Art Exhibit in Bank Lot

The Arts and Crafts exhibit to be held in the Brighton State Bank parking lot is one of the highlights of Sidewalk Days. The exhibit was recently held in Ann Arbor and attracted great crowds of spectators, artists, craftsmen and many buyers. Last year this exhibit in Brighton brought to the town many from far away, even from Detroit and Lansing. Besides the bargains that will line the sidewalks on Main St. and also on Grand River, when on a fine summer day art is being used as a lure, be it good, bad or indifferent, for getting people in a carnival mood, few of us can resist.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

By John Tasch
The Braves beat the Dodgers in the first of their two games of the week. The final score was 8-5. Steve and Gary Nelson a brother combination, pitched for the Braves and did a good job.

The Braves played the Giants in their second game of the week. However, they couldn't quite make it two in a row as the Giants won 7-4. The Giant almost lost it in the last inning where Harry Hollister then pitching got into trouble having the tying run on third and winning-run on second. A good decision by the Giant's coach did the trick as he put in Eddie Baler to pitch in relief. It really turned out to be the right thing to do as Baler proceeded to strike out the next two batters.

Schools Short Of Teachers

Livingston county residents enjoying their summer vacations are probably unaware that the business in the school administrative office goes on as usual, but this summer there is a special note of urgency.

With the shortage of teachers the schools are finding it difficult to fill vacancies with qualified teachers. Howell and Brighton are having the greatest difficulties. Howell, which must staff the new high school, is still looking for 15 teachers, and Brighton still has 12 unfilled teaching posts.

Surprisingly Pinckney has been having the least difficulty in filling teacher vacancies, and only two elementary teachers are needed there.

Right next door to the Tasches were the Gary Echemans, also of Pinckney, their daughter Joan and her girl friend, Diane Veder. The group had a wonderful time with the exception of a couple of cool days and a few noisy raccoons.

A special feature of their vacation was to see a comedy at the Traverse City Playhouse.

Happy Birthday to Jill Stillwell who celebrated her fourth last Wednesday. Her five little party-mates seemed to enjoy the birthday as much as Jill.

Pinckney Girls Prepare for Beatie Affair

Diane Halliburton, of 11863 Algonquin Dr., and her friend Marjorie Quesenberry will be the envy of the thousands of local teen-agers who stay in Livingston County Aug. 17 — in fact who stay in the U.S.A. Diane and Marjorie are leaving with Diane's mother, Mrs. Harold Halliburton and sister, Doris, for Toronto, Ont. on Aug. 16 and won't be back until Aug. 18.

Meanwhile, what will the girls be doing that should make them the envy of their poor peers back here? Ah, nothing much. Just attending a personal appearance of those idols — the Beatles.

(P.S. The girls have promised to tell all about it in an article for The Dispatch upon their return.)

"Sidewalk Days," the now famous annual event that attracts great crowds to Brighton and offers for sale merchandise at prices often far below their wholesale cost, will be held this year on the weekend of Aug. 6 and Aug. 7.

A calopoe and other amusements will be on hand and plenty of delicious food, sandwiches, coffee and soft drinks will be available at bargain prices.

One of the most attractive displays will be the Arts and Crafts exhibit, which will include ceramics, paintings and great varieties of handcraft, according to Mrs. Ruth Anderson.

Every merchant in the Brighton area will offer special inducements and display their merchandise on the sidewalk. Last year thousands of visitors jammed the downtown area of Brighton to enjoy the fun, meet old acquaintances and carry home arm loads of bargains.

According to members of the Retail Committee of the Brighton Chamber of Commerce, Sidewalk Days all stores will have display racks of merchandise along both Grand River and Main Streets.

Also scheduled for display are sporting goods, boats, cars, camping equipment and scores of miscellaneous articles which may be found in the newly re-decorated Service Auto Supply building across from The Brighton Argus.

Mrs. Anderson has advised that the Arts and Crafts Club will have a showing of fine arts, which may be seen in the Brighton Bank parking lot area.

According to Kermit Ackerman, chairman of the Retail Committee, every effort will be made to have the most attractive and interesting Sidewalk Days during the weekend.

"By having a greater number of exhibitors and tradesmen, plus a few novelties and surprises during the two-day affair, we believe we can attract and hold greater crowds than before," said Ackerman.

Armstrong House Appears On Two Thursday Night Agendas

THIS IS THE SIDE of the new Pinckney high school facing the Francis Shehan farm house which, according to School Board President Hugh Radloff, finally was moved this past week, so the way is clear for the builders to get on with their work in this area.

The Charles Armstrong house, still setting on blocks beside Pinckney Elementary school, will be the subject for discussion at two separate meetings tomorrow (Thursday) night.

Both the Pinckney Village Council and the School Board have given Armstrong, a Detroit man who moved the house to its present location nine years ago, until July 31 to remove the house.

The Council meets at 7:30 p.m. in a room of the high school and the Board of Education meets at 7:45 p.m. in the Home Ec room. The fate of Armstrong's disreputable looking shack, which has been called a hazard and a defacement of the village, will be decided in one or both of the meetings. Nothing else is on the agenda in particular in either group.

Council will hear a report from the engineers who have taken a preliminary survey to see what Pinckney needs in the way of a sewage and water program. A letter to village president, Merwin Campbell, indicates that the engineers suggest they be taken one at a time due to the size of the town, and sewers will probably come under consideration first.

The village's new lights are being put up.

Miss Helen Kearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Kearns of 615 Brighton Lake Road, Brighton, became the bride of James R. Serafin Saturday, July 31 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Serafin of 2113 Ariene St., Ann Arbor.
The Rev. Father Leo McCann performed the double ring ceremony at 12 o'clock noon before some 200 guests. Miss Yvette Pylecki of Dearborn, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Daniel Schmidt of Brighton at the organ.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose the traditional floor length gown of cloud-white organza over tafeta. The fitted bodice was accented with a bateau neckline with short sleeves, appliqued with Chantilly lace. Her princess waistline, flowing into a full bell skirt, was also appliqued in the same lace with a bustle train of chapel length outlined by two wide ribbons of lace. The bustle was headed by an organza Dior bow at the center back. Her headpiece was a mandilla of Chantilly lace attached to an illusion circlet. She wore a single pearl drop necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. Her flowers were a cascaded bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.
Miss Ann Kearns, sister of the bride, wore a floor length empire gown of petal pink silk crepe with a shallow scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves. The raised waistline was banded by burgundy satin tied at center back in a flat bow and streamers, which accented the controlled sheath skirt. A matching burgundy rosette secured her illusion veil as she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.
Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Menbee of Brighton, friend of the bride, Miss Kathleen Barr

without cooling off the rest of the house

consider electric heat

Give your new room its own heating system—a modern flameless electric heating system. Electric heat is clean, comfortable, perfectly controllable. Simply dial the warmth you want and you get it exactly—without stealing heat from the rest of the house. How much will electric heat cost to install and operate? That depends on your particular home. One thing sure, it won't cost you a cent to find out. An Edison Heating Specialist will gladly come out to discuss equipment and cost of operation with you. No obligation for this estimate, of course. Just give us a call.

On Monday evening, the Woman's Society of Christian Service enjoyed an inspiring time around a campfire with singing, business, and a personal message from the pastor. The session took place at the home of Mrs. Harley Morrow. Two new officers were elected: Mrs. I. L. Bailey, president, and Mrs. Robert Brubaker, secretary of spiritual life.
Immediately after the second service of worship, members of the First Methodist Church of Brighton held a special reception of appreciation for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCartney and family who will be moving to San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Paul Kingsley was responsible for seeing that the reception was set up.
The Episcopal Young Churchmen have invited the young people of the First Methodist Church to share in the "Bermuda Hop" at the Episcopal Parish House Saturday evening, August 7th, from 8 to 11 p.m. The cost is 50c per person.
The pastoral relations committee will meet directly after the second service of worship in the church study on Sunday, August 8th. Members include Mrs. Clarence Taylor, chairman, Mrs. Sylvester Shoner, Harry Davis, Stuart Leach, and Robert Brubaker.
The annual Woman's Society of Christian Service August Luncheon will take place on Thursday, August 5th, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church. Tickets are $1.25 and everyone is welcome to attend.
This coming Sunday, August 8th, the Rev. Robert C. Brubaker will preach on "Being Christian About Criticism."

Brighton School Aids Retarded Children

The dark days for trainable, retarded children of Livingston county are fast disappearing. A ray of light came through in September, 1954, when Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pearsall founded a school, because there were no facilities to help their boy Michael who suffered brain damage at birth.

Mrs. Phyllis Lyberg, a school census taker, called at the Pearsall residence and could not understand why Mike, who was seven, was not in school with the other children. It was explained that he was a normal child in many ways, but at birth he suffered brain damage which left him incapable of learning without special training and supervision. He was thus barred from public school, as there were no such training facilities. Mrs. Lyberg wondered why and her interest grew.

The Brighton school board was contacted, very sympathetic to the problem, but were helpless to aid financially. Nor were state funds or facilities available. The board did offer the abandoned two room Rickett School at 320 Rickett Road, Brighton, which was rehabilitated and turned over for this needed project.

As the word got around, families with retarded children in hiding came forward. Two other boys, along with Mike, made up the first class. This was a step forward, inadequate as it was.

From here on in it was trial and error. No precedent for routine or methods had been established. No teachers had been trained to work with students having these difficulties. Many tried, but could not qualify for this work.

In January, 1955, Mrs. Lyberg came in as a volunteer and stayed. Through hard work, with dogged determination, Phyllis Pearsall and Phyllis Lyberg were able to bring into being methods, systems and equipment.

The dark days were not to be completely dispelled. Financial difficulties were continually popping up and in 1957 they were going to close shop. It was then that a Brighton company gave its first donation of $500. This was the turning point on the road to success.

Since then the school has gone on to gain national recognition for its success in helping the mentally retarded to be self-sufficient and know personal dignity.

No trainable child of Livingston county is rejected. Each applicant has physical, audio and sight tests to determine the starting point. Until two years ago, the Rickett School was the only one in Livingston county with its own staff psychologist.

Sixty-nine children have gone through from the beginning. Thirteen have gone on to public schools. All but four, who are in type "A" rooms, were assigned to regular classes. One boy ten years of age was so withdrawn he could not speak. He left the school at seventeen and is now the complete source of family support. Others have taken jobs of various types which they can handle mentally and physically.

Help has been given to one hundred and fifteen families though the children did not attend Rickett School.

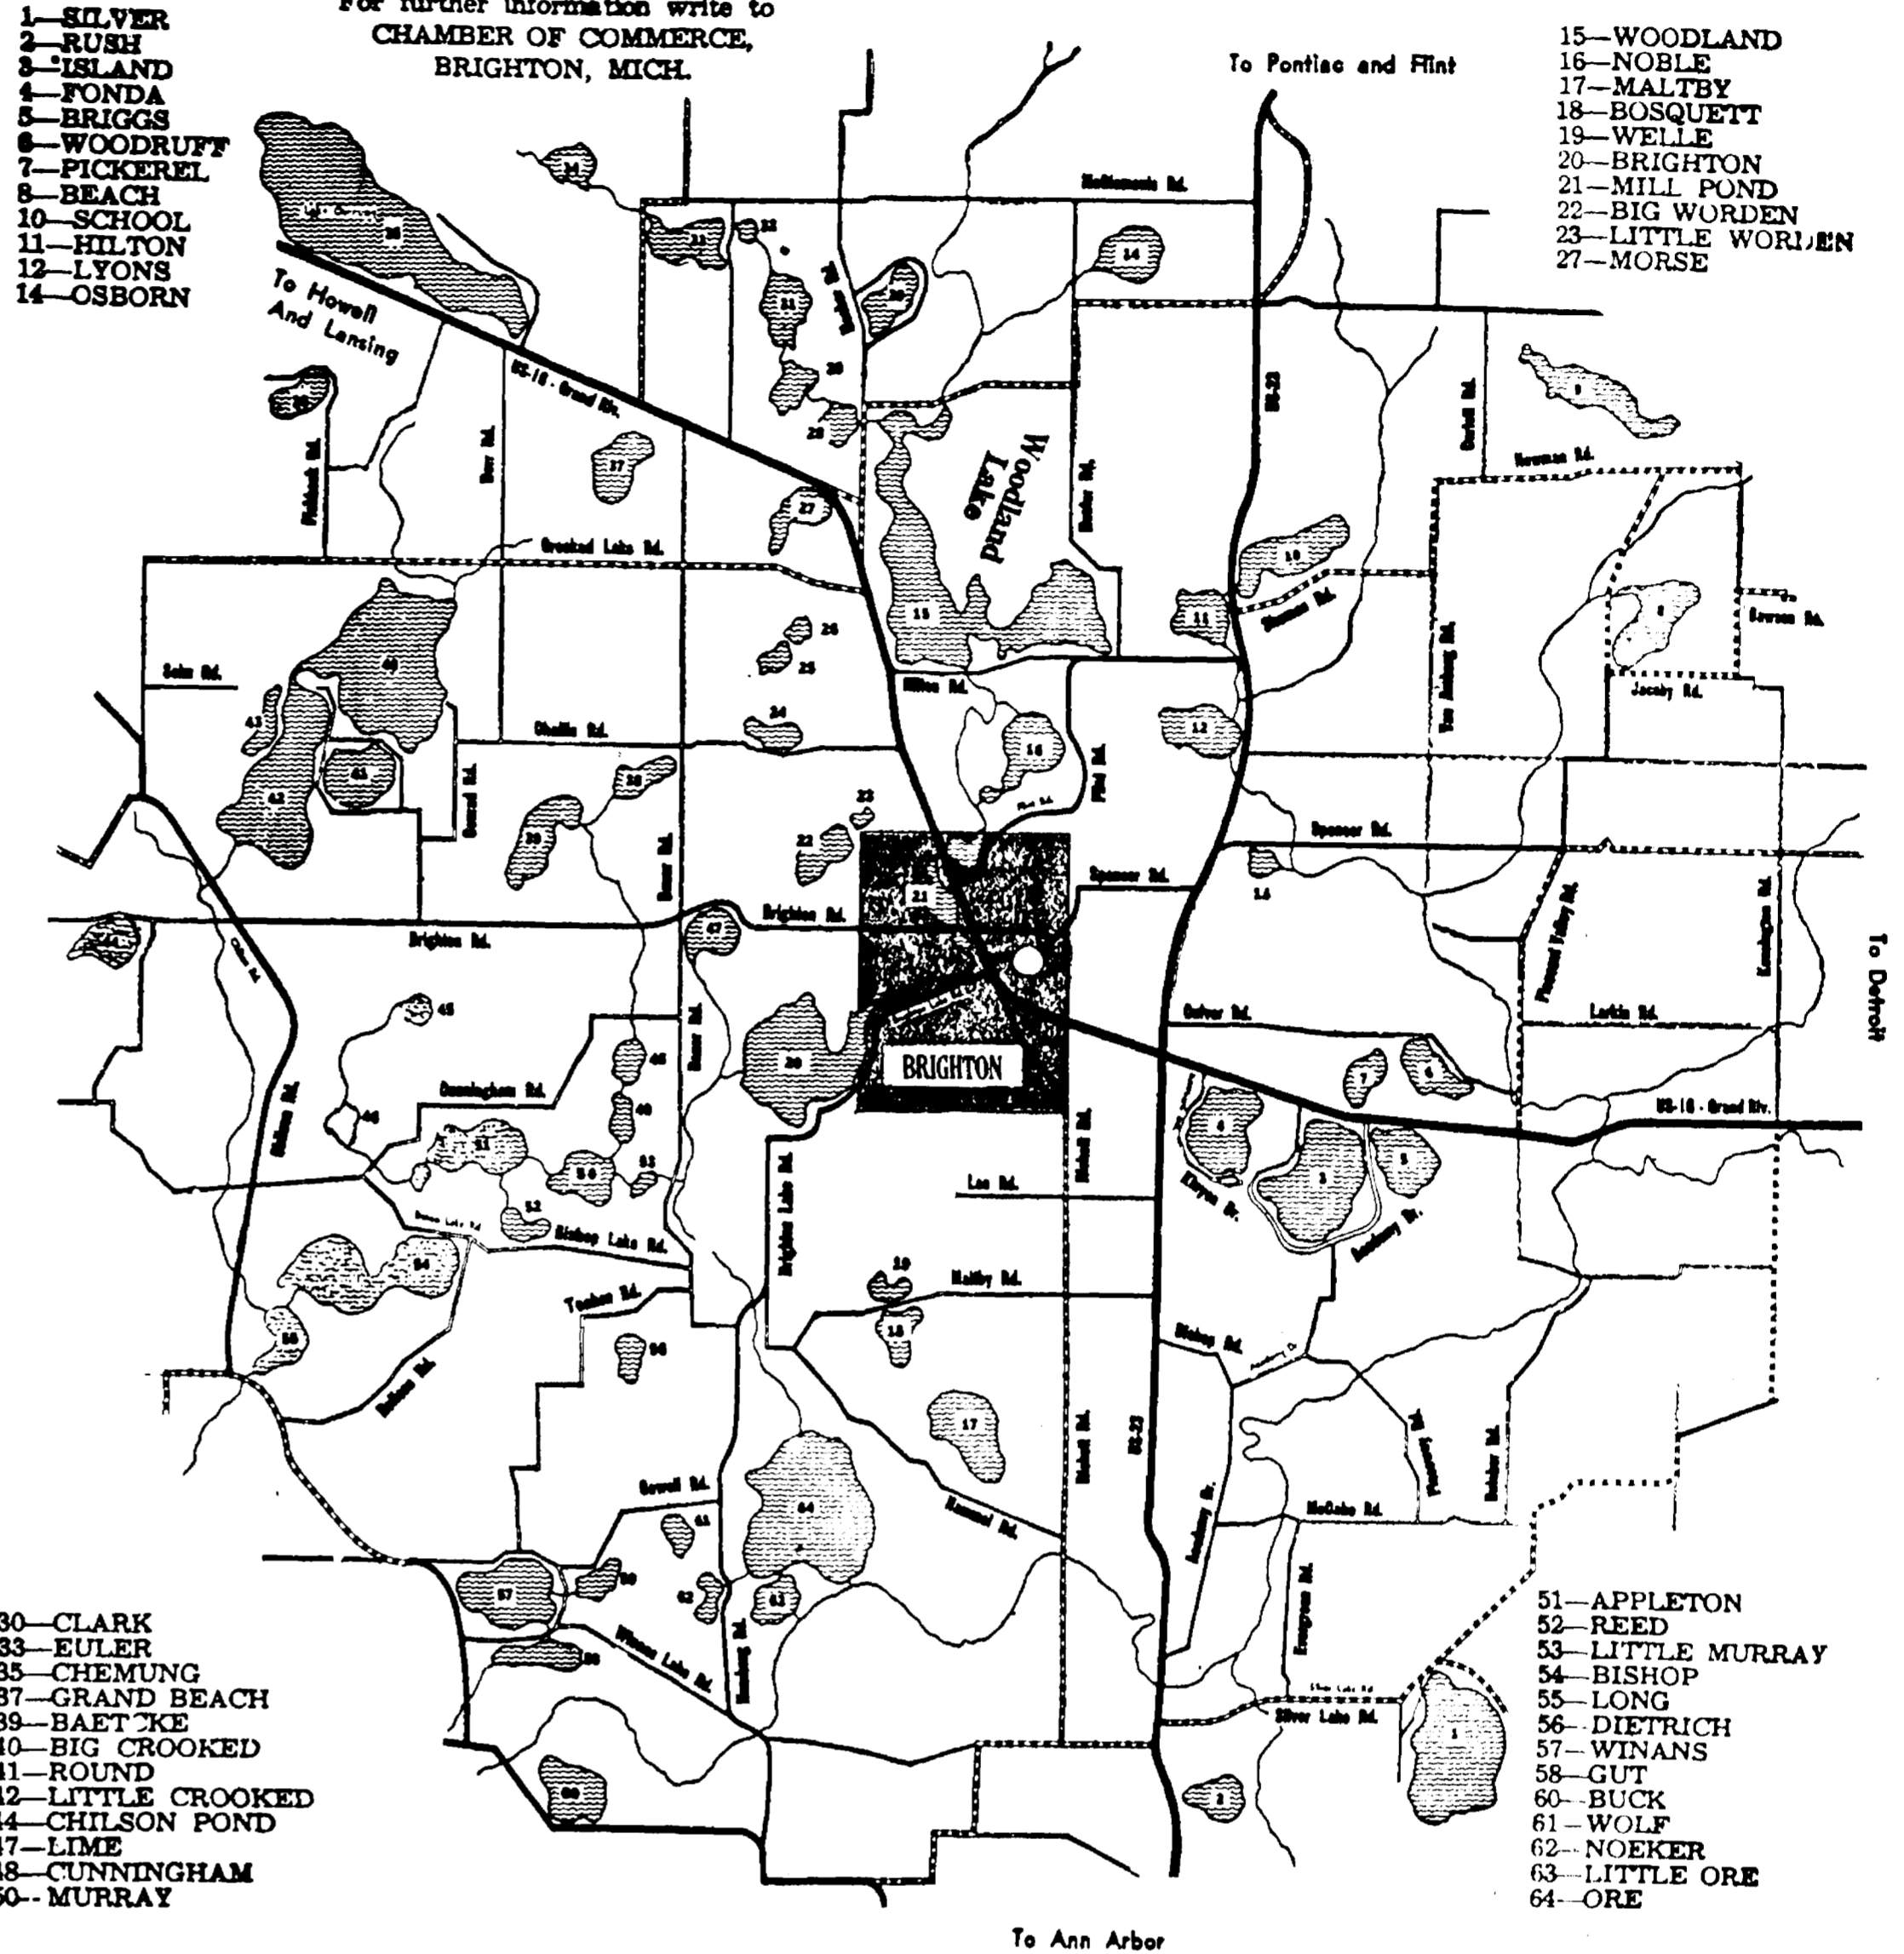

Each child is followed up. Every six weeks there is family therapy, which identifies the child's position in the family.

Today the school is staffed with Mrs. Lyberg as director and two assistants. The budget of $11,200 is supported by Livingston County Association for Retarded Children, Community Chests, Civic and Business organizations and tuitions of $120 for a forty week term.

The original donating company, the Advance Stamping Co., has continued its $500 contribution each year since 1957. Interested visitors are welcome and those who wish to help financially may do so.

Raid By The Vampires

This is a story of a once prosperous small town that was practically self-sufficient.

The local dress shop employed several widows as clerks and prospered because all the townspeople patronized it. The owner spent her money in the town for food, other necessities, medical attention and everything she needed and her surplus went into the local bank which in turn lent money for home town building and business expansion.

The druggist did the same thing and his earned dollar made its rounds many, many times to keep the little town prosperous.

The local newspaper owner hired eight persons, men and women, who earned and spent.

The newspaper gave the news of the community and kept our government free of crooked politicians because the editor was a fearless man and acted as a watchdog over the town's money and affairs.

Then suddenly appeared in the town a crew of business experts to check its possibilities as a source of wealth for a big city corporation.

And the next thing, a small store was rented and two clerks hired at below the usual going pay for such a job. And there burst upon the community with much fanfare, a great mail order store with advertised prices slightly less than the local merchants but subject to long credit with a high interest rate.

The branch mail order house prospered exceedingly and bragged that it took orders within a year for nearly a million dollars — dollars that left the little town. Dollars gone forever from the community and finally the dress shop owner had to fire her clerks and barely made a living. The farm implement dealer held out for two years then closed shop throwing out of work his three mechanics, his bookkeeper and two clerks. They left the little town to find jobs in the big city.

So successful was the little cubby hole occupied by the two clerks and the manager of the mail order store that a printer far from the little town, who printed a paper entirely devoted to advertising, decided to invade the little town. Because he printed his give-away advertising paper for his home community he felt that if he could bewitch the advertisers in the small town to put their ads in his sheet he could expand.

The first to fall into the trap was the local butcher. He had been induced to place an advertisement on the promise that the free sheet would be circulated within a radius of 30 miles from his town.

The butcher failed to analyze the thinking of a meat buyer who certainly would not travel 30 miles, nor even 5 miles to save 2 cents on a pound of pork chops.

The advertising rates were low because the printer had little overhead costs. He gave nothing to the community. He created no fear in the politician who might stray from the narrow path. He carried no news of the community — all of which cost the local newspaper owner money to gather. And the money paid for the advertising that filled the postoffice waste baskets every Thursday morning left the little town forever.

Woe betide any community that let's its local merchants wither on the vine while sending its money into far distant fields. What if the local bank shrinks and finally dies — what about the local newspaper that keeps a community informed and potential wrong doers watching their P's and Q's?

We can't let our home town down and force our various businesses to cut their work staffs upon whose pay checks we all depend to keep self sufficient.

Everyone in a small town depends on everyone else.

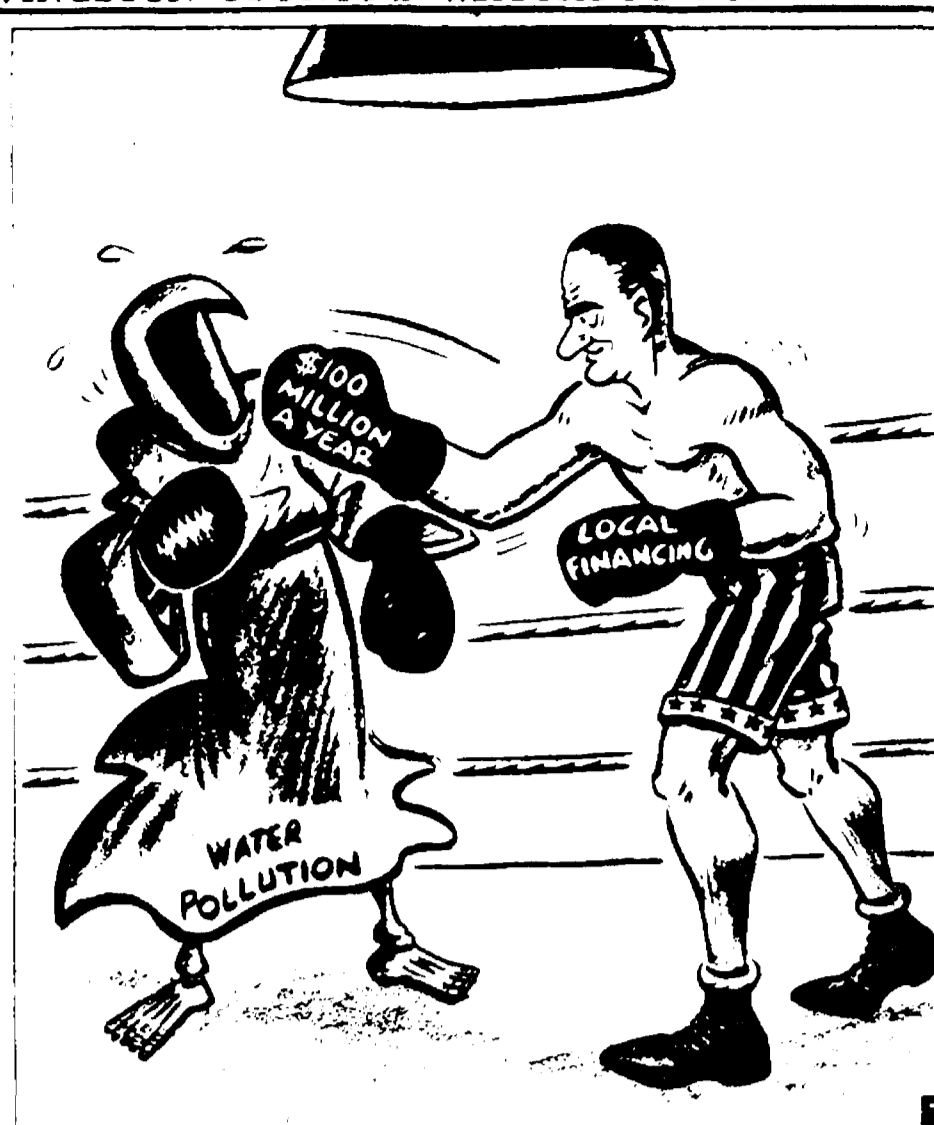

New Look in Beef

"Pigs Is Pigs" was the title of an enormously successful little book published long ago. And, one might think, that phrase is a truism — meat animals don't change over the years.

But they do. In fact, as Larry Williams of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association writes in the Oregon Voter, there is a new look in beef animals. In his words, "Our beef animal now on the market is 50 pounds less than a year ago. It is a higher percentage of loin and round — what the consumer wants." And this improved product, naturally, brings substantial benefits to its producer.

In the course of his article, Mr. Williams makes another point. Speaking of the cattlemen, he says: "Historically we have taken the ups and downs along the way and asked for no assistance from government except the opportunity to produce the product asked of us by the consumer and the chance to sell it on a free supply and demand market. We asked no sympathy and resisted any subsidy in the times when things looked pretty bad to us."

This is true of the whole meat industry, all the way from the ranches, through the packing houses, and into the butcher's cabinets. Because of that faith in a supply and demand market, and the endless effort to improve the product, we Americans enjoy a meat supply which has no superior on this earth.

LBJ COMES OUT FIGHTING!

President Lyndon B. Johnson recently entered the ring against a giant enemy that has silently grown more powerful each passing year.

In doing so, he asked Congress to earmark $100-million annually to win the fight. The enemy? Water Pollution!

Pollution of our country's waterways is six times greater today than in 1900. Every major river is now polluted, says President Johnson. So, once clean-and-sparkling rivers are stinking open sewers, unsafe for swimming and deadly to our fish and waterfowl.

Ironically, the biggest ally of this foe is ourselves! It has been said that "as fast as Man works to make the world better, he makes it worse by thoughtlessly destroying Nature's resources." It's true. For years, we have dumped our wastes and effluents back into our rivers and streams without much concern for the consequences.

Meanwhile, water-treatment and purification facilities lag far behind need. Thirty percent of our municipalities provide only primary treatment and only half have secondary treatment. But every community should have both.

Also, the nation is short some 6,000 sewage-treatment plants. And more than 2,000 communities with sewers dump their wastes back into rivers and streams untreated!

Yet we can ill afford to lose any part of our vital water resources. An exploding population plus an ever-increasing use of water per person puts a greater and greater strain on our available water supplies.

Congressman Wes Vivian Reports

"Hottest issue to face the Congress this year." "Most controversial bill of the session." These have been some of the descriptions written about H. R. 77, which passed the House of Representatives last week, by a vote of 221 to 208.

What did H. R. 77 do? And what didn't it do? These are some of the questions I'd like to try to answer today.

H. R. 77 repeals one section, Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, which reads, in its entirety, as follows:

"Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing the execution or application of agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment in any State or Territory in which such execution or application is prohibited by State or Territorial law."

This section is the only section of the Act which does not require uniform procedures throughout all states of the Nation. In effect, Section 14 (b) allows states, if they so desire, to prohibit a so-called "union shop" agreement between the management of a plant and its employees. A union shop agreement is one which provides that after a determined period of time a worker hired into the plant must pay the standard initiation fee and periodic dues. Now the law requires that a union and a company can agree to a union shop only if so elected by a majority of the workers, but if so, the union must negotiate for all workers, not just its members. The Supreme Court has ruled that nothing in a union shop agreement may be used to force a worker to actually join the union, participate in its activities, or walk in its picket lines when the union is on strike.

A union shop agreement therefore only requires each employee to share in the costs of collective bargaining. If a majority of the members of the work force at any time vote that they want a new union to represent them, or that they don't want any union to represent them, that is their privilege, and the union shop agreement is terminated. But as long as the union shop agreement is in force, each employee must pay his share of the cost of operating the union, whether he chooses actually to join the union or not.

Nineteen states have passed so-called "right-to-work" laws, under the authority of Section 14 (b), which make union shop agreements unenforceable — in other words, which ban them. Most of these states are in the South.

Michigan, of course, is not a "right-to-work" state. The last Governors, Republican and Democrat alike, and a majority of state legislators, again from both parties, have for years opposed right-to-work legislation for our State.

Michigan, and the other thirty states which do not have "right-to-work" laws, thus find themselves at a competitive economic disadvantage, compared to those states which do have such laws. These "right-to-work" states are able to say, whether in so many words, or by implication, to companies who are in the process of selecting new plant locations: "Come on down here. The weather's fine. Taxes and wages are low. You can ignore the unions."

All but one of the 19 "right-to-work" states had lower industrial wages than Michigan in 1964. The five states in which the industrial wages are the lowest in the Nation are all Southern, and all "right-to-work" states: Average industrial wages in these states range from a high of $1.92 per hour to a low of $1.75 per hour. In 1964, the average industrial wage in Michigan was $3.11 per hour.

While these five Southern states have lower wage rates than we do in Michigan, the rate at which industrial jobs are increasing in these states is three to four times the rate such new jobs are being created in Michigan. I believe a strong argument can be made that one of the reasons Michigan has been losing jobs and payrolls to other states because of the lure of low wages in the "right-to-work" states.

There's not much we of Michigan can do if a competing state sets taxes low to attract industry. And we certainly can't change our climate to a subtropical one, if that's a problem. But we can ask that the ground rules for labor-management relations be made uniform throughout the country. And that's what repeal of Section 14 (b) aims to do. That is why I voted for H. R. 77. Not to force anyone to join a union — he won't have to. Not to force any group of employees to choose a union — they won't have to. But simply because we ought not to have exceptions to our otherwise uniform standards of labor-management relations. And because Section 14 (b) provided the only loophole in an otherwise uniform set of rules — a loophole which hurts Michigan, hurts the worker in "right-to-work" states, and ultimately hurts the entire Nation.

OTHER LABOR LEGISLATION
Is this the end of my interest in labor legislation? Not at all. I have introduced two bills which, I am hopeful, will be favorably considered by the 89th Congress. The first aims at guaranteeing that there shall be no discrimination because of race, religion or national origin in eligibility to join a union and to participate in its affairs, if a person so desires.

The second bill would prohibit the use of any union treasury funds, or the funds of corporations or business associations, to support candidates for any political election. At present these groups are prohibited from participating in Federal elections only. My bill, H. R. 10085, would extend this ban to all elections for public office, at any level, at least to all organizations affecting interstate commerce.

Tom Kizer Talks Of Hoodlums And Draft

BY TOM KIZER

Decent, law abiding citizens have about had a stomach full of vandalism and hoodlumism. When some young punk can run amuck with a knife and bring about a complete change in scheduling athletic events between big city high schools, affecting thousands of people or when bands of young hoodlums roam the streets and highways throwing stark fear into the rest of the citizenry, or when a bunch of self styled "Hells Angels" can rape an innocent girl or crash a neighborhood party, society is flinching with a return to savagery.

War and its casualties always claim the cream of our youth. But today we are not at war, yet we persist in an archaic, stupid conscription system. The cream of our youth is forced into sacrificing two years in one stretch, or its equivalent via the National Guard (total of six years), in a time wasting, ill directed service stint just to fill an arbitrary quota.

Just when these young men with college degrees are ready to start their careers, they are hauled into the service, yet the streets of our major cities are dotted with young punks seeking and finding trouble, a veritable jungle of young hoodlums. True, in many cases they were the spawn of our heedless society and to that degree we can take the blame instead of them, but the important fact is that they are all around us and they present a vital problem. Many of them are just smart enough to know that a brush with the law renders them draft exempt and they exercise that knowledge.

Why not create a special branch of the service, call it "military service boot strap" or anything else appropriate and have a "graduating class" in it that becomes a distinction. Into this branch of the service would go the seventeen year olds and over who are not enrolled in school and who are unemployed or who have had a brush with the law. They aren't going to volunteer for the service because they think that is for "squares" but once drafted into the service many of them would undoubtedly straighten out and some of them would no doubt make a career of the military. We are taxed to support the armed services and we are taxed to support the youth rehabilitation centers such as B. V. S. etc. Why not let the armed services do the job? They are certainly equipped to handle young men — that's their job. The bonus would come from filling the armed service quota, in part at least, with otherwise aimless young men that in turn would free other trained, educated young men who have a direction and a career.

Check your own community, especially if you are a metropolitan resident and count the school drop outs, the hoodlums and the loafers roaming the streets. Some are draft exempt because they intentionally got into minor conflict with the law or because of a minor physical defect. Then check the young men who are called up for draft just when they have finished school and gotten started in a promising job. In time of peace this is a disgusting waste of potential. A dividend on this program could well be the redemption of the misfits and continuation of an uninterrupted career for the intelligent, well directed young men.

I am all for improving the lot of the underprivileged but I am also a little fed up with ignoring the cause of the self-reliant, conscientious man. It is about time we went out of our way to do something for the deserving, and used common sense and ALREADY available, tax paid military services to control the "out of step" youth.

Were we in "all out" war, then of course EVERY able-bodied man is draftable and should want to serve his country, but today the greatest service to the country and to the decent, educated, intelligent teen ager is in fostering his academic education or his chosen career. Likewise, the best service to his country and to the misguided youth is in conscription where he is trained, supervised and re-oriented into a useful life.

This is actually what we are trying to do with our vocational reform schools. Why? when we already have a ready-made, tax paid medium to do the same thing better, and more productively, in the armed services. Because some of these young men have had brushes with the law and because they are undisciplined they should, perhaps, be segregated into separate military divisions with restricted privileges. When, over a period of time, they have demonstrated their acceptance of authority and social responsibility, graduate them to the regular ranks for the remainder of their stretch.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

trolling or prohibiting air pollution, except in the case of motor vehicle exhaust fumes.

All in all, the Conservation Department had a real field day and found for itself a real assortment of goodies in the smorgasbord of legislation laid out by this 1965 Michigan Legislature.

Water Shortage Worries State

Water — without which no living creature can exist — is apparently becoming scarcer throughout the world and in Livingston county, the center of Michigan's Water Wonderland, the well is gradually drying up.

And even where water is plentiful it is polluted to such an extent that the recent legislature took up measures to clean up our lakes and streams while the soap manufacturers have abandoned the "hard" detergents which created foam on the surface of lakes, and now have turned to "soft" detergents.

The new detergents, based on chemicals derived from petroleum, clean just as well as the old "hard" types, but are easily broken down by the natural action of bacteria after doing their washday duty.

Oil and chemical companies invested millions of dollars in research and plant facilities to produce the new chemicals that make the changeover possible.

Water pollution, currently controversial issue in Michigan and the nation, will be discussed at the 49th annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan Sept. 24-25.

People are using 10 to 12 times as much water as they used to and today we use at least 40 gallons of water per person each day. In the cities the amount may run as high as 187 gallons per day when the water for industrial uses is taken into account.

Cities throughout the country are facing water shortage problems. Many are drilling new and deeper wells in search of additional supplies of water.

The anti-pollution bill, introduced by Sen. Gerald Dwan, in early February, passed both houses in an amended form.

Basically, the new pollution law, which is an amended Water Resources Act, broadens the definition of pollution by adding to the list of protected areas, and by making it unlawful to introduce substances into water that may become injurious, as well as those that are injurious.

Hamburg Happenings

JAN MOORE 229-9855

For those that missed my column the past two weeks, I had to go to Georgia unexpectedly, because of a death in the family.

On the trip down we witnessed some of the most beautiful sights human eyes could behold. Hazy, forest, covered mountains, etched the sky in magnificent splendor. Deep blue rivers flowed through the green valleys, creating a picturesque scene. Those and many others are a sample of the beauty of our country.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Abend and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abend spent one day at Grayling recently. They say Gov. Romney also viewed the soldiers marching. Then they traveled to Minden City to visit relatives. They returned home a week ago Monday.

The William Becklund family returned from a three vacation along Lake Superior a week ago Sunday.

Mrs. Leon Baginski spent a couple of days in the hospital a week ago last weekend. We are glad to hear that she is feeling better.

Knights of Columbus are holding a picnic August 9th at which St. Pat's baseball team will play against a team from Howell. The game starts at 2:00 p.m. in honor of their golden wedding anniversary. One of the two cakes was in the shape of a butterfly.

The Carl Rowland family returned home from a trip through Quebec, Kingston, Ontario, Niagara Falls, and Cedar Point. Laurie celebrated her birthday the 10th while on the trip.

There will be a girl scout picnic for troop No. 101 the 21st of August from 11:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Bishop Lake. Girls are to provide their own transportation. Nothing to bring but yourself and let your leaders know if you're going.

Mr. and Mrs. Kosahl of Bradenton, Fla. were visiting the Pete Reinger home a week ago Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noblett and three children, Mike, Lester and Sharon, stopped and spent the weekend after taking their daughter Candy to camp at Greenview, they left a week ago Monday.

Honorable Gladys Lee attended the bridal show given for Lee Ann Fredricks, the 29th. The shower was given by Mrs. Bruce Fredricks at her home.

Saving Soil

Pasture and hayland seedings for permanent vegetation can be planted for fall seedings after August 15 in the Fenton and Livingston Soil Conservation Districts. Permanent grass-legume plantings can be established on hillside slopes too steep to crop or odd-shaped fields too difficult to plow. Plantings can also be used in low areas.

It is important to include a grass in the mixture. Legume roots are generally of the primary or coarser type. Grass roots are secondary and form a mat at the soil surface. Legumes alone are not as effective to help control soil erosion. Grasses included in the seed mixture will be more effective to help hold the topsoil in place.

Tri - Lake News

Velma Bufford 229-6071

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burkhardt of Briggs Lake returned recently from a trip through New England. They visited Mrs. Burkhardt's sisters in Hampton Beach, N. H. and Hartford, Conn. A brother-in-law returned with them for a two week visit at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stuhberg of Kinyon Drive has heard several times from their son Pvt. James Stuhberg who is now in Bien-Hea, Vietnam. Jimmie kept a day-by-day account of his trip across the Pacific. They had calm weather all the way and the group enjoyed it very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris, Danny and Kathy Morris, and Mary Jo Lockard of Three Lakes Drive arrived home from a trip south to their childhood homes. They traveled through the Smokies where a big black bear ambled right up to their car. They visited their son Fred and his wife and daughter in Oxford, Tennessee, from there, they went to Oakridge, Tenn. and Ashfield, N.C. On the trip home, they visited Mr. Morris' mother and sister in London, Ky. and then drove to Oakdale, Ky. where he lived as a child. Everyone enjoyed the trip, but are glad to be home again.

Dr. Paul Muske recently played host to the St. Alphonsus Ushers Club of Detroit. About 55 men were present to enjoy a backyard barbecue. Among the guests were Fr. James Trent and Fr. Richard Calenewski, Asst. Pastors of St. Alphonsus. Other visiting priests were Fr. Klauke, Chaplain of Milan Fr. son, Fr. Kuzman from Poland and Fr. Bouteller from Nova Scotia.

A week or so ago, Mrs. Paul Muske called me asking if I knew anyone by the name of Lutz who rented a cottage, or anyone by the name of O'Brien who was vacationing on the lake. I didn't, but both Mrs. Muske and I called various residents, asking the same questions. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murray of Detroit had stopped at the Muske residence to inquire. They were looking for their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brien and five children. After about "ump-teen" phone calls, Dr. Muske came home. The Murrays told him their problem, describing the O'Brien's car. With this information, Dr. Muske went out walking. Just as I called Mrs. Muske to report no luck, he walked in with Mrs. O'Brien. It seems they were renting a cottage owned by Lunts, across the road and a few cottages down from the Muske home. Everyone was very happy at the reunion. So, if you wish to find anyone, just call your local "Pinkerton Agency"—Dr. Paul Muske, at your service!

Incidentally, Dr. Muske has a new namesake. He is Dr. and Mrs. Muske's newest grandson, born July 7 to Mr. and Mrs. William Liptak of Lake Chemung. He will be named Paul Joseph for both grandfathers.

Mrs. Velma Beach of Fonda Lake is still a patient at St. Joseph Hospital. However she is improving and we hope she'll be home very soon.

Little Cliff Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Collins of Island Lake, was one year old Wednesday, July 28, and he really celebrated! First, he walked before he was a year old (three days before). Then on Sunday July 25 he had birthday cake and ice cream with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutz in Dundee. On his birthday, he celebrated with his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton of Island Lake. Quite a lot for a little guy!

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Graybill and granddaughters Debbie and Vickie Brown of Ann Arbor, were Monday evening, July 26, visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brewster of Briggs Lake.

Sunday, July 25, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pelshot of Briggs Lake entertained 45 members of the Miller family of Detroit at a family reunion. The Millers are Mrs. Pelshot's family.

Word has been received from Mrs. Ethel Sutherland that Jim Sutherland is back in the hospital and in serious condition. The best wishes of the old neighborhood to the Sutherlands and we hope Jim will be out and well again very soon.

George and Pat Standlick, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Art Standlick of Island Lake, returned Thursday, July 29 from a trip to Florida where they visited their grandmother, Mrs. Marie De Nio. George drove on the trip, and found out how living at a lake can form habits. Pat wanted him to make their stops where there were swimming pools! While in Florida, the boys went deep sea fishing, and did plenty of night-seeing.

I enjoyed the picnic of the Island Fonda Briggs Improvement Assn. Sunday, July 25 at Corbin's Corners. Everyone seemed to have a good time. I think I especially enjoyed meeting some of you people who have only been phone acquaintances until now. Door Prizes were won by Jim McGeahy and Mrs. Annie Hansen. Jerry Sixbey donated a wagon to be auctioned off for the roads. Mrs. Clyde Corbin donated a child's step stool, and Marion Teeple, a bracket. Clyde Corbin was auctioneer, and we had lots of fun and laughs making money to improve our roads.

THREE Cheers

Here comes the winner! Can he hold that first place position, or will he fail? In the eyes of these youngsters, victory is the most important thing in the world. Everything hinges on the outcome of this contest!

Enthusiasm is part of successful living, stimulating the imagination, and inspiring the mind. It is contagious, too, and can affect co-workers, friends, families. It is essential to organizations as well as to individuals.

Through the centuries a rich spiritual enthusiasm has been handed down by the Church, one of the greatest institutions on earth. Its members, working together, fired by the enthusiasm of faith, can give you renewed inspiration, and strength.

Why not attend church next Sunday? Become a part of this great fellowship of believers! You, too, can be a winner.

Pay Violations Exceed Million

Minimum wage and overtime underpayments of $1,055,072 to 5,561 employees were resolved in Southeastern Michigan for the fiscal year which ended June 30, by investigators of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions. They also found 217 cases where minor children were employed in industry in violation of the child labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Most of the underpayments, $892,515 to 4604 workers, were due to the failure of employers to pay time and one-half for overtime work. There was $162,557 due 1540 employees because of the employers' failure to pay the applicable minimum wage.

For the entire State underpayments of $1,586,550 to 9,192 workers were found, and 383 minors were discovered as having been employed in violation of the child labor provisions of the law.

Milford Pair Bid Uruguayans Adieu

Highlight of the week for Jo Ann and Ron Foster of Milford was their trip to New York City last weekend.

Under the auspices of Youth for Understanding, Teenage Exchange Program, they accompanied forty-one Uruguayan students by bus to Kennedy Airport; the first leg of their journey returning them to Uruguay.

Tearful goodbyes were exchanged between the students and their Michigan families at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor. The students spent the whole bus trip discussing (in Spanish) their respective experiences while living in Michigan. Ron says he learned a lot about Uruguay during the all-night trip.

Ocqueoc Falls Picturesque Spot

The quiet of the Black Lake State Forest is broken by the rushing white waters of the Ocqueoc River seeking its way eastward over rocky crags.

The only major waterfall in Michigan's lower peninsula, Ocqueoc Falls is also the most dramatic. The upper peninsula has more than 150 waterfalls.

Lying 10 miles east of Onaway just off Michigan highway 68 in the northeast fingers of Michigan's mitten, the falls area attracts those who like to live ruggedly in the wilderness and is fascinating to sightseers.

Ocqueoc Falls is composed of a series of rapids and falls over a space of about 500 feet. In that distance, the river drops approximately 15 feet before becoming a placid stream again. Thirty-foot bluffs, crested by pine, oak and birch overlook the turbulence below.

Cinerama Shows South Seas Drama

"Cinerama-South Seas Adventure," the next attraction at the Cinerama Music Hall Wednesday, August 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Tracing the voyages of great South Seas explorers like Capt. James Cook and Capt. William Bligh of the ill-fated "Bounty," this cinerama production is the story of an expedition by the sailing schooner "Te Vega," luxury lines "Lurline" and by airplane.

Landfalls on the journey of adventure are Hawaii, Tahiti, Tonga, Fiji, New Hebrides, Australia and New Zealand.

Arriving in Hawaii on the "Lurline," the Cinerama adventure in the South Seas traces the romantic holiday of Kay Johnson in the surf at Waikiki and the tropical beauty of Oahu.

Current common complaint: "If the bank doesn't repossess my car soon, I'll wind up owning it."

Law Forbids Dim Auto Lights

"It's better to light a candle than to curse the darkness." But how about switching on your car's headlights? Don't hesitate to illuminate!

The Michigan State Safety Commission reminds motorists that the long days of summer invite careless habits when darkness approaches. An old habit, hard to break, is driving with parking lights on.

The law is clear on this. If it's dark enough to demand lights, you must use your headlights, not parking lights.

Proper use of your high and low beam lights is another area of concern. Dimming your lights for on-coming traffic is the rule of the road.

Just as soon as our bank collects the amount of the deposited check from the bank on which it is drawn. The time varies with the distance of the other bank. When you deposit a check on another bank, ask our teller how long it will take to collect it. "Celebrating Our Centennial Year"

Brighton Tries to Erase Graveyard Damage

Two weeks ago the Argus reported the vandalism of the Episcopal Cemetery in the heart of Brighton. Since that time, the sexton of St. Paul Episcopal church, Dave Spencer, has done some repair work on the tumbled stones, and others have been reported to the Veterans administration, but the cemetery is still in sad shape. The City has begun to mow a portion of the lawn Spencer reported, but the city claims that there is not enough money to maintain the old cemetery.

The history of Brighton is chisled in the old stones of St. Pauls. The lives of the founders of Brighton can be reconstructed by the brief lines inscribed in the crumbling stone . . . the epidemics, and the wars are recorded there, along with the far too numerous instances of the loss of a small child.

This cemetery isn't out in the country on some forgotten knoll it's in the heart of our city, snuggled against the beauty of the Mill Pond! It seems incredible that somewhere there isn't enough money to maintain, and even beautify this priceless historical treasure . . . yet wild asparagus, and mulberry bushes taller than a man's head have sprouted around the tomb stones, with some of the smaller stones almost displaced by the intruding underbrush.

It seems small wonder, that the vandals who tumbled the stately spires, and tipped the stones from the earth two weeks ago did so . . . for what example of respect did they see there? If we have allowed the cemetery to become an unkempt disgrace, how would they know that the residents would care if a few stones were tipped over?

Let's not make excuses for the vandals. . . but let's not make excuses for ourselves either. The restoration of St. Pauls cemetery will take some money, but mostly it will be a matter of hard rooting and digging and cleaning . . . elbow grease, and the application of a green thumb to a few of the graves that are too ancient to have mourners . . . it will be a matter of volunteers, Brighton people who sense the shame of what has happened to Saint Pauls, and want to make Brighton a truly better place to live

Crop Pests Defy New Chemicals

Old enemies, new controls. That's the story of pests and pesticides research throughout Michigan. The cereal leaf beetle, army worms and mosquitoes head the list of "old enemies." All sorts of chemical and biological control are being used to thwart the pests.

First, the cereal leaf beetle. Scientists have long concluded that we can't afford to live with this pest. It would cost $2 million a year in crop losses in Michigan alone. Besides, it's also attacking grain crops throughout the northern third of Indiana and northwestern Ohio.

Michigan State University entomologists have found that malathion spread by air is one of the best means for controlling the beetle. The chemical is applied — undiluted — at the rate of only four to five liquid ounces per acre. The fine spray is enough to kill 97 per cent of the beetle adults in a single trip across a field.

But the chemicals, while they suppress the beetle, do not eliminate it. This is the third year the pest has been identified in Livingston county, and the beetle shows no tendency of decreasing. Resistant varieties are being investigated in order to find a better, more permanent control of the pest.

As if the farmers here didn't have enough trouble with the cereal leaf beetle, they're also being attacked this year by army worms.

Births

On July 16th, Kimberly Ann was born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny E. Harrison in Ann Arbor. Born July, 18th to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. April, 535 West Main, a daughter, Stephanie Ann.

Sky Divers' Birthday Party

A novel way to celebrate a wife's birthday is to bail out of a plane 4,000 feet above earth. Jerry Johnson of Brighton with two sky diving pals did just that for Johnson's wife Evelyn, at the Woodland Golf club.

All three sky divers are members of the 82nd airborne sky divers. Johnson's companions were Charles Shannon of Ecorse and Jack Maynard of River Rouge who bailed out at 4,000 feet but did not open their parachutes until they were at 2,000 feet giving a thrill to the big crowd of spectators.

The Johnsons had 30 guests at their birthday party.

Industry Gains In State Record

Industrial expansions in Michigan during the first six months totaled $81,338,000 according to a report released by the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion in Lansing. The figure for 1964 was $1,000,000,000 which set a new expansion record for the State. According to B. M. Conroy, director of the department, expansions should pass the one billion dollar figure this year during the month of July. Last year, announcements did not pass the billion dollar mark until August.

"This does not necessarily mean that we will have a banner year equal to 1964 but it does indicate the economic growth of the State is continuing at an excellent pace," Conroy stated. "It is obvious that industry is confident of its future in Michigan and is not hesitating to add plant production facilities and employees."

The favorable movement percentage is reached by comparing move-ins, local and in-state expansions, new industries.

Howell C. of C. Backs College

The Howell Area Chamber of Commerce has adopted the following resolution:
The Board of Directors of the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution endorsing the survey being conducted by the Citizens' Committee to study the needs for a community college in Livingston County.
"The Chamber believes that it is essential to the continued healthy growth of our county that a thorough investigation be made of present and future educational needs at the community college level. The committee of which you are the chairman is going ahead in an orderly and complete fashion which will result in a documented survey of inestimable value to the citizens of our county.
"As you know, I have been following my directors' desire that I assist your sub-chairmen in an advisory capacity when called upon. This is a pleasure because of my belief in the objectives of your citizens group.
Sincerely yours,
"Col. Robert E. Benjamin

Michail Dundas, a freshman who resides at 3155 VanAmberg Rd. in Brighton, is a member of this list having attained grades of "B" or better. Under the direction of President J. Donald Phillips, Hillsdale, an independent liberal arts college with an enrollment of about 1,000, upholds the cause of excellence in independent education and offers its students "Preparation for Leadership." Ten students on the Dean's List attained grades of all "A" while 104 achieved grades of "B" or better.

Bike Inspection Date Announced

Young residents of the city may have their bicycles inspected and registered by the Brighton Police Department on Saturday, August 14, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the rear of the Brighton Fire Hall.
The bicycles will be inspected for adequate brakes, sprockets, tires, frames, fenders, and handlebars. Bicycles to be operated after dark must also have a front light and rear reflector. After meeting the requirements each bicycle will be registered and a license plate will be attached. The registration will cost fifty cents.
The program was established to accomplish two purposes, (1) To insure that the young people are operating safe bicycles and (2) To insure that bicycles which are stolen or lost can be identified and returned to their owners. The registration of bicycles is a mandatory provision of the city bicycle ordinance.

Tourists Lured By Lighthouses

Something about lighthouses—those silent, stalwart guardians of the shoreline—appeals to everyone. They attract tourists with their picturesque beauty. To the sailor they are a friendly sight, warning of danger.

Some 75 Lighthouses Watch Over Michigan Waters

Some 75 lighthouses watch over Michigan waters and the state's 3,000 miles of shoreline. Forty-eight are on shore or close enough offshore to be seen by the motorist.
For the benefit of those planning trips about the state this summer, Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager, has pinpointed the locations of lighthouses in both peninsulas that can be viewed by tourists, together with the main roads that lead to them.

A tour to all would cover 2,284 miles.
Some 40 of the state's lighthouses are still manned. Automation has come to the rest and probably the time is not far off when all stations will be automatically controlled.
