PANHANDLE IS TAXED!

Trustees Bond Collier and Thomas Line. The actual construction of the school began nearly two weeks ago. (The board did not dig the excavation they are standing in here!) Many feet of foundation footings have been poured, and some of the blocks laid. However, due to the "spring weather" construction men have been forced to stop work some days.

MEMBERS "WHOO!" IT UP at ground breaking. Evidently, Mr. Radloff thought this to be a combination

"ground breaking" and corner stone laying ceremony.

The Way We Hear It

BY: DOLLY BAUGHN

... let it snow, let it snow, let it snow . . . I don't care . . . not since Jerry finally got the message and now keeps my walk clear of snow. But Jerry, don't you think sponge mopping it is taking things a little too far? . . . Pinckney firemen were summoned to 909 East Unadilla Monday night about 8 p.m. . . . a "play-house" was gutted out and a hole burned in the roof . . . A young lad had left a candle burning inside when he left the building . . . that's the "way we heard it anyway."

... the Pinckney firemen are very happy with the new "pumper truck" the Village Council purchased for them March 9. A sum of $1581 less a $400 trade in allowance, was spent . . . The truck has a 1942 chassis, holds 350 gallons of water, has twin high pressure reels, and pumps water at 350 pounds pressure . . .

... due to some quick thinking on the part of Betty Seefeld and Norm from the garage we hear . . . that the town of Dexter was saved Tuesday. It seems one of the drivers for the oil company where the two are employed (?) had fumes ignite when reeling in a pumper hose . . . and the only two that remained calm, cool and collected . . . Betty called the fire department and Norm . . . ran to the scene with his trusty fire extinguisher . . . meanwhile others tried to "get hold of themselves" . . . the fire was out before the entire tanker "blew." (Of course, this is only one side of the story . . . I will probably get the other side . . . when they read this!)

... Friday evening, March 19, a bad accident at the Jack Hird

corner on East M-36, caused extensive damage to the 1965 hard-top model auto occupied at the time by two 19 year old women. The car was totaled. The two passengers, Deonarene Mae Lee of Wayne and Karlana Marckum of Brighton, were taken to Howell Health Center in the Swarthout ambulance. They were treated for lacerations, and released. The remains of the auto are at Jerry Clark's Gulf Service.

... a Sunday at the Detroit hockey show for four! . . . Jim Lavey, Richard Harvey, Al Murningham, and Richard Higgs were there.

... local 4-H groups held their annual achievement day at Pinckney High School . . . This included the sewing, knitting, handicraft and electronic groups . . . It looked very interesting . . . Will have full story and pictures (?) next week . . . The judges had not made final decisions by press time this week.

... why not send your teenagers to the Billy Graham movie this Friday? . . . And maybe go yourself . . . Should be interesting.

... an "enormous crowd" attended the spaghetti ball Saturday night in Howell . . . Weston Vivian was special guest . . . many persons thoroughly enjoyed themselves . . . we hear.

... did you see "history in the making" Tuesday when Grissom and Young made their successful orbit around the earth? . . . That would be quite a thrill, wouldn't it? . . . I can't decide if I want to go or not! . . . I heard I was going to get sent to the moon . . . But I don't know if it was by rocket . . . or not!

P.E.G. Prepares Easter Surprises

After postponing January and February meetings because of bad weather or sickness, the Pinckney P.E.G.'s managed a most interesting and informative afternoon session at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hall, Monday of this week. There were a dozen women and one guest, Mrs. Charles Lewis, a new Pinckney resident.

The women busied themselves working on "Easter projects," which they are preparing for the women patients at the Howell State Hospital. They will deliver corsages made of nylon net and ribbon to the women.

They also enjoyed the lesson for this month, concerning social security. Plans were discussed for a group trip to Grand Rapids early in April where the P.E.G.'s will tour a furniture mart.

The next meeting will be April 7 at Mrs. James Williams' home at Buck Lake.

Billy Graham Film This Friday In School Gym

A full-length Billy Graham motion picture will be shown this Friday, at the Pinckney High School. This film, titled "World's Fair Encounter" is sponsored by Protestant churches throughout Livingston County.

There will be no admission and those bringing the film to Pinckney urgently request the presence of area citizens, specially teenagers.

The film is the heart-warming story of two young people, a boy from Switzerland and a girl from Montana who find reality amid the glitter and excitement of the New York's World's Fair. That's March 26. Better mark your calendars. Plan now to be there.

Agree to One-Fourth Of Amount Asked for By Townships - Howell

The Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company met Monday evening with the assessors of Genoa, Oceola, Marion, and Howell townships, and the city of Howell, and came to an agreement on a personal property tax levy of natural gas stored underground in the Howell Storage Field.

Representatives from Panhandle appeared before a joint meeting of the Boards of Review of the townships and city involved to protest the assessment of the natural gas stored underground by the firm.

Panhandle spokesman, assistant treasurer, A. L. Forde, said, "On two different occasions, Panhandle has presented facts to the assessing officers of this area explaining why such taxing authority does not reside in these districts."

"However, the assessors have asserted the authority to levy personal property taxes upon interstate natural gas placed in the Howell storage field. We have been advised by counsel that property while actively moving in interstate commerce, may not lawfully be taxed."

"We have taken this position not because we object to meeting any lawfully levied tax obligation, but because we protest the validity of this assessment."

Forde, still objecting to the taxing of natural gas flowing in interstate commerce, then presented a plan to the Boards of Review which would allow for the taxation of the cushion storage gas stored under the Howell areas.

Panhandle figures of the actual worth of the gas and the amount of it taxable, amounted to about one-fourth of the figure assessed by the assessors. The figure was accepted by the Boards of Review for this year. County Equalization Director, Clare Simons, however, will devote further study to the problem for possible action next year.

The Panhandle representatives also agreed to a 24 percent increase in the machine and equipment tax assessments.

Plans presented by Panhandle, pending a further ruling by Federal Public Service Commission, to invest two-and-a-half million dollars more in the Howell field, would double its capacity.

Seventy-five percent of the assessment money will go to the Howell Schools.

P.T.A. Plan Carnival; Student Wins Bee

Pinckney Elementary P.T.A. have set April 23 for their annual Carnival at the Elementary School. This year's event will take place 6 to 10 p.m. Friday night only rather than the all day Saturday session as has been the case in past years.

A concession will fill each room according to P.T.A. officers. A meal will be served for those wishing to attend, if the time conflicts with their supper hour. Further details will be published before the said date.

Edna Pesola proved to be best speller in the Parent-Student spelling bee at last Thursday night's P.T.A. meeting. Edna Mae, an 8th grade student, stood for one hour 15 minutes, and the winning word was "pursuing."

Library News

New books this week include DuMaurier, "The Flight of the Falcon" — a gripping suspense story of an Italian courier who becomes circumstantially involved in the murder of an old peasant woman in Rome. Returning to his home town of Ruffano in a quest to identify the dead woman, he is caught up in the life of the university, and their annual festival based this time upon the life of the deomical Duke Claudia, known as The Falcon.

Shaw, "Voices of a Summer Day" — the story of a man who relives his life through reminiscences while watching his teenage son play baseball, on a late summer's day. Voices of a Summer Day is a contemporary novel to be read and enjoyed and savored long after the story is finished.

For young readers we have de-Leeuw, "Sir Walter Raleigh" — the story of Sir Walter Raleigh, the world explorer; and a new beautifully illustrated edition of Potter's "Peter Rabbit."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vedder and Mr. O'Dell gave books to the library.

JOHN HAAS AND STAN KOZIJ combined their efforts at first to construct this Viking's ship. The two hollowed a chunk of wood for the ship's hull, and finished the outside to a lovely varnished wood. John then put the finishing touches to the complete project. The sails he made by using heavy velvet, carefully sewn by hand. John and Stan constructed a large paper mache display area to exhibit their finished products. The area consists of a river, painted blue for the ship, and a high hill for the castle to sit on, overlooking the river.

STANLEY KOZIJ constructed this castle using styrofoam. It is carefully marked to look like blocks that were used long ago by the Vikings. Stan did this as an assignment given to 12th grade English students. They were instructed to make a selection from their literature books of some object and construct it to the best of their ability. Mr. Welton Chamberlain is English class instructor.

Michigan Bell Annual Report

Michigan Bell Telephone Company reported today that in 1964 it spent more money than ever before on new construction and at the same time instituted rate cutbacks and service improvements adding up to more than seven million dollars in annual customer savings. President William M. Day said in the company's Annual Report that the "continued vigor of Michigan's business and industrial activity" made it necessary to increase the 1964 construction program three times to meet demand. The final figure for the year was $107 million — highest in Michigan Bell history and $2 million above the previous record set in 1961.

In 1964 we were able to reduce rates and introduce service improvements that save our customers $7.4 million a year," Day said. "Such changes since 1960 are now saving our customers about $10 million annually — twice the amount we are receiving from the last rate increase four years ago." (The $10 million figure does not include an additional savings of more than $2.2 million to Michigan Bell customers in intrastate long distance rate reductions which became effective Feb. 1 of this year.)

The company reported 1964 net income of $58.3 million, compared with $50.6 million the previous year. Earnings moved up 19 cents to $1.78 a share. Day said the improved earnings "gave us an opportunity to further demonstrate that a public utility can furnish its customers better service at lower rates when it earns enough to take advantage of changing technology, replace worn out equipment, and plan beyond day to day requirements."

In 1964, Michigan Bell completed or began work on five new buildings and building additions in 26 communities. With average company investment brought to $883.5 million, the number of telephone Michigan Bell served at the end of 1964 totaled 3,426,936, a net gain of about 170,000.

On the average day throughout the year, Michigan Bell handled more than 17 million calls, and for the entire year switched more than 158 million long distance conversations — both record figures for the company. "People are reaching for their phones more often now than ever before and this tends to hide the fact that their telephone dollar buys more every year," Day said. "As the telephone population grows denser and exchange boundaries are extended, customers get more use from their basic local service; today the average customer makes 17 per cent more local calls than 10 years ago, and they cover greater distances."

Improved earnings, Day said, also "permitted innovation, experimentation, the introduction of new services, and a wider choice for customers." Among the new services were Metro 21, an optional calling plan that links 80 communities in metropolitan Detroit into one giant local calling area, and Budget Service, a low-cost offering which allows 20 outgoing calls a month at a charge of less than 10 cents a day. Besides reductions in intrastate long distance rates, costs to many customers were further reduced through engagement of base rate areas in many exchanges and inclusion of more communities in extended area service plans.

Mary Lou Harmon has been ill for a month. We hope she can come to school soon. The children made mobiles for art. We have imaginary birds, animals and insects swinging in the air. They are illustrating covers for these reports. We are ready to study the Nile in geography. We have made maps of the Mediterranean Lands. We have completed the multiplication tables and are working on speed tests.

Weekend guests of the Wayne Shettleros were Mr. Chuck Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vance and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vance, Jr., all of Detroit. The guests and Mr. and Mrs. Shettleros thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated the play Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens of Brighton also attended the play Saturday evening. Mr. Stephens, an active member of the Livingston County Players group, is the man responsible for securing the stage spotlights used during Friday and Saturday nights' performances.

As for new devices, the year was highlighted by the introduction of Touch-Tone telephones. Instruments fitted with 10 buttons instead of the conventional dial. With a Touch-Tone set, customers can "tap" out a telephone number more than twice as fast as dialing one.

Wages paid to Michigan Bell's 22,000 employees rose from $146.6 million in 1963 to $153.4 million last year. Operating taxes totaling slightly more than $62 million constituted the company's second largest cost of doing business.

Day noted that at year's end President Johnson had announced he would ask Congress to revise and reduce Federal excise taxes, and expressed hope that this additional cost on customer bills may soon be reduced or eliminated. "The 10 per cent Federal excise tax on telephone service cost Michigan Bell customers $35 million in 1964," Day said. "The company has taken the position that this tax is unfair and discriminatory and should be among the first to receive Congressional attention."

"The huge national debt they will inherit should keep our children from one indulgence—ancestor worship."

Work Preparation Helps Young People

ANN ARBOR—Ten ways vocational educators can better serve the needs of neglected youth are outlined by Ralph C. Wenrich, University of Michigan director of vocational teacher education.

Two of society's most perplexing problems are youth unemployment and juvenile delinquency. Preparation for work can help youth achieve adult status, says Wenrich.

His recommendations:

- 1) We must accept the idea that high schools have a responsibility for all youth who will enter the labor force — not just those capable of becoming highly skilled secretaries, tradesmen, and technicians;
- 2) We must develop an even closer working relationship with the world of work to get the cooperation of employers in the task of training youth. We must make a special effort to locate job opportunities for youth with below-average ability;
- 3) We must learn to work with other-serving agencies in the community such as leaders in boys clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and YM-YWCA;
- 4) We must consider industry in its broadest sense. The food industry, the health services, personal services, recreational services, and many others are rapidly expanding fields where trained workers with varying degrees of skill are needed;
- 5) We must provide for groups of youth with different (but related) occupational goals in separate courses or programs. We would not expect a school of nursing to train R.N.'s and practical nurses in the same classes;
- 6) We must improve all of our vocational guidance services but especially the placement and follow-up services for employment-bound youth;
- 7) We must employ qualified teachers — teachers who are occupationally competent in the vocation for which they are preparing youth, and teachers who understand and enjoy working with youth;
- 8) We must employ qualified leadership to bridge the gap between the schools and the world of work. We must have school leadership which understands both education and industry;
- 9) We must organize our schools so that we will have larger units of administration for specialized education. The development of more county and area schools and centers should be encouraged;
- 10) We must be willing to experiment. We must do a great deal more by way of exploring new approaches.

Wenrich's remarks are from an article in "School of Education Bulletin" published at the U-M.

Savings - Loans Increase Assets

ANN ARBOR — The University of Michigan School of nursing has begun making financial loans to students under the Nurse Training Act passed last year by Congress.

The Act furnishes loans of up to $1200 per year to encourage both men and women to pursue careers in nursing. It provides financial assistance needed to keep students in school, and, later, cancels as much as 50 per cent of the loan if the nurse works fulltime in any public or non-profit private institution or agency.

Since January 1965, when the funds became available, the U-M has approved loans for ten nursing students.

About 40 additional applications are now being screened.

Applications must meet the regular scholastic requirements for admission to the University, and must indicate a need for financial aid.

Mrs. Rhoda Reddig Russell, dean of the U-M School of Nursing, said the new program "will enable qualified students to enroll in school, and to remain in school, despite inadequate financial assistance from their families."

Once the man or woman graduates as a nurse, ten per cent of his total loan (up to a maximum of fifty per cent) is cancelled for each year of fulltime nursing in public or non-profit private institutions.

Report on Aging 1963 and 1964

Senator George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) this week filed a report to the Senate entitled "Developments in Aging — 1963 and 1964." It is a report of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, of which Smathers is chairman, on the Committee's activities during the past two years, as well as other developments on problems and opportunities of U.S. senior citizens during that period.

In filing the report, Smathers said, "While it reflects progress in meeting the needs of America's senior citizens, it also reveals great opportunities for our Nation to meet the challenges of aging more adequately than we have thus far been able to meet them."

"America must do better," Smathers continued, "and the Senate Special Committee on Aging during 1965 will continue its vigorous efforts toward more effective action in the field of aging."

Chapter I reports developments on employment for the elderly and retirement incomes. It discusses actions taken during the two-year period to increase employment opportunities; prevent age discrimination in employment; increase Social Security, old-age assistance, and veterans' benefits; and provide Federal income tax relief for the elderly. The Committee made six recommendations for increasing employment opportunities for Americans in this age group.

Developments regarding frauds and misrepresentations affecting the elderly are reported in Chapter II, which also includes a number of recommendations of the Committee's Subcommittee on Fraud and Misrepresentations Affecting the Elderly for protecting against such actions.

Chapter III reports 1963 and 1964 developments on health of the elderly, including the Kerr-Mills program of Medical Assistance for the Aged, activities to provide hospital care for the elderly under Social Security, and private health insurance coverage.

Developments in housing for the elderly are reported in Chapter IV, which discusses progress of the various Federal housing programs for the elderly and outlines recommendations for making these programs more effective in providing housing at prices and rentals which seniors can afford.

Chapter V reports legislative and administrative developments during the biennium to provide services needed by the elderly to maintain their independence, enrich their lives, fight loneliness and boredom, and continue as useful, contributing members of their communities.

Smathers said that those who believe they can benefit personally or in their work from reading the report can obtain single copies of it free of charge while the supply lasts by requesting them from him or the Committee's staff.

Report From Senator G. Dunn

Senate Bill No. 66, my water pollution bill drew many interested persons to a hearing held by the Senate Conservation Committee on Tuesday, March 16. I want to relate to you part of a statement which I made before the committee which, in my opinion, dispels some of the clouds around the water pollution problems in the State of Michigan today. I warned industry that it would not be able to use the "scare-industry-away" tactics on the 73rd Legislature to stand in the way of progress.

I challenged representatives of the Michigan Manufacturer's Association because they questioned the constitutionality of the measure to give the Water Resources Commission more power in dealing with pollution. Two other additions to the present Pollution Control Act would be: (1) add jail sentences to the present fine penalties in the law, and (2) "preventative" controls such as adding language as "likely to cause a public nuisance" into the present law.

I charged industry and some attorneys with using the same arguments year after year to stand in the way of progressive legislation. The threat of industry is no longer a threat to stopping progress. I have lakes in my district which are unusable because of pollution but according to definition today, they're not polluted.

Industry in the past has refused to accept its responsibility in this area. It's time for them to stop coming in at the last minute and saying, "Gentlemen, we need more time" on bills. "Gentlemen, you've had your time. Time is running out and I hope you move (for progress). I don't think this scare-industry-away attitude is going to work on this Legislature."

Many people are concerned with the conditions of the lakes and streams in Michigan today. Please contact your neighbors and urge their support of this bill. Senate Bill No. 69 has the unqualified support of conservation clubs, the Department of Conservation and the Water Resources Commission. Won't you please join them?

Michigan Bell Reports on Wages Paid in 1964

Michigan Bell Telephone Company today reported that it paid wages of $256,494 to 28 employees who worked in Livingston County during 1964, according to Russell H. Engelhardt, manager here for the firm.

He said the company's entire wage bill of $153,498,448, which went to 22,000 employees throughout the state, set an all-time record.

In addition to Michigan Bell's payroll, the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply arm of the Bell System, paid $11 million to its 1,475 employees who worked in Michigan, and AT & T's Long Lines department paid $3.4 million to its 540 employees in the state.

The men and women of Michigan Bell, the state's fourth largest non-governmental employer, and one of the other two Bell System units who live in more than 400 Michigan communities received total wages of nearly $168 million.

Areas in which Michigan Bell's 1964 payroll topped the five-million-dollar mark include Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Saginaw and Southfield.

Areas which passed the one-million-dollar mark were Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Bay City, Benton Harbor, Clawson, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Livonia, Marquette, Mt. Clemens, Plymouth, Pontiac, Port Huron, Roseville, Royal Oak, Traverse City, Warren, Wayne and Wyandotte.

PAST PRESENT FUTURE

Bulldogs! Consider yourselves blessed. Here's a blow-by-blow description of a game played by Brighton's original baseball club, organized in 1876. The team was called the Maple Leaf Club. It played its first game against a team composed of players from Pottsville, Ann Arbor. Brighton won that game but there is no record of the score. Several games were played that year, only two of them defeats. Pinckney was the winner of the two.

In an 1880 issue of The Argus we found this account of a game played on June 4, 1880 against Fowlerville. "The necessary arrangements for the game at Fowlerville Friday were made some two weeks previous to playing under very discouraging circumstances at first, but as the time for the contest drew nigh a spirit began to be manifested by that class of citizens who always like, as it should be, to see their town team win and their efforts put forth resulted in the securing of new uniforms for the players to guarantee the game a success."

"The club was accompanied to Fowlerville by a large crowd of interested citizens and backers and were the recipients of many cheering words when they departed on the morning train for the field." "Upon arriving at the previously mentioned place, the Red Stockings (this name was adopted in 1880) found instead of a full Fowlerville team, that they must if the game was to be played at all, back against some of the strongest players in this and an adjoining county, interspersed with but a few players from Fowlerville." "In the agreement they were allowed but one player outside of their town, and no one expected that the contract would be imposed in the manner it was." "After considerable parleying, the game was started a little before 3:00 o'clock, A. Reiner umpiring."

"The Mutuals (Fowlerville) went to the bat and secured three runs and three base hits on the first inning. The first inning of the Red Stockings resulted in Krause striking out, Hartman gaining second base, Snyder first and Johnson and Bigham striking out in succession - a whitewash." "The Red Stockings not being used to a professional curve ball pitcher, were somewhat puzzled at first which was possibly the cause of their failure to gain a run the first time at bat. Three more runs was the result of the Mutuals' second time at bat."

"Placeway went to bat with the second inning, gaining one run followed by a run from Stuhlerberg, S. Snyder, Krause, E. Snyder and Johnson. Jones, Hartway, and Placeway striking out." "During the inning the Mutual catcher, Cooper, of Howell, was badly hurt by receiving the full force of the ball from the pitcher on the left side of his face, rendering him nearly insensible for a time and unfit for further service behind the bat."

"He wore a mask, but the ball came with such force that the wires were snapped asunder as nothing. The third inning was a terrible increase for the Red Stockings - securing the whole of 12 runs." "The score was run up higher than it should have been to correspond with the fine players on both sides."

(Editor's note: Translated, in spite of great odds, Brighton won, 30-23.)

More Funds for Safety High Gas Tax Receipts,

The "guesstimate" for highway engineers that better highways would mean more driving and more driving would mean more gas and weight tax revenue is proving true.

As a result, there's more money available for improvements to make the state's network of highways safe.

And the new Michigan State Highway Commission, on the recommendation of Acting Director Howard E. Hill, is moving swiftly to put the safety measures into effect.

Expenditures during the next 12 months for safety measures on state controlled roads will be increased from the standard $1 million to $4 million, Hill said. The improvements that will be most obvious and put into effect most quickly are road markings and directional signals.

"Paper work" has already begun in the State Highway Department Traffic Division and other units to:

-Edge mark 290 miles of curves three degrees or more on freeways and accentuate these markings with reflectorized delineators.

-Edge mark 3,129 miles of two-lane highways where studies show the markings would be an asset to safety.

-Reflectorize bridge piers, bridge rails and other obstructions.

-Post "Do Not Enter" and "Wrong Way" signs where appropriate at the base of interchange ramps and emphasize the message with red delineators to warn drivers who miss the signs.

-Remove all trees within 30 feet of pavement edges. (Cars plunging into trees near highways are causing more than 35 fatal accidents annually)

-Re-surface with non-skid material intersection areas where pavement has been smoothed, thus improve auto stoppability.

Other projects, just as important, but less obvious to motorists, Hill said, will include a step-up in computer analysis of accident causes, and altering the design of future freeway and highway cross-sections to make shoulders nearly flat and the design of future overpasses to eliminate the right hand pier supporting bridges over freeways.

"What are my chances of leading a normal life again?"

"Will my job be too hard for me?"

"What kind of exercise can I take?"

"What about alcohol and coffee?"

"Why didn't my doctor give me medicine that keep blood from clotting?"

"Are marriage relations likely to be harmful for a person who has had a heart attack?"

RESTRICT US-25 PARKING

Advise Doctor About Adverse Reaction to Drugs

Illness caused by drugs is sometimes reported in news stories. When such reports appear, many individuals become concerned about the safety of their medicines.

It is true that an occasional person does have an adverse reaction to some drug, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association. It also is true that some drugs tend to produce more adverse reactions than others. Penicillin, the life-saving wonder drug that quickly knocks out pneumonia and many other serious illnesses and infections, produces adverse reactions in possibly one person of every twenty. But penicillin still saves thousands of lives every year.

The American Medical Association, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the companies manufacturing the drugs, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association and many other groups are constantly studying drugs, determining their safe and effective doses, learning of their side effects, and advising physicians and pharmacists about their safe use, as well as their potential dangers.

Patients should feel free to take the drugs prescribed by their physician but they should let their doctors know about any adverse reactions to drugs which they may have experienced.

If a patient believes he is having a reaction that is not normal, he should report it to his physician immediately and stop taking the drug until his physician can advise him. Only in this way can one be protected from individual differences in drug action.

Modern drugs are a far cry from the herbs and incantations of the tribal medicine man, but they must be used with the same respect and a great deal of care. Used properly under a physician's direction, they can truly perform modern miracles.

You build a new home to get exactly what you want

why not get the heating system that gives you exactly what you want

Electric heat is custom heat. There's a thermostat in each room so you can dial the exact warmth you want... in the baby's room, the den, the kitchen, every room! Electric heat is the clean, modern heat. No drafts or cold spots. You get even heat from head to feet. Ideal for your new home.

It's also a good choice as supplemental heat for your present home—to warm up a chilly bedroom or new family room.

The cost? That depends on your particular home. Electric heat may be your most economical heat. It won't cost you a penny to find out for sure. Just call Edison for a free estimate.

EDISON

A lower all-electric rate saves you as much as 20% on your heating bill if yours is an All-Electric Home. More reason than ever to enjoy all-electric living.

BALANCE

It is said of a certain friend of ours that he went off the deep end.
Strange expression, that! It can mean that a person had a mental breakdown, or that he became a sort of fanatic; or it can mean simply that he got too interested in one thing to the exclusion of other important matters.
And the very fact that our generation has coined such an idiom is indicative of the fact that we see such tragedy every day.
One of the vital contributions of religion to life is its gift of balance. The knowledge of God helps a man see all else in its proper perspective.
In a day when millions are caught in turbulent crosscurrents, faith points to the true center of existence... worship steadies the mind and heart!

Vivian Endorses National Head-Start Project

Congressman Weston E. Vivian announced today that he had instructed his staff, both in his Washington office and his District office in Ann Arbor, to assign top priority to aiding local communities in the Second District to take advantage of Project Head-Start, one of the anti-poverty programs of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

"Project Head-Start is a national pre-school program aimed at helping children from poverty-stricken homes to be adequately prepared to enter public schools on an equal footing with children from the rest of the community," Vivian stated. "This pre-school and early elementary level is the level at which a fundamental attack on poverty, and the conditions which cause poverty to be repeated generation after generation, must be launched."

Vivian quoted a letter which he had received from Sargent Shriver, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, in which Shriver said: "This summer it is estimated that more than 100,000 four and five year olds from pockets of poverty in 300 communities will be enrolled in eight-week sessions aimed at improving their health and physical abilities developing their self-confidence providing a wide range of classroom and field trips establishing joint activities with their parents.

"In short, helping these children overcome the obvious deficiencies imposed on them by poverty and prepare them to face life and school with a better chance of success.

"The widest possible participation of communities and public and private agencies will be necessary if this plan is to succeed. More than 20,000 professional, neighborhood and volunteer workers will need to be recruited. The coordinated action of public health, welfare and public and private school officials on an unprecedented scale at all levels will be required.

"The Office of Economic Opportunity will pay for 90% of the cost where local communities organize and operate such a two-month program this summer. The local community will furnish the remainder in either cash or kind. The average cost per child is estimated at $85.00 per month."

Vivian noted that Dr. Myron E. Wegman, Dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan, is a member of the national steering committee for Project Head-Start. He stated that Mrs. Wilbur J. Cohen, of Ann Arbor, wife of the Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, a member of his Washington staff, will co-ordinate the efforts of this office, in providing liaison with the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"I urge every school district and every community in the Second Congressional District to look at its needs and its resources, and to ask itself where there are children there for whom this program was designed," Vivian said. "If the answer is 'Yes,' then I urge them to contact either my office or the Office of Economic Opportunity directly. In any case, my office has been instructed to assign top priority to aiding local communities in applying for Project Head-Start."

There is no more important aspect of President Johnson's multifaceted attack on poverty than this effort to aid our youngest generation in taking advantage of the educational opportunities which our communities provide. For, in the long run, it will be the amount of education which these young people have had which will, in fifteen to twenty years, determine their ability to be productive members of a democratic society."

A drinking glass, a cup, and a soft-drink bottle mean milk, water and soda-pop to a child. Such containers should not be used to hold fabric cleaners, solvents, gasoline, or other hazardous household chemical.

Great Lakes Antique Show Opens March 31

What's new in antiques isn't a silly question at all. And, collectors with know-how will be finding much that is "new" when they visit the Great Lakes Antique Show slated for Detroit's Masonic Temple Wednesday, March 31, through Saturday, April 3.

is always on the look-out for interesting "new" pursuits and diversions with the result that a run started on a preferred item soon establishes it as relatively popular, and the hunt is on. Before long, such pieces are harder and harder to come by and eventually pose a real challenge to the serious collector.

The dyed-in-the-wool collector

Exhibitors will not show a great deal of Deldare at the "Old Reliable" Great Lakes Antique Show — but a few choice pieces of the pottery with its tinted Colonial figures on a Standard background of olive green will be noted among the thousands of conversation pieces the browser or buyer will find in exhibits of the 85 well-known dealers who come to the Great Lakes Show each season with an ever widening variety of wanted antiques.

Among them will be the frills and furbelowed antique dolls to delight little girls and scale models of other days and Indian artifacts to enchant boys.

There is much fine Wedgwood to be had, art glass of every sort — amberina, Burmese, French opaline and signed Galle — brass candle sticks and sconces in every shape and size, coffee grinders, cranberry scoops and many items cherished by the Pennsylvania Dutch.

There is old English silver, fine place setting of sterling bellows, ships' lanterns, bells and bottles of every shape and size and brass studded horse straps as well as old fashioned cast iron hat and coat racks. You name it, and ten to one, the Great Lakes Show has it — which makes it one of the finest.

Hours daily are from 12 noon to 10:30 p.m. (last day doors close at 9 p.m.). Admission is $1.00.

The National Band of New Zealand opens the Series "A" concert season Oct. 7. The New York City Opera returns to the MSU campus for the 15th consecutive year, and will perform Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci" (Series "A") Nov. 22; and Rossini's "Barber of Seville" (Series "B") Nov. 23.

Noted Artists
Will Perform
In MSU Series

Five outstanding orchestras from Europe and North American, three major European ballet troupes, an opera company, a Broadway play and two renowned artists highlight Michigan State University's 1965-66 Lecture-Concert Series.

The 1965-66 season program announced by series director Dr. Wilson B. Paul includes pianist Van Cliburn, Metropolitan soprano Anna Moffo, the New York City Opera, the Royal Danish, Hungarian National and Roumanian Folk ballet companies; the Czech Philharmonic, the Cincinnati and Detroit symphonies; the Moscow Symphony, with violinist David Oistrakh; the National Band of New Zealand, and Mantovani and his orchestra.

In addition to the New York City Opera's production of "Barber of Seville," the Series "B" offerings will include Mantovani and his orchestra, Oct. 11; the Royal Danish Ballet, Oct. 28; the Moscow Symphony with violinist David Oistrakh, Nov. 18; the Hungarian National Ballet, Feb. 9; the Detroit Symphony, April 3, and Metropolitan soprano Anna Moffo, April 26.

A Broadway play also will be scheduled for both series.

LOWLY FUNGI OFFER NUMEROUS BENEFITS

The lowly fungi, already a source of many important medical and industrial products, can produce even more products, according to a Michigan State University botanist.

Dr. Everett S. Beneke, an authority on the medical aspect of fungi, said that certain fungi now produce such useful chemicals as ethyl alcohol, penicillin, cortisone and citric acid. Dr. Beneke and other researchers at MSU have been working with tumor-inhibiting chemicals extracted from fungi. One chemical, extracted from the giant puffball, was tried on seriously ill human patients but was discontinued after it produced toxic side effects.

Dr. Beneke said he now is working with a chemical taken from the slippery jack mushroom. It has proved to be an effective tumor inhibitor in mice.

He made his remarks in San Mateo, Calif., at the 11th annual Margaret Beatt lecturer before the American Association of Bioanalysts.

Governor Endorses Overseas Aid Appeal

Governor George Romney of Michigan and U. S. Senators Philip A. Hart and Pat McNamara have given warm personal endorsement to the current appeals of America's great religious faiths for support of their worldwide overseas relief efforts.

The appeals are the Protestant "One Great Hour of Sharing" and the Catholic "The Bishops' Relief Fund" appeal, both of which will be observed in churches in Michigan and elsewhere on Sunday, March 28, and the "United Jewish Appeal," a continuing effort with special emphasis at this period of the year.

These independent but common-purpose efforts make it possible to provide relief and rehabilitation for millions of hungry and destitute persons overseas — victims of war, flood, famine, earthquakes, hurricanes and other disasters; refugees fleeing oppression and political upheaval; and the chronically undernourished and underprivileged.

In an official Special Message on Overseas Relief Appeals addressed to Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services, the overseas relief agencies of Protestant and Catholic faiths, and to the United Jewish Appeal, made public simultaneously in New York today, Governor Romney said:

"The need for acceptance of personal responsibility and voluntary cooperation is as essential in our relations with people in foreign lands as it is in domestic affairs.

"This need is being met by the overseas relief appeals participated in by Catholic Relief Services, Church World Service and the United Jewish Appeal. The assistance efforts of these agencies account for more than 80 percent of America's voluntary aid to the homeless, hungry and destitute abroad.

"All of us should cooperate closely with such agencies that emphasize self-help projects, helping others to help themselves through vocational retraining, land reclamation and other efforts lead-

Civil Service Needs 800 Young People

"Federal agencies in the Midwest are looking for young people having a college degree or equivalent experience to work on programs of national importance," stated Mr. J. A. Connor, Director, Chicago Region, U. S. Civil Service Commission. "At least 800 trainee positions will be filled over the next several months to replace employees who have been promoted after completing their training." All jobs are in the competitive Civil Service and require successful competition in the Federal Service Entrance Examination being given on Saturday, May 15, 1965.

The positions are located in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin and include a variety of non-technical fields for which degrees in business and liberal arts are appropriate. A few examples of specific trainee jobs beginning at $5000 or $6050 per year are: computer programmers who learn to use automatic data processing equipment; contract specialists who negotiate purchasing contracts with industry; customs examiners who determine the value of imported merchandise at ports of entry into the United States; production controllers who plan production programs to meet national defense needs; claims representatives who interview and advise social insurance beneficiaries; and budget analysts, personnel assistants, management trainees, revenue officers, tax technicians, and statisticians.

Applications for the Federal Service Entrance Examination may be obtained at most Post Offices and college placement offices. To be scheduled for this year's final test on May 15, applications must be received by April 15, 1965. All applicants will be considered without regard to race, creed, color, national origin or sex.

The three great faiths, through their programs of overseas assistance supported by the current appeals, distribute food, clothing, bedding, medicine and self-help materials to millions in need, give aid to orphanages and hospitals, tuberculosis clinics and other health efforts, and carry on widespread projects of resettlement and rehabilitation for refugees.

Michigan Bond Sales Higher

Cash purchases of series E and H savings bonds by Michigan residents amounted to $29,369,000 in January, higher than in any January since 1956, when the figure was $31.1 million. A year ago combined purchases of the two series were $25.3 million.

E bond buying accounted for $25.1 million of this year's January total - up 19.9 % from a year ago - reflecting substantial gains made in the number of payroll savers added to industry roles as a result of vigorous bond campaigns conducted by scores of employers throughout the state in 1964.

The Treasury has scheduled intensive payroll savings campaigns in three important Michigan labor market areas for early 1965.

Lynn Townsend, president of Chrysler Corp., has been named by Secretary Dillon to chairman of the promotion in the Metropolitan Detroit area. The drive will involve larger employing establishments in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties. Dr. Elmer W. Ingstrom, Radio Corp. of America president and chairman of the national payroll savings committee for 1965, will meet with executives of companies employing 1,000 or more for a discussion of campaign techniques and plans in Detroit on March 24.

Albert F. Davis, general manager of Diesel Equipment Division of General Motors Corp. at Grand Rapids, will spearhead the campaign in Kent County. Plans will be discussed with the area's major employers on March 16. Paul C. Johnson, president of Sealed Power Corp., will head the 1965 campaign in Muskegon county.

ly. The planning meeting there is scheduled for March 17.

William H. Neal, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury and national director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division, will participate in both the Grand Rapids and Muskegon gatherings.

Public holdings of series E and H savings bonds rose $86 million in January. Cash purchases amounted to $431 million during the month, while redemptions at cost price were $394 million, leaving a net increase of $37 million at cost price.

Interest accruing in January on outstanding E bonds totaled $144 million. Accrued interest paid out on bonds which were redeemed was $96 million, so the net amount added to the value of bond holdings from this source was $49 million.

Do-it-yourself electrical repair equipment sometimes includes liquid soldering compounds. Some are very corrosive if spilled on the skin or swallowed. The Food and Drug Administration recommends that all such dangerous products be kept in their original containers - and out of the reach of children.

Queen of Kitchen Named by Edison

Ten finalists were named today out of more than 200 entries in the Detroit Edison Company's Fourth Annual search for the "Queen of the Kitchen" among working women.

Their prize winning recipes have a United Nations flavor to them as they include such titles as Chinese Pepper Steak, Greek Casserole, Pizza Pie a La USA, Hawaiian Gardens and Italian Lasagne with a French Touch.

The finalists will compete in a cook-off Thursday, March 25, in Edison's Electric Living kitchen for "Queen" honors and the grand prize of a new deluxe range. Nine other electric appliances will be awarded including a second prize of a smokeless roaster, complete with shish kebabs attachment and a third prize of a seven-speed blender.

The finalists have carved out a successful career in the business and professional world and each shows particular talent in the domestic world too.

They will be special guests at the Salute to Women Who Work Week Banquet at Cobo Hall Tuesday, March 23.

An attractive souvenir cookbook with the recipes and the pictures of the finalists will be distributed to some 2,000 women at the banquet.

The contest was sponsored by Detroit Edison in cooperation with the Central Business District Association as part of the Salute to Women Who Work Week program.

Marian Ryan, director of Edison's Electric Living department, said the high standard of entries made the task of determining the finalists exceptionally difficult for the judges.

The judges were Cyrilla Riley, Detroit News Household Editor, Kay Savage, Detroit Free Press Food Editor, and Edythe Fern Melrose, WXYZ-TV Lady of Charm.

The ten finalists and their recipes are:

Mrs. Robert Green, of 27141 W. McNichols, a secretary for Industrial Product Sales; "Greek Casserole."

Miss Marianna Fortuna, of 8829 Mercedes Avenue, Filing Department, Burroughs Corp., Plymouth; "Corned Beef and Cabbage Rolls."

Mrs. Charles H. Grenier, of 15436 Stansbury Avenue, an executive secretary for Detrex Chemical Industry, Inc.; "Hawaiian Gardens."

Mrs. Lester C. Hunt, of 247 California, Highland Park, adult education director for the Downtown Detroit YWCA; "Tuna with Water Chestnuts."

Mrs. Donald LeBlanc, of 1489 Winchester, Lincoln Park, an office worker for Atwell, Vogel & Sterling; "Italian Lasagne with a French Touch."

Mrs. Ronald MacIntosh, 16890 Monte Vista, a secretary for Campbell-Ewald Co.; "Manicotti."

Miss Jacqueline Rowden, of 14166 Westgate Drive, a graduate nurse, Grace Hospital, (Northwest); "Chinese Pepper Steak."

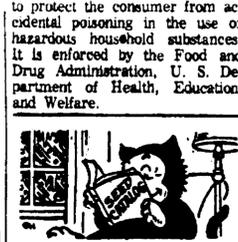

Mrs. John Sanderson, of 2387 Old Salem Road, Pontiac, an English teacher at Derby Junior High School, Birmingham; "Velvet Veal Supper."

Mrs. James Thomas, of 15403 Ward, office manager of a medical clinic, Fisher Building; "Shrimp Amandine."

Miss Mary Katherine Walliko, of 3840 Audubon, a research mathematician, Ford Motor Co.; "Pizza Pie a La USA."
