cole and family of Howell were Wednesday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Cole, to celebrate Connie's 8th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. Pearl Marshall were Sunday supper guests of Dorothy Hadley of Dexter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Van Slambrook and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prinzing visited Mrs. Effie Armstrong Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schrom and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ledgard of Milan were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ludtke and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clark and Mrs. Blanche Clark were Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Van Slambrook and family to celebrate Gary's sixth birthday.

Mrs. Pearl Marshall called on Mrs. Mary Wright Friday afternoon.

CHS Basketball Roundup

by Lee Niles
Bruce Evenson made the Wayne Oakland all league team, he's only a 6'3" sophomore at Brighton. Skip Heller and Evenson made the all Livingston County squad that was chosen this year.

This proves that the 1-17 season the Brighton Bulldogs had wasn't as bad as it looks. Pinckney hasn't won a game in 3 years of basketball — three long seasons. Howell won only a couple of games this season, their first victory of the year was a win over Brighton. The B.H.A. squad beat the Northville Mustangs in a wild hair-raising contest, this proves that Brighton must have had a fairly decent team to beat high ranking Northville. A little bad luck must have caused losses late in the season to West Bloomfield, and other schools.

Evenson lead in almost every category of the wrap up statistics for the 63-64 season. The final tabulations follow:

PHS Holds Basketball Tournament

BY JOHN TASCH

Last Thursday and Friday, Pinckney high school had their class basketball tournaments with two games each day. On Thursday it was the freshmen vs. seniors, and sophomores vs. juniors; Friday it was the juniors vs. seniors and then the juniors played the men teachers.

The seniors beat the freshman by a score of 47-30. The Freshman scored only 15 points. They had a 15 point handicap to begin with. Three seniors had 11 points for their final high school game. They were Duane Knapp, Jim Barker and Robert Darrow. The freshman's leading scorer was Loy Russom with just 6 points.

In the second game Thursday afternoon the juniors beat the sophomores 60-42. The juniors had a 10 point spot. The taller juniors were just too much for sophomores Gary Henry, Larry Baughn and Steve Randolph got 18, 12, and 16 points, respectively, for the winners. The sophomores had two boys in double figures as Paul Huhman tallied up 11 and Mike Stevenson 10 points for their side.

The first game Friday night was won by the Juniors 58-46 in an exciting and rough battle against the Seniors. A few tempers flew but everything turned out good in the end with the assistance of a couple of good referees. Henry again lead the way for the Juniors with 16 points. Larry Baughn and Miles Cone got 12 and 10 points respectively. For the Seniors Jim Barker built up a total of 20 points.

The last game was the best of them all as the faculty pulled it out in the last second 38 to 36. Together with Mr. Bradley's shooting and the rest of the teachers antics it was about the best entertainment seen at Pinckney High School all year. Bradley was leading scorer for the faculty with 24 points. For the Juniors Randolph lead with 14 points.

Bad Ice

Rotting ice on lakes and ponds and higher water levels in creeks and streams can jeopardize the safety of unsupervised curious youngsters in the spring, the Michigan State Police point out.

Parents are strongly urged to warn their children of the dangers of attempting to walk or cross lake and stream ice weakened by warming weather. Youngsters should also be cautioned against playing along rivers and creeks especially when water levels are high. State Police records indicate about 70 youngsters under 15 years of age have drowned in falls through ice or from banks, docks, or piers in Michigan in the last four years.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:
The 13th of March drew to a lucky close for those who saw the Pinckney high school juniors and men teachers engage in friendly basketball combat.

The fun was all in the spirit for the participants, and of the audience, too. The teachers freely and skillfully clowning with the students not once encountering a boisterous or disrespectful attitude.

An evening such as this is not possible unless the foundation of school relationships is firm.

Also, enough brilliant baskets were made by both students and teachers to encourage some positive thinking about the future of basketball hereabouts.

The female gender took part in the entertainment just enough to make one wish our girls had a few richer extracurricular activities. — Ah me! perhaps if the new high school includes an auditorium, apart from the gymnasium, naturally develop in the interest of the girls.

Not that girls' physical education activities are not important, but it doesn't seem likely that there ever will be a full fledged track, basketball or even baseball program for our female students.

Sincerely,
Jane Tasch

"Water skiing is my favorite past-time," says Elma.

"I came to Pinckney High from Lincoln Park high in my sophomore year," says Melody Morris. During the two years she has been in Pinckney she has taken part in various activities. She recently made an outstanding reputation for herself as an actress when she took the part of a spoiled child in the play "Our Miss Brooks", recently presented to the public by the P.H.S. speech department. It was Melody who monotonized the style show last spring for the home economic sewing class presented for the parents benefit. She worked on the yearbook and the J-Hop. Melody's future plans consist of attending Clear College for two years and then working for the Internal Revenue.

Diane Schendon is a member of the Future Nurses, Yearbook Club, and was a cheerleader. One main ambition of Diane's is to go to a business college, as yet what one has not been decided. "Horseback riding is my favorite past-time — when I have the time!" says Miss Schendon.

High above Japan's majestic Mount Fuji, units of the Japanese Air Self Defense Force maneuver to create the Olympic symbol presaging the forthcoming XVIII Olympics to be held in Tokyo this fall. Feverish preparations are now under way to insure that all facilities will be ready for the competitors and the anticipated thousands of visitors to the Games, which is being held for the first time in Asia.

— Dollars and Sense —

 Mich. Credit Union League
DEAR MR. SUTTON: My husband's take-home pay is $110 per week and we have two young children. I try to cut my household allowance by studying low-cost menus and serving economical, well-balanced meals. Nevertheless, I spent up to $35 a week in the supermarket. I know this is high because I hear my friends talking about from $25 to $30 a week for food and their in-
FLAG FORM
 Michigan's flag is familiar to only a few people in the state, but it need not be so. The state banner, like the Stars and Stripes, is designed for regular use by anyone and everyone. Rules for its proper display are very simple, either alone or with the American flag.
 History of the flag is short. It goes back 127 years to the day when Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, presented his own design to the state militia, Brady's Guards, in Detroit on George Washington's birthday.
 Mason designed the flag as a blue field with a portrait of himself on one side, the state coat-of-arms, a soldier and a lady on the other.
 This design was changed in 1865 to one with the state coat-of-arms on one side and the U.S. emblem on the other. The field of blue has been maintained to the current day.
 The third change produced the official banner in use today. This was in 1911 when Michigan's Legislature changed the design by removing the U.S. coat-of-arms. Thus the blue flag bears the state coat-of-arms designed by Territorial Governor Lewis Cass.
 come is about the same as ours. We mostly shop at the same store, too. What can I do to cut down our food costs without reducing nutrition?
OVERSPENDER: An 'ideal' food budget for income and family is $28 to $32 per week. A food budget depends on a families' likes and dislikes and is seldom 'ideal'.
 Since you are using low-cost menus, look to the following to keep those dollars from slipping away.
 1. Make a shopping list and stick to it.
 2. Clip money-saving coupons.
 3. Resist impulse-buying.
 4. Consider buying store's own brands rather than higher-priced name brands.
 5. Shop discount houses, cut-rate drug stores for non-food items.
 A shopping list of the staples you need is as must. Add your week's menu needs after consulting the ads and clipping the 'leader' coupons. Supermarket men say that these 'loss-leader' coupons are really money-saving since they are designed to get you into the store. However, if a brand name soap is selling for 10 cents off on a coupon but is still higher than the brand you usually buy, it is no bargain.
 Stage the battle of the supermarket just once a week, if possible. Impulse buying is a destroyer of budgets and the less time to be tempted by that high-priced, fancy jar of olives, the better.
 Never go to the market when you are hungry. You will find that everything looks delectable and you will throw your shopping list and your thrift to the wind!
 Local and store's own brand products do not have the burden of cost of national advertising that 'name' brands have, and are usually less expensive. Consider the quality and size of the contents by reading the small print on the label.
 Disregard claims of magic cleaning powders in higher-priced bleachers, detergents and the like.
 Cosmetics, toiletries, simple drugs, as aspirin and vitamins bought at a discount store can bring down expenses. The average woman supermarket shopper spends at the rate of $19 per hour, so intelligent, informed buying is a vital part of getting your money's worth.
