Survey to Decide Need For Community College

A community college for Livingston county — to be or not to be. The outcome hinges on two issues. First the survey now being conducted under auspices of Michigan State University as to the feasibility of such a college being established in the county and secondly if the survey recommends such a college the question will be put before the voters.

A large number of prominent Livingston county men are behind the college and they are seeking funds to finance the survey. The school boards of the five school districts in the county are cooperating.

Quotas for each school district to raise the needed $5,000 are Howell, $1,700; Brighton, $1,200; Pinckney, $880; Fowlerville, $625 and Hartland, $585. The survey is under the direction of Dr. Max S. Smith, director of the office of Community College Cooperation, MSU.

It is pointed out that a community college would attract many of the 60 per cent of the high school graduates who now do not seek higher education.

The college with a term of two years would theoretically prepare youths for entrance into full universities or at least equip them to earn a living after their two year course.

Should the community college hurdle all the obstacles and become a reality the county would pay only about 40 per cent of construction costs, the rest being borne by the state and the federal government. It is estimated that operation of the college would cost only 1 mill tax.

Members of the committees pushing the college are:

GENERAL CITIZENS ADVISORY OFFICERS: R. W. Parker, President, A. E. Parker & Sons, 2280 W. Grand River, Howell; Harry Griffith, 5850 Challis Rd., Howell; Duane Garbach, 516 Isbell, Howell; Walter G. Hampton, 134 Browning Dr., Howell.

Ward is Elected To Road Board

Charles Ward has been elected to the Livingston County Road Commission. The Livingston County Board of Supervisors filled the vacancy on the Commission created by the resignation of Commissioner Warren Anderson.

Brighton's mayor Marshall Cooper requested that action on filling the vacancy be postponed. However Charles Ward and Howard Spicer were nominated. Ward, who is the Livingston County Republican chairman, won the seat on the commission with a 13 to 6 vote.

Explaining Ward's qualifications for the position it was stated that Ward has a degree in civil engineering and business administration, and because he is retired, he will have the necessary time to devote to the position.

Rachel Nash Graduates With High Honors

Rachel Alice Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nash, 7510 Petrusville Road, was accepted as a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English during graduation ceremonies at Michigan State University, Sunday, June 13.

Rachel, who will complete her studies in August, is a member of Honors College. She will be graduating with high honors having maintained a grade point average of 3.79 out of a possible 4.00.

Rachel was recently initiated into Phi Kappa Phi National Honorary Society. She is a 1962 graduate of Pinckney High School, and plans to teach secondary English at Madison, Wisconsin in the fall.

County Bureaus Are Merged

The Livingston County Board of Supervisors has approved of a merger of the Bureau of Social Aid, and the County's Social Welfare Agency. It was explained by Supervisor Harold Armstrong that 79 out of the 83 counties in Michigan had merged the two departments.

The consolidation would end a certain amount of duplication of effort by the two agencies, and amount to an approximate $2,000 annual savings to the county.

Another factor in the merger was the federal government's ruling that all welfare agencies would come under Civil Service in the near future.

Novice Artists At Work

Larry Bowles and Jerry Goodwin Jr. have been busy the past week on an art project for the Hill Chamber of Commerce. Both boys plan to further their education in this line and the many tourists to visit the summer will be pleased with their work.

The Pinckney High School Art Department is to be congratulated on the fine students' turnout over year after year and they must be rated with the tops in the State in this field.

Hamburg-Putnam Board Plans Summer Program

The Board also voted to put present local use funds into action by joining the Pinckney Community Schools Board of Education and the Hamburg Village League in sponsoring an attractive summer recreation program for youngsters in both communities. A trained recreation director has been hired to conduct the program: two and one half days at the Pinckney Elementary school and the equal amount of time each week at the Hamburg Elementary school. Complete information as to age groups, dates, etc., will be announced soon. There will be a registration fee of $1.00 per child for the eight week program.

Library News

Beginning July 1, a fine of two cents (2c) will be charged for any overdue book from the Pinckney Community Library. Books that are lost must be borrowed, and no individual may borrow a book until all fines and charges have been paid.

This is a new ruling which was adopted by the Library Board at a June 7 meeting. The following budget was also approved and will be in effect until September 1, 1965, the end of this fiscal year. Librarian, $300; pages (library help), $90; new books, $300; supplies, etc. $200. The money for this budget comes from "penal fines" which are awarded libraries throughout the county and state, to be used beneficial to the libraries.

The Library Board and staff greatly appreciate the many books and magazines which have been given in the past, but after July 1, no more such donations will be accepted. If you have books or magazines you wish to donate, make sure they arrive at the library before the set date of July 1.

New books at the library include K. B. Collins, "Harry S. Truman: a family history of passion and pride — a story of a southern white man and a negro in Georgia — both farmers — who agree to keep their farms in the face of encroaching industrialization. It is the story of a valley torn between rival forces of tradition and progress — between the end of World War II and the Cold War. Older boys and girls will enjoy two very good mystery stories."

"Gervase," Mystery of the Unwelcome Visitor — in which Kay Tabor tries to find out why someone is trying to gain entrance to her home in Fairview, and the antagonism of two twins, and one of which Kay suspects of being involved.

"Whitney," Mystery of the Green Cat — a story of San Francisco with its atmosphere and oriental heritage and a mysterious green cat.

Young readers will enjoy two new stories by Carolyn Hayward, "Annie, Pat and Eddie," and "Fiddle and the Fire Engine."

Don Meabon and Rev. Thomas Murphy gave books to the library.

Arts and Crafts

By Ruth Anderson

We hope all of the members of the Livingston Arts and Crafts Ass'n have their tickets for the Artist Ball and Smorgasbord to be held June 26th at the Howell Armory. Time of serving: 7:00 p.m.; dancing after dining which will last til midnight. All members are asked to bring their families out for this special event.

We are jumping the gun and celebrating our First Anniversary as an organization. We will be one year old July 27, but due to more vacationing in July we have decided that more of us could be together at this time.

The Tyrone Blues Chasers are furnishing our dance music and some singing. While Margie Hainseman, our Hawaiian member, will entertain us with the many hula dances she learned as a youngster in her native land, she has also been practicing on the ukelele. Louis Maydock loaned her and has promised some songs. We are in hopes that Eric Saunders will also entertain, as you see we have a nice summer evening planned for you.

Tickets are on sale for non-members at the Ewing Furniture, Downtown Art Gallery, Karl's TV and are sold every Friday and Saturday at the Brighton State Bank, or you may phone AC 9-8216 for further details and tickets.

The Livingston Arts and Crafts has been invited by Hamburg to participate in their July 17 Gala Days. Anyone desiring to exhibit any of their arts or crafts in Hamburg's big event may phone Chairman Mrs. Pat Nissen for instructions on time and placing of exhibit. Call AC 9-8843.

Marion Van Raden, Alvin Bechler, Dee Cole, along with Pat Nissen and I am sure many others will be exhibiting. Marion as some of you may know won the Blue Ribbon awarded to the best painting at the Association's Michigan Week exhibit on May 21 and 22. Marion's paintings have been on exhibit at the Brighton State Bank and will be at the Branch in Hamburg until the Gala Days exhibit.

Ken, B. Coates won second prize, Rosalbe Chapman third and Bill Birdseye with Honorable Mention. Bill's painting may be seen at the Brighton State Bank for the next week or so. Then will be shown at the Downtown Gallery.

The organization is proud to announce that it has 117 members. Memberships will be renewed in September.

All classes have been most successful and have turned out much talent in the past year. The oil painting leading in popularity. The most popular demonstration given during the group's year was the pottery wheel demonstration and lecture in January. We hope to give classes in pottery this coming fall, along with weaving, china painting, ceramics and many other classes, depending on the demand by the members.

The fall will bring a lapidary demonstration along with a primitive art lecture and a sculpturing demonstration and exhibit by Joanna Granger whose work you may have seen last December or at the Michigan Week Show.

There is much in store for all who desire a new hobby or would like to perfect their art or craftsmanship. Watch for further news in this column which we hope you will find informative and interesting.

Memorial Fund For Auto Victim

The parents of Ronald Visel, 24-year-old Brighton man, who was killed in an auto accident on May 27, have asked The Argus to announce that a memorial fund has been established. The parents will be presenting money already collected to the fund to the director of Brighton's Summer Recreation Program, Robert Scranton.

Many of Ronald's friends have made inquiries of the family where memorial gifts could be sent, and the family has chosen the summer recreation program. Ronald had been deeply interested in sports, and had participated in the Brighton Summer Program since he was a member of one of the first Midget League teams.

Mr. and Mrs. Visel ask that future memorial contributions be made directly to Mr. Scranton. The funds will be used for the enrichment of Brighton's summer program, and for the benefit of all of Brighton's young people.

MACHINE IN "QUEEN" OF SCIENCE AT MSU

APRIL is the newest "queen" of plant science at Michigan State University.

April stands for Automated Photosynthesis and Respiration Integration Laboratory. "She" is a new electronic system for studying the gas exchanges of living plant material.

Presently, APRIL is operating day and night to measure respiration of apples and pears, but she will soon be operated for many varied uses in the study of plants and plant products.

The information she gathers will help scientists to do a better job of storing packaging and selling many of Michigan's valuable fruit products.

Brighton As It Was

By Oscar Muller

In the early 1920's when Grand River (U.S. 16) was only a gravel road between Lansing and Detroit. It took about three hours to go to Detroit, when there were lights shining all the way down from Detroit.

Mr. Charles Weiss, owner of the Weiss Bakery on Grand River in Detroit (now Stark Hickey Ford Sales) bought, remodeled and enlarged a corner drugstore, on Main and Grand River, here in Brighton (the now defunct Sportsman's Grill) Men like Mr. H. Metcalf and Mr. Tarrizter were managers. Later, Mr. H. Metcalf started the "English Inn" across the street.

After enlarging the drug store, the large two-story building then became the famous "Weiss Barbecue." Being a halfway step between Lansing and Detroit, after US 16 became a concrete road (Grand River) the Weiss Barbecue became a landmark; 28 waitresses - 4 counter-men - 4 chefs - 2 bakers - 2 druggists took care of more and more increasing tourist trade, coming through on Grand River. Governors, Senators, Legislators and Representatives were among them. Jack Dempsey, Bob Pastor, Joe Louis, came and were guests here and enjoyed the Weiss Barbecue, hamburgers, individual chicken pies, cakes also home made fruit pies a various kinds, cookies, all home made, and just think of it, The Charles Weiss Barbecue made their own ice cream, a most unheard of item at that time. A big ammonia plant in the basement provided refrigeration and freezing in those days. Today's iceboxes, freezers, and refrigerators were not heard of, and the ice cream making machine had not yet been invented.

In the spring of 1928, a young immigrant from northwest Germany arrived in Brighton, at the Weiss Barbecue, unable to speak read or write English. Nevertheless, he was the envy of all the young teenage girls at the establishment, and they tried to take him to the theatre (yes, we had the Grant theatre) and putting all his junk in his room and bed upstairs; this immigrant youth was staying with Mr. Weiss.

A lovely young, blond sixteen year old girl, by the name of Margarete Graham won the admiration of (you guessed it) Oscar Muller!!

In 1932, Prohibition had ended, and beer was back again, so the Weiss Barbecue put in a dance hall and beer garden upstairs to the tunes of the Flinly Sisters the drummer was Clifford Roberts. The people of Brighton and surrounding areas had a good time.

In 1933, liquor being approved in the U.S.A. cocktail bars, night clubs, with entertainment and dancing, cut the attendance down at Weiss and the upstairs was closed.

This writer started with his father-in-law in the Graham Hotel and cocktail bar (now the Canopy)

Little by little, the business at Weiss's Barbecue declined, and finally after the death of Mr. Charles Weiss, the old Barbecue was torn down, and in the empty space, a monument was placed in memoriam to the dead of World War I (it was placed there in 1943) and erected there was a wonderful Memorial

Christine Cramer

The engagement of Christine Ann Cramer to Robert Eugene Davis has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Cramer of Brighton. Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, also of Brighton. Mr. Davis is employed by his father and plans to attend college in the fall.

Miss Cramer, presently employed at the Brighton Argus also plans to attend college in the fall.

No wedding date has been set.

Shrine . . . Then the owner of this lot decided (though to me for no understandable reason) to build a restaurant. Protests by the people were to no avail, because they wanted the monument to stay there.

So we have seen the management change several times since then, and the building looking in bad shape.

Now it is going to be remodeled and a real estate office will occupy the building.

As the summer's restlessness sets in, teenagers start looking for newer and more exciting things to do. Beach parties get boring after a while, and hanging around town is just plain dull. This summer promises to bring new fads and pranks, such as the Study - a ton they are having in the Delta Chi fraternity at Wayne State University. As soon as drivers education is over, Rick Darrow is planning on breaking the record for staying up the longest without sleep. (The present record is three days) Rick plans to stay awake four days. Good luck!

The weather is so beautiful that it "hurts"! Even the mosquitos were blown away a little and one could actually walk a hundred feet without having them swarm over like a cloak! And it isn't our imagination! They ARE worse this year than usual! Mr. Gordon E. Guyor, Michigan State professor of entomology, informs us that the infestation is more extensive than it has been in years because of the rain and the flooding of lowlands. (But please don't gripe - we've been pleading for higher water levels!)

The cute little guest you have dining on your arm is a flood-water mosquito of the genus Aedes, bigger than the one we usually "enjoy" around here. On the brighter side, they are infested with nematodes (parasitic worm) which spoils their appetite and they die off rapidly. Furthermore, only one out of ten are hatching! This specie will taper off after awhile and we'll be blessed with only the nice, tiny ordinary kind that can get through your screens. (Anyone have a bundle of "nematodes" to spread around?)

• Mosquitoes - or no - the Glowacki tribe is learning to water ski, Ricky is beginning to look like an expert.

• Mr. and Mrs. Mark Matteson spent the weekend in Saginaw.

• Mr. Kenneth Sedick of Southgate visited his uncle Henry Eskola during the week. Mr. Eskola also had Mr. Nick Linna of Bruce Crossing, and his son, Mr. Win. Linna of Howell, visit him Saturday.

• Miss Helen Marie Caldwell and Robert L. Caldwell of Dallas, Texas were among the 75 members of the Westminster Youth Choir of Oak Cliff Presbyterian Church of Dallas, who sang at the First Congregational Church, Ann Arbor Wednesday night. Their grandfather, Mr. Henry Eskola, their aunt, Mrs. Ralph Schroeder, Mrs. John Schroeder and Mary Schroeder attended the concert. Afterward, the two young people visited the Kurt Haaxma's of S. Lyon and spent the night at the Ralph Schroeder home. They left early Thursday morning to sing in Toronto, Quebec, the World's Fair, etc. on their way home to Texas.

• Mrs. Joseph Kern, Jr. and sons Joseph and Tony of Marquette, Mich. were Sunday visitors at the Ralph Schroeders.

Scholarships for 4-H Members

For the fourth year the Edwin T. Meredith Foundation will provide two $800 scholarships for qualified 4-H members who will be college freshmen next fall. The National 4-H Service Committee announces that the two grants are restricted to 15 states including Michigan.

The late Erwin T. Meredith, for whom the Foundation was named, served as the first president of the National 4-H Service Committee.

Candidates for the scholarships will be screened by the Cooperative Extension Service, then forwarded to the National 4-H Service Committee for final judging in October. Winners will be announced the first week in December.

The Milwaukee Road will provide two 4-H Grant Marketing-Transportation scholarships of $400 each to current or former 4-H boys or girls. They must be enrolled in an accredited college or plan to enroll in the fall of 1965.

The scholarships will be awarded in December to two applicants from the 12-state area served by the railroad: including Michigan.

Among the scores of scholarships for 4-H members provided annually by business concerns are six given by Wilson and Co., Inc. one of the pioneer backers of 4-H work.

The scholarships of $500 each will go to six of the most outstanding young sheep raisers across the country.

$182,365 Cost Of Storm Help

The American Red Cross has completed its disaster relief operations in Michigan, according to John Owens, state relations representative of the American National Red Cross. Since operations began on Palm Sunday a total of 229 families have received emergency and long term recovery assistance from the Red Cross.

Red Cross disaster expenditures in the Michigan area amounts to $182,365, he said, all of which is an outright gift. Repayment of this assistance is neither sought nor accepted by the families involved. "All help given disaster victims in this area was made possible through the generosity of the American people who contribute to help those in need," Owens explained.

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:
Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.
Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind...
But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on - even beyond the circle of time.
A parable then: the clock in the steeple!
Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.
Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

Methodist Church
 Happenings...

The "Marks of a Methodist" study group conducted their sixth and concluding session at the parsonage on Wednesday evening, June 9th. The Mark Study Group held their final session on Thursday afternoon, June 10th, at the home of Mrs. I. L. Bailey.

The Young Adult Fellowship enjoyed a lively time at their get-together Saturday evening, June 12th, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Corrigan. Among the highlights was an exciting review of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dilavore, who were given special honors. The Dilavores left for Maryland on Monday, June 14th, where Mr. Dilavore will serve as a university professor.

During the seed service of worship, Mrs. Gary Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Becker were received into membership of the Church, June 13th. That same evening, a new ecumenical study group was initiated at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Brubaker. The group is open to people of all denominations, and will meet for six consecutive Sunday evenings to study and relate to the Paul's letter to the Galatians. The next session will be held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Eidsen, Sunday evening at 8 p.m., June 20th. Chapter two in Galatians will be discussed.

The commission on stewardship and finance under chairman, Dr. Harry Davis, met in the church parlor on Tuesday evening, at 7 p.m., June 15th. Because of the official board meeting which followed, the session was brief and very much to the point.

The official board gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Voorhis, Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m., June 15th, for a discussion on the mission of the Church followed by an administrative meeting.

The Detroit Annual Conference will be conducted June 16-20 at Adrian College. Mr. Paul Kingsley and Miss Kaye Hood represent the Brighton Methodist Church officially, and Mr. Gilbert Auty serves as the alternate delegate. A report will be given to the congregation soon after the conference.

The Senior Choir will practice on Wednesday evening, at 7:30 p.m., June 16th. The Vacation Church School program will be conducted in the Methodist Church of Brighton, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., June 17th. The Rev. Robert Coffey has served as co-ordinator of the school.

The Carol Choir will practice on Saturday afternoon, June 19th, at 2:15 p.m.

The executive committee of the Vacation Church School will meet on Monday, June 21st, at 1 p.m. in the parlor of the Presbyterian Church to evaluate the recent school and look forward to the coming year.

The "Friendly Callers" will gather in the church parlor for their monthly session on Monday, June 21st, at 7 p.m. After a brief training session, the participants will conduct friendly calls in the Brighton area.

Storm Proofing
Farm Buildings

It may not be possible or economically feasible to build tornado proof farm buildings. Buildings can, however, be constructed to survive the wind stresses just outside of the direct tornado path with not much additional cost according to MSU agricultural engineers. Egan and Meador. Insufficient anchorage was found to be the prevailing weakness in wind damaged buildings. Proper anchorage costs little compared to the overall cost of the building and contents: i.e. screw or ring shanked nails and spikes, 1/2" bolts, vertical bracing, diagonal bracing, poles set 4 to 5 feet deep. Simple toenailing of roof girts to rafters, rafters and trusses to plates, and frame walls to fls is not adequate.

Clear-span, pole-frame buildings survived the tornado storms comparatively well if they were constructed with proper anchorage, quality materials and good workmanship. On one farmstead that was totally demolished the walls of the pole building stood to provide some protection to the housed machinery.

In other cases, pole buildings survived with little damage other than from flying debris, while other buildings on the farmstead were demolished.

Entries Opened
For State Fair

Michigan State Fair officials have issued the first call for entries in the annual exposition Friday, August 27 through Monday (Labor Day) September 6.

Here are the entry deadlines: July 30, Home Arts; and August 6, Livestock, horses and agriculture.

Charley Ego of Morenci, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority, urged the early submission of entries. He said a record number again were expected this year.

The premium book — the hand book of information for all exhibitors — again will be issued in three sections: livestock and agriculture horse shows and home arts.

New exhibitors should indicate which section is desired when requesting premium books and entry forms from the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Michigan, 48203.

The premium books will reach former exhibitors by mail the first week in July, according to Walter Goodman, State Fair manager.

Livingston Cows Set U.S. Record

Dairy cows in area herds have been credited with recently completed lactations under official production testing rules of Holstein-Friesian Association of America. These Registered Holsteins and their actual performance records are:

Jan Lin Acres Ormsby Cavalier 474131, a five-year-old, owned by Pichan Brothers of Howell, produced 17,440 lbs. of milk and 618 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days.

Locust Breeze Roxanne Pearl 4489017, a six-year-old, owned by Ralph and Mary Rose of Fowlerville, produced 18,390 lbs. of milk and 671 lbs. of butterfat in 271 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 7,880 lbs. of milk and 285 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
He hath put a new song in my mouth.—(Psalms 40:3)

There is a song in our heart, given to us by the Creator. It is a song of joy of living. As we let this joy flow out to all persons, we are kept whole and free. The people around us are blessed because of the response our song calls forth from their hearts.

Baseball Story

A 1965 Classic

What makes a baseball player? What alchemy turns a small boy pitching balls at the chimney of his house in a small town into the hero of millions, "the sparkplug of the most fabulous baseball machine in the world?" "The Bobby Richardson Story" tells this in the words of that hero, and it is told with simplicity, humor and penetration — for who knows a hero better than himself?

The Bobby Richardson Story is authentic Americana. It is the Horatio Alger story up-to-date, 1965 version. In it fame and money are subordinated to greater values; the famous American drive is guided and energized by faith as it is in the astronauts and others of our modern heroes.

True life is not only stranger than fiction, it is better. To millions of men and boys "The Bobby Richardson Story" will read like a James Bond thriller, but in this the autobiography of a very human American they will learn that men do not live by excitement alone and that the real excitement in winning is in serving God's will.

Left to right: Congressman Weston E. Vivian, Leon Roseman and Ann Farnel. Congressman Vivian and English Teacher Ann Farnel at the Boys Training School at Whitmore Lake, look over the shoulder of Leon Roseman, who is admiring the copyright documents of his first two volumes of poems. Leon has been an inmate at the school since October, and wrote his poems while in the school.

The aim of the W. J. Maxey Boys Training School at Whitmore Lake, has at times been dubbed unrealistic, or too idealistic by area residents who very often come in contact with only the training school failures. They hear only of the frequent escapes, of the stolen cars, and other escapades of the walk-away boys. This week the faith of the school's administration was justified by the accomplishments of one boy, and the rest of the boys at the school borrowed a little hope from him for their own future.

The boy, 17 year old Leon Roseman whose home address is 1070 Hibbard, Detroit, began writing poetry shortly after he was sent to the school in October. His English teacher, Miss Ann Farnel, of Ann Arbor, gave the youngster encouragement, but left his poems generally uncorrected, as they expressed so well, in his own simple language, the heart breaking loneliness of so many of the boys at the training school.

Upon the suggestion of one of his counselors, Roseman sent his two volumes of poetry to U.S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian, and requested information about the possibility of having his works copyrighted. Mrs. Elise E. Cohen, wife of the Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare and a member of Vivian's Washington staff, was so touched by the poems, that she contacted the Copyright Division of the Library of Congress, and made arrangements for the poems to be copyrighted.

Congressman Vivian has placed a number of Roseman's poems in the Congressional Record and presented Roseman with several copies of the record with inscriptions by House Speaker John McCormack, Vice President Hubert Humphrey, and Congressman Vivian. These, along with the copyright documents were presented to Roseman at a special ceremony in the school last Friday night (June 11th).

Leon's two volumes are entitled, "Poems for Young and Old," and "Poems to Warm Your Heart and Soul". Leon's first poems were introspective, full of sadness, and even a little primitive in nature, an example reads:

"There Must Be Someone For Me"
There must be someone for me.
Oh how I wish I could see.
For a lonely person seems like I always be.
There has to be someone for me.
My mother and father don't care.
Seems like I'll never be anywhere.

For if they just love me you see,
That will be enough for me.
Lonely, lonely am I,
Just watching the days go by,
Drift away like wood in the sea.

For lonely I will always be.
As he continued writing however his field of interest broadened, and he wrote poems about the assassination of President Kennedy, Segregation, and religion, and now, in the last few weeks his poems have taken on optimistic note and they reflect at least a timid hope for the future.

LIFE
Life is very dear to me,
For without life, I would not be.
Life comes once, and then no more.
So live your life for what's in store.
Life can be mean, that is true.
But it is up to you,
Treasurer life, you live no more.
Leon will be going home this week, and hopes to continue his writing thru a correspondence course.

As he leaves the school he will carry a large burden on his shoulders, as he will not only have to fight to maintain his progress despite returns to his troubled environment, but he carries the hopes of the school, and the other boys with him.
At the Copyright presentation Friday night, the boys of Unit B, where Leon lives, gave polite attention to the young congressman, but it was evident that their hero was the slight 17 year old boy who quietly, and unashamedly reflect their own anguish, and at the same time represented, in his accomplishment, their own hope for the future.

School Dropouts

By Victor Snacker
PRINCIPAL HARTLAND ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

With school dropouts on the increase throughout the nation many communities are facing the problem with renewed interest. Programs of various and sundry nature are being instigated by the general public as well as school authorities aimed at encouraging the youths to stay in school.

Their efforts received a big boost in a report by Dr. Herman P. Miller, special assistant to the director of the Census Bureau. It answers very bluntly and to the point the question, "What good is a high school diploma to an American boy or girl who is not going to college and who is heading for an occupation where the emphasis is on attitude and know-how, not on formal education?"

It not only says the employees in virtually all trades today prefer high school graduates and are willing to pay for them, but it gives figures to prove that this statement is true. The dollars-and-cents value of education to workers in just about every trade is given in this up-to-date findings based on the 1960 census.

If you are planning to be a carpenter, you can count on earning an average of $209,000 during your working lifetime if you have a high school diploma, but only $178,000 if you drop out of school after grade school — a DIFFERENTIAL of $31,000.

Among truck drivers, too, the differential in average lifetime earnings for those with a high school education is marked — $212,000 against $189,000. The gap becomes even more dramatic among plasterers, mine workers, policemen, with ranges up to $42,000 over the working age years of 18 to 65.

Here are the average lifetime earnings for men by years of school completed:

- Years of school completed
- Lifetime earnings age 18 to 65
- Less than 8 yrs. — $143,000
- 8 years — $184,000
- 13 yrs high school — $212,000
- 4 years high school — $247,000
- 13 yrs. college — $293,000
- 4 or more years college — $417,000

If you know of some young man or woman who is planning on dropping out of school, or who has already quit, it might be well to show them the above figures.

This article was prepared by V. Snacker, El Principal of the Hartland Consolidated School.

Hartland Girls Honored

JULIA WYCOFF

Julie Ann Wycoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wycoff, of Clyde Road, Fenton, Mich., who is a student at the Hartland Consolidated School, was selected as Service Squad Girl of the Month. Julie is an outstanding student academically. She is in the "top-ten" of her class.

JACQUELINE STEINER

RICHARD COLE FLATT

Jacqueline Lynn Steiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Steiner, of Faussett Rd., Fenton, Mich., was also selected as Service Squad Girl of the Month at the Hartland School. Jackie is also in the "top-ten" of her class. Both girls are outstanding examples in Safety Work. Their trophies were presented to them by the elementary school principal, Mr. V. Snacker.

Both these girls were sixth grade students in Mrs. McKinney's room.

Richard Cole Flatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Flatt, of Blaine Rd., Brighton, was honored by his fellow classmates by being selected as Patrol Boy of the Month at the Hartland Elementary School. Safety Patrol Work and Service Squad Work at the Hartland Schools is a very important and intrinsic part of our curriculum, especially in the sixth grade. Through this safety work the student can use his talent to "help run the school". It places a great responsibility on the student. The teachers and the administration have a "great expectation" from the students. This responsibility and expectation builds in our students character, good values, and an "Esprit de Corps" in their school. The character and the values that children gain in their homes, and in their schools determine what type of person they will be in later life. Richard was a sixth grade student in Mrs. McKinney's Room.

Guest Editorial

By Thomas Kizer

480 Sexton Rd., Howell, Mich.

Twenty five odd years ago a man from England, carrying an umbrella, made a dirty word of "appeasement." Ever since then, those who talk against our country's involvement in Viet Nam and elsewhere are smeared as "appeasers." But what is wrong with a word called "compromise"?

The very same men (the Humphreys, the McNamaras, the Taylors et al.) who spit out the word "appeaser" like it was an epithet, are the same men who employ "compromise" every day. All life is a compromise and a good healthy dose of it in our foreign policy makes as much sense as its daily use in the halls of congress and senate, where the gentlemen residing there have made a business of "compromise."

Let's start calling a sensible solution to DEATH and WASTE in Vietnam by a sensible name — "compromise," and let's insist our government do it.

Isn't it a travesty that our intelligence for problem solving at international levels is disgracefully wanting as compared to the day to day problem solving intelligence levels of our ordinary citizens?

At the international level our foreign policy turns to war as the solution to inter-nation disagreements. If each time we had a disagreement with a fellow citizen, we started slugging it out instead of sensibly arbitrating it or taking it to court — what a hell of a mess! Almost as bad as our international mess!

"Might" never has and never will make "right," and blood and guts never has and never will be a civilized substitute for reason and compromise. Should we expect any less from our foreign policy makers than our government expects from us as citizens?

Beyond All Reason

Public rebellion against further increases in gasoline taxes—which are always being advocated at the state and federal levels—has reached high pitch. And a few figures explain why.

These taxes cost motorists almost $20 million a day—$19.7 million to be precise.

During 1965, total gasoline tax collections will be approximately $7.2 billion, or more than twice the amount collected as recently as 1955. And that isn't just due to the fact that there are many more cars on the road. Since that latter year, the average tax rate on each gallon of gas has increased about 36 per cent.

And here's another striking comparison: Collections for only two months of 1965 equal the amount paid in the entire year of 1945.

Few out-and-out luxuries bear a tax remotely comparable to that levied on gas, which is a basic, down-to-earth necessity in this nation-on-wheels of ours. Regular-grade gasoline sells for around 20 cents per gallon, plus more than 10 cents in state and federal taxes, along with local taxes in some areas. In other words, it carries a sales tax passing 50 per cent.

The tax has grown beyond all reason. Further increases would simply compound a gross injustice.

Sharing the Cake

It can't be too often repeated that, according to all the available evidence, the average American has a woefully distorted opinion of the size of the profits earned by business, and particularly big business. He thinks that they represent a far larger proportion of the selling prices of goods and services than they actually do.

A publication of The American Economic Foundation tells a significant story. It begins with the fact that in 1963—the last year for which the figures are available—the 100 largest manufacturers in the United States sold $157 billion worth of goods.

What happened to all that money? This happened: The cost of goods and services bought by these manufacturers from other businesses, most of which were comparatively small, was $81.4 billion. Payroll and labor benefits came to $42.3 billion. Obsolescence and depreciation of equipment accounted for $7.6 billion. Taxes took $14.9 billion.

This left $10.8 billion as profit. But not all of that was paid to the owners in dividends. They received $6 billion. The remaining $4.8 billion was ploughed back into the business.

To sum up, the owner's share of business' financial cake is a modest one—less than half of the government's take in taxes.

WHAT ABOUT WORKERS' RIGHTS?

In critical areas throughout the world, Vietnam, Korea, Dominican Republic, Germany (Berlin) and others, our military are "on the alert" to defend the rights of man to be free.

Yet at home the Administration is furthering the substitution of force and compulsion for freedom of choice by urging the repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. This would take away the freedom of the individual to choose whether or not he wants to join a union in the nineteen states which have protective right-to-work laws.

Compulsion has no place in a republic—every American should have the right to work, whether he wants to join a union or not. Freedom of the individual demands the retention of Section 14 (b) on the statute books.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

FIRST AND MOST Michigan legislators appear bent on making the state No. 1 in many areas.

Last year the lawmaking body put Michigan on top of the legislative pay scale across the country. Another effort was attempted this year to boost salaries for their successors.

The move to raise legislative salaries to $15,000 was stalled pending a study of state officials' salary standards, an apparent move to quell some of the criticism which followed House approval of the 50 per cent boost.

Top level will be held by Michigan in another area this fall when the new workmen's compensation law takes effect, boosting benefits to injured workers by half or better depending on the family size.

This change will be more gradual, however, with a scale spread over the next three years. Somewhat surprisingly, some employers who will pay for the increase say it is a reasonable rate.

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley, strong supporter of this legislation, termed the boost an evidence of "the new legislature's program of vigorous, responsible modernization of Michigan's law."

Still a third evolution is occurring in the legislature which will make it unique among lawmaking bodies.

Senate leaders recently made it official they will not adjourn the session this summer as scheduled. Rather they will keep it open and return this fall to work on unsettled matters such as fiscal reform.

As short as 10 years ago, legislators could count on about five or six months of session in the odd year and four to five months work time in the even election campaign year. Change from this pattern started in 1959, the cash crisis year when the session ran through Christmas week. Prior to that time a "special sessions" became almost common.

It doesn't necessarily follow that more work is being done just because more time is being used. More time is being spent on substantive bills, but much that one would expect to find in a representative assembly in this country today. Nevertheless, it has existed here from the beginning of this session and there is no sign of improvement.

The result of this approach is legislation which is good in name only; shallow and shoddy fulfillment of campaign promises. In the process the public interest is forgotten, the special interest is tricked, and in the long run everyone suffers.

The greatest accomplishment of the session preceding this one was the restoration of Michigan's good name through the adoption of sound fiscal management and above-board procedures. The longer the majority party continues on its present course the faster this fine achievement slips away.

time is wasted in the early weeks of these long sessions and on bills which are of little consequence or doomed to the wastebasket.

Annual sessions in itself put Michigan in a special class. Many states still have only biennial sessions unless special matters require attention in the off-year.

Very few states, if any, come even close to the amount of time in session Michigan legislators have spent in the past six years.

Neighboring Ohio calls its law-making body into session only once in the two-year term. Budgets and all other matters are written to cover two years at a minimum.

A rare opportunity exists for citizens to assist in the treatment of retarded children at eight state institutions.

Of the more than 10,000 retarded, many are known as forgotten children.

Their parents or other relatives are no longer around or chose to ignore them.

Like all children, the retarded need love and attention. To fill this need at one institution the Lapeer Parents Association was formed a number of years ago.

Similar groups established at the other seven similar institutions now operate within the framework of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children.

The program is similar to a foster parent plan. Volunteers are given basic information about a child. His age, mental ability, interests and favorite gifts may be included.

A foster parent is encouraged to write the child frequently and remember him especially on holidays and his birthday. Visits can be arranged if desired.

A stigma still attached to retardation discourages some from attempting active careers or even active volunteer work in this area of mental health, but the foster parent plan can be painlessly enlightening.

Information cards may show a child to be in his 30's or older and his interests to be gardening or weaving. It may seem incongruous to have a letter request shaving equipment and cigarettes when the handwriting and sentiment is distinctly the scrawl and "I love you much" of a first grader.

Chronological age has little meaning in the retarded housed at Lapeer, Coldwater, Mount Pleasant, Fort Custer, Caro, Plymouth, Howell and Gaylord.

The term children applied to all is accurate. The forgotten children devour any expression of kindness or affection which comes their way.

KNOW Your Michigan Law

By Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley

The statutes of the state of Michigan authorize the creation of joint bank accounts wherein the deposits made by any party thereto become the property of all such parties jointly.

Such deposits, together with the interest, may be paid to any one of the joint tenants during the lifetime of said persons, or to the survivor, or survivors, after the death of one of them.

The joint bank account is most frequently employed by married couples as a simple device to assure the survivor, upon the death of the other spouse, funds that will be immediately available for the use of the surviving spouse in paying urgent bills and for necessary daily living expenses.

This type of account is also used by parent and child, two or more children and, in some cases, by unrelated persons. Such accounts are usually created for business convenience where one of the parties is, for example, bed-ridden and cannot personally carry on his own banking affairs.

Sometimes, when these accounts are created by a parent with only one of his children, the other children, on his death contest the survivorship aspect of the account. Their claim usually is that the parent did not intend that one child should take the parent's money to the exclusion of the other child. This has resulted in many lawsuits with varying results. The joint bank account should be used by parents only after careful study to avoid the possibility of depriving certain of their children of funds after the parent's death.

However, to attempt to establish an adverse claim to a joint deposit in a bank, the adverse claimant must first notify the bank of his claim before the account is closed. He must then proceed in court to procure either a restraining order or injunction against the bank, or file a bond with the bank indemnifying it for all loss arising from the payment of the adverse claim.

The adverse claimant then must establish his claim in court. This is usually not a sim-

Governor Romney Reports

In December, and January I was told by the legislative leadership, with one exception, that there would be no tax action in this two year period. Now since then I have worked hard to bring to the attention of the legislature and the general public the need for tax reform and most importantly the need for fiscal responsibility — in other words, matching the expenditure with available revenue.

Now, as a result of that program on my part, three things have happened. No.1) I finally got the legislative leadership to designate a bi-partisan group to work with me on taxes. When the legislative leaders continued to ignore my request to indicate how they want to get at the question of taxes this session, I finally wrote the Speaker, and asked him to designate the committee to work with me. And he said — if I would come down to his office — essentially he would be willing to discuss this. So I went down to his office and the thing I got down in his office was his designation of the Democrats in the House to work on a bi-partisan tax program in this session. Then I started the present series of discussions with the tax committees of the two houses appointed by the two parties.

Also, any party to a joint account may stop payments from such account, simply by giving the bank notice in writing not to pay such deposit in accordance with the terms thereof.

Now the other thing they imply is that they might want to take tax action next fall to support the expenditures that they approve at this sitting of the legislature. Well, I have made it perfectly clear that I am not prepared to approve an expenditure program that depends on tax action in some future date.

No. 2) Now number two, I kept emphasizing the essentiality, the absolute essentiality, of fiscal integrity — my unwillingness to approve of a program with expenditures in excess of purely available revenue and surplus. And the House action on taxes at least indicated some acceptance of this principle. Thus I have reason to believe that there has been greater legislative acceptance of this basic idea of fiscal integrity.

No. 3) Now the third thing that has happened is that the legislative leadership has finally answered the question I began asking all along: "Are you in agreement that we need to take tax action now, including tax reform?" Their recent statement: "That the purpose of the fall session is to give full consideration to the matters of tax and revenue," indicated that they agree that we needed to take action now. This is a reversal of the leadership position in December and January.

I am hopeful that these changes will mean that they're prepared to recognize that if we really want to get a sound tax program at this time, we ought to work out a bi-partisan form of tax reform. I expect to pursue that with the utmost of my ability.

Now, I keep reading stories through this state that the Governor is trying to pass the buck on this program. I haven't been trying to pass the buck to anybody! I have been trying to get this job done. And the best way to get it done is through bi-partisan cooperation. The easy thing for me to do would have been to put up a specific tax reform program. That's been done three times and it has failed. I don't know why I should be such a dumb Governor as to try for a fourth time what has already failed three times.

Now the other thing they imply is that they might want to take tax action next fall to support the expenditures that they approve at this sitting of the legislature. Well, I have made it perfectly clear that I am not prepared to approve an expenditure program that depends on tax action in some future date.

Report From Rep. Tom Sharpe

As this session draws toward a close, the proverbial "capitol observers" are searching with some difficulty for a label to put on the achievements of this Legislature. What makes it difficult is that Michigan has never before experienced a legislative body quite like this one. A favorite label often given to sessions by editorialists is "do-nothing." This certainly is not descriptive of what we have been experiencing in the last few months. A more accurate account would be "burry up and do something, no matter what or how." Reflecting on the major bills, I find that each one was handled with such an attitude. This was the case with Senior Citizens' Tax Relief, Workmen's Compensation, important tax and appropriation measures, and many others.

At this point, the majority leadership spreads the word to its members that no amendments will be permitted. Minority party members, then, are constantly voted down in attempts to improve the bill. No matter how many glaring errors may be pointed out and no matter that no one can say how much it will cost, the proposal is railroaded through without meaningful debate and sent to the Senate. This is certainly not the type of fair deliberative processes

Varied Scores For Little League Boys

The first week of the Kiwanis sponsored Little League was a fairly average one with scores ranging from 25-5 to 6-5.

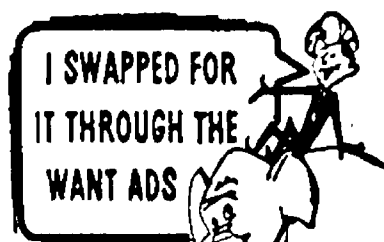

The game that officially opened the season was Monday between the Braves, Hamburg's delegate in the National League, and the Giants. The Braves came out on top in the contest, 6-5. It was a big fight for both teams as they battled away to the bottom of the last inning tied up 5-5. However, Giant miscues allowed the Braves to score.

The following evening found the Giants trying for a victory against another National League team, the Dodgers. The teams completed just two innings before the rains came, and the game was stopped. Until that time, pitcher for the Giants was Eddie Baier, and catcher was Mel Ludwig. For the Dodgers it was Rick Tanner and Jim Pietila.

The first American League game was a real contest ending with a 6-6 score. It was a big battle and lasted until dark. Eddie Williams pitched for the Indians and Dennis Douglas for the Tigers.

The second American League game between the White Sox and the Hamburg Orioles was a 25-5 thriller! The spectators saw an assorted group of pitchers and catchers from the Oriole ranks, while Charles Schaffer and Steve Latimer composed the battery for the White Sox.

An American League game may be seen any Wednesday or Thursday night at St. Mary diamond and the National League players are at Pinckney Elementary School on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Expressway Exit Signs Confuse "Brighton-Bound"

A Brighton-bound motorist coming on the expressway from Detroit will waste many hours hunting this little city if he follows the expressway directional signs.

At the Pleasant Valley exit a great big painted sign extolls the virtues of Brighton by having a big arrow pointing north, whereas after leaving the expressway, Grand River is south of the exit. Should the driver follow the arrow northward he would land up behind the G.M. Proving Grounds.

However should the driver fail to take the Pleasant Valley road exit and continue to the Spencer road exit he will be even more confused.

On Spencer road at the end of the exit ramp is a green sign with an arrow pointing east to the "Brighton Business Section." By following that arrow he would land on old U.S. 23 about a mile north of the Police Post and unless he asked his way, no telling where he would end up.

By some quirk of fate the Spencer road directional is pointed in the opposite direction from Brighton and it is the only guide for the motorist unfamiliar with this area.

Summer To Find Sun Northward

Summer arrives in Michigan officially at 9:56 a.m. Monday, June 21.

University of Michigan astronomer Dr. Hazel M. Losh reminds us that the Sun has been steadily climbing northward, and on June 21 will reach the summer solstice, 23.5 degrees from the equator, the most northerly point reached by the sun in its apparent yearly journey.

Smatter; Fourth Grade, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. James Delanois; Fifth and Sixth Grades, Mrs. Herbert Sheldon, Mrs. Walter Douglas; Junior High, Mrs. Oral Euper. Others on the staff will be teacher's assistants, bus driver, playground supervisor and refreshment committee.

On that day the northern hemisphere will receive the most heat from the sun in any 24-hour period of the year, but the chances are very good that this day of the summer solstice, the longest day of the year, will not be the hottest of the summer.

There will be more than fifteen hours of daylight of that day, but the peak of the season usually comes from four to six weeks later, because the Earth receives more heat from the sun than is lost each day. The Earth will be storing up more heat than it is losing, because the atmosphere acts like a blanket holding back some of the heat falling on the surface. Consequently temperatures are likely to keep climbing until around the first of August, when the Earth will begin to lose more heat than it is taking in. This is known as the "lag of the seasons."

"We have been God-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves." — Dr. Arnold J. Toynbee, British historian.

How to Handle Emergencies

A stone flying from a tire of a passing car seriously injured the eye of a little girl playing in her front yard in Brighton last week. At the desperate urging of her mother, the accident victim was rushed in a neighbor's car to the Emergency Room of the McPherson Health Center in Howell. Once at the hospital a nurse in the Emergency Room applied the best possible First Aid treatment, while at the same time an emergency call was made to the little girl's doctor. Fortunately he was in his Brighton office. In spite of a last minute delay with another patient, and some frustrating traffic conditions, he was soon at the Health Center.

But the time required for the two trips to Howell, one by the child and one by the doctor meant longer than necessary suffering for the little girl—due entirely to faulty judgement on the part of her mother.

Unfortunately she missed the FIRST and MOST IMPORTANT step—to CALL THE FAMILY DOCTOR, before doing ANYTHING else. He would have told her to bring the little girl straight to his office, right here in Brighton, instead of rushing off to Howell. He would have had everything ready by the time she reached his office. So, in only a few minutes after the accident itself, and before any complications could develop, the injured eye would have been getting the immediate treatment so vital to complete healing. Assuming she had no regular doctor, or knew he was away, the mother made the second serious mistake of not alerting the Health Center BEFORE starting for Howell with the little girl. Had she done that the Emergency Room staff could have made advance preparations, and even more important, could have alerted the staff doctor on call, so he would be there just about as soon as the patient arrived, again saving precious time and shortening the little girl's painful moments.

It so happens that the above story is an imaginary one. But something very much like it occurs all too often. It's the natural result of the urgent and immediate impulse, when someone is seriously injured, to rush them to the nearest hospital, right then, just as the mother did. But all too often this is NOT the best answer.

If YOU want to get the best treatment, in the shortest possible time, in any case of serious injury:

FIRST — Call the family doctor.
— He may be able to take care of the emergency right at his office.
— Otherwise he can alert the hospital himself, and the chances are he will want to give some preliminary treatment before sending the patient to the hospital.
— In any case, from that moment on he is legally responsible for seeing that the best possible care is given in

Jehovah Witnesses

JEHOVAH WITNESSES

Mr. James Szama, presiding minister of the Brighton congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses took charge of the baptism at the three-day meeting at Charlotte, Michigan. They listened to the talk, "The Moral Breakdown—What Can Be Done About It?"

"Immorality is any action which violates God's law such as stealing, lying, illegal sexual acts, and disobedience of civil laws," stated Mr. J. W. Filson, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses. Immorality exists because of man's inherited sin from Adam, plus wicked spirit forces who exert a powerful influence on people. Since Jehovah God's power is greater than the devils, then God's Kingdom headed by Jesus Christ would destroy the Devil and his followers. He exhorted the audience of 1358 to study the Bible to appreciate that only those individuals who meet God's standard of morality would enjoy everlasting life under Jesus Christ.

Mr. Filson proved by statistics that most shoplifting and stealing from businesses is done by ordinary housewives and employees of businesses. He stressed that one should avoid immoral companions, but associate with people who are striving to be virtuous. Filson quoted Timothy 2:22 "flee from the desires incidental to youth" as a principle for teenagers. These "desires" have created an epidemic of liason general diseases. A wicked spirit creatures enticed Eve first, then later her husband to break God's law in Eden. Mr. Filson used Genesis 6 verses 1-5 to show that other materialized wicked spirits left their position and had immoral relations with women. This moral business required a global flood to rid it of wicked conditions. He pointed out that these same demons will exist to good imperfect man's tendency toward evil today. No human can see, much less destroy the Devil and his demons reasoned Filson. So he read Revelation 20 verses 1-3 which shows that God's angel will kill the devil and his demons. This follows the annihilation of the Devil's human followers at God's battle of Armageddon.

Filson pinpointed this very generation, marked by immoral conditions, that would see the end of the devil's organization. "It is vital that each person study the scriptures to learn principles of morality, applying the Bible counsel to every facet of life. This display of faith will be rewarded by God's gift of everlasting life in his righteous new order," concluded Mr. Filson.

the shortest possible time. SECOND — If you have no regular doctor (which you should correct), or if you can't reach him, call the Health Center BEFORE you start out.
— That gives the hospital a chance to get a doctor there by the time YOU arrive.
— It alerts the Emergency Room for any appropriate advance preparations.
SAVE TIME — SAVE SUFFERING — Call the DOCTOR (or the hospital) FIRST!

Christian Science News

A number of Brighton and Howell Christian scientists, have returned from the annual meeting of the Mother church in Boston.

At the meeting the Christian Science board of directors urged its church members to find the "areas of agreement" which exist with other denominations — "rather than think of ourselves as entirely different or exclusive."

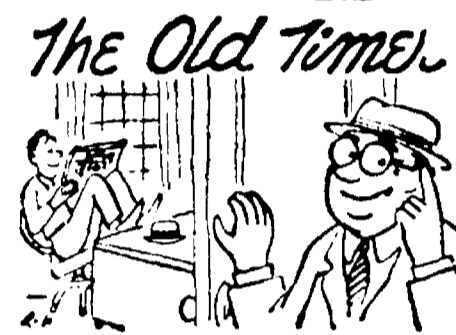

From the church's earliest beginnings, said the Directors, it has been deeply involved in "the search for the real source of unity."

"On the basis of its spirituality Christian Science has much in common with other denominations," the message noted.

"To every honest adherent of any God-centered faith sincerely working to uplift and unify the human race, we offer our fellowship and support . . ."

"Today we are confronted with one of history's deepest, most divisive social upheavals," the Directors continued. "Marking this upheaval is the churning drive of the individual to find the real meaning of life and to establish his legitimate place and identity in an increasingly complex and impersonal society."

The annual election of a new church president by the Directors was also announced at the meeting. Mrs. Frances S. Wells, C.S.B., of San Antonio, Texas, took over as presiding officer from the retiring president, Edward Froderman of Chicago, Ill. Both of them also hold positions on the Board of Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

"The man who goes through life looking for something soft, can only find it under his hat."

Radar Traps Speeders

OFFICER WINTERS demonstrates the operation of the radar gauge which is located inside the patrol car. The gauge automatically locks at the highest speed attained by the speeding vehicle.

BRIGHTON CITY POLICE OFFICER, Jess Winters, is shown adjusting the radar-scope of the new Speedanalyzer. The scope can also be adjusted to scan traffic from inside the patrol car.

Speeders in Brighton have begun to get the uneasy feeling that something, or somebody is watching them, and they are right. For almost a week the Brighton City Police Department has been operating their new Radar Speed Analyzer to detect speeders. The new radar equipment which was purchased by the city for $1,295, can be operated by one patrolman. The officer stations himself in a patrol car, and trains the radar scope to scan traffic as it approaches from the rear. The radar equipment, which has been tested by the Federal Communications Commission for accuracy, records the speed of the approaching vehicles. It automatically focuses on the car approaching at the greatest rate of speed, and locks itself at the highest rate of speed obtained by the vehicle.

Over 30 law enforcement agencies in Michigan use radar speed detecting devices, and their validity has been tested in the courts.

In a four day period in Brighton 22 motorists were ticketed for speeding, with the use of the new radar speed analyzer. According to Police Chief Walter Lamoria, this is only slightly above average.

New Ally For Alluring Lips

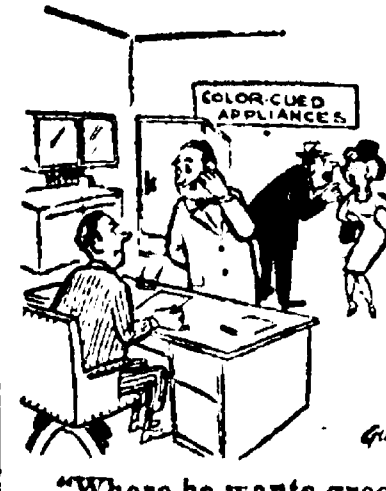

HERE'S an exciting new lipstick discovery, so unlike any other that it isn't even called lipstick. Known as Cremestick it was designed to give the lips a moist, warm natural look.

In a concentrated study Coty, the creator, found first what women wanted and how men wanted them to look. Women objected to greasiness, caking, drying and transfer of color, while men were especially disenchanted with the pallid "skin and bones" look, so long fashionable, and voted unanimously for the natural feminine look.

Armed with their wishes, Coty formulated Cremestick to hold its moisture for hours, glide on smoothly, leave no trace of greasiness and achieve an "all woman" natural look.

Truck Stop Gets Well Fertilized

A prediction that the Ellis Truck Stop at the intersection of US-23 and M-59, will be growing 12 foot geraniums by the end of the summer may be a trifle exaggerated, yet it wouldn't be surprising, considering the generous amount of fertilizer spilled there this weekend.

The State Police reported that a tanker trailer, hauling 43,630 pounds of liquid nitrogen fertilizer, pulled into the truck stop Saturday evening. The truck driver, Sam Nowling of Hoffman Estates, Ill., lowered the dolly wheels and put the truck cab into the garage for repairs. He then went to an adjoining restaurant for supper.

A passing motorist informed him a short time later that the trailer tank had overturned. Upon investigation it was discovered that the weight of the fertilizer had plunged the dolly wheels thru the asphalt driveway, and buried them 27 inches into the ground. One wheel sank faster than the other, and the tanker had overturned.

Over two-thirds of the fertilizer spilled out of the tanker, and the Hartland Fire Department was called to wash away the offending solution. State Troopers reported that the area was fairly clear of the odor before midnight Saturday.

It required two wreckers and a fork-lift to remove the tanker.

Nursery Rhyme Cats

Starting with the three little kittens who lost their mittens, cats and their exploits have always been part and parcel of kids growing up.

There are countless cats and kittens who have been made famous in nursery rhyme. Besides those three mitten-less kittens, there was the cat who sat by the fiddle while the cow jumped over the moon, the fearless traveler who went to London just to visit the Queen, the owl and pussy cat who went to sea in their beautiful, pea green boat.

And, outside of stories, child psychologists agree that pets, such as cats, can be important to children. A pet will increase his sense of responsibility—his awareness of and respect for other living things. So, consider a cat for your child's new pet—and teach him how to care for his new pet right away.

According to the experts at the Furrina Pet Care Center, the best way to pick up a cat is with one hand under his chest, holding the front legs with the fingers—at the same time capping the hindquarters with the other hand. Never lift your pet up by the scruff of the neck!

You'll want to show your child how to groom his cat right away too, beginning with a daily brushing and combing. Use a rubber or plastic comb for short hairs—a strong metal one for long hairs. Some of the best toys for a cat are a pencil or ball of yarn. He will play with almost anything that moves.

Rudyard Kipling understood that a cat, like a child's imagination, is a free spirit... it can't be tied down to mere rules.

DISADVANTAGED AMERICANS

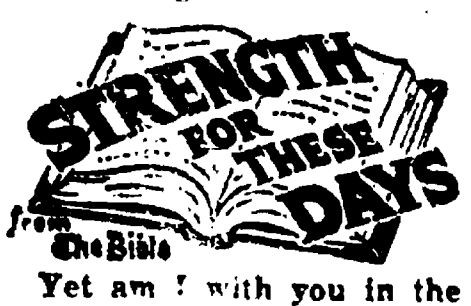

Fundamental to the American dream is equality of opportunity. Not all of us, however, have been able to share in this dream. Some Americans have remained apart from the mainstream of our society—receiving neither the benefits nor the responsibilities that come with our way of life. These isolated segments of our population are known as the culturally disadvantaged.

Congregated in both city and rural slums, millions of Americans are living in bewilderment and ignorance. Their solitary and sometimes primitive way of life has not prepared them for today's social ferment.

Major ethnic groups among the disadvantaged are the Negroes, Spanish

Americans, poor Southern whites, and the American Indians—people whose livelihood has traditionally derived from subsistence farming. As agriculture became mechanized, they were forced off their land. Many fled to the cities; others took part-time work on neighboring farms.

If these people are to become part of our modern world, society must somehow bridge the gap created by their limited experience. The school is the logical instrument for this delicate and important task. With the cooperation of an understanding community, skillful educators can reach these disadvantaged Americans and give them hope of overcoming their cultural handicap.

Yet am I with you in the spirit... beholding your order. —(Col. 2:5)

God blesses us with order, and we have plenty of time. We live in eternity. It is the right use of this particular moment in which we are living that is important. If we fill this moment with constructive, positive thought, word or action, we need not be concerned with the next day, month or year. Let's live in the now.
