The Way We Hear It

BY: DOLLY BAUGHN

... please clip the Christmas Greeting message from the front page of this issue and put it with your other Christmas cards you received this year. This is from me, ye Editor. What? ... seems impersonal? ... seems there is no warmth or sincerity? ... Rest assured, the feeling I have for this paper ... you must really be important before I consider sending a personal message such as this to you, special, through The Pinckney Dispatch. ... the McPherson State Bank certainly looks like Christmas. ... Inside and out! Verl Varner from the bank, came dressed for it Wednesday and draped the pretty pine rope and lights along the marquee out in front. ... the pine rope continues down past the General Store. ... Bob Parks shared the cost of the rope.

... take a good look at the "Christmas Greetings" in this issue that business people in our small community felt worth while to buy, extending to all of you living here their Christmas message. ... They realize it is to those that live here year 'round they owe their success. ... Read them carefully to learn what business people appreciate your business. ... and continue to patronize them throughout the coming year.

... it has been confirmed that the building that burned in Hell, Michigan, was going to be used as a church. ... some thought a rumor got started that such place materialized, after the fire. ... just as a joke. Of course, it's only logical that such a place in Hell wouldn't go over too big. ... or last too long.

... Bert Wylie and Grant Ward had luck fox hunting the other day. ... Grant got two and Bert got one.

... Bert Wylie thought Pinckney residents would be interested to hear that Orla Hinchey, a former Pinckney man, died at his Florida home last May. Bert just received word of his death.

... a group of high school students known as the CARE Club visited patients at the Howell State Hospital last Friday. Mrs. Raymond Morris, high school teacher, is sponsor of the group.

... The Club put forth great effort this year and made sure they had a gift for each of the 60 women patients at the hospital. They also entertained them with dramatic skits, music and candy treats. ... Another teacher and driver of the bus taking the group to Howell, Mr. Jack Quigley played Santa for the patients. ... This is a tremendous thing these people do for those less fortunate ones at the hospital.

... the Jaycees have been quite successful with their doll and stuffed animal sales. ... They do make nice $1 gifts. ... If you would still like to buy one call Jaycee members Dick Darrow or Tom Wylie.

... Bev Umstead assisted serving at the annual Christmas party for employees of the McPherson Health Center held Saturday afternoon at the Howell Armory. Bev's uncle from Detroit has charge of the affair each year. ... there have been quite a few Christmas "Carolers" out this year. A group from the People's Church known as Teens in Training, serenaded several residents Sunday night.

... Saturday night a group from the Congregational Church were out singing Christmas carols. This is a nice gesture on these people's part. ... those that take time to carol for shut-ins around the village. "We hear" people do appreciate those who come to sing outside their window, too.

... a proud papa, Rev. Gerald Bender, reports wife, Daisy, and new baby daughter are doing "great" at St. Joseph Hospital. The baby arrived at 4:32 a.m. Monday, December 21. Four year old Mark is plenty anxious for Mother and sister to get home now. ... so he can see, too. Congratulations to you all. ... and what a nice Christmas present!

... Roger Asa Bonner, Bill Riggs, Gary Szalwinski, Mr. and Mrs. (Barb and Duane) Hajnes are a few people "home" for the holidays.

... all Pinckney schools were dismissed last Friday afternoon after a burned out motor at the Pinckney Elementary school resulted in there being no water in the building. Janitor, Mr. Smith, recently put on split shift, was not on hand. ... and before the smoke was noticed. ... the motor was too far gone. The remaining four schools were dismissed in order to make the usual bus routes possible. The motor was repaired by Monday and classes resumed.

... Verl and Roberta, the two bank employees were plenty brave pushing that alarm system right in front of the "robber" last Friday. ... That button should be on the floor where a person at the other side of the window could not see them push it. ... Or as a gentleman from Portage Lake area suggested. ... have a trap door in front of each teller's window. ... so the teller could push a button and boom! ... the stick-up-man lands in the basement.

... Leonard Lee drove the tanker and Chuck Hewlett drove the big fire truck when Pinckney firemen were summoned to a home on Rushview Drive, Rush Lake. A leak in an oil line going to a space heater caught fire. ... the damage was slight compared to what it might have been had the firemen delayed action!

... you should drive down past the Pinckney Creek on Patterson Lake Road and see the big pond being developed! Mr. W. C. Haines who owns the Don-Carol Subdivision behind Mrs. Mary Read's home, is doing it. The pond is 300 x 500 feet. ... and the creek has been straightened out along that area.

... the home of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, 338 Webster Street, is prettily decorated for the Christmas season. ... The characters in the manger scene were hand painted by Tom and Rita Howe. ... and they light up! (the characters ... not Tom and Rita.)

... George Roth's home is pretty. ... as is Ralph Hall's. ... and homes on Patterson Lake Road. ... Frank Zezuka's, Mary Read's. ... and many, many others within a short distance of Pinckney. Spend time during the holiday driving around the community. ... Let me hear of the ones I missed seeing.

... it is unbelievable how many inches Portage Lake has risen the last two weeks since the snows have melted. It is over the breakwaters and onto some lawns at various places.

... girls who have joined 4-H knitting classes outnumber those taking sewing lessons.

... the 4-H sewing groups who staged the bake sale a week ago last Saturday made enough to pay their annual insurance premium on the sewing machines. ... This is an annual thing for all the groups to combine their efforts and raise funds for this requirement.

... Pete Singer and Don Baughn are two Pinckney boys who will spend Christmas overseas in the armed forces. Pete is the son of the Rollie Singers, and Mary and Win Baughn are Don's parents.

... the Pinckney Jaycees will hold their first dinner-meeting January 5 at a place yet to be announced. ... Until this time they have held their meetings at homes of various members. ... Watch next week for the time and place chosen for meeting place.

... three new members were welcomed by the Jaycees last week. They are Bob Ward, Cem Charboneau, and Milt Charboneau. ... Milt is an associate member. ... due to his age. ... A person must be between ages of 21 and 35. ... "But one can still be associated with the group if they are interested in bettering the Community," says Jaycee president Herb Schenden.

... have you noticed the ice skating rink that Chuck Hewlett and George Roth have started to build on the Village square again this year? ... It was so afraid no one would do that for the children this year. ... Larry Utley is home for Christmas. He will purchase a car and drive back to camp, Rhode Island, December 27.

... while trying to chase Ye Editor down last Friday afternoon to sell her a Christmas tree, Jim Marhofer happened to get too close to the bank and lost his pants! It seems the coveralls Jim had on were identical to those worn by the alleged bank robber, and FBI agents asked if they could borrow them for identification purposes. ... Jim obliged them.

... Someone lost a tire while driving by Harry Murphy's home a while back. Whoever it was didn't stick around to talk about the damage it did to Harry's aluminum siding. But he did manage to sneak back to recover his tire at a later date.

GREETINGS

Here's wishing you an old-fashioned Christmas, filled with all the joys of fellowship and good cheer, and a holiday season brightened by many merry moments for your entire family.

Awarded $100 Bond For Completing Banking Course

VERL VARNER

Verl Varner, manager of the Pinckney McPherson State Bank, received a $100 Government bond from bank officials for being the first under their employment to earn a certificate from the American Institute of Banking in Lansing. Verl earned the certificate attending evening classes to complete eight various required subjects at the Institute.

An employee of the bank for six years, Verl has worked in Pinckney several times replacing employees on vacation or sick leave, etc. Now he anticipates being here indefinitely. He lives in Howell, is married, and has four children.

Apprehend Man In Bank Holdup

FBI agents are still holding a young Canadian at the Wayne County jail in connection with the alleged robbery attempt at the McPherson Bank in Pinckney last Friday forenoon. The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified the man as Vernor Michael Dutkovich, 22, of Yellow Knife, a Northwest Territory town in Canada.

An alarm system that rings directly into the Livingston County Sheriff's office in Howell was set simultaneously off by bank manager Verl Varner and teller Mrs. Roberta Essenberg, after an unfamiliar man entered the bank. Mrs. Essenberg explained how the man approached the window that she was at and asked if the bank manager was in the bank. She told him "yes, at the next window." The man unzipped his coveralls, reached inside, as if for a gun, and stepped to Mr. Varner's window.

At this point the two employees pushed the alarm. The man told them "I was just testing you," turned and fled through the door. Mr. Varner ran after him in time to see him pull out from behind Van's Motor Sales in a red sports car.

Sheriff's officers were at the bank within ten minutes after the alarm. FBI agents stopped Dutkovich about 1:30 p.m. on I-94 Expressway in Detroit.

The two bank employees and another Pinckney man Marvin Liverance, who noticed the speeding car run the stop street at Dexter Road and M-36 were taken to Wayne and identified this man as being the one in the bank earlier that day.

The U. S. district attorney authorized a bank robbery charge against Dutkovich and he is being held for federal authorities. The FBI said Dutkovich was understood to be "visiting" in the United States.

Pinckney Woman, Longtime Resident Buried December 18

Mrs. Cecia Curtiss Chamberlain, 82, of 120 Livingston Street, died Tuesday, December 15, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after an extended illness.

She was born July 21, 1882, in Howell, the daughter of Charles P. and Sarah I. Chamberlain Curtiss.

On April 7, 1912, she was married to Charles S. Chamberlain in Howell. In 1939 they moved from Dexter Township to the Pinckney area where she lived until her death.

Mrs. Chamberlain spent her life time raising her family and pursuing five main interests of her life, that of heraldry, genealogy, flowers, genealogy, and theology. She has compiled many records pertaining to these five subjects.

A book written by Mrs. Chamberlain and published in 1962 was titled "Genealogies of Chamberlain Curtiss and Allied Families." This book covered 59 years of enjoyable research involving extensive traveling over the country to visit to unfold. She had traced her "family tree" back to the year 1668, and discovered three proven ancestors had come to America on the Mayflower.

A recent project of Mrs. Chamberlain was compiling many historical facts concerning Pinckney and the people that have lived to make a part of this small community.

Surviving Mrs. Chamberlain are one daughter, Miss Joyce Chamberlain of Palm Beach, Florida; two sons, Curtiss, also of Palm Beach, and the Rev. Welton Chamberlain of Pinckney. Four grandchildren also survive. Mr. Chamberlain and a daughter, Viola, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Chamberlain was a member of the Mayflower Society of Vermont and was active in the Historical Society of Washtenaw County.

Funeral services were held Friday from the Swarthout Funeral Home with Rev. Thomas Murphy of the People's Church officiating. Burial took place in the Forest Lawn Cemetery at Dexter.

TOPS Members "Snitch" at Christmas Party

A little "snitching" took place last Thursday night when sixteen members of the TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club indulged in eating ice cream and cookies at their Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Marion Bechler. They felt the occasion being during the Christmas holidays they deserved such a treat rather than the usual "green leaf salads" that the served at club meetings.

This was also the end of a four week contest, and names of the winners were announced. Mrs. Eva Enquist, a KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) earned 125 points for which she won a lovely hassock. She neither gained, nor lost a pound during the contest.

Mrs. Marion Bechler and Mrs. Evelyn Moffat tied for second place each having 100 points. Mrs. Bechler won a snack set, and Mrs. Moffat a table lamp.

The guests exchanged Christmas gifts, played a few games of bingo, and departed agreeing they had a very nice time.

The next big affair for the TOP Club will be their first year anniversary celebration in January.

Highlights of Sam Gentile's 1964 African Safari

On Friday, November 13, following a three month session of securing passports, visas, having photos taken, having required immunizations, buying cameras, films, etc., Sam Gentile of Pinckney and Ray Hetch of Dexter were off on their long dreamed of "African Safari."

Boarding a plane at Metropolitan airport, a short stop over in New York, Sam and Ray continued on to Paris, France, then to Rome, Italy, then Athens, Greece, stopping at each city for just one quick day of sight-seeing.

An all night flight took them into Nairobi, Africa, where they changed flights. Then one hour more flight time took them to their destination, Dar es Salaam, the capital city of Tanganyika, Southeast Africa. Here temperatures remained day and night at the 85 to 100 degree mark.

An unexpected delay in plans happened when Sam had to have his gun, a 300 Wetherbee, approved by government officials in order to take it the remainder of the trip with him. This took a full day.

November 16, the Safari, consisting of Sam and Ray, two other American hunters, two white guides, and 22 natives, left Dar es Salaam for the wilds of a 16,000 square mile Selous (Seloo) reservation. Expenses included having the Safari party and equipment transported to the reserve in a 206 Skywagon. The reserve had been opened in June, 1964, for the first time in 50 years.

The reserve was a combination of flat and mountainous land. During World War II Germans occupied this territory. A very large cannon stood on a mountain up so high it was unbelievable that they managed to get it situated there. The story told by Africans was that the Germans were killed by African natives before they had a chance to use it after taking it up there.

The Camp

"We lived comfortably in tents. Land rovers similar to American Jeeps were used for traveling due to the distance that we covered each day."

The 22 natives that accompanied the hunters spoke Swahili. The two guides spoke English. The natives were very friendly, very religious, and very happy people. They came from various African tribes. Seventy five cents to one dollar was the average working wage earned by these natives.

"When our camp broke up, we paid them extra money for their services," Sam tells. "We felt they deserved it after doing such favors as washing our clothes and ironing them each day, cleaning our tents, lighting our lamps, polishing our boots, making sure we had plenty of ice on hand, and even as much as turning down our beds at night." Meals were very satisfactory.

Usually the meat served was what had been shot during the day's hunt. Thanksgiving Day the hunters ate sable. "There isn't any Plymouth Rocks over there," Sam claims.

At least two vegetables, fruit and canned cream were served for the main evening meal.

"I had ice cream once in Africa that I bought at a sugar refinery store (a tent) near the reserve. I drank lots of pepsi-cola and fruit juice, too. In fact, $45.00 worth in a month's time."

Communication

"The camp had a radio receiver that kept us posted on the riots in the nearby Congo, Nairobi, and Dar es Salaam. Things became pretty 'hot' and we were warned, if it didn't 'cool down' we would have to remain in the jungles until it did."

A letter takes two months by regular mail to go from Michigan to Africa where the party camped, and nine days by airmail. For this reason the American hunters sent their families radio cablegrams.

Hunting Experiences

Each day's hunt lasted from 6 a.m. until dark, depending on the hunter's luck. The natives referred to as "trackers" were extraordinarily talented. They could hear and track animals when the hunters could see or hear nothing at all. They would track a single elephant in a big herd by the width of his toes. Sometimes finding just a leaf or a twig they could tell how long before an elephant had passed that way. If it was a leaf, they would crumble it, and tell by how dry it was how long before an elephant had stepped on it.

"A herd of elephants 'treed' us one day," Sam recalls. "Another time a herd went by us, some as much as 11 feet in height, knocking down trees with good sized trunks. Such stampedes were very exciting to say the least."

The camp enjoyed having "Pete," a professional crocodile hunter, of some 30 years, and his wife, join them for a night. "Pete" told how he and his wife had raised nine children living in this territory. He was paid by the government with the exception of what money he earned selling crocodile skins in the nearby villages. He told the most common things found in the stomach of a crocodile were bells the women of Mosia tribe wore at their ankles.

Pete warned the hunters to stay clear of the waters. He claimed if a crocodile was after a person who camped near the waters, he would lay for days with just his eyes and the end of his nose out of the water, and watch his prey. After learning the hunter's habits, he would then attack. He claimed to have seen a crocodile bite a large bush back into two pieces with one bite.

The government does not protect hippopotamus or baboons as they do the rhinoceros.

Canoes made from hollowed logs that required ten to 16 men to lift, have been known to be split in two pieces by a hippo.

"The baboons steal corn planted by the villagers and kill domestic dogs. They carry corn, corded in one arm, as we might carry a load of wood." They are smart enough to stay out of reach of the villagers' guns. Therefore, when Sam dropped one with his powerful 300 Wetherbee, the natives all ran to thank him.

"A lion charged the land rover we were riding in one day. Their roar is very loud."

"A rhino charged us another time and the driver was forced to stay out of its way, due to it being against the law to shoot them. They are very strong and have been known to charge a land rover and kill the driver."

During the 21 day hunt, Sam killed a Hartbeeste, water buck, reed buk, hyena, wildebeeste, cape buffalo, impala, zebra, a sable, hippopotamus, and a wart hog.

"Among my souvenirs" are such items as native spears and shields, ebony wood carvings, jewelry carved from ivory tusks of elephants. These came directly from the natives who spend most of their time carving. They live in grass huts with dirt floors, no furniture, sleep on the ground, but yet they appear to be healthy, happy people.

"Expecting to have a day that night in Nairobi, en route home, we planned to buy many more souvenirs. However, because of the Congo Crisis we were corralled to one corner of the airport. Our flight was moved up to only a half hour wait rather than the expected 24. We were not even allowed to enter the shops in the terminal."

"The entire trip was one unforgettable experience and one I would like to return," says Sam. He claims two months was an ideal time to spend on an African Safari.

Saturday about 60 students, Mrs. Morris, and Santa Claus (Mr. Quigley) went by bus to the State Hospital in Howell.

There they presented a special Christmas program, and distributed gifts among the patients. This group, along with Mrs. Morris, I think, can certainly be extra proud of themselves for their helpful work.

Library News

New books this week include: Wolfe, "Look Homeward, Angel" — for which we have had many requests. This is a story of youth in all its yearning and variety, the story of the Grants and Pentlands of North Carolina. First published in 1929, this book is on the required reading list for high schools and colleges.

Gallico, "The Silent Meadow" — a manual for kittens, strays and homeless cats, translated from the French of Suzanne Szasz. Everyone who can read will enjoy it — and its delightful illustrations.

Eiden, "Lady of Mallow" — a top notch suspense story of Victorian England and an imposter who takes possession of Mallow Hall.

Haywood, "B is for Betsy" — is a delightful true to life story of a little girl who enters the first grade in a large city school and grows to love it. Very easy reading.

Dalglish, "The Columbus Story" — a true, very easily read account of Christopher Columbus' voyage to America, 1492.

The Pinckney Community Library wishes its many patrons a very happy Christmas!

Mrs. John Lundin gave books to the library and Mrs. Horace Hanson gave magazines.

Michigan State University scientists have used the principle that apples float and bob up and down in water to develop a new apple sizing and sorting system called "Hydro-Handling." The system offers a practical and highly mechanized means for removing low quality cull apples before they are stored.

PARADOXICAL PRAIRIE CHICKENS

Attwater prairie chickens are posing a real problem for the U. S. Air Force, the National Wildlife Federation reports. A flock of these birds, considered one of the country's most endangered wild-life species, inhabits Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas. Some of the birds fly up and over a jet runway when the planes take off, thereby endangering valuable equipment and human life. Air Force officials are presently trying to solve the problem without endangering the endangered species.

Norman Marker of Lansing was a guest of Mrs. Gladys Lee on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15. Norman was in Ann Arbor for a week taking courses at the U. of M.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Waterbury of E. M-36 attended the Bendix System Corp. dance held in Plymouth at Lofy's on Saturday evening, Dec. 12. Mrs. Waterbury was at a dinner held in the Canopy by the Business and Professional Women's Sorority of Ann Arbor.

Miss Sue McMillan of Rush Lake, a student at Rosary High in Detroit, will be touring that city with a choral group for two weeks with the tour ending on Dec. 28 with a performance at Cobo Hall.

Steven William Mayville, the new son of the Ernest (Butch) Mayvilles of Ore Lake, was born at St. Joseph's on Sunday, Dec. 6, weighing in at 8 lbs. 9 oz. The Mayvilles have another son, two-year-old Paul.

Sunday, Dec. 20, was Mrs. Helen DeWolf's birthday. The 21st was Vicky Jo Terry's eighth birthday.

Sunday, the 20th of December, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson of Brighton entertained at a pre-holiday Christmas dinner. Jerry and Marty DeWolf and children, Shirley and Pam; Jack and Joyce

"I'm dreaming of a White Christmas" — not a white sidewalk, a slippery road, a — But, with the good and the beautiful, just come the disagreeable fact — be a Polyanna and sing out happily anyway!

The elementary students from Pinckney were given a day unexpected off Friday — the heating plant broke down early Thursday and wasn't repaired before the weekend. We saw the kids streaking out to Chilson Pond for Terry and their two children, Vicky Jo and Mark, and Jerry and Jo Ann Nowak. This was also a surprise birthday party for Vicky Jo Terry.

Sunday, Dec. 13, the James DeWolfs of M-36 were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Odell Wiseman and children, Marie, Diana, Bryan and Terry. The Wisemans are from Battle Creek.

Last Sunday the Knipple family of Cordley Lake had as guests for an early Christmas dinner, my sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hill and Mary Kaye of Oxford, and my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shumaker of Lincoln Park. An incident that marred the festivities for Sunday was an accident that occurred on Saturday afternoon on Kress Road. My father, with my youngest son Kris as passenger, had to swerve off the road, dodge a big tree and end up hitting a stump, smashing the front of his car to keep from being hit head-on by a station wagon that came around a curve on the wrong side of the road at high speed. The other car never bothered to stop. My parents were to leave on Wednesday, the 23rd, for a two weeks' vacation in the upper peninsula so they could spend Christmas with my brother.

The Hamburg Browne Troop No. 34 had their Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 22, at the Hamburg school. They began their party by going to a nearby rest home and singing Christmas carols for the elderly patients and distributing a box of goodies, consisting of fruit cake, cookies and candy. They continued their party at the school with a gift exchange and the girls took home the presents they had made for their mothers and fathers for Christmas.

Anniversary congratulations to the Willard Abends on the 28th of December.

"Merry Christmas to All!"

some skating. They didn't stay long — either the ice was too thin or they couldn't stand the cold, raw wind. By Sunday afternoon, it was perfect for the sport — after shoveling off the three inches of new fallen snow. Should be fine for the holidays.

There was a pot luck dinner and Christmas party for the State employees Saturday night. Old friends got together and the children were given surprise gifts. Mrs. Frank Czerwinski and Mrs. Ronald Banaszak were the hostesses this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Matteson and family went to Saginaw Sunday to have dinner and the first phase of Christmas with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Matteson.

Congratulations to Stella and Reid Spier. They were blessed with a 7 lb. 11 oz. daughter on Dec. 14. They named her Tracey Lynn. Mrs. Marge Ramm, the happy grandmother, had another Christmas present — her son, Joseph of the Marines, came home for the holidays. He will be here until the 28th.

Twenty 4-H Club girls had their Christmas party at the home of Mary Schroeder on Wednesday. The bus ride from the elementary school was quite exciting to some of them — it winds all over the countryside taking the scenic route to Bishop Lake Road. It was also Mary's 12th birthday Saturday, the 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Stecker Friday night.

Mrs. Esther Carpenter, who was down with the flu for some time, is feeling just fine now.

Michael Kern, a student at the University of Michigan, spent the weekend with his uncle, Roy Kern. The fresh air, skating and snow shoveling should have cleared any "cobwebs" and made the crucial final exams on Monday seem like child's play.

The area residents who attended the annual Pinckney Christmas concert were well pleased with the program. Both the elementary and high school students were wonderful! Charlotte Cooanawer and Mary Schroeder are members of the band and James Rose sang in the chorus.

We around Bishop Lake wish all our readers a very Merry Christmas and a New Year filled with happiness.

Nearly one-fourth to one-third of the agricultural land in Michigan has already been drained, says Carl W. Hall, Michigan State University department of agricultural engineering. But he estimates that considerable more drainage will be needed in the future to make adaptable to farming.

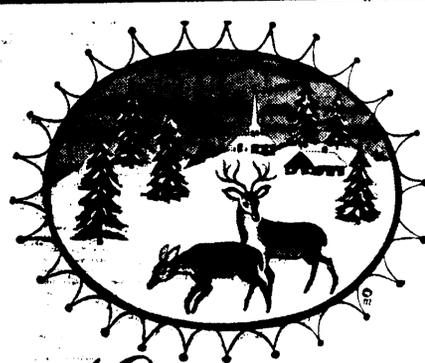

Joy and Peace

May your Christmas be blessed with the joy and peace of that Day, when the angels sang the glory of God whose Son lay sleeping in a manger.

IN THE WAKE OF A SONG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH
Carols in the night... the old story made over new again... the love for the Christ Child poignant, deep... the nostalgia of past Christmases remembered.
In the wake of a song, "Silent Night, Holy Night," all this comes to mind. And we endow Christmas with the trappings of holly and mistletoe, the flash of bright red ribbons, the glitter of the tinsel on the tree.
Yet, south of the Equator, Christmas comes in mid-summer. There is no holly, no mistletoe, and there's not apt to be a tree. But it is Christmas just the same.
This is not merely a season, this time of the birth of Christ. It is much, much more. To understand it fully... to see it in its entirety... turn to the Church.

'Minor' Defects Have Major Effect, Declares March of Dimes Doctor

Big ears and misshapen noses have long been treated as amusing targets of low comedy. Often the people behind the defective features join in the laughter more heartily than anyone else.

Now doctors wonder if it's such a laughing matter. "Doctors are beginning to suspect that many so-called minor defects may be crippling to emotional and mental development as a gross deformity is to physical growth," says Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the division of congenital malformations of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

"In the 50 March of Dimes birth defects centers that have been opened across the nation in the last several years, we have seen an increasing number of these problems."

As an example, Dr. Apgar described a little Nebraska girl born with an ugly mass of hair extending from right shoulder to forearm. The rare defect—actually a huge birthmark—didn't prevent normal use of the arm. But it was so disgusting that it aroused other children's taunts. By the age of four, the pretty child had withdrawn into a shell, worrying her parents and inciting her six-year-old brother to fight youngsters who poked fun at his "hairy" sister.

According to the child's parents, no one gave them any hope of improving their daughter's appearance until they took her to the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha. Plastic surgeons removed the hairy surface and replaced it with skin grafts. Physicians believe that by the time the girl reaches high school, she'll scarcely remember which arm showed the upsetting quirk of nature.

In the vanguard of medical researchers studying deformity and accompanying psychological problems is a group at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Dr. Milton Edgerton, professor of plastic surgery there, says studies show that children with deformities, even minor ones, often feel "apart from the human race" early in life. He advocates correction of the deformity at an early age, where possible.

"We all know children or adults who have somehow learned outwardly to adapt to defects. We tend to think that there is no problem and to disregard the tremendous human aching to be like everyone else, at least to the degree of not feeling deformed," Dr. Edgerton says.

Dr. Eugene Meyer, associate professor of psychiatry and medicine at Johns Hopkins, is convinced that in 99 cases out of 100, a sense of deformity, however minor, stunts and cripples not only a child's self-esteem but his relationships with others.

The Baltimore group is concerned with prevailing attitudes of disdain and amusement toward what is popularly known as "cosmetic surgery." Jokes and six references to "nose jobs" and other cosmetic surgery indicate an underlying feeling that such procedures are prompted by vanity.

In psychiatric terms, Dr. Meyer traces prejudiced attitudes to the Puritan idea that "the Lord made you this way and you shouldn't tamper with it."

"We've seen changes which are hard to believe in terms of people being freed from a sense of deformity for much greater interest in the various tasks of life," Dr. Meyer asserts. "The surgery doesn't put good spirit or productivity into a person, but it does remove blocks to its expression."

McPherson Bank Christmas Party

The McPherson State Bank held its annual staff Christmas party at the Chemung Hills Country Club on the evening of Dec. 18. Sixty members and guests attended and enjoyed a reception, dinner, brief program, caroling and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. McPherson attended as representatives of the board of directors and stockholders, John C. McPherson of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. John A. McPherson of Birmingham, were also present.

William McPherson IV, vice president, acted as master of ceremonies during the after dinner program and recognized the years of service to the bank and its customers given by the following staff members:

- Over 5 years: Otto Struble, Helen Arnold, Elizabeth Reimann, Marie Stanfield, Francis Huntington, Robert Essenberg, George Wright, Evelyn Montgomery, Verl Varner, Ruth Boshall, and Harry Haseman.
- Over 10 years: Noble Kypke, Agnes Freudenburg, Albert Freudenburg, Jack Jeffreys and Robert Chapel.
- Over 15 years: Marion Rounsifer, Lloyd Euler and Edward McPherson.
- Over 20 years: Bernadette Hubbell.
- 30 Years: William McPherson IV.
- 39 Years: Ralph Larsen.
- 51 Years: William McPherson III.
- 61 Years: May Switzer.

Mr. McPherson observed that over two thirds of the bank's staff have been with the bank over five years and one third for a period of ten years or longer, which is quite a remarkable record of tenure for any business. He also attributed the bank's growth and success in great part to the abilities and dedication of the staff.

Assistant Cashier and Pinckney Branch Manager, Verl Varner, was presented with a $100 U.S. Savings Bond in recognition of his completion of the work for a Pre-standard Certificate of the American Institute of Bank.

Mr. Varner's progress toward this award began in 1957 and in achieving it he finished courses in Economics, Negotiable Instruments, Principles of Bank Operations, Accounting I, Analyzing Financial Statements, Commercial Law, Installment Credit and Effective English. He is the first staff member from McPherson State Bank to earn an A.I.B. Certificate.

William McPherson IV, who awarded the bond, took notice of the hundreds of hours of his own time when Mr. Varner had spent on this work and offered the bank's congratulations and thanks for his achievement.

Recognition was also given to George Dunn who completed courses in Negotiable Instruments and Commercial Law during the 1963-64 year and to Vicky Gillow, Helen Arnold, Beverly Miller, Lynda Palmer, Mac Smith and Ed McPherson, who also took Commercial Law. Jack Jeffrey's graduation from the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin was also noted.

In closing the program, Mr. McPherson brought attention to the upcoming Centennial year of the McPherson State Bank and offered the management's warm wishes for a most joyous Holiday Season to the whole bank family.

Sixth Grade News

We are making Reading sheets for our class. The boys in our room played against the seventh grade room in football. When the game was over the score was 0 to 0.

We had Parents' Day December 16 in our room. It was very successful. Some brought small preschoolers. We entertained them with a talent show.

We have enjoyed listening to the rehearsals of the Christmas program given by the Student Council. The day the play will be presented over the loud speaker is the last day of school for this year. We will also have a Christmas party that day, Tuesday, December 22.

In arithmetic we are starting to study 1000ths in decimals. Most of us find it very easy.

We have a new boy in our room and his name is Steve LaBelle.

Archers Select New Officers

The newly elected officers for the archery section of the Livingston County Sportsman & Conservation Association are pictured above. They are Ray McDowell, board of directors; Audrey Murray, secretary; Harold Simmons, president and range captain; Earl Foerster, treasurer; and Hugh McConnell, board of directors.

The Livingston County Sportsman and Conservation Association is a member of the Central Michigan Archery Association. The Michigan Archery Association, and the National Field Archery Association. The club property is located on McClements Road and features 28 field targets all located in a 30-acre wooded area, a large safe practice range, a modern club house, outdoor cooking facilities with picnic tables, and plenty of room for parking. Indoor shooting is being enjoyed in the Pontiac area this winter, and anyone interested in archery is invited to contact one of the officers for further information.

Writes Opinion

The following is a letter, written by Don Gibson, and then sent to those listed:

The President of the United States Lyndon Johnson; Senators Hart and McNamara; Congressmen Meader and Chamberlain;

The Governor of Mississippi:

Another chapter in the story of man's inhumanity to man has been written. This chapter was not written in a German concentration camp or a Russian prison farm in Siberia. Nor, was it written in the Congo or Castro's Cuba. This chapter of inhumanity was written in the land of the free and home of the brave just outside of Philadelphia, Mississippi.

An American citizen was beaten to death by chains because he dared to suggest to the negroes of this part of America that Thomas Jefferson's immortal words, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," were something more than a page in a history book. Two other American citizens were then shot by the mob for the same reason. Last Saturday's Detroit Free Press details the cooperation of the local law enforcement officers with the mob.

The time has come for all men of good will to rise and shout as if with one voice, "They were my brothers." You and I can no more excuse ourselves from our responsibilities as United States citizens than can the people of Philadelphia, Mississippi.

To the Philadelphia businessman who said, "You can't condemn the whole community for what a couple of people do," I say, the Germans tried the same rationalization after World War II and as the Germans have suffered you and I will suffer too unless this horrible crime is branded with the stamp of justice. You along with the other citizens of Philadelphia helped maintain these public officials in office. You and the other citizens of Philadelphia allowed this atmosphere which lent moral support to such acts of violence to grow and develop. No, each of us. You and I and every other citizen who believes in government of the people, by the people, and for the people must accept some of the responsibility for this crime against mankind.

If you of Mississippi cannot assume your responsibility I must play my small part by appealing to the President, the Congress, and the Justice Department to do all in their power to bring those responsible before the bar of justice.

Landscaping Series To Be Offered

The Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring a landscape series for individuals who are interested in beautifying their home grounds. The first meeting will be on Feb. 18 in the Conference Room of the Courthouse Annex. The series will terminate on March 18th.

Included in the discussion will be such topics as: Planning Design — How to Get the Most Out of the Materials You Use, Soils and Lawns, Landscape Materials, Selection, Feeding, Care and Pruning of Trees and Re-designing Your Lawn. Joe Cox, Associate Professor in Urban Planning at MSU, and Vic Horvath, District Forester, will be participating in the series.

The final meeting on March 18th will be a question and answer type of presentation. Participants in the course may bring a slide showing their home grounds to be designed or re-designed. Mr. Cox will project the slide onto a screen and discuss the possible design for this particular home.

Anyone who is interested in this particular phase of the series will want to plan now to take their pictures to have them ready for the discussion. Since the number that can be accommodated is limited, we are asking that you enroll for the series. There will be no charge for enrollment, which can be made in the office of the Livingston County Cooperative Extension Service.

Resort Land Applications

Application of Resort Development Trust by D. J. McAuliffe, Jackson, Michigan to exchange 12.42 acres in the Pinckney Recreation Area for 11.5 acres of undedicated Water Frontage in Section 22, Leoni Township, Jackson County was approved by the Conservation Commission meeting in Lansing.

The exchange will provide land on Half Moon Lake desired by both the Fish and the Parks and Recreation Sections for development of a new public access site within the Pinckney Recreation Area.

The exchanged land on Brill's Lake, is isolated by the I-94 expressway on the South and private lands on the West, North and East, said land being under purchase options held by the applicant. This land is desired to insure the private lake characteristics of Brill's Lake by the applicant whose development plans call for a Commercial Resort Lodge with an ultimate investment in excess of $2,000,000.

PINCKNEY PIRATES ROUND-UP

The Pinckney Pirates dropped another game Tuesday! However they did give their coaches quite a thrill when they put on a scoring surge in the forward period that almost pulled out a victory. They couldn't quite catch up to the Whitmore Lake Trojans but sure gave it the old college try in a 56-48 defeat. Miles Cone lead the comeback and it seemed as though he couldn't miss in the fourth quarter.

The Pirates made 18 of 62 field goal attempts for 29 per cent, compared to the Trojans 21 field goals. Cone led the scoring for the losers with seven field goals and three out of four free throws for a total of 17 points. Gary Henry and Steve Randolph also hit double figures with 15 and 11 points respectively.

J. Winter was leading scorer for Whitmore Lake, netting 18 points. B. DeFillippo and S. Caskey also hit double figures for the winners as they each garnered 12 points.

Whitmore outbounded Pinckney 44-29. Larry Baughn pulled down 11 of these to lead the Pirates in the category.

The loss was the 41st consecutive for the Pirates.

The Pinckney Junior Varsity team, also looking for a victory, was defeated by the Trojans J.V. team 52-32. The Younger Pirates team didn't do as well on the Whitmore court as on their home floor. Jim Douglas was leading scorer for the Pinckney J.V.'s with nine points.

Totals 18 12-20 48

At the beginning of the Pinckney Pirates' second game of the week it looked as if the encounter with undefeated Williamston was going to be a toss-up. In the first few minutes the Pirates looked like they might be the better of the two teams. They hit on five of their first seven field goal attempts and were ahead during most of the first few minutes of play. It wasn't long, however, before Williamston's Hornets settled down themselves and cooled off the Pirates and showed why they have the record they do. The final score was 76-45.

Three technical fouls during the game added to the entertainment of the Williamston and Pinckney fans.

The Pirates hit on 15 of 62 field goals for 27%. Ken Gary led the Pirates in this division, netting 13 points. For the Hornets' Milo Gaffner got nine of their 28 field goals and three free throws to lead the winners. Nelson Gilroy also hit double figures, garnering 14 points.

The Pirates got a total of 44 rebounds. Miles Cone pulled down 14 of these for the Pirates' cause.

Once again the Pinckney J.V.'s showed that they had a little extra on their home court. Although they were defeated, it was still a game for Pirate fans to remember. Throughout most of the game the Little Pirates trailed by just enough to keep them in the game. Then in the fourth quarter they really came to life and the Williamston J.V.'s had all they could do to keep the Pirate team from catching up. The final score was 50-48 in the neck and neck battle.

Loy Russom and Tom Mitchell each netted 11 points, the most for the home team J.V.'s.

Students Upset 'One Man, One Vote'

Under the U.S. Census Bureau's ruling that the thousands of non-voters (under age) that happen to be in a college dormitory during the month the census is taken, are legal residents of that college town, makes a mockery of the "one man one vote" apportionment.

Bob Smith, Farm Bureau's associate legislative counsel explains it better in his own way.

What does "One Man One Vote" and apportionment have to do with Michigan State University? Let's look at it for a moment. 31,459 students have enrolled on the main M.S.U. campus, another record. The main campus student population is three times that of the city of Cadillac, over twice that of either Alpena or Escanaba, five times that of either Ionia, Lapeer, Marshall or Petoskey.

Most students do not consider a college dormitory room as their legal residence. Most of them are under 21 years of age and consider their parents' home as their legal residence.

Prior to 1940 the United States Census Bureau also considered this to be the case and counted them as part of the population in their home counties. However, in the 1950 and 1960 census, students on campus on the census date (April) were counted as part of the population of that area, which for census purposes was practical BUT the change in census methods became most important when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population as nearly as "practicable" and the Michigan Supreme Court interpreted the ruling to mean that House districts must not vary, on the average, more than a few hundred from the average population of 71,127. (Average population of Senate districts is 205,895.) The Court claimed that its action resulted in the vote of every person, regardless where he lives, being equal to the vote of every other person or "One Man One Vote." But does it?

Areas where population is swollen by institutions, such as M.S.U., suddenly become "over represented" in the Legislature.

M.S.U.'s 31,459 enrolled students are enough to make up 15% of a Senatorial district and 44% of a House district. It appears obvious that a vote in an area such as this is worth much more than a vote elsewhere.

If "One Man One Vote" is truly the goal, obviously the only way to achieve it would be to base legislative districting on the number of citizens actually voting for some statewide office, such as that of the governor. Population is not "One Man One Vote" nor does it guarantee equal representation.

He who prays as he ought will endeavor to live as he prays.
—John Jason Owen.

Fragile World
Increasing the quality of life of Livingston county will be a difficult task. A study by the Alabama conservation department reveals that 82 out of 100 birds whites died before they were one year old, 15 lived more than 1 1/2 years, two lived three years, but only one in 1,000 lived five years. Their deaths were from predators, sickness, the rigors of winter and not by the hunter's gun.

Dutch Elm Disease Can Be Controlled

Effective sanitation and spray programs can reduce a community's elm tree losses to as low as one percent, but total loss of elm trees from Dutch elm disease is inevitable in communities where there are no programs or programs that are poorly carried out.

This was brought out at a recent meeting conducted by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division and Michigan State University for city foresters, Park superintendents, and others.

Last year good results were obtained in most of the 84 communities in the state which cooperated with the Plant Industry Division in joint programs. Under such agreements the division conducts Dutch elm disease surveys, confirms survey findings by laboratory analysis, and issues condemnation orders on the removal and destruction of diseased or dead trees and piles of elm wood.

Dutch elm disease is carried from a diseased tree to a healthy one by a type of bark beetle. There is no known cure once a tree has the disease, says C. A. Boyer, who explains that intensive research in the past 30 years has been unable to find a cure.

Preservation of elms depends on sanitation, which means the removal and burning or deep burial of dead or diseased trees, and also upon a proper spraying program. The secret of this is thorough coverage of an elm tree with the proper strength spray at the proper time. The recommended sprays are DDT or methoxychlor.

A review of 1954 programs in the state disclosed that among municipalities that achieved effective control of Dutch elm disease were Detroit, Huntington Woods, East Lansing, Monroe, Lapeer, Greenville, and East Grand Rapids.

What The Farmer May Look Forward To

Farm Efficiency Key to Profits

Apparently the farmer can expect little relief next year from the price squeeze between what he sells and what he buys but in all phases prices appear firm and in some instances slightly higher.

DAIRY: The milk-feed price ratio has been more favorable this year than last, despite greater production. Slightly higher average prices for milk have held and are likely to continue as per capita supplies remain smaller than a year ago and stocks of dairy products remain relatively low. Milk cow numbers totaled 118 million head in June of this year—a new low. This was a 3% decline from a year earlier.

EGGS: Slight increases in output are expected over the next 12 months as the laying flock and rates of lay continue above last year's levels. It appears that the off-season or July-December hatch may average 3% above the comparable period in 1963.

EGG PRICES: are expected to continue at a favorable level into the fall months.

BROILERS: Heavy supplies are expected to continue into the fall, a period normally associated with declining demand. Considerable pressure on prices can also be expected.

TURKEYS: A 6% larger 1964 crop is expected to result in fall prices below a year ago, but still profitable to the efficient producer. Cold storage holdings, which were comparable to last year on August 1, are likely to build up at a faster pace than in 1963, and will be a limiting factor on any sharp rise in prices.

HOGS: Because of sharp reductions in the 1964 pig crop, prices through the first half of 1965 should average higher than a year ago. The spring pig crop was reported at 8% under a year earlier, and indications are that the fall crop will be down 5% to 7%.

BEEF: Fall prices are likely to hold at a relatively favorable level. They mean better chances for efficient feeders to make a profit. Lower feeder prices than a year ago mean the same thing. But both factors also point to a buildup of cattle numbers on feed during fall and winter. And while cattle prices are likely to hold, winter and spring prices will depend largely on the level of feeder placements this fall. The 1965 price level is not likely to show any improvement over 1964.

SHEEP AND LAMBS: Profits from feeding lambs is expected to remain favorable as prices are likely to continue above a year earlier levels for much of the year. Commercial slaughter of sheep and lambs during the first six months of 1964 was 4% smaller than the comparable period a year ago.

State Farm Tax High

More than 13 percent of the total net farm income in Michigan goes out for taxes, to the chagrin of the farmer who lives in a State that bears the dubious honor of having the greatest per cent increase in property tax during the last 15 years.

Farmers contend that a century ago, property was a good measure of wealth and ability to pay, but that this is no longer the case. They say that total state tax revenues represent only about ten per cent of Michigan's personal income, but that farmers pay this and much more in just property taxes alone.

In addition, farmers pay all other taxes now levied.

Backing these statements are figures from a 13-state study to show Michigan having the greatest per cent of property-tax increase.

Other reports show that taxes on Michigan farm real-estate have risen nearly five per cent in the past year and now represent 13.3 per cent of total net farm income.

Apple Sauce Just A Big Puff

Mother used to pare, quarter and core the apples and stew them on the fire to make a delicious applesauce. It was usually tasty because mother was particular about the variety of apples that she used.

Modern processing plants also pick certain varieties for their canned applesauce. To an old-timer, somehow this product never quite reached the flavor of the old home kitchen product.

"But now! The plan is on the drawing boards for a new method — and this is not just 'applesauce'! They talk of exploding the apples! Blow them into smithereens! Then they grind up the pieces.

The idea is to create a dehydrate applesauce product. They take dehydrated apple pieces and put them through an explosion-puffing process.

Sweetened, this granular material can be converted into instant applesauce just by adding hot water. The report is that it has "good flavor." It weighs only one-fifth of the canned applesauce. It will keep for a long time and take up little space on the kitchen shelf.

Good flavor? Well — that depends! What apples do you use to blast?

Old Mill Ponds Vanishing Many Turned Into Lakes

Michigan once the No. 1 wheat producing state in the nation and leading the nation in the output of flour, has only 73 old mill ponds left to remind historians of the prominent role this state played directly after the Civil War.

Although only 73 old mill ponds still exist out of the 705 that helped to feed the nation in 1887, man has built 5,274 artificial lakes in the state.

keep these bodies of water clean. Many near larger towns have been degraded almost to the status of cess pools although the state and national government are uniting in their drive to clean up America's waters and nationally great strides are being made in research to convert sea water into fresh water, as the nation's water table and Great Lakes begin to dip below the danger point.

Now the great problem is to

One of the last remaining symbols of rural Americana is slowly disappearing.

The picturesque old mill ponds—the colorful remnant of an early era of agricultural achievement in Michigan.

Dr. C. R. Rumphrys, professor of resource development at Michigan State University, and Ralph F. Green, research assistant at MSU, recently completed a preliminary survey of Michigan's remaining mill ponds as part of a larger inventory of Michigan's artificial surface waters.

Most of the ponds, are in the lower portion of the state. The locations have pretty much followed a spreading pattern of wheat production, water for power, population shifts and transportation facilities.

Many of the remaining ponds were preserved by fishermen, nature lovers and senior citizens. About 56 locations still exist throughout the state where the dam is out and the pond has disappeared altogether. And only 27 of the state's 83 counties still have a complete grist mill pond site preserved.

In the entire Upper Peninsula, only the Old Mill Pond in Dickinson County remains. Although the original purpose of these ponds was to provide water power, all land owners having frontage on the pond could use it for fishing, swimming and boating.

They also retained all land rights to that portion of the bottom included within the surveyed boundaries of their property.

The only right that was transferred or lost was the exclusive right of flowage granted to the mill owner. This right of flowage was legally attached to the land upon which the mill was constructed.

Today, many years after the old mills and ponds have disappeared, it is still understood that the exclusive right of flowage is attached to the mill site. It is, therefore, conceivable that the old ponds could be recreated.

Michigan has about 5,274 artificial bodies of water. Out of the total, nearly 3,881 are artificial ponds. About 252 are natural lakes with dams, and 422 are fish and wildlife floodings.

Natural lakes with dams account for 239,388 acres out of the 482,320 acres of artificial surface waters.

If you haven't already done so, there is still time to winterize your power lawn mower. Michigan State University extension agricultural engineers say to drain or use the gas, remove the spark plug and squirt oil in the spark plug well. Wash the mower, then air dry and change oil.

Silent Night, Holy night

Glad voices sing out... and glad wishes ring out as we extend our sincere greetings for a very merry Christmas to all.

'One For Road' Could Land You In Jail

"If you're tempted to have that one for the road... take it at the end of the road," Secretary of State James M. Hare said in warning holiday drinkers that they could end up in jail if they are convicted of drunk driving.

Hare issued his warning as chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission. He said that convictions for drunken driving were up 14 percent over the first 11 months of 1963 from 5,068 to 5,833, already some 400 more than were counted during all of 1963.

"More and more community enforcement officials are getting tough on drunk drivers, especially during the holiday season," Hare said. "A few extra drinks are not worth having to spend even an overnight stay in the local jail. It sure can spoil an otherwise happy Christmas season."

Hare had several suggestions for the holiday revelers. "I've already mentioned one... do your drinking when you get home."

"Also, many parties are now being held without any alcoholic beverages served. And more and more persons are abstaining from drinking when they have to drive their cars."

Another suggestion, Hare said, is the "sober man for the road" concept. "The idea here is having parties but inviting a non-drinker for every group of four or five persons who drink. When the party is over, the non-drinker drives the others home."

Hare said this concept has "proven out well" in Norway which has an extremely low rate of fatalities accountable to drink-driving.

"Michigan law provides that all drivers convicted of drunk driving have their licenses suspended no matter how many points they may have on their records," Hare stated.

"First offenders are suspended for 90 days and habitual or repeating drinking drivers can lose their driving privileges for two years. "It's not worth risking your driving privilege or to jeopardize your life and the lives of your loved ones just for a few holiday drinks," Hare said. "Don't drink and drive."
